TINGLEY FAMILY GATHERS ONCE MORE.

Annual Reunion Held On the Blackford Farm.

SEVERAL HUNDRED GUESTS.

TALKED, ATE AND HAD A GOOD TIME.

Uncle John Tingley Was on Hand to Welcome the Guests—Dinner Served on the Lawn—Speeches Followed Feast—Guests Present From All Over—Picnic Broke Up at 5 o'Clock.

The annual reunion of the Tingley family was held on the David Blackford farm at South Plainfield, yesterday, and despite the threatening weather there was about 100 people present and everything passed off with the usual good time. The members of the family began to arrive during the forenoon and continued to come until late in the afternoon. "Uncle" John Tingley, upon whom falls the burden and pleasure of arranging these annual affairs, was on hand to welcome the members and he gave all a cordial greeting. It had been a year since most of those present had seen each other and it kept all busy talking over what had happened during that time.

It was just 12:30 o'clock when "Uncle" John called the families together and bid them sit down to the long tables bountifully laden with everything good that the market affords, and after Rev. Mr. Cubberly, pastor of the South Plainfield Baptist church, made a short prayer, the dinner was partaken of. While this was being enjoyed sociability reigned and everyone had a good time.

Following the dinner there was a continuation of sociability and about 3 o'clock "Uncle" John again called the family together and for about twenty minutes he kept all in a roar of laughter. This was his welcome speech, and although not his maiden one he acquitted himself with credit. He then introduced Rev. Mr. Cubberly, who spoke along a more serious line, but occasionally brightened it with some humor.

A special attraction for the afternoon was the phonographic concert given by Whitfield Frazee, of this city, and he gave some of his best selections.

Among those present was Prof. Jeremiah Tingley, of Pittsburg, Pa., who is compiling a history of the family. Thus far he has found 3,000 members. He expects to complete the history next year. There were also present the Misses Boylan, of White Plains, Ga., and Miss Erving, of Denver, Col. There were also many other guests from distant points, while Plainfield and surrounding towns were well represented. During the past year there has not been a death in the family and one birth was recorded. There is a general feeling of congratulation on the part of all, and when the happy affair came to an end all expressed a strong desire to meet each other at the reunion next year. It was about 5 o'clock when the last of the guests departed, and a long line of carriages could be seen wending their way along the country roads on their homeward journey.

Labor Day in the Blue Ridge

If our readers would take advantage of the best opportunity afforded by the Central R. R. of New Jersey this season to visit Mauch Chunk, Glen Onoko and the Switchback Gravity R. R., next Monday will be the time. Monday will be a holiday and it will be filled with tempting outings. But what's the use in going a long distance and changing cars, hopping on and off ferryboats and trolley cars and reaching the objection point tired out, footsore and mad with yourself for going, when you can board the Central's special excursion train right at Plainfield station and enjoy a comfortable ride in the society of intelligent people without budging from your soft, plush corned seat until Mauch Chunk is reached. This is a hint never before offered you; perhaps you never before thought of it. The excursion departs from here at 9:30 a. m., and returns about 8 p. m. Fare for round trip, adults $1.50, children $1.13. Switchback Gravity R. R. tickets at half price, if purchased on train.

Will Act on Trolley Extension.

The next regular meeting of the Common Council will be held next Tuesday evening, when several important matters, including the extension of the trolley through Arlington avenue, will be taken up.

RAISING SOUTH AVENUE.

GRADE NEAR NETHERWOOD HILL INCREASED TWO FEET.

City's Men Are Making Improvement to Prevent Flooding of South Avenue—Street Now Undergoing Repairs

Under the supervision of Street Commissioner Gavett South avenue is receiving a much needed improvement. The grade near Netherwood hill is being raised in some places as much as two feet to prevent the flooding of that part of the roadway which has always been such a source of annoyance and damage to the roadbed.

Everytime this region is visited by a heavy rain storm, the water forms great puddles on either side of South avenue, just west of the hill, which gradually extend across the roadway. The same state of affairs has also existed just east of the hill. At the former place, however, a gang of the Street Commissioner's men are at work raising the grade. Great rocks have been put on top of the old roadway and filled in with earth and gravel. Then a new macadam surface is being built on top of that. At present the street is almost blocked for traffic, but when the improvement is completed it will be much appreciated by all who are called upon to drive or ride along South avenue.

The new roadway that is being built has a crown that will drain off the water into the gutters. The grade has been raised in some places as high as two feet.

LABOR DAY EXCURSION.

Preparations Completed for Grocers Outing to South Beach Monday.

The committee which went to South Beach to arrange for the Grocers' excursion Monday and engage a shore dinner for the committee, reports a great improvement in the place. Their is a pier a thousand feet long which is free for fishing. The committee has secured a place out of the sun for the benefit of those who will carry their own dinners where they can have chairs and tables free of cost. Tea and coffee can be purchased there.

For those who prefer it, a shore dinner consisting of clam chowder, roast clams, blue fish, lobster, corn and sweet potatoes, all you want, can be engaged for $1 by applying to George W. Rockfellow on the first section which leaves Plainfield at 8 o'clock or to Fred W. Dunn on the second section which leaves Dunellen at 8 o'clock. Application must be made on the train before it reaches South Beach.

The ride from Plainfield is one of an hour and a half and is new to most Plainfielders. The price for the excursion is 75 cents.

CAUGHT IN THE ACT.

Martino Was Looting the Orchard of Halsey Compton.

The trouble experienced by Halsey C. Compton, who has been annoyed for a long time by mem and boys stealing his fruit and vegetables, culminated yesterday in the arrest of one Patsey Martino, an Italian. The arrest was made by Acting Roundsman Mattox, who caught the fellow in the orchard filling a bag with apples.

Martino was arrraigned before Justice Nash, who held him to await the action of the Grand Jury on the charge of larceny.

Four Generations Met Together.

It is seldom that four generations of a family meet together, but such an instance was recorded in the gathering at Wm. Runyon's home yesterday afternoon, when Mrs. Brokaw, aged 93, Mrs. Daniel Randolph, aged 76, and Mrs. Lillie Runk, the latter a daughter of Mrs. Randolph, and her daughter, Miss Lillie, all met for a social visit.

Malady That Seems to Spread.

During the past few days a number of men employed at Aluminum Press and Plate Works have been ill with stomach trouble, which seems to be infectious. Several of the employees were obliged to quit work. The men cannot account for sudden outbreak of the trouble. There does not seem, however, to be anything dangerous about it.

A Small Klondike.

The workmen who are laying the new flagging at the North Avenue station are finding considerable money, in small amounts, which from time to time has fallen between the old boards that are now being replaced. Yesterday the digging in this local Knondike yielded about $2 in small change.

Quoits the Game.

Columbia Lodge, No. 58, A O.U.W., will meet this evening. After the initiation of one candidate and the routine business, there will be a continuation of the quoit match between Messrs. Nischwitz against Kenney and Messrs. Bauersachs against Lounsbury. The prize is a box of cigars.

COL. MOORE IN A BIG TROLLEY ENTERPRISE.

To be Operated From Newark to Lake Hopatcong.

IT WILL BE 30 MILES LONG.

NOW ENGAGED IN SECURING THE RIGHT OF WAY.

When Built the Line Will be a Great Boon to Farmers, as it Will Enable Them to Get Their Crops to Market Easier—Col. Moore Also Interested in the Promotion of New Rail.

Col. Charles K. Moore, formerly a resident of this city, and the original projector of the present system of water supply in Plainfield, is now engaged in another big enterprise—that of building a trolley line from Essex Falls to Boonton and Lake Hopatcong. Mr. Moore has been, for the past year, engaged in promoting a company manufacturing a new trolley rail, said to nave superior advantages over any other, and it is doubtless in this connection that he is engaged in the present project. Col. Moore has just returned from spending several weeks in Boonton where he has been pushing the enterprise.

Mr. Moore says the road will be thirty miles long, with a branch running to Morristown. The road will touch the Delaware, Lackawanna and Western at three points—Lake Hopatcong, Morristown and Boonton. At the latter place it will cross the D. L. and W. on an overhead bridge.

Mr. Moore is enthusiastic over the project, which, he claims, will boom the value of property greatly along the line of the traction road.

"The work of constructing the line," said Mr. Moore, "will not be undertaken until we have the right of way all secured. Up to date we have signed contracts made with the land owners for eighty per cent. of the entire distance, and we do not anticipate any trouble in securing the balance. We have all the money we need for the enterprise, and can get plenty more if we want it. Why, five different capitalists have offered us the money on learning of the undertaking. Who the parties are back of the scheme is someting I cannot disclose at present. We don't want the public to know that part of it just yet.

"The road will prove, when built, a great boon for the farmers, as it will enable them to get their products to market at a much lower rate for transportation than it costs them at present, and they will be able to get better prices for their crops. I have invested some in land for myself along the line of the railroad, and expect to make considerable money out of it."

Mr. Moore had to hurry back to Boonton last night, as he was desirous of completing as soon as possible the work of securing the land required for the railroad, so that the work of construction can be commenced this month.

Mr. Moore's presence in Elizabeth was required in a will case as a witness before Surrogate Parrot, who took the testimony.

Mr. Moore is a son of the late Col. James Moore, who constructed and for many years was chief engineer of the New Jersey Central Railroad.

RAIN DROVE THEM INDOORS

Inclement Weather Interferred With Church Lawn Festival.

The ladies of the Monroe Avenue Methodist church made preparations for a lawn party last night, but the shower in the early part of the evening disarranged their plans. The cakes had been baked and the ice cream prepared and there was no use letting the good things spoil so it was decided to hold the festival in the Sunday-school room. The inclement weather prevented many from attending that otherwise would have been present. However, the ladies were well pleased with the attendance, which was fairly representative of the members considering the circumstances. The young folks had a delightful time and the receipts, though not as large as they possibly would have been, were quite satisfactory.

Night Central Men.

There was recently a gathering in this city of the young men who are night operators for the New York and New Jersey Telephone Company at New Brunswick, Elizabeth, Bloomfield, Plainfield and a few other places, and while here they had their pictures taken by a local expert. The picture is an excellent one, and is highly prized by each one who has received a copy.

KUCKLO'S MOODS VARY.

CONTRADICTORY SENTIMENTS ABOUT HIS WIFE'S FATE.

He is Now in a Fair Way of Recovery, Although He Did Not Realize Anything Until 9 o'Clock Last Night at the Hospital.

The condition of John Kuckio, who shot his wife and tried to kill himself at their home, 24 Clinton avenue, early yesterday morning, is much improved. Kuckio lay in a comatose state yesterday until about 9 o'clock last evening, when he regained consciousness and asked the attending nurse for a drink of water. The house physician thinks that Kuckio is in a fair way to recover. He has a rugged constitution which will prove valuable to him in the way of recovery.

No atttempt has been made by the hospital surgeons to remove the bullets from Kuckio's head. He was resting quietly at 3:30 this afternoon. He seems to realize his position. Kuckio at times expresses regret at the attempt on his wife's life. At other times he says he wishes he had killed her.

Kuckio has not yet been placed under arrest, but will be kept under surveillance if his recovery is probable.

Kuckio's wife is also still at the hospital. She experiences no severe paine, and it is believed she will be discharged from the hospital in a few days.

Kuckio and his wife are not allowed to communicate with each other. The unfortunate woman will have nothing to say regarding the trouble between herself and husband. What led Kuckio to marry Mrs. Childs under an assumed name has not yet developed.

MR. BISHOP IS SCORED.

ARREST OF MRS. EYLER IS SAID TO BE ILLEGAL.

Mercer County C. F. U. C. Protests—It Holds Woman's Prosecutor Had No Jurisdiction—Liable for Perjury.

(Special to The Daily Press.)

Trenton, Sept. 1—The Mercer county branch of the Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Children is indignant over the action of President Arthur W. Bishop in having Matron Eyler, of the Girls' Industrial School, arrested on a charge of cruelty to the inmates of the school.

President Bishop presides over the Passaic County Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Children, and the Mercier county society resents his coming into their district.

Captain John Matheson, Deputy County Clerk, and Mr. Bishop, it is held, have no jurisdiction outside of Passaic county.

"Mr. Bishop's course," said Captain Matheson, "is very unusual, and entirely out of place. He shows his ignorance of the law under which his society is acting, which does not and cannot apply to a State institution.

"His action, being irregular, is most decidedly discourteous to the Mercer county society and shows in Mr. Bishop a want of good sense and good manners. His course would seem to indicate that he regards himself as absolute and our society of no account. Naturally it is a reflection upon the sincerity and honesty of purpose of our society which we cannot allow to pass unnoticed."

When asked if it was the opinion of the officers of the Mercer county society that Mrs. Eyler should be prosecuted criminally, Captain Matheson said:

"We cannot give any opinion, because no evidence has been presented to us and because the law does not permit our interference with the State's institutions. The prosecution of Mrs. Eyler in her present physical condition is an outrage, not only upon her, but upon the rules of decent conduct. She is not a notorious criminal, trying to avoid arrest on a serious charge."

When asked if the Mercer county society had contemplated any action in the industrial school case, the secretary said that no action had been thought of, as the matter was being investigated by the Governor. He said further that no protest would be made against Mr. Bishop's course by the Mercer county society.

"We think him beneath our consideration," said Captain Matheson, tartly. "I think Mr. Bishoy himself is liable for perjury. His complaint is not properly founded upon the law govering such matters, and the Justice of the Peace, not having attained, under the act, and jurisdictional power, all of those participating in the preceding are liable to prosecution, and for damages as well."

It was said today that, should the Mercer County Grand Jury not find a true bill, Mrs. Eyler will sue Mr. Bishop for damages.

GOLF COMPETITIONS TO BE HELD MONDAY.

Park and Hillside Clubs Will Hold Tournaments.

BOTH WILL BE HANDICAP.

HILLSIDE PLAYERS TO COMPETE FOR GOLF COMMITTEE CUP.

Park Club Members Will Play Tomorrow For Mc Cutchen Cup—Silver Trophy For Monday's Competition—Open to Active and Associate Members—Active Season Now at Hand—Other Clubs Playing.

The golfers of Plainfield are preparing for an active season this fall. Monday the season of fall activity will open with two handicap tournaments, one on the links of the Park Golf Club and the other over the course of the Hillside Tennis and Golf Club. Following that, there are events scheduled nearly every Saturday in September and October.

Tomorrow the regular competition for the Mrs. C. W. McCutchen Cup will be continued on the links of the Park Golf Club. That competition will be continued on Saturday afternoons in September and October and will take the place of other contests at the Park Club.

Monday a Labor Day handicap for men will be held on the Park Club course. It will be an eighteen-hole competition, medal play, open to all active and associate members over sixteen years of age. Play will begin at 2 o'clock. Entries can be made at the clubhouse, and the regular club handicaps will be in force. A handsome silver cup will be awarded to the winner.

The event scheduled for the Hillside links Monday will be a men's handicap, eighteen holes, medal play, for the Golf Committee Cup. The competion will be open to active and associate members over sixteen years of age. A large number of entries is expected particularly among the less-experienced players. Many of the crack players are still away on their vacations, and it will be an opportunity to the new candidates for honors to try their skill.

WILL THERE BE A RUN?

Savings-Bank Depositors Grumble at Passing of Interest.

State Commissioner Bettle's statement of the Perth Amboy Savings Bank's affairs shows that there is still a surplus of $1,528 93, and it is also officially announced that the institution will reopen next Tuesday. A new board of managers are in control, and while they have plenty of ready cash to meet all demands, many predict a big run on the institution.

Those who were caught in the Middlesex Bank wreck are pinched for funds, and besides this there is much dissatisfaction at the passing of the July dividend, which the depositors claim, is as certainly due them as their principal, because the institution did not close until July 14th.

One depositor has said he will sue for the July interest.

CHANGED POSTAL DELIVERY.

New Order of Things Went Into Effect in the Postoffice Today.

The changed order of things were inaugurated this morning at the postoffice among the carriers, and although everything is new they got along very well. It is just like learning a new system and for a few days the carriers will be puzzled until they catch on to their new routes. There is one advantage in making the change at present and that is on account of the comparatively light mails. This will give the carries a chance to thoroughly learn their routes by the time the mails become heavy. So far as known everyone seems to be pleased with the arrangement and those who are inclined to complain should be a little patient until all the carriers are "broke" in.

Young People Enjoyed Themselves.

Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Bodine, of Jackson avenue, gave a party last evening at their home in honor of their daughter, Miss Laura Bodine, who was assisted in celebrating by her friend, Miss Stella Maag. The evening was passed in playing games and in having a general good time, and at a late hour refreshments were served. There were about thirty guests present.

Mountjoy Shows up Well.

OFFICIAL SIDE OF IT.

WHY CERTAIN CITY STREETS HAVE BEEN IMPROVED.

An Official of the Street Department Says Plans are Now Being Made to Macadamize the Streets Complained Of.

A member of the city street department states, regarding the communication from F. E. K. asking for the macadamizing of Third and Fourth streets and a more equal distribution of street improvements, that an ordinance was passed by the Common Council last spring providing for the macadamizing of those streets. West Third street is to be macadamized from Madison avenue to Monroe avenue, and West Fourth street is to have a similar improvement from New street, where the old macadam ends, to Monroe avenue. Bids for the work are to be received at the meeting of the Council Tuesday evening.

West Seventh street, he explained, has been macadamized for a long time. The street was in such bad condition that a strong demand was made by the property owners along that thoroughfare to have it resurfaced. Regarding the dusty condition of the streets, he said that it may be that the city should own a sufficient number of sprinkling carts to water all the city streets. But until they are watered, the dust will continue to fly from macadam streets nearly as much as from the dirt streets.

There was the old remedy for all this trouble, he pointed out, that was long ago suggested. The city might issue bonds and macadamize all the streets, but until that was done it would only be possible to keep the old streets in repair and add a few new ones every year until all were completed.

TO ENTER ATHLETICS.

Plainfield Juniors Will Try to Win in a Field Day Games.

At a meeting of Franklin Council, No. 41, Jr. O. U. A., held last evening it was decided to enter a baseball team, bicycle team and a tug-of war team in the Jr. O. U. A. M. field-day affair to be held at Waverly Labor Day. George S. Bolsterli will have charge of the baseball team and Clarence McMutrie will captain the bicycle races. In these events Franklin Council expect to make a good showing as they have some excellent material in all three teams.

Looks Like Prosperity.

Doane & Edsall have made some important improvements in their store by way of enlarging their shelving space to accommodate their large stock of new fall and winter shoes now arriving, and by adding new and handsome rugs and otherwise improving the appearance of their store. They say they will show as fine a stock of new fall and winter shoes this season as can be found. Their newly-trimmed windows show some specimens today.

A Hackensack Pooh-Bah.

Theodore Deschler, who for sixteen years has acted as assistant agent, flagman, expressman and in various capacities at the Essex street station, Hackensack, on the New Jersey and New York Railroad, yesterday gave up his position to take a route for a local baker. He had saved a score of lives at the Essex street crossing, but had never received any recognition for it beyond a "thank you."

Wants $6,000 Damages.

A damage suit for $6,000 was instituted yesterday in the Essex Circuit Court by Mr. and Mrs. William Newman, of Newark, against the North Jersey Street Railway Company. Mrs. Newman alleges that July 10th she was permanently injured by the premature starting of a car which she was mounting.

OUTING OF UNION COUNTY DEMOCRATS.

Three Hundred Of the Faithful Went to Whitestone.

A VERY PLEASANT TIME.

LITTLE GOSSIP ABOUT PERSONEL OF COUNTY TICKET.

The Sail Was a Fine One, the Committee Arranging Every Detail For Pleasure of the Guests—State Chairman Gourley on Hand, and Delivered an Enthusiastic Talk For Democracy's Success.

The second annual outing of the Union county Democrats, under the auspices of the Elizabeth city executive committee of that party, was held yesterday, the programme being made up of a fine sail up the East River and Long Island Sound to Whitestone, where three hours were spent enjoying a dinner and a stroll about the grounds connected with Stimmel's hotel. The event was considered to be the opening of the campaign among the Democrats in Union county. Incidentally, it was assumed that there would numerous launchings of booms for candidacies at the hands of the county convention, but in reality there was but very little gossip about the personel of the local ticket this fall.

The start was made from Elizabethport on the steamer Isabel at 10:30 o'clock, the committee in charge of the affair and the guests having previously gathered at the Clark Hotel in Elizabeth, going from there in special trolley cars. Major Collins, chairman of the city executive committee, and State Committeeman Peter Egenoff were in direct charge of the affair. They looked after the guests in a most hospitable manner, and allowed no detail to be passed that might add to the festivity of the occasion.

When the steamer pulled out from the dock there were fully 300 on board, mostly all from Elizabeth. Among some of the distinguished faces to be seen were those of State Chairman Gourley, of Paterson; Congressman Salmon, of the Fourth District; State Senator Barber, of Belvidere; former Congressman Dunn, of Elizabeth; James E. Martine, of Plainfield; former Senator Keys, of Somerville, and nearly every prominent office holder in Elizabeth.

Coming up the New York bay the yacht "Shamrock," which is to be in the international yacht race, was passed, and in order to give the guests a splendid chance to see the trim craft the "Isabel" made a complete circle around her, the band meanwhile playing "The Wearing of the Green" and "God Save the Queen."

The sail up the river to Whitestone was a very pleasant one, and after cruising around up in the Sound for an hour the landing was made at Whitestone. After the party had their photograph taken in a group, the dinner was served. Brief addresses followed, Major Collins being very felicitious as toast-master. The essential features of the short talks were the scoring of the present National administration and the need of a more thorough party organization in New Jersey.

Congressman Salmon spoke briefly and moderately against the idea of expansion, and was followed by State Chairman Gourley. Mr. Gourley dwelt particularly on the need of better organization for the Democratic party in New Jersey, and stated that the changing of four votes in every election district in New Jersey last fall would have meant a Democratic victory. Mr. Gourley said that it was the purpose of the State Committee to bring about an organization that would marshal these few votes needed, and if every section could show as representative class of Democrats as he saw assembled together at the outing he felt assured that New Jersey would soon regain her old place in the Democratic column.

"Farmer Orator" Martine was next called upon, and in one of his enthusiastic talks aroused the Democratic ardor in all who heard him. Mr. Martine declared that the money question was still unsettled and would be one of the leading issues of the campaign in 1900.

City Attorney Connoly and Acting Mayor Ryan, of Elizabeth, followed in brief talks, after which the guests adjourned to the surrounding grounds where they whiled away an hour and a half in pleasant chat with one another.

The return trip was started at 6 o'clock, the sail to Elizabethport being exhilerating one at that time of night.

Those who went on the outing from Plainfield were James E. Martine, P. J. Reville, John Rafferty and W. W. St. John.

ATTACKED BY AMERICANS

Our Troops Are Again Victorious in a Fierce Fight With Brigands.

PREPARING FOR ACTION

The Business of an Entire Island is Almost Completely Paralyzed by Brigand Operations.

Enemy Were Intrenched in the Hills in Full View of Cebu—The Native Forces May be Destroyed by Col. Bayless—Filipinos Getting Ready for Another Fight.

Manila, Sept. 1.—The brigands who have been causing considerable trouble in Cebu under the flag of the insurgents are expecting and preparing for action. They have succeeded in practically paralyzing the business of almost the entire island, and finally got so bold as to molest Americans, slightly wounding two officers. They waylaid four men going to Cebu from El Pardo and killed three of them. They also mutilated the bodies. Col. Bayless, of the 1st Tennessee Regiment, took a company of the Tennesseans and a company of the 23d regulars from Cebu. Capt. Allaire took a company of the 23d from El Pardo, and the troops cleared the valley.

Two companies of the 6th Infanty arrived from Negros, and Col. Bayless took part of eight companies of infantry and one 3.20-inch gun from the 6th Artillery. He sent one wing from El Pardo and took the other from Guadaloupe.

The brigands were entrenched in the hills, in pain sight of Cebu. It is a terrible country, rough and steep, and the Filipino position was protected by three lines of trenches, with bomb-proof caves, at an elevation of over 1,000 feet. The day was fearfully hot.

After some desperate fighting the Americantroops reached the top of the Pardo hills. The men were thoroughly exhausted.

Meantime Colonel Bayless was advancing from Guadaloupe and was doing terrific work. The Americans killed eight caribou which were trying to carry a gun into position. The gun was finally hauled four miles by men.

Col. Bayless's work indicates that the Filipinos will stand for a fight, in which case it is possible to surround and destroy them completely. Gen. Otis may conclude that this is worth doing without waiting for results in Luzon.

Colored Regiment is Assured.

Washington, Sept. 1.—Adjutant General Corbin says that there are less than 100 appointments of volunteer officers yet to be made, and they belonged mainly to Wisconsin, California and Ohio. The quotas of the other states practically are full. All the field commissions in the volunteer establishment have been distributed with the exception of one lieutenant colonelcy and ten majorities. The President has made a small list from which these appointments will be made, and it is expected that the resut will be announced in a few days.

The Governors of the states which contributed colored troops to the volunteer army in the war with Spain have been requested by the Secretary of War to nominate company officers for the colored volunteer regiment, to be organized for service in the Philippines.

Rough Rider Goes Insane.

Washington, Sept. 1.—William S. A. Murphy, one of Roosevelt's Rough Riders, who served through the Santiago campaign and who was wounded several times in the battles fought by the regiment, has been sent to the Washington Insane Asylum. Murphy came here from New York on Sunday last to see about a commission in one of the new volunteer regiments for which he has applied and for which he has been recommended highly by Governor Roosevelt.

Yellow Fever in Key West.

Key West, Fla., Sept. 1.—The State Board of Health has officially declared that yellow fever exists in this city. A native boy named Cosgrove has died from the fever. Dennis L. Egan, an attache of the custom house, may die, William M. Browder, special agent of the Treasury Department, has a bad case. Some of the unacclimated persons are preparing to depart, but the authorities are taking every precaution against the spread of the disease.

Mrs. Eddy Dying.

Boston, Mass., Sept. 1.—Mrs. Mary Baker G. Eddy, the founder of the Christian Science religion, is reported by telephone to be dying at her country home, Concord, N. H. Her assistants have been summoned to her side in the hope of saving her by prayer. Mrs. Mary Baker Eddy was the founder of the Christian Science doctrine, which in 1866 first made its appearance in the so-called form of divine revelation.

Christian Scientist Dead.

Geneva, N. Y., Sept. 1.—Ira L. Peck, a well known resident of Seneca Castle, is dead. The only treatment he received during his illness, which was typhoid fever, was from Christian Scientists. The District Attorney will bring the case before the next Grand Jury, and will have a rigid investigation.

Petition Queen to Prevent War.

London, Sept. 1.—A petition from the Netherlands Woman's Disarmament League has been presented to the Queen, praying her, in the name of womanhood and motherhood, to avoid war with the Boers, and saying it would "cost a frightful blot upon Your Majesty's most glorious reign."

Bomb for Chilian President.

Santiago, de Chili, via Galveston, Texas, Sept. 1.—A bomb which, however, did not explode, was deposited on the balcony of the President's residence yesterday.

WILL DO AS HE AGREED

Successful Prospector to Remember His Dead Partner's Son.

Franklin, Penn., Sept. 1.—Orrin F. Critchlow, of this place, has returned from Pittsburg and announced that he expected to prove himself the rightful heir to half of the fortune of Alexander Snyder, who recently returned from the Klondike with $60,000. Snyder returned about six weeks ago. He said he wanted to find the son of his old chum, Thomas H. Crichlow, to whom he intended to give half of his fortune, in fulfillment of a promise made to the elder Critchlow. Snyder and Thomas H. Critchlow were partners in the mining districts of Colorado in 1880. In that year, Snyder was taken ill with mountain fever, and Critchlow nursed him back to health. Soon after Snyder recovered he started out alone to prospect for gold, promising Critchlow that if he should be successful he would share with him or with his son, of whom Chitchlow had often told him, in the event of his death. Critchlow died in the mining regions of Colorado in 1893.

Snyder was among the first to go to the Klondike and after experiencing many hardships accumulated about $60,000. He returned to the States full of the desire to keep his promise to his old partner. Snyder had forgotten the name of the son of his former companion, so he placed the matter in the hands of an attorney in Pittsburg, who was to advertise for the young man. Several claimants appeared, but Orrin Critchlow, of Franklin, had no trouble in establishing his identity as the missing heir. George Mason, of this place, came forward to vouch for Orrin Critchlow as the son of Thomas H. Critchlow. Mason fought at the father's side at the battle of Fredericksburg, where Critchlow was badly wounded.

Young Critchlow is an oil well driver. He says he did not see Snyder in Pittsburg, but saw his attorney and is satisfied that the offer is genuine. He has made arrangements to meet Synder in Pittsburg soon, when the money will be paid to him. Synder is in Forest county at present.

Says Girl is Hypnotised.

Philadelphia, Sept. 1.—Mrs. Eva R. Wood, the mother of nineteen-year-old Eva Wood, of No. 405 Division street, Camden, N. J., declares that her daughter is a victim of hypnotic suggestion. At the same time she says that the strange influence is being held over her child by Eli Shaw, whose sensational trial, charged with the murder of his mother and grandmother, in Camden, occurred about one year ago. At the time of the murder Eli Shaw was said to be engaged to marry Miss Maybelle Neilson, who lives with her mother, at Woodbury, N. J., both women have declared that the engagement was broken off on the morning of October, 12, 1897, the day the double tragedy occurred.

Biggest Oil Well Sold.

Bluffton, Ind., Sept. 1.—Indiana's biggest oil well, the one drilled in on the farm of Auditor Powell, of Cass County, has been sold by its owners, G. A. Mason, Mike Dailey and H. C. Arnold, of this city, to D. F. Sherbondy, of Cleveland. The lease is located in Blackford County and was drilled in February. Mr. Sherbondy paid $30,000 for the lease, which, although only 18 acres in extent, is the most valuable one in Indiana.

Murdered By a Robber.

Whitehall, Ill., Sept. 1.—A robber killed A. J. Allen, engineer at the Burlington reservoir, north of this city, and secured what money he had on his person. It was evident that Allen was scooping coal into the furnace when pounced upon by the robber, who struck him on the top of the head with a coal hammer, fracturing the skull.

Child's Fall From a Trestle.

Boston, Sept. 1.—Albert Shaw, 5 years old, was struck by a locomotive yesterday while walking on a trestle. His death seemed certain but as it happened he was thrown into the air and fell off the trestle into some shallow water from which he waded out uninjured.

Cotton Mill to Start Up.

Newburyport, Mass., Sept. 1.—Seth A. Borden, of Fall River, has purchased the Victoria cotton mill, which has been idle for several years. The Victoria will be equipped at once. The running of this mill means to the city a weekly pay roll of about $4,000.

Insane Through Grief.

Dayton, Ohio, Sept. 1.—Grief over the death of her child is the attributed cause of the insanity of Mrs. Flora A. Stebbins, a young married woman, adjudged insane and committed to the asylum. The child's death took place about six weeks ago.

Want Rogers Appointed.

Warren, Ohio, Sept. 1.—A petition was generally signed here asking Governor Bushnell to appoint Disney W. Rogers, of Youngstown, as the successor of Jos. B. Kennedy, Republican, on the Common Pleas bench in this district.

Leased Another Railroad.

Norfolk, Va., Sept. 1.—At the meeting of the stockholders of the Atlantic and Danville Railway here the lease of the road to the Southern Railway was concluded to take effect immediately. The consideration and terms were not made public.

Will Turn Hose on Gurin.

Paris, Sept. 1.—According to a story in the Matin, Guerin and his companions will be driven from their stronghold by firemen, who will play several streams of water through the windows and flood the house.

Roosevelt at Little Falls.

Jamestown, N. Y., Sept. 1.—Governor Roosevelt was greeted by a crowd of more than 15,000 persons at the Little Valley fair, where he delivered an address.

IN MATTER OF THE APPLICATION OF Jacob Blimm Administrator OF William Blimm, DECEASED, FOR SALE OF LAND TO PAY DEBTS. } Order to Show Cause.

Jacob Blimm, Administrator of William Blimm, deceased, having exhibited to this Court under oath, a just and true account of the personal estate and debts of said deceased, whereby it appears that the personal estate of said deceased is insufficient to pay his debts, and requested the aid of the Court in the premises: It is, on this nineteenth day of July, eighteen hundred and ninety-nine, ordered that all persons interested in the lands, tenements, and real estate of said William Blimm, deceased, appear before the Court, at the Court House, in the City of Elizabeth, on the twentieth day of September next, at ten o'clock in the forenoon, to show cause why so much of the said lands, tenements, hereditaments, and real estate of the said William Blimm, deceased, should not be sold as will be sufficient to pay his debts, or the residue thereof, as the case may require. And it is further ordered that this order be set up and published in one of the newspapers of this State as by the Statute directed by the Court.

NEW LAWS IN PORTO RICO

The Work That Has Been Accomplished by the Insular Commission.

FORMER LAWS UNJUST.

An Interesting Report on the Subject Has Been Submitted to the Secretary of War.

Number of Office-Holders in the Island Reduced Considerably—System of Greater Efficiency in the Administration of Justice—Economic Methods of Government.

Washington, Sept. 1.—The insular commission which President McKinley appointed last winter to visit Cuba and Porto Rico has made its final report to the Secretary of War. The commission is composed of Robert P. Kennedy of Ohio, Charles W. Watkins of Michigan and H. G. Curtis of Iowa. These commissioners visited Porto Rico and studied the conditions and needs of the people there. They gave little attention to Cuba. The commission prepared a code of laws for Porto Rico similar to those now in force in the States, and they recommend that this code shall be promulgated by the President without waiting for the action of Congress. They made this recommendation as the means of giving immediate relief to the people of Porto Rico, who, after a year's government by the United States, are still under the laws given them by Spain, which were so unjust as to induce the whole people to welcome the United States army and beg to be transferred to the protection of the American flag.

On this matter the commissioners say in their report:

"We have materially reduced the number of officeholders throughout the island, not only in the general government, but in the courts, the districts and municipalities. At the same time we have given them a system of greater efficiency in the administration of justice, the transfer of property, the settlement of estates, the collection and expenditure of taxes, and the whole economic methods of the government throughout the island.

"No other matters demand such immediate and prompt attention as these. It is a matter of imperative necessity that these people be speedily relieved from their present conditions and from the systems of oppression under which they have been laboring for hundreds of years. A horde of officeholders is eating up the substance of the people; the taxes gathered from every possible source are not used for their benefit, but their oppression, and they are receiving nothing in return for the great burdens imposed upon them. It is possible by the adoption of American laws which we submit herewith, adapted to the needs, necessities and present conditions of the Porto Rican people, to give them opportunities of advancement, to improve their roads and highways, to establish schools, to build schoolhouses and to educate the people, and, by a just and impartial system of taxation, to relieve them of the great burdens under which they are now struggling, and to bring them, by means of education and intelligence, to the high standard of American citizenship."

The commissioners say that the best way to relieve the people of Porto Rico of the distress so general is to give them the means of securing a livlihood by work. The people are industrious, ready and willing to work if given the opportunity. There is a great field in the island for the employment of capital which is waiting for permission to enter, and with its entry will come a day of prosperity for the Porto Rican peope. With the construction of railroads, highways, electric lines, mills and manufacturing establishments will come work for thousands of unemployed, and with their operation will come continued labor for the people.

The laws submitted do away with all necessity for the sale of franchises or special grants therefor, by permitting any persons to incorporate under the general incorporation law, and extending the right of eminent domain to all quasi-public corporations, under the rules of the general statutes: so that any company desiring to build a railroad, erect a dam, improve a water power, or build a street railway, can do so upon complying with the general law.

Business Men Form a Union.

Spokane, Wash., Sept. 1.—The Employers' Association, representing from $7,000,000 to $9,000,000 of local capital, has been organized in Spokane to resist any demand of organized labor in the city which employers may regard as unjust. The lumber mills, breweries, flouring mills, street-car companies, gas company, water-power company, factories, contractors and merchants are all named as represented in the association. More than fifty of the most prominent companies and business men in Spokane are said to have joined the association.

More Zinc Properties Sold.

Joplin, Mo., Sept. 1.—Ex-Gov. W. C. Renfrew has purchased for his company, the American Zinc, Lead and Smelting Company, the Center Valley Company's lease on two hundred acres of mineral land, containing five big producing mines, and the fee in eighty acres adjoining, known as the Hockaday tract. The price paid was $190,000. This makes $1,200,000 invested by this company in Missouri zinc properties within the past three months.

Killed by Carbolic Acid Fumes.

Wausau, Wis., Sept. 1.—Three patients at the Marathon County Asylum while working in a silo, were overcome by carbolic acid fumes, and were dead before they could be rescued. Superintendent Head was overcome while attempting to rescue the men and narrowly escaped death. The dead are Frank Crosdale, Gustave Gunderson and William Radtke.

FIGUERO HAS RESIGNED.

President of Dominican Republic Steps Down and Out.

Santo Domingo, Sept. 1.—President Figuero has resigned.

The Ministers will continue at the head of their various departments until a Provisional Government has been formed, after which the elections for President and Vice-President will take place.

This city is quiet, but business is at a standstill.

The Dominican gunboat Restauracion is ashore on the rocks at the entrance to the harbor of Macoris. Efforts are being made to get her off.

The United States cruiser New Orleans and the French cruiser Cecilie are still in port.

President Figuero, who was Vice-President of the Dominican Republic, assumed charge of the Government upon the assassination of President Heureaux July 26.

Juan Isidro Jiminez is said to have arrived at Sanchez on board the French steamer Georges Croise. Santiago, Moca, Lavega, Porto Plata, San Francisco de Macoris and Bani have declared in favor of the revolution. Santiago was taken after a strong fight. It is expected that all the other places will submit to the revolution without any more fighting, principally owing to the fact that the President has resigned.

General Figuero left here for Azua. The revolutionists are advancing, and they may enter the city in a few days.

Attempt to Wreck a Train.

Nyack, N. Y., Sept. 1.—An attempt was made to wreck a train on the Northern Railroad of New Jersey. The lock of a side switch a quarter of a mile below the Nyack station was battered off and the switch opened. When the train came along it ran on the side track. Engineer Norton shut off steam and reversed his engine, but the locomotive ran off the lower end of the switch and across Clinton avenue, crashing into a telephone pole. No one was hurt. The battered lock was found some distance away from the switch.

His Injuries Were Fatal.

Fairmont, W. Va., Sept. 1.—The B. and O. wreck, in which two men were killed and a number injured, and 50 cars bunched, occurring three miles west of this city, has been cleared and trains are running regularly. F. D. Stewart, of Littleton, of the wrecking crew, has died from injuries received by the rigger car crane falling on him.

Steamer City of Rome Sold.

Detroit, Mich., Sept. 1.—The steamer City of Rome was sold by United States Marshal Taylor for $50,040 to the Gilchrist Transportation Company, of Cleveland. The vessel was under seizure by the Government for libel of $17,600, the amount of the Detroit Dry Dock Company's repair bill for the injuries received on the docks at the head of Lake Huron a year ago.

Largest Freight Carrier.

Buffalo, Sept. 1.—What is said to be the largest packet freight carrier on the lakes has been launched at the yards of the Union Drydock Company. The new boat, to be called the Buffalo, is 403½ feet long, 58 feet beam and 28 feet deep. She is constructed to carry 5,700 net tons of freight. She draws 17½ feet of water.

Caught Father's Body on Her Hook

Napoleon, Ohio, Sept. 1.—A ghastly discovery was made by Emma Schultz, 12 years old, who, while fishing in the canal, brought the body of her father to the surface on her line. He left his home Wednesday morning to find work. He was subject to epilepsy and it is thought that he fell into the canal.

Charged With Stealing Bullion.

Butte, Mont., Sept. 1.—Mr. Mayer, an assayer, of Butte; John F. E. Boyd, broth- of Mayor Boyd, of Philipsburg, and James McDonald, an employe of the Granite Bimetalic Mine, have been arrested, charged with thefts of silver bullion from the Bimetallic Company amounting to at least $50,000.

Stock Train Wrecked.

Martinsville, Ind., Sept. 1.—A freight train on the Indianapolis and Vincennes Railway broke in two and came together with a crash, demolishing 11 cars of cattle and hogs. Scores of cattle and hogs were terribly mangled. Passenger trains were delayed four hours. No persons killed.

Hale Nominated by Acclamation.

Alliance, Ohio, Sept. 1.—At the Republican convention to nominate a candidate for Common Pleas Judge for this judicial district, composed of Carroll, Stark and Columbia Counties, held here, Warren W. Hale, of Salem, was nominated by acclamation. The district is strongly Republican.

Big Increase in Population.

Anderson, Ind., Sept. 1.—The city of Anderson has increased her city population 2,000 and decreased her surburban population that much by a forcible annexation of Park Place, which adjoins the city on the east. White River only separating them. The matter will be taken into the courts.

Frank Ives is Dead.

Grand Rapids, Mich., Sept. 1.—A telegram received by Dr. J. D. Peters, father-in-law of Frank Ives, the billiard player, announces the latter's death from consumption at Progresso, Mexico. The body is to be brought to Plainwell, Mich., at which place Ives was born in 1866.

Air Brake Stock Increased.

Trenton, N. J., Sept. 1.—The New York Air Brake Company has filed papers with the secretary of state increasing its capital stock from $5,000,000 to $10,000,000. The papers were signed by C. A. Starbuck, president, and John C. Thompson, secretary, of the company.

Coughlin in Argentine Republic.

Chicago, Ill., Sept. 1.—Dan Coughlin, who disappeared last July and forfeited his bond of $15,000 rather than face a trial for alleged jury bribing, has been traced, it is reported, to the Argentine Republic, where he is said to be living with his brother.

TEETH.

If you have any to be extracted remember you will not be hurt in the slightest. My local anæsthetic is the best that can be obtained and is not known to the other dentists in this city. Gas strictly fresh administered by an expert if you want that. If you need artificial teeth you may rest assured that the greatest care will be exercised in selecting shape and color to harmonize with the face, also to restore the features to their natural expression and fullness. This is most important.

A few months ago I saw the ad in a Philadelphia paper and sent for a sample package Ripans Tabules and was so much pleased with them that I then ordered one dozen. I am an inspector of freight cars and my work is all at night. Am fifty years of age. Working at night has a tendency to make me nervous and I can not sleep. Whenever I feel this way I always take a Ripans Tabule before going to bed, which effectually drives away the nervousness and produces sound, refreshing sleep without any after bad effects that other sleeping doses leave. For a regulator of the bowels without any pain or griping I have never found an equal to Ripans Tabules. I also find them as represented for heartburn or water brash.

A new style package containing TEN RIPANS TABULES in a paper carton (without glass) is now for sale at some drug stores—FIVE-CENTS CARTON. This low-priced sort is intended for the poor and the economical. One dozen of the five-cent cartons (120 tabules) can be had by sending forty-eight cents to the RIPANS CHEMICAL COMPANY, No. 10 Spruce-Street, New York—or a single carton (TEN TABULES) will be sent for five cents. RIPANS TABULES may be had of druggists, general storekeepers, news-agents and of liquor stores and barber shops.

KRUGER DELAYS ACTION

Boers Take Hopeful View of Transvaal Situation.

Pretoria, Sept. 1.—The Transvaal's note to Great Britain, offering the five-year franchise and the other concessions, was worded strongly, and explained that the concessions were made with a sincere desire to settle fully all differences, to put an end to strained relations and to avert a disastrous war. Therefore, a prompt answer was requested.

The note of Conyngham Greene, in reply, was conciliatory and tantamount to an acceptance of the five-year offer. It agreed to waive the suggested commission of inquiry, provided a representative, to be appointed by Sir Alfred Milner, should be allowed facilities in Pretoria to make an investigation of the franchise question, and provided the report of such representative should prove satisfactory. Otherwise the Transvaal Government was requested to await further suggestions from the Imperial Government before submitting new proposals to the Volksraad. Mr. Greene's note suggested a further conference at Cape Town.

The entire correspondence between the Imperial and Transvaal governments was read in one session, and Kruger asked the Raad to meet secretly for the purpose of considering a reply.

President Kruger declared that in the convention of 1851 the suzerainty of Great Britain was started distinctly. But, he added, there was no intention of it in the convention of 1884. He denied the Government had excluded the British from political rights.

Daring Prisoner Escapes.

Altoona, Pa., Sept. 1.—George W. Brigger, who was arrested in Fayette City, made his escape while being taken to Scranton by Detective Morris A. Weiss to answer a charge of aggravated assault. Weiss and his prisoner sat side by side in a car of a Pennsylvania railroad train, Brigger being handcuffed. The train was running at the rate of forty miles an hour west of this city when Brigger made a rush for the door and jumped from the train. Weiss caught a glimpse of him as he went over a steep embankment. The train was stopped and the fate of the escaped prisoner is unknown.

Senator Beveridge in Chicago.

Chicago, Ill., Sept. 1.—United States Senator Albert J. Beveridge of Indiana arrived in Chicago on the steamship Manitou from Mackinac. The Senator is back from a tour of the Philippines, China and Japan. It is understood that he intends to observe absolute secrecy as to his views and information until he has communicated with the Administration. Mrs. Beveridge accompanies the Senator. She was with him throughout his travels in the Orient.

International Bar Association Meets

Buffalo, Sept. 1.—The eighteenth annual conference of the International Law Association was opened here with scarcely a score of delegates present, although many members are in the city. The conference was called to order by Joseph G. Alexander, Q. C., of London. Sir William R. Kennedy presided. Charles F. Manderson acted in the capacity of honorary president. Sherman S. Rogers delivered the address of welcome.

Mayor Jones' Campaign.

Cleveland, Sept. 1.—Mayor Jones of Toledo formerly opened his gubernatorial campaign at the Newburg racetrack, drawing a large crowd. He said: "Humanity is naturally loving, just and kind, but this feeling is destroyed by the daily warfare of life called competition, till we have come to be utterly mistaken regarding the purposes of life. The shorter workday is one of the steps toward the solution of the question of employment."

Suicide on a Steamer.

New Haven, Conn., Sept. 1.—Miss Anna Abel, of New York City, committed suicide by taking carbolic acid on the steamer Continental in her stateroom soon after the boat made fast after its trip from New York. She was twenty years old. She was coming to this city to visit her sister, Mrs. M. F. Fetterman, who resides here. No reason for her act has been learned.

Victim Will Sue.

Paterson, N. J., Sept. 1.—Sadie Wiseman, through her mother, will bring suit for $5,000 damages on account of injuries she received while an inmate of the New Jersey State Industrial School, presided over by Mrs. Myrtle B. Eyler. The girl claims to have been permanently injured by her stay in the institution.

Thieves Carry Away Machine.

Lima, Ohio, Sept. 1.—Thieves entered the Iron Fence Company's building, pried a large plane, weighing over a ton, loose, and hauled it away without being detected by the night watchman.

Gold From Australia.

Sydney, N. S. W., Sept. 1.—The American steamship Mariposa, Capt. Hayward, which sailed from here prior to Aug. 30 for San Francisco, had on board £180,000 in gold.

A DRAMATIC INCIDENT.

Secret Document in the Famous Case Discussed Behind Closed Doors In Court-Martial at Rennes

The Prisoner Denies Making a Confession—"When I Am Gone Let Them Seek the Culprit," He Wrote to the War Minister—An Interesting Session.

Rennes, Sept. 1.—The session opened behind closed doors in the Lycee. Majors Hartman and Ducros and Gen. Deloye, all of the Artillery, were present.

The Court discussed the secret document relating to the Artillery subjects of the bordereau.

The public was admitted to the court at 9:30 a. m. The first witness called after the public session was opened was Capt. Lebrun-Renault, of the Republican Guard, who reiterated his testimony given before the Court of Cassation, repeating the terms of the alleged confession of Dreyfus:

"I am innocent. In three years they will recognize my innocence. The Minister of War knows it. If I delivered documents to Germany it was to have more important ones in return."

The witness's explanation that he did not refer to the confession of Dreyfus during his interview with President Casimir-Perier, because he overheard a conversation during the course of which he was called "traitor" "canaille" and "cur," came as a surprise, for he did not mention this in his evidence before the Court of Cassation, as Maitre Labori, leading counsel for the defense, pointed out.

M. Labori also laid stress on the fact that Capt. Lebrun-Renault should have kept his notebook in which, he asserts, he made a note of the conversation with Dreyfus for four years, and not have destroyed it on the very morrow the matter was brought up in debate in the Chamber of Deputies.

The Captain's reply that he looked upon the copy made by M. Cavaignac, then Minister of War, as being sufficient, was considered rather lame.

Dreyfus, replying to the witness, began by calmly declaring that Capt. Lebrun-Renault's statement that a certain Capt. Lattel was present during the conversation with Capt. Lebrun-Renault was inaccurate.

The witness, however, maintained that Capt. Dattel was present, whereupon Dreyfus said that if he was present he, the prisoner, did not speak to him.

Dreyfus then raised his voice excitedly and, accompanying his words with short, emphatic gestures of the right hand, which was quivering with his emotion, he protested that Capt. Lebrun-Renault should have repeated to his Chiefs his utterance, which began with a protestation of innocence, without asking him to explain his words.

"Those are manoeuvres," cried the prisoner, "which must fill all honest men with indignation."

This declaration of the prisoner made a deep impression on the audience.

Dreyfus spoke the last words through his teeth and was evidently laboring under the greatest excitement and indignation.

The audience broke into "bravos," which the gendarmes immediately suppressed.

On being recalled, Capt. Lebrun-Renault said that this was true, but he added that Capt. Dattel was present, and could have overheard the conversation.

M. Labori here pointed out that Capt. Dattel had not spoken to his chiefs on this subject and Gen. Mercier, who, like all the military witnesses, followed the proceedings with the keenest attention, rose and admitted that this was correct.

Col. Jouaust told Dreyfus that he had not explained why he mentioned the term of three years, to which Dreyfus replied:

"I did not give three years as the term. I only said I hoped that in the course of three years my innocence would be recognized. And I wish to state, my Colonel, that, as my letters to Gen. Gonse show, my words did not have the sense evil minds have sought to give them."

Major Forzinetti, who was Governor of the Cherche Midi prison during the time Dreyfus was imprisoned there, and who testified in behalf of Dreyfus, declaring that he never heard of the confession Dreyfus is said to have made, was the next witness called.

Col. Jouaust asket Major Forzinetti if Dreyfus ever had the idea of suicide and the witness replied that Dreyfus had asked him for a weapon, and that also after his condemnation was read he was with difficulty prevented form dashing his head against the wall.

After the last visit of Du Paty de Clam to Dreyfus, continued Major Forzinnetti the prisoner wrote to the Minister of War a letter which concluded with the words:

"When I am gone, let them seek out the culprit."

At the conclusion of Major Forzinetti's evidence Dreyfus, on Col. Jouaust's invitation, and after reference to the last interview with Du Paty de Clam, said, looking with gratitude to the Major:

"I had determined to kill myself. I had made up my mind not to undergo the frightful torture of a soldier from whom they wished to tear the insignia of honor. Well, then, let me say this:

"That if I went to that torture I can say here that it was thanks to Mme. Dreyfus, who showed me my duty, and who told me that if I was innocent I ought to go to it for the sake of her and our children. If I am here, it is to her that I owe it, my Colonel."

Here Major Forzinetti said:

"It is quite true. In his last interview with his wife Dreyfus said: 'For her and for my children I will undergo the torture to-morrow.'"

John Kucklo shot his wife in Plainfield, N. J., and fired two bullets in his mouth.

COMING EVENTS.

Interesting Comparisons.

The Borough Council of South River, a little municipality in the southern part of Middlesex county, has just fixed the tax rate there for the coming fiscal year. The tax rate is $2.51, or just five points lower than Plainfield's new tax rate. Taking into consideration a comparison of Plainfield and that little town, it justifies the remarks of Councilman Elliot T. Barrows that Plainfield is geting a great deal more for its money than other places that pay about the same rate are.

Plainfield is a modern city with paid fire and police departments, a system of sewers, the best public schools in the State, fine roads, and a hundred other advantages that were hardly thought of in South River. The Borough of South River, on the contrary, has no police nor fire protection worth considering, fair district schools, while a good share of its roads are in such a condition that wagons sink up to their hubs in sand. And yet there is only five points difference in the tax rate.

Two big factors in South River finances are the high county and the high school tax. Property owners in Middlesex county pay $.77 on $100, where owners in Union pay but $.54 for county expenses. The school tax there is $.81 as against $.65 in Plainfield. The other items of the tax rate in South River are the State school tax, the borough tax, the poor tax and the road tax. The poor tax is more than double the figure in Plainfield. All these taxes are figured on a taxable valuation of real and personal property of $415,460.

A Newcomer.

Pennington is growing. One of the unfailing signs of its growth is the appearance of the first issue of the Pennington Post, a bright newsy sheet which has just made its debut in the newspaper world. Its publisher and propritor is W. B. R. Mason, who has so successfully directed the career of the Bound Brook Chronicle in past years. Mr. Mason will still continue in Bound Brook. His new venture with its alliterative title has a clean, attractive appearance, much in keeping with Mr. Mason's other publication.

It has been tersely stated that values are put on goods by human desire—a fact which the experienced merchant will keep in mind in connection with his advertising. The demand for certain lines of wares sustains the price of them at a profitable figure; but it is necessary for the tradesman—in order to take advantage of this demand—to let the public know where their favorite wares may be obtained. The most effective method of diffusing this information is through the advertising columns of a widely circulated newspaper. The merchant who aspires to success must give publicity to his establishment and his goods.—Philadelphia Record.

The war between the N. C. A. and the L. A. W. for the control of bicycle racing in America still continues, but the contest has the appearance of terminating, sooner or later, in favor of the N. C. A. A revival of racing has reached the metropolitan district, and it can only be accounted for by the fact that the N. C. A. is overwhelmingly in the lead and has practically entire control of the principal tracks and riders in this country.

New Brunswick has been waking up of late. The horsemen of that city have just held a successful met. Now the wheelmen are to conduct bicycle races while the trades unions of the city will observe Labor Day with a parade and picnic. The next thing we shall hear is that New Brunswick is actually going to rebuild its theatre.

The statement made by Judge Steele, of Brooklyn, at the clambake of the Plainfield Advancement Association Wednesday, when he placed Plainfield first among all the suburban cities he knew, means a great deal coming from such a source.

Labor Day will be a quiet day for Plainfield. There will be little happening here except the golf tournaments in the two local clubs.

The usual Somerset county ghost story is about due now.

WHAT THE SHEARS FIND

Editorial Comment From Other Papers of Interest in Plainfield.

The Elizabeth Daily Journal is industriously canvassing the county for material for assemblymen for next fall's election. Of course it can hardly see any further than Elizabeth with a possible exception in favor of Plainfield. But we beg to suggest that we have some good men in New Providence, and, further, this enterprising little borough has not been recognized in either State a county for many years.—Passaic Valley News.

Plainfield people are raising a howl because their tax rate this year has been raised to $2.56 on the $100, which is the same rate as this city imposes. But over in Plainfield the people get the worth of their money and the assessment rate is very low. Here much property has been assessed for more than it would bring at public sale, and the benefits arising from the imposition of taxes are enjoyed mainly by the officeholders and their friends. —New Brunswick Home News.

The trolley cars of the Plainfield Street Railway Company have become very popular this summer. Every pleasant evening sees the open cars with hardly a vacant seat. Many board the cars just for the ride while others find it very convenient in carrying them to Dunellen and Scotch Plains. However it is, the company has had its hands full for the past three months and the nickels have been rolling into its treasury in a steady stream.

During the dress rehersal of Isham's Octoroons Wednesday, a rather peculiar thing happened. William English was on the stage in his song and dance sketch. Some way he happened to trip and fall. In falling he ignited a vest pocket full of matches. There was a puff of smoke from the pocket, which some of the watchers supposed was part of the performance but it wasn't. English stopped in the middle of his performance, grabbed his vest and looked about with a bewildered expression. Then he felt the heat of the burning matches. By slapping the pocket, the fire was extinguished and English was on with his turn.

DRINK GRAIN-O

after you have concluded that you ought not to drink coffee. It is not a medicine but doctors order it, because it is healthful, invigorating and appetizing. It is made from pure grains and has that rich seal brown color and tastes like the finest grades of coffee and costs about ¼ as much. Children like it and thrive on it because it is a genuine food drink containing nothing but nourishment. Ask your grocer for Grain-O, the new food drink. 15 and 25c.

FINE TABLE DAMASK

Tomorrow We Offer The Following.

Very fine 72 in Double Damask at $1.25 and $1.50 yd. Patterns are "inlaid" an expensive hand process. Goods are rarely beautiful and remarkably cheap. ¾ napkins to match at 3.75 and 4.50 (by the doz. only.) Also our regular 1.00 72 in Double Damask at 85c yd., and a pure linen 70 in Damask (75c quality) in five patterns at 50c per yd.

Half Bleached Damask.

63-in	half bleached German Damask at			39c yd
60-in	"	"	extra heavy, at	50c yd

These goods will bleach very quickly and give splendid service. This is an offering of linens to which every thrifty housekeeper should respond quickly. Our trade in ready-made Sheets and Pillows is also one of growing importance, due undoubtedly to the fact that we sell only good goods. We handle only the well-known brands such as N. Y. Mills, Utica Mills, Dwight Anchor, etc. All are torn, beautifully hemmed and clean, ready for use. A comparison of our prices with those of N. Y. City will result in your buying them of us.

Crochet and Marseilles Bed Spreads, another item we are warranted in calling your attention to. We believe we sell at 1.00 the best white Crochet Quilt ever sold at that price. Of course 1.25, 1.50 or 1.75 will buy a better one. Marseilles Quilts we carry up to 5.00 ea. and works of art they are. Plain and Quilted Table Padding at various prices.

New Tapestries.

Entirely new Bagdad Stripes, Denims, Turkish Cloths, Fancy Tickings, Satins and Silkalines in bewildering variety. New Patterns and new colorings make these unusually attractive.

We should be guilty of gross neglect if we failed to call attention to a special lot of Flannelettes at 6½c yd. that are really worth 8c yd. So far as we can judge the patterns are as bright and attractive as those we have at much higher price.

Sundry New Things.

Prominent among the latest arrivals are two numbers in Ladies' Kid Gloves at 1.50 pr. No. 1—2 clasp, real kid in Modes, Tans, Grays and Ox Bloods. Very pliable, elastic and perfect fitting. No. 2—Something entirely new in 2 clasp Suedes in Tans, Modes and Grays. A peculiarly novel stitching gives them a most stylish finish. We predict for these two numbers a large sale. Some new velvet stock collars, steel trimmed, will sell readily once they are seen. Prices 50c to 1.98. Some are trimmed with jet and have jet fringe to match. Positively the newest novelties in stock. Our shirt waists have been subjected to very radical treatment again. Our 1.00, 1.25 and 1.48 waists are now 50c eaeh. If you can find your size you will get a rare bargain.

The Pure Food Question

Has attracted a great deal of attention during the past few years. Pure food inspectors at a good big salary are appointed, but we never hear of any attempt being made to compel the use of pure cooking utensils. No matter how pure the food may be, it will suffer by being cooked in a kettle that scales off, and is not acid proof.

"STRANSKY" STEELWARE

has four heavy coats of enamel—each coat burnt on separately—that is why it does not chip off in big flakes and get in your food. Just try one piece of "Stransky"—more good argument in that than in all our talk.

ARE THERE TOO MANY TREES?

Hay Fever Sufferer Propounds a Question for Plainfielders to Consider.

To the Editor of The Daily Press—I am going to make a query of your readers, and beg one or more of them to accept or refute my proposition. It is: "Is Plainfield (not North Plainfield) becoming less healthy on account of the excessive number and increasing size of trees?"

I say it is. The atmosphere in the region of the Crescent Avenue church is becoming spongy, so saturated is it with moisture. I have spoken with a number of people on this subject and all agree with me that were half of the trees cut down we would be much better off and mosquitoes fewer. Take for example the Public Library, so surrrounded by trees that you cannot see.

I cut down this year seven trees around my house, and find it both dryer and brighter.

In my short street, with only some ten or twelve houses, there are eight people suffering from hay fever. I am one of them. In New York I am free from trouble. When I come back to Plainfield the trouble returns.

Ventilate this matter for the general benefit and oblige

A Good Sneezer.

Local and Metropolitan Performances That Will Please Those Who Delight in the Art of Thespis and Mimic World

John W. Isham's Octoroons opened the season in the Stillman Music Hall last night. The performance was very satisfactory. It was one of the best ever given in Music Hall. It was a good clean show given by first-class talent. The comedians were very funny, the choruses were excellent and the specialties equal to the best. Isham's Octoroons will probably appear in Plainfield again later in the season. John Taylor, of this city, is a member of the chorus.

Manager Maze Edwards of Music Hall announces as his attraction for Tuesday, September 5th, the Boston Serenaders, a select organization of recognized lyric players, presenting the nautical farcical operetto, "Davy Jones." Fred Miller, Jr., who is probably better known as the composer of "Ship Ahoy," is the author of "Davy Jones" and in it has struck a peculiarly happy medium between light opera and the higher class of farce comedies, which made the piece exceedingly popular during its long and successful engagement in Boston. "Davy Jones" tells a mirthful and melodious tale of sailor love and adventures and it is replete with tuneful and catchy melodies that linger in the memory long after they are first heard. The players composing the Boston Serenaders have been especially selected for the parts they are to play in the new piece and include Charles Allinson, who will be remembered for his clever work with the Della Fox company; George Mack, last season with "My Friend From India;" Edward Eagleton, of the "El Capitan" Co.; Henry Gunson, of Daly's "Geisha" Co.; J. K. Adams, of DeKoven and Smith's "Three Dragoons," and under whose personal stage direction the productions of the Boston Serenaders will be made; Miss Anna Christensen, Miss Louise Quinten, Miss Pauline Train, Miss Madge Dunbar and a carefully selected ensemble of choral singers.

Miss Etta Krymer, of East Fifth street, has returned from her outing in Hunterdon county and various other places.

OUR YOUNG FOLKS

THE KLONDIKE ROAD

A Scotchman Tells How He Bought a Yukon Boat.

I was agreebly surprised next morning to find that I could purchase a boat from an inmate of one of the few tents that formed Linderman Camp. I was informed that it was in first-class condition, and just capable of accommodating us and our outfit. I was pleased to hear this, although I wondered why it had not been used earlier, and was prepared to find some serious defect in it; so I delayed asking the price until I had seen what sort of craft it was. I examined it carefully, it looked all right. We shoved it into the water, it floated all right. "How much do you want for it?" "Ah, well, a month ago I could have got $200 but I'll let you have it for $150." "That's very good of you, but suppose we say $100 and call it square." After some haggling I got it for the $100 and towed it along to our camp, meaning to load immediately. Neither Mac nor Stewart had ever seen such a boat, and it did not find much favor in their eyes.

We laid some branches on the floor of the boat, so that we might bale out any leakage that appeared before it had time to damage the bottom sacks, and then we carefully trimmed her to our satisfaction. When fully loaded I could see nothing to find fault with. She had lots of freeboard, but looked rather cranky. We all wore boots reaching to the thighs, and we started to push our boat out to deep water. Then I carefully climbed to my perch astern, where I intended to steer with a huge broad-bladed Indian paddle I had for that purpose. We all, including Dave, had got into our positions among the sacks, and Mac and Stewart were each ready with their oars, when, without any warning, our boat tipped over the water's edge and emptied us into the water. It then righted itself quickly, and when we had extricated ourselves from the muddy shallow, we found our boat floating beside us, the very picture of innocence. Dave had swum for the shore, and was now barking loudly, evidently thinking that the whole performance had been for his edification.

We gathered around the boat and hastily beached her to examine the damage done. She had not shipped much water, and as all the sacks of flour had been tied down, nothing had suffered injury. I saw there was nothing for it but re-erect the tent and get a change of clothing from our store, as the icicles were already beginning to form on our chins. By the time we had the tent fixed and the stove in working order, and a change of clothing effected, I realized that we could not make a start that day.

I was anxious to know why we had been so unceremoniously pitched out, and we agreed that the rest of the day would be spent in overhauling our tricky boat and getting her into a more seaworthy condition. Having partaken of dinner—at least we called it a dinner, though all our meals were the same—we unloaded our boat, ran some pitch into the seams, placed some three cwt. of stones on her flat bottom and loaded up again. She was no longer cranky, and allowed us to take our places without mishap; but it was now late in the afternoon, and we had no desire for an evening cruise in unknown waters. We therefore tied her to a rock on shore and left her till next morning.—Alex. Macdonald, in "Blackwood."

There was a little Brownie
That lived down by the sea,
He was just as cute a Brownie
As ever he could be.

And early every morning
The Brownie went to swim,
And all the little minnows
Came swimming after him.

Yes, early every morning
Before the sun arose,
This Brownie went in swimming,
And put on his clothes.

And, looking to the Eastward,
Right gravely he would say:
"Now, dear old sun, you may arise,
Indeed, indeed, you may!"

And, sure enough, each morning,
When Brownie had his swim,
The sun obeyed his wishes
And rose and shone on him.

For, do you see, the Brownie
Couldn't let the sun arise
Until he was all washed and dressed,
And dried his hair and eyes!

Anecdote of Dewey.

A Washington correspondent relates the following story of Admiral Dewey, told by one of the sailors who had returned on the "Raleigh." Just before the battle of Manila, when the order was given to strip for action, the smallest powder-boy on the flagship dropped his coat overboard. He asked permission to jump after it, but was refused. He went to the other side of the ship, dropped overboard, recovered his coat, and was promptly arrested for disobedience. Admiral Dewey spoke kindly to the youngster, who broke down, and said that the coat contained his mother's picture, which he had just kissed, and he could not bear to see it lost. Dewey's eyes filled with tears; he fairly embraced the boy, and ordered him ti be released, saying: "Boys who love their mothers enough to risk their lives for her picture cannot be kept in irons on this fleet."

When Brother Fiddles.

When brother plays the violin,
Wee Tom begins to prance;
And to and fro, and in and out,
He leads us in the dance.
Now right foot back; now left foot out;
And now go down the middle.
A jolly dancing class we have
When brother plays the fiddle.

THE PIANO.

Its Proper Placing and Appropriate Decoration.

The piano is primarily intended as an instrument of music, but this fact seems often to be forgotten, to judge from the placing and general arrangement of it frequently seen. It is placed flat against the wall, smothered in draperies, loaded with books and bric-a-brac and treated as if it were a simple piece of furniture like a couch or cabinet. Of course only a small proportion of persons owning pianos can afford a separate music room, appropriately arranged, and so the piano must be placed in the drawing or sitting room, where cushions, curtains, carpets and furniture deaden its tone to a great degree. To make the best of it in an unfavorable situation is not difficult, however, first by placing it properly—that is, at an angle with the wall or away from it altogether—and then by using only a small amount of light drapery and never permitting any object to stand upon the top of the instrument. Moreover, there are small glass sockets which are to be obtained in which the feet of the piano may be placed, thus insulating it completely from the floor and securing a clearer tone.

Today's picture illustrates a loose traveling cloak of thin cloth. It is straight, with a slight curve under the arm and no seam in the middle of the back. The front is cut in deep points, the little pelerine being cut to match, and both being trimmed with stitching. Down each side of the front are large buttons and frogs, placed close together. The collar is flaring and is cut in points. The toque is of straw bordered with black velvet and trimmed with large roses.

JUDIC CHOLLET.

TRAVELING COAT.

THIN FABRICS.

The Various Ways In Which They Are Employed.

Plaited and tucked skirts are often used for the thinner class of materials. Sometimes the upper part of the skirt is entirely tucked, the lower part being left free to form a flounce; sometimes there are panels of tucks, or the tucks alternate with bands of flat trimming, such as insertion or embroidery. The tucks may be straight or oblique.

When wide insertion is used as a decoration, a new idea is to run a band of velvet ribbon in and out of each side of it.

A great many foulard gowns are seen. They are of light or bright color, with small but attractive designs, and rose and blue are favorite colors. Lace and very narrow black velvet ribbon are the usual trimming.

SILK WRAPPER.

Nearly all bodices now have a guimpe of mousseline de soie or taffeta, adorned with plaitings, incrustations or applications. If this arrangement is not adopted, the upper part is still lavishly decorated in some way, that being at present the decree of fashion.

A picture is given of a wrapper of pink surah. The upper part is trimmed with two bands of insertion, which are applied in V's and simulate a bolero. A deep flounce of surah reaches midway up the skirt and is bordered by a ruffle of lace and a band of insertion and headed by a band of insertion. The sleeves are trimmed to match the flounce. A frill of lace encircles the collar and forms coquilles down the front. A bow of pink ribbon is placed at the throat.

THE HOUSEHOLD

The Stock Soup Pot.

No house, however small it may be should be without a stock pot; it is the "save all" of an establishment. There is nothing in the shape of meat that is sweet and wholesome that may not go into the stock pot. For the benefit of the stock pot you should not allow any one to pick a bone. If you send a joint of cold meat into the kitchen for the servants' dinner never allow them to pick the bone, for the stock pot requires it, and will extract abundant nourishment from it. In trimming a joint of cold meat for the pot. Egg shells should go into the stock pot. Egg shells shoud go into the stock pot; they tend to clear the stock. Hard crusts of dry bread may be put in; they gather the scum, which should be taken off three of four times during the day. Ham, veal, beef, mutton, lamb, pork, bits of poultry, game, in fact, the bones or remains of any kind of meat should go into the stock pot. Cold carrots and parsnips or the remains of onion sauce or gravy, the outside stems of celery thoroughly cleaned and cut up, should go into the stock pot. In this you have the ground work of almost all kinds of gravies and soups. The stock pot should be made with a faucet. The top not being quite at the bottom allows room for sediment, and thus you can draw off the stock perfectly clear. It should be drawn off and thoroughly cleared out every twenty-four hours, when the bones and the like should be removed. The saving in a year by means of a stock pot is something enormous.

Sailor Collars.

(Collars for Boys and Girls.)

Set of six sailor collars for boys or girls. Can be made of white or colored material and trimmed with lace or embroidery.

Notes for the Housewife.

Kerosene oil will clean blackened silver almost instantly.

Stonemasons' swdust is better than soap for cleaning floors.

China closets should be scalded and freshened at least weekly, and a little borax water sprinkled on the shelves.

To clean iron sinks, rub them well with a cloth wet with kerosene oil, or clean the sink with potash and hot water.

To keep away roaches, take green cucumber parings and strew them around the kitchen tables and cupboards and see how quickly the roaches will disappear.

Air curtains, beat well and put in a cedar chest. If stained, use a little benzine applied with a cloth same color as material. Never use white cloth. Lace curtains should be washed before packing away. It is not good to keep the dust in them, but they should not be blued or starched.

A sure preventive for bedbugs is to thoroughly dust and whisk the bed in every crevice; then take 25 cent's worth of quick silver and the white of one egg and mix thoroughly. Take a small sized brush and paint every crevice and all long the sides of the bed. If this recipe is followed you will never see a bug.

If the moths have begun to eat your carpet, take the tacks out, turn it back one-half yard all round the room, wash the boards with a saturated solution of comphor, putting it on with a paint brush; then lay the carpet back in its proper place, put over it a towel wrung out of water camphor, and iron it thoroughly with a red-hot iron, so as to steam it through and through, and this will kill the insects and all their larvae.

Every hostess should learn to cut a water melon in the most approved manner. It is now quite out of date to serve the melon in round slices, and when it is cut in boat-like pieces and looks very appetizing it tastes better. In order to cut a watermelon in an artistic manner a person should practice by cuting one or two meals in advance of performing the "carving act" before one's guests. The first time the lady will perhaps have to chalk a few lines in a zigzag manner from left to right, commencing about three inches from the apex of the melon. When the melon falls apart the pieces are shaped like miniature canoes. Sometimes the melon is cut two hours before required. A small inner slice is removed and chopped ice placed therein.

How to Boil Cabbage.

Pick off all the dead outside leaves, cut the cabbage in half, cut off the stalk and wash thoroughly in cold water and then put in a colander; when drained put into plenty of fast boiling water with a heaped tablespoonful salt and a tiny piece of soda; keep the saucepan uncovered and let boil gently until the cabbage is quite tender; the instant it is done take up into a colander, place a plate over it, let it thoroughly drain and serve.

Marketing Hints.

Veal should be white, dry and close-grained.

Mutton should be deep red and close-grained.

Good poultry has firm flesh, yellow legs and skin.

Pork should be fine and close grained, with a smooth, thin rind.

Good beef is moderately fat and the flesh is bright red.

EPWORTH LEAGUE.

Topic For the Week Beginning Sept. 3, "Holding Up the Pastor's Hands"—Text, Ex. xvii, 1-13.

"When Moses held up his hand, Israel prevailed, and Aaron and Hur staid up his hands."

Amelek had attacked the poorly armed Israelites, and it seemed as if there could be no deliverance for the Hebrews. But while the armed men went out to repel the attack Moses went up on a hill, where he could oversee the fight and yet be isolated from the camp and in quiet pray to his God. In earnest entreaty he held up his hands and asked Jehovah for victory. While he prayed the Israelites gained, but his arms grew tired and as his hands hung down the enemy recovered the ground lost. Moses' two helpers took a stone, and, placing their master upon it, held his arms up, standing one on either side. Then the army of God's people succeeded in completely routing the enemy.

The helpers are essential to success at the present time. Moses may plan and pray and lead the people, but unless Aaron and Hur do their part there will be small chance of victory. In too many churches the great burden is left to rest on the pastor with little real help from those who should be his helpers.

In the visitation of the sick, the aged, strangers, those who do not attend services and those who are seeking God there is need of much assistance. In many places deaconesses are helping a great deal This is good as far as it goes, but does not answer all the requirements of the case. There is need that the members of the league and church show an interest in these and call upon them and give sympathy and aid. The pastor can do much, but he often finds people whom he cannot reach who could be readily influenced by some young man or woman.

Another way that the pastor can be most effectively helped is by regular attendance at prayer and class meetings. If it is a preaching service, he can manage very well by thorough preparation. No preparation on his part, however careful, can insure a live prayer meeting. The people must be present and take part interestedly to make it of any value. Hold up his hands here strongly.

In the matter of greeting strangers at church service he needs help. It is impossible for him to see and speak to every one. Notice the unfamiliar faces and give the visitor a cordial word of welcome, find out if he is a newcomer or only a transient visitor. Introduce him to the pastor and ask him to attend other services.

Do your own work and it will greatly relieve the overtaxed pastor and give new impetus to the work of the church and the cause of God.

The Thank Offering.

Great preparations are in progress for the celebration of the opening of the twentieth century. The industrial world will have its Paris exposition, intended to surpass all previous efforts of a similar kind.

The church is alert also and intends to mark the new era by a gift greater than ever before given. The Methodist church of all branches is planning a noble collection for the advance work of the kingdom. The Methodist Episcopal branch is raising the standard of revival first—"2,000,000 men." There should be a great wave of revival power sweep through the host, not for numbers, not for boasting, not as a memorial, but as the deepest need of the age. The perils of the times in business, the greed of gain, the frivolity and viciousness on every side, lax ideas of right, carelessness of purity, self indulgence, are all so prevalent we must get closer to God. Pray for revival in your own heart and life.

Then the cash offering of $20,000,000 will come easily. How much it is needed—old debts, new enterprises at home, in the foreign fields, schools, hospitals, homes. Let us consecrate ourselves wholly to God's service and then all our possessions dedicate to His work.

One of the greatest needs of the present time is efficient and competent leaders in the various departments of our work. The league should be of great value in supplying this lack. The decline of the class meeting is in great measure due to the lack of efficient leaders who could make it alive and keep it out of ruts. It is not so very difficult to find those who will lead prayer meeting occasionally, but it is very hard to get just the right ones at the head of the various departments who have knowledge, interest, tact and leadership. When you find a person fitted for president or any other position, don't change because the term has expired. Keep in office the persons best fitted for the work. Rotation in office may wreck all usefulness. Don't change for the sake of change.

Not what a man is able to do, but what he actually accomplishes, is the measure of his practical value in any sphere of action.

"An engine of one cat power running all the time is more effective than one of 40 horsepower standing idle."

Progression.

Time was I shrank from what was right,
From fear of what was wrong;
I would not brave the sacred fight
Because the foe was strong.

But now I cast that finer sense
And sorer shame aside;
Such dread of sin was indolence,
Such aim at heaven was pride.

So when my Saviour calls I rise
And calmly do my best,
Leaving to Him, with silent eyes
Of hope and fear, the rest.

I step, I mount where He has led.
Men count my failings o'er.
I know them, yet though self I dread,
I love His precepts more.

—John Henry Newman.

CHRISTIAN ENDEAVOR.

Topic For the Week Beginning Sept. 3—Comment by Rev. S. H. Doyle.

TOPIC—Holding up the pastor's hands. What can we do to help our pastor?—Ex. xvii, 1-13.

Every pastor needs the help of his people. His hands, like those of Moses, become weary and heavy and need to be held up by the Aarons and Hurs. Every pastor deserves the help of his people. Duty demands of them that they shall support him in all his labors. They have covenanted with God and with Him that they will hold up His hands. And the wonder is that, in the face of these solemn vows, so many can, often for the lightest reason, turn against their pastors, and, instead of helping them, hinder them in every conceivable way. Those who do so incur the condemnation of God, for He has said, "Touch not Mine anointed and do My prophets no harm." The first step in doing our duty toward our pastor is to realize that we owe it to God and to him to hold up his hands.

1. We can help our pastor by prayer. The elevation of Moses' hand with the rod in it was an appeal to God for aid and must have been accompanied by fervent prayer and have even symbolized prayer. When Aaron and Hur assisted Moses in holding up the rod, they joined with him in prayer. How many pastors would be blessed and helped in their arduous toil if constantly held up to God in prayer by their people! "You are always remembered in our family prayers," said a lady to her pastor, and he went from that home having received a benediction and an uplift.

2. We can help our pastor by speaking well and never ill of him. Aaron helped Moses here, but how he hindered him when, with Miriam, he spoke ill of him! What we say of our pastor has a greater influence upon his life work than we ever imagine. If people speak well of their pastor, they help them; if ill, they hinder and harass them. Commendation is better than criticism. Very often criticism of the pastor is thoughtless and meaningless, but it is no less injurious in its effects.

3. We can help our pastor by following his leadership. He is called and installed to lead us, and yet, wonderful to tell, in many cases he is no sooner settled than the people want to lead him rather than to be led by him. This is inconsistent, dishonorable. It is also un-Scriptural. The Bible demands of us that we shall obey those who have authority over us in spiritual things. It is also detrimental to the cause of Christ's church. Success demands leaders, and unless the leaders are followed confusion, disorder, disaster, are the inevitable result.

He had been her pastor for years. But in all those years she had never said a word of commendation or of appreciation to him, but now he was going to leave, and she came with many expressions of appreciation and regard. Well and good, but how much better if the helpful words had been spoken in the midst of the years of toil and labor. It was like placing flowers upon the grave of one to whom we had never spoken a kind word in life. Yet how many are like this Christian woman. A kind word is often like a soothing balm to the wearied heart of an earnest, hard working pastor.

Bible Readings.—I Kings xviii, 21, 22; I Chron. xvi, 21, 22; Ps. cv, 14, 15; I Cor. iii, 1-9; xvi, 15, 16; Eph. vi, 18-20; Phil. ii, 1, 2; I Thess. v, 12, 13, 25; I Tim. v, 17, 18; Heb. x, 24, 25; xiii, 7, 17, 18; Jas. i, 22; Rev. i, 16-20.

The Novel and the Pulpit.

We should think that a minister whose chief aim was to preach the gospel might be trusted to make use of whatever material would further that end. More and more the story appears to be the form of discourse which appeals to the multitude and which is often the vehicle of truths that would never otherwise be grasped. No man of sense would devote 50, or even 25, Sunday evenings during the year to sermons of this character, but an occasional sympathetic discussion of a story of the first order by a minister well versed in general literature and skillful in discerning its relations to life is as legitimate and may be as fruitful as expository or doctrinal or any other kind of preaching.—Congregationalist.

A Sunny Christian.

Faith is better than doubt, and confidence better than questioning. It is better to be a sunny Christian, rejoicing, songful, happy, than a sad, gloomy, despondent Christian. It makes one's own life sweeter and more beautiful. Then it makes others happier. A gloomy Christian casts dark shadows wherever he goes. A sunny Christian is a benediction to every life he touches. —Friendships of Jesus.

All Things New.

Having the mind of Christ, let the days find you bearing one another's burdens or filling the hours as they pass with a beautiful service, which shall be as gifts of gold, frankincense and myrrh laid again at the feet of Him who came to cover our sins with forgiveness and to make all things new.—I. Mench Chambers.

Born to Succeed.

Whatever your sex or position, life is a battle in which you are to show your pluck, and woe be to the coward. Despair and postponement are cowardice and defeat. Men are born to succeed, not to fail.—Thoreau.

Begin Thy Reign.

Come, Lord, and tarry not.
Bring the long looked for day.
Oh, why these years of waiting here,
These ages of delay?

Come, for Thy saints still wait;
Daily ascends the sigh;
The Spirit and the bride say come,
Dost Thou not hear their cry?

Come, and begin thy reign
Of everlasting peace;
Come, take the kingdom to Thyself,
Great King of righteousness.

One More Week of it.

We Refer to Our Clearing Sale.

It can't last much longer, because our summer goods won't hold out; nevertheless there are some of the best things left yet—in small quantities, of course. Lots have dwindled down to 5 and 6 suits of a style. We don't expect to see any of them here after Saturday night. Ask to see the following:

Our Fancy Business Suits at $3.00.
Our all-wool Cheviot Suits at $3.75.
Our Fancy Dress Worsteds, $5.00.

These are some of our best values and are worth looking after. We make all our Clothing.

REVENGE WENT ASKEW.

Jobson Planned It Out All Right, but Was Too Previous.

Mr. Jobson got home from his office at 4.15 one afternoon last week and found a note from Mrs. Jobson saying that she had gone to hear the performance of a long-haired pianist, and that he'd find his dinner all ready for the girl to serve it.

"That's a good thing, too," mused Mr. Jobson sulkily, when he had read the note. "It's a wonder these mattress-headed geniuses that come over here to this country and rake in American dollars, hating Americans all the time, wouldn't call their game at an hour that 'ud permit a toiling man's wife to be on hand at home to give him something to eat when he wants it," etc., etc.

The opportunity was too good for Mr. Jobson to miss, so he declined to eat any dinner when the servant put it on the table. Instead, he slammed on his hat and went down town. He wanted to give Mrs. Jobson a lesson. He ate an unsatisfactory dinner at a restaurant, and then poked around until it was time for a variety theatre to open its doors. He had to watch a lot of poorly played billiard games in order to put in this time, and to talk with a lot of bachelors from whose ways of thinking he had departed. He was bored exceedingly by theatre time. The show bored him still more. But he stuck it out, for he wanted to get home as late as possible, the better to rub it in on Mrs. Jobson. By 11 o'clock he reflected that he had had a pretty poor sort of an evening—his evening paper unread, his favorite pipe neglected for a lot of cigars that gave him heartburn, a poor dinner, idle talk with a slew of men that he didn't want to talk to, and, finally, a tawdry, cheap variety performance that might have got a laugh out of him ten years before, but was only so much ribaldry to him now. He took in a couple more billiard games, however, after the show, and threw a couple of cocktails into himself, not because he cared to drink, but because he wanted Mrs. Jobson to smell his breath and thus perceive the awful consequences of her conduct.

Mrs. Jobson was comfortably tucked in bed when Mr. Jobson got home about half an hour after midnight. She had not even left a light burning in the vestibule or in the bedroom. She woke up very leisurely when Mr. Jobson started one of the gas jets going. She didn't say anything, however. Mr. Jobson had expected to find her up, fully dressed and in tears. He was disappointed. He was more disappointed that she didn't greet him with repinings. Mr. Jobson saw

Many Matters of Importance Transacted by Council

TO BUILD TELEPHONE LINE.

IT WILL BE USED EXCLUSIVELY FOR SCHOOL PURPOSES.

It Has Transpired That in Building Operations B. W. Mills Has Encroached on Seventeen Feet of Borough Property—Purchase of New Bicycle For Marshal Was Approved.

The September meeting of the Borough Council was held last evening with all the members present except Councilman Rogers. After the reception of two communications, one from the Board of Education asking for the permission to locate poles and string wires for two telephones for the schools, and another from the members of Warren Engine Company inviting the Mayor and Council to be their guests at the firemen's parade to be held October 12th, the report of Collector George F. Brown was received as follows: Taxes and interest received, $449.41; special school, $30; Board of Health, $1.04; Watchung avenue assessment, $3,549.45; rent 31 Fairview avenue, $27.50; 10 Craig place, $20; 106 Duer street, $16; 70 Manning avenue, $10; bills payable, note, $1,000; total receipts, $5,192.12; disbursements, $3,766.53; cash on hand September 1st, $3,288.32.

The report of Clerk Rowley showed that $1.50 had been received from Recorder Long as fines, and $30 from Mayor Smalley as fines. The sale of stone netted $13.52, and licenses brought in $38 70. The total receipts were $88.77.

Mr. Clark, chairman, of the street committee, presented his report which showed an expenditure of $219.80 for labor on streets during August, and the use of 280 tons 920 pounds of crushed stone. The total expenditure during the month was $408.15, and there is a balance of $882.36 to the credit of the department. The macadamizing of Orchard place will cost the borough $173.50, and the property owners on that street have subscribed $115 toward it.

Mr. Clark made a statement regarding the action of the Council at the last meeting in appropriating so much money to make certain repairs to Brook avenue in accordance with a request from B. W. Mill. He said that all parties interested had investigated the matter and had learned that a map owned by the township was on file at Somerville, which was made in 1876, and showed that Mr. Mills had not followed the correct lines and had encroached upon seventeen feet of land owned by the borough. He then offered a resolution that the borough engineer make a proper survey according to the map, and make a report at the next meeting of the Council. The Council will then be able to ascertain who is in the right.

Resolutions were offered by Mr. Valiant to the effect that $1,500 be borrowed for four months, that a warrant be drawn to pay three certificates of $3,000 on account of Watchung avenue improvement, also a warrant to pay interest on the same, and that the Council deduct the amount of rent paid on the property located at 31 Fairview avenue which was bought in by the borough.

At this time there was a discussion regarding the petition from the Board of Education asking for permission to establish a telephone plant between the two schools. A resolution offered by Mr. Clark provided that the fire, water and lamp committee be authorized to grant the permission to erect the necessary two wires on the poles of the electric light company for the purpose of establishing a telephone service between the two schools, on the condition that it was to be used for school purposes only.

In connection with this Dr. Cooley, a member of the Board of Education, stated that it was not thought advisable to string wires on the electric light poles on account of the high voltage of electricity. He understood that according to the franchise granted the electric light company the Council reserved the right to string telephone wires on their poles.

Mayor Smalley was especially in favor of this method, as he does not care to have any more poles erected in the borough if it can be avoided.

Dr. Cooley stated that in this city the Board of Education pays $30 for each telephone in the public schools. The private line in the borough would cost $140 to construct and in two years it would pay for itself. He said that

NO WAY TO EVADE THE CEMETERY ASSESSMENT

Counsel Reed Says That the Money Must be Paid.

DISCUSSED IN THE COUNCIL.

MAYOR SMALLEY EXPRESSES HIS REGRET THAT SUCH IS THE CASE.

William Shotwell, Representing the First Presbyterian Church, Says That the Church Will Not Pay the Money—J. A. Haynes Said That the Trustees Had Been Misled by the Commissioners.

As was expected, the matter of selling the Presbyterian church cemetery on Chatham street by Collector George F. Brown, was brought up last evening at the regular meeting of the Borough Council. William H. Shotwell and Joseph A. Haynes, representing the church and cemetery association, were present to intercede in its behalf.

Mayor Smalley introduced the subject and stated that yesterday he had received an opinion from Borough Counsel Reed in which was clearly set forth the fact that the matter is now out of the hands of the Mayor and Council and that they have nothing to do with it, and are powerless to act either way. The Mayor said that he regretted the intended action, and if it were possible he would like to revoke the action and remit the amount assessed against the property, and place the $210 on the borough at large.

Mr. Clark also regretted the action, but thought it would be wise if those in charge should circulate a petition and let all contribute something toward raising the amount desired.

Mr. Valiant disagreed with the previously expressed opinions and thought that cemeteries as a rule were conducted for revenue to make money, and as he was without the necessary information to change his mind he thought the money should be paid as assessed.

W. H. Shotwell was then given the privilege of the floor and stated that there is no income from the cemetery. In 1839 the property was purchased by the First Presbyterian church. All the lots have been sold, the money being used to keep the property in repair, lay sidewalks and maintain the fence around it. Mr. Shotwell said that the public sympathy was on their side, but that does not pay the assessment. He said that the church would not pay it.

Joseph A. Haynes also made a remark. He said that when they first received notices to appear and make objection to the assessment they went to the Council rooms and met the comissioners. They were told to keep quiet and the amount of assessment would be taken off. They decided to do so, but now think that they were misled.

Mr. Swackhamer said that if the trustees of the cemetery had been informed that the amount would be taken off by the commissioners, they have good grounds to contest the payment of the $210.

Mr. Burtis wanted to know who said the amount would be taken off. Mr. Shotwell said he could give his autority, but did not care to at that time.

William N. Pangborn said that his property adjoins that of the cemetery, and he was assessed $300. His lot was a great deal smaller than the cemetery property, which was assessed $210. He understood that the latter assessment had been reduced a great deal. He thought there was inequality somewhere.

As Mayor Smalley thought further discussion useless he asked for an adjournment, and the meeting closed.

RODE TO THEIR HEARTS' CONTENT.

Children's Home Tots Guests of the Merry-Go-Round Man.

About fifty little ones from the Children's Home were given a jolly time Thursday afternoon. The proprietor of the merry-go-round, with commendable forethought, invited the children to be his guests on the occasion of an afternoon's outing. From 2 o'clock until 5 the juveniles were given free rides. It was a generous act on the part of the proprietor of this most popular of amusements among little folks. The children were accompanied by an attendant, who patiently waited until all her charges had enjoyed themselves to their hearts' delight. And what a time the little folks did have. Round and round they whirled for fully two hours, and it did not cost them one penny. The children wish, through The Press, to thank their benefactor for his generosity.

LITTLE TO HAPPEN HERE LABOR DAY.

Plainfield Will be Quiet on the Holiday.

MANY WILL LEAVE TOWN.

NUMEROUS EXCURSIONS ARE OFFERED TO PLAINFIELDERS.

For Those That Remain, Golf and Road Racing Are the Only Attractions Offered Here—Tournaments at Local Golf Clubs—German Fest to be Held—Many Other Means of Enjoyment.

There is not the host of attractions scheduled to take place in Plainfield Labor Day, which falls on Monday, as is often the case on a holiday. Consequently the day will be a quiet one here. Many are planning to take advantage of the several excursions and visit adjacent parts of the State.

There's the grocers' excursion to South Beach which leaves the Plainfield and Dunellen stations at 8 o'clock. Undoubtedly there will be a big attendance. Then the Jersey Central Railroad will run one of its popular excursions to Mauch Chunk and Glen Onoko, the train leaving the North Avenue station at 9:30 o'clock. The Lehigh Valley Railroad will run an excursion to the same place, the train leaving the South Plainfield station at 9:02 o'clock.

Boynton Beach has planned a great time for Labor Day with field games and races at 10:30 o'clock. Special stages will run there leaving Plainfield at 8 and 8:30 o'clock.

A big road race is scheduled to be held in this vicinity. It will be held on the county road, starting at Westfield and continuing to the city line. The distance will be fifteen miles.

The Gesang and Turnverein will hold its annual picnic or fest at Emery's Pleasure Garden, Scotch Plains. An elaborate time has been arranged.

Tournaments will be held on both of the local golf links. On the course of the Park Golf Club there will be a men's Labor Day handicap, eighteen holes, medal play, open to active and associate members. Play will begin at 2 o'clock. The Golf committee cup will be contested for on the links of the Hillside Tennis and Golf Club. It will be a men's handicap, eighteen holes, medal play, and open only to active and associate members.

There will be driving and wheeling and trolley riding for many who prefer to take their holiday in that fashion. Unless a storm happens along at that time the roads will be in good condition for driving or bicycling and the great variety of routes offer an almost inexhaustable source of pleasure for those who care for it.

The members of the Plainfield Camera Club and their friends will enjoy an outing at Stanley, on the Passiac, a little hamlet over the mountains where there is boating and fishing and any quantity of beautiful views to satisfy the amateur photographer.

RECEPTION FOR JERSEYMEN.

Camden Preparing to Entertain the Grand Army Posts of New Jersey.

When the visiting veterans from the different cities in New Jersey arrive at Camden Monday, they will find a reception awaiting them such as was never before accorded a military or civic gathering by the Camden citizens.

The reception committee are not leaving a stone unturned to make the stay of the boys in blue in Camden a memorable gala occasion. The general committee met last night and made their final arrangements.

How Somerville Views Reed.

Senator Reed has been spending a portion of this week at the county seat. The Senator's family are still at Belmar and he has spent considerable time along the coast during the summer. He looks very well and does not seem to be worrying as much about politics as the newspapers would have the public believe. Senator Reed would doubtless accept a renomination by the Republicans and his friends are urging him, but he says he does not want the nomination unless it is for the best interests of the party. —Somerville Unionist-Gazette.

Holiday Hours at Library.

The reading room and art gallery of the Public Library will be open during the usual holiday hours, 2 to 6 p. m., Labor Day. There will be no books given out that day.

Special Closing Announcement.

S. Scheur & Co. will close their store Monday, Labor Day, at noon. Closed all day Tuesday, Sept. 5th, on account of holiday. 9 1 2

BEES FOUGHT THE BOYS.

They Swarmed on a Fence Post and When Meddled With Resented With Stings.

There was a lively time yesterday in the vicinity of East Fifth and Sycamore streets, caused by a swarm of Italian bees that located on a fence post at that corner. The bees troubled no one until discovered by some boys who thought it would be fun to chase them out.

The bees kept everyone in the vicinity on the jump for awhile and among those who were attacked was Marion S. Ackerman, who was passing at the time. A bee stung him in the face and caused him much pain and inconvenience. Nearly every boy who was in the racket was stung, and is now sorry that he had anything to do with stirring them up.

Chief Grant was notified of the presence of the bees and he sent James Frisble to the scene. The latter made use of a quantity of sulphur and eventually drove the bees out of the neighborhood.

LIQUOR DEALERS ELECT.

John McVey Chosen President of the Local Association—Delegates Named.

All but two of the members of the Liquor Dealers' Association of Plainfield gathered at the annual meeting of the organization yesterday. The meeting was held in the parlors of McVey's Hotel on North avenue. The principal business transacted was the election of officers, as follows:

President, John H. McVey; vice-president, Joseph Blatz; secretary, Henry Haurand; treasurer, John Rafferty; delegate to State organization, Frank Linke.

It was announced that the annual outing of the liquor dealers of the State would be held at Bayonne next Thursday and the following were chosen to represent the local association at the affair: Frank Linke, Jos. Blatz, Jacob Blimm, Henry Haurand and John Rafferty.

No other important business was transacted.

WHERE IS COOK?

He Had Charge of Linke's Mountain Place and Has Mysteriously Disappeared.

Charles Cook, who has been in charge of Linke's Rest, at Smalleytown, has mysteriously disappeared and with him, it is alleged, part of the funds of the place. Linke's Rest is branch depot of Frank Linke's wholesale liquor establishment, on West Front street.

Mr. Linke does not anticipate any loss from the disappearance of his employe. Mrs. Cook still remains at Smalleytown and says that any shortage in the accounts will be paid.

Mrs. Linke went to the Rest yesterday and superintended a general cleaning up. While she was burning a quantity of papers, the soot in the chimney caught fire and spread to one of the beams to the second floor. The flames were extinguished before much damage was done.

TO DISCUSS THE TROLLEY.

Washingtonville Citizens Will Hold a Public Mass Meeting to Urge Extension to Their Place.

The general agitation at Washingtonville to secure the trolley line for that place has finally taken shape and a meeting has been called for Tuesday night to start active measures. The meeting will be held in the Washingtonville schoolhouse.

It is the intention to discuss the projected trolley line and the best means of getting it continued to Washingtonville. A committee will be appointed to act in unison with the Plainfield Board of Trade.

The residents of Washingtonville are unanimous in the desire to secure better means of transit for the place and every effort possible will be made to bring the lines of the Plainfield Street Railway Company into the valley.

Quoit Match Was Exciting.

Columbia Lodge, No. 58, A.O.U.W., held a largely attended meeting last night. A number of workmen from Mt. Bethel availed themselves of a pleasant evening and were in attendance. The quoit match proved an exciting contest. It was won by Henry Nischwitz, who was awarded a box of cigars. Before the lodge closed one candidate was initiated.

Closing of Westfield Fresh-Air Camp.

A report has been circulated that the Westfield Fresh-Air Camp will close today, which is an error. It will close on Monday next, Labor Day. Closing exercises will be held tomorrow afternoon at 4 o'clock, at which time a choir from the Park Avenue Baptist church will have charge of the music.

Webb King, of Brooklyn, is visiting his son, D. W. King, of the borough.

ANOTHER CANDIDATE FOR COUNTY CLERK

Charles Halsey, of Elizabeth, in Line for Nomination.

CLAIMS ELIZABETH VOTES.

HIS NOMINATION IS SAID TO BE OPPOSED BY SENATOR KEAN.

Squier and Howard Are Still After It—Houston is Fighting for Promised Shrievalty Nomination—Elizabethan Says Plainfield's Best Show is for County Clerk—Should Have a "Dark Horse."

Rumors concerning the plans of the G. O. P. in Union county are so wildly entangled that it is next to impossible to tell what is going to happen in the approaching campaign. There's really only one thing that can be asserted with any confidence and that is that the county is likely to see a lively scramble for the nominations. Who the nominees are to be it is simply impossible to tell. Every day brings forth fresh rumors from the different parts of the county which affect some part of the ticket.

The latest happening in the political arena is the rapid growth of a boom that has for its object the nomination of Charles Halsey, of Elizabeth, as County Clerk. Halsey has come out in direct opposition to Squire and Howard and, rumor has it, is gathering fresh strength every day.

An Elizabeth politician of prominence says that Halsey can secure a majority of the delegates from the city of Elizabeth in the contest with Squire. Halsey is employed in the Elizabeth Bank which is controlled by Senator Kean. Rumor has it that Kean told his employe that he had better not run, but that Halsey refused to withdraw and that the Senator then threatened to throw Halsey out of his position in the bank. If he did that, said an Elizabeth man, Halsey will win sure and it would hurt Kean.

Meanwhile Elizabeth is giving voice to all sorts of stories concerning the various candidates. One authority has it that Squire and Houston have combined and are going in to win and will thus crowd Cross off the ticket. One story says that Plainfield doesn't want any nomination this year and that Elizabeth can have County Clerk, Sheriff and Senator.

It is difficult to tell just how the various candidates stand. If promises are kept, Robert Houston will be nominated for Sheriff. But it is quite likely that they will not be kept, and B. Frank Coriell, of this city, has a fighting chance for the office. Over the County Clerkship nomination there will be a hot fight. George Squier and Clerk Howard are generally supposed to be the strongest. Halsey may win out from both of them, however. An Elizabeth man says that the fight between that trio is going to give Plainfield a splendid opportunity to put up a "dark horse" who can be selected as a compromise candidate at the last moment.

Senator Cross is certainly entitled to renomination according to the understanding on which he was first nominated, but there appears to be opposition to him right in his own city. Who would be the choice if he withdrew, it is hard to say as no Senatorial booms with the exception of that of J. Martin Roll have been sprung as yet. Roll's boom is not a very powerful one, and there is little chance of his name appearing in that capacity on the ticket.

LABOR DAY EXCURSION.

Preparations Completed for Grocers Outing to South Beach Monday.

The committee which went to South Beach to arrange for the Grocers' excursion Monday and engage a shore dinner for the committee, reports a great improvement in the place. Their is a pier a thousand feet long which is free for fishing. The committee has secured a place out of the sun for the benefit of those who will carry their own dinners where they can have chairs and tables free of cost. Tea and coffee can be purchased there.

For those who prefer it, a shore dinner consisting of clam chowder, roast clams, blue fish, lobster, corn and sweet potatoes, all you want, can be engaged for $1 by applying to George W. Rockfellow on the first section which leaves Plainfield at 8 o'clock or to Fred W. Dunn on the second section which leaves Dunellen at 8 o'clock. Application must be made on the train before it reaches South Beach.

The ride from Plainfield is one of an hour and a half and is new to most Plainfielders. The price for the excursion is 75 cents.

LAST TROLLEY LINK WELDED BY ROSELLE.

After an All-Night Session Ordinance is Passed.

IT IS TO RUN FOR 99 YEARS.

EXCELLENT TERMS SECURED FROM RAILWAY COMPANY.

It Gives the Company a Clear Way From This City to the City Limits of Elizabeth—After Ten Years Company Must Pay Five Per Cent. of the Gross Earnings to the Borough.

(Special to The Daily Press.)

Roselle, Sept. 2—After months of consideration it required an all-night session of the Borough Council of Roselle last night to finally pass the ordinance granting a franchise to the Elizabeth and Westfield Street Railway Company through that town to complete the last link in the line from Plainfield to Elizabeth.

An executive session of members of the Council, together with Chandler W. Riker, of Newark, president of the road, and H. C. VanEmburgh, of Plainfield, took up the time till midnight, and after that the ordinance was taken up, read and passed upon section by section, the work not being finished till the early hours of the morning.

The route provided for through Roselle is as follows: Starting at South avenue at the Cranford borough limits it will pass over this street to within 100 feet of the Roselle Club stables, thence over a private right of way to Second avenue, which is to be widened from sixty to eighty-one feet, to a street to be known as Sheridan avenue, thence over Third avenue to the city line of Elizabeth, where it is expected connections will be made with the New Jersey Traction Company.

The franchise is granted for ninety-nine years, beginning January 1st, 1900. The road must be in operation by April 1st, 1900. The expense of widening South avenue will fall upon the company, it being estimated at $15,000. In consideration of the granting of the franchise the compensation to the borough will be $100 per mile of street railway in the borough for the first five years. For the second five years the company will pay the borough three per cent. of the gross earnings, or not less than $250 per mile of track per year. After ten years the company agrees to pay ten per cent. of the gross earnings to the borough.

The company is placed under $20,000 bonds to perform their contract faithfully.

CAN'T ASSIGN THEIR WAGES.

New Rule That Goes Into Effect on the Central.

An order was issued yesterday by Superintendent J. H. Olhausen, of the Jersey Central Railroad, forbidding employees to assign their wages. The reason given for the order is that it causes trouble for the law department. All employes of the road were notified yesterday that C. P. Adams would assume the office of superintendent of telegraph on the entire system today.

To Have Charge of Music.

A party of young people from the Christian Endeavor Society of the Park Avenue Baptist church will have charge of the music at the Westfield Fresh-Air Camp tomorrow, which will be the last Sunday at the camp. A party of Plainfielders, including Mrs. Demaris, Mrs. Charles Conover, Mrs. M. C. Dobbins, Miss Mable Van-Middlesworth, Miss Angleman, Mrs. Amos Gray, Mrs. Edward Mosher and Miss Amanda Carman, visited the Westfield Fresh-Air Camp yesterday afternoon. The majority made the trip on their wheels.

Reunion After Twenty Years.

Mrs. Grace Bowser, of East Third street, who has not seen her parents for over twenty years, left this morning for Hedgesville, Berkeley county, W. Va., where she will visit them for a time. Her daughter, Miss Addie Truman, has just returned from a visit in New York, and will keep house for her mother during her absence.

Death of a Summit Woman.

Word has been received in this city telling of the death of Mrs. Elmer W. Compton, of Summit. Her husband is a brother of Epraim Compton, of this city, and she was well-known in this city. The funeral services were held today from the late home.

Jewish Holidays.

Next Tuesday will be the Jewish holiday New Year's and the day will be properly observed by the Jews of this city. The celebration will commence Monday evening and continue through to Wednesday.

NEARLY KILLED AT THE MERRY-GO-ROUND.

Engineer's Blouse Caught in Fast Revolving Machinery.

TAKEN TO THE HOSPITAL.

JAMES SMITH, OF NEWARK, THE UNFORTUNATE VICTIM.

Bone Broken, Gashes and Bruises and Six Teeth Knocked Out—In a Serious Condition, But Physicians Hope to Save His Life—Was Visited at the Hospital by His Uncle this Morning.

James Smith, of 82 Chambers street, Newark, lies at Muhlenberg Hospital in a serious condition, and if he survives it will be a miracle. Smith is sixteen years of age, and is the engineer for the merry-go-round now located on Chatham street. About 9 o'clock last evening he was standing close to the gas engine which runs the affair, and in reaching over the cable and flywheel to adjust some part of the machinery, his blouse caught in the flywheel, and before he could save himself was dragged into the revolving wheel. He made one trip over the cable, when his weight and size stopped the machinery. The proprietor quickly learning the trouble, hastened to assist Smith, and finally he was taken from the machinery in an unconscious condition.

The ambulance was sent for and he was removed to the hospital, where an examination of his injuries was made. He had a compound fracture of the right arm, which was also crushed badly, and had a deep gash in his side. He also sustained a deep cut in the chin and one on the upper lip and there was a bad laceration on his head. There was other bruises about the body, all of which made the suffering more intense.

Proper treatment was given to Smith and the physicians do not believe that he will die. He is doing well today and unless other complications arise he is in a fair way to recover in time. Word was sent to his father in Newark, but owing to illness he could not come. The injured man's uncle came in his place and saw the young man this morning.

DAMAGING INSINUATIONS

Made Against Nominated Member of Election Board By City Republican Committee.

Yesterday the Union county board of election met at the court house for the purpose of naming local election officers for the different wards and townships.

The board was presided over by its president, P. J. Ryan. The only member absent was William C. Carr, of Elizabeth, who is at present enjoying a vacation.

The lists of names which the board is asked to appoint were presented and read. Owing to the list being far from complete a request was made that for the present the names be not made public.

A protest was received from the city Republican committee of Plainfield, objecting to the appointment of one of Plainfield's citizens, against whom certain damaging insinuations have been made. The man will be summoned before the board and be given an opportunity of being heard.

THE TOWN OF DEWEY NOW.

Boomer Drake Proposes to Establish a Settlement in Honor of Manila Hero.

Silas Dewey Drake, who founded the town of Lincoln, the fame of which has spread throughout the United States by reason of women being granted the privilege of voting and holding municipal office, has purchased 100 acres of land, just west of the limits of Dunellen, on which he proposes establishing another town and naming it Dewey.

Last winter Drake received a letter from Admiral Dewey at Manila, in which the latter approved of Drake's purpose of making his middle letter stand for Dewey, and ever since then the real estate man has said that he would honor the hero of the Philippines by founding a town in honor of him.

Today Mr. Drake wrote a letter to Admiral Dewey requesting him to be present at the dedication of Dewey next spring. He feels confident of receiving a favorable reply.

COUNSEL IS DISHEARTENED

Labori Much Downcast Over the Dreyfus Court-Martial at Rennes.

SAYS COURT IS HOSTILE.

Evidence That Treasonable Acts Continued After the Accused Was Sent to Prison.

Witnesses Testify in His Favor But Colonel Jouaust Appears Hostile to the Evidence—Dreyfus Followed By Spies—Another Day Strain for the Prisoner.

Rennes, Sept. 2.—It was a haggard face which Capt. Dreyfus brought into the court. He has passed the flood-tide of his courage. It is ebbing fast now, and all the efforts of his tremendous will cannot hide the unstrung nerves which days of agony and nights of sleeplessness have brought him.

So long as he was buoyed up by hope he was able to face his accusers with a confident mien. After Labori returned to court and turned the tide of evidence in Dreyfus's favor, shaking the judges in their unfair attitude and confounding the witnesses for the prosecution by his keen and telling cross examinations, the prisoner, even, became confident, and he showed it in a thousand ways.

He lost his irritation, became good humored, witty, and made a most favorable impression. Day after day the evidence piled up in his favor. Men who had been against him in the previous trials testified that they had had a change of mind, and asserted a belief in his innocence.

But the judges changed not their attitude. Every now and then some incident betrayed their antagonistic attitude, and they proved anew the truth of the proverb that none are so blind as those who will not see.

Dreyfus saw the bent of his judges' minds and lost heart. Little wonder that he broke down in court; little wonder that he collapsed completely after he was taken back to prison. The collapse had been predicted for some days by the members of his family; only they had the grace of hope that it would not come until after the verdict had been rendered.

There was a pitiful scene in the prison when Mme. Dreyfus called. Both were in despair. The courageous woman could no longer cloak the fact that she had given up hope; and they wept in each other's arms and called on the good God to spare their children, speaking of them as one speaks of orphans.

When the court-martial was resumed Major Dubreuil told a story of Dreyfus meeting a German attache at the house of one Bodson. M. Labori in his cross ex-amination, so impeached the character of this witness that he went forth seeking documents to prove that he was an honorable man, and these documents he was permitted to introduce in evidence. They sounded much more like the testimonials of good character which are produced in American courts when some hoary old swindler of a bank president or cashier gets found out and is brought to trial.

A witness named Germain then deposed to seeing Dreyfus at the German maneuvres in Alsace. Col. Jouaust, President of the Court, questioned Dreyfus upon this testimony. The general effect of the testimony was rather unfavorable to Dreyfus.

Lieut. Bernheim, a man of a strong Jewish type, testified that Esterhazy asked him in 1894 to lend him his manual. The witness refused to do this, but did lend Esterhazy other documents which were never returned to him.

Lieut. Bruyere, a retired officer, deposed that he assisted at the artillery practice at Chaons in 1894, witnessing the work of the "120" cannon. Afterward, in going through the artillery park to examine a piece, he might have sketched the cannon. There was no precaution taken to prevent this. On may 12, a group of infantry officers witnessed the cannon operating, the artillerymen being ordered to give them information. On May 17 the same thing occurred. The witness declared that the shooting manual was not considered confidential in 1894, as the witness bought a copy from the regimental press of the 29th Artillery for 20 centimes. Privates of the 10th Regiment of artillery possessed copies of this book, proof of which the witness had procured. Essential extracts from the work were published in Paris in 1894.

Capt. Carvalho testified that most of the information enumerated in the bordereau was available to anybody in 1894. Capt. Le Rond contradicted this statement.

M. Labori read a letter received from Secret Service Agent Corninges, saying that he copied in the house of a foreign spy, in 1896, the firing manual of 1895, showing that there were still traitors in the War Office after Dreyfus was condemned. M. Labori asked the court to summons M. Corninges.

Gen. Sepert repeated his testimony before the Court of Cassation, in which he argued that the bordereau was not the work of an artillery officer and the handwriting not Dreyfus's.

Major Hartmann affirmed that Germany knew about the "120" cannon named in the bordereau four years earlier. It was delivered to that power by a civil employe in the artillery bureau.

Commandant Ducros repeated his testimony before the Court of Cassation. He said he had offered Dreyfus important information in 1887 and 1893, which would have been most valuable to him if he had been a spy, but Dreyfus did not take the trouble to come and get it. Dreyfus told the witness in 1894 that he was translating Wille's German work on cannon of the future. He gave the witness the proofs of the work, but did not try to obtain secret information from the witness's department.

The tenor of Hartmann's evidence shows that it was improbable if not impossible for Dreyfus to have all the pieces enumerated in the bordereau.

POLITICS IN WEST VIRGINIA.

A Lively War in the Camp of Atkinson and Elkins.

Wheeling, W. Va., Sept. 2.—The semi-official announcement that Gen. George W. Curtin, of Sutton, will be the Republican nominee for Governor of West Virginia, to the exclusion of Internal Revenue Collector A. B. White, Senator Stephen B. Elkins' gubernatorial candidate, is causing surprise and a more thorough realization of the power of Gov. G. W. Atkinson, the original Curtin man. Atkinson and Elkins are at war and in order to beat the Senator when he should come up for renomination two years hence the Governor started a boom for Curtin, intending to force him to the United States Senate through the gubernatorial chair. Collector White is showing an inclination to withdraw in favor of Gen. Curtin. Both men are fast friends and as a result of Curtin's boom Elkins' leaders are attempting conciliatory measures.

Another big fight that is stirring West Virginia politics is the struggle for State Auditorship. Auditor L. M. LaFollette is a candidate for a second term. He fights the field. Other candidates are James K. Hall, the Republican leader of Wheeling, Charles H. Henning, also of this city and half a dozen men of less prominence. As the office is the best-paying political job in the state there is a lively scramble for it.

Granted an Injunction.

Charleston, W. Va., Sept. 2.—An injunction has been granted by Judge Jackson, of the United States Court, restraining the Milbourne Wagon Company from interfering with bankruptcy proceedings brought in the District Court here by A. E. White, formerly proprietor of the Old Sweet Springs. Mr. White filed a petition in voluntary bankruptcy. The Milbourne Wagon Company pressed a claim for $1,000 in alleged violation of the bankruptcy proceedings.

Five Bathers Drowned.

Bridgeport, Conn., Sept. 2.—Five persons lost their lives by drowning at Black Rock beach off "St. Mary's-by-the-Sea," an Episcopal chapel. All were bathing and fell into a hole beyond their depth while walking hand-in-hand. Several others were rescued. The dead are: Elijah Middlebrook, forty-six years old; Miss Mary Middlebrook, fourteen, his daughter; Ethel A. Hitt, eleven; Florence Hitt, fourteen and Tony Koehler.

Jockey Sent to Jail.

Anderson, Ind., Sept. 2.—Chas. Fear, a jockey, is in jail in this city charged by Robert Light, of Indianapolis, with stealing his fast pacer, Jack Pointer, whih he mounted at the Elwood Fair races last week. After the fair was over the jockey and horse both disappeared. They were located south of this city in the vicinity of Fortville, and both were taken in charge. Fear says he was driving the animal home.

They Beat Mayor Jones.

Toledo, Sept. 2.—The Shore Line and Manufacturers' railroads has scored on Mayor Jones, who has been opposing the giving of a franchise to them, by laying their tracks into the city and running an engine over them. With one hundred men, the road was laid over the disputed four blocks and an engine was run over it, thus preventing any injunction proceedings.

From Saloon Keeper to Count.

Chicago, Sept. 2.—Joseph Rogovitch, until Friday a saloon keeper at 8932 Strand, has left for Europe to take the title of Count and possession of large estates in Hungary, which fell to him at the death of his father, Count Ferdinand Rogovitch. When Rogovitch received news of the death of his father he sold out his saloon and bought a ticket for Bremen.

To Examine the Cycad Beds.

Laramie, Wyo., Sept. 2.—Dr. Lester F. Ward, chief of the Bureau of Paleobotany at Washington, arrived here, accompanied by Prof. Knight. He will proceed to Medicine Bow and will there take stage for a twenty-five-mile trip into the interior. He will examine the beds of cycads recently opened by assistants in his department.

Indiana Miners Strike.

Brazil, Ind., Sept. 2.—The 300 miners in the Diamond mine of the Keeler company have gone on a strike. They say that the company would not allow them to use powder purchased of any store other than that of the company. The miners contended that they save 50 cents on each keg of powder by buying it elsewhere.

Turfman's Will Contested.

Lexington, Ky., Sept. 2.—Suit to set aside the will of the late Lawson G. Webster has been filed by certain of his heirs. Lawson Webster was a famous turfman and at his death, about a month ago, willed his estate of about $40,000 to his son.

Hotel Sold for $300,000.

Atlantic City, N. J., Sept. 2.—The Waldarf-Astoria Hotel, at the ocean end of Ocean avenue, has been sold for $300,000 to Colonel Thomas H. Green, the veteran hotel keeper, who will take possession as soon as the deed of transfer can be made out.

Body Fell from Cowcatcher.

Newark, N. J., Sept. 2.—Employes of the Lehigh Valley Railroad picked up a portion of a man's body running from the nose down to the waist. It fell from the cowcatcher of a passenger engine while the train was passing Frelinghuysen avenue.

Put Poison in the Pie.

Columbia, S. C., Sept. 2.—William D. Strait, a relative of ex-Congressman T. J. Strait, is under arrest on a charge of attempting to poison Mrs. Mollie A. Kidd, his mother-in-law, and her family by putting strychnine in corn pie.

Terry for Rear Admiral.

San Francisco, Cal., Sept. 2.—Capt. C. F. Geodrich, of the cruiser Newark, has been detached from that command, and assumed command of the battleship Iowa, relieving Capt. Terry, who is ordered home on waiting orders.

To the Sick.

Indisputable Facts.

Disease, fermentation and decay are caused by microbes and germ life; when these organic pests are destroyed there can be no sickness.

Antiseptics are so called because they destroy microbes; surgeons always use antiseptics in performing dangerous operations.

Carbolic acid is a common antiseptic, but is poisonous if taken into the system strong enough to destroy the germs of disease.

Radam's Microbe Killer, composed of GASES, is an antiseptic, perfectly harmless to the human body, but doubly powerful in destroying disease if faithfully applied. Physicians frequently use Microbe Killer in treating Cancers, and recommend it for Catarrh, Tuberculosis, etc.; others know it to be invaluable in Bright's Disease and Bladder Troubles.

Fermentation of food in the stomach causes Dyspepsia, Sourness, etc.; Radam's Microbe Killer destroys the CAUSE and sweetens the stomach.

Impoverished blood is the home of germ life; when pure it is the fountain of life, the source of all health and vigor.

Radam's Microbe Killer is the only rational remedy for all diseases; its antiseptic power eradicates every disease from the human body.

These facts are incontrovertible, and we invite the fullest investigation by all interested people, professional or otherwise.

Strict Measures Adopted to Prevent Further Spread of Yellow Fever.

TO REMOVE GARRISON.

Adjutant-General Corbin Orders the Soldiers to be Taken at Once to Fort McPherson.

News From the Fever Stricken District Partially Suppressed—State Board of Health Declares a Strict Quarantine — Richards' Case Before State Department.

Washington, Sept. 2.—About two months ago John B. Richards, an American citizen, was summarily expelled from Guatemala. He appealed to W. Godfrew Hunter, United States Minister at Guatemala City, against such arbitrary action. Mr. Hunter replied by telegram that the authorities asserted that they were in possession of abundant proof to justify their order.

Upon the arrival of Mr. Richards in the United States he came directly to Washington and laid his complaint before the Secretary of State, who directed that a copy be forwarded to Mr. Hunter for full investigation and report. The Department of State has just received Mr. Hunter's despatch giving the result of his investigation. The statements furnished are affidavits by persons mainly in the employ of the Guatemalean Government.

Mr. Richards, who is at present in Washington, has filed a strong counter-statement with the Secretary of State, in view of which Mr. Hunter has been directed to visit Zacapa personally and to make a full and complete investigation in order that the Department of State may definitely determine its future course in regard to Mr. Richards' complaint.

The merits of his case cannot be determined until the Department of State is in possession of such report not an ex parte one. While the Government of the United States does not question the authority of a foreign Government to expel from its shores undesirable or dangerous persons—since this authority is the international right of every government—yet the arbitrary use of such power may sometimes do incalculable harm and work an undeserved injury.

Reports Are Confirmed.

Washington, Sept. 2.—Surgeon-General Sternberg has received a telegram from Acting Assistant Surgeon Eve, at Key West, Florida, confirming the reports of an outbreak of yellow fever at that place. Surgeon Eve reports that there are four cases of the disease.

Gen. Sternberg recommended the removal of the garrison at Key West.

Orders have been issued directing the removal of the garrison to Fort McPherson, Ga. The garrison consists of Batteries B and N of the 1st Artillery. The following telegram was sent to the commanding general of the department of the Gulf:

"Adjutant-General's Office.
Washington, Sept. 2

"Commanding General, Department of Gulf, Alanta, Ga.

"Reference to your telegram concerning yellow fever at Key West, Secretary of War directs removal of garrison at that point to such point as you may deem best. Major-General commanding suggests Fort McPherson, on account of the ample quarters at that post. Acknowledge receipt. Report action.

"By command Major-General Miles.
"H. C. Corbin, Adjt.-Gen."

News is Suppressed.

Jacksonville, Fla., Sept. 2.—News from Key West as to the yellow fever outbreak is meagre thus far and seems to be partially suppressed. The State Board of Health has received word from its agent there, but few details are given.

There have been two deaths, Dennis Eagan, Jr., and a young man of the name of Coffman. Eagan is the son of the Postmaster of this city. The reports state that the fever is supposed to have come from Havana in some clothing brought over by cigar makers. There are four or five cases under guard, with several suspicious ones under surveillance.

The State Board has declared a strict quarantine on Key West and will watch the fever closely. No alarm is felt in this city, as it is thought that the State Board, under Dr. Porter's watchfulness, can hold the fever in Key West and protect the rest of the state effectually.

New Navy Recruiting Station.

Washington, Sept. 2.—The Navy Department has taken steps for the opening of a naval recruiting station at Buffalo, N. Y., and Lieut. R. M. Russell has been ordered to that duty. The department has been encouraged to take this action by the success attending the efforts of Commander Hawley in his western recruiting tour last summer.

Purchased Oil and Mineral Rights.

Middlesboro, Ky., Sept. 2.—The Welch-Hackley Coal and Iron Company has purchased in Knox County the coal, oil and mineral rights of a tract of land containing 17,987 acres, which is known as the old John Lewis grant from the State of Virginia. The land was purchased from the heirs.

Sailors Indulge in Fierce Fight.

Southampton, Sept. 2.—A fight occured among the firemen of the American line steamer New York. Five of the men are confined in the hospital and one of them is not expected to live. The police quelled the riot and are now seeking the ringleaders.

River Steamboat Sunk.

Amsterdam, Sept. 2.—In a collision between two river steamboats on the North Sea Canal one of the vessels sank and nine persons, including two women, were drowned.

CAR MEN MAY STRIKE.

Visitors to Philadelphia Likely to Have to Walk.

Philadelphia, Sept. 2.—There is a probability of a general strike of street car men here next week which may tie up the cars during the Grand Army encampment. Meetings have been held within the past few weeks at which the men have strengthened their organization. They say that they will demand $2 for a ten-hour day, and a re-arrangement of the runs. The men now receive $2 for a certain number of runs.

The men have concluded to make a demand and to run their cars into the barns on Sunday night and leave them there on Monday morning if their demands are not acceded to.

There will be probably three hundred thousand strangers in the city next week and during the following week when the National Export Exposition will open. The buildings are away from the centre of the city and extremely difficult of access except by the lines of the traction company.

President John B. Parsons of the Union Traction Company has made repeated denials that the employes were organizing and that a strike was probable, but for two weeks past every other car has had a learner upon it. These men, it is said, have been taken into the Union as fast as they were employed, and leaders of the men say that over 85 per cent. of the conductors and motormen are enrolled and that 50 per cent. of the remainder have agreed to join the strike.

There will be a secret meeting at which the demand to be made upon the company will be reviewed. It will be attended by three delegates from each car barn.

Five Killed in Boiler Explosion.

Pittsburg, Pa., Sept. 2.—A boiler explosion at the Republic Iron Works, on South Twenty-fourth street, killed five men and seriously injured seven others. A fire which broke out following the explosion added to the horrors. The mill was partly wrecked and the entire plant was compelled to close down. The list of killed is: David Matthews, Thomas Beavens; William Thomas; J. Warminski and an unknown man, who was smashed almost beyond recognition.

When the boiler burst a section of it weighing four tons was blown through the roof and crashed into the side of the house of Gregory Sanders, on Wright's Alley, about 200 yards distant. The building, which was of frame, was wrecked but the occupants escaped with a bad fright.

Britons Leaving Transvaal.

Cape Town, Sept. 2.—Reports received here from various outlying districts of the Transvaal describe them as being in a state of excitement. The Burghers, it is said, are watching the developments keenly, but the majority of them hope for a peaceful solution of the crisis. There is a general exodus of British subjects from the large towns. Orders have been issued to the commandants and field cornets to have themselves and the Burghers in readiness in the event of an outbreak of hostilities.

Cruiser Newark Injured.

San Francisco, Sept. 2.—The cruiser Newark met with a mishap as she was coming into port, the news of which has just leaked out. When off Angel Island one of the piston rods of the port engine broke in two and the piston smashed through the cyclinder head. The engine was stopped as soon as possible and the cruiser proceeded up the bay on her other engine. The repairs, probably, are to be made at Mare Island.

Cramp's Men Strike.

Philadelphia, Sept. 2.—Of the 600 machinists employed in the Cramps' shipyard about 150 walked out on strike. This action was in accordance with a resolution passed at a meeting threatening a strike unless the president of the company, Charles H. Cramp, conferred with the local representatives of the international association of machinists, which he refused to do.

Need American Protection.

Chicago, Sept. 2.—A special to the "Times-Herald" from Washington, D. C., says: "Gen. Fitzhugh Lee has made an elaborate report on prevailing conditions in the territory in Cuba under his jurisdiction, and takes strong grounds for an independent government for the Cubans under an American protectorate.

A Corner in Camphor.

Vancouver, B. C., Sept. 2.—News comes from Formosa that the Japanese Government intends, after the monopoly system comes into force, to hold all camphor made in the island for six months or so without making any sales, and then fix the price according to the demand for the drug in foreign countries.

To Succeed Leonard.

New York, Sept. 2.—Major George R. Dyer has been unanimously elected colonel of the Twelfth regiment, to succeed Colonel Robert W. Leonard, appointed lieutenant colonel of the Twenty-eighth Volunteer infantry. It was expected that the friends of Lieutenant Colonel Charles J. Seiter would put him in the field, but he declined to run.

Floods Tear Through Ponce.

Ponce, Porto Rico, Sept. 2.—Heavy rains have caused an unusual freshet and the people, frightened on account of the recent hurricane, are leaving their houses and are being quartered in the public buildings. The soldiers, police and firemen work all night. The fords are impassable, but no further serious damage has been done.

Will Fight at Coney Island.

New York, Sept. 2.—The championship fight between Jim Jeffries and Tom Sharkey will take place at the Coney Island Athletic Club. A guarantee purse of $30,000 will be given. No specific date for the fight is given.

Jiminez Leaves Santiago.

Puerto Plata, Santo Domingo, Sept. 2.—General Jiminez has left Santiago, Cuba, for this place. It is thought that he will be able to succeed Figuerio as President.

TEETH.

If you have any to be extracted remember you will not be hurt in the slightest. My local anaesthetic is the best that can be obtained and is not known to the other dentists in this city. Gas strictly fresh administered by an expert if you want that. If you need artificial teeth you may rest assured that the greatest care will be exercised in selecting shape and color to harmonize with the face, also to restore the features to their natural expression and fullness. This is most important.

DOANE & EDSALL.

A well-known Garland, Ga., gentleman, a veteran of both the Mexican and Civil Wars, suffered severely from dyspepsia and kidney complaint for many years. He commenced the use of Ripans Tabules and now writes that although in his seventieth year he "feels like a boy of forty-five."

A new style packet containing TEN RIPANS TABULES in a paper carton (without glass) is now for sale at some drug stores—FOR FIVE CENTS. This low-priced sort is intended for the poor and the economical. One dozen of the five-cent cartons (120 tabules) can be had by mail by sending forty-eight cents to the RIPANS CHEMICAL COMPANY, No. 10 Spruce Street, New York—or a single carton (TEN TABULES) will be sent for five cents.

ASTOR TO SELL OUT.

So His London Agent Says, But in New York It Is Denied.

London, Sept. 2.—Mr. Adams, agent for W. W. Astor, has arranged to sell out his American holdings. He declined to say whether the sale would be a syndicate, nor would he give any details, adding: "Mr. Astor has given stringent instructions that no information is to be given to any reporter, and he threatens to immediately dismiss any employe giving such information. He has washed his hands of America and American methods, and desires no longer to be connected in any way with that country."

New York, Sept. 2.—There were many callers at the office of the Astor estate to learn as to the report from London. The clerk has but one stereotyped reply for all questioners: "We have heard nothing regarding a sale of the properties of Mr. William Waldorf Astor." Mr. Astor is now a British subject. A. P. W. Kinnan, a partner of Romaine Brown, and an authority on real estate matters, said that it would be almost a physical impossibility for Mr. Astor to sell his property. There are a thousand legal obstacles in the way, he said, the land is tied up by all sorts of contracts and leases and the transfer would involve not only an immense amount of labor, but an enormous amount of time.

"Besides," added Mr. Kinnan, "you could not find any syndicate of capitalists which would be willing to accept Mr. Astor's appraisement of the value of his properties. He is an expert on the subject."

Suicide in a Bank.

New York, Sept. 2.—Sitting on the edge of the bed beside his young wife, Frank J. Loomis, janitor of the Seamen's Bank Building at 74-76 Wall street committed suicide by shooting himself in the head. He fired twice, both bullets taking effect. Loomis, who was only twenty-six years old, has been married four years. His wife, twenty-four years old, is pretty. Mrs. Loomis said that she knew of no reason why her husband should kill himself except that he was crazed by drink. "He was good and kind," she said, "when in his sober senses, but terribly irresponsible when under the influence of liquor."

Judge Hilton Died Worth $6,000,000

New York, Sept. 2.—The will of the late ex-Judge Henry G. Hilton has been filed for probate in the Surrogate's office. The will states that the property is valued at $6,000,000, of which $5,000,000 is real estate and $1,000,000 in personal property. The will was written by the testator himself. He makes personal bequests of money to his various relations, and also makes strong provisions as to the manner in which it is to be divided.

Gunboat Gets Silver Service.

Boston, Sept. 2.—The gunboat Marietta has been presented with a silver service at Charlestown Navy Yard, the gift of the citizens of Marietta, Ohio. The presentation speech was made by Governor Asa S. Bushnell, of Ohio, and the acceptance by Commander Green of the Marietta. Mayor Quincy represented the city, and the officers of the station participated in the ceremonies.

Lipton Has Arrived.

New York, Sept. 2.—Sir Thomas Lipton, owner of the Shamrock, challenger for the America's Cup, arrived here on the Cunard liner Campania.

Sir Thomas's beautiful steam yacht, the Erin, freshly put in trim and shining in new paint and brightly burnished brass went down to meet her owner. A large party of Sir Thomas's friends were on the Erin.

The Erin will lead the merchant marine parade in New York harbor on the celebration of Dewey Day.

Crazed By Overstudy.

Camden, N. J., Sept. 2.—Crazed from overstudy, Lois Gillett, of Boston, killed herself at the home of her brother-in-law, Augustus Jordan, near Merchantsville. Miss Gillett was twenty-two years old and was sent to Merchantville because much study at the Massachusetts Seminary had weakened her mind. Seizing a razor she slashed her throat viciously. The family broke down her door and found her dying.

Smallpox at Niagara Falls.

Albany, N. Y., Sept. 2.—Two new cases of smallpox have developed at Niagara Falls, of which fact the State Board of Health has been notified. The patients have been quarantined, and Dr. Curtis, state medical expert, will proceed there to conduct an investigation.

Admiral Sampson to Retire.

Washington, Sept. 2.—At the conclusion of the Dewey ceremonies at New York Admiral Sampson will be relieved of the command of the North Atlantic squadron at his own request. He will be succeeded either by Farquhar, Remy or Schley.

Gans Defeats Bezinah.

New York, Sept. 2.—Joe Gans knocked out Eugene Bezinah of Cincinnati in the Broadway Athletic Club in the tenth round of what was to have been a twenty-five-round contest

TO END THE WAR QUICKLY

A New Move Has Been Planned by the Navy and War Departments.

GEN. FUNSTON'S OPINION

All Supplies to be Cut Off From the Filipinos and a Virtual Blockade Established.

Proposed Plan Likely to Cause Considerable Suffering Among the Natives—Recognized that Most Severe Measures Must be Resorted to to End Philippines Trouble.

Washington, Sept. 2.—The War Department is preparing to adopt drastic measures to stop supplies and munitions of war from reaching the Filipinos.

The Department has determined it to be necessary to cut off supplies from the natives, and a plan for a virtual blockade has been agreed upon between the Navy and War Departments, which, it is believed, will be approved by the President immediately on his return to Washington.

This plan will undoubtedly involve suffering upon the country, but it is felt that war can not be prosecuted with exemption from its penalties and that the more drastic measures which promise to terminate the war speedily will be more merciful in the end than the indefinite protraction of hostilities.

It is recognized that if the struggle is not to be prolonged indefinitely, the war must now be prosecuted with vigor and severity. Steps are being taken to prosecute the war with the utmost energy and to lay aside all sentimental consideration until peace has been established. This marks a radical change of policy, and there is every hope in the Department that the rebellion will be crushed out with an iron hand very speedily.

It is impossible to terminate the war by any method which does not involve suffering upon the people of the Philippines.

The regard for non-combatants has rendered it difficult to prevent supplies and munitions of war from reaching the enemy, it being practically impossible to allow the entry of articles of commerce for the use of peaceable natives, without benefit to the Filipinos.

Now these supplies are probably to be cut off.

Must Whip Filipinos.

Manila, Sept. 2.—Gen. Frederick Funston and Mrs. Funston are with the General's regiment, the Twentieth Kansas.

Gen. Funston has undergone an operation necessitated by an injury resulting from a fall from his horse while serving in the Cuban Army with Gen. Gomez.

In an interview, Gen. Funston remarked that he would not mind staying in Luzon. He dislikes war, but inasmuch as there is fighting, he would like to remain and aid in bringing it to a close. Speaking of the future, he said:

"The only solution of the problem will be through whipping the Filipinos. I do not think they will surrender. When we begin active operations against them on a large scale in the autumn we will scatter them into small bands, and I think when the soldiers composing these bands see that they are persistently pursued they will throw away or hide their arms and return to the pursuits of peace.

"A year hence, small bodies of armed men will be able to go anywhere in Luzon. The island was always infested with bandits and was never safe for Europeans to travel it. Probably after the end of the fighting, the highwaymen will be more numerous, because the members of Aguinaldo's army, who have lived for years with guns in their hands, have acquired a taste for bush life and would rather continue as highwaymen than return to work.

"Cavalry is greatly needed here. The country, when dry, is superb for cavalry operations. The natives have none. One of their strong points is their ability to retreat rapidly. Cavalry could overtake and hopelessly scatter and punish them, and could subsist largely on the country. When cavalry is once here it should have a chance to go ahead and not be kept in towns for guard duty.

"Our greatest successes have been gained when regimental commanders have been allowed to follow up quickly the advantages gained in battle. Small bodies of Americans, operating freely and commanded by officers of dash and energy, could badly break up the enemy. The capture of Aguinaldo by cavalry would be a less difficult proposition than the capture of the Apache chiefs in Arizona."

Timber for South Africa.

Kansas City, Sept. 2.—An order for 500,000,000 feet of Southern yellow pine, the largest single order in the history of the lumber trade, for use in the construction of Cecil Rhodes' proposed Cape to Cairo road in Africa, is said to have been consummated. Twenty mills along several Texas and Louisiana railroads are under contract to fill the order.

Lucky Man Killed at Last.

Terre Haute, Ind., Sept. 2.—After passing through two railroad wrecks that killed his companions, Harry R. Kellogg lies dead, the victim of a wreck. It occurred in the yards here. An engine ran into the freight caboose in which he was sitting. Engineer Tilton and Brakeman Hollis are also dead as the result of the wreck.

Department of the Lakes.

Chicago, Sept. 2.—Brig.-Gen. Thomas M. Anderson has sent to the War Department at Washington his official report of the operations in the Department of the Lakes for the year ended July 30, 1899. More than $11,000,000 of Government funds were disbursed by the officers in charge of this department during the year.

It has been the custom in many of the New York business houses to end the half holidays on Saturdays with the Saturday preceding Labor Day. The vacation season is generally supposed to end with the month of August and the activity of the fall to put in its first appearance with the beginning of September. It often happens, however, that the first part of September is as hot as mid-summer. Several business concerns have announced this year that they will continue the Saturday half holiday plan until the middle of September and more will undoubtedly follow the example.

Never before have the seaside resorts of New Jersey begun the month of September under such auspicious circumstances. Of course there is a great army of summer visitors departing every day but the hotel keepers have promise of plenty of business for the rest of the month and even into October. At Asbury Park is this particularly noticeable. The press of that city is doing all in its power to point out the attractions of the resort in September and persuade the visitors to remain.

Kentucky clubwomen have undertaken a crusade against slang. The federation of that State has prepared a petition that is to be sent to school principals and teachers asking their co-operation to secure a more careful use of English. The petition further declares that the great amount of ungrammatical and poor English and slang so constantly heard in the home, the schoolroom and on the street should not exist.

The records at the Secretary of State's office show that 125 companies were incorporated during the month of August, and that the State's receipts for the filing of certificates were $33,738. This is a falling off of about one-half from the record of July.

MAJOR ROSS, THE MOSQUITO'S FOE.

Major Ronald Ross, who has succeeded in demonstrating to other and leading scientists in Europe that the mosquito is the cause of malaria, has gone to Africa to gather the final evidence to support his claim.

The Elizabethan who started the report that Plainfield wanted nothing from the county convention of the G. O. P. was evidently not acquainted with the Republicans of this city or else he had a wonderful amount of imagination.

The Daily Press will not be issued Monday—Labor Day.

WHAT THE SHEARS FIND

Editorial Comment From Other Papers of Interest in Plainfield.

If it be true that Senator Reed of Somerset is to retire from another contest to stand for the Congress nomination next year in the Third district, the act will have unified the Republicans in Somerset and given him assurance that he will have no opposition for the greater honor. It is understood that Representative Howell, who is serving his third term, will not seek a renomination.—New York Press.

* * * * *

The Plainfield Press owes A. R. Johnson, manager of the Engine Works, an apology in its report about the ball ground. It states that Mr. Johnson ordered the fence and stand removed, it not being done he put a force of men there and removed them. The facts are the fence was blown down during a heavy wind and the stand is there yet. Mr. Johnson has ordered the removal. Had the manager seen Dr. Pierce no doubt he would have consented to the ground being used, but not being consulted ordered Mr. Johnson to have the ground cleared. The former manager of the Engine Company gave permission to the team to use the grounds, but, it is said, he did not consult the Doctor—hence the trouble.—Bound Brook Record.

PASSING COMMENT

Things that Are Not Exactly News but Just as Interesting.

It is perhaps not generally known that conductors on the trolley lines are not allowed by the rules of the company to turn in any pennies with the day's proceeds. If the conductor has accumulated a handfull of pennies he must turn them into change of a larger denomination before handing them into the railroad company. If you wish to provoke a street car conductor you can do so by handing him your fare in pennies. But this rule does not apply solely with the Plainfield Street Railroad Company. It is a rule with nearly every street car company in the country. It is presumed the reason for this rule, which appears most absurd, is the fact that the officials do not wish to have the trouble of making the pennies up into rolls before depositing them in bank.

THEATRICAL.

Current Dramatic Attractions That Plainfielders Can Witness.

The Boston Serenaders, an organization said to be the equal of the famous "Bostonians," will produce here on Tuesday night "Davy Jones," a three-act farcical operetta by Fred Miller, Jr. This piece has enjoyed a long and successful engagement in Boston, where the critics united in pronouncing it a novel and delightful production. It possesses a clear, distinct and exceedingly humorous plot, and tells a mirthful and melodious story of sailor love and adventures. Of course the comedy element predominates, the principal funmakers being "Commodore Dominick Shay," the father of sixteen marriageable daughters; "Lucretia," his maiden sister; "Fogo," king of the demented pirates; "Bottles," a waif; and "Trusty" and "Slick," of the crew of the Mary Ann. Mr. Miller has used a lavish hand in the distribution of his musical gems throughout the piece, there being at least ten solo lyrics of the kind that are termed popular hits, while the ensemble and dance numbers are said to be particularly quaint and pleasing. The first act of "Davy Jones" is laid in a New England seaport town, and the last two on an island in the South Seas, inhabited by the degenerate descendants of ancient pirates. The company carries its own scenic production and the piece is presented in an elaborate manner, special care having been given to costumes and stage accessories.

The famous comedian, Frank M. Wills, has been secured by Manager Maze Edwards to appear at Music Hall for three nights, commencing Thursday, Sept. 7th, in his three popular musical farce-comedies, "In Atlantic City," "Bosom Friends" and "Sweethearts and Wives." Mr. Wills is surrounded this season by an exceptionally strong company of singers and clever specialty artists, and each performance is a veritable feast of beautiful music, new songs and novelties. The company includes Miss Ethel Tillson, known as the California Nightingale, who has a remarkably beautiful voice, Miss Estille Wills, in her famous specialties, and many others. Frank Wills is conceded to be one of our very best comedians, and the theatre-goers will remember his remarkable successful production of "In Atlantic City" at the Star Theatre, New York, recently. This attraction plays in large cities only, and must not be confounded with the repertoire shows. But for this occasion only, Manager Maze Edwards has prevailed upon them to play at popular prices, 10, 20, 30 and 50 cents, with special matinee Saturday, Sept. 9th.

These goods will bleach very quickly and give splendid service. This is an offering of linens to which every thrifty housekeeper should respond quickly. Our trade in ready-made Sheets and Pillows is also one of growing importance, due undoubtedly to the fact that we sell only good goods. We handle only the well-known brands such as N. Y. Mills, Utica Mills, Dwight Anchor, etc. All are torn, beautifully hemmed and clean, ready for use. A comparison of our prices with those of N. Y. City will result in your buying them of us.

Crochet and Marseilles Bed Spreads, another item we are warranted in calling your attention to. We believe we sell at 1.00 the best white Crochet Quilt ever sold at that price. Of course 1.25, 1.50 or 1.75 will buy a better one. Marseilles Quilts we carry up to 5.00 ea. and works of art they are. Plain and Quilted Table Padding at various prices.

New Tapestries.

Entirely new Bagdad Stripes, Denims, Turkish Cloths, Fancy Tickings, Satins and Silkalines in bewildering variety. New Patterns and new colorings make these unusually attractive.

We should be guilty of gross neglect if we failed to call attention to a special lot of Flannelettes at 6½c yd. that are really worth 8c yd. So far as we can judge the patterns are as bright and attractive as those we have at much higher price.

Sundry New Things.

Prominent among the latest arrivals are two numbers in Ladies' Kid Gloves at 1.50 pr. No. 1—2 clasp, real kid in Modes, Tans, Grays and Ox Bloods. Very pliable, elastic and perfect fitting. Some new velvet stock collars, steel trimmed, will sell readily once they are seen. Prices 50c to 1.98. Some are trimmed with jet and have jet fringe to match. Positively the newest novelties in stock. Our shirt waists have been subjected to very radical treatment again. Our 1.00, 1.25 and 1.48 waists are now 50c eaeh. If you can find your size you will get a rare bargain.

The Pure Food Question

Has attracted a great deal of attention during the past few years. Pure food inspectors at a good big salary are appointed, but we never hear of any attempt being made to compel the use of pure cooking utensils. No matter how pure the food may be, it will suffer by being cooked in a kettle that scales off, and is not acid proof.

THINGS THAT INTEREST SCOTCH PLAINS AND DUNELLEN.

Brief and Terse Observations Gathered by Alert Press Reporters to be Perused at the Supper Table at Your Leisure

DUNELLEN.

(Special Correspondence of The Daily Press.)

Dunellen, Sept. 2.—A large number of the friends of Miss Hannah E. Nelson gathered at the home of that young lady's parents at New Market Thursday afternoon and assisted in celebrating her fifth birthday. A feature of the auspicious event was a lawn fete, which proved a pleasant affair. The little miss was the recipient of a number of handsome presents including a birthday cake. Among those present were: Misses Mable Sheppard, Hazel Piddington, Gertrude Giles, Cora Bell Ahrens, Herbert Casterline, Pauline Ward, Maude Russell, Cassie Smith, Lucy Clawson, Lorena Fletcher, Zella Kelly, Helen Fletcher, Lillian and Ethel Garrison, Edna Vreeland, Margery Hart, Bertha Nelson, Emilie Nelson, George Nelson.

At the next meeting of the Common Council it is expected that some action will be taken in regard to the Brunswick Traction Company, which it is alleged is violating section thirty-two of the ordinance granting it the right to lay tracks in the borough. This section relates to children's fares between the ages of four and ten years. It is the opinion of many citizens that the company is not living up to its agreement in this matter. The Council has been asked to make the trolley people comply with the prvisions of the franchise in this particular.

The dance given by the young society people Thursday evening in Rider's barn on Prospect street was the most elaborate affair of the kind held in the borough this season. Fully one hundred of the most prominent people of this place, Newark, Bound Brook, Plainfield, New York and other places were present. Garham's Orchestra, of Elizabeth, supplied the music. The barn was handsomely decorated with flags, bunting and flowers. Refreshments were served during the evening.

Some miscreants who have been breaking windows in the waterproof factory at Lincoln are being watched by the authorities. If caught they will be summarily dealt with.

Miss Abbie Giles, of New Market, entertained a number of her friends at a melon party at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. DeWitt Giles, Thursday evening.

Mrs. J. R. Swackhamer, Mrs. Wilson Fredericks and Mr. and Mrs. Harry Swackhamer spent yesterday as guests of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Oakley at New Brunswick.

The Baptist church at New Market is being thoroughly renovated preparatory to laying the new carpet and placing the new pulpit furniture in position.

The population of Lincoln has been increased by the addition of the family of Rudolph Myers, who has moved to town from Philadelphia.

Daniel Whitlock has the contract to build a greenhouse at Lincoln for the College Experiment Station of New Brunswick. It will be 68x20 feet.

Mrs. E. A. Calhoun, of New Market, has had as her guests this week Miss Josephine Calhoun and Miss Flora Chamberlain, of Red Bank.

Thomas Titsworth, of Grove street, has raised some choice specimens of pound sweet apples, some of which weigh over a pound each.

Mrs. Harmon has returned home from Somerville, where she and the children have been spending a few weeks visiting relatives.

Miss Cora Belle Ahrens, who has been visiting in New Market, has returned to her home at Stratford, Canada.

Peter Hanson's new house at Lincoln is about finished. He expects to occupy it in about two weeks.

Miss Mabel Whitford spent Friday with Miss Loretta Clawson at her home on Church street.

James A. Johnson, of Brooklyn, has been visiting his aunt, Mrs. L. H. Danze, at New Market.

Albert Woolverton, of Asbury, has been visiting his aunt, Mrs. Jane Apgar, of Front street.

John Fenner spent Wednesday with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Fenner, at Pluckamin.

Willard Apgar has ben entertaining his cousin, Edward Apgar, of Philadelphia.

The steel works at Lincoln are preparing for a large number of orders this fall.

Miss May Apgar is visiting her sister, Mrs. Sherman Cooley, at Flemington.

Miss Julia Dodwell is spending a few days with friends at Manasquan.

Scotch Plains, September 2.—Rev. Mr. Shott will take for his subject for tomorrow morning's sermon, "Secret of Church Success." In the evening he will present the third and last chapter of the interesting story of the life of A. J. Diaz, the Baptist apostle to Cuba. After the young people's meeting, which ends at 7:45, Mr. Shott will hold a short song service on the lawn in front of the church.

The 16-mile road race starts from the Liberty pole this afternoon at 4 o'clock. The course will be four miles out Mountain avenue and return, the contestants covering the course twice to make the distance. Sixteen entries have been received.

Mr. and Mrs. Wilson and family, who have been occupying Mrs. C. N. Flanders' cottage on the mountains for the summer, have returned to their home in New York.

Twilight Council, Jr. O. U. A. M., met in their rooms last evening. Important business relating to the Juniors' meet at Waverly Labor Day, was transacted.

Rev. and Mrs. J. S. Braker, who have been enjoying a month's vacation in town, have returned to their home in Waltham, Mass.

Mrs. DeForest Thomas, of Mountain avenue, will move into Mrs. Cleaver's cottage on Grand street October 1st.

Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Jimerson, of Westfield, were the guests of their daughter, Mrs. George W. Marsh, last evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Nathaniel Chapin are entertaining their niece, Miss Alice Chapin, of Hartford, Conn., for two weeks.

The high weeds in the gutters along Front street are receiving their annual clearing out.

The Turn Verein from Plainfield will have a day's outing at Emery's Pavilion Monday.

Mr. and Mrs. George Goodbrough are visiting relatives in New York State for a week.

—SEE LARGE POSTERS—

WESTFIELD.

(Special Correspondence to The Daily Press.)

Westfield, Sept. 2—Tax Assessor John M. C. Marsh has completed the tax book for the year 1899 and has turned it over to Tax Collector Addison Clark. The duplicate contains 1,600 names and the total amount of taxes to be collected is about $44,000. The duplicate has been made up by streets so that the collector will now have a much easier time in finding the delinquents than before when he had nothing but the fact that they lived in the township to guide him.

BOEHM'S.

Lokal-Nachrichten aus der alten Heimath.

Provinz Westpreußen.

Konitz. In der Nähe von hier fand ein Duell zwischen zwei Offizieren des Ulanen-Regiments Nr. 10 statt. Gleich beim ersten Kugelwechsel wurde der Lieutenant Graf v. d. Schulenburg von dem Rittmeister Grafen zu Solms durch einen Schuß in den Leib verwundet. Die Aerzte legten sofort den ersten Verband an, dann wurde der Verletzte in das katholische Krankenhaus dahier gebracht.

Thorn. Ein Waldbrand vernichtete 200 Morgen Wald der Gemeinde Swierczyn und der Pfarrei Swierczynko. Der Schaden wird auf 80,000 Mark geschätzt. Die Ausbreitung des Feuers auf den Wald der Stadt Thorn wurde durch von dort abgesandte Arbeitskolonnen verhindert.

Rheinprovinz.

Köln. An den Folgen der an ihm vollzogenen Beinamputation ist nun auch Weihbischof Dr. Schmitz, der getreue Koadjutor des verstorbenen Erzbischofs Dr. v. Krementz, gestorben.

Düsseldorf. Ein etwa zehnjähriger Knabe, der an einem Chokolade-Automat in der Graf Adolfstraße einen Gegenstand ziehen wollte, wurde von dem niederstürzenden Automaten tödtlich verletzt und starb alsbald.—Die Wiederherstellung der Kaiserpfalz in dem niederrheinischen Städtchen Kaiserswerth scheint nun ernstlich beabsichtigt. Die Regierung hat den Nachbargemeinden eine diesbezügliche Denkschrift zugehen lassen und zu einem Beitrag für die Vorarbeiten aufgefordert.

Koblenz. Das hiesige Bad Laubbach ist in eine Aktiengesellschaft zur Errichtung einer Heilstätte für Lungenkranke umgewandelt worden.

Saarlouis. Der wegen Unterschlagung inhaftirte Kreissekretär Limburg wurde von der Strafkammer in Saarbrücken zu acht Monaten Gefängniß verurtheilt.

Provinz Sachsen.

Magdeburg. Der Kassirer der hiesigen Baugewerksberufsgenossenschaft Burgdorf wurde wegen Unterschlagungen in Höhe von 100,000 Mark verhaftet.

Erfurt. Hier wurde das neuerbaute Korn- und Lagerhaus eingeweiht.

Mühlhausen. Der Hausdiener Steinecke, welcher mit etwa 16,000 Mark durchgegangen war, wurde in Langensalza festgenommen. Er hatte das dortige Brunnenfest mitgefeiert und war in einem Cirkus als—Ringkämpfer aufgetreten.

Provinz Schlesien.

Breslau. Der Professor der englischen Philologie der hiesigen Universität, Eugen Koelbing, ist in Herrenalb im Schwarzwald gestorben.

Goldberg. In dem Kirchdorfe Neukirch ist der Hoffmann'sche (früher Weinhold'sche) Gasthof, im Mitteldorfe belegen, niedergebrannt, wobei die Frau des Besitzers den Erstickungstod fand, und eine Dienstmagd, Namens Hanke, in den Flammen umgekommen ist.

Nimptsch. Unter den zahlreichen Arbeitern auf dem benachbarten Rittergut Oberjohnsdorf brach eine Revolte aus. Die erregte Menge erschlug mit Rübenhacken, in der Meinung, einen ihr mißliebigen Gutsbeamten vor sich zu haben, einen älteren polnischen Arbeitsgenossen. Die Rädelsführer wurden verhaftet.

Provinz Schleswig-Holstein.

Kiel. Ein Torpedoboot der einlaufenden Torpedobootflotille überrannte im Kriegshafen ein Fährboot und zertrümmerte dasselbe. Der Insasse des Bootes wurde schwer verletzt.—Annähernd 500 Mann der Besatzung der Kreuzer „Deutschland" und „Gefion" sind kürzlich aus Kiautschau hier eingetroffen. Die heimgekehrten Mannschaften verließen am 16. Dezember 1897 mit dem Prinzen Heinrich Deutschland. Tausende von Menschen waren zur Begrüßung anwesend.

Lockstedt. Während einer Gefechtsübung im hiesigen Lager stürzten ein Unteroffizier des 15. Husaren-Regiments und zwei Husaren. Ersterer erlitt einen Beckenbruch und starb sofort. Letztere kamen mit leichten Verletzungen davon.

Norstedt. Hier äscherte ein Großfeuer 15 Wirthschafts- und Wohngebäude mit sämmtlichen Erntevorräthen ein.

Provinz Westfalen.

Dortmund. Dieser Tage beging der Hauptlehrer Rothschild sein 25jähriges Amtsjubiläum als Prediger der hiesigen Synagogengemeinde. — Am Herzschlag verstarb in Burg a. d. W. auf einer Erholungsreise der Verleger der „Dortmunder Zeitung" und Chef der Firma C. L. Krüger, Herr Gustav Krüger, im Alter von 53 Jahren.

Oespel. Auf Zeche Boruffia war am 4. November v. J. ein Grubenunglück erfolgt, bei dem sieben Arbeiter zu Tode kamen. Heldenmüthige Thaten waren bei den Rettungsarbeiten zu verzeichnen. Jetzt wurde auch in feierlichem Akte dem Steiger Franz Bein und dem Hauer Heinrich Schmidt die Rettungsmedaille überreicht und zwei Steiger und sieben Bergarbeiter erhielten eine öffentliche Belobigung. Berghauptmann Täglichsbeck händigte in Gegenwart der ganzen Belegschaft den wackeren Männern die Auszeichnungen ein.

TRUNK PACKING.

A Few Hints Concerning a Neglected Art.

First get together near the trunk everything that is to go in it, classified in piles, according to kind, shoes to one pile, hose in another, underwear in another, etc. After you have collected all that you desire, stop and think a few minutes to see if you haven't forgot to get out some very necessary thing that you will miss almost as soon as you arrive. It is a good plan after having taken out all your things to go over to your drawers and closets again, in case you have overlooked something that will catch your eye the second time.

A stack of tissue paper is necessary for complete and proper packing, as so many things require wrapping. All shoes should be carefully dusted, stuffed with tissue paper to preserve their shape and put in the bottom of the trunk. One adept in the art of packing away, stood her shoes and slippers—after wrapping—in the four corners of the trunk to fill up the space which is always lost in the corners, besides, she asserted it held the centre in position better.

Put in first all the underwear, then all the heavy cloth skirts and suits, and underskirts, and silk petticoats as a third layer. Then after these put in the silk and wash shirt waists. Dresses or waists of light dainty materials, such as organdy, mousseline de soie, lace, etc., should be packed last and go directly on top. After all is packed, cover neatly with a towel.

Everything should be folded as flat as possible. Bulky rolls or packages take up more room, look untidy and are apt to crush whatever they come in contact with.

Lay all dress hooks inside, so that when unpacking they may not catch in anything, and if not tearing, at least dragging them inconveniently from their place.

Care will repay you in packing as in everything else. Each frill, bow and fold should be laid just so. Put tissue paper in the sleeves, lay the same good friend of packers between the bows, and stuff out the loops on your hats. After the hats have been put in position in their compartment, tuck tissue paper around and over them.

Put all your trifling belongings in the tray of the trunk, and if your trunk has a second skeleton tray it is a good place for your best waists with a towel laid between each one. Hat pins may be more easily found if stuck into a piece of cloth or flannel.

The woman who really wants to look her best and will take the trouble to accomplish it, should put a small one burner oil stove and small iron in her trunk, particularly if going to sojourn at the seashore. These will keep your gowns, laces, ribbons and all fripperies in good condition yet take up little room. A small handled saucepan to make a cup of tea, heat water, etc., is another comfort in inverse proportion to its size and the room it takes up.

An Autumn Hint.

(Tailor-Made Gown.)

The illustration shows a cloth, tailor-made gown as designed for a well-known New York society woman, together with a fall style hat.

Crisp Slices of Bacon.

The crisp, delicious slices of bacon that are the features of so many appetizing dishes may be had by turning each slice every minute over a hot fire in a pan large enough so that the slices shall not touch, and then as soon as delicately browned on both sides, lift from the pan on to a sheet of butcher's coarse wrapping paper (save it for the purpose when it comes from the market clean), and allow the bacon to drain upon it in the oven for another minute.

Cooking With Sugar.

Some fruits never seem to get sweet when cooked with sugar. The trouble is ordinary cane sugar when heated with certain fruit acids is converted into grape sugar. This sugar has only one-third the sweetening power of cane sugar, and so a good deal is required. This can be done by puting in a little baking powder with the sugar, and this will so neutralize the acids of the fruit as to prevent the conversion of cane sugar into grape sugar.

Beef Toast.

Chop fine the remnants of stewed or roast beef, moisten with the broth or gravy, season with pepper and salt and heat. Spread thickly upon slices of hot buttered toast and serve.

CHILDREN'S FASHIONS.

Trimmings and Materials Employed For Little Folks.

Irish guipure is the favorite lace for children, as it is substantial as well as elegant. Costumes otherwise plain are often enriched by its use in the form of collars and cuffs or, in the case of little girls, trimmings of the frock. For very little children, 2 years old or so, entire dresses are made of it, worn over a slip.

Fashions for small girls follow ours—that is, the sleeves are close, the skirts flaring and finished with a circular flounce. A soft sash is often worn, with a bow at the back. The materials employed are veiling, etamine, wool grenadine, cashmere, thin cloth and embroidered linon, as well as foulard and similar thin silks. Guipure, ruffles, ruches and similar furbelows are the decorations. White, gray and beige are the tones for tailor made dresses.

For party dresses for children veiling or cashmere in white, cream, pink or blue is prettiest and most suitable, richer fabrics placing the beauty of the child at a disadvantage.

The picture shows a dress for a little girl. It is of pastel blue cashmere, and the circular skirt is gathered at the waist. The blouse bodice is trimmed with lengthwise bands of guipure, the bands falling on the sleeves, and the collarless neck is surrounded by guipure. The full sleeves extend only to the elbows, where they are gathered in and form a ruffle. The sash of white silk is tied at the back. The hat of white straw is trimmed with blue taffeta.

VARIOUS NOTES.

Young Girl's Evening Dress—Care of the Hair.

The first low cut bodices of a young girl are usually square in form, and the decolletage is moderate. Nothing is in worse taste than a really low corsage on a young girl, and those who understand how to dress properly never wear one.

The hair is worn on the top of the head—at least that is what fashion decrees—but the mode of wearing the hair has always been modified more or less according to individual taste, as nothing has so powerful effect upon the appearance of the face as the coiffure, and what is becoming to one person is often fatal to the beauty of another.

CREPON COSTUME.

Regimen plays an important part with respect to the hair. An excess of animal food has a tendency to cause baldness, while abundance of fruit and vegetables has a contrary effect. Exposure to air and sunlight is also highly beneficial, and the use of the brush is recommended rather than the comb.

The pale blue silk crepon gown illustrated has a demitrained skirt embroidered with blue silk and spangles. The embroidered bodice has a yoke of guipure de venise, and a scarf of lace is fastened by a knot at each shoulder, carried down the front in bretelle fashion and shirred in at the waist, the long ends falling upon the skirt. The close sleeves are tucked horizontally at the top and embroidered at the wrists. The belt is of moss green velvet, with a gold buckle. The hat of tulle over blue silk is trimmed with pheasant feathers and wallflowers.

WOMEN AND HOME

A Rare Honor.

Elizabeth Thompson, who died recently, was the only woman to whom the privileges of the floor of Congress were ever granted.

The honor was paid to her when she presented to the Government Francis B. Carpenter's painting, "Signing of the Emancipation Proclamation by Lincoln."

Mrs. Thompson was the widow of Thomas Thompson, a Boston millionaire and philanthropist. She started a town in the Rocky Mountains in which every resident received a free tract of land. Her other benefactions were numbered by the thousands.

(Elizabeth Thompson.)

The probate court if Kansas City recently decided she was insane, and her property was placed in the hands of a committee.

She was seventy-eight years old at the time of her death.

Danger in the Stamp Box.

A girl I know is betrothed to a young officer of the navy and as his birthday is near at hand, she has bought a pretty little stamp box in silver to give to him, but she is not going to give to him after all.

"Daughter," her father said to her, "if you wish that young man well, never give him a stamp box. You couldn't give him anything more dangerous. A man would better carry dynamite than stamps. One of the bravest officers in the navy has been for twenty years paying the penalty of his folly in carrying stamps. Everybody knows who he is. Years ago he received an order from the department which displeased him very much. He knew to whom he owed it, and sat himself down that same night and expressed himself frankly on paper to the man he blamed for the obnoxious order. He had a stamp, so he sent the letter off in the night's mail. If he hadn't had a stamp he would not have mailed the letter until morning, and if he had kept it till morning he'd never have sent it at all, and he would not have paid the penalty of 'sassing' the department. Don't send the young man a stamp box. The officer I've been telling you about says that his experience taught him never to carry stamps, but the trouble about the wisdom experience brings is that it usually comes too late to be of any use. Don't encourage the young man to carry stamps. It isn't safe."—Washington Post.

STRAIGHT HAIR.

The Young Lady Who Has It Is Now Quite In Vogue.

The miserable helpless young person who has been in the habit of feeling that it was a social iniquity to appear in public without having first tortured her every straight tress into some artificial outlines is released from bondage this fall, and may wear her hair according to Nature's own suggestion without the slightest sense of nervous apprehension.

The very slender-faced girl wears her straight locks in a loose pompadour that may part or lie flat or do anything that does not suggest "rats" or curling irons; and the girl with dimples and roses parts her straightest of straight hair in the middle, brushes it smoothly back, and does it in a braided coil at the back of her head.

It is absolutely essential that straight hair dressed plain should be beautifully groomed, which means frequent washing, brushing, and the utmost neatness of arrangement to bring about all the chic, fresh prettiness of which it is capable.

The straight-haired girl's hair is easily dressed, and it is rumored that she is sweet-tempered, for neither wind nor weather disturbs hair, and in consequence her peace of mind.

Dangers of the Cold Bath.

A cold bath should be taken with the greatest discrimination, and delicate girls and women should never embark upon the enterprise without medical sanction. Cold bathing in the early morning is beneficial only to those who have sufficient vital energy and nervous force to insure good reaction, with no subsequent languor or lassitude. You may feel refreshed immediately after your bath, but tired and languid two or three hours after it. When this occurs it is conclusive evidence against the practice. Those who have an abundance of flesh and blood, who are lymphatic or sluggish in temperament, and whose nervous force is not depleted, can take the cold morning bath to advantage. Others, who are thin, and slight, whose hands and feet become cold and clammy on the slightest provocation, who digest food slowly and assimilate it with difficulty, should avoid early morning bathing. For all such a tepid bath in the middle of the day (but not within two hours after meal) or before retiring at night is far more desirable, and it should be followed by rest of body and brain till equable conditions of circulation are re-established.

MEISSONIER.

Way in Which the Great Painter Did His Work.

The Contemporary Review has some reminiscences of the great French artist Meissonier, given by Verestchagin.

Everybody, says M Verestchagin, is aware of the conscientious way in which Meissonier executed his work; but few know the labor and expense he bestowed on the preparation for it. I remembered, for instance, his painting a horseman, in a dress of the last century, passing along a deserted road in a strong wind. The cloak was flowing and the head of the rider, with his cap over his ears, was bowing before the storm, which was bringing on heavy clouds and lashing the grass and trees. Both the horse and the rider were first beautifully modeled in wax. The former model had a bridle and saddle elegantly worked out in every detail from the real materials. The rider's cloak, hat, and spurred boots were also miniature masterpieces, executed after drawings of the period. In order to get the folds of the twisting cloak it was dipped into thin glue, so that it stiffened in its proper pose. In short, everything was ingeniously fitted up so as to insure the greatest possible perfection of the picture, and showed, at any rate, very uncommon demands upon the artist's skill.

"But how did you paint the snowy road in your picture of 'Napoleon in 1814'?" I asked him. In reply, he picked out from under the table a low platform, about a metre and a half square, and said: "On this I prepared all that was required—snow, mud, and ruts. I kneaded the clay, and pushed across it this piece of cannon several times, up and down. With a shod hoof I then pressed the marks of the horses' feet; I strewed flour over it, pushed the cannon across again, and continued to do so until I obtained the semblance of a real road. Then I salted it, and the road was ready." "What did you salt it for?" "To get the brilliancy of the snow. Why do you smile? How else could you do it?" "It was very ingenious," I answered. "Je vours fais mes compliments. But, if I had been you, I should have gone to Russia, where nearly every road is dug up in the way you represented, and should have painted a study from nature." "Yes! But nous autres Parisiens do not move about so easily."

The Arab Horse.

An Arab cannot dispense with food altogether, like the legendary camel of travelers' tales, but his needs are few, and he will maintain his health and spirits under conditions which other horses would never be able to endure. Indeed, not only can he put up with hardships at a pinch, but he actually deteriorates under the generous regimen which is considered necessary for other horses. This has been proved over and over again by purchasers who have refused to believe the usual three feeds of corn to be supererogatory and the morning hour of walking exercise insufficient. There is probably no being so obstinately conservative as an English coachman, and, even when he finds an Arab grow utterly unmanageable, he is not to be convinced that the simple cause is lack of exercise and exuberance of feeding. The fact is, an Arab is naturally so high spirited and so difficult to tire that even a single feed of corn is excessive unless he is being subjected to exceptionally hard work. He will answer every requirement as a hunter if his diet be restricted to hay or even to grass, and in the Summer time he is most satisfactory if he has the run of a paddock, where he can choose his own food and exercise. So far, the quality of the normal Arab in everyday life.

What a picked horse can do when put upon his mettle almost baffles belief. An officer, recently returned from the Soudan, relates that, after a ride of 800 miles, his horse showed no signs of work, though he had cast all his shoes before accomplishing a quarter of the journey, though many of the camels had died, and the others had suffered severely. Again, it was an Arab of 14.2¼, which carried ten stone six pounds and won a ten-mile race at Ferozepore in twenty-five minutes, a feat of endurance probably unequaled in equine annals. And Lord Roberts can bear testimony to the powers of the Arab which carried him through all his campaigns during twenty-five years and, alone among the horses of history, received official authority to wear the Afghan medal with four clasps. Such qualities are worth insisting upon at the War Office as a short cut to the solution of many problems of economy and dispatch in the transport service.—Saturday Review.

Nerves and Pianos.

Piano playing, particularly by young women of no special musical taste, sensitive, and not strong, is attacked by the Medical News and the British Medical Journal as the cause of many nervous troubles. Out of 1,000 girls devoted to piano practice observed by Dr. Waetzhold, 600 had grave signs of chlorosis. Out of 1,600 other girls in a similar environment only 200 developed such symptoms. "There is no doubt," says the Medical News, "that the foundation of many a persistent neurasthenia in after life can be traced to the nerve storms incident to musical training at a time when nature demanded rest, not excitement." Very many more girls have been broken down by undue attention to music than by college study, and both for very young and very sensitive girls there is overwhelming medical evidence that the pernicious habit of requiring musical study of almost every girl does infinite harm.

No Nicknames.

"Please, ma'am," said little Susan Gratebar to Mrs. Staybolt, at whose house she was staying to dinner, "will you give me a little more asparagustus?"

"'Asparagustus,' child?" said Mrs. Staybolt. "Why, what under the canopy can you mean?"

"Why, I suppose you call it asparagus," said little Susan, "but my papa doesn't allow us to use any nicknames."—New York Sun.

SOME COSTLY HATS.

One Given General Grant Was Valued at Fifteen Hundred Dollars.

The most expensive hat in the world is undoubtedly one which was presented to General Grant while he was in Mexico in 1882. It cost $1,500 in gold, and is now to be seen in the National Museum at Washington, and is the finest specimen of a Mexican sombrero ever made. Perhaps the next most expensive hat to that was one which was sent to William H. Seward when he was Secretary of State in President Lincoln's Cabinet. It was of the variety known as Panama, and his South American admirers who sent it to him paid $1,000 for it.

At one time Panama hats frequently cost $500, but these are no longer made, and cannot therefore be bought. Perhaps the most expensive hat of this sort which has been made for many years was one sold last year to a banker, who paid $110 for it. Hats as fine as these are commonly worn by the rich men in South America, but ordinary mortals have to be content with specimens which cost at the most only $10 or $15. Still, these are fine, and are practically everlasting, for they can be cleaned again and again.

It is curious that they are called Panama hats, for they do not come from there. They derive their name from the fact that that city was at one time the greatest market for them. The finest are obtained at Payta, Peru, and Guayaquil. They are made of the fibre of the pineapple plant, are as soft as silk, and so pliable that they can easily be folded up and carried in the pocket. Excellent specimens are also made by the natives of Cuba.—Berlin (Md.) Herald.

Webster's Idea of the Great Orator.

The orator who would do justice to a great theme or a great occasion must thoroughly study and understand the subject; he must accurately and, if possible, minutely digest in writing beforehand the substance, and even the form, of his address; otherwise, though he may speak ably, he will be apt not to make in all respects an able speech. He must entirely possess himself beforehand of the main things which he wishes to say, and then throw himself upon the excitement of the moment and the sympathy of the audience.

In those portions of his discourse which are didactic or narrative, he will not be likely to wander, in any direction far from his notes; although even in those portions new facts, illustrations, and suggestions will be apt to spring up before him as he proceeds. But when the topic rises, when the mind kindles from within, and the strain becomes loftier, or bolder, or more pathetic, when the sacred fountain of tears is ready to overflow, and audience and speaker are moved by one kindred sympathetic passion, then the thick-coming fancies cannot be kept down, the storehouse of the memory is unlocked, images start up from the slumber of years, and all that the orator has seen, read, heard, or felt returns in distinct shape and vivid colors. The cold and premeditated text will no longer suffice for the glowing thought. The stately, balanced phrase gives place to some abrupt, graphic expression, that rushes unbidden to his lips. The unforseen incident or locality furnishes an apt and speaking image, and the discourse instinctively transposes itself into a higher key.—Senator George F. Hoar in Scribner's.

French Romance of To-day.

People in England are constantly complaining that French novels are not what they were, says a writer in The Contemporary. And that is true; the crop is slighter, and the quality has abruptly varied. "Ye cannot gather grapes of thistles." A few months ago one of the first of French novelists told me how impossible he found it to lose himself in an imaginary world while such ominous rumors fill the streets of Paris. The intricate Chinese puzzle of fashionable psychology seems, after all, a trivial thing compared to the tremendous issues of reality. And if the author feels this, judge of the sentiments of the reader! The effect of the Affaire Dreyfus on literature has been the sudden disappearance of the roman-a-trois, the old Provencal theme of the married lady, her husband, and her lover. After a brilliant renaissance, after occupying almost the whole area of fiction, this theme has subsided, and if people read these novels still, to a certain extent, these novels, or at any rate, the best of them, have a wholly different motive, interest, and intent.

A Family Fault.

Dr. William E. Clarke of River Forest, who died recently, was a brother of Grace Greenwood, the writer, and had as ready a wit as his celebrated sister. The doctor had a great heart and a host of friends. The only man whom he cordially detested in the whole world was a certain President of the United States, whom Dr. Clarke thought was recreant to his party trust. One day he was freeing his mind of its opinions about the particular federal executive to a friend who was calling. He wound up some pretty condemnatory sentences with, "Well, there now, what have you got to say to that?"

"Nothing," returned the friend, "except that President —— is my first cousin."

Staggered for only the fraction of a second, during which the physician's mind went back to certain ancestral relations, he said: "Never mind, old boy, I've had two mean traitors in my own family—Aaron Burr and Benedict Arnold."

Familiar With Oaths.

The latest and best golf story is told by Mr. Justice Lawrence against himself. He is an ardent golfer. He tells how he had recently a case before him in which he felt it necessary to ask one of the witnesses, a boy, the usual question whether he was acquainted with the nature of an oath.

The ingenuous youth calmly replied:—

"Of course I am. Ain't I your caddie?"—Tid-Bits.

Dreamt It.

Mistress—How was it you were so late this morning? Didn't you hear your alarm clock?

Maid—I did, mum; but I thought I had only dreamt it, and it didn't go off again, mum.—Boston Transcript.

VALUABLE INFORMATION.

Some Things It Will Pay You to Fix in Your Mind for Future Use.

Here are a few things everybody should know—children especially, for such facts once fixed in the growing child never fade away.:

A mile is 320 rods.
A mile is 1,760 yards.
A mile is 5,280 feet.
A rod is 16 1-5 feet, or 5½ yards.
A square rod is 272¼ square feet.
An acre contains 160 square rods.
An acre contains 43,560 square feet.
An acre is about 208¼ feet square.
A pint of water weighs one pound.
A solid foot contains 7.48 solid pints.
A square foot is 144 square inches.
An acre contains 4,840 square yards.
A quarter section contains 160 acres.
A square yard contains 9 square feet.
A solid foot contains 1,728 solid inches.
A pint of water holds 28⅞ solid inches.
A gallon of water holds 231 solid inches.
An acre is 8 rods wide by 20 rods long.
A solid foot of water weighs 62½ pounds.
A barrel (31½ gallons) holds 4⅛ solid feet.
A section, or square mile, contains 640 acres.
A bushel (struck) contains 2,150 solid inches.
A gallon of milk weighs 8 pounds 10 ounces
A struck bushel contains about 1¼ solid feet.
A bushel (heaping) contains 1¼ struck bushels.
A hairbreath is one-forty-eighths of an inch.
Space has a temperature of 200 degrees below zero.
A grain of magnesia will color 50,000,000 grains of water.
An inch of rainfall is equal to 14,500,000 gallons per square mile.

Boiling Water in a Paper Box.

Here are two tricks based upon the conducting power of metals, and the power of absorption of heat by water: One may take a small but powerful alcohol lamp and stand it on the table. An ordinary playing card with the edges bent up has a piece of lead about as large as a half a dollar put in the center. This card is then held directly over the flame of the lamp and in a few minutes the lead is melted and the card is not injured in the least.

The last and neatest experiment of all is to boil water in a paper box. A little paper box is folded as all school children know how, into a square box about an inch deep and two square. Cords are fastened to the corners and a piece of stick passed through so that it will hang perfectly level. Light the alcohol lamp and fill the little box with water and suspend it directly above the flame about three inches higher. In a few minutes the water will boil and send up a miniature cloud of steam without harm to the box. This requires some experience as to the proper distance it should be held from the flame, and it is well to have the lamp in a good-sized dish in case the performer should be careless enough to upset the box or a string pull out.

GEN. FORREST'S ABILITY.

Gen. Sherman Called Him the Greatest Man in the Civil War.

It is related of General Nathan Bedford Forrest that on one occasion a loquacious widow asked him why his beard was still black while his hair was turning gray. General Forrest answered that he could give no explanation unless that "he had used his brain a little more than his jaw." It was this quality that made General Forrest one of the greatest soldiers of his time, the soldier of whom General Sherman said: "After all, I think Forrest was the most remarkable man our civil war produced on either side. In the first place, he was uneducated, while Jackson and Sheridan and other brilliant leaders were soldiers by profession. He seemed always to know what I was doing or intended to do, while I am free to confess I could never tell or form any satisfactory idea of what he was trying to accomplish."

Lord Wolseley, commander of the British army, wrote of him: "Forrest had no knowledge of military science, nor of military history, to teach him how he should act. He was entirely ignorant of what other Generals in previous wars had done under very similar circumstances. What he lacked in book lore was to a large extent compensated for by the soundness of his judgment upon all occasions, and by his power of thinking and reasoning with great rapidity under fire. Inspired with true military instinct, he was verily nature's soldier. 'In war,' said Napoleon, 'men are nothing; a man is everything!' It will be difficult to find a stronger corroboration of this maxim than is to be found in the history of General Forrest's operations."

In the firm belief that General Forrest was one of the great military geniuses of the century, Dr. John Wyeth has prepared a biography, which is not only the record of Forrest's memorable and picturesque life, but also a comprehensible narrative of his dashing raids in the most important campaigns of the war.

Milking the Reindeer.

With a good deal of running, gesturing, and, shouting the herd was finally brought into the inclosure, only a few of the wildest animals escaping over the fell, past some of the little children. Rushing into the inclosure in an unbroken stream of more than a thousand animals, the herd did not cease running—the reindeer is always on the move, except at its regular resting times—but continued to circle against the sun. The reindeer in these circular motions always runs against the sun; if it runs with it it is a sign of disease of the brain. In the midst of the reindeer, leaping, bounding, and butting in a friendly way, while giving out their peculiar grunting sound, the picturesque figures of our Lapponian friends were seen, surrounded by a thicket of horns. Our hostess, having hung her baby to a birch in the middle of the inclosure, stood, like a number of other women, mostly girls, with a wooden scoop in her hand, ready to milk the first of the female reindeer caught; while at the outskirts of the inclosure stood a number of children with large pails to receive the milk from the scoops, the smaller children either running about playing outside the camp or giving salt and angelica to some of the tamest animals. The most important actors on the scene, however, were the men moving slowly about in the midst of the herd, holding the lasso behind their back in the right hand and looking sharply at the running animals.

As quick as lightning a lasso whizzed through the air, the frightened animals recoiling and then increasing their speed. When the lasso hit the mark the cow was hauled in, and tied to a birch while the milking was done. So they kept on for nearly two hours. The quantity of milk yielded by each animal is very small, at the most about a teacupful, but it is of very high nutritive quality. The milking, which is by no means regular, is done, if possible, once a day. In Winter time there is, of course, no milking. To prevent the calves from sucking their mothers pieces of bone are tied into their mouths, or the udders are besmeared with tar. Some of the Lapps consider it sinful to milk the reindeer, and thus deprive the calves of their food.—The Century.

Facts Known About the Body.

The idea that the body "changes" every seven years, or at any other period, is a popular delusion. It is only necessary to read any text book of physiology to find that life is really a constant series of changes, which proceed every minute one lives. Changes of chemical and physical kind are always going on within the body, and the very fact that one requires food daily is a proof of this. Another curious thing is the effect of heat on the body. If you were put in an oven and heated to 122 degrees Fahrenheit, all that portion of your blood called fibrinogen would clot. When you reached 145 degrees, many other elements of your body would grow as solid as hard-boiled egg. At 173 degrees the egg albumen of your blood and the muscle albumen would coagulate. At 178 degrees another form of body material called serum albumen would solidify. And at 185 degrees, considerably below the temperature of boiling water, your whole body would become as solid as a piece of wood.—New York Home Journal.

Lottery Luck.

"Donnelly had great luck in a lottery investment once. He bought $20 worth of tickets, and then, just the day before the drawing, he picked up another ticket out of the gutter. It was so soiled it was scarcely legible."

"And the ticket he found drew the big prize?"

"No, they didn't any of them draw prizes."—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

Why Moths Fly to Flames.

Moths fly against the candle flame because their eyes can bear only a small amount of light. When, therefore, they come within the light of a candle, their sight is overpowered and their vision confused, and as they cannot distinguish objects they pursue the light itself and fly against the flame.

The ordinary folding fan was invented in the seventh century by a Japanese artist, who derived the idea from watching a bat closing its wings.

HELP FOR IRELAND.

The Money That is Sent Home by the Irish in America.

The poor Irish boys who toil and sweat on the streets and in the mines and the poor Irish girls who are to be found in the kitchens from Connecticut to California, toil and sweat, and give of their flesh and their muscle and their spirit, that they may win the yellow gold which will keep the hearth warm and the meal-kist full at home, put a shawl on their mother, and a new coat on a father who has not known the luxury since he began the desperate struggle that the up-bringing of them, his children, demanded. The "Amirikay lether" comes daily to one house or other in each townland, is borne in in triumph and opened with joy, and the much-needed money order which it always contains is passed around the circle of hastily gathered neighbors, amid exclamations of joy and ejaculatory prayers for "poor Shusie among the sthrangers, may God bliss an' prosper her every day the sun dawns on her!"

It is difficult to estimate the proportion of Ireland's present-day prosperity which is the direct result of the wages earned by Irish boys and girls in America—but the proportion is much higher than is generally suspected. In the poorer parts of Ireland every family must wind up its nightly rosary with "wan pather-an-avvy now for poor Pathrick (or Shusie) in Amirikay. May Almighty God guard, guide and protect him; keep him from all sin and harm, parils and dangers; may he comfort his heart among the black sthranger, strengthen his arm, and prosper whatsomever he puts his hand till." And the murmurous pater and ave which in response rolls up straight from their pure and fervent hearts to God's throne ever seems to have been hearkened to.—Catholic World.

Kings and Presidents.

Napoleon, with a face as if it had been modeled from a Greek cameo, was never, in Talleyrand's judgment at all events, quite a gentleman. He gesticulated too much, and was altogether too violent for the correct taste of the great noble trained under the old regime. Perfection of body is not necessary either, for many misshapen men have been dignified even when they were not, like the Duc de Vendome, Princes of the Lilies in days when that distinction meant so much. Little men and wizened men have both inspired awe, for great soldiers trembled if Louis XIV. frowned, and no man received without weakened knees a rebuke from William III. The protruding under-lip of the Hapsburgs has never detracted from their majesty, and Victor Emanuel, who, for all his good manners, always suggested to the onlooker a bull face to face with the matador, was for all that every inch a King. It is a rare advantage, however, to one who learns ceremonial deportment late, to have a person like that of the late President Faure, and there are kinds of personal deficiency which seem fatal to the idea of dignity.

It is very difficult to think of lofty dignity accompanied by a bad squint, or to associate the idea with that kind of refous look which in ordinary men invariably suggests underbreeding. There is a redness which is full of dignity as well as grace—the Vikings were all red—but there is also a kind of redness which is unspeakably vulgar. "Distinguished" or not, all men in great positions, unless armored in legal powers or admitted intellectual supremacy, must to a certain extent pose, and if they possess from nature a fine bearing their task as posers is only rendered the more easy.—The Spectator.

Why He Had No Fish.

Four Galesburg followers of Izaak Walton sought the banks of the Spoon yesterday and tried all day to lure its finny tribe from its placid depths. They had some success, not much. The party included W. L. Steele, A. W. Truedson, R. G. Mathews, and F. R. Jelliff.

The fate which befell the latter fisherman is particularly sad. He had caught several small catfish, and had them anchored on a small string to the bank. All unexpected along came a water moccasin snake. The snake espied the captive fish and made for them. He seized the biggest one and tried to swallow it. It stuck in his throat.

The fisherman saw the snake of prey make its descent, and set up a howl that brought the rest of the party in a hurry. This all scared the moccasin, and he started out into the river with the fish in his mouth. The whole string followed him, and there they remained, and this fisherman came home without a bite in sight except that indicated by a mosquito.—Galesburg (Ill.) Mail.

Costly Fare for Ostriches.

There was a happening at the ostrich farm recently which disproves the theory that the ostrich is satisfied with eating nails, barbed wire, and the like. A man who had visited the farm the day before, discovered that his gold watch was missing. Thinking that he might have lost it at the farm, he returned to look for it. When he arrived he enlisted the services of a youth and started in quest, without entertaining much hope of finding the watch. About the first thing noticed by the youth was an ostrich tossing something in the air. It was the watch, and would have been swallowed if it had been a glass-faced watch. It happened that both sides were opened and it lodged in the beak. The next day the valuation of one of the birds was enhanced $50. It swallowed a diamond from the setting of a woman visitor, who inadvertently sought to console the bird by caressing its forehead.

A Child's Most Fascinating Age.

A London paper which is given to the propounding of problems for its readers to consider, undertook to start a discussion on the question as to what is a child's most fascinating age. "Fond Mother" promptly jumped into the arena with the emphatic assertion that the first twelve months is by far the most attractive period. Thereupon this retort appears: "From my point of view (and I suppose there are thousands of other tired men like myself) a child does not begin to fascinate worth a cent until it can do its own walking around the bedroom on cold nights without the assistance of its exasperated father."

FARMERS' BOYS AT COLLEGE

Two-fifths of the Students Are from the Agricultural Classes.

Some interesting figures as to the proportion of farmers' boys among college students have been gathered by the American Agriculturist. It has returns from 178 universities and colleges, reporting an attendance of 62,000 students, out of a total of 97,000 in all the higher educational institutions of the country. In its analysis of the figures the Agriculturist reduces the number of students considered to a little under 52,000, for some unexplained reason excluding, it says, a few city colleges, like Harvard, Pratt Institute, University of Rochester, Fisk University, and others. Out of this total of about 52,000 it finds that nearly 21,000 are from the agricultural classes, or a percentage of 40.02 from the farm. This percentage varies largely in different sections of the country. It is 50.9 in the South, 45.8 in the far West, 40.1 in the central West, 29.4 in the middle States, and 29.1 in New England. "In no other nation will any such condition be found," comments the Agriculturist. "It is a wonderful tribute to the general intelligence of our American farmers' families, and to the high hopes and deep aspirations of their sons and daughters. This exhibit adds mightily to the dignity of agriculture, at least in the eyes of the masses in other vocations."—Boston Globe.

Hospital for Animals at Bombay.

It is a large place, with many low buildings, one of which was pointed out to me as the sparrow house. Among the inmates of the hospital at the time of my visit were cattle, dogs, kittens, jackals, goats, poultry, gulls, and monkeys. Any sick or injured animal is taken there and fed and preserved. As to the extent and the character of the medical attendance I cannot speak; and certainly in one or two respects it seemed that the arrangements for the comfort of the pateints were capable of improvement. But no doubt in some ways an immense deal of suffering is saved by this benevolent institution, which takes us back to the days of the great Buddhist King Asoka, more than two thousand years ago, whose tender thought for the welfare of both men and animals is so marked in his stone-cut edicts. Besides animals that are sick and injured, those whose life is threatened are taken to the hospital. A pious Jain will buy off animals about to be killed and send them to this institution, where they are carefully preserved, and never by any chance parted with for money. In Benares a sort of hospital for cows has been started by Rajah Sivaprasad himself.

"I suppose," I said, "that a good Jain would not think of engaging in field sports?"

"Never!" replied the Rajah. "Neither a good Jain nor a bad one. He would be made an outcast if he did. In my own house not even snakes are killed, but only driven away."

"Are the Jains always vegetarians?"

"Yes, always. And, more than that, we endeavor to avoid even green vegetables, under the idea that cutting the plant may hurt it. Our diet, as far as possible, is dry vegetable food. We would not needlessly pick a leaf from a tree lest the tree should possibly feel pain."—Nineteenth Century.

The Chinese Almanac

The Chinese Almanac is the most largely circulated publication issued annually in the world, the number of copies printed and sold yearly reaching several millions. It is printed at Pekin, and is a monopoly of the Emperor, no other almanac being permitted to be sold. Although containing reliable astronomical information, its chief mission is to give full and accurate information regarding the selection of lucky places for performing all the acts, great and small, of every-day life. And, as every act of life in China, however trivial, depends for its success on the time in which and the direction (point of compass) toward which, it is done, it is of the utmost importance that every one should have correct information at all times as to avoid bad luck and calamity, and secure good luck and prosperity. So great is the native faith in its infallibility that not long since the Chinese Minister to Germany refused to sail on a day which had been appointed because it was declared in the almanac to be —The night school of the Plainfield Business College, A. A. Phelps, president, will open next Tuesday evening.

—There will be a meeting of John Hand Camp, No. 28, S. of V., next week Tuesday evening, the first since early summer.

—Residents of Watchung avenue are beginning to wonder when that avenue, between North avenue and Second street, is to be macadamized.

—At the meeting of Martha Washington Council, No. 23, D. of A., next Tuesday evening, it is expected that some of the State officers will be present.

—Next Monday the G. A. R. National convention will open in Philadelphia and continue for a few days. A large number of Plainfielders will attend.

—The work of macadamizing East Second and Richmond streets along the line of the trolley is progressing favorably and the contractors are doing a good job.

—Randolph has a new and delicious drink which he is prepared to serve at his fountain. It is called Massadon. Mr. Randolph believes it will become one of the most popular soda syrups which he has ever handled.

—The Travelers' Insurance Company, of Hartford, Conn., paid the following claims during August through their agent, W. V. Mundy: Charles H. Schermerhorn, $24; Miss Vroom, $42; B. Schrimer, $7.71; J. Smith, $42.

—C. E. Gulick & Co., the Park grocers, opened their new store, corner of Lincoln place and Duer street, this morning, and a great many people were attracted to the place, where they found everything arranged in an up-to-date style.

—Danish Lutheran services will be held Thursday, Sept. 7th, in the German Lutheran church on Grove street, instead of Monday, at 8 o'clock and the Holy Communion will be administered. Rev. C. Mengers will officiate.

THE BOROUGH COUNCIL.

the Board of Education was perfectly willing to use electric light poles if possible. The mater will be attended to by the fire, water and lamp committee.

Mr. Burtis offered a resolution appropriating $59 for a new bicycle purchased for Chief Marshal Campbell. Mr. Valiant objected and stated that he thought the consent of the Council should have been secured before the wheel was purchased. Mayor Smalley said that he was responsible for the act, that in the absence of the chairman of the committee on license and marshals he had purchased the wheel and had had the old one repaired so that one marshal could be mounted in the evening and thus do as much work as two men on foot. The action of the Mayor was confirmed.

Mayor Smalley called the attention of Mr. Clark, chairman of the street committee, to the fact that the gas and water companies had of late opened up several streets in the borough to lay pipes and had forgot to put the streets back in as good condition as when they found them. He asked Mr. Clark to see that the companies be brought to terms. It was also reported that the electric light company had not been giving as good service as usual, and several lights were reported out. In connection with this the proper amount will be deducted from the next electric light bill.

Mr. Coddington reported a bad condition in the road on Somerset street in front of the Mayor's house where a pipe is projecting out of the ground. He said that a few nights ago a woman riding a bicycle ran into this pipe and was thrown from her wheel, and narrowly escaped severe injury. This matter will be attended to promptly. This concluded the business and the Council adjourned.

Blind Evangelist to Lead.

Rev. Thomas Houston, the blind evangelist, of Elizabeth, will again conduct the men's meeting at the Y. M. C. A. tomorrow afternoon at 4:15 o'clock.

A ROYAL BATTLE

Spider and Hornet in a Scientific Fight.

There was a fight in the yard of a house on Germantown avenue, says a Philadelphia paper, between a spider and a hornet about which a privileged crowd of spectators went wild. There were no cries of fake, for the fight was to a finish. True, the contestants disregarded Marquis of Queensbury rules and fought under the unsportsmanlike regulations of the old London prize ring, but the affair was pulled off without the knowledge of the police and there was no interference.

The scrap started by the hornet getting tangled up in the spider's web. The spectators were drawn by the loud buzz of the hornet made in trying to escape, and they started jeering the spider because that wary beast stayed in his corner.

"Time" was called again and again. "Poke him up," suggested somebody finally, but hardly were the words spoken when the spider darted out. The fight was on. Betting five to four on hornet on account of heavier weight and longer reach.

Round 1—The hornet jabs with his sting, but the blow falls short. Spider very nimble on his feet. Makes a rush but well met by hornet, who swats him with a wing hook. Fiddling in the centre, both watching for an opening. The spider goes to his corner. End of round 1. Betting even, with few backers of hornet. It was the spider's round.

Round 2—Spider rushes at opponent, who, as before, rears and strikes. Again the spider, by clever footwork, eludes the blow. The spider by his quickness makes the hornet look like a novice, but if the hornet lands one blow it is all over. Both hesitate to mix it up, and the crowd jeer. Round in hornet's favor, if anything. Betting brisk at even money.

Round 3—Hornet comes up laboring heavily. Spider dances around him, but will not mix it up. Suddenly rushes in and lands a beautiful blow on the head, jarring the hornet. Breaks away before the hornet, who is growing weaker, can return. Another rush follows. Both mix it up heavily, the spider trying to land the finishing blow. Hornet fighting grandly. All over. The spider has just jabbed sting in solar plexus, the hornet gives a few convulsive struggles, falls and lies still. He is counted out and then eaten by his victor.

There was much dissatisfaction among the backers of the hornet, who declared that if their fvorite had not been drugged in the first place he would never have entered the web. Referee decides bets must be paid, however.

A Narrow Escape.

Thankful words written by Mrs. Ada E. Hart, of Groton, S. D. "Was taken with a bad cold which settled on my lungs; cough set in and finally terminated in Consumption. Four Doctors gave me up, saying I could live but a short time. I gave myself up to my Savior, determined if I could not stay with my friends on earth, I would meet my absent ones above. My husband was advised to get Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, Coughs and Colds. I gave it a trial, took in all eight bottles. It has cured me, and thank God, I am saved and now a well and healthy woman." Trial bottles free at L. W. Randolph's Drug Store. Regular size 50c, and $1.00. Guaranteed or price refunded.

SWIFT CYCLE RIDERS IN A 15-MILE RACE

The Course Was Over County Road Westfield to Fanwood.

1,000 PEOPLE WITNESSED IT.

RAY POOLE TIED WITH EMBLETON FOR SECOND TIME PRIZE.

Peter Simmons, the Speedy Colored Rider, Broke His Pedal and Was Practically Put Out of the Race—A. R Greene, of Plainfield, Finished Second—Thirty-eight Riders Faced the Starter.

The first annual fifteen-mile road race run over the Westfield-Fanwood course took place yesterday afternoon and proved a decided success. Forty-four men were entered but only thirty-eight faced the starter.

Although the race was advertised to take place at 2:30 o'clock it was five minutes past three when the limit men, who were given five minutes handicap, were set out on their fast journey. They were Herbert Burdock, William Hyslip and Frank Ricardo, of Westfield.

Although the course was lined by about one thousand people, all near the starting point in Westfield, the course was kept pretty clear and only one man was hurt, Louie Miller, of Westfield, but he recovered his place and won third prize. Peter Simmons, of Plainfield, who rode from the fifteen minute mark with Ray Poole, also of Plainfield, broke a peddle and dropped away back. He finished, although he was so far back that his time time was not taken.

Jack Townsend, of Cranford, and Frank L Apgar, of Madison, the last by request, were placed on scratch. Townsend rode a great race and succeeded in getting the time prize. Charles Embleton and Charles LaMatty, who now holds the silver cup which is the first prize in a series of races being run off at Scotch Plains, started from the thirty-minute mark and swapped pace in a pretty fashion, Embleton tieing Poole, of Plainfield, for the second prize. LaMatty came in two seconds behind.

A. R. Greene, of Plainfield, starting from the two and a half minute mark, surprised his friends by finishing second. Hummer, of Plainfield, who got third prize at Westfield on the Fourth of July, had a handicap of one minute but failed to finish.

The officials of the race were: Referee, Dr. Fred A. Kinch, local counsel of the L. A. W.; starter, Joseph Vought; handicapper, R. M. Stickle; timers, John F. Dorvall, Addison Clark, Isaac Seeley; judges, William Bogert, Jr., Fred. Condit, William Goltra, George Sorter, Oliver Collins; clerk of the course, William K. Embleton; marshal, John M. C. Marsh. The race was arranged and run under the direction of William K. Embleton and William Goltra.

The first thirteen men to finish and their times are given below:

William Hyslip, Westfield	42:10
A. R. Greene, Plainfield	40:35
Louie Miller, Westfield	42:10
Herbert Burdock, Westfield	43:.6
Charles Vandeerveer, Cranford	42:06:30
James O'Donnell, Westfield	42:17
William TenEyck, Madison	40:48
Charles Embleton, Westfield	39:40
Charles LaMatty, Westfield	39:42
J. A. LePine, Morristown	41:45
A. S. Swartout, Newark	41:52
Ray Poole, Plainfield	39:40

The prizes, which were delivered to the winners directly after the race, were: First, time, Spalding bicycle; second, time, pair of tires; first, place, gold watch; second, silver watch; third, camera; fourth, set of boxing gloves; fifth, necktie case; sixth, sweater.

ORATORY WAS HIS FORTE.

But a Policeman Interrupted the Talk and Took Orator to Jail.

Thomas Cullen lives just outside of Morristown. Ordinarily he is an inoffensive farmhand. Occasionally on holidays he has a habit of going off on a spree. That's what he did Labor Day and brought up in Plainfield.

Special Officer Mattox found him on West Third street yesterday afternoon, entertaining the crowd with speeches just overflowing with remarkable exhibitions of oratory. Mattox brought him down to the city jail where Cullen remained until this morning. He was arraigned before the City Judge who suspended sentence after Cullen promised to swear off on the next holiday.

—One hundred and fifty baskets of choice canning peaches will be on sale at Neuman Brothers tomorrow. Prices are lower than ever.

STRUCK BY LIGHTNING.

HAIR-RAISING EXPERIENCE THAT JOSEPH THYS WENT THROUGH.

Came Within a Few Feet of Being the Fatal Spot Where the Bolt Landed—As it Was He Was Badly Dazed by the Shock

Joseph Thys, of Terrell road, near Scotch Plains, had an experience with a thunder bolt during the heavy shower Sunday night, which he will never forget, Mr. Thys had retired early, not feeling well, shortly before the heavy shower at 11 o'clock. He felt so bad that he arose and sat on the side of the bed. Suddenly, as Mr. Thys tells the story, he heard a report as though one hundred cannons had gone off in his room, and all about him were balls of fire, snapping and spitting. He was thrown back upon the bed unconscious and remained so for a number of minutes. When he came to he was unable to help himself or realize what had happened. After a few minutes he collected his shattered thoughts.

As soon as he began moving about he found chimney soot and splinters. An investigation of the attic found the place where the bolt had wrought the most havoc and came near ending his existence, for only six feet above where he had been sitting a large rafter of the building was splintered into a thousand pieces and three lengths of the shingles from the peak to the gutters had been cut out as clean as though done by a carpenter. The bolt passed out of the house and caught a wire, which had been stretched over the top of a picket fence. It followed the fence for over seventy-five yards splitting pickets and post in its mad flight, at the end of the fence, the bolt was lost. Whether it had spent its force or not is not known. There is no signs in the ground of where it could have struck.

LAMP EXPLODED.

Accident Occurred in Room Occupied by Joseph Bolden—Flames Caused $300 Loss.

A lamp in a rear bedroom on the second floor of 539 West Fourth street, exploded and set fire to the house Sunday evening, and caused damage to the amount of $500 before the flames could be extinguished. The house is owned by Albert Wilson, colored, who occupies all but one room on the second floor. That room is rented to Joseph Bolden, colored coachman for W. J. Roome, of Sycamore avenue.

Sunday night a lamp was left burning in the room. The men of the household went to church while the women gathered in the parlor downstairs. Patrolman McCarty was passing along Liberty street and discovered the fire by the smoke. He sent in an alarm from box 34, corner Liberty and West Fifth streets.

The loss to the house will reach $300, which is covered by $1,200 insurance. Wilson's furniture was damaged to the amount of $100. His insurance was $500. Bolden suffered a like loss to his furniture. His insurance was $300.

OFFICER FLANAGAN'S SNAKE.

One of Huge Dimensions Killed in His Garden, But He Believes There's More.

A large black snake was killed in the garden in the rear of the residence of Officer Patrick Flanagan last Tuesday. The reptile was beheaded by Henry Powlison, a neighbor, who saw the varmint crawling to a place of safety. Mr. Powlison says the snake was fully three feet long and had the appearance of still growing. Officer Flanagan, however, says that the snake was larger than that, fully—well, the officer's reputation for truth and veracity is too well known to question, so the dimensions of the snake will be left to the imagination of the reader. "By me faith," said the officer in telling an acquaintance about his snakeship, "there's another there. Where there's one there's always another."

"You see, it's this way," continued Mr. Flanagan, becoming confidential, "I've a fine garden, or did have until the weeds got the best of me, and since I had the hay fever I'm afraid to go out there. I believe the mate to that snake is in among those weeds, and by the good St. Patrick, who banished the toads and snakes from Ireland, I'll not have any peace until the crathur is chased out. Why, the women folks are as scared as I am and about all they talk of is that snake." The person who will kill the other snake or convince the officer that there's none left in the garden will confer an everlasting favor upon the faithful bluecoat.

ATTACKED BY A TRAMP.

EXCITING EXPERIENCE OF THOMAS ROGERS ON STONY HILL ROAD.

He Drew His Jackknife and Tramp Thought it was a Gun—Washingtonville Residents are Looking for Tramps.

A thrilling encounter between Thos. Rogers, of Highland Farm, and a tramp with some bad tendencies, Sunday evening, has aroused the inhabitants of Washingtonville to the realization that there are certain characters in the neighborhood that are not needed. Consequently the appearance of this tramp or any of his kind will be apt to meet with prompt action that may not be so pleasing for the tramp.

Sunday evening Rogers was at Berkeley Heights and started to walk home late that evening. He came by the Stony Hill road and had reached a particularly dark spot when he was suddenly confronted by a man. In the darkness the man had the appearance of a tramp.

"I want your money," growled the stranger. Rogers made a dive in his pocket and drew forth a huge jackknife. In the faint light the steel flashed. Rogers pointed it at the man and briefly remarked, "You git."

The tramp evidently thought it was a revolver for he fled without further question and disappeared in the darkness ahead. A quarter of a mile on Rogers again encountered the tramp. He still carried the jackknife and again pointed it at the stranger. The man dove into the bushes with a yell, and from that shelter began a bombardment of Rogers with rocks.

Rogers decided not to wait and left the scene as fast as his legs could carry him. One of the rocks struck his shoulder and glanced off, causing a painful bruise. He was otherwise uninjured.

A CYCLIST HURTS ANOTHER.

Paterson Man Run Into by a Man Riding at Fast Speed—His Injuries are Serious.

(Special to The Daily Press.)

Westfield, September 5.—George F. Askew, of 760 East Twenty-second street, Paterson, lies in Ward's Hotel suffering with several wounds on the head as a result of an accident late yesterday afternoon. Askew had been watching the fifteen-mile road race here and started for home. When near the Mountainside Hotel he overtook a carriage. He pulled to the left to pass the carriage when a rider going in the opposite direction, who was on his side of the road, shot into Askew at a twenty-mile an hour pace. Askew was thrown to the ground and when the occupants of the carriage could get to him he was unconscious. In his pocket was found a letter which identified him. He was removed to Ward's Hotel and Dr. J. B. Harrison was called. After making an examination the doctor would not allow him to removed to his home and his wife was sent for.

CAME HOME VICTORS.

Plainfield Juniors Showed Up Well in the Field Day Games at Waverly Park

At the field-day exercises held at Waverly yesterday under the auspices of the Jr. O. U. A. M., Franklin Council, of this city, came in for a share of the prizes. They won the tug-of-war by default, the other team not showing up. In the cycle race of five-men teams they secured second place, winning a silver set. The Orient team of Scotch Plains came in first. They also won the baseball game and a handsome rug. They played two games. The first resulted in a score of 14 to 0 in favor of Franklin Council, and they won the next game by a score of 5 to 1.

JOHN F. DRYDEN'S PURCHASE.

Adds a Bit to His Property at Bernardsville and May Buy More.

Among the many fine homes built on Mine Mount, Somerset county, there are none to surpass the elegant and spacious dwelling of John F. Dryden, of Newark. Adjoining Mr. Dryden's residence on the southeast is the home of Colonel George B. Post, of New York. Colonel Post owns 1,000 acres of land on Mine Mount, much of it adjoining the Dryden property. On the southwest portion of this property is a pretty cottage, originally a farmhouse, and fitted up by Colonel Post several years ago as the summer home of his son, William S. Post and his bride. Mr. Dryden has purchased this property of Colonel Post, his intentions being to straighten the Dryden line.

There is also talk of Mr. Dryden purchasing the present residence of Colonel Post. In that event Colonel Post would build a stone mansion upon a site that he selected and planted with trees for that purpose twenty-five yeas ago.

LABOR DAY GOLF AT PARK CLUB LINKS

Silver Cup Was Won by Wm. A. Townsend.

HIGH SCORES WERE MADE.

ANDERSON AND TAYLOR MET FOR FIRST TIME THIS SEASON.

Play for McCutchen Cup Was Continued Saturday Afternoon—First Honor Won by W. de la R. Anderson—Labor Day Was Great Day for Golf—Many Players Took Part in the Tournament.

Labor Day saw a large crowd at the course of the Park Golf Club. In the morning the links were crowded with members and their friends in matches and individual play. The event of yesterday was the competition in the afternoon for the Labor Day Cup, a handsome silver trophy. It was a men's handicap, eighteen holes, medal play, open to active and associate members only.

The cup was won by Wm. A. Townsend, with a net score of 98, while Geo. C. Worth had just one stroke more. The competition was marked by very poor playing all around, particularly on the part of the cracks.

Owing to the heavy rain of Sunday night the course was quite slow. The weather, however, was simply perfect for golf, except for the rather high wind that blew all day.

For the first time this season W. de la R. Anderson and Fred P. Taylor, who are considered the best players of the club, met on the course and played in the same tournament. They made their rounds together. Both were way off their usual form, so the meeting by no means decided the question of superiority. Taylor made his eighteen holes in 113, while Anderson finished in 119, his first round 63 and his second 56. An all-powerful hoodoo floated over them from the very start. There was hardly a hazard on the whole course that they didn't manage to get into somehow. Anderson lost eleven strokes as penalties in the first round and Taylor nine. The second round was nearly as bad.

Naturally neither was very able to get near the head of the list. In the play between them for the eighteen holes, Taylor won at match play one up. Medal play, he was six strokes ahead.

Meredith Dryden failed to put up his usual game. It was expected that Gifford W. Cooley and E. T. Douglass would carry everything before them. They started off together with the avowed purpose of not only winning the tournament but also defeating "Colonel Bogey." But alas for their expectations, the greens committee is still waiting for them to add up their scores.

Will Townsend won the cup by careful and steady play. He and his father were really the only ones anywhere near up to their usual form.

The scores were as follows:

	Gross.	Handicap.	Net.
William A. Townsend	114	16	98
George C. Worth	129	30	99
Samuel Townsend	124	18	106
Charles Dupee	119	10	109
Volney F. Green	129	18	111
Fred P. Taylor	113	0	113
L. A. Grace	123	10	113
Clarence L. Murphy	144	30	114
Meredith Dryden	127	12	115
J. T. Scott	138	22	116
W. de la R. Anderson	119	0	119
Aug. VanDeventer	153	30	123

Those who entered but failed to hand in scores were Gifford W Cooley, Edwin T. Douglass, W. J. R. Thiers and Arthur Murphy.

Six competitors turned out Saturday afternoon to play in the weekly contest for the Mrs. C. W. McCutchen Cup. The day was not by any means an ideal one for the sport, and only the most determined golfers were in evidence. The playing all around was poor and high scores were the order of the afternoon. Anderson was not up to his usual standard, but wasn't quite as bad as the others, and carried off low score for the afternoon with 102.

Meredith Dryden played, but his score wasn't turned in. His form was poor, and he met a run of hard luck that was hard to equal. G. W. Cooley finished second for the day with 108 net, playing round with Anderson. Dryden and Volney F. Green were companions in misery. Morgan T. Townsend was not at his best, but nevertheless managed to win third place by one stroke, scoring his first point in the tournament.

Anderson now leads in the competition for the McCutchen Cup with 12½. Dryden fell back from first to second place and is just half a point ahead of Cooley. There were no other changes in the order of competitors except that Townsend is now a competitor, tieing with Augustus VanDeventer for nineteenth place.

The scores handed in for the cup Saturday afternoon were as follows:

	Gross.	Handicap.	Net.
W. de la R. Anderson	102	0	102
G. W. Cooley	117	9	108
Morgan T. Townsend	120	7	113

The official standing of the candidates for the cup follows:

W. de la R. Anderson	12½
Meredith Dryden	10½
Gifford W. Cooley	10
Charles E. Faber	7
G. W. Faber	6
Samuel Townsend	4½
E. T. Douglass	3½
H. D. Hibbard	3½
Geo. T. Rogers	3
Arthur Peck	3
Fred P. Taylor	2½
R. S. Squires	2½
Wm. A. Townsend	2½
A. B. Laing	2
Volney F. Green	2
W. J. R. Thiers	2
Fred S. Overton	1½
Clarence S. Roome	1½
Morgan T. Townsend	1
Augustus VanDeventer	1
C. W. McCutchen	½
W. R. Faber	½

FRESH AIR CAMP CLOSED.

Closing Service Held Yesterday Afternoon—Plainfielders Took a Prominent Part.

The closing afternoon service of the Westfield Fresh Air Camp last Sunday afternoon at 4 o'clock drew together a very large attendance from this city, Westfield, Cranford and Roselle. The exercises were in charge of George E. Wolfe, president of the camp association. Among the speakers were Arthur N. Pierson, first vice-president of the association, Rev. Ernest L. Fox, of New York, Miss Sara Curry, matron of the camp.

The yearly report of Lawrence A. Clark, treasurer of the association, was submitted. It showed the current year to have been the most successful.

The musical portion of the exercises included the Christian Endeavor choir from the Park Avenue Baptist church of city, consisting of Mrs. W. S. Lowry, Miss Adelia Runyon, Miss Ada Runyon, Miss Florence G. Hawkins, Miss Myra Runyon, Miss Henrietta Cuming, Miss Adelaide Runyon, W. S. Lowry, L. A. Cuming.

The evening service closed the gospel meetings at the camp for 1899.

DEPENDENT ON OTHERS.

A Native of Ireland Succumbed to Consumption in City Industrial Home.

John Murphy, aged 31 years, a native of Ireland, and a resident of Plainfield for eighteen years, died Sunday evening at the City Industrial Home of hasty consumption. He was a tailor and in partnership with Charles Frey. He was taken to the Home a week ago, and his death was expected at any time. He was single and has a brother, Edward Murphy, of 931 Arlington avenue. The funeral services will be held from the brother's home tomorrow morning at 7:30 o'clock at 8 o'clock from St. Mary's church. Interment will be at St. Mary's Cemetery.

DIDN'T TURN IN $80.

William Widdeman, a Driver for Frank Linke, Has Suddenly Disappeared.

William Widdeman, a driver and collector for Frank Linke, wholesale liquor dealer, left suddenly Saturday night. He failed to turn in some $80 that he had collected during the day. After leaving the horse and wagon in the stable he disappeared and has not been seen since. He has been in the employ of Mr. Linke for several years.

O.D VETS AT PHILADELPHIA.

Many Plainfielders Attend the National Encampment of G. A. R.

Since last Sunday there has been departing from the city members of the G. A. R. and Woman's Relief Corps. Neither organization went in a body, but a number individually decided to attend the National Convention in Philadelphia. Any number of special trains have been running over the Central road since last Saturday carrying veterans from near and distant points. Today the great parade occured and many went to the Quaker City to witness it. Others will remain during the week.

From Waiter to Teacher.

Horace Ash, who for several months has been a waiter at McVey's Hotel, has returned to his home in the south, where he will resume his position, that of a school teacher. Mr. Ash generally comes north in the summer and secures employment of some kind to help him keep himself and family, and during the fall and winter he teaches school. He is highly educated and served a term of two years in the Legislature of Virginia.

Trolley Franchise to Come Up.

The regular September meeting of the Common Council will be held this evening, when the application of the Plainfield Street Railway Company for a franchise to locate a trolley on Arlington avenue, will come up for consideration.

J. S. Hobbs and family, of Pearl street, have returned from their outing at the seashore.

S. D. DRAKE RESENTS ASPERSIONS CAST ON HIS METHODS.

Asks to Have a Committee From Labor Federation Look Into the Charge Made That He is Nothing But a "Land Shark."

The offer of S. D. Drake of this city to assist in the establishment of a home at Lincoln for Union workingmen, has stirred up a breeze in labor circles. At a recent meeting of the State Federation of Labor, held at Orange, a letter was read from Mr. Drake, which refuted some statements alleged to have been made by Delegate George Gehling of the Buffers' and Polishers' Union, who had referred to Drake as a "land shark, looking to his own advantage and using the home as a bait." Mr. Drake takes exceptions to the statements contained in the letter, and asks that a committee be sent to Lincoln to prove that he is sincere in his offer. The reading of the letter precipitated a hot discussion. There were a number of delegates who did not hesitate to also air their views of Drake's methods of doing business. Delegate Gottlob of the Typographical Union said that if the charges against Drake were true they should be substantiated, while if they were not he believed that the Federation should do justice to Drake. After considerable discussion it was the sense of the convention that a delegate should be sent to Lincoln to investigate the charges. Delegate Corry was selected.

FROLIC OF THE GERMANS.

Picnic Held at Emery's Pleasure Garden—Turning by the Athletic Section.

The Plainfield Gesang and Turn Verein held a picnic and summer nights festival yesterday afternoon and evening at Emery's pleasure garden, Scotch Plains, and there was a large crowd in attendance. The festivities commenced at 2 o'clock in the afternoon and continued until late last evening. The features were dancing, turning by members of the athletic section of the society and music by the singing section under the direction of Prof. Eichorn, of Elizabeth. Music was furnished by Prof. Wendell's orchestra, of Bound Brook. The committee in charge that made the affair a success consisted of M. Menzenbach, Herman Klinsman, Lawrence Fahn, Chas. Myers, Sr., Charles Myers, Jr., Julius Sink and Augustus Wolfe.

KNIGHTS' FIELD DAY.

Trinity Commandery, Accompanied by Queen City Band, Attended the Event at Asbury Park.

Twenty-eight Knights Templar from Trinity Commandery, of this city, turned out yesterday morning to go to Asbury Park, where they took part in the annual field day of the Knights Templar of the State. The grand officers were present and 500 Knights from all over the State. The Trinity Commandery party stopped at the The Windmere. They took part in the parade and the review that followed. Queen City Band, of this city, accompanied them. They left yesterday morning on the 8:13 train for Elizabethport, where they changed for the Park. They returned in the evening.

TO CHASE OUT FREE LODGERS.

One Captured by Police and He Discloses Names of Others.

There has been a number of characters who make it a habit of sleeping in an old shed along the race way in the rear of French's mill. The police visited there last night and found Isaac Oleman there. He was arrested and locked up for the night. This morning he promised City Judge Runyon to keep away from there in the future and told the names of the other regular lodgers at the shed. The police intend to break up the habit.

HAIR WAS PULLED.

Jealous Woman Fought Tiger-like Over a Man at Scotch Plains.

Scotch Plains in the past has endeavored disgraceful fights in the streets between men, but Saturday night about 11:30 o'clock two members of the gentle sex became engaged in an altercation over a man, and in a few minutes their was a great deal of hair pulling and scratching done. The combatants were separated and spirited away towards Plainfield upon the trolley car.

To Enter a Broker's Office.

Thomas U. Smith, of Westervelt avenue, has resigned his position with M. C. VanArsdale, the East Front street shoe dealer. He will take a position later in a broker's office in New York. Louis Bruker, an experienced young man from Bordentown, this State, will take his place.

FALL GOLF SEASON AT HILLSIDE CLUB.

It Opened In a Successful Manner Yesterday Afternoon.

MANY PLAYERS ON LINKS.

COURSE IN GOOD CONDITION AND WEATHER JUST RIGHT.

The Principal Event Was the Play for the Golf Committee Cup, the Contest Being Narrowed Down to Messrs Andrews and Henderson, the Former Finally Winning—Many of the Fair Sex Were Present.

The fall season at golf opened very auspiciously yesterday on the links of the Hillside Tennis and Golf Club and the delightful weather brought the enthusiasts out in large numbers. As most of the members have been away for the summer they all appreciated the opportunity to again visit the grounds and resume play. The grounds were found to be in the best of condition, making good scores possible, and the weather was just cool enough to put plenty of vim in the players. The event of the day was the play for the golf committee cup and a goodly number of entries were received.

Despite the fact that most of the players are out of practice they made fine scores, although the course record was not broken. The contest narrowed down to F. H. Andrews and A. G. Henderson. In the morning these two players made a tie score, 83, and in the afternoon it was played off. Mr. Andrews succeeded in winning the cup, but with a higher score, 87, while his opponent scored 89 net. The play was very exciting and several times it was nip and tuck as to who would win out.

A feature of the day was the presence of many of the best players in the club. They went at the game with their old time vigor and enjoyed their return to the game after a vacation. There was a large number of women present at the club and many social features were enjoyed. In the evening many remained for dinner and thoroughly enjoyed the many advantages offered by the management. Truly, it was a grand day for golf and its devotees, and there is promise of many such days and a glorious season of golf for those who enjoy this popular game. The scores made yesterday in the contest follow:

	Gross.	Handicap.	Net.
F. H. Andrews	113	30	83
A. G. Henderson	103	20	83
F. O. Talmadge	92	6	86
Morris Dumont	94	8	86
Miss VanHerwerden	116	30	86
C. L. Runyon	105	18	87
D. H. Barrows	112	25	87
W. L. Glenney	89	0	89
R. F. Murray	110	20	90
R. M. Shepard	100	10	90
E. T. Barrows	120	30	90
J. F. Murray	114	23	91
D. W. Taylor	117	20	97
J. H. VanBuren	115	18	97
Owen Fleming	109	10	99
Miss Andrews	127	25	102
E. J. Waring	116	10	106

MILK GOING UP.

Newark Wholesalers Notified of a Half-Cent Raise.

The five States Dairy Association has notified the wholesalers of cities of an increase of half a cent a quart on milk. The producers have been accustomed to furnish milk to the creameries at from 2 to 3½ cents a quart, and about October, it is said, they will demand 4 cents a quart.

If they succeed in pressing their demands so that the acceptance of the terms by the retailers becomes necessary, the local dealers say the price to the consumers must necessarily be advanced.

The association controls 15,000 cans a day, amounting to 600,000 quarts.

MRS. NANKIN'S REMAINS INTERRED.

Her Orphan Children to Be Given a Home By Their Uncle.

The late Mrs. Margaret A. Nankin, who died very suddenly Monday, Aug. 28th, and whose body was embalmed, awaiting word from her relatives, who all reside in Canada, was buried in her lot at Hillside Saturday afternoon, following the funeral services, which were held at her late residence, 330 Carleton avenue. Rev. C. E. Herring officiated, assisted by Rev. Frederick D. Tildon. The uncle, Thomas Link, who arrived in town Saturday in time for the services, will give the orphan children a good home on the family estate at Chelsea, Canada.

Carrier Pigeons Released.

A basket of carrier pigeons from Paterson were released at the railroad station this morning about 10 o'clock by the U. S. Express Company.

—The display of peaches at Neuman Brothers this morning was one of the handsomest ever seen in town. The fruit is at its best now.

—The vacation season has been a trying one on your children's stockings. Peck can re-stocking them at once.

PRESIDENT IS INTERESTED.

Is Favorably Impressed With Dr. Schurman's Ideas on Philippines Situation.

REMARKABLE COUNTRY.

No Report From Commission to be Submitted Until All the Members Reach Washington.

Cabinet Asks That Schurman Make Public a Preliminary Statement of His Observations—Says Islands Would Prove Very Valuable to United States.

Washington, Sept. 5.—President McKinley has become much interested in Dr. Schurman's description of his observations in the Philippines, and there will be another conference at the White House between the President, Secretary Hay and Dr. Schurman. There has been no written report from the Philippine Commission submitted, nor has Dr. Schurman, as president of the commission, filed any written statement of his investigations. From data in his possession, he has described the situation as it impressed him, and he has indicated to the President the magnitude of undertaking the government of the Philippines. He thinks that it is a remarkable country, the vast domain of which will prove very valuable to the United States.

It is certain that no written report from the Commission will be submitted until every member reaches Washington. It is intended, however, that a full report from the Commission and an individual report from every member shall be in the possession of the President before Congress convenes. It will then be submitted to Congress for action. President Schurman proposes to await the arrival of Admiral Dewey before beginning work on his individual report. Professor Worcester and Col. Denby will leave Manila within a few weeks for the United States and are expected in Washington before Nov. 1. It is not improbable that Gen. Otis will also come back to the United States to be present at the meeting of the Commission which will be held in Washington some time in November. As to this however, nothing definite has been determined, and should Gen. Otis rmain at Manila, he will forward his individual report embodying his views on the conditions in the islands and his suggestions for a government of the country.

With the complete reports of the Commission and its members in his possession, together with the data they have collected, President McKinley will submit to Congress a message transmitting the whole subject to Congress for action, looking to the establishment of a government for the Philippines.

The regular meeting of the Cabinet was attended by all the members except Secretary Long, who is out of the city. It was devoted almost entirely to an account of Dr. Schurman's observations in the Philippines, as recalled by the President and Secretary Hay from the White House conference of last Saturday evening. It was agreed that Dr. Schurman should be asked to prepare a special statement regarding his work at the head of the Philippine Commission to be made public within a few days. This will be independent of the report of the Commission which will be made later. The object of the forthcoming statement is to remove as much misapprehension as possible in the public mind regarding affairs in the Philippines and to present the situation just as it appeared to Dr. Schurman, who had excellent means of observation.

Whole Crew May Be Lost.

Buffalo, N. Y., Sept. 5.—A Goderich (Ont.) special says:—The schooner Lisgar, of Toronto, has been lost about sixty miles from here. She was in tow of the steamer Clinton, bound for Depot Harbor and loaded with coal from Buffalo. The loss is total, she having gone down under stress of weather. It is feared the crew are all lost. Captain Freeman, of St. Catherine's, was in charge of the Lisgar.

Storm in Massachusetts.

Worcester, Mass., Sept. 5.—One of the most destructive electrical storms for years has visited this city and county. Reports indicate that the greatest damage was done in the county towns. In Leicester a barn was burned to the ground. Several fires were started in Millbury, Charlton and Paxton. The damage in the city was mostly caused by the rain.

All Prisoners Accounted For.

Toledo, Ohio, Sept. 5.—Sheriff Stager has succeeded in capturing and accounting for all the jail breakers who escaped here a few months ago. Joe Dunn, alias Williams, has just been captured at Sarnia, Ont., and Henry Duplanty was shot and killed at St. Paul de la Croix, in Quebec, while robbing a priest's residence.

Letter Carriers Meet at Scranton.

Scranton, Pa., Sept. 5.—The National Convention of the Letter Carriers' Association was formally opened here with a parade in which nearly 5,000 men, representing branches in all parts of the country, participated. The big delegations in line were those from New Yorkk, Philadelphia and Brooklyn, which together sent 3,000 men with bands of music.

They Beat the Faro Game.

Spokane, Sept. 5.—Harry E. Green's faro bank in the heart of the city was entered by masked robbers, who compelled all present to hold up their hands. They got $1,800. Ten policemen chased the robbers. One bluecoat was shot. The others caught one of the fugitives.

Briton Buys Wagons.

Toledo, O., Sept. 5.—Colonel H. Bunbury, of the English army, is here to purchase wagons from the Milburn Company for use in the Transvaal. He says war is inevitable.

FEVER CAUSES A PANIC.

Citizens at Key West Trying to Escape From Yellow Jack.

Key West, Fla., Sept. 5.—The number of yellow-fever cases increases daily, and there is a small panic prevailing here, especially among the unacclimated. More than one hundred persons left, and there are several hundred more anxious to get away. Many have no money to pay their fares to New York. A strict quarantine maintained by the State Board of Health cannot be evaded by sailing vessels to land them at southern points. Several attempts to get to mainland by small parties in boats have come to grief, as they were stopped and compelled to turn back by patrol launches. There are new cases reported every day.

Dr. Porter, who has arrived here is managing affairs with a firm hand and he has the confidence of the community. Before this the Board here was unwilling to give out information, and the result was a panic, as the people did not know the extent of the fever nor of its virulence. It is too early yet to prophesy about its duration, but as there are many here who are comparatively strangers to this city and climate it is very likely that the disease will run its full course. Sanitary work is being pushed and the town cleaned up most thoroughly. In the house-to-house canvass several cases of concealment of yellow fever patients were found. Hereafter such concealment will be promptly punished. There are now at least thirty known cases.

It Was a Rich Find.

Hastings, Mich., Sept. 5.—Charles B. Dillenbeck, who lives on a farm a few miles from Woodland, while plowing for wheat struck something that gave forth a metallic ring. Dillenbeck stopped his horses and began to dig out the obstacle, which proved to be an old iron kettle turned bottom side up on a stove griddle. Dillenbeck carried the kettle to an adjoining woods and buried it, where it remained secreted for three weeks. Later he removed the treasure to his house cellar, and it was here that as opportunity offered he put in his time scouring and polishing up the corroded coins.

A count of the money proved the entire sum to amount to 7,500, there being 320 double eagles, nearly $360 in silver coin and the remainder in gold coins of lesser denominations.

Schurman Goes to Trust Conference.

Washington, D. C., Sept. 5.—President Schurman, of Cornell University, will accept an appointment by Governor Roosevelt to attend the trust convention in Chicago. He said: "That great aggregation and combinations of capital tend to cheapen production I do not think any one will deny. There is a further question, however. Who gets the benefit of these reductions? If the consumer gets a greater part of them then combinations are a direct benefit to the community."

Girl Killed By Flobert Bullet.

Uniontown, Pa., Sept 5.—May Belle Bradagan, a 7-year-old girl, was found dead in a chair at her home at Masontown and the doctor who was summoned found a bullet in the girl's brain. Coroner Taylor learned from the girl's uncle, Samuel Bradagan, aged 17, that he had picked up a supposed unloaded flobert rifle and cocked it, when his thumb slipped, discharging the weapon, the bullet striking his niece.

Railroad Remembers Its Employes.

Auburn, Ind., Sept. 5.—The Baltimore & Ohio Railroad Company will issue passes for 15,000 persons to its employes for the ensuing year. This is a method adopted for rewarding men who have done good service for the road for a year or more. The passes will be good over all parts of the system which connects Baltimore, Philadelhpia, Washington, Pittsburg, Cincinnati, Chicago and St. Louis.

Prisoners Cruelly Treated.

Manila, Sept. 5.—The Filipinos are treating the Spanish prisoners brutally, according to tales told by several who have escaped. They use them more roughly than they do the Americans who fall into their hands. These escaped men say the natives are forced to use much native black powder and are in dire need of food.

The Bishop Has Resigned.

Washington, Sept. 5.—The Bishop of Havana, Right Rev. Emmannel Santander Erutas, has resigned. Since the American occupation of the island he has been a passive but not the less determined opponent of the plans of the military government. His success has been small and therefore his resignation.

Increase in Assay Receipts.

Boise, Ida., Sept. 5.—The receipts of gold at the United States assay office here during August were larger than for any other month in the history of the office. The total was $243,820. For the first eight months of the year, the receipts were $1,120,583, against $883,796 for the corresponding period of last year.

Killed on the Tracks.

Matawan, N. Y., Sept. 5.—Because, after spending several hours at village hotels, he started to drive home by way of the Central Railroad tracks, Charles Christy is dead and his horse and wagon lie in a heap by the trackside.

Pennsylvania's Big Purchase.

Baltimore, Sept. 5.—President John S. Wilson, of the Baltimore, Chesapeake and Atlantic Railroad, has confirmed the report of the purchase of a controlling interest of that road by the Pennsylvania Railroad.

Rough Breaks Officer's Leg.

Moorestown, N. Y., Sept. 5.—Caleb A. Wright, chief of police, is in bed with a broken leg. He attempted to put several men out of Cole's barroom and they threw him out, breaking the leg.

Boy Killed By Train.

Farmingdale, L. I., Sept. 5.—Frightened by the approach of a train, a horse backed a wagon on the railroad tracks here, and Clifford Powell, a boy of ten, son of Walter Powell, was killed.

WAS A GRAND SPECTACLE

G. A. R. Parade at Philadelphia Witnessed by Over 200,000 People.

FULLY 12,000 WERE IN LINE

President McKinley and Members of the Cabinet Review the Monster Pageant.

The Veterans Greeted With Hearty Cheers All Along the Line of March—Presidential Party Royally Entertained—Naval Review to Take Place Friday.

Philadelphia, Sept. 5.—There never has been a more imposing feature at the national G. A. R. encampments than the parade here which was participated in by upward of 12,000 persons—Veterans, Sons of Veterans, and military organizations. Those who took part in the parade were given a splendid ovation all along the line of march and there were enthusiastic cheers from more than two hundred thousand spectators for those who braved the trials, perils and hardships of a bloody war from '61 to '65, as they marked time to martial music and the music of thirty brass bands through the principal streets of the city.

At the city hall, from a magnificently decorated stand, the monster pageant was reviewed by President McKinley and members of the Cabinet. The procession was over seven miles in length and occupied a little more than two hours in passing the reviewing stand.

The parade was practically the whole feature of the day's program and when this was concluded the veterans "broke ranks" and returned to their quarters, and the Presidential party was served with luncheon in the offices of Director Haddock, of the Department of Public Works. In the evening President McKinley and his party will walk from the hotel to the Academy of Music, where, after listening to addresses by Mayor Ashbridge, Governor Stone and others, he will be called upon to make the speech of the evening. After complying with this request the President will repair to Odd Fellows' Temple, there to participate in the festivities of the banquet prepared for his delectation by Post No. 1 of this city. It is expected that he will address the diners. Admiral Sampson and General Miles will also be present. On Wednesday morning President McKinley will visit Camp Sexton, and in the evening he will attend the Naval Veterans' "Dog Watch" in the Academy of Music.

While the veterans were forming for the feature of the day's festivities President McKinley and the members of his party, Admiral Sampson and his officers, together with other national dignitaries, as well as some of the city officials and local committeemen, went over the entire route of the parade, in tally-hos, automobiles and private carriages. They met the head of the column at Broad street and Girard avenue and returned to the reviewing stand on the east front of the city hall in time to witness the passing of the first section of the pageant.

Banquet at Clifton Heights.

Clifton Heights, Pa., Sept. 5.—Maxwell and John Hanna and Gilbert R. Cute, three members of the Tenth Pennsylvania, who were to have been given a reception and a banquet upon their arrival here, did not reach town. The banquet was eaten anyhow, and J. Robinson and others made speeches.

Americans Beat Filipinos.

Manila, Sept. 5.—Five men of Col. Bell's regiment encountered a Filipino outpost near Porac, and in the fighting which ensued one American was killed and another wounded. The remainder drove the natives from their positions and captured a bull cart in which to remove the injured.

Shot Down By Footpad.

Indianapolis, Ind., Sept. 5.—Thomas Taigher, of English avenue, while returning from the family grocery, was accosted by a highwayman. Taigher, who is 60 years old, showed fight, and was shot in the forehead. The highwayman fled to avoid arrest. The wound is fatal.

Jhon Y. McCane Dying.

New York, Sept. 5.—John Y. McKane, who for many years practically controlled Coney Island, is lying at the point of death at his home at Sheepshead Bay, as the result of a stroke of paralysis. Physicians give little hope of his recovery.

President Grants Reprieve.

San Francisco, Sept. 5.—Thomas McVeigh, a Wyoming soldier, will not be shot to death, but will serve a life term in the military prison at Alcatraz Island, by order of President McKinley. McVeigh's offense was murderous assault upon his commanding officer.

Custer's Nephew Fatally Wounded.

Toledo, O., Sept. 5.—Charles Custer, aged 20 years, a nephew of the late General Custer, was accidently shot with a revolver by John Russell at Monroe, Mich. The ball entered Custer's breast near the heart, and there is little hope of his recovery.

Was Killed By His Friend.

Washington, Ind., Sept. 5.—Floyd A. Kinneman, aged 20 years, died here from the effects of a revolver bullet which a companion fired accidently into his side while they, with a crowd of other boys, were charivaring a newly married couple.

The Australian Federation.

Brisbane, Sept. 5.—The latest, but still incomplete, returns of the voting on the federal referendum bill show a majority of 5,136 in favor of federation.

Lake Tugboat Wrecked.

Sandusky, O., Sept. 5.—The tugboat Red Cloud of Lorain was wrecked off Cedar Point and three lives were lost.

HAS A GLOOMY OUTLOOK.

Latest News From the Transvaal Has Appearance of Trouble.

London, Sept. 5.—The latest news from the Transvaal is of the gloomiest description. The withdrawal of the Boers of the five years residence franchise qualifications was qualified by their assent to the proposed conference at Cape Town. This, it is thought, may be merely a ruse to gain time. There is a panic at Johannesburg and a general exodus of the people.

The Boer organ, the Standard and Diggers' News, says most of the members of the South African League have left the Transvaal. Hundreds of women and children are departing daily and all trains are overcrowded. The miners are coming in from the reefs. The shipping offices are kept open all night to enable persons who desire to leave to book passages to England.

A dispatch from Pretoria to the Central News, says that the Boer reply to Colonial Secretary Chamberlain's latest communication, extends the period of residence necessary for the right of franchise.

England to Call Out Volunteers.

London, Sept. 5.—The war office has sent an urgency order to the bureau of stationery and printing to prepare copies of a proclamation calling out the volunteers of the first class.

The Proclamation must be ready in a few hours.

In the British army are four classes of reserve, or auxiliary forces—the militia, the yeommanry cavalry, the volunteer corps and the army reserve corps.

The army reserve, of the first class, called out by this order, is 83,000 men. The number of effective men according to the latest report is 82,005.

Sees a Double Move.

Cape Town, Sept. 5.—The news received from Pretoria begins to show the situation in a clearer light. It appears that the transvaal's reply, which was handed on Saturday to the British diplomatic agent at Pretoria, Conyngham Greene, was only Mr. Chamberlain's proposal respecting a conference at Cape Town, and that another reply will be delivered at once to Mr. Chamberlain's original proposal of a joint inquiry into the Franchise bill.

This method of splitting the negotiations by the Transvaal is commented upon unfavorably here.

The Cape Argus officially denies that the Government of the South African Republic has agreed to a conference in Cape Town.

The Cape Argus also declares that the explanation offered by the Transvaal State Attorney, Mr. Smuts, of the arrests is unsatisfactory and that the mystery is one that calls for immediate elucidation.

Labor Day Celebrated.

New York, Sept. 5.—From the various cities throughout the country news has been received here that Labor Day was generally observed and that exercises appropriate to the occasion were carried out. Parades, speeches and athletic games constituted the program in most instances. So far no accidents of a serious nature have been reported. In New York the day was enthusiastically celebrated and the various buildings were neatly decorated with flags and bunting.

Fatally Wounded in a Riot.

Huntington, W. Va., Sept. 5.—At a camp meeting in a grove on Spice Creek, in Logan County, a number of drunken men became engaged in a row, and when citizens attempted to quell the disturbance a general fight occurred, more than 20 people being engaged. Sam Harvard, Will Borden and Steve Wooden were stabbed fatally and a dozen others, whose names cannot be ascertained, are badly hurt.

Meal Tickets For Soldiers.

Washington, Sept. 5.—The War Department will give out meal tickets to volunteers going to Manila instead of cash for meals. The reason for this is that the soldiers spend the money for other things and before the trip is ended are forced to apply for free rations. The allowance for food is liberal.

Tollgate Blown Up Again.

Eminence, Ky., Sept. 5.—The tollgate on the Eminence and Clear Creek turnpike, about one and a half miles from town, in Shelby County, has been again blown up with dynamite by unknown parties. The tollhouse was damaged. The gate has been twice cut down, and this is the third time dynamite has been used.

Ran Into an Iceberg.

New York, Sept. 5.—When the Steamship City of Rome of the Anchor Line arrived in port here from Glasgow and Moville, Capt. Young reported that on Thursday evening, Aug. 31, at six o'clock, the steamship ran into an iceberg. No damage was done as the ship was going slowly.

Teamster Run Over and Killed.

Chardon, Ohio, Sept. 5.—Fred Burr was hauling a load of logs at Concord. In going down a hill the rope of the wagon broke, throwing him under the wheels, which passed over his head, killing him instantly.

Boy's Head Blown Off.

Shamokin, Pa., Sept. 5.—While walking along the railroad, Samuel Conrad, aged 15 years, of Trevorton, struck the stock of his gun on a tie and had one side of his head blown off.

Jilted Lover Kills Himself.

Evansville, Ind., Sept. 5.—Frederick Tempe, of Armstrong township, because he was jilted by his sweetheart, shot himself in the temple, and will die.

Bogus Coins Circulated.

Lima, O., Sept. 5.—During the street fair here hundreds of counterfeit silver dollars were put into circulation. The discovery was made when some of the shows on the Midway cashed up.

Killed by Lightning.

Toronto, Ohio, Sept. 5.—Charles W. Sloan, single, aged 21, was instantly killed by lightning during a terrific electric storm in the West Virginia oil field, opposite this city.

TEETH.

If you have any to be extracted remembe you will not be hurt in the slightest. My local anesthetic is the best that can be obtained and is not known to the other dentists in this city. Gas strictly fresh administered by an expert if you want that. If you need artificial teeth you may rest assured that the greatest care will be exercised in selecting shape and color to harmonize with the face, also to restore the features to their natural expression and fullness. This is most important.

While discussing the merits of Ripans Tabules recently, in a conversation with a friend, a surgeon who is employed by the Long Island Railroad, and who has a large private practice among people of social and business prominence in Brooklyn, the City of Churches, expressed himself quite forcibly, saying: "I don't wish my name to appear as an indorser of a medicine that is advertised to the public at large, but there are several of my private patients who have not required my services as much this spring as has been usual, and two of them I found had been taking Ripans Tabules, and were said to have been so much benefited by their use that I became very much interested in their cases, because the illness from which they had suffered was of a sort from which a doctor is no more free than other people are. It was dyspepsia, and I knew by my own experience just what that was and how difficult it is to treat it successfully. I finally tried Ripans Tabules myself and, 'by ginger,' they are all the circular pretends them to be. They are a first-class article. I can heartily indorse them. The formula is an old one, but with one or two slight changes that seem to add an effectiveness that was never before to be relied upon with so much certainty."

Many style packet containing TEN RIPANS TABULES in a paper carton (without glass) is now for sale at some drug stores—FOR TWELVE CENTS. This is the cheapest way to sell it is intended for the poor and the economical. One dozen of the five-cent cartons (150 tabules) can be had by mail by sending forty-eight cents to the RIPANS CHEMICAL COMPANY, No. 10 Spruce Street, New York—or a single carton (TEN TABULES) will be sent for five cents.

THEY WANT MORE PAY.

More Trouble Looked for Among Canning Factory Employes.

Salem, N. J., Sept. 5.—Although quiet has been restored in Salem, the authorities fear that a repetition of the recent disorders by the striking table girls of the canning factories may occur at any moment. The local constabulary has been added to and the district in the neighborhood of the factories is now patrolled.

The sight of angry, excited women and girls in procession in the principal streets, brandishing sharp knives and making threats is too much for Salem to stand.

The girls at the Fenwick Tomato Canning Factory, operated by Starr Bros., demanded a raise of one cent a bucket for peeling tomatoes. They wanted 5 cents instead of 4.

This was refused, whereupon every girl in the factory went upon a strike. They marched to Harry Lambert's factory on North Second street, where they were joined by the women and girls there. They numbered with this addition 200.

Every girl carried the knife with which she peels tomatoes, and brandishing these in the air they went to Jones & Ayar's factory to the rhythmic shout of "Five cents!" "Five cents!" They were denied admission to this factory and the women there refused to go out. hen, it is said, they made threats and acted just like striking men do sometimes. The Mayor and the Chief of Police had to order them away before they would leave. It is said that charges of making threats will be made against the girls.

Woman Died From Leprosy.

Baltimore, Sept. 5.—Mrs. Mary Sanconi died in the John Hopkins Hospital from leprosy. The woman came to this city from Allegheny City, Pa., in the winter of 1898, and shortly thereafter applied for treatment at a dispensary. When the health officers determined that the woman was afflicted with the incurable disease they opened correspondence with the authorities in Allegheny City, with a view to having her returned to that city. The officials there, however, repudiated all knowledge of her, and as it was shown that in her childhood she had lived in this state she claimed the right to stay here. Since April, 1897, Mrs. Sanconi had been in an isolated cheaply ward of the Johns Hopkins Hospital. The whereabouts of her husband is unknown, and no relatives of the woman have come forward. The body will be cremated.

Balloon on Church Steeple.

Evansville, Ind., Sept. 5.—Artidas H. Farmer, of this city invented an airship and gave an exhibition of his invention at the Spencer County Fair at Chrisney. His invention is a cigar-shaped balloon to which a basket is attached. There is a four bladed propeller on either side of the basket. These propellers are worked by ordinary bicycle pedals. Farmer, according to his contract, was to sail from Chrisney to this city, a distance of forty miles. After rising to a height of 100 feet or more, he started his airship in the direction of Evansville. The pedals became disarranged and a strong wind blew the machine against a church steeple and the balloon collapsed. Farmer clung to the steeple until a ladder was secured, when he reached the ground in safety.

Cuban Tobacco Crop Short.

Havana, Sept. 5.—Prominent tobacco merchants here say the enormous decrease of $7,000,000 in the tobacco output in Cuba for 1898 was due principally to the war. The constant tendency to decrease, however, is due, according to the tobacco merchants, to increased taxes placed by foreign governments upon Havana cigars. The principal way to aid the tobacco industry, it is argued, is to improve the roads in Pinar del Rio, where the cost of transportation is great. This would enable island products to come to the Havana market in competition with products of the United States, such as corn, whereas it is now impossible to compete on account of the great cost of transportation over bad roads.

The Moravians Celebrate.

South Bethlehem, Sept. 5.—The annual covenant festival of the married people of the Moravian Church, in Bethlehem, commemorating the one hundred and seventy-second anniversary, was held here. Nearly all the heads of Moravian families, with nearly 300 children, participated in the services.

Lipton is Well Pleased.

New York, Sept. 5.—The Shamrock made a good showing of speed in her sail out at Sandy Hook on a trial spin. Sir Thomas Lipton declared himself pleased with the yacht's performance.

Columbia Again Victorious.

Newport, R. I., Sept. 5.—The Columbia beat the Defender yesterday in the second official trial race by 11 minutes and 40 seconds.

Dogs in the Army.

In most of the Continental countries of Europe dogs form a part of the army equipment, being taught to carry dispatches and to deliver cartridges to the soldiers in battle. They are also trained to give an alarm at an unfriendly approach, having readily learned to recognize an enemy. They will search for and find the wounded, barking until help arrives; that failing, they will carry some part of the wounded man's clothing to his nearest comrade. It is surprising what few lessons are necessary to accomplish all this, so soon do they realize what is required of them. In searching for the wounded they carry flasks of brandy strapped to the harness.

In the American army there is hardly a regiment that does not possess at least one or more dogs as pets. These are not always noted for their beauty, but they are none the less petted and cared for by the owner and are taught many interesting tricks.

"Jo," a dog belonging to the Twenty-second Regiment, is noted for his cleverness. He knows all the bugle calls, and when drill sounds he does not move, but at the first sound of the reveille he is up for the day, and the dinner bugle usually finds him as ready as the men to respond.

A HARD BLOW TO DREYFUS

Prosecution Makes a Most Desperate Effort to Do Some Damage.

NEW WITNESS APPEARS.

An Austrian Introduced in the Case to Accuse the Prisoner of Systematic Treason.

The Last Step in the Famous Court Martial Declared to be as Cowardly as it is Desperate—Little Importance Attached to Foreigner's Alleged Revelations.

Rennes, Sept. 5.—At the last session of the Dreyfus court martial came the sudden delivery of the final coup against Dreyfus. The blow was not only desperate but cowardly and quite in keeping with the history of all the manoeuvres against the prisoner. It came from an hitherto unknown foreign witness who undertook to declare Deryfus guilty of systematic treason in selling secrets to several embassies.

The secret session of the Court for the completion of Major Hartmann's examination occupied the first half hour.

Then was called a witness hitherto unknown in the proceedings of the name of Eugene Cernuschi. Apparently he did not speak French fluently, for he submitted a written statement. He affirmed that he was a descendant of the Servian royal dynasty and that he had been a Lieutenant in the Austrian army, but came to France as a political refugee in June, 1894. Then he proceeded to tell this extraordinary story: He met at Geneva the military attache of a foreign power, who told him that he had received treasonable information from Dreyfus. He met this attache in Paris afterwards. One day in his office the attache opened before the witness two large envelopes containing important documents relative to French mobilization plans. There were several sheets giving details of the mobilization of various corps of infantry. The attache said to the witness: "You are a foreigner, so I can show you these documents." The witness said that he replied to him: "But how can you obtain such copies?" The attache then answered: "Listen. In France you can get anything with money. Why should there be Jews in the French army if one cannot use them? The French officer who supplied these documents is no other than Capt. Dreyfus."

The reading of this statement was greeted by the audience in the courtroom first with astonishment and then with murmurs of incredulity and ridicule.

Major Carriere, the prosecutor, before proceeding further, said that the witness had some verbal information to add, but as it would touch on two international questions a special session with closed doors was necessary.

M. Demange asked Major Carriere if he had made inquiries as to the character of the witness.

Major Carriere replied in the negative. He added that he had put in any available testimony which tended to throw light on the case.

Maitre Labori asked sharply: "At whose request has this witness been summoned?"

Col. Jouaust, the president of the court, replied: "I summoned him by virtue of my discretionary power."

M. Labori—I beg to call attention to the fact that for the first time we are called upon to listen to a witness foreign to our nation. Now, then, since this has been done I declare that I shall demand that all information which is necessary upon the question of the delivery of the pieces named in the borderean shall be obtained only through diplomatic sources. I beg to ask that if the court grants the request for the examination of this witness behind closed doors that it be postponed in order to give us some opportunity to demonstrate the falsity of his testimony and so be able to take the necessary proceedings against the author of such falsehoods.

M. Demange asked Major Carriere when it was that the witness first communicated with the Government.

Major Carriere—I cannot exactly say.

The court reserved its decision as to the time when the secret session should be held.

Cernuschi left the stand after speaking scarcely a word. He is under thirty years old and looks much more like a valet than the scion of any royal family. He stared boldly around the hall where he was greeted with half suppressed hisses. He sat down for a few minutes among the other witnesses and then left the hall.

Dreyfus listened to the reading of Cernuschi's statement without a sign of emotion and did not attempt to make any reply. The effect on the audience, however, was to produce intense passion and excitement among the two factions which was scarcely kept within bounds. It must be admitted here that Dreyfus sympathisers sometimes fail to maintain proper control over their feelings.

Gen. Gonse again took the stand and said that there was another secret dossier that had not been produced in court and Mr. Labori insisted that it should be produced and his request will probably be granted. Before Gonse left the stand Labori got him so tangled in a net work of cross questions that the witness experienced great difficulty in finding answers that would come anywhere near being suitable for the prosecution's purpose and court finally adjourned. It is not believed now that the trial will end before late next week.

There is very little real importance attached here to the testimony against Dreyfus given by the new witness Eugene Cernuschi.

Charged With Embezzlement.

Bridgeton, N. J., Sept. 5.—James Heptenheimer, giving his address Washington, D. C., has been arrested here charged with embezzling $125 from a picture agency. He was about to take a train for Philadelphia when an officer arrested him.

A View of Somerset.

The Trenton correspondent of the Philadelphia Record takes the following view of the Republican fight in Somerset county:

In Somerset county the Republicans are yet in a snarl, much to the displeasure of the State leaders, who see danger ahead unless peace is very soon restored. It is known that Senator Reed was willing to retire in the interest of harmony, providing the opposing faction would also signify a willingness to quit the field. Mr. Reed's friends would like to have him nominated for Congress next year should he now conclude to give up his contest for a renomination for the State Senate. Clerk in Chancery Lewis A. Thompson is still on the warpath in Somerset and he is as determined as ever to defeat the ambition of Mr. Reed for another term as Senator. Mr. Thompson's candidate for the place is former Sheriff George A. Dilts, and it is reported that he is making a quiet, but effective canvass for the nomination. The Democrats are biding their time and they believe that they will be in a position very soon to name the next Senator from Somerset. The present Prosecutor of the Pleas, Nelson Y. Dungan, it is generally predicted, will be the Democratic nominee.

A study of the terms which the Roselle borough Council has exacted from the Elizabeth and Westfield Street Railway Company for the right to build its line through the streets of that place, to form a link in the system between Plainfield and Elizabeth, shows that they are the most advantageous secured from any trolley company in New Jersey. After the franchise has been in existence for ten years it will pay tribute to the borough on a fair and square basis—ten per cent of the gross earnings. And at the end of ninety-nine years it will revert to the municipality. In all respects the borough's interests seems to have been carefully guarded by the terms, and the people of Roselle ought to feel well satisfied with the arrangements. There is one very instructive view afforded by the terms, however, and that is the benefit to be gained by deliberate and careful dealing with the trolley promoters. Plainfield now realizes this with the excellent terms secured for the Scotch Plains extension, which, if it had been granted in a hurry, as many urged, would never have been attained.

M. BERTILLON AND HIS INSTRUMENTS.

M. Alphonse Bertillon is famous as the inventor of a system of identifying criminals. The system consists chiefly of measurements made with specially constructed instruments. M. Bertillon was a witness against Dreyfus, but the general impression is that he failed as an expert in chirography.

PASSING COMMENT.

Things that Are Not Exactly News but Just as Interesting.

The Girls' Bachelor Club, of Winfield, Kansas, is feeling very happy. According to the vow she took when she became a member, Miss May Williams was married last Sunday to Private Davison, of Company H, 20th Kansas Volunteers. Every member must wed a 20th Kansas hero or none. Miss Williams was the president of the club. It was organized about two months ago, and there were fifty girls of the little college town of Winfield who pledged themselves to marry no other men than members of the famous Funston regiment. Private Davison recently came from Philadelphia. On Sunday he was out in a park and fainted from the heat. May Williams ran to his rescue. That night they were married.

THEATRICAL.

Current Dramatic Attractions That Plainfielders Can Witness.

Lovers of the first-class comedy can find the real article at Music Hall the last of the week, as the Wills company are producing some of the most popular plays of that variety in a manner that has never been equaled at popular prices here, and frequently the high-priced aggregations fall below the Wills standard. The production of "In Atlantic City" on Thursday night will be surprise in many ways. It is one of the brighest musical farce comedies ever seen, and scored a tremendous success at Star Theatre, New York City. Frank M. Wills is known as one of America's most cleverest comedians, and is surrounded by a clever company including some of the brightest specialty artists. Don't miss any of the performances, each one is entirely different—you will not see the like again at popular prices. Remember Thursday, Friday and Saturday, with Saturday matinee.

* * * * *

Tonight at the Stillman Music Hall will mark the innaugural visit to this city of the Boston Serenaders. In a season like the present, when first class operatic attractions of any kind are scarce, the appearance of an organization like the Boston Serenaders is a cause for joyful celebration. John Moller, under whose direction the present tour is being made, has been engaged for more than a year past in selecting the various members of this company with a view of establishing an organization, not only novel in methods and productions, but permanent and substantial in character. As a result of this pains-taking policy the company is already recognized throughout the country as an attraction to be eagerly sought by local managers. According to the advance announcements, the Boston Serenaders is an organization of recognized lyric players producing farcical operettas. The names of the players fully bear out these announcements, including as they do, such popular comedians as Charles Allinson, late with the Della Fox company and whose long connection with that pronounced success, "The Little Tycoon," made his name familiar to the patrons of comic opera; Henry Gunson, of Daly's "Geisha" company; Pauline Train, of the "Little Christopher" company; George Mack, last season with "My Friend From India"; Louise Quinton, formerly with Augustin Daly; Edward Eagleton, of the "El Capitan" company; Madge Dunbar, of the "1492" company; J. K. Adams, of the "Three Dragoons" company, and under whose personal stage direction the productions of this company will be made; Albert Mahar and Anna Christianson. Besides these principals the company embraces a strong and exceptionally well selected chorus.

WANTS A BOOK TYPEWRITER

Surrogate Spencer Will Try to Influence Somerset Freeholders by a Petition.

Surrogate Spencer, of North Plainfield, is keeping up the fight for the book typewriter and hopes to succeed in the long run. He is now getting signers to a petition, which will be presented to the Board of Freeholders, requesting it to purchase such an instrument for the use of the office.

One of these machines has been in use, on trial, for several months past, and, as it does away entirely with writing in the books, it is much prized. It has the regular keyboard and resembles an ordinary typewriter in many particulars. The difference is that the keyboard moves along over the surface upon which the imprint is being made and the keys strike down instead of up.

It is claimed that the cost of the machine will be more than offset, in a few years, by a saving in the number of blank books required from time to time for use in recording documents. These machines are used to a great extent in the Court of Chancery offices and in a number of county offices in this State and New York.

RUSH AWAY FROM THE SHORE.

The Coming of September Depletes the Throngs at Asbury Park.

(Special to The Daily Press.)

Asbury Park, Sept. 5.—The week has seen a transition in Asbury Park and its neighbor across the lake. Instead of the tens of thousands who promenaded the board walk during midsummer, and the first three weeks in August, there has been an air of almost total bareness about the famous plaza. Camp meeting closed last Tuesday, and this sent the Grove contingent out by the hundreds. Express wagons were in constant demand, and their owners reaped a harvest. In Asbury Park every outgoing train received hundreds of passengers, who preferred going home, even though it was pointed out to them that special rates would apply during September, and that this month was the finest of the year at the seashore.

GIVE THE CHILDREN A DRINK

called Grain-O. It is a delicious, appetizing, nourishing food drink to take the place of coffee. Sold by all grocers and liked by all who have used it because when properly prepared it tastes like the finest coffee but is free from all its injurious properties. Grain-O aids digestion and strengthens the nerves. It is not a stimulant but a health builder, and children, as well as adults, can drink it with great benefit. Costs about ¼ as much as coffee 15 and 25c.

AMERICAN STEAM LAUNDRY,
122 East Front Street.

By our new process of ironing we are enabled to give you a perfect domestic finish, and to launder turn down collars without breaking them. Call and see how we do it; you are welcome to inspect our plant at all times; no mystery about our work.

Hand work on all shirt waists, cost a little more, but perfect satisfaction guaranteed.

Tomorrow The Last DAY.

Very fine 72 in Double Damask at $1.25 and $1.50 yd. Patterns are "inlaid" an expensive hand process. Goods are rarely beautiful and remarkably cheap. ¾ napkins to match at 3.75 and 4.50 (by the doz. only.) Also our regular 1.00 72 in Double Damask at 85c yd., and a pure linen 70 in Damask (75c quality) in five patterns at 50c per yd.

Half Bleached Damask.

63-in half bleached German Damask at 39c yd
60-in " " " " extra heavy, at 50c yd

These goods will bleach very quickly and give splendid service. This is an offering of linens to which every thrifty housekeeper should respond quickly. Our trade in ready-made Sheets and Pillows is also one of growing importance, due undoubtedly to the fact that we sell only good goods. We handle only the well-known brands such as N. Y. Mills, Utica Mills, Dwight Anchor, etc. All are torn, beautifully hemmed and clean, ready for use. A comparison of our prices with those of N. Y. City will result in your buying them of us.

Crochet and Marseilles Bed Spreads, another item we are warranted in calling your attention to. We believe we sell at 1.00 the best white Crochet Quilt ever sold at that price. Of course 1.25, 1.50 or 1.75 will buy a better one. Marseilles Quilts we carry up to 5.00 ea. and works of art they are. Plain and Quilted Table Padding at various prices.

New Tapestries.

Entirely new Bagdad Stripes, Denims, Turkish Cloths, Fancy Tickings, Satins and Silkalines in bewildering variety. New Patterns and new colorings make these unusually attractive.

We should be guilty of gross neglect if we failed to call attention to a special lot of Flannelettes at 6½c yd. that are really worth 8c yd. So far as we can judge the patterns are as bright and attractive as those we have at much higher price.

Sundry New Things.

Prominent among the latest arrivals are two numbers in Ladies' Kid Gloves at 1.50 pr. No. 1—2 clasp, real kid in Modes, Tans, Grays and Ox Bloods. Very pliable, elastic and perfect fitting. No. 2—Something entirely new in 2 clasp Suedes in Tans, Modes and Grays. A peculiarly novel stitching gives them a most stylish finish. We predict for these two numbers a large sale. Some new velvet stock collars, steel trimmed, will sell readily once they are seen. Prices 50c to 1.98. Some are trimmed with jet and have jet fringe to match. Positively the newest novelties in stock. Our shirt waists have been subjected to very radical treatment again. Our 1.00, 1.25 and 1.48 waists are now 50c eaeh. If you can find your size you will get a rare bargain.

THINGS THAT INTEREST SCOTCH PLAINS AND DUNELLEN.

Brief and Terse Observations Gathered by Alert Press Reporters to be Perused at the Supper Table at Your Leisure

DUNELLEN.

(Special Correspondence of The Daily Press.)

Dunellen, September 5. — Prof. Richard Morris, the new principal of the public schools, through The Call has addressed a litter to the patrons of the schools, impressing upon them the importance of regular and punctual attendance on the part of pupils. He says that it will be a great heid if the children in the grammar and high school departments prepare a part of their lessons at home. Visitors to the schools will be welcome at all times. Prof. Morris comes highly recommended and there is reason to believe that he will succeed in keeping the schools up to the high standard of efficiency that they have attained.

The Call continues to speak its mind with regard to the Watchung Water Company. In this week's it says: "Our borough fathers have allowed this company to do pretty nearly as they liked, and if nothing further is done by the company in putting the streets in the order they agreed to, the taxpayers will have to stand the expense if the citizens along certain streets are to have them passable during fall and winter weather. Will the Council do anything in the matter except talk?"

Professor C. E. Clawson, accompanied by his wife and Miss Alice Clawson, left Sunday for Salem, West Virginia, to resume his duties as principal of the public school at that place. Miss Alice Clawson has also accepted a situation in the same school as a teacher of languages.

Rev. E. S. Jamison and Miss Mable Jamison have returned from Ocean Grove and other places where they have been spending their vacation. Rev. Mr. Jamison occupied the pulpit at the M. E. church Sunday.

Messrs. Irving Martine and Herbert Wyckoff are enjoying a trip on their wheels through Monmouth county. Before returning they will attend a watermelon party given by Miss Cassie Smock, at Rhode Hall.

Mr. and Mrs. Isaac Davis, of Lincoln, have had as their guests recently Miss Elizabeth Huff, of New Germantown, Miss Stella Davis, of Brooklyn, and Mr. and Mrs. Houston, of Elizabeth.

The home of John Ott at New Market has been made pleasant this week by the visit of Mrs. John Gehres and granddaughter, Miss Edna Reusch, of South Orange.

After a three months' visit with her aunt, Mrs. O. A. Douglas, Miss May Smith has returned to her home in West New Brighton, S. I.

Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Taylor and Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Winges will leave today for a ten days' trip in New York and Pennsylvania.

Miss Hannah Neilson, of New Market, entertained a number of her young friends at her home Thursday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. Wm. V. Dunham have been entertaining their friend, Frank Pierce, at their cozy home at New Market.

The Misses Sadie and Mattie Barrett are visiting friends at East Hampton, Conn. They will remain about two weeks.

Mrs. Daniel Tyman and her daughter Blanche, of Cincinnati, are the guests of her sister, Mrs. John E Logan.

Charles Dunham, formerly night operator at station, has been transferred to the freight house at Plainfield.

Mrs. P. C. Staats has returned from a pleasant visit with her daughter, Mrs. Thomas Robinson, at Newark.

Mrs I L. Brook and children, of Newark, have been visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph C. Apgar.

The Misses Mary and Lizzie Martine left today for Northfield, Mass., where they will attend school.

PLAINS AND FA[illegible]OOD.

(Special Correspondence of The Press.)

Scotch Plains, Sept. 5.—The public school opened at 9 o'clock this morning with a most promising outlook for the ensuing year. The large number of scholars present, together with the corps of teachers, all bore evidence of having passed a very pleasant vacation and were now ready to begin work again. Opening exercises were held in the assembly room of the building. Speeches were made by members of the board, Prof. Morey and others, after which the regular duties of school life were taken up. The corps of teachers for the year are Principal John R. Morey, assistants Miss Minnie Squires, Miss Ella Squires, Miss Sadie Reger, Miss Louise Robison, and Miss Nina Seber, who takes the place in the corps left vacant by the resignation of Miss Emma Adams.

Miss Addie Johnston led a very interesting young people's meeting in the Baptist church Sunday evening. The subject was "Holding Up the Pastor's Hands." By a strange coincidence two former pastors, Dr. Buchanan and Dr. Parks, were present and bore testimony to the loyalty in the part of the membership of the old church in holding up the hands of their pastor.

Judge Phineas T. Provost and wife, of Decatur, Ill., are visiting Freeholder and Mrs. John Robison, Mr. Provost is a veteran of the civil war and has the honor of being a charter member of G. A. R. Post, No. 1. Mr. Provost during his visit east will attend the National Encampment of the G. A. R. veterans being held in Philadelphia.

Rev. Mr. and Mrs. Gideon M. Shott have had as their guests during Sunday and Monday Mr. and Mrs. B. C. Eckert, Miss Mary Robertson and Miss Josie Herbert, all friends and workers in the North Baptist church, of New York city. Mr. Eckert is senior deacon in the church.

John R. Morey and family and Miss Suber, of Cortland, N. Y., who has been added to the corps of teachers in the school, have taken up their residence with Dr. and Mrs. J. H. Parks, while the Misses Squires and Miss Rege, of the corps, are boarding at Miss Susie Parse's.

Scotch Plains was visited Saturday night by several wandering religious enthusiasts who held a short open air meeting on the green around the liberty pole. Quite a number were drawn around the little band by the singing and speaking.

Charles Scheelen, of Fanwood, is enjoying a week's vacation which he is spending by taking a southern trip to Washington, Baltimore and the Carolinas. He expects to return Thursday.

Loftus Hollingsworth, Jr., of Scranton, Pa., is spending a week with his family who are visiting Mr. Hollingsworth's father, Loftus Hollingsworth.

Miss Louise Hollingsworth has returned from a pleasant two weeks' outing spent in the White Mountains.

Mr. and Mrs. W. S. Emery had as their guest Sunday the Mayor of Bayonne, Egbert Seymour.

Miss Susie Henston, of New York, spent Sunday and Monday with her aunt, Mrs. John Marsh.

Nelson Dunn, of New Market, was the guest yesterday of his brother, Norman Dunn.

Mr. and Mrs. John B. Stiliger, of Roselle, have been visiting Mr. Stiliger's parents.

James McNair, of New York, has been visiting his friend Richard Robison.

Mrs. Malom and daughter, of Stout avenue, are visiting friends in Brooklyn.

WESTFIELD.

(Special Correspondence to The Daily Press.

Westfield, September 5.—A large number of the business men and residents of this town sent a petition to the Postmaster General at Washington, asking that the free delivery system be established in Westfield, as it had been in Cranford, a much smaller town. Martin Welles, president of the Board of Trade and Improvement Association, has received in reply to this petition a letter from George M. Allen, acting First Assistant Postmaster General, which states that the system cannot be established here as the requirements of the department state that the town must have a population of either 10,000 or else the net proceeds of the postoffice must be $10,000 during the previous fiscal year, and further that the net receipts of the Westfield office were only $9,513.50, or almost $500 under the amount required. The letter, however, states that the office will, without a doubt, be entitled to the free delivery July 1st of the coming year.

His Life Was Saved.

Mr. J. E. Lilly, a prominent citizen of Hannibal, Mo., lately had a wonderful deliverance from a frightful death. In telling of it he says: "I was taken with Typhoid Fever, that ran into Pneumonia. My lungs became hardened. I was so weak I couldn't even set up in bed. Nothing helped me. I expected to soon die of Consumption, when I heard of Dr. King's New Discovery. One bottle gave great relief. I continued to use it, and now am well and strong. I can't say too much in its praise." This marvelous medicine is the surest and quickest cure in the world for all Throat and Lung Trouble. Regular sizes 50 cents and $1.00. Trial bottles free at L. W. Randolph's Drug Store; every bottle guaranteed.

Expense of Parliaments.

A paragraph going the rounds of European papers is intended to show that popular government through a representative legislature is generally more expensive than monarchical government. According to this view the most expensive parliament in Europe is that of France. The Chamber of Deputies and the Senate cost nearly $1,500,000 each year. Russia, which has no parliament in the American and English sense, saves this item of expense, a saving which must seem to most persons insignificant when compared with the advantages derived.

One reason why the French Assembly is so expensive is its extensive membership. There are 300 Senators and 584 Deputies, a total in excess of 800. The salary paid each is 9,000 francs, or $1,800 a year—$200 less than was paid New York Assemblyman before consolidation. French legislators also have free passes on the railroads. Italian legislators receive no salary, but have free transportation on railroad. The cost of the Italian Parliament was 2,100,000 lires last year, or about $420,000. The Holland legislature is in two branches, the First and Second Chambers of the State-General. The former comprises 50 members who receive 10 guilders a day during the session, and the second 100 members, who receive 2,000 guilders a year and their mileage. A Dutch guilder is approximately two-fifths of a dollar, and the total expenditure of the Dutch Parliament is $300,000 a year in the equivalent of American money. As might be expected, Spain has an elaborate parliamentary system, whereby not alone do the elected representatives of the people (for of such of the people as vote) have places in the Cortes, but also those who, without being elected, receive a cumulative vote in several districts sufficient to have elected them in one. Spain expended last year 1,640,000 pesetas for its Cortes, equivalent to about $350,000. Portugal expended for parliamentary services about $100,000, and Austria, with two Chambers, one in Vienna and the other in Budapest, about 4,000,000 florins, of which 2,300,000 was for the Austrian Reichsrath, and 1,700,000 for the Hungarian Parliament. The members of the lower Australian house, ostensibly a representative body, receive 10 florins a day for their services and get besides a mileage on Austrian railroads. By the official valuation of the United States Treasury an Austrian florin is worth 20 cents, so that an Austrian lawmaker receives substantially (the question of milage apart) the same pay as the law of the United States fixes as a minimum for laborers on some of its public works.

The members of the Swedish Parliament number 150 in the upper and 250 in the lower branch. The former get no pay; the latter receive 1,200 crowns, or $300 a year, and if the session lasts longer than four months they receive 10 crowns additional for each day of actual service. A Swedish crown is worth about 26 cents, and this means an addition of $2.60 a day for legislative overtime. England spends about $260,000 a year for the British Parliament, the members of which serve without salary. The German Reichstag, one branch of which represents the political divisions of the country, and the other branch the voters, costs about $100,000 a year. Belgium spends $180,000 for this purpose, and Greece 500,000 drachmai for its Chambers of Deputies, the equivalent of $100,000. The United States have 90 Senators and 350 Congressmen approximately with an annual salary account of $2,500,000, exclusive of the expenditures for clerks, secretaries, stationary, mileage and like expenses.

Amount of Powder to Propel Projectile.

The amount of powder required to propel cannon projectiles is about half the weight of the projectile. A projectile four inches in diameter weighs 33 pounds; five inches, 50 pounds; six inches, 100 pounds; eight inches, 250 pounds; ten inches, 500 pounds, twelve inches, 850 pounds; thirteen inches, 1,100 pounds; sixteen inches, 2,378 pounds.

Lokal-Nachrichten aus der alten Heimath.

Sachsen.

Dresden. Professor Dr. Fleckeisen, Herausgeber der „Jahrbücher für Philologie und Pädagogik," ist hier gestorben.—Ein zur Uebung eingezogener Militär-Apotheker hat sich hier aus bisher unbekannten Gründen vergiftet.

Johanngeorgenstadt. Ein Wahrzeichen unserer Stadt, welches Jahrhunderte überdauerte, ein riesiger Kornspeicher, das Magazin genannt, wurde ein Raub der Flammen. Es ist vollständig ausgebrannt, nur die mächtigen, mehr als meterdicken Umfassungsmauern sind geblieben. Dank der herrschenden Windstille gelang es, die stark gefährdete neue Schule zu retten.

Leipzig. Im Rosenthale schoß sich eine 21 Jahre alte Verkäuferin mehrere Kugeln in die Brust. Sie wurde schwer verletzt in das Stadtkrankenhaus gebracht. Als Grund des beabsichtigten Selbstmordes gibt sie in einem Briefe an ihre Schwester unüberwindliche Schwierigkeiten zur Beschreitung der Schauspielerlaufbahn an.—Hier wurde das Auftreten des österreichischen Reichsraths-Abgeordneten Karl Hermann Wolf (Schönerer-Gruppe) als Redner polizeilich untersagt.

Löbtau. Die Typhusepidemie ist im Erlöschen begriffen, da nur noch vereinzelte Neuerkrankungen angemeldet werden.

Meißen. Das Meißner Porzellan wird auf der Weltausstellung in Paris in zahlreichen kostbaren Prunkstücken, sowohl aus dem vorigen Jahrhundert wie aus der Gegenwart vertreten sein. Die königlich sächsische Manufaktur hat die Absicht, sich den Besuchern der Ausstellung in ihrer vollen glänzenden Leistungsfähigkeit zu zeigen.

Pirna. In den Vorbergen des Erzgebirges unweit des benachbarten Städtchens Berggießhübel wurde auf der einen herrlichen Rundblick gewährenden Panoramahöhe feierlich der Grundstein zu einer Bismarckfeuersäule gelegt. Erbauer der Säule, die eine Höhe von 25 Meter erhalten soll, ist der Gutsherr von Berggießhübel, Kommerzienrath Eschebach-Dresden. Aeußerst glücklich ist der Ort für die Säule gewählt. Nahe der österreichischen Grenze gelegen, wird man sie nicht blos in einem großen Theile Sachsens, bis Dresden, sondern auch von Böhmen aus erblicken können.

Zwickau. Der ehemalige Redakteur Salo Werner aus Leipzig, der am 3. Juli 1897 wegen schwerer Urkundenfälschung, Betrugs und Betrugsversuches zu zwei Jahren drei Monaten Gefängniß verurtheilt wurde, ist wegen Erkrankung aus der hiesigen Strafanstalt entlassen worden.

Thüringische Staaten.

Gera. In Sparnberg (Oberland) brannte das einstöckige Wohnhaus des Webereifaktors und Materialwaarenhändlers Spreet vollständig nieder. Leider fand das 4½jährige Söhnchen Spreets in den Flammen seinen Tod. Vollständig verbrannt an Gliedern und Hinterkopf wurde es in einem Bette mit dem Gesicht nach unten liegend aus den Trümmern herausgezogen.

Jena. Hofzahnarzt Dr. Schneider aus Erlangen hat sich hier wegen schwerer körperlichen und seelischen Leiden vergiftet.

Rhoda. Dieser Tage wurde in einem Getreidefelde bei Rhoda der blinde Schuhmacher Kämpfer aus Riechheim mit zerbrochenen Beinen in einem bedauernswerthen Zustande aufgefunden. Bald darauf trat der Tod ein. Der Bedauernswerthe war einen steilen Abhang hinabgestürzt und hatte drei Tage in der Sonnengluth hilflos gelegen.

Zella. Hier, wo schon in früheren Jahren der Blitz wiederholt in den Kirchthurm eingeschlagen hatte, war man dieser Tage seit etwa zwei Stunden mit der Anlage eines Blitzableiters fertig geworden, als der Blitz wieder in den Thurm schlug. Der Ableiter bestand diese Feuerprobe glänzend.

Freie Städte.

Hamburg. Zum Senator an Stelle des kürzlich verstorbenen Bürgermeisters Dr. Bersmann wurde Dr. Karl August Schröder jun. mit 111 von 124 Stimmen gewählt.—Der seitherige Geschäftsführer Stoever der Hamburger Seeberufsgenossenschaft ist zusammen mit 100,000 Mark, die in seiner Kasse fehlen, verschwunden.

Bremen. Der vom Norddeutschen Lloyd beim Vulcan in Stettin in Auftrag gegebene neue Doppelschrauben-Schnelldampfer wird mit Genehmigung des Kaisers den Namen „Kaiser Wilhelm der Zweite" erhalten.

Bremerhaven. Dieser Tage lief der erste der beiden für Rechnung des Norddeutschen Lloyd auf der Werft von Johann C. Tecklenborg A.-G. im Bau befindliche Personen- und Frachtdampfer glücklich vom Stapel. Die Taufe vollzog Fräulein Leist, Tochter des Direktors des Norddeutschen Lloyd, Christian Leist. Der Dampfer erhielt den Namen „Köln." Das Schiff, das einen Gehalt von 5000 Registertonnen besitzt, ist für die Linie Bremen-Baltimore bestimmt und wird im Laufe des Herbstes in Fahrt treten.—Hier brannte die Kraftstation, in welcher die Elektrizität für den Betrieb der Straßenbahnlinien erzeugt wurde, nieder, wodurch der Straßenbahnbetrieb zeitweilig lahmgelegt wurde.

THE MODE.

Latest Developments of Fashionable Fancy.

All basques of jackets are cut in short, round tabs. The tailor made dress for autumn wear is as simple as possible, consisting of a plain skirt without even a circular flounce and a plain, buttoned jacket with small revers and a coat collar.

Foulard skirts are not made in one with the lining, as that destroys the character of the material and makes it appear thick and heavy. The lining of taffeta takes the form of a separate skirt, attached to the outside nearly at the waistband.

Some fashionable wedding gifts are a parasol handle of crystal with gold arabesques or of steel with a gold cipher, the skin of some valuable fur bearing animal, which the recipient can have made up according to fancy, and a bit of costly old lace, fragile with age, but highly acceptable.

The cut given today shows a princess gown of light blue foulard. The skirt has a flounce of lace at the left side, and two circular flounces of foulard, lifted at the left side, give a tunic effect. The skirt extends over a full cossage of mousseline de soie, draped like a fichu, the top of the corselet being cut in large scallops and edged with bias folds. A short bolero is similarly bordered and has a wide collar embroidered with white chenille. The half length sleeve is finished with a circular ruffle. The round hat of ivory straw is trimmed with tulle and black and green irises. JUDIC CHOLLET.

ACCESSORIES.

Latest Additions to the Details of the Toilet.

Antique silver rings are worn. They are large, heavy and elaborately wrought.

Hat and hair ornaments of gauze, combined with spangles and feathers, are much worn. For example, a star shaped ornament of gauze stretched over wires is elaborately spangled and decorates the front of a hat. These are butterflies and immense pansies and other flowers made in the same way. Another idea is an ornament made of white feathers to imitate a peacock's plume. In place of the brilliant eye of the feather there is an imitative eye composed of crystal.

At one time the Spanish fan, large and comparatively plain, was the fashionable type, but now we have gone to the opposite extreme, and the tiny, elaborate fans of the last century are preferred to all others. They are marvels of workmanship, with carved, painted and lacquered sticks and illuminated parchment covers. Real jewels were often used in the genuine antiques, but very artistic and attractive modern reproductions are made, in which the gems are replaced by imitation jewels and spangles.

The illustration given in today's issue shows a fall hat of black straw. It is bordered with two coils of black straw, and the crown is encircled by a turban drapery of white gathered tulle. At the left side a band of black gauze lace embroidered with gold spangles is twisted in with the tulle. The left side of the hat is lifted, a trimming of black feathers, black velvet and a jeweled buckle being placed below it. White feathers adorn the front. JUDIC CHOLLET.

German Epitaphs.

Continental graveyards are full of quaint and humorous epitaphs, as a citizen of Regensburg, Stahl by name, can testify. Partly in his own travels, partly by the co-operation of tourists, he has collected a scrapbook full of funereal quips. Here are a few:

On a tablet fixed to a mill in Taufererthal:

"In Christian remembrance of ——, who without human help lost his life here."

In Stubbithal:

The way to all eternity
Is not so far, as you may see;
He drove away at seven;

FOR A GOOD APPETITE

A FEW POINTS AS TO SECURING A RELISH FOR WHAT IS EATEN.

Things to Eat and How to Eat Them—The Breakfast Should Be the Most Substantial Meal of the Day—Three Meals a Day Necessary for Working Women.

A good appetite, and a relish for what is eaten, may be secured by regular living. The system will accommodate itself to the habit of eating two, three or more meals daily if taken with regularity and if eating between meals is scrupulously avoided. The stomach, unlike the lungs and heart, requires rest to recuperate from its imposed labor of applying the necessary gastric juices for the proper digestion of foods, and the longer rest, between meals, it is allowed the better will be the work performed.

For the general working woman three meals a day are necessary, and would be eaten with appetite and relish if a little knowledge of the science of living were added.

In the first place, the morning meal should be the most substantial, because at this time of the day the vital force is greatest and digestion is carried on with least effort; the noon meal might consist of sandwiches and tea or milk, in preference to ice cream, eclairs, pies, etc., and the evening meal should be composed of nourishing, easily-digested food.

Second, the stomach should not be forced to gorge itself, and the appetite should interpret its demand, while regularity must be insisted upon.

And last, flour, butter, and sugar, foods rich in carbon, supply but a part of the necessary elements for making and keeping in good condition the blood, bones and muscles. Food containing lime, iron, phosphorous are equally necessary, and meals combining these elements would be enjoyed while a large variety of proper foods can be continually obtained.

Eat slowly, masticate your food properly, eat at regular times in cheerful company, and appetite and relish, though they may be strangers to you at present, can be readily cultivated and kept.

When On a Visit.

Don't object to pleasures given you during the visit.

Don't belate at meals or come down when the meal is nearly finished.

Don't correct the children of your hostess. Mothers resent this, and besides it is none of your business.

Don't give orders to servants in other people's houses or ask questions of an unpleasant character.

Don't leave umbrellas, overshoes, hats and coats everywhere. A visitor without order who neglects to keep her belongings in her own room is a trial of the worst sort.

Don't gossip, repeat scandals and tell anecdotes that disparage other women. Let no man or woman be a butt for your brilliancy, however interesting.

Don't when visiting, compare your children with other people's children. Every swan thinks its own the whitest.

Don't entertain your friends with the clever doings of your family. It always becomes tiresome and dull. Every one, big and little, speaks for himself, and very often clever children are exceedingly disagreeable.

Don't fail in courtesies of any kind. There are maxims of good breeding and little rules which constitute the foundation of good manners.

Paste for Scrap Books.

A fine paste for scrap books can be made from alum water and flour, one and a half teaspoonfuls of powdered alum dissolved in enough cold water to make a pint of paste. Pour the water, when the alum is dissolved, on enough flour to thicken it as stiff as common paste. Bring it to a boil, stir all the time, and when done add a few drops of oil of cloves. The alum prevents fermentation, and the oil of cloves prevents or destroys all vegetable mold.

Cameos.

Popular favor is inclining toward cameos and women are hunting up old family treasures. The origin of cameo cutting is lost in antiquity, but it is thought to have preceded sculpture or painting. The Chaldeans used gems or stones for seals. Most cameos are cut from stones comprised of two or more layers much of which comes from India. If the stone is black and white it is called onyx.

Baby Carriages.

Baby carriages are changed into cradles by a new device, consisting of a pair of rockers connected by cross bars, with slots cut in the bars, in which the wheels of the carriage are placed to prevent them from turning while the carriage is being rocked.

Dress-Suit Cases.

A dress-suit case has a distingue air that is altogether lacking in a pasteboard box, but many a woman knows to her sorrow that her pride has made her rumple her frock in magnifying the virtue of the former and ignoring the possibilities of the latter.

To Remove Mildew.

Mildew is removed by rubbing the part with some chalk or salt, wetting and exposing it to the sun. This should be repeated several times and then the articles must be rinsed well in cold water.

Diamonds

Of all the precious metals and gems mined the diamond still holds first place in value. Diamonds are worth from $25,000,000 to $50,000,000 per ton. Sapphires are next in value.

RAT-KILLING POPULAR.

The Inhabitants of the Pacific Islands Make Sport of It.

In the old days, when unchecked, rats literally overran most of the islands of the Pacific. On moonlight nights hundreds have been often seen gathered together round the native quarters, feeding upon waste rice or bread thrown out. A large bottle shaped hole was dug in the earth in Mangaia, and baited with candle nuts, of which rats are excessively fond, and when the hole was pretty well filled with rats two men would go down with knobbed sticks to kill them. A hole which would contain two men would hold a goodly number of rats! Rat killing under these conditions would seem anything but an enviable task. Keeping the rats within bounds was a matter of such importance with the inhabitants that in Funafuti, by law, each individual was at times obliged to catch and destroy a certain number for which purpose an ingenious trap was employed.

The natives destroy the rats with another object, shooting them for sport. Fanna gooma, or rat shooting, as practiced on Hoonga in the Tonga group, apparently was an amusement reserved for chiefs and was undertaken with much ceremony. Attracted by bait previously distributed, the rats were shot with formidable unfeathered arrows, six feet long. The game was not an individual but a party affair, the side first killing ten rate being accounted the winners, and if the rats were plentiful, three or four games were generally played.—Chambers' Journal.

Winged Carriers of Disease.

With regard to cholera, it was found that when house flies were fed with pure cultures of that disease the bacilli were found in their intestines and excreta up to four days later. Further, if in addition to the pure cholera culture a little sterilized broth were added, then immense quantities of bacilli were found, indicating that they not only thrive but multiply in the bodies of the flies. Thus may the seeds of cholera be insidiously deposited on food or in milk to develop into the full-blown disease in the human body. These, then, "water that is past."

In addition to these direct ways of transplanting the seeds of disease there are other and more roundabout methods known to science by which certain flies, fitted by nature with a complete inoculating apparatus, introduce into the human blood the germs of deadly diseases. These flies are chiefly mosquitoes—not all mosquitoes, but certain species, that not only have the power to elaborate the germs of human diseases within the area of their own bodies, but are gifted with the power of extracting these germs from the blood of man, and of giving them back to man again.

To follow this study it will be necessary to transport ourselves mentally to those tropical lands where insect life abounds, and where the mosquito house of science has been adopted to keep mosquitoes in, by men devoting their lives to unraveling the mystery of the connection of these insects with disease. In China, South America, and countries where different forms of elephantiasis prevail, this deplorable disease has long been associated in the medical mind with a certain species of mosquito; hence the searching investigations that have brought to light the life-history of the blood-worm, Filaria sanguinis hominis, its partnership with the mosquito, and the effect of its presence in the blood and tissues of man.—Lady Priestly in The Nineteenth Century.

Swapping Fines.

Travelers in Europe are limited by the railroads to a small quantity of baggage carried free, usually about 56 pounds. In a train in Belgium recently two fellow travelers got into conversation and came upon the subject of free baggage, when one asked leave to measure the other's trunk. The result was that the measurer said:

"Your trunk is seven and a half centimeters too long, and has no right to be in the compartment for free luggage. I am a railway inspector and must fine you 5 francs. Please give me your name and address."

The proposed victim of misplaced confidence was, however, equal to the occasion.

Kindly lend me your measure that I may satisfy myself on the subject."

Then, with a polite smile, "I am a director in the royal weights and measures office. To my great regret I notice that your measure is not stamped, as is required by law; so that, firstly, your measuring is not legally valid, and, secondly, it is my painful duty to subject you to a fine of 50 francs. Please give me your name and address."

Dickens' Love for "Copperfield."

It is well known among literary people that Charles Dickens considered "David Copperfield" the best of his novels, but occasions when he actually expressed that opinion are so rare that it is worth while to recall an incident which happened while he was in Philadelphia. Mr. Chapin, father of Dr. John B. Chapin, the well-known expert on insanity, was at that time at the head of the blind asylum here. Raised type for blind reading was just coming into vogue, and, desiring to have one of Dickens' books printed in that way, Mr. Chapin took advantage of an introduction to the great novelist to ask him which of his works he considered the best, and mentioned the reason why he wanted to know. Dickens unhesitatingly answered "David Copperfield."—Philadelphia Record.

Dog Fed With Rubies.

A peculiar misfortune is described in a recent issue of one of the most serious of the newspapers of Paris, says the San Francisco Argonaut. A lady, whose identity is concealed under the initial "P.," who lives at Vicezenzac, had the misfortune a few days ago to drop a magnificent ruby earring, which a pet dog swallowed. Four days later the jewel was recovered; but, unfortunately, gastric juice had turned it to a topaz color. Mme. P. promptly made the dog swallow the remaining earring. Now scientists are anxiously waiting to see whether it will also become a topaz.

Pilocrapine is a drug used to increase perspiration, and it is defined as the active alkali of jaborandi. A man missing in New York is described as a victim of the pilocarpine habit.

ALIENS IN JAPAN

How They will Be Affected by the New Decree.

Over 1,000 citizens of the United States, 2,000 Englishmen and about 1,000 Germans and French citizens will be directly affected by the new order of things in Japan, by which extra-territoriality disappears and foreign residents are made subject to the laws and business regulations of that empire. Fully 5,000 of the 10,000 foreigners now residing in Japan will be thus affected by this feature of the fifteen new treaties which have abandoned consular courts and extra-territoriality and made the citizens of the fifteen countries in question subject to the laws of Japan when residing in that country.

It is interesting to observe that the disposition of the Japanese is apparently to look almost exclusively to the United States in educational matters, as the total number of Japanese students residing abroad, as shown by the census figures, was 2,465, and of this number 2,178 were in the United States, 129 in Germany, 47 in Russia and Russian colonies, 46 in England and English colonies, 21 in China, 14 in Corea and 10 in France.

The commercial relations between Japan and the United States differ mtaerially from those of many other countries. While our total exports largely exceed our total imports, the conditions are reversed in our commerce with Japan, as our imports from that country greatly exceed our exports to it. This is due to the fact that Japan is the producer of certain articles absolutely required in the United States, and which cannot, or at present are not, produced in this country. Of raw silk for our manufacturers our imports from Japan in the year just ended amounted in round numbers to $15,000,000, or nearly as much as our total exports to that country, while practically one-half of our tea imported was also from Japan, the total from that country during the year being over $4,000,000. Of rice the imports range in the vicinity of a half-million dollars; flax, hemp and jute for manufacturing in round terms a half-million dollars, while manufacturers of silk from Japan range between $2,000,000 and $3,000,000 annually. Japanese official figures show that the exports from that country to the United States were in 1898 47,311,154 yen and her imports from the United States 40,001,087 yen. An examination of the total figures for 1898 shows that Japan's trade with the United States is larger than that with any other country, the exports to the United States being 47,311,154 yen, against 30,473,895 to Hong Kong, 29,198,175 to China, 20,496,406 to France and 7,783,643 to the United Kingdom; while the imports from the United States were 40,001,997 yen, against 62,707,572 from the United Kingdom, 40,764,244 from British East Indies 30,523,860 from China and 25,610,961 yen from Germany.

An Ancient Saw.

Saws were used by the ancient Egyptians. One that was discovered, with several other carpenters' tools, in a private tomb at Thebes is now preserved in the British Museum. The blade, which appears to be of iron, is ten and a half inches long, and an inch and a quarter broad at the widest part. The teeth are irregular, and appear to have been formed by striking a blunt edged instrument against the edge of the plate, the bur, a rough shoulder, thus produced not being removed.

A painting, copied in Rosellini's work on Egyptian antiquities, represents a man using a similar saw, the piece of wood he is cuting being held between two upright posts. In other representations the timber is bound with ropes to a single post, and in one, copied by Rosellini, the workman is engaged in tightening the rope, having left the saw sticking in the cut.

In an engraving given in the third volume of "Wilkinson's Manners and Customs of the Ancient Egyptians," a saw is represented of much larger dimensions, its length being, by comparison with the man, not less than three or four feet. It does not appear that the Egyptians used saws worked by two men.

Will Sail in a Red Wood Tree.

Firmin Moindrou, a California sea captain is making his plan to attend the Paris Exposition, and is going to sail in the trunk of a redwood tree. "I will build a schooner from one of the largest trees in Humboit county," he says. "The hull will be one solid piece simply the trunk of the tree hollowed out and hewn into shape. I will take a tree from 22 to 24 feet in diameter for my boat. She will be 48 feet long, 15 feet beam and 10 feet deep, and will be rigged as a schooner. I will sail from here, go around Cape Horn or through the straights of Magellan, cross the Atlantic and down the Seine to Paris. I want to be ready to start in time to reach Cape Horn about the last of December of this year, so that I will arrive in Paris by May of 1900."

An Eccentric Democrat.

Abraham Stingley, an eccentric resident of Northwest Missouri, who died at the age of ninety-three at his home near Ravenwood, Mo., recently, was a most ardent Democrat and had voted for every Presidential candidate from Jackson to Bryan. Among his peculiarities it is recorded that he never gave a note, never paid a cent of interest, never took a dose of medicine from a physician and never lost any of his teeth, although they were worn down to the gums at the time of his death.

A Safe Method of Removing Warts.

Get from the druggist a solution of chromic acid, two drams to one fluid ounce of water. Dip a sliver of wood, as a match or a toothpick, in the solution and tough the warts with it. The process may be repeated every day or two for three or four times. Warts sometimes disppear without treatment, which accounts for the supposed efficacy of some of the charms used to remove them.—September Ladies' Home Journal.

"Yes," said the pale woman, "my husband keeps grumbling day after day about the way things are going."

"What makes him."

"He says it's patriotism. But between you and me, I think it's rheumatism."—Washington Star.

Make it Public.

Publicity Counts—That's What the People Want—Plainfield Expression on the Subject.

Make it public.
Tell the people about it.
Gratitude promotes publicity.
Grateful citizens talk;
They tell their neighbors, tell their friends.
The news is to good to keep.
Everybody should know about the "Little Conqueror"
Bad backs are numerous.
So few understand the cause.
Plainfield people are learning.
And better still, they re being cured.
Lame backs are lame no more.
Weak ones regain their strength.
This is the every day labor in Plainfield of Doan's Kidney Pills.

Our citizens are making it public:

Mrs. Margaret Beville, of 762 West 3rd street, says: "For a long time I was troubled with a lame and weak back and I never found anything which gave me any relief until I obtained Doan's Kidney Pills from L. W. Randolph's drug store and began to use them according to direction. It was only a short time before I felt the good effects and from that time on I improved steadily under the treatment. My back pained me and was so weak and sore that I dreaded to bend and when I had a cold or overexerted myself I suffered severely. I used several different kidney remedies but got but little if any relief. I give Doan's Kidney Pills all the credit for my improvement. I think they are a fine medicine for a lame back. My experience with them has been very satisfactory and I do not hesitate to recommend them to anyone suffering from kidney troubles."

Doan's Kidney Pills for sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Mailed by Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, N. Y., sole agents for the United States.

Remember the name—Doan's—and take no substitute.

SHERIFF'S SALE—Union County Circuit Court. Frederick M. Masker vs. Sarah A. McNabb, defendant. Fi. fa. de bo. et ter. In Debt.

NOW THE TELEDIAGRAPH.

This Wonderful Machine Successfully Reproduces Pictures By Wire.

IT IS A MODERN MIRACLE.

Worked on Identically the Same Principle as the Phonograph—Drawings Reproduced Like Sound.

Experts Have Been Working For Years in Perfecting a Machine That Is of Practical Value—The Simplicity of the System Is Its Wonder—E. A. Hummell Is the Inventor.

At last the miracle is accomplished. Pictures are being successfully telegraphed long distances by wire.

In storm and sunshine, over rivers and mountains, across big states and wide continents, your portrait or a copy of your ten thousand dollar oil painting, says the New York Herald, may be shot through space in a lightning's flash.

It is a marvelous invention, but as simple as it is wonderful. Professor Morse's original device of ticking off dots and dashes is the foundation of the system. To get a continuous current of electricity, called a "circuit," two connected wires or other conductors are necessary. A circuit sent over a Chicago wire from New York must return to its starting point or there is no circuit. It was early discovered that the earth was as good a conductor as any wire, and that by connecting the wire with the ground at Chicago and New York the current will complete the entire circuit.

As electricity travels around the globe sixteen times in a second, the interval between New York and Chicago is practically instantaneous. It is by suddenly breaking such a circuit by means of the ordinary telegraph key that the light and loud "ticks" are obtained.

If you strike a light, quick blow on the key in Chicago it is instantly repeated in New York.

After telegraphing by hand had been in practice for several years it was discovered that the "dots" and "dashes" indented in the slips of paper in Chicago the characters could be reproduced by running the strip of paper under the key.

It is on this principal that the phonograph of to-day reproduces its records; the little invisible dots on the white cylinder when run under the bit of steel which originally made them will reproduce the song or speech at the other end of the wire.

This principle applied in telegraping pictures works equally well. A drawing is made on a sheet of tinfoil wrapped around a cylinder in the machine similar to the wax cylinder of a phonograph.

In Chicago there is a twin machine regulated to work in perfect harmony with the New York machine. In Chicago, instead of tinfoil, a sheet of carbon or manifold copying paper is placed between two blank sheets of paper. The New York current is turned on and the little needle or platinum point above the revolving cylinder in New York breaks the current when it touches the ink outlines of the picture.

The needle in the Chicago machine, which reproduces every pulsation made in New York, prints the same kind of a record on the carbon paper because the steel point beats hard on the cylinder, and thus the picture in New York is faithfully copied by electricity in Chicago. The simplicity of the system is its wonder.

Yet experts have been years in perfecting a machine that would be of practical commercial value. Mr. Ernest A. Hummell, of St. Paul, is the inventor.

Why Hair Does Not Curl

That the curly wool of the African race is extremely fine hair, instead of coarse, as has been supposed from the reputation given it in former times, is one of the statements made by Arthur Thompson. He claims to have discovered the mystery of why hair curls or does not curl. On this subject he is quoted in "The New-Orleans Picayune" as saying:

"Each hair follicle is provided with a gland and a muscle. The size of the gland varies considerably in different individuals, and from my observations appears larger and better developed in the negro races. The muscle, I may state, has an influence on the position of the hair, thus converting the shaft into a lever.

"In pursuing my investigations I discovered that straight hair is always circular in section and is usually thicker than curly hair, which is ribbon-like and fine, the finest human hair being that met with in the Bush and Andaman races. These facts have a most important bearing on the subject. In order that the muscle that I have described to you, may act as an erector of the hair, it is necsary that the hair must be sufficiently strong to resist the tendency to bend. If the hair is so weak as to bend before the action of the muscle, the leverlike tendency is nullified. When the hair is fine and ribbon-like, the action of the muscle bends it into a curve, and this is the reason why the hair assumes the curly form of the Bush scalp."

"Come here, Johnny! I'm going to give you a piece of—"

"Oh, mamma, is it lemon or custard pie?"

"How dare you interrupt me, Johnny? Come here; I'm going to give you a piece of advice."

PLUMBER'S HORSE RAN AWAY.

Fred Masker, a plumber, left his horse and wagon standing by Rheaume's lumber yard this morning for a few minutes, and in his absence the horse ran away. He went through Fourth street to Park avenue and at the corner of Park avenue broke away and went down the latter street toward the railroad. The runaway horse frightened another horse owned by J. F. Seabring, of South Plainfield, and this horse ran upon the sidewalk near Michael Coyne's place, and was caught by Mr. Coyne before any damage was done. Mr. Masker's horse was caught on Park avenue by Larry Green. The damage to Mr. Masker's rig was slight. Mr. Seabring sustained a slight injury to left foot.

Announcement.

To accommodate those who are partial to the use of atomizers in applying liquids into the nasal passages for catarrhal troubles. The proprietors prepare Cream Balm in liquid form, which will be known as Ely's Liquid Cream Balm. Price including the spraying tube is 75 cts. Druggists or by mail. The liquid form embodies the medicinal properties of the solid preparations. The Grocers' Association.

The Plainfield Grocers' Association conducted a very successful excursion yesterday to South Beach. It required sixteen cars to carry all who desired to go, and there was not a thing that happened to mar the day's pleasure. Everyone had a thoroughly delightful time and the committee in charge received the thanks of all for providing such an ideal excursion.

Mayor Smalley Held Court.

Mayor N. B. Smalley held court yesterday morning and disposed of a few cases. Sheridan Jones, colored, for being drunk and disorderly on Race street, Saturday evening, was arrested by Marshal Campbell, and fined $3; Jacob Overland, of Fritz avenue, also imbibed too freely and was found by Marshal Emmons on Somerset street Saturday night. He was fined $3.

Celebrated His Birthday.

Joseph Scheuerlein, of Somerset street, celebrated his birthday yesterday, and in honor of the event he enjoyed a visit from relatives from New York. There were present Mr. and Mrs. Reihl and Miss Hilda Reihl, parents and sister of Mrs. Scheuerlein, Frank Scheuerlein and Miss Lena Wells.

They'll be There.

Notwithstanding the fact that the Mayor and Borough Council failed to accept the invitation received from Warren Engine Company to be their guests October 12th, when the firemen's parade will be held, the officials will be there. It was an oversight that the invitation was not accepted.

HE GOT THEM.

Individuality as it Stands Out in a Country Town.

Individuality is lost sight of in the cities. It is swallowed up, as it were in the mob. In a village it stands out with surprising distinctness. The odd characters of the place are known to everybody, and their queer sayings and doings are told from mouth to mouth.

In a certain town not a great ways from Cleveland there are probably as many of these peculiar people as any place of its size can boast. One of them is an ancient man who longs for the good old times that followed the war, and is a firm believer in the criminal weakness of the present financial system. He is a man of considerable property, but nevertheless is economical to an extreme degree. In fact he was never known to spend a penny that didn't go for some actual necessity.

There is another character in the town who keeps the village general store. He is a good-hearted fellow who after a long course of bachelorhood, finally married. In this little town it is the custom for the happy bridegroom to set up the cigars for all the congratulating males who drop in to wish him joy. So the bridegroom in this instance had a box on the counter, and most of his patrons were regaled from it.

Pretty soon the ancient gentleman first referred to lounged in. The storekeeper who felt friendly to all the world just then, pushed the box toward the newcomer.

"Have a cigar, Uncle Jim," he smilingly said.

"Uncle Jim looked at the box and looked at the storekeeper.

"Wat's this for?" he asked.

The storekeeper slightly blushed.

"Been gettin' married," he answered.

"Eh?"

"Been gettin' married.

"Who? You?"

"Yep Me."

"An you're standin' treat, eh?"

"Yep." said the storekeeper.

"How much did these seegars cost ye, Ah?" he inquired.

"Oh," replied the storekeeper. "they cost me bout 4 cents. They 're nickel cigars."

The old man dropped the cigar back in the box. Then his gaze wandered around the store.

"Well, Ab," he slowly drawled, "ef it's all the same to you I'll take a pound o' nails!"

And he got them.—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

What Worried Her.

Mrs. Bobson—I was so surprised to hear something about your husband yesterday.

Mrs. Fribley—What was that?

Mrs Bobson—My husband said your husband invited him into a saloon to have a drink.

Mrs. Fribley—Dear me! My, oh, my! Well, well, well! Oh, I just can't——

Mrs. Bobson—There, don't worry about it. My husband declined and your husband didn't drink, either.

Mrs. Fribley—It isn't his drinking that worries me. Where could he have had enough money hidden to pay for it if your husband had accepted his invitation? He must have some secret pocket in his clothes somewhere. —Chicago News.

Its Ultimate Use.

The Gentleman with the Top Hat—It's seldom you see a man with an axe to grind doing it himself. I suppose you're going to shave your face with it.

The Gentleman with the Axe—You have another guess, Cassidy. Sure the old woman is going to manicure her nails.

Costly Setting for a Tooth.

The solitary tooth of Buddha is to be contained in what will probably be the most valuable coffer in the world. A Shan chieftain recently sent to Moulmein, in Burmah, an emerald worth, it is declared, two lakhs of rupees, in order that the Burmese Buddhists might include it among the jewels which they are going to send to Ceylon in order to adorn the tooth-holding coffer. Jewelry worth 50,000 rupees has been already received from Rangoon and Mandalay; and the Moulmein Buddhists have themselves secured jewelry to the value of 85,000 rupees. Thus the total value of the jewelry adorning the coffer will be about three and a half lakhs.

PERSONAL GOSSIP OF INTEREST TO CITY AND BOROUGH.

In Brief are Told the Daily Doings of Many Residents and Visitors Who Go and Come in a Social and Business Way

Fred Randolph, of Newark, is visiting with relatives in this city.

Mr. and Mrs. LeRoy DeCamp, of the borough, are spending their honeymoon at Bernardsville.

Miss Frances Thorn, of East Third street, entertained company from New York over Labor Day.

Tillie Snow, of Jersey City, has returned home after a visit with her aunt, Mrs. Clay, of Netherwood avenue.

J. Hervey Doane, of LaGrande avenue, has returned from Asbury Park, where he has been spending several days.

Harry Tallman, of Chicago, arrived in Plainfield Saturday and is visiting his brother, Chas. Tallman, of North Plainfield.

George Walter, of New Haven, Conn., visited his daughter, Mrs. W. W. St. John, of West Front street, over Saturday and Sunday.

William MacPherson, of Crosby & Hill's store, and family, have taken up their residence on East Fifth street, in Armstrong Mulford's house.

J. P. Laire and wife, of Richmond street, returned home last evening after a vey pleasant visit with relatives at Annandale, Hunterdon county.

Miss M. A. Woodruff, of East Second street, leaves tomorrow for Lebanon, Hunterdon county, where she will spend the month of September on the Moses Felmly farm, in company with several other Plainfield people, who are enjoying the pure air and beautiful scenery of Round Valley and the substantial table and home comforts of the above well-kept farmhouse.

Engagement Announced.

The Daily Press has the privilege of being the first to announce the engagement of Miss Anna Florence LeVan, of Philadelphia, to William A. Stimpson, formerly of the reportorial staff of The Daily Press and now connected with the Trenton Times. Mr. Stimpson has a host of friends in Plainfield who will be glad to learn of his engagement.

Mrs. Kuckio Leaves the Hospital.

Mrs. Kuckio, of Clinton avenue, has recovered sufficiently as to be able to leave the hospital. Her husband is also recovering. No action thus far has been taken against him for his deed of trying to commit murder and suicide.

Cop Who is a Nimrod, too.

Patrolman Nicholas Meyers is now off on his usual vacation which he is spending at various points of interest. Mr. Myers is a great hunter and fisherman and he may bring home plenty of game and fish.

Dished a Wheel.

One of the delivery wagons of J. A. Smith & Brother had a rear wheel dished this afternoon at the corner of East Fifth street and Watchung avenue by a too close acquaintance with the car tracks.

His Collar Bone Broken.

John Wortheimer, an employe of Thorn's laundry, while scuffling on North avenue Saturday evening, fell from the curb and his collar bone was broken. He was taken to the hospital.

An Approaching Marriage.

CITY AFFAIRS DEALT WITH BY THE COUNCIL.

Many Small Matters Considered at September Meeting.

PETITIONS FROM CITIZENS.

BIDS RECEIVED FOR MACADAMIZING W. THIRD AND FOURTH STREETS.

Extension of the Trolley Wanted Through Woodland and Putnam Avenues to the Cemetery and the Golf Grounds—City Asked to Give Money for Drinking Fountain—Other Business.

The business transacted at the regular September meeting of the Common Council held last evening was not of great importance, and owing to the lateness of the hour in starting, 10 o'clock, which was due to the public hearing given on the extension of the Arlington avenue trolley, an account of which appears in another column, it was completed in as short a time as possible.

There were bids received for the macadamizing of West Third and Fourth streets, and three bids were presented. Phillips & Co., of Philadelphia, bid 69 cents per lineal foot for Third street; $1.14½ for West Fourth street, 30 feet wide from New street to Plainfield avenue, and $1 49½ for 40 foot width from Plainfield avenue to Monroe avenue. The bid submitted by C. M. Meeker was very close to the above bid. It was 68 cents for West Third street, $1.18 for West Fourth street, from New street to Plainfield avenue, and $1.46 from Plainfield avenue to Monroe avenue. Patsy Christmas was high man. He bid 73 cents for West Third street and $1.44 for West Fourth street, from New street to Monroe avenue. Of course, all bids include the furnishing of all materials. They were all received and the result will be announced at the next meeting probably.

H. J. Runyon and others petitioned the Council for the extension of the trolley through Woodland and Putnam avenues to the golf grounds and cemetery, setting forth the advantages to be derived from it over that route. Residents of West Second street, between Central avenue and Liberty street, asked to have that street macadamized. Residents of John street petitioned to have the street set to grade, claiming that the street is in terrible condition. Charles H. Hand petitioned for the privilege of erecting four iron posts for an awning in front of his property, corner of East Fourth street and Watchung avenue, similar to the one in front of J. A. Smith & Brother's grocery. Residents of Essex street petitioned to have the surplus dirt now on West Fourth street removed to their street and the street graded. Residents of West Fourth street and Lee place complained of the condition of the gutters, which they say will not carry off the surface water. Mr. Barrows explained that it is the intention of the Council to macadamize that street and the trouble will be remedied.

The Plainfield Water Supply Company stated in a communication that two fire hydrants, as ordered, had been installed. The Loyal Temperance Legion, in a communication, stated that funds are being raised for the purpose of erecting a public drinking fountain on North avenue for man and beast, and they asked the Council to contribute something toward the same which will cost about $475. The Board of Education asked the Council to deposit their share of the collections from the Martin Act in the bank to the credit of the school fund.

Mrs. A. Swaim, of West Front street, again called the attention of the Council to the complaint she made sometime ago regarding the damages caused to her plants through carelessness as a result of the breaking of gas mains near her house. The matter was referred to the street committee who will communicate with the complainant. It was Mrs. Swaim's expressed wish that the Council settle with her for damages.

Building Inspector T. O. Doane reported that thirteen permits were granted during August.

Mr. VanHerwerden offered a resolution that in anticipation of the collection of taxes that $5,000 for the general fund and $1,000 for the fire fund be borrowed. Mr. Tolles moved that the request for four electric lights on West Sixth street be granted, and that a similar request for four lights on the lower part of Park avenue also be granted. Regarding the petition for lights on Beliview avenue, in the opinion of the committee there are not a sufficient number of houses on the avenue to warrant the locating of any on that thoroughfare.

Mr. Smith offered a resolution giving George J. Tobin the contract to heat the City Industrial Home at an expense of $1,027.24. The same was adopted. Mr. Smith explained, in answer to Mr. Barrows' inquiries as to whether bids had been advertised for, that the fire committee had recommended the names of A. M. Griffin, W. C. Krausse and G. J. Tobin, and bids had been received from these people to do the work. Mr. Tobin's bid was found to be the one best suited for the purpose in the judgment of the alms committee.

Mr. VanHerwerden stated that he had received many complaints from residents of this city about the great amount of unnecessary noise made by engines on the Central Railroad, especially during the night when people want to sleep, and he moved that the corporation counsel be instructed to write to the company and use his efforts to have the nuisance abated. It was complained that people are unable to sleep owing to the constant whistle of engines and from other causes which in the opinion of the complainants can be stopped.

After Mr. Barrows moved that when council adjourn it be to meet next Monday evening, council adjourned.

ESTIMABLE WOMAN DEAD

SUFFERED FATAL HEMORRHAGE SOON AFTER KISSING HUSBAND GOODBY.

Mrs. Meschutt Had Been Ill for Sometime—No Hope of Recovery, but Death Came Rather Unexpectedly Yesterday

The many friends in this city will be pained to learn of the death of Mrs Hannah M. Meschutt, wife of George F. Meschutt, which occurred at 9:30 o'clock yesterday morning at her residence, 326 East Front street.

Mrs. Meschutt had been an invalid for many months, but it was not until about Christmas that she was confined to her room and later to her bed, consumption having developed to such a stage that her husband and the relatives of the family have entertained no hope of her recovery.

Dr. Zeglio has been in attendance and though he gave no encouragement to the family, he succeeded in materially benefitting the sufferer, who at times would feel greatly encouraged. Frequently Mrs. Meschutt had been able to sit up and had expressed the belief that she would regain her health. She has been attended by her only sister, Mrs. T. S. Harris, of Philadelphia, who has been her faithful and constant companion for several months. Of late, however, Mrs. Meschutt became despondent and felt as though she could not live. Yesterday morning she kissed her husband good bye as he left for his place of business in Jersey City.

Soon afterwards she was seized with a hemorrhage and before Dr. Zeglio could reach the house death resulted.

Mrs. Meschutt was a member of the First Presbyterian church, but owing to ill health had not taken active interest in church affairs.

Funeral services will be held at the house at 8 o'clock tomorrow evening. Rev. Charles E Herring will officiate. The body will be taken to Arlington for burial in the family plot Friday morning. The funeral is in charge of Undertaker Walter Runyon, of Dunellen.

STOPPED TROLLEY WORK.

The Company was Not Following the Route Agreed Upon Through the Cook Estate.

Work on the trolley extension to Westfield received a temporary setback at Scotch Plains yesterday, when Henry Cook, representing the Cook estate, stopped the work through the Cook farm. Mr. Cook claimed the company was not following the route agreed upon, and unless they kept to their agreement there would be no trolley through the estate he represented. Col. Hines was communicated with and after a consultation with others it was agreed that the company would follow the route agreed upon, so work will probably be resumed today.

TO TAP SOUTH BRANCH.

New York and New Jersey Telephone Company Plan Further Invasion.

The New York and New Jersey Telephone Company is planning to still further extend its lines. The present line to Neshanic from Somerville now runs within a few hundred yards of the village of South Branch. It is the intention of the company to run a line into South Branch and establish a pay station there. There will only be one telephone in the place as the demand is not sufficient to put in any more.

FIERCE CHASE FOR GIRL'S ASSAILANT.

Neighbors Arroused to a Fury by Attacks on a Child.

WAS JAILED JUST IN TIME.

MOB WOULD HAVE DEALT HARSHLY WITH HIM.

He Had Entered the House of a Mountainside Farmer and Over-awed and Assaulted a Twelve-year-old Girl—Chased by Farmers Almost All the Way Into Westfield, Where He Was Arrested.

(Special to The Daily Press.)

Westfield, Sept. 6—Mountainside, a small town near here, had a regular man hunt yesterday when it became known that Lelia, the twelve year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James O'Connor, had been assaulted in the absence from the house of the parents.

Mr. O'Connor, who is a well-to-do farmer, was working in the fields and his wife had gone to call on a neighbor, leaving three young children alone. The younger two went to join their father, and as soon as they were out of sight a tall, rough man appeared at the kitchen door and asked the little girl if she was alone. He walked in and told her to get him something to eat.

After placing some bread and butter before the man the girl attempted to leave the house, but he caught her by the arm and dragged her screaming into the parlor. The child fought with all her might, and the man hit her over the head. This did not stop her, and he then took her by the throat and choked her. As she could do nothing more, she reasoned that he might leave her if she was quiet, and she was right. Thinking that the blow on the head had killed her, the man quickly left the house.

Although badly hurt and frightened the little girl lost no time in getting to her father. He aroused the neighborhood and started a search for the man. He was sighted about noon, and a hot race took place. The crowd increased at every house, and threats of lynching were numerous. Had the man been caught at this time he would have suffered for his crime without a doubt. George Fritz saw the man turn into Chestnut street, Westfield. He drove after him, and after a hard fight brought him to the lockup in this place and turned him over to the police just as the father and a crowd of followers arrived, vowing vengeance. They attempted to get at the man, but he was pushed into a cell and the lock snapped before they could mete out retribution.

The man, who is about forty years old, said that he was Frederick Knock, of Pittsburg, Pa., and that he had been looking for work. He denied that he had been at the house at all, but was identified by several men who had seen him hanging about the place all the morning. In his pocket was found a paper showing that he had taken out naturalization papers in Allegheny county, Pennsylvania, April 4th, 1899.

The man was committed to the County Jail at Elizabeth, but has not been removed there as yet. It is feared that there will be trouble when the prisoner is taken to the railroad station.

Honeyman Party Returns Highly Elated Over Their Experiences Abroad.

The A. V. D. Honeyman party of excursionists arrived in New York yesterday morning at 8 o'clock on the Friedrich der Grosse, which steamer was not due until today. The voyage over was a very delightful one and the whole party return in the best of health. Exclusive of Mr. Honeyman, the other Plainfielders in the party include Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Sandford and daughter, Miss Pauline May Sandford and Mrs. Letitia Penfield. They speak in the highest praise of their trip and Mr. Honeyman's management of it from the beginning to the end.

Night School.

The night school of Plainfield Business College, City Bank building, opened last evening. The same branches are taught as in the day school. You can take bookkeeping, shorthand, typewriting, arithmetic, grammar, commercial law, penmanship, reading, spelling, geography, algebra—any or all. Remember this school gives you four nights a week—Monday, Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday evenings. Rates very low, no matter how backward you may be. Excellent positions are now occupied by some of our former evening students. A. A. Phelps, president.

RUTH MOORE SENT TO REFORM SCHOOL.

Tried to Escape On Her Way to Jail.

NOT FIFTEEN YEARS OLD.

WAS COMMITTED AT REQUEST OF HER MOTHER.

Was Married a Month Ago to Richard Davis, Who, the Police Allege, Has Another Wife—She Has Had an Eventful Career—Judge Vail Sent Her to the Industrial School at Trenton.

Although Ruth Moore is not yet 15 years old she has seen a good deal of life. She has been married, has been in jail, and now the latest important happening in her career is her departure to the State Industrial School for Girls at Trenton. She was committed to that institution yesterday by Judge Vail at the request of her mother.

For some time Ruth has been under the surveillance of the police. In June she was arrested on the charge of being disorderly and City Judge Runyon suspended sentence on her after she promised to reform. A month ago she was married to one Richard Davis, who, the police allege, has another wife.

Before the marriage Mrs. Moore was able to have some slight control over the girl but since that time, she has done as she pleased, claiming that as a married woman she was beyond parental authority.

Yesterday morning Mrs. Moore and her daughter, City Judge Runyon and Sergeant Kiely went to Elizabeth and appeared before Judge Vail. Mrs. Moore made application to the Judge to have her daughter committed to the Industrial School, alleging that she was incorrigible. There was a new phase to the case as Ruth claimed to be a married woman. The police declared the marriage illegal, however, and the Judge sent her to the school.

After the adjournment of court Sergeant Kiely and Sheriff Kirk started to escort Ruth to the jail, pending her transfer to the Industrial School. As the Sheriff approached her, she uttered a scream and, backing up against the railing, begged the officers not to take her, promising to obey her mother if she was not taken away.

After some persuasion she agreed to accompany the officers to the warden's office and started forward. When she reached the door leading from the court room to the jail she made a sudden dash for liberty. Sergeant Kiely had been watching her and was after her in an instant. She had taken but a few steps when the officer's hand was on her arm and she was hustled into the jail before she had time to make any further resistance.

CONTRACTOR RELIEVED OF JOB.

Somerset Freeholders Not Satisfied With Macadamizing Being Done.

Freeholder Lutkins, of the borough, met yesterday with the bridge committee from the Somerset County Board of Freeholders, and they went over the road at Belle Mead, which was being macadamized by Contractor Reihl, of Somerville. They found the work was not being done as it should be and they took it out of the hands of the contractor and turned it over to County Engineer Joseph Dougherty, with instructions for him to go on and finish the road as it should be.

Night Watchman George Rockafellaw discovered late last evening that the front door at VanEmburgh & Son's store on West Front street was unlocked. He left Patrolman Higgins in charge while he went to Mr. VanEmburgh's home and notified him about it. The door was fastened soon afterward by Mr. VanEmburgh. During the early part of the evening one of the proprietors and W. R. Codington were at the store, and they must have unconsciously left the door unlocked.

Kearney's First N. J. Brigade Society.

ARLINGTON AVENUE TROLLEY EXTENSION.

Much Hard Work for and Against the Use of the Trolley.

COUNCIL GAVE A HEARING.

EUGENE HATCH REPRESENTED ELEVEN PROPERTY OWNERS.

Argued That the Avenue Was Not Fitted for the Introduction of the Trolley for Several Reasons—Col. Deitrich Was Enthusiastically in Favor of It—Council Adjourned Without Taking Action.

Apropos of the introduction of the trolley through Arlington avenue, the Common Council set last evening as the time when a hearing pro and con should be given. Long before 8 o'clock the lobby was well filled with a representative gathering of citizens, some of whom opposed and some favored the trolley. Despite argument for and against, nothing was done by the Council and after a recess of fifteen minutes, the hearing was adjourned for one week.

Eugene Hatch, one of those affected, and a resident of Eighth street and Arlington avenue, was the first speaker. He said that he represented eleven property owners on Arlington avenue, with a total of 2,100 feet frontage, as follows: Mrs. Babcock, 352 feet; Mrs. Hatch, 330; Miss Kenyon, 550; Mrs. W. P. Smith, 260; Mr. Schuck, 147; Mr. Ross, 174; J. D. Spicer, 175; Mr. Buckalew, 140; Mrs. Taylor, 125; Mrs. Monfort, 42; Mrs. Jackson, 50. This was assessed, Mr. Hatch said, for $50,000, which was equal to the property for which consents had been secured for the trolley.

Mr. Hatch reaffirmed his objections made at a previous meeting about that section being one of homes and of the number of invalids living there, and of the constant annoyance that a trolley would be. He thought the Council did the residents on that avenue an injury when they granted the Scotch Plains trolley with the agreement that one should be located on their avenue, thus binding themselves to grant the franchise.

He quoted Assessor Hubbard as saying that if the trolley should go through that avenue it would depreciate the value of the property very materially. He said that there was not a general demand for the trolley, and cited the vacant lots below Ninth street, which would never be improved, a veritable swamp land, and yet consents for 700 feet of this land has been secured. Mr. Hatch cited legal objections and said that those he represented would fight the trolley in the courts.

Col. John Dietrich, of Arlington avenue, was the next speaker. He said that judging from the remarks of Mr. Hatch one would think that there is nothing but brown stone houses and invalids on the avenue. He said that Mrs. Babcock lives 100 feet off of the avenue, and Mr. Hatch, who would not want to be known as living on the avenue, resides on fashionable Eighth street. The Seminary property was exempt from taxes twenty-three years ago, he claimed, and a prominent Legislator secured an enactment in favor of this property. He begged the Council to grant the trolley franchise.

Hugh McDonough, who claimed he had spent $30,000 on the avenue in erecting houses, earnestly asked that the trolley franchise be granted.

Lawyer Winfield S Angleman, representing some of the objectors, said he was glad that the fact was noted that a majority of the property owners do not front on the avenue. He said about half of the consents secured were for property on Park avenue where it runs through to Arlington avenue, He cited the fact that the trolley company filed a map for a single track, and they might use a double one. They should petition directly for what they want. He thought it did not look as though the people on Arlington avenue want the trolley when there is a bare majority of 154 feet in consents. He claimed that the avenue near the school is a play ground for children, that a wagon scarcely passes through there once an hour.

David Runyon, who lives on the upper part of the avenue, also spoke in favor of the trolley. He did not think it should be a contest of one end of the avenue against the other, or that two or three people should block the trolley.

Otto Ahrens, of Park avenue, argued in favor of the trolley. Assemblyman Roger F. Murray spoke at length in favor of the trolley. He lives on Arlington avenue and wants to see improvements. B. A. Mumford, a resident of the avenue for twenty years, urged the introduction of the trolley.

William Palmer Smith spoke against the trolley and told how it would damage his property on the avenue. Dr. Probasco, of the Board of Education, spoke in favor of the trolley, but objected to the short turn from Fourth street into the avenue. Charles Burnett, of Madison avenue, spoke in favor of the trolley.

This concluded the remarks by the citizens present, and Mr. Barrows made a few remarks in conclusion. He said while no one had approached any member regarding the trolley the Council had agreed to grant a franchise for Arlington avenue. He spoke of the benefits to be derived in opening unused territory. No other street in the city would be injured as little as this avenue and he favored it for the trolley. He spoke of the advantages for children in getting to school, especially where carriages cannot be hired for that purpose. He said that Plainfield was just beginning to grow in the outlying districts. He spoke of the advantages in reaching nearby towns. He hoped that soon there would only be two cemeteries in the city—Hillside and St. Mary's and he understood that the one on Plainfield avenue is to be abandoned.

This concluded the trolley matter for the evening and after a recess the hearing was adjourned for one week.

IS KEPT IN THE FAMILY.

COMPTON BLOCK PURCHASED BY CORNELIUS K. COMPTON.

Bids Started at $10,000 and Ended at $18,500—Other Property of the Estate Will Be Sold at a Later Date.

Yesterday afternoon at 2 o'clock at the City Hotel, Charles A. Reed, special master in chancery, sold the Compton property Nos. 140, 142, 144 West Front street, which is one of the best known in this city. There was a good-sized crowd present and the property was started at $10,000 and gradually bid up to $18,500 at which price it was sold to Cornelius K. Compton, one of the heirs. It was bid in for Mr. Compton by Nelson Runyon, of the firm of Nelson & Wm. N. Runyon, solicitors.

The other property belonging to the estate and located at 502 West Front street, consisting of a dwelling house and lot, was bid up to $2,150, and it was agreed to adjourn the sale of this property for two weeks. The sale will take place on the premises on Tuesday, September 19th. The property is being disposed of for the purpose of settling the estate.

THE ASSESSMENT PAID.

William H. Shotwell Advanced the Cash Depending on the Lot Owners to Reimburse Him.

This morning William H. Shotwell personally advanced the money and paid Collector George F. Brown, of the borough, the assessment of $210 on the North Plainfield Cemetery for the opening of Watchung avenue. Although public opinion was almost unanimously against the commissioners for assessing the cemetery, still there seemed no legal way to prevent the collector from collecting the amount or selling the property, and Mr. Shottwell was daily being importuned by lot owners not to let the place be sold or even advertised for sale, and he therefore paid the assessment out of his personal funds, trusting to the honor and integrity of lot owners to reimburse him.

INDULGED IN OYSTERS.

Pevious to That the Borough Firemen Made Arrangements for Their Parade.

There was a regular meeting of the Warren Engine Company last evening, followed by an oyster supper. At the meeting there was considerable discussion regarding the firemen's parade to be held on October 12th. It was reported that acceptances had been received from eleven companies and arrangements for the parade are gradually being perfected.

The members expect to receive their new uniforms in a few days, and a handsome closet, costing $75, is being erected to keep them in. The supper which followed the meeting was a pleasant affair. It was held at the rooms and the committee in charge prepared it to suit the taste of all present.

Many on the Trolley Cars.

The travel last Monday on the trolley cars was perhaps the largest in the history of the company, with the possible exception of Fourth of July. The beautiful weather brought pleasure seekers out in large numbers.

Borough Schools Open Next Tuesday.

The Borough Public Schools will reopen next week Tuesday, September 12th.

—The steam roller is now located on Park avenue below Randolph road, where it is being used to repair the road.

BOROUGH TAX GOES UP EIGHT POINTS.

Despite Efforts of Administration to Lower It.

BIG JUMP IN SCHOOL TAX.

COST OF RUNNING BOROUGH HAS BEEN REDUCED.

The Borough Tax Rate for the New Fiscal Year Will Be $2.28, as Against $2.20 in the Present Year—School Tax and County Tax Are Responsible—Cost of Schools Increased.

The tax rate in the borough of North Plainfield has followed the example of the tax rate on the city side of the brook. It has gone up. There is an essential difference in the increase, however. The new administration in the borough promised, when it was elected, to reduce the tax rate. As far as the administration is concerned, that promise has been kept, but the county and school taxes have taken such a jump that they more than equalled the reduction in the expenses of the borough government and sent the tax rate from $2.20 on $100 to $2.28.

The administration made a great effort to reduce the cost of running the borough. According to the appropriations for the coming fiscal year, it will be necessary to raise $18,000 to run the borough during the next year. This appropriation is considerably less than that of the present fiscal year. The borough rate at present is .81. Next year it will be .76, a fall of five points.

The decrease is more than covered, however, by the increase in the cost of running the borough public schools. The Board of Education has the fixing of the school tax. Their request at the beginning of the present fiscal year was for $13,800. Now the appropropriation is fixed at $16,050. In addition, the schools have the appropriation from the State of several thousand dollars.

The cost of running Somerset county affairs is also growing. The county tax rate has been increased from .53 to .56. There is also one point increase in the State school tax. The Board of Health tax remains the same, two points.

The taxable valuation of real and personal property in the borough is $2,384,455. Assessor E. M. French has completed the computation of the tax rate. The old and new tax rates compared are as follows:

	98.	99.
Borough	.81	.76
County	.53	.56
State school	.26	.27
Special school	.58	.67
Board of Health	.02	.02
	2.20	2.28

Westfield—Edward Wilcox, Benjamin J. Crosby, William H. Stitt.

Union—Fred Townley, James B. Woodruff, Walter A. Miller, George Osborne.

Cranford — David Rankin, John Winans.

Springfield—Ezra R. Squier, Edward W. Marsh.

New Providence—Eugene Badgley, Victor Mercier.

Linden—William M. Trimmer, William H. Donaldson, George F. Dravis.

Summit—Daniel Tingley, William Earl.

Fanwood — Winfield Scott Terry, Frank R. Allen, Louis W. Miller.

HIS BONDSMAN SETTLED.

Then the Charge of Embezzlement Against William Widdeman Was Not Pushed in Court.

William Widdeman, a collector formerly employed by Frank Linke, was arrested early this morning by Patrolman Totten, who found him on Watchung avenue in a helpless state of intoxication. Widdeman was locked up. The real purpose of apprehending Widdeman was for an alleged embezzlement from Mr. Linke of a sum of money said to be about $80 which he had failed to turn in after collecting. John Widdeman, the accused's father, who is also his bondsman, agreed to make good the loss.

The charge of embezzlement against Widdeman was not pressed.

Miss Wagner, a valued sales lady with Doane & Edsall, resigned her position Saturday night.

PROVEN TO BE A TRAITOR

Esterhazy Practically Makes This Admission in the Dreyfus Case.

HOLD A SECRET SESSION

Labori Puts a Series of Questions Tending to Show Unreliability of Major Esterhazy.

Witnesses Testify to His Confession of Writing the Bordereau—Roget Admits That He Got Letters From Him Since the Trial Began—Foreign Testimony to be Admitted.

Rennes, Sept. 6.—Examination of the secret espionage dossier was the sole occupation of the Dreyfus court-martial during it siting in secret, the decision having been reached, in view of the message from Gen. de Gallifet, Minister of War, to hear the rest of the evidence of Ceruschi in open court.

When the open session of the court-martial began M. Labori presented a formal application to the court for an order upon Major Carriere, the Government Commissary, to request that interested foreign governments, through diplomatic channels, communicate to the court various documents relating to the bordereau. Labori said he thought this step would worry nobody and that it was in conformity with precedents.

Major Carriere replied that he did not think the Government could ask another Government for the restoration of documents. He suggested that the defense should obtain and submit the papers semi-officially to the court. He saw no objection to hearing Col. Schwartzkoppen and Sig. Panizzardi if they consented to come.

Col. Jouaust said the court would decide the matter later, and meanwhile proceeded with the taking of evidence.

The first witness who was called to the bar was the reporter, Basset, whom the Matin sent to London to interview Major Count Ferdinand Walzin Esterhazy. The witness deposed that Esterhazy confessed to him that he wrote the bordereau under orders from Col. Sandherr, who was then Chief of the Secret Intelligence Bureau.

The order, Esterhazy said, was to catch the traitor at the headquarters of the General Staff, whom Esterhazy afterward said was Captain Dreyfus.

Major Carriere here burst out with an extraordinary protest against Major Esterhazy's insinuations against Col. Sandherr.

"I protest," he cried, "in the name and memory of Col. Sandherr against the insinuations introduced against him."

M. Labori, however, ignored this protest, which he styled "a ridiculous pretention."

M. Labori then called upon Gen. Roget to testify regarding letters he had received from Esterhazy since the opening of the trial.

Gen. Roget looked the ghost of his former assertive self. His face was careworn and showed little of that fighting spirit which first characterized his appearance upon the stage. He replied that he only opened one letter from Major Esterhazy, which he had forwarded to Col. Jouaust. Gen. Roget added that he had declined to receive other letters.

M. Labori then asked Col. Jouaust to have the letter read.

Col. Jouaust at first declined, but M. Labori insisted so firmly that Col. Jouaust, after wrangling awhile, gave way and consented that the letter should be read later.

Gen. Roget then read the one Esterhazy letter which he admitted having opened. In this letter Major Esterhazy said he could not prove the existence of the alleged syndicate organized in the interest of Dreyfus and complained that the General Staff had refused to give him a fair hearing.

M. Labori then put a series of questions intended to bring out the fact that the General Staff had made use of Major Esterhazy even after he was known to be unreliable.

Gen. Roget said he had not confessed Major Esterhazy's avowals to be of any value.

Gen. Roget said he had not confessed Major Esterhazy's avowals to be of any value.

M. Demange asked Gen. Roget his opinion of Major Esterhazy.

"I have an absolute conviction," replied Gen. Roget, amid cries of "Oh!" from the audience, "that Major Esterhazy is a stranger to treason."

Gen. Roget delivered a short discourse in reply to the statement that the phrase in the bordereau "I am going to the manoeuvres" showed that Dreyfus could not be the author of the bordereau. Gen. Roget maintained that M. Lamothe was wrong.

Capt. Dreyfus arose and in a clear voice emphatically insisted that the circular of May 17, 1894, announcing that the probationers would not go to the manoeuvres was written in the clearest language, which the Court would see if it was read. He reiterated that he never asked to go to the manoeuvres, for he was absolutely convinced that such a request would not have been granted.

M. Deffes, a reporter for the Temps, testified that he saw Major Esterhazy in London, and that the latter had confessed that he was the author of the bordereau.

M. Tfarieux's deposition closed the public session. He made a very telling speech.

Before the session closed the judges denied the request of Maitre Labori that foreign attaches be called to testify on behalf of Dreyfus.

Appeal to Powers.

Paris, Sept. 6.—M. Delcasse, the minister of foreign affairs, will notify the French Embassies at Berlin and Rome to request of the German and Italian Governments the citation of Colonel Schwartzkopper and Major Panizzard, to appear as witnesses before the court martial at Rennes.

These officers were the military attaches of their respective governments at Paris who have been frequently mentioned in connection with the Dreyfus case.

It was these witnesses who the court at Rennes decided at first, were beyond its jurisdiction. Their testimony, it is believed, will fully acquit Dreyfus.

COAL PRICES FAST RISING.

Ohio Operators Go Ahead of Pittsburg Combine.

Pittsburg, Sept. 6.—Coal operators of Ohio have gone ahead of the Pittsburg Coal Company, the combination of Pittsburg interests, in advancing the price of coal. They have issued a circular to the trade which says that the prices for Ohio coal shall be 10 cents higher than for that of the Pittsburg district.

Pittsburg coal was advanced September 1 to a uniform price of $1.10. This price applies only to what is known as lump coal. The price of screened coal over a one and one-quarter inch screen was fixed at $1 a ton. The announcement of the advance in Ohio causes considerable surprise in coal circles as it is not the result of a combination of Ohio interests, but apparently a natural betterment governed by the laws of supply and demand. The circular of the Ohio operators says:

"To the Trade: Until further advised, the following will be our prices for coal, per ton of 2,000 pounds on cars at the mines: Lump, $1.20; steam lump, $1.10; run of mine, $1.00; nut, 75c., and coarse slack, 30 cents."

New York Lawyer Shot.

New Brunswick, N. J., Sept 6.—The body of Lewis Wettler, the New York lawyer who died at Trenton from the accidental discharge of a gun, was taken to his home at Millstone by his father. He was returning from a gunning trip with J. L. Hoagland, of this city, when a sudden jar of the wagon caused the discharge of the weapon, the charge entering Wettler's left side. He died three hours later in the hospital at Trenton.

Big Hotel Burned.

Paterson, N. J., Sept. 6.—The Olympic Park Hotel, a frame structure, at Lake View, was burned to the ground. The hotel was crowded with guests, most of whom had retired for the night. All escaped, but few had time to dress or save any of their effects. The hotel was leased by Daniel W. Demarest. The loss is estimated at about $30,000, partially covered by insurance. Demarest lost all he possessed.

Chicago Wants a Mills Hotel.

Chicago, Sept. 6.—Preparations are under way for the establishment in Chicago of a hotel on the plan of the Mills hotels of New York City. The project is being advocated by John H. Bogue. It is intended to form a company with a capital stock of $600,000, divided into shares of $100 each, and with the money purchase land in the down-town district and build the hotel.

Whisky Business Doubled.

Peoria, Ill., Sept. 6.—In consequence of the war in whisky prices inaugurated by the trust for the purpose of downing the independent distilleries, the sales of spirits have more than doubled in excess of what they have ever been before, the receipts at the United States Internal Revenue office for the Fifth District here being $104,937 for a single day.

Stabbing Affray at Medina.

Medina, N. Y., Sept. 6.—Riley Culver, a man of unusual strength, and Jockey Holcomb, a negro, between whom there has been a bitter feeling for some time, became engaged in a stabbing affray here, from the effects of which the negro will probably die. Culver was not seriously injured. A crowd witnessed the affair but made no effort to stop it.

Atchison Bank Closed.

Washington, Sept. 6.—The Comptroller of the Currency has closed the doors of the Atchison National Bank, of Atchison, Kan. According to its report of June 30 last the bank had a capital of $50,000; surplus and undivided dividends, $11,385; due depositors, $189,163; circulation outstanding, $45,000; total resources and liabilities, $295,548.

Noted Indian Chief Dead.

Black River Falls, Wis., Sept. 6.—Black Hawk, the most noted of the chiefs of the Wisconsin Winnebago Indians, died at Brockway, a few miles from this city. He was 90 years old. Black Hawk was always a friend of the white man, and on several occasions prevented the Winnebagoes from taking the warpath against the Government.

Will Report on Evans.

Washington, Sept. 6.—The report of the special committee on the conduct of his office by Pension Commissioner Evans will be made this week and discussed at the G. A. R. encampment, which will probably pass resolutions condemning Evans again. It is understood that the report will exonerate the Commissioner.

Southern Governors Will Speak.

Huntsville, Ala., Sept. 6.—At the Southern Industrial Convention to be held here October 10-14, the Governors of Alabama, Arkansas, Florida, Georgia, Louisiana, Missouri, North Carolina, South Carolina, Tennessee, Virginia and West Virginia will deliver addresses on "Resources and Industrial Advantages."

Wrecked Safe With Dynamite.

Ovid, N. Y., Sept. 6.—The safe in the office of the Ovid Steam mill was blown open and the contents, which amounted to less than $100 in value, were stolen. The safe door was drilled and blown to pieces with dynamite. Owing to the thickness of the wall of the mill, the sound of the explosion was not heard.

Crane Found Dead in Bed.

Paterson, N. J., Sept. 6.—Frank E. Crane, aged forty years, a decorator, was found dead in bed here. He was under contract to decorate many buildings in New York for the Dewey parade. Crane gained a national reputation for work in Washington at Presidential inaugurations.

The Monongahela Arrives.

Washington, Sept. 6.—The Navy Department has received a telephone message from Norfolk announcing that the overdue practice ship Monongahela, passed the Virginia Capes and signalled "all well."

HER FRIENDSHIP SINCERE

Justice Chambers Says England Has a Kindly Regard For America.

WHAT HE HAS OBSERVED

The Cordiality Between British and American Competitors in Samoa Greatly Pleases Him.

Chief Justice of Samoa Speaks Interestingly of the Development of American Commerce on the Pacific—Will Submit Report to the President Soon.

Washington, Sept. 6.—W. L. Chambers, Chief Justice of Samoa, who has just arrived in Washington, will submit his report to the President within a few days. He is now on a leave of absence, and the Consul-General, Mr. Osborne, is acting Chief Justice until a successor is appointed, should Justice Chambers resign.

Justice Chambers spoke very interestingly of the development of American commerce on the Pacific, and the cordiality between British and American competitors. He said that he had become thoroughly converted to the sincerity of the English friendship toward America. This sentiment, which was manifested strongly in Samoa, is shown all over the world where English and American interests are involved. A sentimental alliance, stronger than any merely formal treaty, exists between the two peoples. In the progress of recent events our confidence in the disposition of Great Britain to be careful of American interests is found in the fact that it is not deemed necessary by this Government to send a warship to South Africa to look after American interests there.

The Samoan Commission, he said, has succeeded in greatly improving the situation in the islands, and the prospects of a satisfactory adjustment of the questions at issue are good. Meanwhile the construction of the great iron coal sheds by the United States at Pago Pago harbor is in progress. Whatever settlement of the Samoan question may be arrived at finally, the United States owns and will hold this magnificent harbor, and it is the only government that has any such possession in Samoa, neither Germany nor Great Britain owning a port or any territory there except their consulates. Pago Pago harbor, he said, is perhaps the most magnificent in the world. It is land-locked and perfectly safe and could float the entire American Navy, while half a dozen warships could defend it against the navies of the world. It is so situated, surrounded by high bluffs, that shells cannot be thrown into it, and the entrance is so narrow that not more than two war vessels could enter it abreast. The most direct line of trade between Hawaii and Sydney, Australia, and from San Francisco to Sydney passes through the Samoan group, and the development of commerce has been very great within the past few years. With the possession of Pago Pago complete protection can always be afforded our commerce.

Coal Famine Threatened.

Washington, Ind., Sept. 6.—The coal operators and dealers of the Indiana district anticipate a coal famine within the next month, should the demand for fuel continue to increase as it has during the past five weeks. Many of the operators and dealers are three and four days behind in orders, and in some of the cities, especially in Terre Haute, several of the small dealers have been compelled to close their offices, on account of the impossibility to get coal from the mines on account of the scarcity of cars.

Fighting Forest Fires.

Little Rock, Ark., Sept. 6.—Disastrous forest fires are raging in the southern portion of Calhoun County. Already great damage has been done and unless rain comes soon the loss will be incalculable. Farmers are working all day and night to save their property and many have become sick from exhaustion. Several have been prostrated from heat while fighting the fire.

Clever Work With Rifle.

Denver, Sept. 6.—D. W. King, Jr., a member of the Denver Rifle Club, scored 96 out of a possible 100 in a competitive team shoot here, thereby making the highest individual rifle score ever made in a contest under the rules governing the shoot. The shooting was offhand strictly, American standard target, seven ring black, distance 200 yards.

The Deer Cost Him $20.

Albany, N. Y., Sept. 6.—David Satterlee, of Speculator, Hamilton county, has been fined $20 for violating the game laws by trapping a deer in his vegetable patch. The trap had been set to catch animals which had been tearing up his vegetable garden. Mr. Satterice had no idea that deer was the cause of his loss.

Jews Urged Not to Go to Paris.

Boston, Sept. 6.—Rabbi Charles E. Fleischer, pastor of the Temple Adath Israiel, at the Jewish New Year's service, advised the Jews of America not to patronize the Paris Exposition of next year. He denounced the Dreyfus case as infamous and predicted the downfall of France.

Killed by a Blasted Stone.

Cedar Mills, W. Va., Sept. 6.—While blasting rock near here a stone was thrown high into the air by the force of the powder and alighted squarely on the head of Farmer John Winterfield, who was at work in his cornfield, a quarter of a mile away, killing him instantly.

A Peaceful Revolution.

Santo Domingo, Sept. 6.—The Provisional Government, which has arrived here, met with a splendid reception. Festivals of all kinds had been prepared by the people. The whole republic has joined the revolution, and at present peace is reigning.

DEMOCRATIC CAMPAIGN.

It Will Be Managed By Johnson of Kansas.

Chicago, Sept. 6.—The "Chronicle" says: "J. G. Johnson, of Kansas, is to be the active manager of the work of the Democratic National Committee in all of its branches until after the adjournment of the next National convention. Mr. Johnson is slated to assume charge of permanent headquarters that will be opened in Chicago immediately after the conference to be held at the Auditorium a week from next Monday.

"As chairman of the Executive Committee he will direct the plans of organization now under consideration in a majority of the states. As a member of the Press Committee he will be vested with plenary powers that will enable him to carry out the ideas of the party leaders in the conduct of the Press Bureau.

"His membership on the Ways and Means Committee was conferred to place the responsibility for the management of that important auxiliary of the National Committee directly on the shoulders of a National committeeman. The task that has been cut out for Mr. Johnson appears at first to be a big one, but the details of the work will be divided between so many subordinates that the real burden will not be very heavy after the new machinery is in running order. After the headquarters are established it is Mr. Johnson's intention practically to take up his residence in Chicago.

"Aside from the various schemes of reorganization that are to be carried to a conclusion, the Executive Committee will adopt a plan for performing a vast amount of preliminary campaign work that would have to be done next year within a space of a few months. States like Nebraska, Ohio, Iowa and Kentucky, in which general elections are to be held in November, will be furnished with literature bearing on the issues of imperialism, trusts and municipal ownership."

Conductor's Neck Broken.

Indianapolis, Sept. 6.—The body of Samuel L. Brown, one of the freight conductors on the Big Four Railway, was brought here. Just before the train reached Sunman the brakeman missed the conductor, and upon running back he found him lying dead on the roof of a car with his neck broken. It is the supposition that he was struck by one of the overhanging bridges that span Tanner's Creek.

Wrecked in St. Mary's River.

Sault Ste. Marie, Mich., Sept. 6.—The steel steamer Douglas Houghton, the largest ship on the lakes, lies sunk across the channel of St. Mary's River at Sailors' Encampment and effectually blocks the passage of all Lake Superior commerce. All boats bound down are being advised to wait here until the wreck is cleared, and it is said that it will take several days to accomplish this.

A New Fair Association.

Anderson, Ind., Sept. 6.—The Anderson Fair association, $30,000 paid-up capital stock, with County Treasurer Heritage and ex-Sheriff John Starr at its head, has been organized. A forty-acre tract of land east of the city has been purchased and Anderson will be represented in the list of county fairs next season. This is the largest capitalization of any county fair in the state.

Macabebes Will Be Scouts.

Manila, Sept. 6.—Lieutenant Baston, of the Fourth Cavalry, has organized a band of one hundred Macabebe scouts, who will operate under the direction of Major General Lawton. All of them were former Spanish volunteers. They will be uniformed and will be armed with Krag-Jorgersen rifles. The Macabebes will have a flag raising and barbecue on Friday next.

Woman Choked to Death.

Derby, Conn., Sept. 6.—After dodging all deadly diseases and accidents for ninety-nine years, Mrs. Augusta Lum is dead—choked on a piece of meat. She lived on a farm and all efforts of her family to dislodge the meat only fixed it more firmly in her throat. She was dead when a doctor arrived. Her father was an officer of the Revolution.

Cut Through the Walls.

Columbus, Ind., Sept. 6.—Thomas E. McDermott, Edward Murray and C. H. Hurst, who, it is charged, robbed an O. and M. box car at North Vernon, were captured at Lawrencebug by Railroad Detective Bradford. They were jailed at Vernon, but cut a hole through the walls and escaped. Hurst was recaptured at once, but the other two escaped.

McCoy Wins in Three Rounds.

New York, Sept. 6.—In the boxing contest of twenty-five rounds at the Broadway Athletic Club between Kid McCoy and "Jeff" Thorn, McCoy put his antagonist out in the third round.

John Y. McKane Dead.

New York, Sept. 6.—John Y. McKane, former great political leader, died at his home, in Gravesend. His wife, daughter, sons, brothers and mother, and Drs. Hill and McCorkle, were at his bedside when the end came.

Mate Kills Captain at Sea.

Port Townsend, Wash., Sept. 6.—According to letters received here from Port Stanley, Faulkland Island, Capt. Henry, of the American ship, Wakefield, was killed at sea by his mate during a quarrel.

Cyclone in the Azores.

Ponta, Delgada, Azores Islands, Sept. 6.—A violent cyclone is raging here, doing much damage to shipping and to property all over the island of San Miguel. Several lives have been lost.

New Trust Company Organized.

Ft. Wayne, Ind., Sept. 6.—The Allen County Mortgage and Trust Company will be ready to do business in a short time. The capital stock of $200,000 has been over-subscribed.

Sheriff Sold Cycle Works.

Toledo, Ohio, Sept. 6.—The Maumee Cycle Company's works have been sold at Sheriff's sale to F. J. Cheney for $6,750 to satisfy a claim held by him.

TEETH.

If you have any to be extracted remembe you will not be hurt in the slightest. My local anæsthetic is the best that can be obtained and is not known to the other dentists in this city. Gas strictly fresh administered by an expert if you want that. If you need artificial teeth you may rest assured that the greatest care will be exercised in selecting shape and color to harmonize with the face, also to restore the features to their natural expression and fullness. This is most important.

A newspaper reporter in St. Louis consulted his friend, a young physician, about a stomach difficulty that had caused him a good deal of trouble, when the doctor said: "You eat too much, and too fast, and at irregular hours. You will never be well until you reform your habits. There is no use of your blowing in your money for doctors' bills. What you require is

Ripans Tabules

I have been investigating the formula, and know it to be an excellent remedy. The Tabules will do for you all that I can." So on this advice the reporter relates: "I tried the Tabules, and soon became enthusiastic over the results. The work of these little Tabules was marvelous. Although the doctor said I would never be well, they HAVE cured me completely. It is six weeks since I have had any trouble at all, and I am feeling like a fighting-cock. Ripans Tabules are a wonderful remedy, wonderful."

AN AMERICAN VICTORY.

Frederick W. Hollis Talks of Hague Peace Conference.

New York, Sept. 6.—Frederick W. Holls, Secretary of the American Peace delegation at the Czar's conference at The Hague and the first of our representatives to arrive home, was a passenger on the incoming steamship Kaiser Wilhelm der Grosse.

Mr. Holls was enthusiastic over the work of the Americans at The Hague. He praised each member as a diplomat and statesman and declared that it was the greatest victory we had ever achieved at an international conference.

All other nations adopted the American peace plans. Above all Mr. Holls praised the President of the Commission, Andrew D. White.

"Our mission," said Mr. Holls, "was a decided success. Of course, the result was only the first step, but it was great.

"The tact and skill and statesmancraft exhibited by President White was wonderful. He was one of the ablest diplomats at the conference. His marvellous skill stood by us on many occasions, and, moreover, he was known by every European diplomat at the conference.

"That the conference adopted the American plan was a great victory for us. Germany at first opposed us, but it was all in good faith, and one of the pleasantest things of the Congress was the final relations between England, Germany and America.

"In the hotel our next-door neighbors were the Spanish delegates, and I never met a finer set of men. They were magnificent."

The Prince is Here.

New York, Sept. 6.—The observer of all observers, when the passengers disembarked from the Kaiser Wilhelm der Grosse, was Prince Cantacuzene, of Russia, who is to wed Miss Julia Dent Grant in Newport Sept. 25.

Prince Cantacuzene was not the only one. Another passenger was the Princess Hatzfeldt, stepdaughter of Collis P. Huntington, now a resident of the domain of the Czar.

Miss Grant was not at the pier to meet her affianced husband, it having been arranged that she should await him at "Beaulieu," the Newport residence of her aunt, Mrs. Potter Palmer. The Prince hastened there at once.

After the wedding the Prince and Princess will go to Russia. Part of the year they will live in St. Petersburg, and the other part on an estate of the Prince in Southern Russia.

Mark Twain's Plans.

Princeton, N. J., Sept. 6.—Samuel L. Clemens, better known as Mark Twain, has made definite arangements to spend the fall and winter in this town. Arthur Bave, the manager of the Princeton Inn, received a letter from Mr. Clemens, who is now in Germany, asking that a suite of rooms at the inn be made ready for him and his family by Oct. 1.—Laurence Huton, the author, has been chiefly instumental in getting Mr. Clemens to pass a few months in Princeton. It is thought that Mr. Clemens will devote most of his time while here to writing a book containing the remiscences of his tour through the Old World. Although no definite arangements have been made for him to lecture before the students, it is highly probable that the university authorities will try to secure his services for a series of lectures. It is intimated by his friends that Mr. Clemens will locate here permanently should he be pleased with the town.

Jimenez to Command.

Cape Haytien, Hayti, Sept. 6.—The steamer Georges Croise, with General Jimenez, his son and a party on board, have left for Porto Plata. The party did not come ashore, where a reception by the Dominican colony, Haytians and resident foreigners, had been arranged. Gen. Jiminez complained of hard treatment at the hands of the American Government in Cuba. He expects the sympathy and support of the American Government when the new Dominican Government has been organized. After Jiminez has landed at Porto Plata he will proceed to Santiago de las Caballeros, an inland town of Santo Domingo.

New York State Tax.

Albany, Sept 6.—The State Board of Tax Commissioners report that the taxable property of the State based on assessors' reports for 1898 show an increase over the year preceding of $177,785,805. The total assessed value of real estate is 4,394,801,526, and of personal $49,364,694. The total equalized value for taxation is $5,076,396,824, and of personal, $662,548,328. The increase in personal property which it was believed would be large, is only a trifle over $112,000,000. New York County has $188,753,109 added to its value of taxable property; Kings, $9,7771,176.

Ocean Record Broken.

Newark, Sept. 6.—All previous transatlantic steamship records were smashed when the great North German Lloyd liner Kaiser Wilhelm der Grosse warped into her Hoboken berth. The entire run from Cherbourg to New York took but five days, eighteen hours and five minutes. The best previous record, also held by the Kaiser Wilhelm, was five days, twenty ours.

Storing the Sun's Heat.

One of the optimistic and general expectations indulged in at the present day is the realization during the coming century of what is pronounced the greatest and most important of prospective inventions, namely, a machine for storing the heat of the sun and transforming it into electricity or some other form suitable for ready employment—heat which, though permitted to go to waste, will, by means of such invention, be applied to the running of mills, the warming or houses and every other purpose for which energy is utilized. The field for such an invention and its world-wide importance are at once suggested by the ascertained fact that every square yard of the sun's surface emits an amount of heat equal to that of a blast furnace consuming one ton of coal every ten minutes. The heat given out by the solar globe, too, in one second would raise 195,000,000 cubic miles of ice-cold water to the boiling point and of this heat the earth receives only one two-billionth part.

TROOPS UNDER ORDERS

Great Britain Has Three Regiments Ready to Start For Cape Town.

NO CALL FOR RESERVES

Arrests For Treason in the Transvaal Continue to Cause Considerable Uneasiness.

Railroads Unable to Furnish Transportation for All Those Hastening to Leave the Country—Transvaal Agreement to a Conference Over the Situation.

London, Sept. 6.—The "St. James Gazette" says that the War Office will send three brigades of infantry to Cape Town. The paper says that the regiments are under orders to leave on twenty-four hours' notice, and adds that in army service circles war is considered inevitable.

It is officially stated that the story that a proclamation calling out the reserves was about to be issued is untrue.

A despatch to the "Times" from Newcastle, Cape Colony, says much uneasiness is felt, owing to the fact that arrests for treason continue to be made in the Transvaal, despite the assurances to the contrary given by State Attorney Smuts. It is generally believed that the arrests are merely the beginning of an aggressive policy on the part of the Boers, which, although postponed for a while, was not abandoned. The authorities are alarmed over the panic that has been created and are striving to alay the uneasiness. It is improbable, however, that the Uitlander leaders will return to Johannesburg until the situation becomes clearer. These men believe it would be useless to run risks which would serve no purpose.

The railways are still unable to cope with the rush of people who are leaving the Transvaal.

The indefinite character of the reply of the Transvaal Government to Colonial Secretary Chamberlain's last despatch strengthens the conviction that the Boers simply aim to gain time.

The Times's Pretoria correspondent says that the predominant view of the situation is that the last despatch from the Transvaal Government opens the way for a "modus viverdi" since Colonial Secretary Chamberlain's proposals regarding the right of franchise after five years residence have been complied with.

A despatch from Pretoria says that the tension is apparently lessened, though the reason for this is not known. The despatch declares that it is not likely that President Kruger will attend the Cape Town conference.

A despatch to the London office of the Standard and Diggers' News dated at Johannesburg is rumored there that the Transvaal Government has agreed to the conference with the British representatives at Cape Town.

The Manchester Guardian's Johannesburg correspondent telegraphs as follows: "The State Secretary and State Attorney inform me that the warrants for the arrest of Editors Pakeman and Monypenny were made out some time ago to be executed if the men tried to leave Johannesburg. The local officials have determined to serve these warrants."

British Cabinet Meets Friday.

London, Sept. 6.—The Premier, the Marquis of Salisbury, will come to London from Walmer to confer with the Secretary of State for the Colonies, Joseph Chamberlain, and a Cabinet Council has been summoned for Friday, urgent messages having been sent to all the Ministers requesting their attendance. There is a great activity in the Admiralty, the War Office and the Colonial Office. Numerous telegrams from South Africa have arrived at the Colonial Office, but their contents have not yet been made public.

Ready to Attack Boers.

Bamberton, Sept. 6.—It is stated that the Swazis are ready to attack the Boers in case of war unless Great Britain forbade such action.

Are Betting Even Money.

New York, Sept. 6.—Although the McGovern-Palmer fight is several days off, many important wagers have been placed on the result of the contest. The largest bet recorded up to date was one made by Sam Harris, McGovern's manager, with Sam Blackstaff, an Englishman who recently arrived here to witness the fight. The amount posted was $1,000, and was put up at even money.

Charged With Raising Vouchers.

Marysville, Ohio, Sept. 6.—H. T. Sullivan, late foreman of the United States Long Distance Telephone Company, was arrested here by Detective A. Goldie, of Cleveland, on a charge of embezzlement. He waived examination and was placed in the County Jail in default of bond. It is alleged that Sullivan raised the vouchers.

President Visits Warships.

Philadelphia, Sept. 6.—After reviewing the monster G. A. R. parade here President McKinley, together with members of the Cabinet paid a visit to Admiral Sampson's fleet of warships. The President expressed himself as greatly pleased with what he saw on board the big vessels.

Property Owners Fortified.

Toledo, Ohio, Sept. 6.—Property owners along Water street are fortifying themselves with clubs, fire hose and other defensive weapons to prevent the manufacturers' Railroad Company from taking forcible possession of the entire length of the street with its tracks.

Col. Colson Stricken.

Middlesboro, Ky., Sept. 6.—While at his home Colonel David G. Colson, late of the Fourth Kentucky and ex-Congresman, was stricken with paralysis and now lies in a critical condition.

The National Association of Cemetery Superintendents, in session at New Haven, declares vigorously against the practice of holding funerals on Sundays. It would undoubtedly be satisfactory to many persons if the necessity of holding such affairs was done away with on every other day as well as Sundays, but from the standpoint of the cemetery superintendents this would be carrying the idea too far.

The State prison management is now undergoing an investigation in the hope of fixing the responsibility of the escape of the two prisoners from that institution sometime ago. It's a slow day in Jersey when an investigation of some public institution is not going on.

When Plainfield is connected with Elizabeth by trolley there will be 200 miles of electric street railways accessible to this city without making use of the steam roads. And each year will add to that wonderful system of suburban transit.

Chancellor McGill has returned from his vacation to Europe, and stamps as false the story that he is going to retire from the Chancellorship. Thus is spoiled much pretty political planning.

It is a strange anomaly that requires cold weather to make warm politics.

WHAT THE SHEARS FIND

Editorial Comment From Other Papers of Interest in Plainfield.

Roselle has learned from other municipalities how not to do it. Instead of giving a trolley franchise to the Riker syndicate without exacting adequate returns, it has required the company to widen South avenue from 60 to 81 feet at an expense of about $15,000. The franchise is granted for ninety-nine years. For the first five years the company is to pay into the borough treasury $100 for each mile of track, and the second five years three per cent. of the gross earnings of the road in the borough, or not less than $250 for each mile of track. After ten years the company must pay ten per cent. of the gross earnings till the expiration of the charter.—Tribune.

PRINCE AND PRINCESS HENRY OF PRUSSIA.

It is reported that Prince Henry of Prussia, brother of the Emperor of Germany, after he leaves China, will visit San Francisco on his flagship Deutschland. He may also make a trip across the continent by rail to Washington. In 1887 Prince Henry was married to Princess Irene, daughter of the Grand Duke Louis of Hesse.

THEATRICAL.

Current Dramatic Attractions That Plainfielders Can Witness.

Frank M. Wills who is a comedian of good reputation, will make his first appearance at Music Hall tomorrow night in a new musical farcical comedy, entitled "In Atlantic City" which was one of the successes of last year at the Star Theatre, New York. This will be the inauguration of a three nights' engagement by Mr. Wills and his company of artists, and enjoyable performances may be anticipated. Popular prices will be a feature of this engagement.

DOES COFFEE AGREE WITH YOU?

If not, drink Grain-O—made from pure grains. A lady writes: "The first time I made Grain-O I did not like it but after using it for one week nothing would induce me to go back to coffee." It nourishes and feeds the system. The children can drink it freely with great benefit. It is the strengthening substance of pure grains. Get a package today from your grocer, follow the directions in making it and you will have a delicious and healthful tabled beverage for old and young. 15 and 25c.

AMERICAN STEAM LAUNDRY,

122 East Front Street.

By our new process of ironing we are enabled to give you a perfect domestic finish, and to launder turn down collars without breaking them. Call and see how we do it; you are welcome to inspect our plant at all times; no mystery about our work.

Hand work on all shirt waists, cost a little more, but perfect satisfaction guaranteed.

Tomorrow The Last DAY.

Very fine 72 in Double Damask at $1.25 and $1.50 yd. Patterns are "inlaid" an expensive hand process. Goods are rarely beautiful and remarkably cheap. ¾ napkins to match at 3.75 and 4.50 (by the doz. only.) Also our regular 1.00 72 in Double Damask at 85c yd., and a pure linen 70 in Damask (75c quality) in five patterns at 50c per yd.

Half Bleached Damask.

63-in half bleached German Damask at		39c yd
60-in " " " "	extra heavy, at	50c yd
68-in " " " "	(reg. pr. 65c) at	50c yd

These goods will bleach very quickly and give splendid service. This is an offering of linens to which every thrifty housekeeper should respond quickly. Our trade in ready-made Sheets and Pillows is also one of growing importance, due undoubtedly to the fact that we sell only good goods. We handle only the well-known brands such as N. Y. Mills, Utica Mills, Dwight Anchor, etc. All are torn, beautifully hemmed and clean, ready for use. A comparison of our prices with those of N. Y. City will result in your buying them of us.

Crochet and Marseilles Bed Spreads, another item we are warranted in calling your attention to. We believe we sell at 1.00 the best white Crochet Quilt ever sold at that price. Of course 1.25, 1.50 or 1.75 will buy a better one. Marseilles Quilts we carry up to 5.00 ea. and works of art they are. Plain and Quilted Table Padding at various prices.

New Tapestries.

Entirely new Bagdad Stripes, Denims, Turkish Cloths, Fancy Tickings, Satins and Silkalines in bewildering variety. New Patterns and new colorings make these unusually attractive.

We should be guilty of gross neglect if we failed to call attention to a special lot of Flannelettes at 6½c yd. that are really worth 8c yd. So far as we can judge the patterns are as bright and attractive as those we have at much higher price.

Sundry New Things.

Prominent among the latest arrivals are two numbers in Ladies' Kid Gloves at 1.50 pr. No. 1—2 clasp, real kid in Modes, Tans, Grays and Ox Bloods. Very pliable, elastic and perfect fitting. No. 2—Something entirely new in 2 clasp Suedes in Tans, Modes and Grays. A peculiarly novel stitching gives them a most stylish finish. We predict for these two numbers a large sale. Some new velvet stock collars, steel trimmed, will sell readily once they are seen. Prices 50c to 1.98. Some are trimmed with jet and have jet fringe to match. Positively the newest novelties in stock. Our shirt waists have been subjected to very radical treatment again. Our 1.00, 1.25 and 1.48 waists are now 50c eaeh. If you can find your size you will get a rare bargain.

THE M'KINLEY HOME

THE PRESIDENT'S ANCESTORS CAME FROM BALLYMONEY, IRELAND.

The Old Homestead Erected in 1765 —Curiously Enough a Capt. Hanna Figures in the Ancient Annals of the McKinley.

The illustration herewith will be of more than passing interest, from the fact that it gives an excellent idea of the home in which the ancestors of President McKinley lived, at Ballymoney, County of Antrim, near Belfast, Ireland.

The farmhouse stands on a slightly rising ground. A hedge of tall thorn trees masks the front, until the long bohereen, or lane, with a sudden turn, brings the traveler into the trim inclosure, half lawn, half garden, which surrounds the entrance door. Behind the house rise a brace of spreading elms, and against their light green foliage the cold gray stones of Dervock stand out in stern, but not unpleasant relief.

The existing structure was built in 1765, as one can see from the old stone seat hitherto alluded to as standing by the Dervock door. This old stone was formerly the hearth-stone of the farmhouse, but a former tenant, finding that his floor had sunk below the level of the stone, removed it and had it set up as a seat. Then it was that on the reverse of the granite slab was discovered the inscription, "W. M'K., 1765." Tradition confidently asserts that this means "William McKinley, 1765," the date being that of the completion of the farmhouse.

In a small Irish country parish it is easy enough to follow the line of a respectable yeoman or farmer family back for five or six generations. There is but little difficulty in connecting President McKinley with the Dervock family. Indeed, in the records of the parish church are the christening entries of "James, son of William and Hannah McKinley, of Dervock," and of his brothers, John, Peter and William—all between the years 1705 and 1715. These were the children of that David McKinley, of Dervock, who collected the hearth tax, and the grandchildren of "Shamus Oge McKinley."

James McKinley came to America, and his son David, of Columbiana County, Ohio, was great-grandfather of the President. His nephew, William McKinley, inherited the old homestead, and during the troublous times of 1798 threw in his lot, as did many Ulster Protestants, with the United Irishmen. He was a close friend of Henry Joy McCracken, the leader of the Ulster rebels, and during the summer of 1789 a party of yeomanry, commanded, curiously enough, by a Captain Hanna, descended upon Dervock farm and captured McKinley and a quantity of rebel arms and ammunition. McKinley was taken to Coleraine, and, the country being under martial law, he was tried by drumhead court martial, and shot in the Market Place, together with three other patriots.

HOME OF PRESIDENT M'KINLEY'S ANCESTORS.

Dervock has long since passed out of McKinley hands; but the present tenant, a sturdy Ulster yeoman, claims relationship to the family in the female line. A nearby churchyard has many McKinley tombs, and among them may be seen that of William of 1798.

The British Mutoscope and Biograph Company have recently taken a number of Irish views, among them this historic cottage.

—Two hundred baskets of the finest peaches seen this season will be sold by Neuman Brothers, the popular Watchung avenue grocers, tomorrow.

His Life Was Saved.

Mr. J. E. Lilly, a prominent citizen of Hannibal, Mo., lately had a wonderful deliverance from a frightful death. In telling of it he says: "I was taken with Typhoid Fever, that ran into Pneumonia. My lungs became hardened. I was so weak I couldn't even set up in bed. Nothing helped me. I expected to soon die of Consumption, when I heard of Dr. King's New Discovery. One bottle gave great relief. I continued to use it, and now am well and strong. I can't say too much in its praise." This marvelous medicine is the surest and quickest cure in the world for all Throat and Lung Trouble. Regular sizes 50 cents and $1.00. Trial bottles free at L. W. Randolph's Drug Store; every bottle guaranteed.

Lokal-Nachrichten aus der alten Heimath.

Mecklenburg.

Schwerin. Eine Feuersbrunst zerstörte die Petroleumlager von Vogelsang u. Schade.

Warnemünde. Ein im Seemannsberuf sehr seltenes Jubiläum, das 50jähriger aktiver Thätigkeit, konnte der Kapitän Jakob Jantzen dahier, ein Bruder des bekannten Lootsenkommandeurs Stephan Jantzen, begehen. Ende Juli 1849 ging er als Schiffsjunge auf einem Rostocker Segler von seinem Heimathorte aus zur See. Im Jahre 1860 wurde er Kapitän der Rostocker Brigg „Lolo"; 1883 übernahm er die Führung des neuen Rostocker Dampfers „Eugene Krohn" und hat sie noch heute.

Braunschweig.

Braunschweig. Auf den Personenzug Holzminden-Braunschweig wurde neulich Nachts bei Wolfenbüttel ein Schuß abgefeuert. Derselbe brachte einem Passagier eine Verwundung an der Hand bei.

Klein-Stöckheim. Hier erkrankten dieser Tage drei Arbeiterfamilien, im Ganzen elf Personen, in Folge Genusses von Schweinesülze. Der sofort herbeigerufene Arzt pumpte allen Erkrankten den Magen aus mit dem Erfolg, daß sämmtliche Patienten wieder hergestellt wurden.

Großherzogthum Hessen.

Darmstadt. In Erwiderung einer Eingabe der vereinigten Ortskrankenkassen des Großherzogthums Hessen an das Ministerium hat dasselbe entschieden, daß Innungskrankenkassen nur dann die Genehmigung der Regierung erhalten sollen, wenn dieselben gleiche Leistungen wie die Ortskrankenkassen bieten.

Bingen. In der Stadtverordnetenversammlung wurde ein Antrag, gegen die Absicht der Stadt Mainz, die Fäkalien in den Rhein zu leiten, bei dem Großherzoglichen Ministerium und der Reichsbehörde Schritte zu thun, mit Majorität abgelehnt. Die Mehrheit ging von der Ansicht aus, daß, wenn Mannheim die definitive Genehmigung zur Einleitung der Fäkalien in den Rhein erhalte, man sie der Stadt Mainz auch nicht versagen könne.

Kostheim. Bei einem hier in der Streichhölzerfabrik ausgebrochenen Brand, der alsbald gelöscht wurde, trug ein junges Mädchen, die Fabrikarbeiterin Steinbrech, lebensgefährliche Brandwunden davon.

Mainz. Das Kuratorium der höheren Mädchenschule beabsichtigt die Errichtung eines Seminars für Lehrerinnen dahier.

Bayern.

München. Dieser Tage fand hier die Taufe des ersten Sprößlings des bekannten alten Hochrad- und Niederrad-Meisterfahrers Gött statt. Die Zufahrt zur Matthäuskirche erfolgte in Motorfahrzeugen, in denen die Schwiegermutter, Hebamme, Pathin und der Täufling Platz genommen hatten. Die Droschkenkutscher am Standplatz bei der Kirche äußerten sich in keineswegs beifälliger Weise über die sogar zu solchen Zwecken Verwendung findenden neuen Verkehrsmittel.—Hier wurde das „Witzblatt „Der Postillon" wegen Majestätsbeleidigung konfiszirt.

Aschaffenburg. Im Heck'schen Gasthaus gerieth der Soldat des 2. Jäger-Bataillons, Oberle, mit dem Wirth in Streit, in dessen Verlauf er das Seitengewehr zog und dem Wirth einen lebensgefährlichen Stich in die Brust beibrachte.

Augsburg. In einer Sache, in welcher es sich um einen kaum 10 Pfennige werthen Strick handelt, sind hier drei Personen wegen Meineids beziehungsweise Verleitung zum Meineid in Untersuchungshaft genommen worden.

Berneck. In unserem kräftig emporblühenden Luftkurort wird eine elektrische Centrale errichtet, deren Bau durch die Firma Limmer (Kulmbach) in spätestens drei Monaten ausgeführt werden soll.

Breitendiel. Hier starb der 27jährige Steinmetz Schneider am Wundstarrkrampf, den er sich durch einen Schnitt mit der Sense zugezogen hatte.

Landau. Die Erbauung der Bahn Landau-Arnstorf ist gesichert. Für Aufbringung der im Kostenvoranschlag der Generaldirektion festgesetzten Summe von 136,000 Mark haftet die Stadt Landau mit 50,000 Mark, die Aktiengesellschaft Möding mit 30,000 Mark, Simbach mit 10,000 Mark und Arnstorf mit 50,000 Mark, in Summa 140,000 Mark. Außerdem nehmen an der Kostenaufbringung noch mehrere andere Gemeinden und Private mit Beiträgen von 500 bis 5000 Mark Theil.

Nürnberg. Der Deutsche Uhrmacherverband will dem Erfinder der Taschenuhren, Peter Henlein, hier ein Denkmal setzen. Das Modell, mit dessen Ausführung ein Berliner Künstler betraut wird, wird auf die Pariser Weltausstellung gesandt. Das Denkmal zeigt die in Erz gegossene Figur Peter Henleins in Lebensgröße.

PARIS FLASHES IN JET.

There Is to Be a Rage For This Trimming This Fall—The New Hats.

The sights to see in the magazines are bewildering, and at night there is a glitter before one's eyes that fairly dazzles one. The most of this is due to the inordinate quantities of jet. There are velvet jackets, capes and coats of all imaginable description nearly covered with jet, and there are dresses of every kind trimmed most lavishly with it.

Some elegant house gowns have wide stripes of passementerie, hand wrought, some of these stripes costing as much as 40 and 50 francs a yard. They are put on a costume from neck to feet. In many cases they are graduated in width, being narrower at the waist and wide at the bottom.

Some rich evening dresses have lace ruffling or all over lace where the design in the lace is picked out with fine beads. Brussels net has designs of flowers and foliage wrought in fine beads of different colors. Where there is a rose, for instance, it is made of shades of pink pearl beads. In some cases the leaves and trailing vines are made of green spangles. The French call these paillettes and the English sequins. Some of the lace bands of beaded work have a line of spangles along each side.

All Paris says that black velvet will have a vogue this season beyond compare. The princess shape for such robes will be favored on account of the possibilities in trimming. No trimming looks so well as beaded passementerie in long lines from top to bottom. I may say with authority that the princess gown will be the great style with many slight variations.

The Longchamps coat is to be forced upon us. Forced, I say, because I do not believe that any one would willingly choose one. This coat is not unlike a directoire redingote in some respects, is made of everything from silk to plush, through all the intermediary stuffs. It is not dressy, nor is it even graceful.

The box coats are also in the list of stylish fall wraps. These are loose around the body and tight around the bottom. In fact, they look like men's fall overcoats and are usually of light covert or cloth. They look rather horsy. But so do the three-quarter driving coats. These will be affected by many ladies who never drove or can hope to drive. But with a pert little felt derby and a coaching whip the fair wearers make the beholders think they do. This is an essentially English style, and the French have adopted it, as they do the English "boule dogue," as they write bulldog.

The McPherson is a sort of lengthened golfing cape coat. The coat fits snugly around the hips, but nowhere else, and over it is a cape which can be detached if desired. The cape is lined with plaid silk of the McPherson tartan.

Capes for visiting and the promenade are made in infinite variety. A long close cape, reaching nearly to the knees and hanging from a yoke, is a favorite model. Capuchin hoods are seen on many, even the velvet ones.

The new fabrics, if one can call them new, the same old standard weaves, are produced in very rich and beautiful colorings and combinations. Light tints are the fashion beyond all things, black excepted. There are some silk and wool bayadere suitings where the silk stripes are in tints so light as to appear faded. They certainly produce very striking effects when cut in the princess shape. There are some changeable effects in wool suitings. The French granites are very handsome in tailor gowns, but they are hardly firm enough for outside garments. Corded velour where the cord is one color and the underpart another or of different shades is very rich. Some have in addition little raised silk dots. Pretty suiting is of light colored close woven wool, like whipcord, with satin stripes forming small checks. The young French girls affect these checked dresses. It gives them that air of child-like and angelic innocence inseparable from a French maiden.

The new hats are anything you like. The gypsy and the 1830 poke are favorites. Strings are used as often as not. Velvet is the choicest of all materials for hats and trimmings and will be all the style for fine occasions. Felt is made very soft and velvety, and both velvet and felt are frequently bordered with fur. The stiff quills, curled into various forms, will be favorites, and aigrets and birds of paradise sweeps will be very much in fashion; some flowers also. Malines will be used as strings to many hats. Plaid ribbons with heavy cords marking the design will also be used as trimming for felts.

ON LETTER-WRITING.

Be Sure Not to Write Too Often and Don't Effervesce.

In writing to men, girls—especially girls past 25—don't say too much, and don't say it in many words. Men all have latent, inborn cruelty under their waistcoats, and it all comes out when they get documents—over four pages long.

Don't use more than one "darling" per page, even to your fiance. Gush if you must, when you are together, but don't effervesce upon paper. Why should you, really?

If you hunger for warfare, write to your lover a sweet, loving postal card, directed to the office. Try it and wait.

No matter if he does want you to write every day—don't. A few days' waiting for a letter from you will be whole mortal discipline.

Don't spend whole pages in silly excuses; that is egotistical. Nor will it exalt you in your correspondent's eyes to implore him to "answer your letter;" that should be a self-imposed task. Gentlemen need no such reminders.

If you receive a written proof occasionally of a man's affection, don't show it to your best friend. Envy might thus be born, and malice is her twin sister. Besides, it's silly.

A badly-spelled, recrossed epistle is an unlovely witness against you. Men enjoy daintily-worded and written letters—when they must read them at all.

Heavily-scented paper is vulgar, highly-tinted paper likewise, stamps oddly placed and eccentric chirography not to be esteemed.

The Chairs Need Soaking.

Every woman does not know what is the trouble with her big rush chair which looks so cool and pretty on the piazza, but which seems all of a sudden, to have contracted spinal trouble and absolutely refuses to stand upright without having something to lean against. There are cross pieces of wood on the inside of the round, barrel-like lower part, which prevent the chair from collapsing altogether, but the back is weak and flimsy. The cure is not a difficult one, and it is easy to apply as soon as there is a rainy day. These chairs are made from water rushes, and even in their utilitarian state they crave moisture. If the chair is put out on the lawn in a hard rain and allowed to stand until it is thoroughly soaked, it will dry quickly and regain its necessary backbone. If the rain does not come at a convenient time the garden hose will be equally effective and do the work more quickly. The chair dries in a surprisingly short time. It should be soaked as often as once a month.

Secret Drawer in Trunk.

The new combination wardrobe and dresser trunk has a novel feature among its many cubbyholes, boxes and recesses, which the manufacturer calls the secret drawer. That is, it is at present a secret drawer, and has to be shown to every prospective purchaser. This is designed for jewels, and a place is made for it by making a false bottom in one compartment.

Access to the drawer is obtained by lifting out a partition in front of it. As this partition is only a sliding partiton, it is not supposed to be particularly safe except for the fact that its presence is not known or suspected, and not looked for by petty thieves, and therefore jewels are comparatively safe.

Turkish Women Smokers.

Turkish women are as addicted to cigarettes and coffee as are Turkish men. Every Turkish woman prefaces her day with a cup of coffee and several cigarettes. The married woman indulges in luxurious baths. After the bath she attends to the creature comforts of her lord. She fetches and lights his hubble-bubble, and gives him his clean robe and hot coffee, and a pair of cool, well-aired slippers. While smoking he will sit on the sofa, while his wife occupies a lower position near him. Sitting in a lower position is not felt to be a degradation by even the highest and most powerful women of Turkey.

Dresses of Aluminum.

And now we are to have dresses of metal! At least the English fashion papers say so, because at a recent drawing-room a train made of aluminum was worn, and proved so startling a novelty that it set the trade to thinking of things that they had never dreamed of in their philosophy. It was described as looking like silver cloth, and has this great advantage, that it will not tarnish. Aluminum is very flexible, and who knows but that the immediate future may see metal dresses take their place along with paper gowns?

To Clean Gold Frames.

To clean gold picture frames, beat the white of an egg; and add to it one pint of cold water; moisten your frames with this mixture, using a sponge. Then with a soft flannel carefully wipe. Take a second cloth, perfectly dry, and give the frames a light rubbing. If the frames are not clean and bright after this treatment you had better take them to a gilder and have them regilded.

Electric Bath Brush.

An American lady has patented an electric brush for bathing purposes, which has the battery in a casing in the back of the brush, the circuit being obtained through the bristles and a contact plate in the handle.

To Stretch Gloves.

Gloves can be stretched while drying by using a new device formed of a single piece of spring wire bent to the shape of the hand and inserted in the glove to distend the interior.

CURIOUS LODGE ROOM

An Historic Cave Used by an Odd Fellow Society.

Probably the most curious meeting place in the world is the lodge room of Gap Creek Lodge, No. 72, Independent Order of Odd Fellows. The lodge for five years has been meeting in Hyder's Cave, near Gap Run, Tenn. The cave, in Carter county, five miles from Elizabethtown and seven miles from Johnson City, was discovered by the first settlers of Tennessee. Earth taken from the cave has long been used for the manufacture of saltpetre. During the Civil War the cave was worked by the Confederate Government, and thousands of pounds of saltpetre were made there. Some of the powder used in the battle of King's Mountain was manufactured from saltpetre dug in this cave.

The cave lies due east and west, and at any time during the day there is light enough to read. The anteroom of the lodge room is twelve feet square, arched over by variegated limestone. It is separated from the main hall by folding doors.

The hall proper is much lower than the anteroom. The main floor is 20x36 feet. At one end is a rostrum 12 feet square, elevated thirty inches above the floor. The roof is an arch, the top of which is twenty feet from the floor. During the summer season the sun shines in the face of the Noble Grand from 3 o'clock until evening.

Since the lodge, which has fifty-five members, began meeting in the cave it has had no deaths. Frequently picnics and occasionally preaching services are held in the cave, which is so light that pictures can be taken sixty feet under ground without artificial light.

NIAGARA AFLAME

The Seething Torrent to be Lighted by Electricity.

Buffalo's big exposition—and if only one-half of the promises of the management are realized it will be in every respect a big affair—will be the occasion of what will doubtless be a most brilliant and startling electrical illumination.

Niagara Falls will be transformed into a flood of fire. The seething, roaring torrent will be ablaze with all the hues of the spectrum. The superlative natural grandeur of the scene will be so enhanced that the projectors of the striking novel enterprise contend that its success will make the exposition an event in history.

The idea is to erect a series of tall towers on both the American and Canadian sides of the river. On the top of these lofty spires, huge electric lights will be placed in such manner that they may be played on any part of the falls. The imagination may picture the dazzling effect that will be produced when a score of these powerful instruments of illumination are brought to bear upon the rushing waters as they tumble irresistibly over the rocky ledge into the depths beneath. A constant change of colors will be used in the manipulation of the searchlights, so that now the falls will be like molten silver, again a flood of crimson, again as green as old ocean itself, and so on through the whole gamut of the painter's palette. The astonishing fact will be still further heightened by the use of electric arc lights in the Cave of the Winds, which will given to the water as it falls in front of it a weird, phosphorescent glow. The power for this record making illumination will be all within easy reach, as Niagara will itself be made to do all the necessary work.

This is expected to e largely a specular arrangement, but scientists hope to discover something new about the effect of light in water. This has been done to some extent with electrical fountains, but Niagara will offer an entirely new field.

An Exploded Myth.

Dutch cleanliness! Another common fallacy. Truly enough, scrubbing and washing appears to be the whole occupation of the Dutch housewife; women and children are always spotless in their attire, bright and clean as far as their persons are exposed to the public eye; but in Volendam, at least, this cleanliness is only on the surface, so much so that artists are positively afraid of taking a model to their studio.

That sea water could be used for bathing never seems to strike the intelligence of the natives. And what is the use of washing and cleaning linen and household utensils from morning to night, if the water used for the purpose is of the nature of Volendam Canal—a stagnant pool, the receptacle for the refuse of the whole village? Milk cans, table linen, spoons and forks and plates are dipped indiscriminately into this evil-smelling, grimy liquid, which cannot but nourish germs of typhoid fever and other infectious diseases. That is the much-vaunted Dutch cleanliness.

A New Umbrella Idea.

"Here is what I believe to be the only umbrella of its kind in Ner Orleans," says a lawyer who has an office in the shopping district. "I bought it in Germany year before last, and nobody can open it except myself. Do you notice that little keyhole in the slide? Here's the key on the other end of my watch chain, and until it is inserted and turned the thing is absolutely immovable. Anybody else would find it harder to raise than a Kansas mortgage. On at least a dozen different occasions the umbrella has been stolen, or taken by accident, if you prefer the term, but it always found the way home. You see, my name is cut on the handle, and the umbrella itself is well known to all the attaches of the building. When they see a stranger struggling with it on a rainy day they promptly confiscate the property and bring it back. It is such a good scheme. I'm surprised the idea hasn't been generally adopted in this country."—New Orleanss Times-Democrat.

HIS SOLE INHERITANCE.

ch Man Gives Back a Missile Whici Was Thrown at Him.

There lived a few years ago near the llage of Bayside, Long Island, a very ch man. His name was William C. urhman, and he kept the most modst little store in a picturesque neighborhood, called "The Alley." He left four sons, and to three of them a large fortune. To the fourth he left a stone. That stone has a history.

Mr. Burhman was a man who believed in economy, for all his riches. Since the year 1828 the little general store, feed emporium and the grist mill beside it have flourished. They were left Mr. Buhrman by his father, himself a rich man. The son took up the thread of business life where his father left it and continued famously. He loaned money to the farmers and took mortgages on their farms. In those days farming on Long Island was a paying enterprise.

Mr. Buhrman never became ambitious away from hime. He worked—nay, he slaved—at his business morning and night, and brought up his sons to do likewise. One of these, however, rebelled against the vigorous regime of life set down by the father. There was a bitter quarrel between Mr. Buhrman and his son one day. In the heat of it the young man so far forgot himself as to pick up a big rock and heave it at the old gentleman's head. Then he went away.

The man of gray hairs said nothing. He simply picked up the rock he had skilfully dodged, tied it in a bandanna handkerchief and tucked it high in his safe among the bonds, deeds, railroad stock and mortgages. Once in a while he would take it out and examine it, saying to himself, "I shall leave my three sons a hundred thousand dollars each. This son shall get what he intended for me—this chunk of granite." He kept his word.

The years rolled on. The breach was never healed between father and son, and the stone still nestled there among the hundreds of thousands. One day the man of riches died. His will was read and his promise was kept. The son who had rebelled against the parental dictum received the stone, the other sons something like a hundred thousand dollars each.

But within this last year, since the old man's death, something has come over the three sons. They have built themselves beautiful villas, one of them within a stone's throw of the old building where the father and grandfather made the Buhrman hundreds of thousands by the side of the beautiful lake. They spend the winters in New York and the summers at home, but they were not happy. Blood is thicker than water, and the stone which the old man treasured in his just and righteous rage was nothing to them.

They sent for the erring brother. He did not come. Finally they went to him, finding him in poverty, but defiant and self-reliant still. He had served a very hard penance for the one rash deed of his life, and the brothers realized it.

They offered to divide equally with him—to make him a co-legatee with themselves. Lawyers were brought into the matter, and quietly, without any blowing of trumpets, the three bighearted, manly fellows opened their purses and put their flesh and blood on his feet for life.

THE PEACH CROP

Why it Was Small in the East this Year.

The peach crop was lighter this season than for many years, according to New York fruit dealers. In Delaware, and what is known as the eastern shore in Manryland, the crop has suffered most. In New Castle and Kent counties, Del., the peach industry is almost run out, owing to the yellows, a most contagious disease of the peach tree. On the eastern shore of Maryland, in Cecil county, also in Kent county and upper Queen Anne counties, the crop was damaged and the trees permanently injured. In these three counties a few orchards may have good crops, but the lower counties are tolerably clear of yellows up to this time. There was not more than an eighth of the usual crop in all the territory named, and consequently the farmers got more than the usual price for the fruit. The crop in New Jersey was light, partly because of the severe winter. The spring drought caused the fruit to drop badly.

The disease called the yellows has been known to peach growers for one hundred years, first appearing in this country in Pennsylvania and then traveling southward. "It has only traveled 100 miles in as many years," said a well-known peach grower. "The only proper way to deal with the trees affected by it is to take them up and burn them root and branch. This all enterprising and intelligent farmers do as soon as the disease develops. By using this method many farmers have not lost more than one or two trees to the one thousand in ten years. In addition to be damaged by the yellows the crop has been diminished by the multiplication of the curculio. The farmers, since peach-growing has been less profitable, have been turning their attention more to pear-raising and to smaller fruits. In a few years pears will largely supercede peaches.

PROFIT AND FUN.

[A STORY FOR BOYS AND GIRLS.]

"This is what I call fun, boys," said Frank Curtis, as he sat down with the other boys to their meal in the tent. They had been three days on the edge of the woods beside a pretty inland lake, but as their dishes had not come before, they had just to-day gotten nicely settled. "Schools all right, but what a relief to be away from civilization where we don't have so many rules. We are free, free as the wind. Two weeks of fun, boys, whoop la!"

"This milk came from no iron-tailed cow, that's sure. O, it's good!" exclaimed one of the hungriest, if one boy at camp would be hungrier than another. "Of course, you got it at the farmhouse, Stan."

"Yes," answered Stanley Clark, the steward.

The boys bought their milk and eggs and vegetables at the only farmhouse in sight, of Farmer and Mrs. Brown, two good old souls who already would do anything for the boys but let them hunt in their woods.

"That makes me think,' added Stanley, "Mrs. Brown asked me to-day if we boys would not like to give an entertainment or lawn 'feet,' as she called it, to raise money to paint their church at Magnolia Hill."

"They haven't any nerve, have they?" "What do we know about lawn fetes? The girls always get them up. We go and enjoy ourselves."

"I'll tell you, boys," began Joe Taylor, when the hubbub had subsided, "they've been awful good to us, I'll admit. Don't know what we'd done if they hadn't lent us a frying-pan and a pail and what-not. But we are on a vacation 'for all the fun that's in it,' as Frank says; getting up an entertainment is too much like work."

"That's what I say," assented most of the boys.

"But see here," said Stanley, "the idea stuck me as rather ridiculous at first, but as I was coming back from there I thought maybe it wasn't so far out of the question after all. Anyway, we ought not to be so busy having a good time that we can't do a good turn to someone else. And you know what we promised Miss Norton, boys."

On the Sunday before the boys had promised their Sunday-school teacher that they would try to do some helpful act during the first week of their vacation.

"That's so," said one of the boys thoughtfully. "Well, what could we do to amuse the assembled natives?"

"Why, you could play the mandolin, for one thing," replied Stanley. "We'll revive the moonlight quartet, and Joe can please any crowd with his take-offs and impersonations. You know I told fortunes at a first-class party once, and I'll do that."

One by one the boys agreed to enter into it. It might be fun, too.

Mrs. Brown's face lit up with genuine pleasure when Stanley told her the boys would do what they could.

That afternoon while the campers went fishing, Mrs. Brown hitched up old Dolly and drove from house to house telling the neighbors that "them lads from the city is getting up a fine entertainment for the next night, and the proceeds is agoing for to paint the church. They can sing just beautiful. We hear 'em evenings, and they is such polite and obliging lads, too."

The next day she was busy getting ready her thick maple syrup, which they would sell hot, nd making popcorn balls.

Meantime the moonlight quartet had run over a few of its well worn harmonies, and had found itself in good voice. Frank was heard to tune up his mandolin and then say "guessed he didn't need to practice." Roy Ellis even consented to go through some of his acrobatic gymnastics which had won the admiration of the boys at school. They hung Chinese lanterns in the tent and in the trees, which they had brought from home.

The moon having risen the people began to arrive: some on foot, some in wagons and others in rowboats. They looked a little curious at the boys at first, wondering what they were going to do. But after Frank had played his mandolin and Joe had recited one of his comical pieces, the boys were sure their listeners were pleased, for they were generous with their encores.

"Here are your nice fresh popcorn balls, five cents apiece, two for ten," was heard in the familiar voice of George Wood, who had earned the name of "Stiff" at school on account of his usual dignity of manner.

"This way to have your fortune told, all for five cents. If they don't come true you'll have your money back."

"Hot syrup, hot, thick maple syrup, just on the turn of sugaring, every third dish free," came a voice from the tent.

"I believe it's a 'go,'" said one boy to another, as the quartet came together to favor their audience with another selection. "And it's great fun for us, too."

When, with Mr. Brown, the boys counted up the money afterward, they could hardly believe they had cleared over nine dollars.

"I hope we can camp again next year," exclaimed Frank to some of the boys who had gathered in Joe's room one winter evening.

"So say we all of us. I often think of those jolly days when I am pegging away at this Latin," said Joe, as he threw the book on the bed. "But, do you know, I like to think of the lawn 'feet' best of all."—Ohio Farmer.

When Pussy Runs Wild.

Where cats have run wild on isolated islands they have become very wild and powerful. On Sable Island, off the the coast of Nova Scotia, they were introduced about 1880, and rapidly exterminated the rabbits, which had been in possession for at least half of a century. In one of the harbors of Kergueleu Land, a barren and desolate bit of the Cape of Good Hope, cats escaped from the ships have made themselves at home on a little islet known as Cat Island, which has long been used as a wintering place for sealers. Here they live in holes in the ground, preying upon seabirds and their young, and are said to have developed such extraordinary ferocity that it is almost impossible to tame them even when captured young. On Aldabra, two hundred miles north-west of Madagascar, cats have completely exterminated an interesting species of rail peculiar to that island.

OCEAN LAMPS

Curious Creatures That Help to Light Up the Sea.

Most of us when spending a holiday at the sea-side have seen on a still and tranquil night some boat or harbor-buoy which, as it rose and fell with the gentle motion of the waves, appeared "Sole star of phosphorescence in the calm,
With one green sparkle ever and anon."

This weird and beautiful light, spreading out in all directions, like a wonderful luminous coverlet, over the quietly heaving bosom of the sea, is commonly known as "phosphores-cence," and is produced by the action of countless numbers of tiny creatures, to which scientific men have given the very appropriate name of "Noctilucae," a name which really means night-lights. So small are these creatures that a single specimen looks like a tiny speck of jelly. On placing a Noctilucae under the microscope, however, we shall be abe to see tnat it is almost a perfect sphere in form; and that it has attached to its body a whip-like process, or flagella, with which it lashes its way through the water. Should we touch the animal gently with a needle-point, the light will at once become visible; while if left undisturbed, it will appear and disappear at fairly regular intervals. Just before death the little Noctilucae becomes continuously luminous, the phosphorescence vanishing directly after the cessation of life.

A number of interesting and ingenious experiments have been made with these Noctilucae to test their luminosity. On one occasion a goblet was filled with them and used as a lamp, and the light was found sufficiently strong to enable the experimenter to read a book.

Unlike other luminous bodies, this phosphorescent light gives forth no perceptible heat, and the most delicate thermometers are not affected by it. That it is not produced by combustion, may be inferred from the fact that oxygen gas when introduced will not restore the light after it has disappeared at the death of the animal.

A Wicked Parrot.

The story of two Java sparrows deserves to be repeated just as M. Milne-Edwards, of the Paris Aviary, gives it:—They are both hens and in the same aviary with a parrot which took dislike to one of them. One day the parrot picked a quarrel with one of the sparrows, and broke its leg with a blow of its beak. The poor little thing lay shivering on the ground, to the evident grief of the companion bird. She went about picking up straws, feathers, and leaves to make a bed for the invalid. She accomplished wonders of dexterous management in lifting up the feathered sufferer and placing it on the couch. But the weather was cold at night. The charitable bird placed itself beside the one with the broken leg and extended a wing over it to keep it warm. The position must have been uncomfortable, not to say painful, but M. Milne-Edwards never came at night to see how "this feathered sister of charity" was behaving without finding it with its wing lovingly extended The invalid died. The other bird began to mope, lost appetite, withdrew into a corner, drooped, and died also.

The Frog and the Fish.

Marksmanship is not confined to human beings. Some of the lower animals possess the gift. A frog can shoot out his tongue like lightning to what appears to be a distance of several inches, knock over an unsuspecting fly, and swallow it before the poor insect realizes that anything is wrong. But perhaps as there is no separate missile here, one can hardly call it marksmanship pure and simple. The case is different with the archer fish, an inmate of the East Indian seas. The fish, which is only six or seven inches in length, depends for its living on the straightness of its aim. The "archer" raises its mouth just above the surface of the water near a piece of seaweed or water grass, and waits its opportunity. Presently a fly or other insect comes along, and settles on the grass or seaweed. The "archer" thereupon projects a drop of water swiftly in the direction of the insect, and almost always succeeds in knocking it from its perch into the water, where it is easily captured. So neat is the trick that the Chinese in Java make a pet of the fish in order that they may have the amusement of watching him pot his game.

Shooting a Waterspout.

Quite recently a waterspout was seen sweeping toward the town of Hennessey, Oklahoma, which for the third time this year has been saved from destruction by artificial means.

One of the rough riders in the neighborhood bought four old cannons, and the local governing body employs a man to attend them. When a waterspout or cyclone appears on the horizon, he mounts his horse and rides to one of the cannon, which are placed on the outskirts of the town, one on each side. The cannon is loaded with salt and fired at a fairly good range into the whirling black mass that threatened the town with destruction. The city is protected by this means at a trifling expense, and so far it has always worked satisfactorily.

Plainfield has seen but little base ball this season. There have been a few scattered games but no regular nine to represent the city on the diamond. Next year there is already the promise of better things. One of the greatest obstacles that the managers of local teams have been called on to confront has been the selection of suitable grounds. The Crescent Oval had all the necessary adjuncts of a base ball field but it was too far from town to attract any but the most determined cranks. There were no other grounds with reach of the city and so the sport waned.

Benjamin A. Mumford, who managed the Plainfield Crescents in '97 and '98, has announced his intention of putting a crack amateur nine on the field next spring. By that time the trolley cars will be running close to the Crescent Oval and the people will have an easy means of reaching the grounds. Mr. Mumford's team will play there if suitable arrangements can be located in the neighborhood.

Mr. Mumford has already begun looking about after good material for his team. It will be composed largely of college men home for the summer. He is hoping to secure some of the local talent that are now playing on out-of-town teams.

He already has the promise of men from Princeton, Amherst, Lehigh, Rutgers and Seton Hall Colleges. It is far too early as yet to name the probable candidates or any of the details of the teams. There are many in the city who will be glad to see a team here once more.

Mr. Mumford has not yet decided about his schedule. He may go in the "trolley league," as it is called. That will include the towns along the line of the Elizabeth and Westfield Street Railway Company. If the league does not make a good showing this winter he will remain independent and play with such teams as he can secure.

CYCLING COMMENT.

The bicycle road race will be held at Scotch Plains next Saturday, starting from Emery's. Entries will be received up to Thursday.

W. S. Emery's sixteen mile road race, which was to have been held last Saturday afternoon, was postponed until next Saturday afternoon at the same hour. Several aditional entries have been received since last week and the outlook is there will be twenty riders face the starters.

GOLF.

The next event at golf on the Hillside course to be played for, the Reinhart Cup, will take place September 15th at 2 p. m.

Prize Choristers.

The prize choristers of Grace church for July were H. Messerschmidt, H. Egan, E. Daniel, A. Yaeger, R. Sherwin, V. Miner and Miss J. Sittle. The prizes and medals were not awarded until the first Sunday in September. Harry Messerschmidt and Harris Egan received a prayer book and hymnal from the rector and Malcolm Davis the Grace church cross.

Vacations on Police Force.

The season of vacations among the members of the Plainfield police is still on. Owing to the fact that several of the officers are now on their vacations Patrolman Totten is covering two beats in the Second ward. He is now mounted on a wheel and is enabled to cover both beats with efficiency through the aid of his wheel.

Dunko in the Toils

Michael Dunko, an old offender, began early this morning. He imbibed until he found it necessary to choose a place of shelter. He wanted to become a boarder at Leggett's pharmacy, but Acting Roundsman Mattox and Patrolman Flanagan found him and dragged him away to the lockup, where he now awaits the City Judge.

WEIGHT OF JOCKEYS

MEANS THEY TAKE TO REDUCE IT TO RIDING FORM.

An Unpleasant and Dangerous Ordeal —Fasting and Turkish Baths Most in Vogue—More Heroic Methods Sometimes Adopted.

People who see a popular jockey at the post, skin like velvet muscles like steel, and weighing scarcely more than a good-sized doll, hardly ever pause to reflect on what has to be gone through to attain this result.

The only time when a professional rider can really venture to enjoy himself is in the winter, during which period he puts on perhaps from 25 to 30 pounds of flesh. All this has to come off, and come off quickly, as soon as the first days of spring herald the approach of the flat-racing season. A man who understands his business can throw off 30 pounds of superfluous tissue in 20 days. This operation is known in turf talk as "reducing."

"Reducing" is both an unpleasant and a dangerous ordeal, especially when carried out too rapidly. Cases have been known where a jockey, anxious to ride a favorite horse for a particular race, has accomplished a reduction of seven pounds within 24 hours. Such "reducing" as this is, of course, is simply plying with death, and persistence in it has consigned many a clever rider to a premature grave.

Different jockeys adopt various methods of "reducing." One of them used to spend entire days in his private Turkish bath, eating nothing meanwhile but a little dry toast, and drinking, every half hour or so, a steaming glass of hot water flavored with gin, in order to increase the perspiration.

Another walks about for hours enveloped in heavy horsecloths—his usual diet during this period consisting of a pint of champagne and a slice of dry toast after each walk. One of the best known of them has related how, in his earlier days, he used to set out immediately after breakfast, clothed in five or six vests, three coats and as many pairs of trousers, and, after indulging in a brisk six-mile walk, spend the rest of the morning in galloping at top-speed, changing his mount as often as necessary.

Even more heroic methods have often to be adopted. A certain famous jockey once clothed himself in close upon three quarters of a hundred weigh of horsecloths and walked as hard as he could go a distance of six miles. This feat he repeated three times, within 24 hours, making 18 miles in all, and during the period he ate nothing whatever. His weight being taken, he was found to have lost 17 pounds. Still another once relieved himself of seven pounds of flesh in a single walk, but the walk covered 40 miles and lasted nine hours. His diet on this occasion was a hard biscuit purchased at a roadside public house, and a poached egg served in vinegar. At another time he ate nothing but an occasional apple for eight consecutive days, in order to reduce himself.

One of the gamest jockeys on record who rode and won a race with a broken leg, used to live for days in front of an enormous open fire, eating practically nothing, and drinking huge quantities of senna-tea. The only relaxation he permitted himself was in scraping the perspiration off the uncovered portions of his person, after the manner in which a racehorse is scraped, using a small horn for the purpose.

It is pitiful to see a jockey strip after having undergone a really severe reducing. He looks as if all his strength had left him, while the skin is so transparent that every vein shows through it as through a covering of glass. Cruel it is, in a sense, of course. But it has to be done. The ultimate destination of perhaps hundreds of thousands of dollars in bets and purses may depend upon a few ounces too much or too little flesh being upon a jockey's bones at a given moment.

Sweaters Would Answer.

The captain of a football team in California, finding himself unable to get together a team to fulfill an engagement with a club five miles away, wired to that effect to the secretary of the opping team. "Can't let you off," was the answer. "Crowd waiting already." The captain made another effort to get his men together, but without success, and was once more obliged to wire his inability to fulfill the engagement. The answer came: "If you can't come yourselves please send your sweaters. We can pick up a team from the navvies working here on the railway, and the people won't know the difference."

"Squibbler doesn't write any more jokes about mother-in-laws."

No Right to Ugliness.

The woman who is lovely in face, form and temper will always have friends, but one who would be attractive must keep her health. If she is weak, sickly and all run down, she will be nervous and irritable. If she has constipation or kidney trouble, her impure blood will cause pimples, blotches, skin eruptions and a wretched complexion. Electric Bitters is the best medicine in the world to regulate stomach, liver and kidneys and to purify the blood. It gives strong nerves, bright eyes, smooth, velvet skin, rich complexion. It will make a good-looking, charming woman of a run-down invalid. Only 50 cents at L. W. Randolph's Drug Store.

Deft Fingers to Sew.

The young women of the Christian Endeavor Society of the Park Avenue Baptist church will meet tomorrow afternoon at 4 o'clock at the home of Miss Wyckoff, Putnam avenue, to sew for the children of Miss Sara Curry's Day Nursery in New York. A basket supper will follow the sewing meeting.

Congregational Church Reopening.

The Congregational church will open next Sunday morning after being closed since the first of August. The church has been cleaned and some necessary repairs made during the interval. Rev. C. L. Goodrich, the pastor, will return home this week to take charge of the services Sanday.

In a State of Complete Collapse.

SCURRYING "MOTOS" ON JERSEY ROADS

Carriage and Delivery Service on a Grand Scale.

ORDER FOR 4,500 VEHICLES.

PLEASURE PARTY AUTOMOBILE RIDES ACROSS STATE WILL BE NEXT.

Capitalists Have Organized a Company to Make Contracts for the Use of Automobiles for All Kinds of Work in This Section—A Livery Service to be Established for Suburban Towns.

The Electric Vehicle Company, of New Jersey, New York and several more States, is rapidly preparing a system of urban and suburban service which at an early day will greatly lessen the usefulness of the horse. The first and most conspicuous extension of the automobile work will be in New Jersey. The company now has 4,500 vehicles under course of instruction for use in this State. The first deliveries on this order are expected next month. They will be put into operation in all the New Jersey territory between New York, Jersey City and Philadelphia.

James E. Hayes, president of the company, said yesterday:

"It should not be understood that we intend to compete with trolley and steam car lines. That, under the present conditions, would be out of the question. What we intend to begin with may be described as a general livery and delivery business. All the great merchants of New York and Philadelphia send out their delivery wagons into the country to great distances around the respective cities. We intend to take contracts with our automobile wagons for this kind of work. Or, if the merchants prefer to do their own delivering, we are prepared to manufacture and sell the best type of vehicles for the purpose. In all the important towns between New York and Philadelphia we will have stations where vehicles may have batteries re-charged, or where relays may be had as in the old stage coaching days. But we will not at present begin carrying passengers over fixed routes between New York and Philadelphia.

"What we expect to do first, besides the general carrying and delivering of goods, is to create an automobile livery service in all the large towns across and through New Jersey.

"For instance, if a party of friends or one two persons only, wish to make a trip over the country roads to Philadelphia and back, we will be able to furnish any size and variety of vehicle desired. Besides this there will be a large amount of business travel.

"The handling of this kind of work by automobiles is bound to come very soon.

"People do not regard the automobile as an altogether serious proposition. The clumsy, big-wheeled concerns seen about the streets are still regarded as curiosities. But the vehicles are being improved in appearance and effectiveness every day, and those even now turned out are as handsome as any horse vehicles made.

"It is too early yet to go into any details of the service we are about to inaugurate. At present automobiles cannot be let at much under the rate charged for a horse-drawn vehicle, but undoubtedly this will be modified later.

"Automobiles are becoming very popular with physicians. Every day more and more doctors, in their city and country rides, are adopting the electric carriage. It is especially well adapted to their uses."

The Always Busy Store.

Bamberger, "the always busy store" of Newark, announces the fall opening sale of floor coverings in a new advertisement in today's Press. A year ago the department was regarded as an experiment by this firm, but as in all of their ventures it has proven a very great success. A success of bargains has caught the eye and the patronage of the public and with the customers behind them they have been warranted in putting in one of the largest and best stocks to be found in the metropolitan district. They have anticipated advances in the trade and as a result are able to give their patrons great advantages in prices and quality of the articles.

Getting Schools Ready.

The work of preparing the public schools for the opening next Monday is going forward now. The buildings have been thoroughly cleaned and overhauled during the summer months and are now in the best of condition for fall activity.

MR. KANE WAS CLEARED.

COUNTY ELECTION BOARD DISMISSED CHARGES AGAINST HIM.

Accused by Three Colored Men Working at Pond's Who Failed to Put in an Appearance When Wanted.

The Union County Board of Registration and Election met in the Courthouse, Elizabeth, yesterday afternoon, at which time James Kane, of this city, a member of the election board in the Second district of the Fourth ward, appeared to answer a charge of incompetency and only furnishing one set of tickets at the last election.

The charge was made by William Pryor, William Fisher and Charles Sheldon, colored, and employes in the foundry at the Pond Machine Tool Works. They appeared before Lawyer William Newcorn, recently, who took their affidavits which were sent to the Board at Elizabeth. The complainants in the case did not appear in person, as they should, but the evidence was so weak and flimsy that the county board dismissed the charge after a few minutes' consideration.

Mr. Kane was accompanied by Abram Angleman and Peter Flynn, associate members of the board in the Fourth ward, and they testified against the charges preferred. It is reported that there has been an attempt to oust Mr. Kane from the board so that another man could secure the place, but this attempt failed utterly and Mr. Kane will undoubted be reappointed next week Thursday when the appointments are to be made.

THE GLORY HAS GONE.

THE OLD-FASHIONED PUMP AT PUMPTOWN HAS BEEN REMOVED.

Roadhouses Were Its Undoing—These Alone Now Cater to the Myriad of Dust-Covered and Thirsty Wheelmen.

Every bicyclist who has toured through Central New Jersey has heard of Pumptown. It is a little crossroads hamlet about five miles from this city, on the Plainfield-Metuchen turnpike. This was one of the first roads to be macadamized in Middlesex county under the State Road Act, and it connects with the the stone road system of this and Somerset counties, and was for many years one of the most popular bicycle roads in the vicinity of New York.

Pumptown was a popular stopping place because of the wayside pump that gave it its name. The pump, first an old-fashioned "cucumber" pump and later a more modern article, drew from a deep well inexhaustible quantities of pure cold water. It was maintained by the township for the benefit of wayfarers. Repairs were seldom needed, for those who used the pump were careful not to abuse so good a friend.

But when "wheelmen's rests" were established along the turnpike it seemed impossible to keep the pump in working order. The crank would get loose, the chain would break and the spout would mysteriously disappear. When a roadhouse was established on the corner directly opposite the pump the task of keeping the pump in working order became even more difficult than expensive. For the past four years the township authorities have given up the task, and the wrecked and battered pump is only a sad reminder of the refreshment it once used to supply in such generous quantity.

Pumptown is still a stopping place for the wheelmen, but the only liquid refreshment they can obtain is of the sort that comes in bottles at five cents a glass.

Park Avenue Now in Good Shape.

The repairs to Park avenue have been completed and that thoroughfare is once more open to carriages and wheelmen. The macadam surface is still fresh and needs to be worn smooth. It will be in fine condition in a few days.

A Children's Fair.

A children's fair will be held at the residence of Mrs. Dorsey W. Hyde, corner of Woodland and LaGrande avenues, next Friday afternoon from 4 until 6 o'clock for the purpose of aiding a destitute family.

A Big Apple.

The remarkable size of the apples in Fernando Brown's orchard on Webster place has already been noted. C. Sorensen picked the largest of them all yesterday. It weighed a pound and a quarter.

Insurance Settled.

The insurance companies settled with A. J. Beal, of South avenue, for the damage done to his household property at the fire that threatened his home with destruction. The amount paid was $500.

POLICE MUST OBEY BICYCLE ORDINANCE.

City Judge Says They Mustn't Ride on Sidewalks.

TO CARRY LIGHTS AT NIGHT.

NIGHT WATCHMAN COONEY ARRAIGNED FOR SIDEWALK RIDING.

He Claims That His Arrest was the Result of Spitework and That Those who Caused It Are Flagrant Offenders of Bicycle Ordinance Themselves—Judge Runyon Suspended Sentence.

In the eye of the law, says City Judge Runyon, the police are not any better than any one else, and they are not privileged to violate the city ordinances with impunity. The particular ordinance that he had reference to is the one that provides that every wheel shall carry a lamp at night and that cyclists must not ride on the sidewalk. The case that brought out such a statement was that against Night Watchman Joseph Cooney for riding on the sidewalk.

Cooney nightly patrols the property of a number of residents in the Third Ward. It has been his habit to go awheel when weather permitted. He has been riding on the sidewalk from the entrance to the driveway at several residences. Early this morning Patrolman Vanderweg saw him ride on the sidewalk in front of the residence of Mrs. George H. Babcock, of West Eighth street. He ordered him to appear before the City Judge this morning.

Cooney appeared as ordered. The Judge said that he was aware that it was the custom of many of the police and watchmen to ride on sidewalks and also to ride without a light. The ordinance made no such exemption, he said, and the law must be enforced as it is written. He suspended sentence on Cooney as there had been no notification to the contrary, but announced to Chief Grant that the law must be obeyed hereafter.

Cooney declared that his arrest was really a case of spitework, and that those who caused his arrest do the very same thing themselves.

TO SING "THE MESSIAH."

THE ORATORIO WILL BE PRODUCED JUST BEFORE CHRISTMAS.

Arrangements Being Made By a Committee, of Which W. W. Howland is Chairman—Local Chorus to Organize.

The music loving public of Plainfield will be glad to learn that there is a movement on foot to hold a concert just before the Christmas holidays and have the oratorio, "The Messiah," rendered by a large chorus of local talent. The movement was started a month ago by Rev. Dr. W. R. Richards and a committee, with W. W Howland as chairman, was appointed to look into the plan.

A meeting of this committee was held Tuesday evening at the Y. M. C. A., when plans were formulated and it was decided that such a concert could be held successfully. Definite announcement of the plans will be made in a few days. The chorus will be composed of many of those who were members of the old Choral Society and other local singers.

MISSED BY A FEW NCHES.

Royal Blue Line Ran Uncomfortably Close to Alexander Millar at Communipaw Station.

Alexander Millar, of Madison avenue and Seventh street, who is secretary of the Union Pacific Railroad, had a narrow escape yesterday morning from being killed. He went into New York on his usual train, and while walking through the Jersey City terminus to the ferry-boat, a Royal Blue Line train came into the terminus at a high rate of speed. Mr. Millar was walking close to the track upon which the train was coming and was evidently unconscious of the approaching train. Other passengers called to Mr. Millar and he stepped out of the way just in time. The train missed him by three or four inches. Those who saw the affair say that it was the most narrow escape they ever witnessed. They claim that if the train had struck Mr. Millar he would probably have been killed.

Looking After Prospective Votes.

The committee appointed by the Republican city executive committee to look after the naturalization of those men living in Plainfield who wish to become American citizens, will soon give notice of the day that such applicants are to appear in the Courthouse at Elizabeth and make application. William Newcorn is the chairman of the committee and to him those wishing to make application should go.

FIFTH TIME BEFORE CADI

MIKE DONKO SENT TO JAIL FOR THREE MONTHS.

He Got Out of Jail Tuesday and Got Gloriously Drunk the First Thing—The Judge Decided to be Severe With Him.

Tuesday Mike Donko shook the dust of the county jail at Elizabeth from his feet and journeyed back to Plainfield. It was the fourth time this year that he had enjoyed such a home-coming. As on the other occasions, Mike felt it necessary to celebrate such an event. Mike says he only took two glasses of whiskey. Whatever it was, Acting Roundsman Mattox and Patrolman Flanagan found him in a sadly intoxicated condition yesterday morning trying to monopolize Leggett's Pharmacy for a sleeping apartment.

"How is this?" remarked City Judge Runyon, when they arraigned Donko before him this morning. "This is the fifth time you have come before me this year."

Donko explained that he had just come home after his clothes preparatory to going to Elizabethport to get a job.

"Was it necessary to drink rum when you came after your clothes?" queired the Judge. Donko thought it was necessary but then, he said, he might be wrong.

Then Judge Runyon arranged for another vacation for the recreant Michael, the longest he has provided for any prisoner hitherto arraigned before him. He sentenced Donko to pay a fine of $50 and go to jail for fifty days. As Donko hasn't a cent that practically means three months in jail.

THE AMERICAN MECHANICS.

State Council Held at Trenton Yesterday and a Large and Harmonious Session.

The State Council, Order of United American Mechanics, held its annual session in Masonic Hall, Trenton, yesterday. The session was one of the largest and at the same time most harmonious the order has ever held, notwithstanding the fact that two days are usually required to transact the business of the council, it was concluded this year in only one day. It was decided to levy an assessment of 20 cents per capita tax for the purpose of raising a fund to advance the interests of the order in the State by placing an organizer in chief.

During the year four new councils were instituted in the State. At present the order has 4,550 members in the State. It paid for benefits and relief during the year ending June 30th, 1899, $23,265.86. It has now in its treasury $60,402.17.

The following officers were elected for the ensuing year: State councilor, C. E. Marcell, of Newark; State vice-councilor, A. S. Schuyler, of Elizabeth; State secretary, Richard Carney, of Camden; State treasurer, George H. Poulson, of Trenton; representative to National Council, three years, William H. Staats, of New Brunswick; representative, one year, to fill unexpired term, George H. Poulson.

DEATH OF MISS MOORE.

She Was One of the First Nurses in the Muhlenberg Training School.

Many Plainfielders will remember Miss Rose B. Moore, one of the first nurses of the Training School of Muhlenberg Hospital, and they will be deeply grieved to learn of her death, which occurred at Camden, Aug. 20th last. She was a person of much promise in her profession and one of the brightest pupils the training school ever had, but owing to an illness that developed into consumption, she was compelled to give up her profession, after a service of about one year.

Improvements at Whittier School.

The improvements at the Whittier School building on Madison avenue are being rushed forward as fast as possible, and it is expected that the building will be ready for occupancy Tuesday, when the public schools open. Two new class rooms have been fitted out on the second floor, where the gymnasium of the girls of the High School was formerly located.

FAMILY OUTING ON JOHN POWERS' FARM.

Two Hundred Gathered There For a Good Time.

A CLAMBAKE WAS ENJOYED.

VARIOUS AMUSEMENTS FOR ENTERTAINMENT OF ALL.

Several Prominent City Officials Present, Including Mayor Rockfellow—Colored Quarette Rendered Plantation Melodies—John Adelman Was in Charge—Details of the Affair.

The annual family outing held yesterday afternoon on the John Powers farm in Piscataway township, proved a most enjoyable affair and fully as successful as previous ones have been. There were present nearly 200 members of some of the best families of this city, including the children. Among those present were Mayor Rockfellow, Dr. Zeglio, George O. Stevens, Councilman H. Leifke, Councilman W. L. Hetfield, A. I. Smalley, Freeholder F. Mobus, William Newcorn, Joseph Field and many others.

During the afternooon Sam Frazee enlivened the occasion by selections on the violin and some colored men sang plantation melodies. The amusements consisted of live bird shooting and pitching quoits by the gentlemen and "shooting the eagle" by the ladies.

The first prize in the latter contest was won by Mrs. W. F. Drier; second prize, Mrs. Charles Smith; third prize, Mrs. Rudolph Spiegel; fourth prize, Mrs. George Voehl. The prizes were handsome pieces of bric-a-brac.

The clambake was excellent. It was prepared under the direction of William Brown, who filled the important post of chef. The menu consisted of clam chowder, fish, crabs, roast chicken, clams, sweet corn, sweet potatoes and melons. This appetizing dinner was washed down with various kinds of liquid refreshments of the effervescent quality. John Adelman was chairman of the affair, and Henry Haurand, secretary.

TO PULL THE OLD ENGINE

EXEMPTS WILL APPEAR IN GOOD FORM IN THE BOROUGH PARADE.

Arrangements Made at a Meeting Last Night When Louis E. Barkalew Was Also Elected the New President.

At last evening's meeting of the Exempt Firemen's Association Louis E. Barkalew was elected president to succeed Auguste Saltzman, resigned. The association also accepted a quantity of badges and other souvenirs which Former President Saltzman presented to it.

It was decided to turn out on the occasion of the firemen's parade in North Plainfield on October 12th. The Exempts will draw in the parade the hand engine and the silver mounted hose carriage which has attracted so much attention in the past. It has been suggested that the North Plainfield fire department extend the line of march to this city. Some of the Exempts last evening expressed the opinion that it would please the citizens if the parade should pass over Watchung avenue to Second street, to Central avenue to West Front street to Somerset and across the brook. It is understood that the North Plainfield fire laddies would be pleased to parade in this city if they are invited to do so. Perhaps Mayor Rockfellow will extend an invitation to the borough firemen to show themselves to their neighbors.

Non-refillable Bottle Company.

The Marvel Bottle Company filed articles of incorporation yesterday with the clerk of Union county. The company is capitalized at $125,000 and the incorporators are Charles B. Overbaugh, Newton B. Smalley, David C. Smalley, John E. Beerbower, Anna L. Beerbower and George Voehl, all of Plainfield, where the plant is to be located. Non-filable bottles will be manufactured from the Overbaugh plant.

$8,000 LOST BY FIRE.

FARM BUILDINGS OF IRA C. LAMBERT WERE BURNED.

Five Horses and a Large Amount of Machinery Destroyed—Origin of the Flames Thought to be Incendiary.

(Special to The Daily Press.)

Westfield, September 7.—A fierce fire, supposed to be of incendiarism, destroyed the large stables, saw mill, grainary and out-buildings on the farm of Ira C. Lambert, proprietor of the Mt. Ararat Creamery, on South Broad street, yesterday afternoon.

About 3:30 o'clock Mr. Lambert noticed smoke issuing from a crack in the bottom of the stable door and at once opened the door to investigate, but as he opened the door the flames came forth in volumes and caused him to make a hasty retreat.

He again tried to gain an entrance, but the fire was too hot and he had to leave the five horses, which were in the stable, to be burned to death.

The fact that the fire started in the stable, and that no one had been in it for several hours, leads the officials of the fire department to believe that Westfield has again been visited by a fire bug.

The draft from the open door fanned the blaze and in a few minutes the stable was one sheet of flames and the saw mill, which was connected with the stable by a long shed, was burning. The flames then jumped to the grainary and this added to the heated condition of things when the firemen arrived on the scene.

The loss on buildings, machinery in saw mill, hay and grain and harness will reach $8,000, half of which is covered by insurance.

RUNG IN TWO STRANGERS

MEN FROM OTHER STATES GOT JERSEY ARMY COMMISSIONS.

Two Places Belonging to New Jersey Went to a New Yorker and a Pennsylvanian—Governor Figured Over the Matter.

Governor Voorhees has just discovered that in filling the quota of officers for New Jersey in the volunteer army two men were appointed by the War Department who are not residents of this State. One is from New York and the other from Pennsylvania. There were sixteen officers to be appointed, and the applications for commissions by Jerseymen were so many that the Governor was embarrassed. He made his recommendations, and some of them were turned down. He immediately set out to learn the reason why and found that two of his recommendations were elbowed aside to make room for the New Yorker and the Pennsylvanian.

The discovery was anything but pleasant to the Governor, and he promptly wrote a letter to the officials at Washington asking that the two Lieutenants who had been charged up against New Jersey's quota be assigned to some other State, in order that some of the New Jersey men who are seeking commissions might receive them. One of the men crowded out was William Pedrick, of Trenton, who served fourteen years in the National Guard of Pennsylvania and New Jersey and was First Lieutenant of Company L, Fourth Regiment, New Jersey Volunteers. His name went to Washington with the indorsement of army officials and public men, but for some reason he was turned down.

"YELLOW KID" VARDON.

Haled to City Court Because He is Alleged to Worry the Union News Company Agent.

John Vardon, alias "Yellow Kid," who was the leader in the recent newsboy strike against the Evening World and Journal, appeared before City Judge Runyon this morning by special request. Now Johnny and the local agent of the Union News Company have not been on the best of terms of late. Johnny was employed by the company but there was some trouble and now Johnny has taken considerable pains to annoy the agent whenever possible. He has also, it is alleged, badly frightened his successor, a lad named Evanson. Johnny claims the agent still owes him money.

The Judge told Johnny that he must be more circumspect in the future and advised him to present a plain statement as the most satisfactory way of settling the trouble over the accounts.

Repairing Bowling Alleys.

Extensive repairs are being made to the bowling alleys of the Park club at the club house on Washington avenue. The alleys were at one time one of the best in the State, and they are to be equal to any when completed this time. The runway was considerably out of true and the alleys needed general repairs. They will be in fine condition when completed.

WANT TROLLEY TO GO THROUGH THE NOTCH.

Mass Meeting of Washingtonville Citizens Last Night.

TO URGE THE EXTENSION.

COMMITTEE APPOINTED TO ACT WITH BOARD OF TRADE.

There Was a Large Attendance at the Meeting and Most of Those Present Had Something to Say on the Subject—Willing to Give More Than the Franchise to Secure Trolley Extension.

The residents of Washingtonville were out en masse last evening at the Washingtonville schoolhouse to emphasize their desire that the trolley should reach that village. The meeting was called by some of the principal citizens of the place to discuss the best moves to bring the lines of the Plainfield Street Railway Company there and to appoint a committee to act with the Plainfield Board of Trade in the matter.

There was a large attendance at the meeting and most of those present had something to say on the subject. The feeling was unanimous that the trolley was needed to advance the interests of the town. It was generally agreed that the company should be given a free franchise and even other aid if necessary.

A committee, composed of F. Wohlfert, Phillip Acker and Assemblyman E. E. Cooper, was appointed to confer with the Plainfield Board of Trade and act in unison with them in an effort to bring the trolley to Washingtonville.

A NEW PASTOR.

Rev. A. F. Shaffer Has Accepted the Pastorate of the German Reformed Church in This City.

At a meeting of the trustees of the German Lutheran church Tuesday evening it was unanimously agreed to extend a call to Rev. A. F. Shaffer, of Liverpool, N. Y., to become pastor of the church. He has accepted the call. He has preached at the North Plainfield church on two or three occasions and the members like him very much. He was pastor of a large church at Liverpool, but owing to illness he was obliged to give up the charge, and acting on the advice of his physician decided to take a smaller church. He is about 40 years of age and a talented preacher. In a short time he will move to Plainfield.

MAY THROW THEM ALL OUT.

Prices Too High for the Sites Offered for the Post Office Building.

(Special to The Daily Press.)

New Brunswick, Sept. 7.—The owners of property here who have thought to get a good price out of the Government are likely to be disappointed. Special Agent Garason's report on the site of the public building, the selection of which has been a vexed question for several months, is now before Assistant Secretary of the Treasury Taylor, with the probability that the whole matter will be laid aside.

It is said that the department is unwilling to pay out for the site alone one-third of the entire sum voted by Congress for the building and site and the lowest bid for the site is $32,500.

A Marriage in Canaan.

A novel entertainment is going to be held in the Calvary Baptist church this evening. It is entitled a "Marriage in Canaan." Rev. Mr. Lewis, of Westmoreland county, Virginia, is to perform the ceremony. It promises to be something very effective and can be witnessed for a small price of admission. It will be followed by the bridal feast.

All Ready to Begin School.

Janitor Thomas Clarkson, of the Plainfield High School building, has just completed a thorough cleaning of the building. It is now all ready for occupancy Tuesday. The lawn in front of the building has been well kept this summer and looks very well indeed, adding much to the appearance of the school.

Front Forks Gave Way.

Letter Carrier J. W. A. Bauersachs took a tumble yesterday afternoon from his wheel. He was riding along when the front forks of his bicycle suddenly gave way and he was thrown to the ground with considerable force. He was well shaken up, but sustained no serious injuries.

To Preach in Brooklyn.

Rev. H. W. McKane, of this city, will preach in the Christian church, on Sterling place, Brooklyn, next Sunday morning and evening.

NATIVES DEMONSTRATIVE.

Filipinos Continue to Show Considerable Activity in Vicinity of Imus.

AMERICANS KEPT BUSY.

Our Troops Obliged to Fire Volleys During Several Nights to Repulse the Enemy.

Last of the Volunteer Regiments Preparing to Return Home—Filipinos Issue Paper Money to the Amount of $300,000—Natives Call For Assistance.

Manila, Sept. 7.—The Iowa regiment, the last of the volunteer organizations on duty in the island of Luzon, has been withdrawn from Calulut to the barracks at Caluean, preparatory to departure for home. The number of men who will sail is 806. Less than 3,000 members of the regiment were left on duty at the front when the order came for their relief; 406 were on the sick list.

The Iowa regiment has undergone hard outpost duty for three months, during which time it has been much exposed to the rains. Seventy-five members of the regiment have reenlisted. Although the Iowans participated in some of the hardest of the fighting between Malalos and San Fernando, not one of them was killed in battle. Thirty-nine members of the regiment, however, were wounded, and nine died of disease.

The Filipinos continue to make demonstrations in the vicinity of Imus. The American outposts were obliged to fire volleys the last three nights. Mail advices from Zamboanga report that the town has been practically deserted.

The facts concerning the fighting reported recently between Dato Mundi and the Filipinos are that the latter attacked a village in Dato's dominions on neighboring islands, killing two of the villagers. Dato's men subsequently drove off the Filipinos, of whom several were killed.

The recent issue of Filipino paper money amounts to $3,000,000. The acceptance of this issue is made obligatory and the bills are made redeemable in three years.

The Filipinos have issued a call on property owners in the interior to supply gratis to the native army carts, horses and cattle.

THE ERIE WRECK.

Three Killed and Several Badly Injured.

Miller's Station, Pa., Sept. 7.—Three men were killed in the wreck on the Erie Railroad at this station, where the fast Chicago express, known as No. 5, crashed into the caboose of an extra freigh train. The killed are: Engineer Arnold, of No. 5; H. Schaeffer, conductor of the freight train; George Schatz, flagman of the freight train; George Blix, mesenger on board the freight train; unknown tramp.

The freight train in charge of Conductor H. Schaefer had been notified to side track at Miller's Station to let the express go by.

The train was run in on the switch, but for some reason the switch had not been turned. It is thought that the conductor and freight hands of the freight went into the caboose and fell asleep while waiting for the express. No. 5 came booming along on time and was running at about thirty miles an hour.

It crashed into the freight's caboose while under great speed. The engine, tender, mail and baggage cars of No. 5 left the track, but none of the day coaches or sleepers was derailed.

The train was vestibuled and passengers in the rear sleeper hardly felt the shock of the collision. The caboose of the freight train was smashed to flinders, and all of those killed were found under the debris. Fireman Plumb of No. 5 received a broken ankle.

Obstruction in East River.

Washington, Sept. 7.—The Coast and Geodetic Survey has received an official report from the commander of the schooner Eager, stating that the obstruction upon which the cruiser Brooklyn struck in the East River some weeks ago is abreast of the South Ferry slip and about one hundred and ninety yards from the pier. He ascertained by sending a diver down that the obstruction consisted of a barge or boat which at some time had been sunk in the stream. The hull lies in water thirty feet deep, but the least depth over it is sixteen or seventeen feet. Official notice of the existence of the obstruction will be given at once. the obstruction will be given at once.

Rescued From a Mob.

Evansville, Ind., Sept. 7.—Sheriff Thomas, of Posey county, arrived here with Dan Powell, a negro whom he saved from a mob by escaping from Mt. Vernon in a buggy. William Carr, a prominent citizen of that place, was fatally shot by Webb Thomas, a negro, who escaped, and is now being hunted by the mob. Previously the mob tried to lynch Powell, who shot an officer a week ago, and is now under penitentiary sentence.

Cuban Robbers Killed.

Mariel, Cuba, Sept. 7.—Another battle with outlaws has occurred here. One of the robbers is dead as a result, and two are wounded. The outlaws, under the leadership of Elfes Rayes and Ramon Diaz, were ambushed by the rural guard on the Miranda plantation. Upon being called on to surrender the robbers fired and fled under the return fire.

Make it Public.

Publicity Counts—That's What the People Want—Plainfield Expression on the Subject.

Make it public.
Tell the people about it.
Gratitude promotes publicity.
Grateful citizens talk;
They tell their neighbors, tell their friends.
The news is to good to keep.
Everybody should know about the "Little Conqueror"
Bad backs are numerous.
So few understand the cause.
Plainfield people are learning.
And better still, they re being cured.
Lame backs are lame no more.
Weak ones regain their strength.
This is the every day labor in Plainfield of Doan's Kidney Pills.

Our citizens are making it public:

Mrs. Margaret Reville, of 752 West 3rd street, says: "For a long time I was troubled with a lame and weak back and I never found anything which gave me any relief until I obtained Doan's Kidney Pills from L. W. Randolph's drug store and began to use them according to direction. It was only a short time before I felt the good effects and from that time on I improved steadily under the treatment. My back pained me and was so weak and sore that I dreaded to bend and when I had a cold or overexerted myself I suffered severely. I used several different kidney remedies but got but little if any relief. I give Doan's Kidney Pills all the credit for my improvement. I think they are a fine medicine for a lame back. My experience with them has been very satisfactory and I do not hesitate to recommend them to anyone suffering from kidney troubles."

Doan's Kidney Pills for sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Mailed by Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, N. Y., sole agents for the United States.

Remember the name—Doan's—and take no substitute.

DREYFUS COURT-MARTIAL.

A Big Surprise is Sprung in the Celebrated Trial at Rennes.

TESTIMONY CONSIDERED.

The Official Admission of Esterhazy's Treachery Creates Considerable of a Sensation.

Labori Has Threatened to Withdsaw From the Case—A Government Cipher Expert Causes a Turmoil in Court—Verdict of Acquital Confidently Predicted.

Rennes, Sept. 7.—Two hours at the opening of the Dreyfus court-martial were spent behind closed doors.

The length of time occupied in the examination of Eugene de Cernuschi, the Austrian refugee and witness for the presecution, was the subject of much remark, as being indicative of the fact that the court found this witness to be worthy of more consideration than it had been supposed he deserved.

The first official admission of Esterhazy's treachery was made in the trial, and it created a startling sensation. M. Paleologue, the Government Deputy and expert on cypher codes, sprang the surprise when he testified:

"Count Munster, the German Ambassador at Paris, told M. Delcasse, French Minister of Foreign Affairs, that Colonel Schwartzkoppen, while German attache in Paris, sent Esterhazy a large number of petit bleus."

Captain Dreyfus smiled grimly at this evidence and M. Labori did not attempt to conceal his gratification.

A buzz of astonishment ran through the adience, which was greatly excited by the news.

For the first time since Colonel Picquar wrecked the army career by announcing his conversion to the belief that Dreyfus was innocent the crowd in court made a noisy demonstration in his favor.

The audience for the first time broke out in deunciations of Lauth.

The latter testified that when he and the wife of Colonel Henry and his wife were at the public military function in Paris Colonel Picquart entered accompanied by a woman he called Madame B.

Captain Gast, brother-in-law of Col. Picquart, was intensely angered by Lauth's statement that Col. Picquart had gone to the restaurant with "Madame B," and at once sought friends to act as seconds in a duel with Lauth.

The Captain openly announced in most bitter language his intention to seek out Lauth as soon as the court-martial adjourned for the day and to insult him grosely in as public a manner as he could arrange.

A stormy scene is therefore expected just as soon as the protection of the court's session is withdrawn from Lauth.

Personal appeals have been telegraphed to the German Emperor and the King of Italy by Maitre Labori that they grant permission to Colonel Schwartzkoppen and Colonel Panizzardi, respectively, to come to Rennes and to testify as to the charges against Captain Dreyfus.

These two officers were formerly attaches at the embassies of their respective governments in Paris. Schwartzkoppen is the German attache who in the discussion of the secret dossier is alway referred to a the Agent A——, and Panizzardi is alleged by the army clique to have telegraphed to his government the fact of Dreyfus's arrest prior to his former trial.

Maitre Labori's language in the appeals is of the strongest character. It invokes the loyal aid of the Emperor and the King in the name of humanity and of justice.

The Dreyfusards predict that if Schwartzkoppen and Panizzardi are heard as witnesses it will at once end the trial, the court returning a simple and unqualified verdict of acquital.

Gen. Billot was put forward by the group of Generals to reconcile the now undeniable fact that Esterhazy is the traitor, with a theory that Dreyfus is also guilty. His insinuations became more and more direct until M. Labori sharply interrupted him, saying, "If you want to say Esterhazy and Dreyfus were accomplices, let it come out openly."

Then Dreyfus, white and quivering with rage, jumped up and said, "I protest. He shall not say that!"

Col. Jouaust interfered against M. Labori, as he has constantly done during the past two sessions of the court, and M. Labori sharply gave notice that he would take full advantage on appeal of the President's interference with his rights. Col. Jouaust, looking intensely annoyed, consulted with Col. Brogniard, one of the judges believed to be opposed to Dreyfus's side of the case. Gen. Billot managed to say that he would not undertake to say whether or not Esterhazy and Dreyfus were accomplices.

By this time the atmosphere of the court room was so electrified that many persons seemed to find difficulty in maintaining their self control. It was a relief to turn from this succession of dramatic events to the testimony of two or three minor witnesses.

There was a violent scene between Labori and Col. Jouausti, the Presiding judge of the Dreyfus court-martial, after the close of the session. Labori threatens to throw up his share in the defense. This would mean the end of Dreyfus's defense, for Labori alone understands all its ramifications.

MET IN SECRET SESSION.

Business Transacted at the G. A. R. Encampment at Philadelphia.

Philadelphia, Sept. 7.—The national G. A. R. encampment met in secret session. The delegates did not hold the customary open meeting, owing to the large amount of business to be transacted.

The report of Alonzo Williams, of Providence, R. I., inspector general, gave the loss by death as 7,994, which, added to losses through other causes, such as discharges, honorable and dishonorable; surrender of charter, suspensions and transfers, made the total loss 45,855. The number of members in good standing June 30, 1899, was 287,981.

The most important event of the session was the election of Senior Vice Commander Johnson as commander-in-chief, to serve the unexpired term of the late Colonel Sexton.

This rendered him ineligible to candacy for the full term, and he will be given the title of past commander-in-chief.

The contest for the commandership is between Colonel Albert D. Shaw, of New York, and Judge Leo Ressieur, of Missouri.

Commander Johnson will continue in office until the end of this encampment.

R. B. Brown, of Zanesville, O., chairman of the pension report committee, declined to say what recommendations his committee would make.

After the election of Colonel Johnson as commander in chief, Daniel Ross, of Wilmington, Del., junior vice commander, was elevated to the office of senior vice commander, succeeding Colonel Johnson.

The report of the Committee on Pensions was read, and a motion was made to refer it to the Committee on Resolutions. This created much discussion, many of the delegates favoring the immediate adoption of a resolution covering the alleged evils mentioned in the report.

After a discussion lasting nearly four hours, the report was referred back to the Committee on Pensions.

The complaint of the veterans as contained in the Pension Committee's report, is that the law governing the granting of pensions is misconstrued by the Pension Examiner. The report is not critical, but is said to contain a statement of facts as they exist in the Pension Department.

The Pennsylvania delegation met in causuc and voted unanimously to support Colonel Albert Shaw for the office of Commander-in-chief.

They voted to meet in Chicago next year.

President Made a Union Workman.

Chicago, Sept. 7.—President McKinley has been elected a member of the Bricklayers and Stone Masons' International Union, No. 21, of Chicago. He will be the first President of the United States and first ruler of any nation who ever became a member of a building trade affiliated with the Chicago building trades council. President George P. Gubbins of the Bricklayers and Stone Masons' Union said that since the President was to lay the corner stone of the new Post Office it was compulsory for the President to join the union. The rules of all the building trades in Chicago demand that he must hold a union card before he could handle a trowel on any building in Cook County.

Marries Five Sisters.

Huntington, W. Va., Sept. 7.—William Mercer, of Raccoon Creek, has just married a Moffat girl for the fifth time. Years ago when Jennie Moffat was twenty he married her. She died and he married her sister Ada, aged twenty. At her death sister Catherine, twenty, was led to the altar, and then came sister Missouri. The fifth sister-wife is Anna, aged twenty. Each of the dead wives left two children.

Nearly Go Over Niagara Falls.

Tonawanda, N. Y., Sept. 7.—Frank A. Hinkey and his brother, both formerly members of the Yale football team, are just recovering from a perilous adventure in the Niagara River above the falls. They were yachting there when the boat capsized. They became entangled in the rigging and were carried into the swift current totally exhausted. Several boats put out from shore and rescued them.

Trades Union Congress.

Plymouth, England, Sept. 7.—At yesterday's session of the Traders Union Congress, now being held here, Messrs. O'Connell and Tracy, the American delegates, made addresses in which they said the union movement in the United States was proceeding well. Mr. O'Connell advised the English unions to pay more attention to the matter of the organization of workingwomen.

Chicago Suffering From Drought.

Chicago, Sept. 7.—Yesterday was the culmination of the longest dry period known in Chicago since the time of the great fire in 1871. For twenty-five days no rain has fallen excepting a few drops. In every part of the city the leaves of trees are falling and grass is turning the dead brown of winter.

Homing Pigeon Breaks Record.

Denver, Col., Sept. 7.—Word has been received here that a homing pigeon belonging to R. E. Blaney, of Grafton, W. Va., released in Denver July 29, reached home on August 29, covering a distance of 1,350 miles, air line, in thirty-one days, and breaking the world's record for a long flight.

Gov. Roosevelt's Tour.

Utica, Sept. 7.—Gov. Roosevelt arrived here from Ogdensburg thoroughly tired from his day's travel and speaking. He left for Johnstown, where he spoke at the Fulton County Fair in the afternoon.

Carpenters Go on Strike.

Omaha, Neb., Sept. 7.—Three hundred union carpenters have gone on a strike for an increase of five cents an hour in their wages. They have been receiving thirty cents an hour.

An Ohio Mayor Resigns.

Bellefontaine, Ohio, Sept. 7.—Maurice Lisle, Mayor of Lakeview, has resigned. He alleges gross abuse and interference in his official duty. The resignation will be accepted.

TEETH.

If you have any to be extracted remembe you will not be hurt in the slightest. My local anæsthetic is the best that can be obtained and is not known to the other dentists in this city. Gas strictly fresh administered by an expert if you want that. If you need artificial teeth you may rest assured that the greatest care will be exercised in selecting shape and color to harmonize with the face, also to restore the features to their natural expression and fullness. I must say, said she, I have more confidence than ever in Ripans Tabules. When I woke this morning I had a slight headache but disregarded it, for I had so much to do. I was at the dressmaker's at eleven, then at the milliner's to see what I could find for a bonnet and by that time my head ached so I was almost crazy and I called a cab and came home; and the first thing I did was to swallow a Ripans; then I attended to two or three matters that could not wait and the next time I thought of the headache it had gone. I believe if I had taken the Tabule when I first got out of bed I should have had no headache at all

A new style packet containing TEN RIPANS TABULES in a paper carton (without glass) is now for sale at some drug stores—FOR FIVE CENTS. This low-priced sort is intended for the poor and the economical. One dozen of the five-cent cartons (120 tabules) can be had by mail by sending forty-eight cents to the RIPANS CHEMICAL COMPANY, No. 10 Spruce Street, New York—or a single carton (TEN TABULES) will be sent for five cents.

TOO MUCH TEA.

An Advertisement For Mrs. Leslie Carter, Actress.

Bar Harbor, Me., Sept. 7.—Tea poisoning is responsible for the protracted indisposition of Mrs. Leslie Carter the actress, whose nervous condition has been a matter of grave alarm to her friends since she came here for the summer.

During her New York season, which closed early in the summer, Mrs. Carter became a most inveterate tea drinker. The sultry weather toward the close of the season was the cause of her drinking large quantities of the leed beverage, in addition to the liberal quantity consumed with her meals.

In the Eastern countries, the professional tea-tasters for large American and English importing houses become so impregnated with tea poison that it has the same intoxicating effect upon them as alcoholic drinks after a few years. The strongest constitutions are wrecked in the tea trade.

A physician found that Mrs. Carter drank many cups of strong tea—sometimes as many as six or seven cups at a single meal. He at once ordered her to discontinue the tea drinking altogether. Since doing so Mrs. Carter has improved in health very much, and expects to leave for New York on Saturday for the opening of the season with "Zaza."

Board Makes Serious Charges.

Madison, Wis., Sept. 7.—The State Board of Control has submitted a sensational report to Governor Scofield on its inspection of the Wisconsin Veterans' Home at Waupaca. It charges that Treasurer R. N. Roberts, Resident Trustee of the Home, refused to allow an examination of his books; that with the exception of $66.73 no interest has been paid on a large contingent fund kept in Roberts's bank, the National Bank of Waupaca, and that two Trustees of the Home wrote part of the insurance on the buildings. The Governor will probably take legal action to remedy the matter and force reparation. The Home is under the management of the Wisconsin G. A. R. It is supported by state funds.

Miles May Take Charge.

Washington, Sept. 7.—It is not unlikely that the three Major-Generals of the regular army, Nelson A. Miles, Wesley Merritt and John R. Brooke, will conduct the fall campaign against Aguinaldo in the Philippines. President McKinley is debating the momentous question of whether to send them and supersede Otis. Upon one side of the question he has the personal requests of the officers themselves, of Secretary Root, the regular army and the unanimous desire of the country at large. Upon the other side, however, he has the fear that a military campaign terminating in a blaze of glory might reflect more to the credit of the victorious Generals than upon his Administration.

Maryland Republican Nominations.

Baltimore, Md., Sept. 7.—The Maryland State Republican Convention met in the Academy of Music here and nominated the following state ticket: For Governor—Lloyd Lowndes of Allegheny county.

For Controller—Philips Lee Goldsborough of Dorchester county.

For Attorney General—Former Congressman John V. L. Findlay of Baltimore.

The nominations all were made by acclamation.

More Fever in Key West.

Washington, Sept. 7.—A telegram received from Surgeon Carter of the Marine Hospital Service to the Surgeon General states that to date there have been fifty cases of yellow fever and six deaths in Key West. Surgeon General Sternberg has received a dispatch in which Major Harvard, chief surgeon at Santiago, says that from August 12 to September 5 there have been only four cases of yellow fever there—three Americans and one Spaniard—kith no deaths.

Warship Sent to Venezuela.

Washington, Sept. 7.—The Navy Department has sent orders to the Detroit, which has just arrived at Philadelphia from New York, to proceed at once to La Guayara. She will coal and start on the voyage in the course of two or three days. The Detroit should make the run to La Guayara inside of ten days.

Dewey's Forecast.

Gibraltar, Sept. 7.—Admiral Dewey expressed a favorable opinion as to the outcome of the war in the Philippine Islands, saying that he hoped the next dry season would see the insurrection quelled. The Admiral said that he did not expect to go on sea service again except in the event of war.

Rockefeller's Gift to Brown.

Providence, R. I., Sept. 7.—John D. Rockefeller has contributed $250 000 to the $2,000,000 endowment fund now being raised at Brown University. The announcement was made at the corporation meeting.

The Buffalo Fire.

Buffalo, Sept. 7.—Fire in the premises of the Mills Dry Dock Company did $100,000 damage. The woodworking shops, engine room, and pumphouse were destroyed.

The Plague in Oporto.

Oporto, Sept. 7.—Up to date there have been sixty-four cases of the bubonic plague and twenty-six deaths.

A remarkable man in many ways was the late J. Jee of London, whose harmless mania it was when shooting pigeons to insist that the "C. B., V. C.," which followed his name should be called out by the attendant when it was his turn to compete. He was one of the best natured men living, and consequently, when doctor in the Royal Dragoons the high-spirited subalterns some thirty years ago used to play all sorts of practical jokes on him, painting his dog cart white, putting the regimental goat in his bed with Mr. Jee's shell jacket round its body and a pair of white socks on its horns, and greatly startling him on his return late from London. He was a very fine pigeon shot, and was the first of the eleven English winners of the Grand Prix at Monte Carlo in 1873.

SIGNS OF WAR CONTINUE.

No Particular Improvement in the Transvaal Situation is Noticed.

IS AT A CRITICAL STAGE

Great Britain's Latest Proposals Are Rejected by the Transvaal Government.

Boers Say They Are Ready to Fight on Half a Day's Notice—Consignment of Ammunition and Cannon Now on Its Way to South African Republic From France.

London, Sept. 7.—The signs of war with the Transvaal continue, and the situation is graver.

Mr. Joseph Chamberlain, Secretary of State for the Colonies, remains at the Colonial Office, and the other Cabinet Ministers are either here or on their way to this city.

General opinion tends to the belief that the Cabinet Council will result in an ultimatum, followed by an immediate backdown on the part of the Boers or the commencement of hostilities by Great Britain.

This feeling, however, is founded on the trend of the recent negotiations, and it is often forgotten that in these Mr. Chamberlain had practically a free hand and was not hindered by the cautious conservatism which undoubtedly will characterize the deliberations of the full Cabinet Council.

Advices from various sources indicate that the acute tension in all parts of South Africa continues, but unless the Boers take the initiative, which at present is improbable, it is pretty certain that the issue of peace or war lies solely in the result of Friday's Cabinet Council. Hence public attention is centered more upon the signs of the times as exhibited at the army stations and the dockyards than in South Africa itself, though news from there is eagerly awaited, chiefly owing to the uneasy feeling that the Boers might end the diplomatic tangle by raiding Natal.

It is reported here that Mr. Chamberlain has sent a reply through Sir Alfred Milner, Governor of Cape Colony and British High Commissioner of South Africa, to the Transvaal Government's latest proposition. The latter is generally understood to be a withdrawal of the former concessions and a tentative agreement for a further conference.

Proposals Unacceptable.

London, Sept. 7.—The Times publishes a dispatch from Newcastle, Natal, which says that during the debate in the Raad, regarding the proximity of British troops to Transvaal territory, Mr. Delarey, a member of the Raad, said: "The Boers require only half a day's notice to fight."

The correspondent of the Times, continuing, says:

"Many conclude that the defiant tone of the speeches is not unconnected with the fact that Mauser ammunition, which had been stopped at Delagoa Bay, has now been received. The Pretoria Government admits that a consignment of cannon is now on its way from France.

"It is the evident aim of the Boers to secure time until grass and water are plentiful, the Burghers fully recognizing that a peaceful settlement of the difficulty is out of the question."

Boers Ready to Fight.

Pretoria, Transvaal, Sept. 7.—The latest reply of the Transvaal Republic to the British demands has been published.

In this reply regret is expressed that the proposals of Great Britain are unacceptable. The Transvaal Government admits Great Britain's rights under the convention and international law to protect her subjects, but denies a claim of suzerainty.

The reply agress to a further conference regarding the franchise and representation.

To Build a New Railroad.

Denver, Col., Sept. 7.—The Cripple Creek Railway Company has filed articles of incorporation with the Secretary of State. The company proposes to build a railroad from Canon City to Cripple Creek and thence by the most direct route to Denver. The enterprise is backed by New York and Boston capitalists. The capitalization is for $1,000,000. The same syndicate also filed articles of incorporation of a company to construct a tunnel under Pike's Peak for transportation, mining and drainage purposes.

Paris Exposition Outlook.

Chicago, Sept. 7.—Willard A. Smith, director of transportation and civil engineering to the Paris Exposition of 1900, has returned from France. He says: "The conditions and disturbances in France will have no effect on the exposition. No foreign government is making and changes in its plans nor abating its enthusiasm. The Dreyfus trial may cause a little commotion when the verdict of the court-martial is announced, but no permanent changes are to be effected."

Will Be Sent Back to Indiana.

Springfield, Ill., Sept. 7.—Governor Tanner has honored the requisition of the Governor of Indiana by issuing a warrant for the return of John Bradlette, under arrest in Pontiac, and who is wanted in New Albany, Ind., for murder.

Aurania Passed Queenstown.

Queenstown, Sept. 7.—The Cunard Line steamer Aurania, Capt. McKay, from New York Tuesday, August 29, for Liverpool, arrived here and proceeded without landing passengers, owing to the high sea running.

President is Home Again.

Washington, Sept. 7.—President McKinley and his party arrived home from the Grand Army encampment at Philadelphia. The trip was made without incident, and all seemed in excellent spirits.

The Borough Tax Rate.

When Mayor Smalley set out to accomplish his ante-election promises of a lower tax rate for the borough this year he soon found himself running plumb against propective county and school taxes in increased amounts so as to nullify whatever economical measures might be followed out by the borough municipal government. And such has proved the case.

Though the efforts of the Mayor and the Council have resulted in a reduction of five points in the tax to be raised for strictly borough government, they encounter, on the other hand, an increase of thirteen points in the county, state and borough school taxes, over which they have no control.

Considering the tax rate as whole, as many unthinking people may do, the present administration will probably receive little credit, but studying its component parts and viewing the reduction from .81 to .76 as the amount to be levied for the maintenance of the muncipal government, the Mayor and the Council will be given proper credit for trying to reduce the rate as far as it laid in their power to do it.

His excellency the governor of Massachusetts has put a stop to the enterprise of certain thrifty justices of the peace who advertise to perform the marriage ceremony while you wait. Some of them kept standing cards in the newspapers, saying that they were ready for matrimonial callers at any hour of the day or night. A new law has been passed authorizing the governor to designate certain justices to perform marriages and to exclude others from that privilege. Some of the justices feel very sore and even threaten to resign their offices, because the marriage fees were their principal source of official revenue.

Because the Council failed to remove two policemen against whom he had preferred charges, Mayor Gwynne has resigned as chief executive of Salem. Incidentally, it might be stated that the Mayor is the editor of the Salem Sunbeam. After years of experience in dealing with unruly subscribers, printers' devils and politicians, it seems strange that the Sunbeam man should become piqued over a little municipal quarrel like this and retire from office in a heated frame of mind.

The Newark News significantly says that "the men who are said to be offering Senator Reed, of Somerset, the Congressional nomination in the Third District next year, provided he will retire from the Senatorial contest this fall, can no doubt deliver the goods, but if Mr. Reed is wise he will not disregard the possibility of defeat at the polls. There is a normal Democratic majority of not less than 2,000 in the Third District, even though Representative Howell has carried it at three successive elections."

Taylor's hotel in Jersey City is to be torn down to make way for a sky-scraping office building. Long after the building is obliterated the fame and legends of this hostelry will live, for here for forty years have the big men of Jersey gathered at various periods to concoct schemes of good, bad and indifferent kind.

BISHOP COLEMAN RAISES A CHURCH FLAG.

On last St. Bartholomew's Day, August 24, Bishop Leighton Coleman, of the Episcopal diocese of Delaware, hoisted at Bishopstead, Wilmington, Del., his church flag. The bishop hopes this flag will be generally adopted and floated over every religious edifice on important festal days and anniversaries in ecclesiastical history.

WHAT THE SHEARS FIND

Editorial Comment From Other Papers of Interest in Plainfield.

Now that there is to be a trolley link binding Elizabeth and Plainfield together, one naturally may expect an exchange of trade as well as courtesy. The pretty city in the northern section of Union necessarily is the greater beneficiary of the trolley, as it will draw greater crowds from the capital city than it will send in that direction. —New York Press.

PASSING COMMENT

Things that Are Not Exactly News but Just as Interesting.

Evidences of the advent of the fall are apparent on every hand. The days are getting shorter, the evenings longer, the leaves are beginning to fall, schools are opening, vacations drawing to a close, the evenings getting chilly, top coats will soon be in demand and harvest time is upon us while the county fair holds full sway. Verily, "the frost will soon be on the pumpkin and the corn in the husk." The melancholy days are approaching, the saddest of the year, when it's most too warm for overcoats and far too cool for beer," said a local wag to the writer, a day or two ago, in speaking of the approaching autumn.

The Plainfield police anticipated some trouble in getting the commitment of Ruth Moore to the Girls' Industrial School. It was expected that they would have much difficulty in getting her to appear in court. The trouble was overcome by a clever ruse. Mrs. Moore felt that it was for the best interests of her child that the latter should be sent to the Industrial School and acted with the police in the matter. So Ruth was told by her mother that they would visit relatives in Newark. They went to Elizabeth on the train and Sergeant Kiely and City Judge Runyon managed to happen in the same car. At Elizabeth they were going to take the trolley to Newark when the Sergeant suggested that they just step up the street and see where the lightning struck. Before Ruth had any idea of what had happened, they were in the court room and her case was called to the attention of Judge Vail. She was bewildered for the time being, but afterwards made three attemps to get away. She was taken to Trenton yesterday by Sheriff Kirk and installed in the Industrial School.

That there are five thousand theatres in America, and that one million and a half people attend them each week-day night, spending seventy millions of dollars a year on theatre-going, are the surprising facts with with which Franklin Fyles, the dramatic editor of the New York Sun, will open an important series in the next issue of The Ladies' Home Journal. The series will be called "The Theatre and Its People," and will run through seven numbers of the magazine, lavishly illustrated with pictures made by twelve different artists. The articles will treat of every phase of the theatre, the play and the actor, from the inside, and will tell how a theatre is managed; the actual money which plays have made; how an actor is trained and what the actors are actually paid; how a play is written and what the authors receive; how a play is rehearsed; the first night of a play; how the actresses "make up" and what they use; and in a minute way the two last articles will show what goes on behind the scenes on the stage during a performance. It is a curious fact that this will be the first time that the theatre and the actor have ever been exhaustively treated in a magazine, and that there is no book on the subject in existence.

DRINK GRAIN-O

after you have concluded that you ought not to drink coffee. It is not a medicine but doctors order it, because it is healthful, invigorating and appetizing. It is made from pure grains and has that rich seal brown color and tastes like the finest grades of coffee and costs about ¼ as much. Children like it and thrive on it because it is a genuine food drink containing nothing but nourishment. Ask your grocer for Grain-O, the new food drink. 15 and 25c.

SOMETHING ABOUT CARPETS.

The carpet season is here again, and as usual we are ready for it with what we claim is not only the largest, but the most carefully selected stock ever offered the people of this community. A marked reaction has taken place in the carpet business, viz: An increased demand for better grades. People have made the discovery that we made years ago, that good carpets are always cheapest. Our fall stock has been selected with this in view. We are showing a higher grade of carpets than ever before in the history of our business, and the readiness with which our customers are responding to same is most gratifying. We select the best patterns from the most reliable makers only and satisfaction is guaranteed in every particular.

Moquettes, Axminster, Saronneries in the latest designs, the richest colorings and most pleasing effects. Tapestries and velvets in beautiful patterns. All particularly good for parlor and dining room. An unusually good assortment of all-wool Ingrains, suitable for bedrooms, etc. Reversible, they will give splendid service. Our line of church carpets we consider superior to that of most N. Y. City stores. Cocoa mattings for public buildings. It comes in plain and striped patterns.

Ingrain Art Squares, Jute Smyrna art squares, all-wool Smyrna rugs, Royal Wilton rugs, Mouquette rugs, Cocoa mats, Rubber mats, etc., etc. Cocoa mats with rubber ends for piazzas made to order. Shades made to order and ready made. Contracts made for furnishing whole houses.

Lace curtains, Portierres, tapestries, furniture coverings, rug fringes, sash curtains, curtain poles and fixtures, brass rods, stair pads and everything else in curtain fixtures.

Our assortment of Linoleums and Oil Cloths, we feel safe in saying, is far above the average. We handle only goods we can recommend. We employ only the most experienced workmen, and all carpet laying, oil cloth fitting and shade hanging is done in the best possible manner.

About Furniture.

If all the young people who have been getting married lately or who expect to be married in the near future will call on us we will agree to save them a snug sum on Furniture. We are in a position to sell Furniture cheap. Same is true of Bedding, Crockery and housefurnishings in general.

PLAINFIELD AND VICINITY.

(Special Correspondence of The Press.)

Scotch Plains, Sept. 7—The Township Committee at their meeting discussed the advisability of having a special officer appointed to preserve order upon the streets of the village, especially nights and Sundays. The advice of the township counsel, W. R. Codington, was asked, and he informed the Committee that the voters would have to vote for an appropriation for this purpose before one could be appointed. So the matter rested. It will probably come up again at the spring election, when the law-abiding citizens will make an effort to have the appropriation raised.

The gray horse which has been lying for several days in the gutter along Forest avenue, was knocked in the head Wednesday afternoon and its misery ended. The animal, which belonged to an Italian living in Westfield, was taken sick Monday and dropped while standing along the street.

WESTFIELD

(Special Correspondence to The Daily Press.)

Westfield, Sept. 7—Chas. Embleton, the local fast wheelman, who won the first time prize and first place prize in the fifteen mile road race held here July 4th, has consulted a lawyer and finds that he can compel the celebration committee to live up to their agreement and give to him the two bicycles, valued at $75 each, which were advertised as prizes. As told in The Press at the time, Mr. Embleton was offered two wheels, which, he says, were cheap parts put together by a Cranford blacksmith. Mr. Embleton has instructed his lawyer to start suit against the committee if the wheels are not turned over to him by Saturday. C. H. Denman is the chairman of the committee, Edwin Hodges, secretary, and J. B. Wilson, treasurer.

PARTICULAR MENTION.

Fixing for Fall,

changing the complexion of the store, bringing the fresh new lots of merchandise to the front as they arrive, shaping the selling policy of the new season. Daily arrivals of new goods gives you the assurance that we are alive to your autumn needs. There's a new string to the fiddle and it is going to emit some very catchy music from now on.

Nobby Dress Goods.

The beginning of the dress goods season brings many of our people to investigate the new styles. There is much early buying, too, hence we make it a point to be among the first in the field. The line of Golf suitings and plaids are very handsome and stylish. You are invited to examine them.

For School Dress.

An assortment of about forty different styles of wool dress goods in dark colored mixtures and small plaid effects. They are grouped together at a uniform price of 29c. Many of them are worth 50c and some are 75c qualities left over from the spring season.

Separate Skirts.

Here is an item in separate skirts that invites your particular attention. The value is unusual.

$5.00 Skirts cut in the new shape and perfection in tailoring and fit, made of camel's hair cheviot in the new shades of gray and brown mixtures. The value is $6.50.

Lokal-Nachrichten aus der alten Heimath.

Aus der Rheinpfalz.

Speyer. Der Kunstmaler De Günsti Marcello, ein Italiener, wurde beim Besuch des Heidenthürmchens von einem Unbekannten, der ihn gefragt hatte, was er für ein Landsmann sei, die Mauer herabgestoßen und erlitt einen Beinbruch. De Günsti Marcello wurde in's städtische Krankenhaus verbracht.

Ludwigshafen. Nach kurzer Neckerei von Seite einiger Kollegen griff der stellenlose Bäcker Michael Bitsch aus Heiligkreuzsteinach nach seinem Revolver und schoß sich eine Kugel in die Brust. Er verletzte sich schwer.

Waldsee. Hier brach bei Wagnermeister Joseph Zickgraf Feuer aus, das so rasch um sich griff, daß in kurzer Zeit drei Wohnhäuser und sechs Scheunen ein Raub der Flammen wurden. Darunter befand sich die Gemeindescheuer, in der zehn geringere Bauern ihre heurige Ernte untergebracht hatten.

Württemberg.

Stuttgart. Das in letzter Zeit wiederholt in Verbindung mit Majestätsbeleidigung genannte Witzblatt „Simplicissimus" wird jetzt hier gedruckt werden.—In diesem Jahre sind in Württemberg 721 Brandfälle vorgekommen, merkwürdiger Weise meistens durch Blitzschlag, weniger durch Selbstentzündung und durch Bosheit.

Amrichshausen. Sein 50jähriges Priesterjubiläum hat der Pfarrer Joos begangen.

Amstetten. Der Schneidergehilfe Richard Scheiblauer, aus Schönbichl gebürtig, ist beim Baden im Schwarzsee, Tirol, auf der sogenannten Seespitze verunglückt. Er war des Schwimmens unkundig und dürfte sich zu weit in den See hinein gewagt haben.

Dornstetten. Im Bodensee zwischen Sipplingen und Ueberlingen ist der Schneider Wilhelm Stoll von hier beim Baden ertrunken.

Eßlingen. Dieser Tage trank das 1½ Jahre alte Söhnchen des Weingärtners Schnurr hier in einem unbewachten Augenblick aus einem Gefäß mit Cyankali, das zum Poliren von Silbergeräthen gebraucht wurde. Den sofort herbeigerufenen Aerzten gelang es nicht, das Kind am Leben zu erhalten.

Friedrichshafen. Dieser Tage fing einer der Fischer der Fischhandlung Adolf Langenstein einen außergewöhnlich großen Weller im Bodensee. Der Fisch ist 107 Pfund schwer und 2.15 Meter lang; er bleibt einige Zeit lebend zur Besichtigung ausgestellt und kommt später in einen zoologischen Garten.

Herrenberg. Unter den Mannschaften des hier kampirenden 6. württembergischen Infanterie-Regiments ist der Typhus ausgebrochen.

Tuttlingen. Der 36 Jahre alte, verheirathete Schuhmacher Jakob Teufel trank auf dem Felde in erhitztem Zustande frisches Quellwasser, welche Unvorsichtigkeit ihm das Leben kostete.

Baden.

Karlsruhe. In einem Hotel der Kaiserstraße machte ein 20 Jahre alter Juwelier aus Amsterdam einen Selbstmordversuch, indem er sich mit einem Rasirmesser die Pulsader des linken Armes durchschnitt. Er wurde in das Diakonissenhaus verbracht. Gefahr für sein Leben ist nicht vorhanden.

Achern. Der in der hiesigen Güterhalle angestellte 35 Jahre alte Karl Bantiser gerieth trotz vorheriger Warnung zwischen die Puffer zweier Wagen und wurde so schwer verletzt, daß er starb.

Heidelberg. Einen seltsamen Selbstmord beging der Landwirth Adam Treiber VI., auf dem Plickartsförsterhof. Er stürzte sich in eine Pfuhlgrube und ertrank. Treiber litt an nervösen Störungen.

Konstanz. Neulich Nachmittags gerieth das Haus des Schuhmachermeisters Müller in Brand, der sich auch auf die Nachbarfirste übertrug. Die Feuerwehr hatte schweren Stand, doch gelang es, das Feuer auf die ergriffenen drei Häuser zu beschränken.

Mannheim. Eine exemplarische Strafe verhängte das Schöffengericht über den Maurer Lammert aus Wallstadt, der an einem vor einer Wirthschaft stehenden Fahrrad eines Arbeiters die Gummireifen zerschnitten hatte. Es erkannte auf sechs Wochen Gefängniß.

Elsaß-Lothringen.

Barr. Hier starb der in weiteren Kreisen als Volksschriftsteller bekannte Pfarrer Nehlig.

Gebweiler. Eine Feuersbrunst wüthete in dem zum hiesigen Kreise gehörigen Dorfe Rumersheim. Neun Wohnhäuser, elf Scheunen und Stallungen, im Ganzen 30 Gebäude, wurden ein Raub der Flammen. Fünf Rinder und elf Schweine sind unter den Trümmern begraben. Von den obdachlosen Personen haben einige nur das nackte Leben retten können.

Hagenau. Kürzlich erschoß sich der jüngste Lieutenant des hier garnisonirenden Feldartillerie-Regiments Nr. 31, Selhausen, ein kaum 20 Jahre alter junger Mann. Er soll durch schweres körperliches Leiden zu der unseligen That getrieben worden sein.

WORK FOR WOMEN.

OCCUPATIONS THAT YIELD HANDSOME SALARIES.

A Successful Lace Buyer Who Commands a Princely Salary—Making Military Embroidery—Women Dentists—Designs of Wall Paper.

The big department store which sells everything, from a cradle to a coffin, has split up the dry-goods trade into a thousand specialties, and has made a dozen vocations in this line of business where there was one formerly.

In these new occupations a great many women have found employment. One does not hear so much about them as about the women lawyer or the woman physician. Their personalities are hidden in those of the huge concerns for which they work.

In most of these cases the women have won their places on the same terms and by the same qualities that would have brought success to man in the same situation. There are some lines, of course, like the handling of women's attire, in which they enjoy a certain advantage, but this applies to a very small portion of the whole number of cases. In many instances women have been notably successful in the very fields supposed to be especially the province of masculine workers.

There is a certain retail store in New York which has the reputation of carrying a particularly fine line of laces at prices which cannot be matched in ny other store. It is rather remarkable that while, in all other lines, it has what is known as "cheap" trade, it attracts some of the most fastidious shoppers in their search for laces.

The peculiar success of this firm in this one particular line is due to the fact that the store has a lace buyer who is recognized as being the most discriminating in the city. This buyer is a woman, now just middle age, who has followed her specialty for years with unvarying success.

This woman's success, while unusual, is not difficult to understand. Possessing excellent judgment in such matters, she knows better than a man what to buy. In adition to this she has a first-rate business head. She can buy as closely as any man, and she has a keen scent for bargains. As in any other line of work, her success has not been due to one quality, but to a combination of business sagacity and enterprise, and a constant effort to outstrip her competitors. This woman receives a salary of $4,000 per year, and is absolutely master of her own department, conducting it exactly as pleases her. Therefore, she is in a better position than she would occupy if she had a profitable store of her own, having all the authority and none of the risk which that would involve.

Women are employed as buyers in many departments in the big stores, not only in the millinery and underwear departments, but in charge of dress goods and shoes as well.

Inone of the largest New York stores all the employes in the business office, from head cashier down to copy clerk, are women. The entire receipts of the store amounting, sometimes, to $50,000 in a single day, pass through the hands of women.

Taking in the whole country there is no position connected with the running of a great mercantile establishment that is not filled with women. There are women advertising managers who receive salaries of $5,000 a year, women buyers and women dressers, and superintendent and managers who earn very nearly as much, and traveling saleswomen whose commissions amount to more than is received by two-thirds of the men drummers.

Another field which has proven lucrative to the pioneers in the art is military embroidery. The reason so comparatively few women have taken it up as a means of livelihood is because it demands a long apprenticeship without quick remuneration. It is, however, a promising profession for a young girl with a keen eye, a firm hand and quick intelligence, a good memory as well as patience and perseverance. She will belong to a class of needle-women whose work is of practical importance in national and departmental affairs. The embroiderers work the ranking devices on the shoulder knots, collars' belts and cap pieces of officers' uniforms. This kind of embroidery is different from all other branches of ornamental needle-work.

All the best grade military embroidery is done in private houses. At the regular factories only the very ordinary, inexpensive insignia are manufactured, that for the wardens' uniforms used in prisons and public institutions, for instance, or for steamboat lines and railway service. The skilled embroiderer who works privately seldom takes orders of that sort, and generally has her hands full of well-paying, carefully graded work. Whenever an army or navy officer is promoted, an expert embroiderer must be employed to do his shoulder knots and straps, collar device, etc.

From $12 to $18 a week is paid to the women embroiderers who work in this department at the best military tailors' shops, and the forewomen, who design and place the work get from $22 to $25, while the experts who take work in large quantities and employ other women earn a very comfortable income.

Several young women who have been graduated at the various dental colleges will begin to practice this fall.

Women have been more than fairly successful in the practice of dentistry in the United States. There are only a few women in the profession in England, and number of these took their degrees here. It is said that a clear majority of the women dentists of Germany went to that country from America.

Women have always been successful in designing wall paper, rugs, book covers and the like, but Miss Glenrose Bell, of Chicago, is winning fame as a designer for damask. Her aptitude for this especial line of work has been the means of certain European houses soliciting her work. She is, however, unBell won the B. A. at the Chicago University. It takes her about ten days to make one design.

Every year wider avenues are opened to the ambitious and persevering young woman, and it only is for herself to decide for which occupation she is best fitted, and to bend every energy to a successful accomplishment of her desires.

PASSED AWAY.

Why the Wrapper Is No Longe Worn by Women of Fashion.

The passing of the wrapper is a change in the dress of woman that has more than a modish significance. It has a bearing as well on many other aspects of American feminity. The wrapper was the sweeping symbol of home relaxation and comfort not many years ago. Its pleasures were not always to be enjoyed only in the midst of the family circle. Sufficiently orpate, it could appear before strangers, and that period was long in advance of the teagown. The wrapper passed beyond its domestic limits, and carried its suggestion of freedom from stays and conventional garb into wider spheres. It appeared on the piazzas of summer hotels in the eighties, and was the accepted breakfast toilet for the head of the most formal family and the other women of the house. The vogue of the wrapper in those days was not connected with any lack of worldly knowledge or unwillingness to learn the best mode and abide by it. The garment needed no apology. In towns outside of New York its usefulness was more extended. Shopping in a wrapper was no violation of Western and Southern proprieties then if the weather happened to be warm enough for the convenience of the wearers. Materials in those past ages were not as important as they came to be. Richness was not necessary to excuse the wrapper. Its folds no more violated the correct ideas of things because they hung in calico and lawn than if their substance were damask. Cherished for its comfort and accepted as a fashion, it seems incomprehensible that the wrapper should have disappeared so completely. But it has gone. When it comes into vogue again, its revival will be discussed, as the chignon and crinoline were talked about when it was thought they might be worn.

The Mother Hubbard is a small disaster in woman's dress still remembered. It spread over the country and could not be dislodged. It became an object of public scorn and ridicule, yet it remained on view longer than anybody wanted it to. It was the butt of every humorist. When it finally disappeared, the wrapper had received its first serious blow as a popular garment. Anything with looseness that resembled the departed Mother Hubbard was not to be thought of. The illrepute which attended the final departure of the Mother Hubbard put a temporary end to any dress that reproduced its flowing looseness. Thus was the vogue of the wrapper first damaged. It never recovered. Other influences came in to complete the work of its final extinction. The younger generation became athletic. There was no sympathy between lawn-tennis and a wrapper. The older generation grew as tailor-made as it could, and every influence was against the revival of the wrapper. Corsets lost their appearance to the younger women, and on the relief from tight stays rested much of the wrapper's popularity. Physicians say that women lace less now than they did some years ago, and prove that by showing how much larger their waists have grown. But neither its graceful draperies nor its becoming folds held for the wrapper its place in woman's regard. It was the opportunities it gave for relief from tight stays. When these were not needed, the wrapper lost its last hold on favor. Golf and the bicycle have kept up the work begun by tennis. The wrapper lost its last hold of fashion when women were comfortable enough in their corsets to keep them on.

Tasty Frock.

Frock of myrtle-green woollen gods, which can also be made of pique or duck. Circular skirt trimmed with two folds o fthe goods around the hem.

(A Pretty Frock.)

Blouse opens over vest trimmed with straps of the material, and four straps edge sailor collar. Each side is adorned with a row of buttons and a pocket flap.

The Only Perfect Lemonade.

For a quart, use the juice of three lemons and the rind of one, being careful to pare it very thin, using just the yellow outside; cut this in pieces and put with the juice and two ounces of sugar in a jar with a cover. Have fresh water in the teakettle and as soon as it reaches the boiling point pour enough to make the quart over the lemon and sugar; cover at once and let it get cold.

A BRACER FOR WOMEN.

It Can Be Found In a Homemade Turkish Bath.

After a round of strength consuming business and social duties, when the nerves are screwed up to snapping point, when all the world seems upside down—in short, when you have arrived at a past rest period, try a Turkish bath.

It is a bracer above reproach, a restorer par excellence for an exhausted frame and low spirited mind. When a Turkish bath is out of the question, try this one, for it is a most excellent substitute and quite luxurious.

Perhaps you have come in from a shopping expedition, where in a jostling crowd you sought in vain the bargains that meant a world of economy to you. Company in the evening stares you in the face, and here you are completely exhausted and at swords' points with yourself and the world with its manifold deceits, the bargain counter in particular. Forget the busy old world and its many foibles. Strip body and mind and go to your bath, like that first woman created in the garden of Eden, innocent of all things worldly. But after you arrive there send up a little prayer that modern appliances make your bath not a little different from that of Mother Eve.

Turn the tub full of water as hot as can be borne. Then scrub the body all over with white castile or any other nonirritating soap, get into the bath and lie down to soak and steam, and dream of that blessed place far away in the blue skies where we shall all go in the happy future when these pain racked bodies of clay shall be left behind.

In 10 or 15 minutes the hot water will have extracted all soreness from aching joints and overtaxed muscles. Get up and while standing in the tub give your face a dash of cold water.

Then shower your whole body completely with it from shoulders to feet. If the bathroom offers no shower bath, this cold douche is easily managed by having ready beforehand a supply of cold water in a large vessel.

Do this showering quickly and rub dry at once with Turkish towels; follow with a fine dry towel or soft flesh brush, rubbing briskly until the skin is a rosy red and you feel the blood tingling through your entire body. Don a soft flannel bath robe, take down your hair, that it may fall about your shoulders for a little airing, and lie down for a half hour's nap.

The blood will be thrown into perfect circulation, and when you arise you will feel yourself a new creature ready to cope with life in all its complexities. The inward sun will come out in your eyes and shine gayly on your bit of this busy old world. Happiness will be all about you, and the rest of your day will be a pleasure to you and yours.

The Problem of Gray Hairs.

It is always difficult to prevent the hair turning gray when it has once begun. It generally loses its color from ill health, lack of proper nourishment at the roots of the hair, or from age. If the first case you may do something for it if you grow strong and well again, and the same remarks hold good in the second instance. But where the gray hairs appear from age, nothing will prevent it becoming white as time goes on. Where there are infrequent gray hairs found it is said that to wash the head with claret and take iron and burgundy as a tonic may accomplish some good.

Doing Up Muslins.

Wash colored muslins in cold soapsuds. If black, add a little salt; if pink or green, add vinegar; for lilac, a few drops of ammonia, and saltpeter for blue. Rinse in cold water and do not use the starch when it is in the least warm. Fine muslins are best ironed twice, in opposite directions; laces and embroideries by the thread of the material. Hamburg edging looks nicer if ironed over flannel. Remove the irons from the stove as soon as the ironing is done; rub them well with a soft cloth and keep them as dry as possible.

THE WOMAN'S WORLD

NEWS AND NOTES OF INTEREST TO THE FAIR SEX.

How to Make the Children Strong and Happy—Clara Barton's Work—Women's Board of Trade—How to Increase Marriages.

The mother who would have her children healthy must not be afraid to have the moccasionally dirty. While cleanliness is akin to godliness, there is a clan dirt that comes from contact with the sweet earth that is wholesome.

An over-careful mother of an only child complained to a physician that her baby was pale and delicate. He asked to see the child, and the nurse brought in the two-year-old from the old veranda, where he had been seated on a rug looking at a picture book. His dainty nainsook frock was spotless, as were also the pink kid boots and silk socks.

"What that child needs is wholesome dirt," was the physician's verdict. "Put a gingham frock and plain shoes on him and turn him loose on the lawn or in the fresh earth. If he is not rosy and happy in a month let me know.

At the expiration of the prescribed time the baby was transformed. The eyes that had been heavy were bright, the skin had acquired a healthful glow, the arms and legs were plump and the languid, tired little patient had become a rollicking boy. The freedom, fresh air and clean dirt had, in a month's time wrought a greater change in the child's system than all the skill of the medical fraternity could have effected.

A child is much happier if untrammeled by too many "don'ts." And the mother is happier too if she need not say "don't" every hour in the day.—Harper's Bazar.

DISCIPLING OF CHILDREN

Don't expect the child to instinctively understand morals without instruction any more than you would expect him to read without teaching, and don't be afraid by becoming his intimate and confidential friend you will lose any influence over him. Just as soon as he knows that you understand his world, that you appreciate his feelings, that you sympathize with his desire, that you are anxious to afford him all the hapiness possible, he will become all the more amenable to your influence and control. It is not necessary nor advisable always to explain to a child the reason for every order given. But it is certainly not amiss that the child should understand that every order has a reason back of it, even though you do not tell him what it is.

CLARA BARTON'S WORK.

Miss Clara Barton of the Red Cross society has established in Cuba twelve asylums. All are thronged with children mostly orphan reconcentrados. About 300 are now under care. Cuban women brought their sewing machines and made the necessary clothing for the orphans, the Red Cross furnishing the cloth. The larger children are given tools and seeds, together with a small plot of land to be tilled and many are already eating their own lettuce, radishes and potatoes. Miss Barton expects to take up 100 children weekly until she has them under tutelage.

MARY HARLEY'S LONG WALKS.

Mary Harley is a woman ninety years old who every year since she was sixteen years old has walked from Bangor, Maine, to New York, earning what money she needed as she went along by selling lead pencils. Never until this year has she failed to sell enough pencils to pay expenses. She said that when she was sixteen years old she made the trip first in order to see Lafayette when he was in New York. She enjoyed the walk so much that she has taken it every year since.

FOR THE LITTLE ONE.

When a child has convulsions put it as quickly as possible into a warm bath. Moisten a tablespoonful of dry mustard, rub it smooth and add it to the water in the bath after the child is in it; do not wait to do it before. The doctor will order one or two teaspoonfuls of syrup of ipecac, until vomiting is produced, if the convulsion has been caused by undigested food. If from nervous irritation, as in teething, five or ten grains of bromide of soda dissolved in water may be given.

A WOMAN'S BOARD OF TRADE.

Santa Fe has a woman's board of trade now seven years old. The members keep the ancient palace of the Spanish governors spruced up, look after the trees and shrubs in the public square, run a public library, reading room, lecture course and several charities, and in the language of their constitution strive in all ways to advance the welfare and prosperity of the oldest city in the United States.

A RASH CONCLUSION.

The girls' clubs of several southern Kansas towns have resolved never to marry a man unless he served with the Twentieth Kansas. They say that sooner than marry a man who staid at home they will remain single all their lives.

How to Test Well Water.

Well water should be tested frequently in the following manner: Fill a wine glass with freshly drawn water and put into it two or three small crystals of permanganate of potash. Do not stir the water, but if it is of a dull claret color it is impregnated with injurious matter in fact, the deeper the color the greater the evil. Where water is at all doubtful, always have it boiled for ten minutes before using for tea or any cooking purpose.

Cured.

"I saw an item in one of the papers the other day to the effect that a Boston man had been cured of rheumatism by being struck by lightning."

"That's nothing! Many a man has had rheumatism after a house has fallen on him."—Chicago Times-Herald.

Dr. Hartland Law, of San Francisco, has declared in a public lecture delivered there that women ought to propose marriage as well as men. He said this would result in fifty per cent. more marriages.

THE REAL PRESENCE.

WHAT THE FEAST OF "CORPUS CHRISTI" SIGNIFIES.

A Short Exposition of the Doctrine of Transubstantiation — The Holy Eucharist, Sacrifice and Sacrament and Its Meaning.

In the Roman Catholic church the doctrine of transubstantiation is especially emphasized on the feast of Corpus Christi. "Corpus Christi" means "body of Christ" and is a short title by which is denoted the mystery of the body and blood of Christ with his soul and his divinity under the appearances of bread and wine in the Holy Eucharist.

Concerning this belief is the teaching of the Catholic church, first, that it was not a personal gift that was conferred upon the apostles at the institution of the blessed eucharist, but that the power of changing the bread and wine into his body and blood was to pass from them to their successors, the bishops and priests of the future. As the powers and prerogatives of a state political office devolve on those who succeed in order to the post, so the powers attached to the various institutions of the church are transmitted from successor to successor, and her bishops and priests are and ever will be "ministers of Christ and dispensers of the mysteries of God."

Next it is taught that this power of changing bread and wine into the body and blood of Christ is exercised at that part of the mass known as the consecration, and that if 5,000 masses be celebrated the body and blood of Christ is then present on each of the 5,000 altars, not only in the host which the priest receives, but in each of the smaller hosts consecrated for the communion of the faithful.

Thirdly, the doctrine of "concomitance" teaches that not only the sacred body, but also the precious blood, together with the soul and divinity, is present under the appearance of bread, and so with regard to the chalice, for the body is inseparably united to the blood of our divine Lord, and both are inseparably united to his soul and divinity.

A fourth point of relief is that if the sacred host or the sacred blood be divided our Lord is as much present in each portion as he was in the whole, for Christ cannot be divided. The fragments of a broken mirror will reflect your image as accurately as a whole one.

Fifthly, the appearances of bread and wine, after consecration, are only appearances, the substances having been really and truly changed.

Further, with our Lord in the Holy Eucharist are present the two other persons of the most Holy Trinity, by a special presence known as "coincession," for the nature or essence of the divinity is indivisible.

Finally, the Holy Eucharist is (1) a sacrifice, (2) a sacrament, and (3) it was instituted that our Saviour's words might be literally fulfilled, "Behold, I am with you all days, even to the consummation of the world."

The feast was fixed for the Thursday following the first Sunday after Pentecost by Urban IV in 1264 and confirmed by Clement V. The institution of the Holy Eucharist has, from apostolic times, been commemorated on the Thursday in Holy Week. But as the passion of Christ is then the prominent object of consideration another day was deemed advisable. For this reason and to counteract the heresy of Berengarius, who denied transubstantiation, the present festival was established.—Exchange.

The Rev. Eugene O'Growney.

In 1890 a regular professor of Irish was appointed in Maynooth, Rev. Eugene O'Growney. He was born in 1863 and in his youth spoke only English. He learned Irish in Maynooth college without a teacher; but the college offered excellent opportunities, as Irish speaking students from all parts of the country are to be found there. After becoming a priest Father O'Grawney became editor of The Gaelic Journal, and with other devoted young men in Dublin and various parts of Ireland urged on a national revival of the language. After his appointment as professor at Maynooth Father O'Growney published several books on the grammar and composition of the language, the most important being the series of Simple Lessons In Irish. The little books have attained a very large circulation, and, as they teach the pronunciation of each word, they have been very successful in producing readers and writers of Irish. In 1894, owing to ill health, Father O'Growney was obliged to resign his chair and since then has lived in Arizona. He has translated into Gaelic several popular songs: "Auld Lang Syne," "The Wearing of the Green," "God Save Ireland" and "The Star Spangled Banner." — "Some Gaelic Scholars," in Donahoe's.

The Spiritualism of Catholicism.

It seems that M. Flammarion, the eminent French astronomer, is one of the many scientific men who have been dupes of the childish impostures of spiritualism. His innate good sense has, however, triumphed over his credulity, and he has abandoned his investigation of it with the acknowledgment that it has been utter waste of time and that he has been as much a dupe as a rustic deluded by a conjurer at a fair. The speculative spiritualism which attracts souls with mystical cravings, who prefer a floating and fanciful creed to the clear dogmatic teaching of the Catholic church, he describes as likely to lead to religious mania, while the spiritualism of Catholicism which is intermingled with a recognition of the material senses he admits to be a wholesome and natural compound.—London Tablet.

THE ROSARY OF MY YEARS.

Some reckon their age by years,
Some reckon their life by art,
But some tell their days by the flow of their tears
And their life by the moans of their heart.

The dials of earth may show
The length, not the depth of years;
Few or many they come, few or many they go,
But our time is best measured by tears.

Ah, not by the silver gray
That creeps through the sunny hair,
And not by the scenes that we pass on our way,
And not by the furrows the finger of care

On the forehead and face have made,
Not so do we count our years!
Not by the sun of the earth, but the shade
Of our souls and the fall of our tears.

For the young are ofttimes old,
Though their brow be bright and fair;
While their blood beats warm their heart lies cold—
O'er them the springtime, but winter is there.

And the old are ofttimes young
When their hair is thin and white,
And they sing in age as in youth they sung,
And they laugh, for their cross was light.

A thousand joys may foam
On the billows of all the years,
But never the foam brings the brave bark home;
It reaches the haven through tears.

—Father Ryan.

TRUE DEVOTION.

How It Was Defined In a Letter by Pope Clement XIV.

The following letter was written to a lady on June 2, 1740, by Pope Clement XIV, says The Catholic World:

"True devotion, madam, neither consists in a careless air nor in a brown habit. Most pious people imagine, though why I don't know, that clothes of a dark color please heaven more than those of a lighter and livelier hue; yet we find angels are always painted either in white or blue. I do not love piety which proclaims itself. * * * Observe, moreover, that the lady who talks scandal in company, or appears peevish or in an ill humor against mankind, is generally dressed in brown.

"Singularity is so little allied to true devotion that we are ordered in the gospel to wash our faces when we fast, that we may not appear remarkable. * * * The world would not have ridiculed religion so much had not its devotees given room for it. Almost always inflamed with bitter zeal, they are never satisfied except with themselves, and would have every one submit to their whims because their piety is often the effect only of caprice. * * * False devotees do little less injury to the cause of religion than the openly profane. * * * They have a restless, impetuous, persecuting zeal and are commonly either fanatical or superstitious, hypocrites or ignorant.

"When you find no rancor in your heart, nor pride in your mind, nor singularity in your actions, and that you observe without affectation or trifling the laws of God and the church, then you may believe you are in the way of salvation."

The Conversion of England.

According to the new edition of "Converts to Rome," no fewer than 446 Anglican clergymen have "gone over" during the progress of the "Oxford movement." Next in number come "members of the nobility," 417. The army officers who have renounced the Protestant faith are set down at 205, authors, poets and journalists at 162, legal profession at 129, public officials at 90, medical profession at 60, naval officers at 39, baronets at 32 and peers at 27. Of the "converts" 158 have become priests and 290 "secular clergy." From Oxford there have been 445 "converts," Christchurch providing 55 of these; Exeter college, 45; Oriel, 33; Balliol, 30; Brasenose and Magdalen, each 22, and University, 20. The total from Cambridge university is given as 213, which is less than half that from Oxford. Of this 213 no fewer than 79 were from Trinity college, St. John's coming next, with only 28. Trinity college, Dublin, provided 23; London university, 11; Durham university and King's college, London, each 10, while only 9 came from the four Scottish universities.

A Statue to St. Bernard.

A committee has been formed for the purpose of erecting a statue of St. Bernard de Menthon on the summit of the Great St. Bernard. The saint converted the bandits who infested the pass to Christianism and founded, in 1027, the celebrated monastery which bears his name and wherein so many travelers have found rest and so many have been rescued from the snow by the well trained dogs of the good monks. Very few lives are now lost on this pass, for the monastery is connected by telephone with the villages at the foot, so that notice is given when any one starts to climb the pass, and if the monks see no one arrive within a reasonable limit of time they set out with their dogs in search of the missing traveler or travelers.—Baltimore Sun.

The Pope's Vigor.

Describing the habits of Leo XIII, the Domenica del Corriere of Milan says that he is so desirous of being considered still robust that, though he always makes use of a thick stick while walking, he no sooner observes some stranger approaching than he swings his stick from hand to hand, scarcely using it. He has excellent sight and can read without glasses. He is quite delighted when he has shown that he can support all the fatigue of religious functions, official visits and the not light weight of pontifical robes during some ceremony.

"The Baptism of Clovis."

The pope's Latin poem, "The Baptism of Clovis," written in the holy father's younger days, has been set to music by Theodore Dubois, director of the Paris Conservatoire. It will be produced simultaneously at Rome and Reims on the fourteenth centenary of the event.

A WRESTLING BEAR.

Prince Molfetta of Italy Institutes a New and Exciting Sport.

Italy has a new national sport—something to rival or even excel the bull-baiting sport of the Spaniards. It is bear-fighting.

The Prince of Molfetta is the originator of this new national divertisement. And, what's more, the Prince himself is his bearship's opponent at all the exhibtions.

And, best of all, King Humbert and his court lend their presence to dignify these occasions and are unanimous in pronouncing the sport the most royal thing that has happened since the days of imperial Rome.

PRINCE MOLFETTA WRESTLING WITH BEAR.

The King has gone so far in his delight as to draw $10,000 from the royal exchequer to help along the fun on a grander scale.

The Prince of Molfetta is a wealthy man, and does not go into bear fighting for the money there is in it. He is a Hercules in stature and strength, and it is to display his prowess and the might of his muscles that he faces his grim antagonist in the arena.

The bear was a cub when the Prince bought him and trained him now to wrestle and fight.

He trained him according to the Queensbury rules of boxing and taught him to fight fair, without using his claws.

Bruin is a tractable beast, and rarely has a fairer pugilist than he stepped into the ring. But now and then, when a punch in the eye or a biff on the nose upsets his even temper, he darts out his claws.

One blow with these stiletto-like weapons and Prince Molfetta would be no more.

But at this point a lasso is thrown by one of the Prince's assistants and bruin is dragged away to cool off.

The fact that man and bear are on equal terms renders the sport more sportsmanlike than bull-fighting, and the constant danger of death in which the Prince hovers makes it savagely exciting.

Mop Fairs.

Statute fairs, otherwise termed hiring and mop fairs, are so called because they were especially founded by statute to act as informal registry offices for servants desirious of finding places, and masters and mistresses anxious to engage the same. Established under an act of Queen Elizabeth, these fairs were, until comparatively recently, very popular, and the name still survives in many towns, particularly in those of the midland counties, although the hiring of servants by these means has now almost entirely died out. Mop fairs were usually held immediately after the harvest had been gathered in, and lasted three days, caled, respectively, "First," "Main," and "Runaway" hirings. The latter, it is said, owed its suggestive title to the fact of its being frequented by servants who had been hired on the previous days, and from discontent or otherwise had run away from their places and wanted fresh ones.

The servants stood in rows, says Good Words, males together, females together: hence the period over which the fair lasted was also known as the "John and Mary days." Unfortunately these fairs grew to be attended by much discreditable dissipation, and acting under the advice of Lord Lyttleton, a scheme of servant registration was formulated throughout the Counties of Worcestershire and Warwickshire to take their place. Of course, the hiring that ensued on these occasions was practically confined to the farmer and small landowner classes, and it was thought that the latter would have their requirements far better suited by a proper method fo registration instead of this haphazard system for filling up domestic vacancies. The last genuine mop fairs, held in the neighborhood of Birmingham a few years back, culminated in such drunken disorder that the Chief commissioner of the county police in giving evidence on the subject, suggested that, according to his experience, the word "mop" could only be interpreted in the sense of lowering an inordinate amount of liquor!

And Then He Woke Up.

In front of one of those little establishments on Sixth avenue, wherein milk and butter and eggs are sold, the proprietor was sitting a morning or two ago. He had been to Coney Island the night before, and was a trifle sleepy. Tilted back in his chair, the morning breeze dallying about him, he dropped into a sleep. A few feet away was the last of four cans of milk which had been left for the day's trade, and around the corner were three mischievous lads. A careful survey of the situation showed them that the time was ripe for their proposed deed of daring. One of them sallied forth and put a stout string through one of the handles of the milk can. In a moment the second one walked nonchalantly up and tied it fast. Both then retreated to their hiding place, and in a moment the third gave a long, strong pull to the cord, and with a bang over went the milk can, the contents streaming across the sidewalk. The sleeping man awoke; he saw the flowing milk, the overturned can, the string, and in the morning stillness he heard the footsteps and delighted howls of the boys dying away in the distance. Words failed him. The thirty quarts of milk were a total loss. He looked at the scene of ruin and uttered one wrod: "Divils!" He slept no more that day.

GOLF.

Since Meredith Dryden's handicap, in the competion for the McCutchen Cup on the links of the Park Golf Club was reduced, he has not been playing as well as heretofore, Dryden is now in second place for the cup and won his points by careful and steady play. Sundry visitations of hazards and ditches ran up his scores on several occasions. In the last week of play he has been rather erratic in his game. If he would settle down to steady play he may still have an excellent chance of being one of the leaders for the cup before the competition ends with the last of October.

The showing of the crack players in the Labor Day Handicap at the Park Golf Club links, Monday, was a general surprise. While poor form in a few cases would not have occasioned any surprise, such general poor playing was surprising, to say the least. W. de la R. Anderson was out for practice several days last week and kept very near perfect golf. Saturday he made eighteen holes in 102 for the McCutchen Cup. The day was not conducive to good golf, while the course was wet and slow. When he made 119, Monday, however, it was not expected. Fred P. Taylor, who has tied Anderson's low tournament score of 92, seemed way out of form. It is to be hoped that these two expert golfers will meet again soon when their playing is of its usual excellence. A match between them under those circumstances would be watched with interest and would undoubtedly be very close and exciting.

ROD AND GUN.

The regular semi-monthly shoot of the Central NewJersey Trap Shooters' League was held on the grounds of the Climax Gun Club, in the rear of "The Maples," Saturday afternoon. Only three clubs were entered. The Dunellen Gun Club was first, with the Columbia Gun Club, of South Amboy, second, and the Climax Gun Club, of this city, third.

How to Help the Pastor.

"How Can We Help Our Pastor" will be the subject at the Christian Endeavor meeting of the Park Avenue Baptist church tomorrow evening. Mrs. W. S. Lowry will lead.

Lobsters Are Intelligent.

Where the notion originated that lobsters don't know enough to get out of their own way is more than can be told, but it did not originate with men who had experience with lobsters. The lobster is really clever.

Any one who ever saw a lobster getting out of his shell and taking refuge in the shelter of a rock would know that he has a mind. After he has shed his shell he knows that he is fair game for anything that has claws and jaws and he goes into retirement. He does not come out until he has grown a complete new shell. The lobster only changes his shell when he is growing. After he stops growing he gets along with the old one. He may grow to be any size, from two pounds up to thirty.

When he is ready to get out of his shell he splits his armor across the back at the first joint of the carapace. That does not require cleverness so much as main strength, but wht does require cleverness is to extract the flesh from the small limbs and from the claws; also to drw his eyes and the stems on which they are mounted back from the bony eyecase and stems of the cast-off armor. When he leaves his shell behind and steps out in his underclothes he is perfect. If he had lost a claw or a feeler he is ready to make up by growing another. As to the stomach he turns that inside out and gets a new lining on it.

In the water the lobster is as graceful as any fish that swims. In sudden alarm he gives one flirt of his tail and shoots from twenty to thirty feet backward. He hits the mark unerringly—enerally some hole in the rocks. A shadow on the water will make him vanish. His extraordinary eyes are mounted on long stems and he can protrude them or draw them in. He can look backwards or foreward with them. They are as powerful in proportion as the searchlight on a man-of-war.

The lobster is a cannibal, but he is made so by his environments. Cannibalism is practiced by the most respectable fish and crustaceans, and the lobster observes the fashion. If he sees another lobster in his pajamas after shedding his shell he goes after him. But he will be contented if he eats a couple of legs, which the other fellow can grow again with slight inconvenience.

The lofty mentality of the lobster is further proved by that strength of his emotions in love war, and the chase. The domestic affairs of the male lobster occupies but a small portion of his time, but the female lobster goes into the business of raising a family with energy. Sometimes she lays as many as eighteen or twenty thousand eggs. After the brood has hatched she convoy the young lobsters around until they are able to look out for themselves.

Lobsters have fierce duals with each other, in which they shed injured parts in order to stop the bleeding from them They are good fighters for their size.

CURRENT ATTRACTIONS THAT PLAINFIELDERS MAY WITNESS.

Local and Metropolitan Performances That Will Please Those Who Delight in the Art of Thespis and Mimic World

"In Atlantic City" is the name of the piece which is to be presented at Music Hall tonight by the Wills Company. It is a musical comedy without any plot worth mentioning, but it furnishes an excuse for the introduction of many clever turns. The company is headed by Frank M. Wills, a Dutch comedian of much ability. His main support is James Lezio, who makes a big hit in the last act with a sort of hop, step and jump drama in which he plays about nine different parts himself. The Littlefield sisters and Jimmy Travis are also a success in their dancing specialties. Ethel Tillson wins rounds of applause with her sweet voice and excellent rendition of popular songs. The rest of the comany aid in the general hilarity that prevails and the audiences are highly pleased from start to finish. Ladies tickets and popular prices are features tonight, which all should avail themselves of. The engagement of Mr. Wills and his company is for three nights. Tomorrow they will appear in a very funny comedy entitled "Bosom Friends."

. . . . . .

Vaudeville seems to have taken an even firmer grasp than ever on the affections of the theatregoers this season. Since the cool spell of the past few weeke the two Proctor theatres in New York city—the Twenty-third Street and the Pleasure Palace at Fifty-eighth and Third avenue—have been crowded to the doors day and night. The stars for the Twenty-third Street theatre week of Sept. 11th are: Patrice, the dainty comedienne, in "Edna's Ghost" and "A New Year's Dream"; Will M. Cressy and Blanche Dayne in the rural comedietta, "Grasping an Opportunity." Camille D'Arville, the famous operatic star, will make her first appearance in vaudeville under Mr. Proctor's direction at this house Sept. 18th. At the Pleasure Palace the special price to the ladies of 10 cents for orchestra seats in the afternoons still continues and attracts throngs of ladies and children daily. The features at the Palace for the week of Sept. 11th are: James Thornton, the witty monologist; Favor and Sinclair in a new comedy sketch; the Todd-Judge family, celebrated troupe of European acrobats; Jerome and Alexis, the frog and the lizard; Tennis Trio, Jessie Millar and a score more.

Detective Calling on Friends.

Detective Ferguson, of New Brunswick, was in Plainfield yesterday on business. While here he called on a number of friends who were glad to see him.

No Right to Ugliness.

The woman who is lovely in face, form and temper will always have friends, but one who would be attractive must keep her health. If she is weak, sickly and all run down, she will be nervous and irritable. If she has constipation or kidney trouble, her impure blood will cause pimples, blotches, skin eruptions and a wretched complexion. Electric Bitters is the best medicine in the world to regulate stomach, liver and kidneys and to purify the blood. It gives strong nerves, bright eyes, smooth, velvet skin, rich complexion. It will make a good-looking, charming woman of a run-down invalid. Only 50 cents at L. W. Randolph's Drug Store.

MEXICO'S MONEY.

What It Has Been and Manner in Which It Is Manufactured.

Before Mexico was invaded by the Spaniards, coins were unknown in the country, the natives using in the place of money the smallest cacao beans, reserving those of larger size and better quality for the manufacture of liquor, to which they were much addicted.

About fourteen years after the conquest—that is to say, about the year 1535, Castilian coin commenced to make its appearance in Mexico. As it arrived, however, only in very small quantities, it proved itself insufficient for the needs of trade, even though the latter was still of very insignificant proportions. It was then that the ruling viceroy, under authority of a royal decree, ordered the manufacture in the City of Mexico of small pieces of silver of a certain weight. These pieces were not stamped with and coinage whatsoever, and their value was determined entirely by their weight and size. From this was derived the name "peso," which has outlived the first attempt at making money in Mexico up to the present. These pieces of silver remained in circulation a number of years, and pieces of gold and of copper were also added in time. Soon, however, it was found that this sort of circulating medium made fraud and abuse extremely easy, and the Spanish government, taking cognizance of this fact, established, by royal decree, three mints, granting them a perpetual existence for America. These mints were located in San Luis, Santa Fe and the City of Mexico.

The same decree also provided that in San Domingo, on the Spanish island known today as Puerto Rico, only copper money should be made, according to the regulations governing the mint of Castile in the year 1689. The coinage of Mexico was actually begun during the reign of Viceroy Antonio de Mendoza, who established a mint in buildings belonging to the Marquis del Valle. Here it remained only a short time, being transferred first to the council buildings, and later to the viceregal palace. During all this time the coinage was of considerable amount, and the facilities of the establishment were not sufficient to meet the demands made upon it for coins, for which reason frequent demands for minting apparatus are found in the ancient records. In the year 1778, the mint was established in the Apartado building, and has continued since then in the street of that name. From the Declaration of Independence until the year 1847, the mint was rented out to private parties, whosupplied with coin all the states of the republic that had no mint of their own.

Fall Opening Sale of Floor Coverings

ONE YEAR ago this department was an experiment—today it stands second to none in the State and has achieved a success unparalleled anywhere in the country. Our aim was high, but we shot far above the mark and are more than gratified with the wonderful result. The public were quick to appreciate our effort and a succession of bargain surprises met with an immediate and spontaneous response. Enormous varieties, perfect workmanship, prompt service aud lowest prices daily increased our prestige until our supremacy is recognized and conceded on every hand. With better facilities, a stock nearly doubled in size and with hundreds of confined designs, are we not justified in expecting a tremendous Fall business? Raw materials have advanced, but anticipating existing conditions, orders were placed sixty days ahead of the usual time, and we escaped the squeeze. Make selections from full assortment and, if desired, goods will be held for future delivery.

REORGANIZING THE NAVAL RESERVES.

Eighty Men and Several Officers to be Dismissed.

GOVERNOR KEPT HANDS OFF

A NEW SURGEON TO BE NAMED IN PLACE OF DR. SIMPSON.

Under the New Condition of Affairs the Third Division is to be Practically Disbanded—Plans Making for the Participation of the Reserves in the Welcome Home to Dewey When He Arrives.

Despite the efforts made by the officers of the Naval Reserves, aided by prominent men in counties, to induce the Governor to amend the order providing for the reorganization of the Battalion of the East, it has now been definitely learned that Governor Voorhees has declined to interfere. Commander Irving, acting under instructions from Brigadier-General Wanser, has begun the work of consolidating the three divisions of the battalion into two divisions.

Under the new condition of affairs the third, or engineers' division, is to be practically disbanded. About fifty per cent. of the Third Division, however, will be retained by Commander Irving and divided up among the first and second divisions, a sufficient number of the men in those divisions being discharged in order to make room for them. This will be done by Commander Irving so that the efficiency of the battalion may not be altogether destroyed.

Because of of the lopping off of one of the divisions, eighty men and several officers will have to be dismissed. Lieutenant Thomas Goldingay and the other officers of the Newark division will not be disturbed, neither will the officers of the first division. Lieutenant H. Franklin Hart, Jr, commander of the third division, will be appointed navigator of the battalion, to succeed Lieutenant Peters, who resigned when the Reserves returned from the Spanish-American War. Ensign Kemble, of the third division, will be promoted to a junior lieutenancy, and will succeed Lieutenant Farnham Yardley, who has been the battalion adjutant since the Batalion of the East was organized. Lieutenant Anderson, at present in Mexico on a six months' leave of absence, will also be retired, as will Ensign Sedore.

Dr. Simpson, of Plainfield, surgeon of the battalion, is at present in the Philippines, and his resignation is now in the hands of Commander Irving. A prominent Newark physician has been offered the position, and will probably accept.

Although no definite action has as yet been taken, there is a possibility that the old sloop of war Portsmouth, the present headquarters of the Battalion of the East, may take an active part in the Dewey demonstration. It has been suggested that the old ship be towed from her present berth in Hoboken and anchored in the river, opposite Grant's tomb, during the festivities attending the celebration in honor of Admiral Dewey, where she will serve the double purpose of acting as a sort of stakeboat and also be exhibited as a relic of the style of war vessels of days gone by.

If it be decided to carry out this plan, the Reserves will man the old ship during the river parade, and the following day will be taken ashore in a tugboat to participate in the land parade.

Completing the Stone Roads.

The Board of Freeholders of Middlesex county are proceeding steadily with the work of building missing links in the stone road systems so as to make them all uninterrupted highways across the county. At the recent meeting of the Board it was decided to advertise for bids for three macadam roads. The roads to be built are from New Brunswick to Old Bridge, connecting there with the stone roads built from Old Bridge to the Monmouth county line; from Black Horse Tavern to Cranbury Village. and from Dunellen to Bound Brook.

Will March in the Dewey Parade.

Field Battery A, of East Orange, has signified its intention of taking part in the Dewey parade in New York, and every member of the command will be in line.

To Resume Sunday-school.

Commencing with next Sunday the Sunday-school of the Congregational church will resume its sessions. The school will meet promptly at 2:45 o'clock.

A MINIATURE RAILROAD.

INGENIOUS ENTERPRISE OF PLAINFIELD BOYS.

It is on the Jeremiah Manning Property and is 200 Feet Long—A Log Cabin for Depot—Gid Fountain President.

What may eventually be a strong opposition to the Plainfield Street Railway Company is now being developed in the west end of the city on the Jeremiah Manning property. A number of boys living in that vicinity have constructed a railway that may one of this days be a great factor. It is now about 200 feet long and is well constructed with ties and iron rails.

The two cars now in use are substantially built and will carry a considerable load. Regular car wheels are used for the cars, which are about four feet long and two feet wide. They are provided with the proper brakes and mechanical appliances. In connection with the establishment of this road a log cabin has been erected as a waiting station for passengers.

The power to operate the cars on this road is obtained from a grade and the young men have displayed a bit of ingenuity in constructing the road so that the car will make the trip over the entire distance and return to its starting point simply through the aid of momentum. At some points a considerable speed is obtained and the ride is certainly a very pleasant one.

A company has been formed and the officers are President, Gid Fountain; vice-president, Clarence Rocap; treasurer, Mr. Briggs. These officers will direct the management of the road and will see that the stock is not watered too often. There is quite a demand for stock, however, but at present there is none for sale.

SEEING EUROPE.

Isaac Squier Having a Fine Time Seeing the Sights on the Continent.

Mrs. Harriet Squier, of Grove street, has just received a letter under date of Aug. 29th, from her son, Isaac Squier, who is in England working for the Campbell Printing Press Company. Mr. Squier is in excellent health and enjoying his first visit to his English cousins. He states in his letter that he is about to leave London for Milan, Italy. He will go from London to Dover by train, from the latter place to Calais, France, by boat, and will then pass through a number of other important places. The trip will take him through Switzerland over the Alps. From Milan Mr. Squier expects to go to Paris and will no doubt reach Naples, where he will see Mt. Vesuvius. After that he expects to visit Madrid, Spain. The entire trip will cover about three months of time. Mr. Squier has enjoyed himself very much and is greatly interested in the countries he is visiting. The weather has been agreeable until the time of writing, when he says it was very hot. He has no definite plans as to when he will return.

SUNDAY-SCHOOL WORKERS.

To Meet in Convention at Roselle Next Month.

The annual convention of the Union County Sunday-school Association will be held Thursday, October 12th, at the First Presbyterian church on Chestnut street, at Roselle.

The convention this year promises to be more interesting than any yet held by the association. New Jersey is the banner State of the Union in Sunday-school work, and Union county the banner county in the work. There will be morning, afternoon and evening meetings. The evening meeting will be made particularly interesting on account of the many who can attend that session who could not attend the meetings held in the daytime. The men folks are particularly invited to this meeting. There will be good speakers and entertaining music.

Elaborate preparations are now being made for the programme of the day. The ladies of the Presbyterian church will entertain all visitors with luncheon and supper, which will be served at the church.

Doesn't Need to be Signed For.

At the meeting of the Common Council last Tuesday evening, when a hearing was given on the trolley matter, it was stated that the property consents for the Arlington avenue trolley does not include the City Park. This property is owned by the city. However, in case the Council grants the franchise it will be virtually the same as though it was owned by an individual and that one had given consent.

Reports From Encampment.

There will be a regular meeting of Winfield Scott Post, No. 73, G. A. R., next week Tuesday evening, at which time reports from the Philadelphia encampment will be presented.

AS THE SUN WENT DOWN

LAW CLERK SWEENEY CHARGED WITH VIOLATING BICYCLE ORDINANCE.

A Question of Time Will Determine the Verdict—Case Was Adjourned for a Week in City Court by Request.

Willie Sweeney was in the City Court again this morning by special request. Patrolman Lunger says that Willie was an offender of the bicycle ordinance. Willie is of a different mind, and City Judge Runyon has been called upon to look into the intracies of the case and give judgment next week.

Sweeney was passing along East Front street near the Y. M. C. A. building last evneing when Lunger called to him to stop. Sweeney says that it was 7:20 o'clock. The officer declares that the hour was 7:40. It will be remembered that the sun set last night at 6:23 o'clock, and the limit for riding without a lamp is an hour later.

Sweeney did not stop when the officer called. He explained to the City Judge that he did not think it was yet time to light a lamp so he didn't pay attention to the hail of the policeman. Lunger says that Sweeney tried to dodge him.

Lunger found the young man a few minutes later and ordered him to appear. Lunger alleges that Sweeney was bragging about town last night that he would not show up in court unless a warrant was issued.

Sweeney appeared this morning, however, but about fifteen minutes late. He entered a plea of not guilty and asked an adjournment of his case. He wanted to have his witnesses, Thomas U. Smith and Edward O. Clark, present. The Judge laid the case over for a week.

If convicted this will be Willie's second offense and he is likely to receive a heavy sentence, particularly as he is such an enthusiastic follower of Blackstone.

FIRE BUGS.

Westfielders Much Concerned Over the Second Suspicious Conflagation in That Town.

(Special to The Daily Press.)

Westfield, Sept. 8—Another fire supposed to be the work of a fire bug, took place here last evening when the large barn on the old Stutzman farm, near the scene of Wednesday afternoon's fire, was consumed by flames.

The farm is owned by William E. Hyer, of New York, and is occupied by Samuel Wilkinson and family. No one was at home when the fire was discovered by a passer by.

The farmers living on the outskirts of the town are much excited and keeping a strict watch for strangers and should any be found prowling around barns it would no doubt go hard with him.

FUNERAL OF MRS. MESCHUTT.

Rev. C. E. Herring Referred to the Dead Woman in a Touching Way.

The funeral services over the remains of Mrs. Hannah M. Meschutt, whose death occurred Tuesday morning, were held at 8 o'clock last evening at the home of the deceased's husband, George F. Meschutt, 316 East Front street. Rev. Charles E. Herring, pastor of the First Presbyterian church, officiated. He paid a tribute to the many excellent qualities possessed by Mrs. Meschutt and the fortitude she had displayed in her long illness which she bore patiently to the end. Rev. Mr. Herring's reference to the death of Mrs. Meschutt's two children was also touched upon in a feeling manner.

Many friends of the deceased were in attendance at the obsequies. The body was contained in a casket covered with gray and beside it were conspicuous many floral pieces from relatives and dear friends.

This morning the remains were taken to Arlington cemetery for burial beside those of Mrs. Meschutt's children.

Delinquents Advertised.

In this week's Unionist-Gazette, published at Somerville, there is printed a list of the delinquents in connection of the opening of Watchung avenue in the borough. The list is composed of about fifty names. Unless settlement is made the properties will be sold during the first week in October.

Assisted in Degree Work.

Deputy Grand Master Workman V. W. Nash visited Success Lodge, A. O. U. W., at Elizabethport, last evening, and assisted in degree work. There were also present Past Grand Master Workman Colyer and Past Master Workman Scroner, of Newark.

A Musicale.

Frederick Spencer, a noted violinist, assisted by local talent, will give a musicale in the Union chapel at Marconnier, Thursday night, September 14th, at 8 o'clock.

SENATOR KEAN WILL PROTECT THE COUNTY.

Advises Freeholders That He Will Pay Boulevard Expenses.

THE BOARD ASKS FOR CASH.

THE EXPENSES THUS FAR INCURRED AMOUNT TO $4,000.

Though the Boulevard Project Will Probably Never be Consummated Senator Kean Will Not Allow the County to be the Loser by Reason of Fathering It—New Elizabeth Trolley Nearly Ready.

(Special to The Daily Press.)

Elizabeth, Sept. 8—The Union County Board of Freeholders, at a meeting held yesterday afternoon, passed a resolution asking the Elizabeth Street Railway Company, of which Senator John Kean is president, to reimburse the county for the expense it had gone to up to date. This expense, the Board declared, was over $4,000, for the appointment and pay of commissioners to assess benefits and damages along the line of the proposed county boulevard, in Westfield avenue, from Elizabeth to Cranford.

A letter was received from Senator Kean, in which he said that his road would pay every penny of the cost, so far as incurred by the county. Whether the proposed boulevard will be built is now regarded as doubtful, on account of the opposition developed against it, but Senator Kean, from the tenor of his communication, does not intend that the county shall be any loser for what steps the Board of Freeholders has taken in the matter.

The new trolley line through East Jersey and Broad streets, to Morris avenue to Cranford township, and later destined to reach Plainfield, will be thrown open to the public next week Saturday, when the road will be operated on one track from the Staten Island ferry to Broad street.

HIS LIGHT WOULDN'T BURN.

Accident to His Bicycle Lamp Caused John McDonough's Arrest.

John McDonough came from South Plainfield awheel last night to attend the performance at Music Hall. While on his way here he collided with his friend, who was accompanying him, and McDonough's lamp suffered in consequence. The light wouldn't burn when they came to return, so McDonough rode without a light. He was arrested by Roundsman Frederickson and appeared before City Judge Runyon this morning. He explained the circumstances and the Judge suspended sentence.

Meat Prices the Same.

There has been no change in the wholesale price of meets during the last few weeks. The prices are still high but apparently there is no appearance of their going higher at present. The beef market remains steady although the lamb market is reported a trifle stronger. Many of the local dealers have increased their retail prices to conform with the recent advance in the wholesale rates that caused so much comment.

Brought Back to Justice.

Justice of the Peace John P. Dunster, of Bernardsville has returned from Poughkeepsie, N. Y., where he secured Alfred Rogers, formerly of Summit, and Robert Greer, of Bernardsville, who were arrested charged with having robbed Mrs. John McFarland, a widow, of $300 and some jewelry, on August 6th. They were taken to the county jail at Somerville, to await the action of the Somerset County Grand Jury.

Says He Does Not Owe Vardon.

Theodore Roder, manager for the Union News Company, in this city, desires The Daily Press to state that John Vardon, formerly employed by him as a newsboy, signed papers for payment in full when he left his position. The money claimed by Vardon is for extra work contracted for but never performed. Mr. Roder says that he does not owe Vardon any money.

New School Open for Inspection.

The new Watchung School in the borough will open its doors to the public for inspection Saturday and Monday afternoons from 1 until 3 o'clock. The people will be given a chance to see the new building before it is regularly devoted to the school work. Everybody is cordially invited to visit the new school.

Reunion of Old Friends.

Former Mayor and Mrs. W. L. Saunders, of Rockview avenue, are now stopping in London, Eng., where they were delighted to find their old friends, Rev. and Mrs. T. Logan Murphy and Miss Annie Murphy, of the borough. The party has gone on several outings together.

STATE NEWS IN BRIEF.

HAPPENINGS IN A FEW LINES FROM ALL OVER JERSEY.

More or Less Important Happenings and Events in Various Sections Served For a Quick Glance at.

Seton Hall College reopened Wednesday.

The tenth anniversary of the dedication of Our Lady of Sorrows Catholic church, South Orange, will be celebrated Sunday, Sept 17th.

The Perth Amboy Savings Institution, which was forced to close its doors with the wrecked Middlesex County Bank on account of the thefts of Geo. M. Valentine, its treasurer, now serving a six-years' sentence in Trenton, opened its doors for business yesterday morning.

William Johnson, a Bridgeton farmer, shipped ten baskets of lima beans to Boston and received forty-six cents for them. From this he paid two cents a basket for the picking and the carting to the depot.

The Badine Glass Works, at Williamstown, are so rushed with orders that they are having difficulty in getting their moulds made as quickly as they want them. Mouldmakers are scarce and hard to get at any price.

Salem proposes to salute Admiral Dewey when he lands in New York. A telegram will announce his arrival, and 17 guns will be fired in his honor. The whistles will toot and a great din in general will take place. Other towns in south Jersey may follow in this line.

COLORED FOLK OWN THE TOWN.

Grand Lodge of Odd Fellows Holds Its Convention in Elizabeth.

Elizabeth was alive with colored people yesterday from all parts of New Jersey who went to attend the annual meeting of the Grand Lodge of Colored Odd Fellows. There were thirty-five lodges represented at the convention.

Mayor Mack welcomed the delegates. The parade at 4:30 o'clock was participated in by hundreds of colored men wearing handsome badges. The streets were crowded with colored women from Elizabeth, Newark, Rahway, Plainfield and other places who vigorously applauded the marchers.

INJURED AT A CROSSING.

Brakeman Shea Hurt in a Small Wreck at Somerville.

As a result of a slight wreck on the Bridge street crossing of the New Jersey Central Railroad at Somerville yesterday afternoon, Walter Shea, of Asbury, a brakeman of a coal train, had his leg broken and was otherwise severely injured. This is the third time that Shea has been badly hurt. The place where Shea was injured today is feared by railroad men. The caboose and two cars were wrecked.

Liquor Dealers' Convention.

Several hundred delegates attended the convention of the Liquor Dealers' Protective League, at Bayonne, yesterday. Important matters including proposed legislation were considered. Michael McKeon, of Passaic, was elected president; Philip Feats, of Paterson, was elected one of the vice-presidents; Charles Engle, of Trenton, was elected treasurer. Delegates to the National Association convention, at Louisville, were selected. A banquet terminated the convention.

Not Yet Out of Her Teens.

Miss Rosa Bolden, aged 18 years, died yesterday afternoon at the home of her uncle, corner of Berckman and East Third streets, where she resided. Death was due to pleuro-pneumonia and Miss Bolden was ill but a short time. Notice of funeral will be given later.

Had to Kill the Horse.

One of a team of horses owned by Mrs. Lina Hoerster, of North Plainfield, was kicked by its mate last night when on East Front street and its leg was broken. Dr. Herbert chloroformed the animal and it was afterwards shot by a policeman.

Mr. Murray to Conduct.

Wm. D. Murray will conduct the Bible study at the regular meeting of the Association Volunteer League of the Y. M. C. A. Monday evening. President Cahoone, of the Y. M. C. A., has promised to present a paper on some missionary subject.

Kuckle Improving.

John Kucklo, of Clinton avenue, who attempted to kill his wife and murder himself, last week, is still improving at the hospital. The physicians think that he will be able to leave the hospital in a few days.

To Have Plenty of Music.

Several bands of music have been engaged for the firemen's parade to be held in the borough Thursday, October 12th, and some special features are being arranged for that occasion.

WILL CARRY LIGHTS NOW

CHIEF GRANT DECLARES FOR STRICT OBEDIENCE OF LAW.

Instructed All Mounted Policemen to Use Lamps Hereafter and Also to Keep From Riding on the Sidewalks.

All the police who did duty awheel last night carried lighted lamps and steered very clear of all sidewalks. It was the direct result of the arrest of Night Watchman Joseph Cooney on the charge of riding a wheel on the sidewalk and the subsequent announcement by the City Judge.

When the night force went on duty last evening Chief Grant was present and spoke a few words to the officers on the subject. He instructed the men that the law says that all wheelmen must have lights at nights and must keep off sidewalks. He further stated that they were not to overlook their fellow officers if the bicycle ordinance was violated. He insisted on a strict interpretation of the law.

As a result of the announcement made by the Chief, all the mounted men carried lamps all night and kept off the sidewalks. No violations were reported this noon.

The police have nothing to say regarding the enforcement of the bicycle ordinance in relation to physicians and letter carriers. In either case, it will make much hardship if the letter of the law is insisted upon and the people will not receive their mail anywhere nearly as quick as at present. The police say that if the city wants the ordinance enforced to the letter, they will do it. Meanwhile the letter carriers are still using the sidewalks when they find them convenient.

OUT OF PRISON INTO JAIL.

Swindler Who Claimed to be John Wanamaker's Nephew is in Deep Trouble.

(Special to The Daily Press.

Somerville, Sept. 8—James Wanamaker, who swindled several people here last year and made his escape, was brought from Trenton yesterday by Officer Totten, his term having just expired in State prison for a similar offense committed elsewhere.

Wanamaker first came to Somerville and went to the West End House. He represented that he was a nephew of John Wanamaker, of Philadelphia, and said he was agent for a patent horseshoe. He paid his first week's board with a draft on a wholesale grocery firm in Cincinnati, and so successfully did he talk to Proprietor John G. Kenner that that gentleman even gave him change in cash for a portion of the draft. The fellow left town just at the time when Kenner received a telephone message that the draft was worthless.

Wanamaker next turned up in Trenton, where he tried a similar game, but he was caught and sentenced to a term in prison. The authorities here learned that his term was about to expire and Sheriff Schoonmaker took measures to have him held.

LARGE FREIGHT YARD.

Lehigh Valley Forsakes a Location in Jersey City for One in Newark.

The Lehigh Valley Railroad Company, having been refused the privilege of establishing a grade crossing at Communipaw avenue, Jersey City, has abandoned its plan of building a large freight yard in Jersey City, and is now laying out a yard in Newark, at the end of its bridge over Newark Bay. The meadows are being filled in, and the yard will extend to "Mosquito Line," as the branch road of the Central Railroad between Newark and Elizabethport is termed. It will be a large yard, as 300,000 cubic yards of filling will be required, and twenty-seven miles of tracks will be laid. The contract calls for the completion of the yards on January 1st.

A Brave Act.

Perry Voseller, of Raritan, one of the Naval Reserves who took part in the parade in this city Independence Day, performed a brave act near Somerville Monday. He was passing the Delaware and Raritan Canal when he heard screams. A little child of four years had tumbled into the canal. After much exertion he found the child and hauled it safe to land where the physicians hurriedly summoned were able to save its life.

George L. Colgate Now an Editor.

George L. Colgate, formerly of the Bard Cycle Company, of this city, is now located at Orland, Glenn county, California, where he is publishing a weekly paper called "The Orland Register." The paper is about up to the standard of the usual weekly and appears to be well edited.

Its Eagle Eye Open.

The Borough Board of Health at present has its eagle eye on some infractions of health ordinances, and something is likely to drop before long.

RUTH MOORE WILL BE A HARD ONE TO CURB.

She Gives Industrial School Officers Much Trouble.

SEEMS BOUND TO ESCAPE.

PICKED TWO LOCKS IN HER EFFORTS TO GET AWAY.

In Taking Her to Trenton the Deputy Sheriff Came Near Losing the Recreant Girl—Very Pert to the Officers and Threatened to do Them up if They Tried to Control Her in the School.

The officials of the Girls' Industrial School at Trenton will have a hard time to conquer the incorrigibility of that notorious young girl from Plainfield, Ruth Moore, if she continues to act in the way she started at the Industrial School. In telling of the introduction of the Moore girl into the institution the Trenton True American this morning says:

Ruth Moore, a fifteen-year-old girl, of Plainfield, Union county, was brought to the State Industrial School for Girls by the Deputy Sheriff of that county Wednesday. Ruth appears to be of a particularly bad disposition, and may be described as a typical character of the class of girls for whom the Industrial School was established and about whom so much sentimentalism has been wasted during the past few weeks.

Ruth is the fourth of a notorious gang of girls that the police of Plainfield have been trying to capture for some time and they are all now safely housed in the Industrial School. She was charged with general depravity and incorrigibility and consorting with evil and dissolute men.

The Deputy Sheriff experienced considerable difficulty in bringing her to Trenton, she having succeeded in escaping from him once on the way. When she arrived at the school she was very pert, and gave the officer who took her in charge to understand that she would "do her up" if she attempted to control her.

She was given a bath and assigned to a room, when she picked the lock and escaped to the lower hall, where she was caught by two officers and with the aid of two strong girls was again placed in her room. Later she was found making her way out over the top of the screen in her room. She was then put in another room, where the shutter was fastened with a Yale lock. In a short time she had picked the lock and was ready to make her escape through the window. All the girls at the Industrial School are probably not as bad as Ruth, but it is evident that the "oil of persuasion" that is so strenuously urged as a reformative agent would be misapplied in her case.

And it is for endeavoring to control and make amenable to proper authority just such characters as the one above described that the management of the Industrial School has been assailed from one end of the State to the other.

NOT OPPOSED TO BRYAN.

Leader Robert Davis Has No Preference for President.

(Special to The Daily Press.)

Jersey City, Sept. 8—Robert Davis, Hudson County's Democratic leader, has returned from the Catskills, and he was asked if he had authorized Joseph M. Noonan to say that he was not opposed to William J. Bryan's Presidential aspirations. It had previously been stated that Hudson's Democratic leader favored Grover Cleveland or Admiral George Dewey for the Democratic nomination.

Mr. Davis admitted that he authorized Mr. Noonan to say that he was not opposed to Mr. Bryan's candidacy, and he added: "I have no preference for the Presidential nomination. Any man whom the convention sees fit to place at the head of the ticket will suit me, as he should every other Democrat in the State."

Dresses for the Little Ones.

A number of the ladies of the Christian Endeavor Society of the Park Avenue Baptist church met last evening at the home of Miss Annie Wyckoff, on Putnam avenue, to sew for the day nursery presided over by Miss Sara Curry in New York. Nearly twenty dresses were made during the evening.

Day Drunk In the Night.

James Day, who is employed about the Muhlenberg Hospital, was arraigned before City Judge Runyon this morning on the charge of being drunk and disorderly last evening. The arrest was made by Roundsman Frederickson. He was found guilty and sentenced to pay a fine of $3.

—Gulick & Co., the Park grocers, will make a fine display of fruits and vegetables tomorrow morning.

END OF TRIAL DRAWS NEAR

Captain Dreyfus Will Know Verdict of Court-Martial in a Few Days.

NOT A BRIGHT OUTLOOK

No Decision in the Case Likey to Be Reached by Judges Before Monday of Next Week.

Court-Martial Refuses to Admit Foreign Evidence and the Prosecution Marks Closing Plea—Verdict Will Be Watched for With Interest—Labori to Sum Up.

Rennes, France, Sept. 8.—At eth opening of the Dreyfus trial Maitre Labori, leading counsel for the defense, announced that he had received a semi-official intimation that Col. Schwartzkoppen, the former German military attache at Paris, and Major Panizzardi, the former Italian military attache at Paris, would be unable to appear personally before the Court. These depositions touch upon vital points in the defense of Dreyfus. They relate to the most important pretended evidence adverse to the prisoner that has been given in the trial. Counsel proposed that a rogatory commission should be telegraphed to receive the depositions. Maitre Labori asked that the Court adjourn for forty-eight hours to allow for the transmission of the deposition from Berlin and Rome to Rennes.

Argument on this request was heard, and the Court retired to consider its decision. The judges returned and announced their decision. They refused to receive the depositions of Colonels Schwartzkoppen and Pannizzardi, unless they were sworn to at the French embassies in Berlin and Rome.

The request that they accept the depositions under other conditions, even though coming from the embassies of Germany and Italy in this country, they declared, could not be complied with, being contrary to the law governing the Court and beyond its authority. They stated, however, that they would hear Colonels Schwartzkoppen and Pannizzardi in person as witnesses.

The defense regard the objection of the Court to the proffered deposition as purely technical and expect to overcome it. It is not supposed that either Germany or Italy will forbid the swearing of the witnesses to their testimony at the French embassies in Berlin and Rome.

With the understanding that the depositions from Colonel Schwartzkoppen and Colonel Panizzardi would be accepted when received, the prosecution announced that the case was presented. M. Labori had no other witnesses to call, and Colonel Jouaust declared the evidence all in. Major Carriere at once began his argument for the prosecution.

He proceeded to discuss technically the documents enumerated in the bordereau, but his comments became disconnected and rambling. Several times he came to a ful stop, idly fingering the papers before him, while an assistant prompted him. His speech lost all continuity as he went on and became almost childish. His mannerisms excited the ridicule of the audience, as they have done several times during the course of the trial. In fact, his argument, which began logically and developed force and strength for the first half hour, seemd to fall to pieces, and the speaker completely lost his grasp of the subject.

"Truth does not always look like truth." This was the cleverest thing in Major Carriere's plea.

Finally Major Carriere's remarks took an nuexpected turn and reached a culmination which rather surprised his hearers. He dealt solely with Col. Picquart's work, saying that when he (Carriere) first examined his reports and evidence he became practically convinced that Dreyfus was innocent. "But I went further," declared the prosecuting officer. "I examined Col. Picquart's conduct more carefully. I went deeper than the Court of Cassation, and I discovered tricks, frauds, lies and machinations whereby this officer sought to involve Esterhazy and free Dreyfus. Then my eyes were opened. Then I saw the whole monstrous plot on the part of Col. Picquart, who has now convinced me of the guilt of the man sitting there (pointing to Dreyfus), and I demand his condemnation as a traitor."

The listeners were completely puzzled at this strange summing up and the savage assault on Col. Picquart, which was not based on any evidence before the Court. It was impossible to understand, and few attempted to explain it, for Major Carriere's eccentric conduct of the case has been a subject of amusement for th past two weeks. His peroration was listened to in silence, and without further incident the court adjourned.

Dreyfus listened to Major Carriere's two-hour's speech without scarcely moving a muscle and without a sign of emotion.

It is officially announced that a verdict will be held back until Monday. M. Demange says that he will finish his plea to-day, M. Labori will follow him briefly; therefore, it is impossible that a decision can be reached this week.

Social Scientists Meet.

Saratoga, Sept. 8.—The American Social Science Association met here as a department of jurisprudence. The opening address was made by Prof. Isaac Franklin Russell of New York University Law School on "Why Law Schools are Crowded." Papers were read by President Henry Wade Rogers of Northern University on "Territorial Acquisition," and by Justice John A. Woodward of the New York Supreme Court on "The Tendency of Courts to Sustain Special Legislation." A discussion followed the reading of the papers.

DAYTON, OHIO, Nov. 23, 1896.
DEAR SIRS—In the latter part of last winter I was troubled for quite a while with dyspepsia, which caused a general breaking down of the nervous system, followed by nervous headache and neuralgia of the heart. No one can describe my suffering at this time. I was unable to eat or sleep, and my condition became so critical that my physician could do nothing but give hypodermic injections of morphine. My family and friends became alarmed, but could do nothing. My pastor recommended other physicians, but I was discouraged and would not try them, believing my own family doctor was doing all that any of them could do. Many remedies were recommended by friends. I tried them all without success. My condition at this time was pitiable; weak, broken down, a mere shadow of my former self. At last I told my wife I was going to try one more remedy, Ripans Tabules. I did not expect them to cure me in my condition, and after taking them for a few days I was about to give up, but concluded to give them a good trial. Before long I began to improve. I used the box and bought a dollar bottle; but I did not need half of them, for they did their work nobly, and I was soon a new man. I have been working right along and have had no return of my troubles, and, in justice to you and your great remedy, I offer this, my unsolicited testimony, hoping the people will recognize the merits of your great remedy.
I am gratefully yours,
422 Oak Street, Dayton, Ohio. T. J. STERLING.

DAYTON, OHIO, Dec. 17, 1896.
DEAR SIRS—I herewith inclose you interview of our representative with Mr. T. J. Sterling, of 422 Oak Street, this city, who wrote to the Ripans Chemical Company regarding his use of Ripans Tabules. Sterling seems to be a very sincere man in his statements, our reporter informs me, and says he will do anything to further the interests of the sale of Ripans, as he feels that he owes every thing to them. I inclose also two cuts upon which he has had taken. They are called the "before" and "after" order. The one with the thin face is the one of him before he took the medicine. The other one is after he was cured by the use of Ripans.
Yours very truly,
THE HUFFMAN PUBLISHING CO., C. H. Sours, Manager.

The following is an account of the interview with Mr. Sterling, by a representative of the Dayton Sun.
DAYTON, OHIO, Dec. 17, 1896.
To verify the above letter, a representative of the Dayton Evening Sun called upon Mr. Sterling, at his home, 422 Oak Street, and was cordially received. Mr. Sterling's appearance did not show any signs of disease, and he is a picture of perfect health. He tells the reporter that for a period he was unhappy to do anything for the Ripans Chemical Company, as the benefit he had received from the Ripans Tabules was more than he ever could repay. He said: "I had grown up with bad stomach, as I certainly well, and two things caused to stare me in the face—death or insanity. My family physician (who, by the way, is a very prominent practitioner in this city) was doing all he could for me, but gave me no relief, and I was in a deeper study than ever. I had nothing but a dollar in my life, and only one dollar's worth of Ripans Tabules offered me a chance for cure. My neighbors and my many friends were astonished at my recovery as I was supposed. I can eat anything, and sleep as soundly as a baby. I have since had a day's work on account of illness since my recovery, and all this is due to Ripans Tabules." Mr. Sterling resides in a cozy cottage at 422 Oak Street, and is the head of a family. He is employed in the plating department of the National Cash Register Company's factory, and is a member of the Oak Street M. E. Church. He is also President of the Young People's Society of the church, and is Deputy State Councilor of the Patriotic Order United American Mechanics. He is very well known in this city, and he has resided for the past seven years. Ripans Tabules are sold by druggists, and the two cuts were taken one during the illness and the other immediately after his recovery.

IF

you do your marketing at my meat shop there will be no fault to find and you will have peace of mind.

I consider a pleased customer my best advertisement.

It is not economy to buy a cheap quality of meat. Good, honest meat aids good digestion. Every pound of meat I sell has undergone close scrutiny. I handle the highest grade of meat money can buy.

Fresh Beef means fresh beef when you buy of me, just killed, young, tender, juicy meat and wholesome. Nothing uncertain about it.

I am in this business to stay and could not afford to sell an inferior quality of meat. I only charge the same price as other dealers.

I sell Fresh Killed Poultry, Jersey Broilers and Game in season.

If you wish me to call for your order I will do so and deliver your goods promptly.

I sell all kinds of meats to suit the season, fresh, wholesome, appetizing and nutritious.

Everything depends on health and health depends on strong, nutritious food. Tender, juicy meat eaten regularly enriches the blood, strengthens the body.

If you want to feel perfectly safe and save money at the same time, come to my meat market. I like to see new faces.

HE DISOBEYED AGUINALDO.

The Filipino Leader Prefers Charges Against One of His Generals.

DID NOT ATTACK IMUS.

Proofs Obtained That Mayor of Imus and Other Officials Are Filipino Sympathizers.

Many Native Soldiers Visiting the Town in Disguise—No Desire on the Part of Americans to Stop Them—Filipino Troops Scattered By Capt. Butler's Men.

Manila, Sept. 8.—The secret service has learned that Aguinaldo has preferred charges against the Filipino general commanding in the Cavite province for failing to obey an order to attack Imus.

The Americans treat the Filipinos more like fractious children than enemies. Proofs have been obtained that the mayor of Imus and five members of the council are active native sympathizers, and many Filipino soldiers are visiting the town in disguise. There is no dsire to stop them, however, as it is believed that a display of the American rsources and the efforts to give the Filipinos a good government will have a beneficial effect.

Capt. Butler, with three companies of the Third Infantry, a detachment of cavalry and one gun, while upon a reconnoissance, met a body of natives at San Rafael. The Americans scattered the enemy and captured seven prisoners, five rifles and 300 rounds of ammunition. They also destroyed the rice stored in seven warehouses. The Filipinos are supposed to belong to the command of Gen. Pio del Pilar, who, with his main force, retreated to the north.

The reconnoissance is to be continued and the natives followed toward Maasin.

The United States transport Newport will take home to the United States the Eighteenth Regiment, the last company of the Signal Corps Volunteers, the Nevada cavalry and various discharged soldiers.

More Troops Start for Manila.

Washington, Sept. 8.—The activity of the War Department officials and the close figuring that is being done regarding the available forces in the Philippines indicate an early movement against the Filipinos. It has been known that a forward movement was contemplated in November, but there are now indications that the campaign may begin at least a month earlier, if there should be favorable weather conditions.

By Oct. 1 Gen. Otis will have an army of 31,000 effective fighting men. It is believed by some officials of the army that such a force ought to begin an active campaign without delay unless the weather conditions are such as to prevent it absolutely.

Fall Campaign in Philippines.

Chicago, Sept. 8.—The Thirteenth Regiment, recruited at Fort Sheridan, has left here for San Francisco en route to Manila. Fifty-two per cent. of the men are veterans reenlisted.

The Oceanic's First Voyage.

Queenstown, Sept. 8.—The new White Star Line steamship Oceanic, Captain Cameron, which left Liverpool Wednesday, sailed from this port on her maiden trip to the United States, having 2,044 souls aboard. The vessel received an enthusiastic greeting here. She made the run from Liverpool in twelve hours, and everything on board is working satisfactorily.

Lipton May "Lift" Killarney.

London, Sept. 8.—The directors of the Standard Insurance Company have received Sir Thomas Lipton's offer for the Lakes of Killarney. A meeting has been called to consider the matter. The officials of the company say Sir Thomas Lipton is the only person who has ever seriously negotiated for the purchase of the lakes.

Intense Heat in Louisville.

Louisville, Ky., Sept. 8.—The government thermometer yesterday registered 102 degrees, the highest recorded here with the exception of Aug. 12, 1881, when 105 degrees was reached. Half a dozen cases of prostration were reported, one resulting fatally, George A. Jones having died.

St. Louis, Mo., Sept. 8.—Reports received from thirteen weather stations within a radius of 150 miles of St. Louis show that the average maximum temperature yesterday was 104 degrees.

Harvard's New Observatory.

Kingston, Jamaica, Sept. 8.—Prof. Edward Charles Pickering of Harvard has sailed for home. He has located the probable site of Harvard's northern hemisphere observatory, complementary to the southern observatory in Peru.

Brazil's Independence Day.

Rio De Janeiro, Sept. 8.—Brazil is celebrating the seventy-seventh anniversary of the proclamation of its independence. President Campos Salles will receive the diplomatic corps and will afterward receive the chief officers of the army and navy.

Think Lightly of the Plague.

Oporto, Sept. 8.—The Faculty of Medicine has telegraphed to King Charles, asking him to come here in person and "see the uselessness of the vigorous quarantine." They belittle the seriousness of the plague outbreak.

Corn Injured by Heat.

Omaha, Neb., Sept. 8.—The extreme heat of the past week has done considerable damage to the corn crop in Nebraska, Iowa and northern Missouri. The yield estimated a week ago is to fall off from 10 to 15 per cent.

COMING EVENTS.

September 10—Harry Gee will address the men's rally at the Y. M. C. A. Hall Vocal and instrumental music.

September 11—Regular meeting of Association Volunteer League of the Y. M. C. A.

Senator Kean will perform an honorable act in paying the expenses of the county for the preliminary work in the county boulevard project. Such was the understanding at the time of the inception of the idea, and though the county did not legally safeguard its interests in the event of the boulevard failing to materialize, it is none the less morally binding on Mr. Kean to see to it that the county is not a loser by the negotiations. We are glad to see that he does not intend to shirk his responsibilities, but will pay the fiddler and charge it up to profit and loss.

The Philadelphia Public Ledger, discussing the Shamrock and Columbia, remarks: "The cup itself cost a few hundreds of dollars; to keep it in this country Americans have spent hundreds of thousands of dollars; to get it back to England, whence the American wrested it, has cost British yachtsmen more hundreds of thousands of dollars. It is probably the costliest piece of silver ever wrought since the days of that famous worker in metals, the late Tubal Cain."

The example given by Congressman Luntz in his speech at the mass meeting in New York of the government censorship of the official news from Manila, is sufficiently to the point. Mr. Lentz said the War Department gave out a dispatch as follows: "Volunteers willing to remain." The Congressman went to the department and asked to see the original, which read: "Volunteers unwilling to re-enlist, but willing to remain until transports arrive."

With Washingtonville aspiring for a postoffice and the trolley at once it would appear that the sleepy old community intended to shake off its lethargy and become some pumpkins in the world. May the residents of the vicinity succeed in their undertaking.

In its stand towards the Boers England is a good deal like the small boy who has his first pair of brass-tipped boots. He only kicks such school-mates as he knows that he can whip because of their under-size.

Mazet is whetting his knives and getting ready for another session of his investigators in New York. Meanwhile the Ramapo job slumbers and all Tammany is on good behaviour.

Dr. N. B. Boileau, of Jutland, Hunterdon county, a Democratic worker, is likely to be nominated for the Assembly in the upper district in Hunterdon county.

The Dreyfus trial seems to have resolved itself into one continuous dispute between Maitre Labori and Col. Jouaust.

The next legal holiday is Thanksgiving, but Dewey day will come pretty near being one in these parts.

PASSING COMMENT

Things that Are Not Exactly News but Just as Interesting.

This is a wonderfully busy season for the telephone companies that reach the summer resorts. During the spring the companies cannot work fast enough to put in telephones for those who have chosen their abiding place for the summer and are anxious to have all the modern conveniences at their summer home. When the time for the return to the city comes, the same folk are equally anxious to have the 'phones taken out for they do not care to go to the expense of taking telephone charges all the fall and winter without any advantage in return. Some of the companies are working their linemen night and day to answer the great demand.

A prominent resident of this city, in conversation with a Press representative, said that he would give Street Commissioner Gavett and the members of the councilmanic street committee $1 if they would ride with him on some of Plainfield's streets. He said he would not take them over two blocks away from the Central Railroad on either side, and the trip will not cover over one mile. He is particularly anxious that the chairman of the street committee ride on the front seat of his wagon with him. His object is making this offer is to show the guardians of the streets what wretched avenues there are in this city. Anyone of the designated city officials interested in this scheme can learn something further about it at 161 North avenue.

The Somerville Unionist-Gazette tells this story at the expense of a Plainfielder: It was past midnight, and the hum of the engine and the clatter of the type-setting machine in the Unionist-Gazette office broke the stillness of the night on the street, when a belated individual in fine attire, with a costly hat set at an acute, blood-thirsty angle, over his left eye, drifted in with a broad-gauge swagger and exclaimed:

"Where's hic-telegraph-hic-office? Heard 'ticker' up here, and wanter wire my dear little wife that I am-hic-all right.

"Watcher matter with me? Hayseed conductor carried me past Plainfield and set me loose here in the woods. If I find him I'll kill him."

At this stage the Plainfield commuter began to punch the air and execute a war dance around an imaginary foe, in a manner that threatened to wreck the office furniture. It took two men and the office devil to subdue him and place him on the last trolley car for Plainfield. In parting he wept, and pathetically shouted: "Boys don't tell my little wife that I took that type infernal machine for a ticker, cause she will think I am drunk, and I aint, see."

STATE TRAVELING LIBRARIES.

Mrs. Kate B. Horton, of Cranford Confers With Secretary of State.

Mrs. Kate Brownlee Horton, of Cranford, chairman of the department of libraries of the New Jersey Federation of Woman's Clubs, visited the Statehouse at Trenton yesterday and had a conference with State Librarian Henry C. Buchanan and Secretary of State George Wurts with reference to the proposed traveling libraries.

A plan for the establishment of the traveling libraries has been prepared to be introduced at the next meeting of the library commission, and the scheme was gone over by the three. In general Mrs. Horton heartily approved of the system, with the exception of the proposition to start with 20 libraries of 50 volumes each. She thought better results would be obtained by beginning with 40 libraries of 25 volumes each.

Mrs. Horton is also anxious to have a sample traveling library on exhibition at Atlantic City, where there will be a meeting of club women in October.

Rev. Austin E. Armstrong, of Drew Theological Seminary, will preach at Monroe Avenue church next Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. George Ballentyne, of East Second street, have returned home after spending a month with Mrs. Ballentyne's parents at Easton, Pa.

NO HAZING AT PRINCETON.

New Dean Has No Fear of a Resumption of the Practice.

(Special to The Daily Press.)

Princeton, Sept. 8—Dr. Samuel Ross Winans, who was elected to succeed the late Dr. Murray as dean of the University, arrived here Wednesday from Nova Scotia, where he has been spending his summer vacation. Dean Winans will enter upon his duties at once. He said today: "No radical changes in the discipline are contemplated by me at present, and the methods which my honored predecessor used will be practically followed, changes taking place as occasion may necessitate."

Neither the dean nor President Patton fear that hazing will trouble the institution this year. Last December the students adopted resolutions abolishing hazing, and this is thought to be a final settlement of that question.

GRAIN-O BRINGS RELIEF

to the coffee drinker. Coffee drinking is a habit that is universally indulged in and almost as universally injurious. Have you tried Grain-O? It is almost like coffee but the effects are just the opposite. Coffee upsets the stomach, ruins the digestion effects the heart and disturbs the whole nervous system. Grain-O tones up the stomach, aids digestion and strengthens the nerves. There is nothing but nourishment in Grain-O. It can't be otherwise. 15 and 25c. per package.

AMERICAN STEAM LAUNDRY,

122 East Front Street.

By our new process of ironing we are enabled to give you a perfect domestic finish, and to launder turn down collars without breaking them. Call and see how we do it; you are welcome to inspect our plant at all times; no mystery about our work.

Hand work on all shirt waists, cost a little more, but perfect satisfaction guaranteed.

SOMETHING ABOUT CARPETS.

The carpet season is here again, and as usual we are ready for it with what we claim is not only the largest, but the most carefully selected stock ever offered the people of this community. A marked reaction has taken place in the carpet business, viz: An increased demand for better grades. People have made the discovery that we made years ago, that good carpets are always cheapest. Our fall stock has been selected with this in view. We are showing a higher grade of carpets than ever before in the history of our business, and the readiness with which our customers are responding to same is most gratifying. We select the best patterns from the most reliable makers only and satisfaction is guaranteed in every particular.

Moquettes, Axminster, Saronneries in the latest designs, the richest colorings and most pleasing effects. Tapestries and velvets in beautiful patterns. All particularly good for parlor and dining room. An unusually good assortment of all-wool Ingrains, suitable for bedrooms, etc. Reversible, they will give splendid service. Our line of church carpets we consider superior to that of most N. Y. City stores. Cocoa mattings for public buildings. It comes in plain and striped patterns.

Ingrain Art Squares, Jute Smyrna art squares, all-wool Smyrna rugs, Royal Wilton rugs, Mouquette rugs, Cocoa mats, Rubber mats, etc., etc. Cocoa mats with rubber ends for piazzas made to order. Shades made to order and ready made. Contracts made for furnishing whole houses.

Lace curtains, Portierres, tapestries, furniture coverings, rug fringes, sash curtains, curtain poles and fixtures, brass rods, stair pads and everything else in curtain fixtures.

Our assortment of Linoleums and Oil Cloths, we feel safe in saying, is far above the average. We handle only goods we can recommend. We employ only the most experienced workmen, and all carpet laying, oil cloth fitting and shade hanging is done in the best possible manner.

About Furniture.

If all the young people who have been getting married lately or who expect to be married in the near future will call on us we will agree to save them a snug sum on Furniture. We are in a position to sell Furniture cheap. Same is true of Bedding, Crockery and housefurnishings in general.

THINGS THAT INTEREST SCOTCH PLAINS AND DUNELLEN.

Brief and Terse Observations Gathered by Alert Press Reporters to be Perused at the Supper Table at Your Leisure

DUNELLEN.

(Special Correspondence of The Daily Press.)

Dunellen, Sept. 8—Constable Luther Mundy, of New Market, caused some excitement yesterday afternoon by appearing in the streets with three men whom he had handcuffed. He boarded a trolley car and went to New Brunswick with his prisoners. It is understood that the men arrested were tramps who had been picked up in New Market and sentenced to the county jail.

George W. Day, propietor of The Dunellen Call, with his wife returned Wednesday evening from Stratford, Ont. They were given a hearty reception by the band boys, who gathered in front of the Dealaman building, where Mr. and Mrs. Day live, and gave them an old-fashioned serenade. Some of the younger boys secured a quantity of boxes and barrels and a huge bonfire was lighted on Washington avenue. While the fire burned the band played popular airs. Three cheers were given for the popular newspaperman and his estimable wife, who were royally welcomed. George was compelled to do the honors, which he did most gracefully and all the band boys were treated to cigars.

Mrs. Dodwell, wife of Conductor Charles Dodwell of the Central Railroad, accompanied by a number of ladies, visited Newark Wednesday night where they assisted in degree work. The ladies are all members of Iona Council, Degree of Pocohontas.

Mr. and Mrs. John Peters and mother yesterday drove to visit friends in the country over the mountains.

Workmen are engaged stringing a insulated cable for the New York and New Jersey Telephone Company.

Miss Elsie Petere is the proud possessor of a new wheel of the "Pennsylvania Flyer" make.

Miss Lizzie Dodwell, of Newark, is visiting her brother, Conductor Charles Dodwell.

Percy Tunison is visiting his mother at Glen Gardner.

PLAINS AND FANWOOD.

(Special Correspondence of The Press.)

Scotch Plains, September 8.—The many friends in this place of John O. Wilson will be grieved to learn of his death which occurred at Ocean Grove Wednesday. Mr. Wilson was well known in the village, having spent the summer of '98 in the Baptist parsonage during Rev. Mr. Braker's trip abroad. Mr. Wilson was born in the village nearly sixty-five years ago, and for a number of years was identified with the history of the place. In after years he moved to New York, but always kept in touch with the town of his birth, and when the Baptist church held its 150th anniversary he made a very interesting address upon reminisences of the struggle of the church and Sunday-school in the past. A widow, a daughter and two sons survive him. The funeral services will be held in the Baptist church tomorrow afternoon at an hour to be agreed upon later.

Work on the trolley across the Cook estate has been resumed again, Mr. Cook and the company coming to a satisfactory agreement regarding the route to be taken.

Andrew Riley, of New York, has been spending a week's vacation with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. James Riley, of Washington Valley.

Miss Nina Seber entertained her coworkers in the public school at her home at Dr. Parks' house last night.

Ernest Marsh and Arthur Chapin will represent Scotch Plains in the 16 mile road race in town tomorrow.

Miss Lucy Jennings, of Plainfield, was the guest of her cousin, Miss Nettie Reick, Thursday.

The Fanwood Borough Council met in their rooms last evening. Routine business was transacted.

Miss Lily Gibbs has returned home from a week's stay with Miss Gertruch McNair, of Brooklyn.

Miss Lillie Townsend, of New York, was the guest yesterday of Rev. and Mrs. G. M. Shott.

Miss May Johnson, of New York, is the guest of Mr. and Mrs. T.S. Young, of Fanwood.

Miss Tillie Keuhn has returned from a two weeks' visit with her aunt in Brooklyn.

Mrs. John Flannery has returned from a week's outing with friends in Newark.

John Bornman is sinking an artesian well in his Westfield avenue property.

Goodwill Lodge, K. of P., met in their rooms last evening.

Lokal-Nachrichten aus der alten Heimath.

Oesterreich.

Wien. Der hiesige Stadtrath hat beschlossen, den bisher als Reitallee benutzten Theil der Ringstraße in eine Allee für Radfahrer umzuwandeln, da die 50,000 Radfahrer Wiens eine größere Berücksichtigung verdienten als die wenigen hundert Reiter.—Der Infanterist, der im April als Wachtposten im Palais des Erzherzogs Karl Ludwig einen daselbst bediensteten Gärtnergehilfen erschoß, weil derselbe mit dem Wachtposten Streit anfing und ihm das Gewehr entreißen wollte, wurde vom Kriegsgerichte freigesprochen.

Budapest. In der hiesigen Militärverpflegungsbranche wurden große Unterschleife entdeckt. Zahlreiche Soldaten haben seit Monaten die Verpflegungsmagazine geplündert und Waaren im Werthe von angeblich 150,000 Gulden durch Vermittelung eines hiesigen Kaufmanns an einen galizischen Armeelieferanten verkauft. Bisher wurden sechs Soldaten verhaftet.

Budweis. In der benachbarten Ortschaft Porschitsch wurde die Wohnung des Baumeisters Novak durch ein Dynamitattentat vollkommen zerstört. Man glaubt, daß es sich um einen Racheakt handelt.

Graz. Hier bildete sich eine Ortsgruppe des Vereins der Altkatholiken, da die Behörde die Konstituirung einer selbstständigen altkatholischen Gemeinde verboten hatte.

Karlsbad. Der hiesige Abgeordnete zum böhmischen Landtag, Dr. Krzepel, der seinen deutsch-nationalen Kollegen für Trautenau, den Schönerianer Hermann Wolf, im Duell schwer verwundet hat, hat sein Landtagsmandat niedergelegt, da sein Verhalten in dem Duell mit Wolf in der Presse vielfach scharf kritisirt worden ist.

Oedenburg. In Janossa brachten sich Joseph und Alexander Molnar, Vater und Sohn, im Handgemenge so schwere Wunden bei, daß Beide an demselben Tage starben.

Temesvar. Nach mehrwöchiger Verhandlung wurde hier Karl Löwy wegen Getreidewuchers in 304 Fällen zu drei Monaten Gefängniß und 4000 Gulden Geldstrafe verurtheilt.

Wiener-Neustadt. In Lichtenwörth hatte der Landtagsabgeordnete und Gutsbesitzer Sauer das Unglück, beim Ausdrusch der Ernte von der Dampfdreschmaschine erfaßt und in die Dreschtrommel gerissen zu werden, wo er förmlich zermalmt wurde. Die Leiche war in entsetzlicher Weise zerstückelt, ehe es gelang, die Trommel zum Stillstand zu bringen.

Zara. Im Innern der Stadt kam es zwischen mit Pistolen und Messern bewaffneten Bauern des Dorfes Polesnik und des Dorfes Slivnitza wegen eines alten Zwistes, der um den Besitz eines Waldes ausgebrochen war, zu einem blutigen Kampfe. Polizei und Gendarmerie nahmen 52 Verhaftungen vor.

Schweiz.

Bern. Der Pariser Kaufmann Adolf Herz wollte mit seiner Familie die sich dicht hinter dem Kurhaus von Adelboden erhebende Schwandfeldspitze besteigen, die als absolut gefahrlose Bergtour angesehen wird. Unterwegs trennte sich Herz von seiner Umgebung, die nach Hause zurückging, während er noch einige Zeit auf der Schwandfeldspitze verweilen wollte. Er scheint sich nun dabei etwas verspätet zu haben, denn er wich von den üblichen Wegen ab und suchte auf kürzerem Pfade nach abwärts zu gelangen. Dabei stürzte er, und mit zerschmettertem Schädel fand ihn die von unten abgesandte Rettungsexpedition, die man, durch das lange Ausbleiben geängstigt, rasch zusammengesetzt hatte. Die Leiche wurde noch in der Nacht bei Laternenlicht in's Dorf geschafft.

Zürich. Ein kürzlich auf dem Piz d'Err im Oberengadin aufgefundene Leiche wurde als diejenige des seit August 1888 vermißten Adolf Hoffmann, Kaufmanns in Zürich, identifizirt. Er unternahm am 12. August 1888 mit Freunden eine Tour in's Bündnerland, wurde am 16. August noch in Pontresina gesehen; von diesem Tage an blieb er verschollen.

Schaffhausen. Zwei Bernhardinerhunde sind neulich den Rheinfall hinuntergetrieben worden und lebendig unten angekommen.

Graubünden. In Rhäzüns wurden durch eine Feuersbrunst 27 Häuser und Ställe eingeäschert. Aus sechs Nachbargemeinden waren Feuerwehren zur Hilfe herbeigeeilt. Außer einigem Vieh sind große Futter- und Getreidevorräthe verbrannt. Versichert ist leider wenig. Glücklicher Weise blieb kein Mensch in den Flammen.

Wallis. Eine in Zermatt abgestiegene Engländerin ist bei einer Tour in der Nähe von Zinal im Eisfischthal über eine Felswand abgestürzt; sie ist todt.

Genf. Pfarrer Blanchard, der Beichtvater Luchenis, hat der Regierung und der Stadtbehörde von Genf mitgetheilt, daß er die Absicht habe, eine Sühnkapelle (Elisabethkirche) in Genf erbauen zu lassen. Beide Behörden antworteten dem Pfarrer, daß ihm bei seinem Werke die weitestgehenden Erleichterungen gewährt werden sollen.

WOMEN'S REALM

WHAT TO WEAR AND HOW TO MAKE IT

May Manton's Hints Regarding Seasonable Toilettes.

Roman striped foulard made this attractive shirt waist, the fronts of which are cut bias and arranged so as to meet in V shape under the straight narrow box-plait in centre. The yoke presents the ever-popular double points in back, reaching further forward on the shoulders, a feature that marks the '98 styles. The fronts are gathered at the top onto the straight yoke edges, the gathers at the waist being arranged to give a modified pouch effect. The under or lining portion of yoke is cut with a straight back edge, onto which the gathers are arranged, the pointed yoke being then laid over and stitched firmly down on its edges, thus holding the gathers in position and giving a neat and firm finish. Over the standing linen collar is worn a bias stock of material, a narrow string tie finishing the neck. The use of this stock is optional, as the linen collar may be worn alone, but the pattern provides for both. The up-to-date shirt sleeves that differ materially from those of a season ago are shaped by inside seams and gathered slightly at upper and lower edges. The usual slashes at the back are finished by under and over-laps that are closed just above the cuffs with single button and buttonhole, turn up link cuffs completing the natty shirt sleeves.

To cut this waist for a lady of medium size three and one-quarter yards of material thirty-six inches wide will be required.

New Lounging Robes.

Many an invalid will hail with pleasure the comfort of a new sort of bed jacket, made with a sacque back and a novel kind of sleeve that can be slipped on without raising the arm.

For the tired woman who tries to take a bit of a nap after her round of calls or her shopping expeditions, a pretty easy gown is of cream and almond cloth, made with Watteau back and a large frill cape, edged with lace, a cascade of lace down the front and around the edge of the sleeves, every inch of lace introduced upon it being knitted.

A delightfully comfortable dressing sacque to slip on after a day spent in stiff bodices is of accordion-plaited flannel, falling loose and unconfined from the neck, back and front and leaving one absolute freedom—and consequent rest.

Ladies' Waist With Fitted Lining.

A trim Russian waist blousing only in front is made of fancy castor-colored cloth that matches the skirt. The right front is cut in squares or battlements and edged with violet velvet ribbon, through which a soft frill of lierre lace falls. The standing collar, trimmed on each edge with velvet, closes under a fan of lace held in place by a mother-of-pearl buckle. Belt of velvet fastened under buckle. A glove fitted lining that closes in centre front hold the ful-ness at the waist in place, the lining being drawn singly, while the front pouches slightly over the belt. The two-seamed sleeves have slight fulness at the top, surmounted by a rounded epaulette that is gathered full at the shoulder, the wrists being slashed and completed with decorations of velvet and lace. Waists like this can be developed in any seasonable material, the mode being just as suitable for cotton goods as for wool or silk. In making up wash fabrics the lining may be omitted, if so preferred, and three inches added to the length of the waist, so as to allow it to slip below the belt of skirt. A casing and draw string at the waist line will make it an easy garment to launder.

To cut this waist for a lady of medium size two and one-quarter yards material forty-four inches wide will be required.

Proud of Her Smuggling.

A society woman of St. Louis recently returned from Europe and laughingly boasted of the way in which she smuggled in a handsome unset diamond. She put the stone in a stick of chewing gum and chewed industriously. She got through without any trouble.

EPWORTH LEAGUE.

Topic For the Week Beginning Sept. 10, "An Early Epworth Leaguer"—Text, II Tim. iii, 10-17.

"From a child thou hast known the Holy Scriptures." When Paul visited Antioch, in Pisidia, Lystia, Iconium and Derbe on his first missionary tour, there was a boy in the crowds which listened to the Christian missionary's words who was deeply impressed by the new doctrines, and especially by the meekness and patience with which the preacher endured the persecutions by which his very life was threatened by the mob.

On a second journey to the same place Paul found this young man Timothy and took him as a traveling companion and helper in his life work as a traveling evangelist.

The two letters of the apostle written to his "son in the gospel," which we have in the Bible, are of great value to us at this time, as they must have been to Timothy when he received them. They do more than show the tender love of the aged master for his pupil. They reveal principles of divine truth in different phases and in new applications not so fully treated in any other part of the Bible.

Timothy had a godly mother, Eunice, and grandmother, Lois. His father was a Greek. From earliest boyhood the services of the synagogue had made him familiar with the Hebrew Scriptures, and he had earnest faith in the promises of God that a Messiah should come to redeem Israel. He was a boy who by his own choice inclined to the pure and elevating things of his Jewish lineage rather than to the vices and customs of his heathen surroundings and Grecian parentage.

He is a good type of the young Christian manhood of all lands and times. He was earnestly loyal to convictions of right and duty. He was resourceful and reliable. Tact and discretion in managing difficult persons and situations are apparent in his dealings. He was deeply and truly devoted to Jesus Christ and the cause of God among men—not a dreamer, but a thoughtful man of affairs.

He is an excellent example to us Leaguers. These two letters form a handbook of sound advice for us as young Christians of the Timothy type.

Bishop John M. Walden.

For two years past the work of the Methodist Episcopal church in Europe has been under his supervision. He has made only occasional visits to the United States, as the duties of his office demanded. The conferences in Italy, Germany, Switzerland, Denmark, Norway and Sweden have been held by him, and much has been done by personal contact with preachers and people to assist the work. He is 68 years old, but still vigorous in mind and body. His training has given him eminent fitness for the position he occupies. He graduated in 1853 at the age of 21 years. He taught school, engaged in newspaper work, was in Kansas in the troublous times when the fate of the state was in the balance. He joined conference in 1858 and became pastor, presiding elder, secretary of the Freedmen's Aid society and in 1868 one of the western book agents. He was a delegate to general conference in 1868, 1872 and 1876 and was elected bishop in 1864. He has made a tour of the world, superintending mission work in Japan, Korea, China and India.

Loss of Appetite.

Hunger is a sign of health. When one loses appetite, there is sure to be disease near at hand. This is equally true of mind and soul matters as of body. Relish for good and pure things is a sign of a healthy soul. Appetite for clean thought and intellectual action argues vigor and virility of mind. Exercise of any and every power is necessary to retain it in tone and preserve it. Disuse of any organ of the body or capability of the person will end in its weakness or positive loss. The religious nature must be cultivated, or it will become paralyzed and dead. No one becomes strong and efficient in Christian virtue except by persistent and long practice of the Christian virtues. Our life should be well rounded. We have many sides to our nature. None should be neglected. We need the whole armor of God, and every part of our being should be developed to support the divine panoply. If relish for any good thing is lacking, take warning and correct the evil.

Overlooking.

We often miss opportunities because we are looking too far away. They mainly lie just at our feet. No one has to seek far for a chance. Some chance is ever at hand. Small it may be, not so attractive as we desire, but yet a chance. If despised and rejected, it often blocks all passage to better and greater openings. If the present occasion is seized and made the most possible of, enlarged spheres are sure to result and unexpected privileges rise from the little faithfully done.

CHRISTIAN ENDEAVOR.

Topic For the Week Beginning Sept. 10—Comment by Rev. S. H. Doyle.

TOPIC.—An early Christian Endeavorer.—II Tim. iii, 10-17. (A union meeting with the junior society.)

Timothy is the illustration used of an early Christian Endeavorer. A study of his training, character and life will prove the wisdom of the selection of Timothy as an early endeavorer. He was born at Lystra or Derbe. His father was a Greek and probably died when Timothy was a babe. His mother was a Jewess named Eunice, and her mother was named Lois. The care and training of Timothy devolved upon his mother and grandmother. His training was therefore decidedly Jewish when Paul and Barnabas were in Lycaonia (Acts xiv, 6). Timothy and his mother received the gospel with "unfeigned faith." Seven years later, when Paul returned and Timothy had grown to young manhood, he was set apart to the work of an evangelist. He then became a companion and colaborer with Paul and was signally consecrated and devoted. Later he was stationed at Ephesus to check the heresies and licentiousness of the Ephesian church. Tradition says that he continued here as pastor of the church of Ephesus and died a martyr's death under Domitian or Nerva.

In what did Timothy resemble a Junior Endeavorer?

1. Timothy's religious training began in his childhood. That Timothy might stand steadfast in the faith amid the heresies of Ephesus Paul reminded him that "from a babe thou hast known the Holy Scriptures, which are able to make thee wise unto salvation, through faith which is in Christ Jesus." The Junior Endeavorer begins early to be religiously trained and taught, and the Holy Scriptures should be his principal religious textbook. He should begin early to commit God's word to memory.

2. Timothy as an early Endeavorer had good teachers. Paul speaks of those of whom Timothy had learned his religious truths. Whether the apostle refers to the Holy Spirit, to himself or Timothy's mother and grandmother is a matter of difference of opinion. But Timothy was taught by all. The Holy Ghost taught him, Paul taught him, and his dear ones taught him. They understood what they taught and whom they taught. They knew the Holy Scriptures and understood child life, which every successful teacher of children must do. They taught by example as well as precept. Paul, Eunice and Lois exemplified to Timothy the Scriptural truths which they taught him. No one should presume to train children unless he knows what he teaches, whom he teaches and exemplifies in his own life that which he teaches.

3. Timothy was a working Endeavorer. He soon developed evangelistic talent and was placed on that committee and was a great success as a missionary and an evangelist. Juniors must work as well as be taught.

4. Timothy's life was molded and determined by the early training he received. Junior work is a failure unless it produces character. A Christian character should be the aim of all Junior work, and Christ should be the great model, constantly held up before all Endeavorers.

Bible Readings.—Deut. v, 16; I Sam. i, 20-28; iii, 1-14; II Kings xxii, 1-6; Ps. i, 1-6; viii, 1-8; Prov. i, 8-16; vi, 20-23; xxii, 1; Eccl. xii, 1; Eph. vi, 1-3; Col. iii, 20.

True Friendship.

True friendship is born from true character. He or she who is true to self is true to everybody. Those who prove themselves to be always loyal, always true, frank and upright toward us, yet kind—not afraid to compliment us and not afraid to reprove us for our own good—are, what Alcott beautifully terms them, "The leaders of the bosom, being more ourselves that we are, and we compliment our affections in theirs." Love is the synonym of God, and friendship is so closely akin to it that love clothes it in its own beauty. If we were more earnest in exercising the true spirit of religion, true friendship would not be such a rare thing, and he world would be made the brighter and truer. —Julia Teresa Butler in Catholic Universe.

His Name.

There is an old legend of an enchanted cup filled with poison and put treacherously into a king's hand. He signed the sign of the cross and named the name of God over it, and it shivered in his grasp. Do you take this name of the Lord as a test? Name Him over many a cup which you are eager to drink of, and the glittering fragments will lie at your feet and the poison be spilled on the ground. What you cannot lift before His pure eyes and think of Him while you enjoy, is not for you.—Alexander Maclaren, D. D.

The Ingenuousness of Childhood.

Children are single minded an deimple. The ingenuousness of childhood is one of its charms. Insincerity and pretense are foreign to the child, and its life is a transparent one. In this respect we all need to become as little children.

The shams with which our life is filled should be flung away. The deceptions of foolish pride should be dropped, and we should live one with another in the simplicity of childhood. Only thus may we know the happiness that belongs to none but the absolutely honest.—Evangelist.

Called to Account.

Just as the tiny shells make up the chalk hills and the chalk hills together make up the range, so the trifling actions make up the whole account, and each of these must be pulled asunder separately. You had an hour to spare the other day—what did you do? You had a voice—how did you use it? You had a pen—you could use that—how did you employ it? Each particular shall be brought out, and there shall be demanded an account for each one.—Spurgeon.

TROOPS ARE CALLED OUT.

Kruger Orders the Artillery to Make Preparations For Actual Service.

THE DEMAND IS DEFIANT

Belief is Expressed at Cape Town That Hostilities Cannot Possibly Be Avoided.

More British Troops Are Placed Under Waiting Orders—Matters to Be Forced to an Issue at Once—The Burghers Are Given Notice to Be Ready.

Cape Town, Sept. 8.—President Kruger has called out all the artillery forces of the Transvaal.

Notice has been sent to all the Burgher military organizations to hold themselves in readiness for instant service.

President Kruger, in an interview, declared that he had given equal treatment to all and had tried to induce foreigners to become citizens.

The foreigners, he said, wanted all the privileges of citizenship, but refused to bear its burdens.

They protested against being commanded in 1895, though the command was a test of willingness to assume the duties of burghership. Baron Henry Brougam Loch, who was then Governor of Cape Colony and High Commissioner to South Africa, represented to him that the Outlanders did not wish to become burghers and he (Kruger) induced the Raad to exempt them.

Later he invited the Outlanders to participate in the Malabach campaign. Whoever accepted this proposition received full burghership.

The convention of 1884 gave the Outlanders civil rights, but did not give political ones. Therefore he wanted to bring them these rights by inducing them to accept military duty. This they refused to do.

Prepared For Anything.

London, Sept. 8.—The Cape Town correspondent of the Pall Mall Gazette says it is believed in Afrikander circles that the Transvaal intends forcing matters to a sudden issue and that war may possibly come in forty-eight hours. The first act expected is an advance by the Boers on Laingsnek. It is rumored that there is a plot in Pretoria to blow up the British Agency at the same time.

The Standard and Diggers' News in its London edition says that the diplomatic correspondence between England and the Transvaal is reassuring. The disputed questions have narrowed down, it says, to a point where a speedy settlement is possible. No reliance, this paper adds, should be put in the statements of panic-stricken correspondents. The Transvaal is prepared for anything, but remains hopeful of a peaceful settlement.

The Central News states on the most trustworthy authority that in consequence of repeated representations from Natal, the Government has undertaken to move 10,000 troops from India to South Africa within a week.

The Central News states that Lieut.-Gen. Sir Redvers Buller will be appointed Commander of the British forces in South Africa in the event of war.

Changes For the Worse.

London, Sept. 8.—If the Transvaal situation has changed at all, it is for the worse. The Boer request for an explanation as to the massing of British troops on the frontier of the Transvaal has an ominous note of irritation and impatience, which, at such a critical stage, can scarcely be interpreted as anything but a defiance.

Both here and in Cape Colony the tension and the arming continue. Whether the Cabinet council will afford immediate relief is still a question of great doubt.

The more conservative believe that the Cabinet will only put a time limit between the negotiations, and that the interim will merely be a repetition of the anxious times which have marked the past few weeks.

Cape Town advices say the Afrikanders regard the latest Boer reply as evasive, while others regard it as designed to entangle the two governments in further negotiations.

The average opinion of the British press is inclined to regard it as the straw which would break the back of the most long suffering diplomatic camel.

Great Excitement at Pretoria.

Pretoria, Sept. 8.—There was great excitment in the First Raad over Mr. Coetser's interpellation of the Government regarding the presence of British troops on the borders and the stoppage of ammunition consigned to the Transvaal.

President Kruger, the members of the Executive Council and most of the principal officials were present, together with a large representation of the general public, including many women.

At the outset the chairman and President urged members to preserve calmness and to avoid insulting language.

Among other things is was declared that open fighting was preferable to the existing conditions.

The Lynn Canal Port.

London, Sept. 8.—Government officers repudiate the idea, conveyed in despatches from the United States that England is to forego her claim for a port on the Lynn Canal in Alaska, even temporarily. Otherwise they share the hopes of the American Government for an early settlement of the Alaskan boundary question.

Tennessee Coal Miners Strike.

Chattanooga, Sept. 8.—Two hundred coal miners at the Salt Creek mines have struck because the company is furnishing coal to the Dayton Coal and Iron Company, whose miners are on a strike for higher wages.

Some persons say they are never influenced by an advertisement.

It is not expected that any one will buy Ivory Soap solely because it is suggested by an advertisement, but if you have never used Ivory Soap, you may be induced to ask some friend about it; should you find—as you probably will—that she is enthusiastic in its praise, then you may try it.

Millions of people use Ivory Soap; they use it because they like it. You too will like it. There is a difference in soaps.

SPORTING.

GOLF.

Saturday afternoon, September 16th, the golf team from the Morristown Field Club will come to Plainfield and contest for honors with the team from the Hillside Tennis and Golf Club.

Green Keeper Barrie is quite proud of the condition of the Park Golf Club at present. He has been hard at work all summer and the results of his efforts are apparent. The course will be in fine shape for the fall play.

In the eyes of most of the golfers, September and October are the ideal months in the year for the sport. There is not the great heat of the summer and the air is crisp and bracing as they tramp over the smooth turf. Golf is growing in popularity among the Plainfield folk all the time and the next two monts will undoubtedly see great crowds on the two local courses.

The result of the competition on the links of the Park Golf Club tomorrow for the McCutchen Cup will be watched with interest. W. de la R. Anderson, who is considered the club champion, is now in the lead with Meredith Dryden, secretary of the club, second and Gifford W. Cooley a close third. The result in the play tomorrow may change the order of the competitors. Then, too, there will be a number of the players, who have been away all summer, who will be back in Plainfield again ready to compete for the cup. Some of the novices are hard at work trying to improve their game sufficiently to score a point for themselves.

There is some talk of arranging a "kickers" handicap over the course of the Hillside Tennis and Golf Club so that the members of that club will have no reason to kick at their handicaps. The kickers' handicap is a novel sort of competition that has found favor with several of the large clubs this summer. Its object is to give everybody a chance to be satisfied with their own handicap. A stated score is announced or a basis on which to figure, and then each competitor is allowed to hand in his or her own handicap which he or she thinks is deserving to bring the score to the score announced. The members then play and the one whose net score is nearest to the stated score wins the competition, while the others are expected to pay a certain amount toward a cup for each stroke they differ from the score first announced.

CYCLING COMMENT.

W. S. Emery's 16-mile road race will be run tomorrow afternoon at 4 o'clock, weather permitting.

A. R. Greene, the young Plainfielder who finished second in the Labor Day road race at Westfield, made his first appearance in any cycling event on that occasion. He is a young man, of seventeen years but rode hard and well and has in him the promise of a very strong rider. He was pushing an 87 gear in that race against the heavy wind. He is a brother of J. H. Greene, Jr., of Verdon street, who is one of Plainfield's fastest sprinters.

GOLD AND SILVER.

Found in Hunterdon County in Small Quantities, Not Paying to Work.

(Special to The Daily Press.)

Flemington, Sept. 3—Gold and silver have been discovered at Woodglen, Hunterdon county, upon the lands of Eugene Cowell. Cowell was sinking a well and in the rocks which were blasted were found bright specks. He took one specimen to an assayer and he found that it contained $1.25 gold and $1 silver to the ton. The second specimen, dislodged about 18 feet from the surface, showed about $6.67 gold and $1 silver to the ton.

This is said to be only about half enough of the precious metal to make the work pay. It is hoped, however, that gold in larger quantities will be found and that an important discovery has been made.

Land in the vicinity where the discovery was made has advanced already, and symptoms of the gold fever prevail everywhere in the vicinity.

PARTICULAR MENTION.

Miss Nellie Brown, of Dunellen, has been visiting Miss Pauline Denton, of Washington avenue.

Mrs. Polhemus, of Somerville, is visiting Mr. and Mrs. Peter B. Hodge, of Plainfield avenue.

Dr. and Mrs. A. S. Fritts, of Hawley, Pa., are visiting at the home of Dr. J. T. Fritts, of Park avenue.

Mrs. Isaac P. Runyon, of Somerset street, has returned from a visit with her parents at Pluckamin.

Wants Damages From Central.

Henry Leahy, an Elizabeth florist, has brought suit against the Central Railroad Company for $5,000 damages for the wrecking of his greenhouses on the night of April 27th, when a gondola car jumped the track.

His Life Was Saved.

Mr. J. E. Lilly, a prominent citizen of Hannibal, Mo., lately had a wonderful deliverance from a frightful death. In telling of it he says: "I was taken with Typhoid Fever, that ran into Pneumonia. My lungs became hardened. I was so weak I couldn't even set up in bed. Nothing helped me. I expected to soon die of Consumption, when I heard of Dr. King's New Discovery. One bottle gave great relief. I continued to use it, and now am well and strong. I can't say too much in its praise." This marvelous medicine is the surest and quickest cure in the world for all Throat and Lung Trouble. Regular sizes 50 cents and $1.00. Trial bottles free at L. W. Randolph's Drug Store; every bottle guaranteed.

THE AMUSEMENT WORLD

CURRENT ATTRACTIONS THAT PLAINFIELDERS MAY WITNESS.

Local and Metropolitan Performances That Will Please Those Who Delight in the Art of Thespis and Mimic World

Frank M. Wills and his company of fun-makers opened for a three nights' engagement in Music Hall last night, presenting a farcical mixture known as "In Atlantic City." It is really the "Two Old Cronies" built over and up-to-date matter introduced. It is chock full of laughter. It has a bevy of pretty singing and dancing girls and a number of very good comedians, headed by Mr. Wills himself, who is well-known to nearly all theatre-goers. Mr. Wills is one of those men of whom it may be said that "he is just naturally funny." In his portrayal of the German professor last night he demonstrated this fact. The piece was presented with lively spirit, and scarcely allowed a dull moment during the presentation. The specialties of Miss Estella Wills were very entertaining. Tonight the company will appear in "Boston Friends" and tomorrow afternoon they will reproduce "In Atlantic City."

* * * * *

The beautiful western melodrama "Daniel Boone" that became so popular a few years ago, has again been put on the road on the same liberal plan as before, and will be seen at Music Hall next Tuesday night. "Daniel Boone" is the best written border drama ever written. The characters are all historical. The acting company is a very strong one. The plot of the piece and the story it tells is a thrilling one. The comedy is splendid and using up-to-date specialties are introduced. And to give this grand old production true to nature a band of genuine Indian squaws and papooses, scouts, trappers, cowboys and beautiful trained horses are carried. There will be a grand street parade on the day of performance.

No Right to Ugliness.

The woman who is lovely in face, form and temper will always have friends, but one who would be attractive must keep her health. If she is weak, sickly and all run down, she will be nervous and irritable. If she has constipation or kidney trouble, her impure blood will cause pimples, blotches, skin eruptions and a wretched complexion. Electric Bitters is the best medicine in the world to regulate stomach, liver and kidneys and to purify the blood. It gives strong nerves, bright eyes, smooth, velvet skin, rich complexion. It will make a good-looking, charming woman of a run-down invalid. Only 50 cents at L. W. Randolph's Drug Store.

SUED OLD EMPLOYER FOR LOSS OF LIMB.

George Christensen Started Suit for $20,000.

INJURED BY A HAY PRESS.

HOLDS JOHN LAMBERT, OF WILLOW GROVE, RESPONSIBLE.

Christensen Was Loading the Press With Hay When His Foot Caught in the Machinery and Was Crushed—Claims He Was Not Warned as to the Dangerous Character of the Press.

As the result of an accident that occurred to George Christensen last May and necessitated the amputation of one of his legs, Christensen has now started suit in the New Jersey Supreme Court against his former employer, John Lambert, of Willow Grove, near Westfield, for $20,000 damages. Christensen was working at the hay press at the time, and his foot was caught in the press, mashing it severely.

Christensen lives on West Fourth street, this city, and has labored more or less steadily on the Lambert farm for the past eight years. John Lambert, his former employer, is a brother to Isaac Lambert, and his house and barns are located right across the road from the latter's distillery. Mr. Lambert raises hay and then presses it into bales for the market. The hay press is run by horse power. Christensen alleges that he never received instructions as to the methods employed at the press and was never cautioned as to its alleged highly dangerous character. Mr. Lambert says that Christensen has often worked at the press.

On May 22d the press was working and Christensen was assisting in putting the hay into the press. For some reason they found some difficulty in feeding the press fast enough and Christensen used his foot to force the hay into the opening. He alleges that he did it at the direction of Lambert. The iron arms that are used to bind it caught his left foot and crushed it.

Christensen was taken into Lambert's house and physicians were summoned at once. A bone in his foot was removed. Later it was found necessary to amputate the leg just above the ankle, and still later just above the knee. The loss of the limb and the accompanying illness have incapacitated Christensen ever since and he has been able to do nothing.

Suit was started August 1st by his attorney, Joseph E. Stricker, of Perth Amboy, and the case will come up for trial in the October term of the Supreme Court at Elizabeth. A plea of not guilty has just been filed by Murphy & Blatz, the attorneys for Mr. Lambert.

IN A CHURCH, NOT A SALOON

Daniel W. Jones Gives the True Version of His Marriage, Which He Says is a "Romance."

Daniel W. Jones, of 566 Broome street, New York, who was married to a German girl at Hoboken Aug. 22d, writes to The Daily Press to correct the report published at the time in various newspapers to the effect that the ceremony was performed in a saloon at 12 o'clock at night. Mr. Jones refers to his marriage as a romance and says that a "German girl won an American husband." His happy bride is Miss Amelia Scherer, of Plainfield. They were married at St. Alphonso's church at 10 o'clock on the morning of Aug. 22d, by Rev. Father Murphy. Mr. Jones met his bride over a year ago. Among Miss Scherer's many admirers Mr. Jones was the successful aspirant for her heart and hand. Mr. Jones describes his bride as being "a tall and graceful girl, with bright, large eyes." The fond husband of Mrs. Jones is proud to state that he is a graduate of the Georgetown College, class of '89, and holds a responsibe position as manager for a large business house in New York city. Mr. and Mrs. Jones will travel South among the winter months.

Returning From Abroad.

WANTS MONEY BACK.

BANK THIEF VALENTINE SUES FOR $10,000 LOST IN GAMBLING.

Proprietor of a Long Branch Club is the Defendant—If the Money is Secured Bank Will Probably Receive It.

(Special to The Daily Press.)

New Brunswick, Sept. 9—George M. Valentine, who is now serving a term of six years in the State prison for robbing the Middlesex County Bank at Perth Amboy, has brought suit in the Supreme Court against Edward Marks, of Long Branch, through United States District Attorney J. Kearny Rice, of this city. Valentine sues to recover money which he lost at a Long Branch club of which Marks is said to be the owner. He asserts that he lost $13,000 on a single spin of the roulette wheel. The amount which he seeks to recover, however, is $10.000.

Valentine brings his suit under the first and fifth sections of the "Act to prevent gaming." In the first section it is declared that gaming is unlawful, and the fifth says that "any person who shall lose any money, goods, chattels or other valuable thing in violation of the first section may sue and recover the same from the winners or stakeholders, provided suit shall be brought within six months after payment or delivery of the money." E. S. Campbell, who lives in this city, says that if Valentine recovers the money, efforts will be made to have it turned over to the creditors of the banks which he robbed at Perth Amboy. Mr. Campbell is receiver for the Middlesex Bank.

THE OFFICIALS ACCEPT.

THEY WILL LET A. E. HOAGLAND SHOW THEM THE STREETS.

Latter Will Be on Hand Monday Morning to Convey Street Commissioner and the Committee Over Streets Needing Work

In The Daily Press yesterday there was published an article wherein a Plainfielder offered Street Commissioner Gavett and the Councilmanic street committee the sum of $1 to take a ride with him over territory not over one mile in extent and not over two blocks on either side of the railroad.

The offer was a sincere one, and the man making it, A. E. Hoagland, of North avenue, is delighted to learn today that it has been accepted.

An appointment has been made for 8 o'clock Monday morning and the start will probably be from the North Avenue station. The object is to show the officials the condition of certain streets which Mr. Hoagand thinks has been unobserved by them. The trip will probably be made in one of Mr. Hoagland's drays.

GROUND UNDER HORSE CAR.

Horrible Death That Befell a Former Scotch Plains Resident While in New York City.

The friends of John G. McNair, a former resident of Scotch Plains, were shocked yesterday to learn of his sudden death Thursday evening in New York city. Mr. McNair had just left his work and while boarding a horse-car to take him to his home his foot slipped, or he missed his hold, and fell under the wheels. The car passed over his chest, crushing him horribly. An ambulance was summoned, but before it arrived he was dead. Mr. McNair was a member of Fanwood Council, 744, R. A., and that organization held a meeting last evening and took action upon the death of their brother. A committee was appointed to attend the funeral, which will be held from his late residence in Brooklyn Sunday afternoon.

Voted to Construct the Sewer.

(Special to The Daily Press.)

Elizabeth, September 9.—The Township Committee, of Union, met Tuesday night and passed on the ordinance to construct a sewer through the north section of the township, which includes Lorrane, Roselle and Aldine. There was not the slightest opposition shown to the project. The meeting was held in the Town Hall of Union, and was presided over by W. A. Bembridge. Speeches were made by former Freeholder Noah Woodruff and other citizens, heartily indorsing the proposed sewer system.

New Uniforms for Fire Laddies.

The members of the West End Hose Company received their new uniforms last Thursday evening and are very much pleased with them. They were made by Schepflin & Schultz, which is a guarantee that they are all right. Augustus Feiring, as chairman of the committee having the matter in charge, deserves credit for the advantageous terms and bargain secured by the fire laddies. The new suits will be worn on October 12th for the first time, when the firemen's parade will be held in the borough.

GOVERNOR AND HATS.

MR. VOORHEES HAS THEM IN ALL KINDS AND SHAPES.

But the Trouble is That He Does Not Always Have the Right Hat Ready for the Right Suit That He Proposes to Wear.

Governor Foster M. Voorhees has been trying to improve on his hats. He never was much of a stickler for style, but since he has been raised to the Chief Magistrate's chair he has been buying the latest thing in headgear.

The Governor, being a bachelor, has no wife to keep the right hat handy for the right suit, and being a farmer's son, he has no valet to see that he does not violate the decrees of fashion. In consequence of these omissions he wears the first hat that comes handy, believing fondly in the distorted maxim borrowed from the poet Burns, "A man's a man in all hats."

The Governor grew up in a Fedora. Whether they were shown on fashion plates or not, he wore a soft hat with a wide brim. As a political thinking cap it was a great success. As Assemblyman and Senator he continued his fancy for a soft hat. It would match a sack coat or a cutaway, so he stuck to it.

When he came to the Executive Department he found that custom had ordained that all State officials wore a fixed hat copyrighted by its owner. Adjutant Gen. W. S. Stryker, who rides beside the Governor on State occasions, has a high silk hat with a brim that would make the Prince of Wales envious. There is only one block of the kind. The State Librarian that was, Morris R. Hamilton, wore the high hat of the Andrew Jackson vintage. Quartermaster General Donnelly was in the war, and he sticks close to the broad brim "Grant" hat. State Comptroller Hancock wears a Dunlap hat of a pronounced English shape.

The Governor sent for a "Silky" for State occasions, but it happened that in his usual rush from home he frequently got hold of the high silk hat when the rest of his attire was not in harmony. To keep Mrs. Grundy's tongue still he put away the "dicer." When the weather got warm he purchased a crash suit. "I would not like to tell you what I gave for it, because it is a state secret," was his answer several times when his staff officers looked at it and sighed. He wore his Fedora with it, but he did not think it looked right, so forthwith he sent to New York for a straw hat of the Fedora shape, but with a brim that would make Buffalo Bill exceedingly amiable. The crash suit was not suitable for State occasions, but the straw hat had its charms, so frequently the straw hat has been found going with a Prince Albert coat and wedding breakfast trousers.

Somebody asked him at the State House last week, after eyeing the dimensions of the straw hat, if he was wearing his brother's top lid. That led up to a discussion on hats, and the Governor said: "Thank the stars that the bell will go off in a few days and the straw hats will be called in. I'll hide it away in my safe, else I'll get it on by mistake some snowy day and disgrace the State."

LICENSES NOT TRANSFERRED.

Elizabeth Saloon-Keepers Claim They Didn't Understand the Law.

Elizabeth's Excise Board proposes to punish about seventeen saloon-keepers who, the city Attorney alleges, have been selling without a license. The offenders bought out other dealers, and did not suppose they had violated any law. The City Attorney, however, says that each one should have applied to the board for a transfer of the license, and failing to do so they will have to pay a fine of $20, and must close their places until the Excise Board grants them a transfer.

Some of the men threaten to retaliate by making a charge against the License Inspector of neglect of duty in not posting them.

NEW STAND PIPE OF THE WATER COMPANY.

It Will Provide An Adequate Supply At All Times.

30 FEET HIGH; 75 FEET WIDE.

IT WILL ALSO PROVIDE AN EVEN PRESSURE FOR FIVE HYDRANTS.

The Pipe is Being Erected by Tibbett & Wood, Contractors, of Phillipsburg, N. J., Who Also Erected the One at Netherwood — Statement That the Plainfield Water Supply is Inexhaustible Now.

In about three weeks the stand-pipe now being erected on the mountain near Johnston's Drive by the Plainfield Water Supply Company will be completed and ready for use. Since establishing the stand pipe there has been considerable talk among different people as to its erection, its purpose, etc.

The stand-pipe is being erected for the purpose of having an adequate supply of water at any and all times to meet any demand that may be made, especially in case of a large fire in either the city or borough. The water company has for a long time been impressed with the need of an extra pipe and it is quite likely that others will be built at no distant day.

This new stand-pipe is being erected by Tibbett & Wood, contractors, of Phillipsburg, N. J., who erected the one at Netherwood. It will be 30 feet high and 75 feet in diameter. The top of it will be the same height as the one at Netherwood, so as not to permit of any overflow that migh wash away the ground on the side of the mountain where it is built. This new pipe is already connected with the one at the pumping station and when completed water will be allowed to run into it.

In the technical sense the new pipe will consist of five rings, and the workmen have about completed the first ring. The pipe connecting winds its way through the borough and passes through Somerset street, Johnston's Drive and up the mountain to the pipe. In manner of construction it will be the same as the old pipe, and will be made to stand the heaviest wear and pressure that it might be subjected to.

There is an advantage in having an extra stand pipe. It provides a more even pressure on the fire hydrants, and while it does not increase the pressure it does the supply.

Regarding the supply of water there is no appreciable decrease in it, and an authority on Plainfield water supply, who said from the very first that there was an inexhaustible supply, still adheres to that theory, which thus far has become a solid fact. This same man, at a great cost of time and money, secured the knowledge as to the exact extent of the underground lake or river, its boundaries and its depth, and he is undoubtedly the only person who has this information.

That Plainfield has great cause for thankfulness in her unlimited and pure water supply is an established fact, for there is today no other place in New Jersey that can say as much of a water supply as this city.

WILL BE A BIG PARADE.

TWELVE VISITING COMPANIES HAVE PROMISED TO COME.

Borough Firemen Will Be Host for Volunteers From Many Towns—Line of March Will Probably Be Extended.

The committee in charge of the firemen's parade to be held in the borough October 12th, has received a letter from Star Engine Company, of Long Island City, which is desirous of taking part in the parade. They have a silver-mounted engine. It is composed of old-time firemen, who never go out unless to take part in a parade or celebration. They feel certain of being able to compete with any of the companies that will be in line that day. They will come to this city accompanied by a band of music. This makes the twelfth company that has promised to come and take part.

There is a desire on the part of many firemen of the borough to extend the line of march a short distance in this city, and from present indications it is reasonable to suppose that the parade will come to Plainfield, possibly passing through Park avenue, East Second street, Watchung avenue, East Front street, and return to the borough through Somerset street.

Two Notes About Policemen.

Patrolman Weizenreid has returned to duty again after suffering from mercury poisoning.

Patrolman Watson has been confined to his home for several days with illness and has been unable to attend to his duties on the force.

DREYFUS GUILTY.

Judges of the Court Martial Rendered Their Verdict This Afternoon.

(Special to The Daily Press.)

Rennes, France, Sept. 9, 12 m.—After a short session of the judges of the Court Martial in the trial of Capt. Dreyfus, charged with treason, this afternoon, a decision was reached in the case.

It was that the prisoner is guilty of the crime accused.

The verdict was not expected so soon, and as a result the excitement that followed was intense.

The Government troops were called out immediately to quell any disturbances that might arise from the divergent views of the verdict taken by the populace.

The sentence will be pronounced on the prisoner at a later date.

The verdict was found by a vote of four to two on the part of the judges.

This means ten years' imprisonment in a military fortress, four years of which will be deducted for time already served on Devil's Island.

MISSING LINK SECURED.

Road From Bound Brook to Dunellen to be Macadamized—Good News for Good Road Advocates.

A matter of great importance to the driving and wheeling public was decided on Labor Day, when State Road Commissioner Budd came to Bound Brook and went over the road from Bound Brook to Dunellen. He was accompanied by Chosen Freeholder Alexander Manning, of Piscataway, Town Committeeman Joseph V. D. Field, J. B. Cleaver, H. F. Baker and L. S. Cook. They drove through Union avenue and the old stage road to Lincoln avenue, where the macadam from Dunellen ends on that road.

Mr. Budd saw that this was a most important thoroughfare, connecting the Somerset county system of good roads with those to the east, and he promised to use his utmost efforts to have the improvement made at once, so that the terrors of another winter on this highway may be avoided.

At the meeting of the Board of Freeholders Wednesday the road was ordered built.

TIE OVER A SUPERINTENDENT.

Rahway Board of Education Not Able to Select One.

The Rahway Board of Education is a tie on the appointment of a superintendent of public schools. The political complexion of the board stands four Republicans and two Democrats, but the minority was joined by Mr. Charles Howard, of the First Ward.

Principal of the Third Ward High School W. O. Robinson was the superintendent last year, but this year the name of Leslie Lupton was presented and a tie resulted. The Democratic members contend that the superintendent's time is occupied in visiting the schools when he should be attending his classes. The Republicans think the assistant is capable of attending the high school pupils in the principal's absence.

AID FOR WORTHY WOMAN

LAWN PARTY PROFITS DEVOTED TO CHARITABLE PURPOSES.

Given at the Residence and Under the Direction of Mrs. Dorsey W. Hyde—The Young Ladies Who Assisted.

A worthy affair of yesterday afternoon was the lawn party and sale given at the residence of Mrs. Dorsey W. Hyde, 705 Woodland avenue, for the purpose of raising $15 with which to pay the rent for a poor and deserving woman in this city. Mrs. Hyde directed the affair and under her supervision the following young girls made it a great success: Anna Runyon, Maida Hyde, Frances VanDeventer, Theodora Miller, Ruth Bullock, Grace Wilcox, Helen Moody, Antionette Moody and Marguerite VanDeventer.

There were on sale cakes, candies, fancy articles and ice cream, and various booths were handsomely arranged on the spacious lawn. That the affair was a complete success can be learned when it is stated that $35 was realized. From this amount it will be necessary to pay out about $4 for general expenses incurred. It is the intention to pay the rent for the poor woman, and the balance will be donated to the baby camp to assist in that work.

During the hours of 4 to 6 o'clock there was a large attendance of interested people and nearly everything for sale was disposed of by those in charge.

WORRIED OVER SUITS.

WARREN ENGINE COMPANY BOYS FEARFUL OF BEING DISAPPOINTED.

Report That the Firm Making the Uniforms Has Failed—If Suits do Not Come by Monday a Committee Will Investigate

The members of Warren Engine Company are in a state of anxiety concerning their new uniforms that were to have been delivered to them today at the very latest. The Philadelphia firm that has been making the suits informed the members that they might possibly be delivered last Monday, but they would arrive not later than September 10th, which is tomorrow. The boys therefore expect the suits today.

The cause of worriment is due to a report circulated that the firm making the suits failed recently, and the officers of the company have written to them making inquires. It is stated that the report of failure was noticed in the New York Herald of a recent date. If the uniforms do not arrive by Monday morning a committee from the company will go to Philadelphia and investigate matters.

If they should be unable to get their uniforms in time for the parade there would be great disappointment. However, if there is no possibility of having them completed in Philadelphia, they will be given to the next highest bidder, Marshall & Ball, of Newark, and they will be asked to finish the work.

THINK ASKING PRICES HIGH.

Post Office Site Not Yet Bought in New Brunswick.

There is another hitch in New Brunswick's efforts to secure a Federal post-office building. It is now understood that the officials of the Treasury Department consider the prices placed upon available sites too high, and therefore will make no choice at present. An effort is to be made, it is understood, to secure an available site at a much lower figure than any of the owners of such sites have asked. There are several sites whose owners' asking prices were about $32.500. It is said that the officials of the Treasury Department are averse to paying one-third of the entire appropriation for a site alone.

Mr. and Mrs. M. C. Dobbins, of Elmwood place, have returned from a trip to Philadelphia, where they witnessed the celebration in honor of the G. A. R. encampment. They also visited the battle-field at Gettysburg, where they spent two days sight-seeing. They were accompanied home by Charles Dobbins, of Danville, Ill., a brother of Mr. Dobbins, whom they have not seen before in nearly ten years. Mr. Dobbins will visit his birthplace at Caldwell, N. J., while in the east, and other points of interest.

There is a slight delay in the laying of the concrete walk in front of the North Avenue Station, but the work will probably be completed early next week, if the weather is favorable.

KUCKLO SENT BACK TO THE HOSPITAL.

Not Well Enough to be Arraigned in Court.

HE IS UNDER CLOSE WATCH.

TOLD A PRESS REPORTER THAT HIS WIFE WAS UNFAITHFUL.

Justice Nash Did Not Feel Like Taking the Responsibility of Committing Him to Jail Till His Physical Condition is Improved—Culprit Does Not Seem to be Remorseful Over His Act.

John Kucklo, the German, who made a murderous assault upon his wife Elizabeth, and then attempted to kill himself by shooting at their home on Clinton avenue, Thursday, August 31st, was brought down from the hospital this morning and placed in a cell at the city jail.

Kucklo was placed under arrest yesterday, a warrant having been sworn out before Justice Nash by Captain Grant of the police department. While at the hospital Kucklo has been closely watched and since his condition improved all the more care has been taken to prevent any attempt at escape. Last night Special Officer Mattox was detailed by Captain Grant to stay at the hospital and keep an eye on Kucklo.

When brought down to jail this morning Kucklo appeared very weak and was on the verge of collapse. He had a ghastly appearance and his unshaven face gave him a general air of dejection. Justice Nash, when he saw the accused, felt some reluctance about arraigning him and taking the responsibility of committing him to the county jail to await the action of the Grand Jury.

After a consultation with Captain Grant, Justice Nash decided that the interests of justice would not suffer if the arraignment of Kucklo was deferred a few days. Justice Nash did not wish to take the chance of having the man sent to jail and then have his condition assume anything unfavorable to his ultimate recovery. A carriage was secured and Kucklo was taken to the hospital again, where he will remain until such time as it is considered safe to arraign him on the charge of assault with intent to kill his wife.

Kucklo told a Daily Press reporter that the reason he shot his wife was because she was a bad woman. He denied that he had been drinking on the morning he shot his wife and attempted to take his own life. "I guess I must have been mad," he said, "and did not know what I was doing." Continuing he said: "We had a quarrel the night before and when I got up that morning she kept at me." When asked about having another wife Kucklo shrugged his shoulders and replied "pshaw!" He did not appear to wish to discuss that subject.

Mrs. Kucklo has left the hospital and with her son is living at 24 Clinton avenue, where the shooting occurred. It is believed that Kucklo will ultimately recover, although the bullets are still in his head.

TO PREPARE THE PROGRAMME.

Committee Which Will Arrange for the State Christian Endeavor Convention.

Rev. Dr. Cornelius Brett, president of the State Christian Endeavor Union, announces the following as the Camden convention committee: Rev. Dr. A. W. Spooner, chairman, 414 North Second street, Camden; G. C. Horter, secretary, Thirty-eighth street and Westfield avenue, East Camden; Hamilton Turner, treasurer, Wenonah; Rev. W. W. Lawyer William Newcorn, of West Front street, was in Newark yesterday, where he tried an important case in the District Court. The suit was between a Newark and New York man.

MAY STILL END IN PEACE.

Great Britain Seems Unwilling to Precipitate Hostilities in the Transvaal.

THE BOERS ARE READY.

Movement of Troops to the Transvaal Still Continues to Cause War Comment

Result of the British Cabinet Meeting—Reports from South Africa—Unconfirmed Reports of a Collision. President Kruger's View of the Situation.

London, Sept. 9.—The most remarkable Cabinet Council in years has just been held. The Transvaal crisis was the subject of discusion.

While no official statement has been made the belief is general that no action making for war was taken. It was decided not to send an ultimatum to President Kruger just yet, but to demand a new conference at Cape Town and set a date limit for the Boer consent.

In contrast to this there are undoubtedly big movements of troops to South Africa. Nine regiments have been ordered there.

The Ministers came from the Cabinet meeting arm in arm, laughing and chatting, greatly contrasting with the manner in which they went in. Lord Salisbury again received an ovation.

The short duration of the Council and the early departure of the military men summoned were taken as an indication that the situation is more pacific.

It was decided to convene Parliament about Sept. 20 to ask for a prompt war credit, and after a thorough discussion it was decided to make the first war appropriation £5,000,000, or $25,000,000.

Report of a Clash.

Cape Town, Sept. 9.—A message from Bloemfontein says Boer pickets clashed with a small squad near Taungs, just across the Transvaal border.

Police couriers from Swaziland state that the Bechuanas have gathered along the border of the Transvaal waiting for the commencement of hostilities.

The Boer Light Artillery is marching to Laingnek, fully equipped for war. It is now in camp on the Buffalo River, near the frontier, but is reported to be under hurry orders to reach the pass that controls the only entrance to the Transvaal.

This pass is the key to the situation, and it is believed that the Boers intend to rush a force there strong enough to take possession of the pass and hold it against any force England may send against it.

President Kruger's Opinion.

Pretoria, South Africa, Sept. 9.—"I have given them my clothes," said President Kruger, in concluding an impressive address to the Volsrand. "Given them when they have asked for them; I have given my shirt when they have asked for it, but now they have asked for my life—the independence of my country; that cannot be. The issue must be left to God."

Charged With Taking Lodge Funds.

Brazil, Ind., Sept. 9.—Chief of Police Prince has arrested John Knowles, alias Knox, on a telegram from Joplin, Mo., where Knowles is wanted for the alleged embezzling of the funds of the Ancient Order of United Workmen, of which body he was treasurer.

Williamson, W. Va., Sept. 9.—John Evans, charged with wrecking a passenger train last summer, is on trial here. Evans is but 17. A switch was thrown and the entire train was ditched, two persons being killed and a number injured.

Big Lake Steamer Ashore.

Detroit, Sept. 9.—Word has been received here that the passenger steamship State of Michigan is ashore at Colchester. The wrecking tug Saginaw has gone to her relief. The State of Michigan plies from Lake Erie ports and Detroit to Mackinaw.

Dewey's Relatives Will be on Hand.

Burlington, Vt., Sept. 9.—Charles E. Dewey, brother of Admiral Dewey, will go to New York for the celebration attending the arrival of the admiral in that city. Eight or ten other relatives of the Admiral will also be present on that occasion.

Run Down by a Train.

Brazil, Ind., Sept. 9.—The body of James McGoran, aged 18, of Harmony, was found lying on the platform of the Vandalia depot at that place, with a great hole in his head. It is thought he was hit by a train.

Dr. Emerson's Body Recovered.

Greenville, Me., Sept. 9.—The body of Dr. George F. Emerson, a Boston dentist who was drowned in Indian Pond has been recovered and taken to his home in that city.

Courthouse Wrecked By Wind.

Charleston, W. Va., Sept. 9.—A violent wind and rain storm occurred at Winfield. The rear of the courthouse collapsed and the roof was blown off.

MURDERED AND ROBBED.

An Italian Bootblack Killed in the Slums of New York.

New York, Sept. 9.—Because he insisted on making a savings bank of his pockets and keeping more than $200 there, Batista Spingola, an Italian bootblack, has been horribly murdered and his pockets rifled of the treasure.

Batista nd his brother Giuseppi kept a bootblack establisment in the cellar of 88 Stanton street. Batista was thirty-one, his brother thirty-six. They had a helper, Felippe Areata, aged fourteen. When he descended the stairs he found the door open and Batista lying across the boot-blacking stand, which he had turned into a couch, his face and shoulders covered with blood.

He was a horrible sight. The head had been crushed in, the right eye gouged out. It looked as if he had been killed before he was able to get up—caught in his sleep, more like, and stricken down before he could defend himself.

His pockets had been turned inside out and emptied. The money was gone, the knife and keys and other trinkets which he was accustomed to carry.

A gang of young men who helped him carry his kit into the cellar two weeks ago, and whom he refused to treat, are suspected of the crime.

Fitz Will Fight Again.

New York, Sept. .—Bob Fitzsimmons has finally decided to fight again for the world's championship and he honestly believes he can win it. At this late day his defeat by Jim Jeffries is accounted for by Martin Julian, who says that Fitz was beaten because he held the big boilermaker too cheaply. He now sees his mistake, says Manager Julian, and will be more careful the next time he fights for the championship. This is what Julian also said on Fitz's proposed re-entry to the pugilistic world: "Fitzsimmons believes he is still the best fighter in the world, and will demonstrate the fact if given another chance to fight for the championship. He will be at the ringside to challenge the winner of the Sharkey-Jeffries fight, and his challenge will be accompanied by a good-sized forfeit."

Three After Democratic Leadership.

Washington, Sept. 9.—With the advance of the summer and the approach of Congress, interest in the coming contest for the leadership of the minority in the House becomes manifest. The aspirants for the honor are measuring their strength and counting votes for the first ballot. They are choosing their lieutenants and are preparing for an active fight before the Democratic caucus. There are three avowed candidates, and no dark horse is even in sight. The three aspirants are Mr. De Armond, of Missouri, Mr. Richardson, of Tennessee, and Mr. Bankhead, of Alabama.

Head Crushed by Trip-Hammer.

Canton, Ohio, Sept. 9.—Louis Eichner, aged 29 years, unmarried, who boarded on Pennsylvania avenue, was killed at the Berger Works. He was working at a big trip-hammer. It had been started in motion, but Eichner did not know that to be the case, and stuck his head under to look up to see if it was running. The hammer came down suddenly and with awful force, crushing the man's head as if it had been an egg shell. He died a few minutes later.

Lunatic Kills Two Men.

El Paso, Tex., Sept. 9.—News has reached here from Chiuahua, Mexico, of the terrible deed of a lunatic. The police locked him in a large cell where fifteen other prisoners were confined, without searching him for weapons. He had a long knife concealed on his person and began slashing at his unarmed cellmates. Two of them were killed and a third fatally wounded before the guards could rush in and disarm the crazy man.

Sham Battle Ended Fatally.

Columbus, Ohio, Sept. 9.—During the Pain exhibition of "The Battle of San Juan" at the State Fair Grounds here Charles Krag, aged ten years, a spectator, was killed. Revita Smithcon, private of company F, Fourth Ohio, who engaged in the sham battle, was fatally wounded, and Max Guggenheim, a spectator, was seriously wounded. It is supposed loaded shells were accidently mixed with blanks.

Killed by a Train.

New York, Sept. 9.—The decapitated body of a man has been found lying near the railroad at Ramblersville, L. I. The head had been completely severed from the body. The man had evidently been struck by a train. He was well dressed in a dark suit and white vest. He was about forty years of age and dark complexioned.

Six Injured in Street Car Collision.

Cleveland, O., Sept. 9.—As a result of a collision between two electrc cars on Ontario street six persons were seriously injured. A Woodland avenue car had stopped to take on passengers when another car came in rapidly behind and crashed into it with terrific force.

Admiral Picking Dead.

Boston, Sept 9.—Rear-Admiral Henry Pickering is dead. He was commandant of the Navy Yard and died of apoplexy. He was 59 years of age.

HIS FRIENDS LOSE HOPE.

Belief is Expressed That Verdict of Court Martial Will Condemn Dreyfus.

DEMANGE'S GREAT PLEA.

Declares That He Believed From the Bottom of His Heart Captain Dreyfus Was a Martyr.

Audience and Court Moved by the Logic and Force of the Veteran Attorney—His Speech Occupied the Entire Day and Created a Deep Impression.

Rennes, Sept. 9.—A strange panic seems to have seized the Dreyfus party.

Even M. Jaures, the Socialist leader, who has been one of the most prominent Dreyfusard champions at Rennes, now says there is no hope of the prisoner's acquittal.

General Chamoin, who is here as the custodian of the secret dossier, telegraphed General Gallifet, the Minister of War, that he believed the verdict would be unanimous for condemnation of the prisoner.

Chamoin telegraphed that the effect of M Demange's plea was so great that probably one or two of the Judges would vote in Dreyfus's favor, but condemnation was still certain in his opinion.

Strong Plea For Dreyfus.

Rennes, Sept. 9.—Amid intense silence Maitre Demange shortly after the opening of the Dreyfus court-martial rose to make the speech for the defense. His opening remarks seemed to meet with approval.

"However solemn," he declared, "the occasion may be, I must at the outset protest with all my soul against the allegation which one of the witnesses did not shrink from uttering The witness did not hesitate to declare that whatever advocated the revision of this case; that is to say, whoever believed in the innocence of Dreyfus, was working against the army and against the country. I here declare that he does not know me, and that he does not know Maitre Labori. Neither Labori nor myself would be here if these statements were true. Let me tell you simply this:

"The day on which, amid the shock of furious political passions, I saw let loose over our country this tempest of madness, when I saw everything I had learned to revere and love since childhood imperrilled, I, a Frenchman, the son of a soldier, endured every torture. When I turned my eyes toward Devil's Island, where was buried alive one who from the bottom of my heart I believed to be a martyr, I began to wonder if divine justice had not abandoned him. Since then I have recovered. I have hearkened to the voice of my conscience and have pursued an undeviating course, free from anger or passion, not heeding hatred or prejudice. I have done my duty. You will do yours, which is to mete out justice.

"When the case of the revision began Dreyfus was a convict, and serious presumptions of his innocence were necessary before the case could be taken up by the Court of Cassation. Today it is for the public prosecutor to prove his guilt. Let no one blame us, therefore, if we have not proved the innocence of our client. The task was not encumbent upon us. It is for the Government Commissioner to show he is guilty of the abominable crime imputed to him."

Counsel then entered into details dealing with the information collected regarding the prisoner in 1894. He said:

"The only real information is that found in the cry from his soul. Even before his conviction, what was his first cry? 'I will not take my life because I am innocent!'"

M. Demange dilated upon the prisoner's increasing protestations of innocence and his touching letters to his family, exclaiming:

"In them you see his soul, which speaks. Alone in his tomb he communes with himself. He cherishes the hope of seeing his innocence acknowledged."

Among the letters of Dreyfus read by M. Demange was one in which, after asserting his innocence and declaring that he would serve the tri-colored flag with devotion and honor, the prisoner complained that he was treated on Devil's Island like an ordinary convict. It concludes: "I wish to live."

"That is a soldier's soul," exclaimed M. Demange, "and it is that man you call a traitor. That is the man who in your presence restrains his sobs and his emotions.

"Ah, gentlemen, I would rather defend guilty men who are clever dissemblers than an innocent man who is too sincere."

Other letters of the prisoner were read, all breathing the same desire to live to see his honor restored, though the writer was broken down in health and spirit.

The lawyer then entered on a technical analysis of the bordereau, which was not completed when Colonel Jouaust granted an adjournment.

It is said on the highest authority that M. Labori is satisfied with Demange's efforts in the court, and will not make a speech, believing this is better policy.

Should the prosecution desire to reply to Demange, Maitre Labori will make a final plea—the right of the defense.

Took Searchers to His Master.

Marion, Ohio, Sept. 9.—Charles W. Clark, 21, went hunting, and as his dog came home alone in the evening a search was made, the dog going with the searchers to near where the body of his master lay. Clark had taken refuge under a tree during a storm, and was instantly killed by lightning

Cotton Crop Shortage Increases.

Atlanta, Ga., Sept. 9.—Commissioner of Agriculture C. B. Stevens who has just returned after a trip of inspection, states that the Georgia cotton crop will be at least half a million bales short.

CUBA TO AID PORTO RICO.

Import Duty on Latter's Coffee Has Been Abolished.

Washington, Sept. 9.—A measure for further relief of the Porto Ricans has been devised by the War Department. Secretary Root has prepared an order, to become operative at once, providing for the free importation of Porto Rican coffee into Cuba.

The recent storms destroyed fully half of the ungathered coffee crop, but a large supply is on hand in the storehouses. That stock, it is believed, can be moved and turned into cash at once through the operation of the new order, for Cuba is a large consumer of Porto Rican coffee. According to the Spanish customs report of 1897, Porto Rico exported $18,000,000 worth of products, of which $12,000,000 represented the value of the coffee exports. Fully one-third of the coffee exported is sent to Cuba.

The present duty on coffee at the Cuban custom houses amounts to $12.50 per 1,000 kilograms. The duty is abolished by the terms of the order arranged for the Porto Ricans. The result, it is expected, is to be unprecedented sale for Porto Rican coffee as the removal of the duty frees it from competition in the Cuban coffee markets. It is believed, also, that the Porto Ricans will be able to obtain an increased price for their coffee commensurate with the amount of the duty abolished.

The department had intended also to abolish the customs on Porto Rican tobacco imported into Cuba. That, however, aroused so much opposition from the Cubans that the idea was abandoned.

Jiminez Tours in Triumph.

Santiago, de los Caballos, Santo Domingo, Sept. 9.—General Jiminez is regarded as President, although his election will not take place until November. He proceeded on horseback to Sanchez, whence a ship will carry him to the capital at once. His progress is a grand ovation. Jiminez states that he will not honor the $4,000,000 of currency issued by the old government.

Found Roster on Church Wall.

Charleston, W. Va., Sept. 9.—When some old wall paper was removed the other day from the walls of the old M. E. Church of Winfield the roster of Company B, Thirteenth Virginia Volunteers, was found on the wall. It was in lead pencil, in the handwriting of Orderly Sergeant James A. Rayburn, and was well preserved.

This Bank Has a Shortage.

Omaha, Neb., Sept. 9.—A shortage of $10,000 has been discovered in the National Bank of Omaha, and the officials say circumstances at present point to theft, unless an absent ex-teller can give an explanation of his accounts. The teller is Ned. H. Copeland, who for ten years has held the position of railroad teller. The money was lost on August 2.

Cocaine Drove Him Mad.

Akron, Ohio, Sept. 9.—A human pincushion was sent from this city to the insane asylum at Newburg. John C. Vordeman, one year ago a strong man, is now a complete wreck, a victim of the cocaine habit. His arms and back are a mass of punctures, holes made by the needle of a hypodermic syringe. He became violently insane on the streets.

Paying Cuban Army With Paper.

Havana, Sept. 9.—The Executive Committee of the late Cuban Assembly has commenced the distribution of promissory notes to the members of the Cuban army, notes to be paid by the future republic. Each general receives a note for over $20,000 and each colonel one for $11,000. The total amount to be paid is over $20,000,000.

Yellow Fever at New Orleans.

New Orleans, Sept. 9.—The Board of Health has announced a mild case of yellow fever at 1420 Polymnia street. The case, which is the third reported this season, is isolated, and the state and city boards of health and visiting experts agreed that there was no justification for any quarantine.

Illinois Convent Burned.

Ottawa, Ill., Sept. 9.—St. Xavier's Academy and the Sisters of Mercy Convent were destroyed by fire. The inmates, sixty sisters and pupils, escaped in their night clothes without injury. The loss amounts to about $75,000. It is thought the fire started from a tinner's furnace left in the new building.

Will be the Longest Trolley Road.

Toledo, Sept. 9.—Arrangements have been completed by H. A. Haigh and S. S. Angus, of Detroit, for the construction of an electric railway from Toledo to Buffalo, the longest of its kind in the world. The line is to be completed from Toledo to Norwalk by Dec. 1, and to Buffalo by next July.

British Will Send Delegates.

Plymouth, England, Sept. 9.—The Trades Union Congress in session here has elected J. Haslam, of the Derbyshire Miners' Association, and A. Wilkie of the Shipwrights' Association of Newcastle, delegates to the Trades Union Congress to be held at Detroit, Michigan.

Big Rolling Mill Burned.

Shelby, Ohio, Sept. 9.—Fire at the Shelby Tube Works destroyed the rolling mill piercing machine room, and the engine and boiler rooms. Eight hundred men are thrown out of work. No definite figures on the loss are obtainable. The plant was valued at $500,000.

Seal Skins From Alaska.

San Francisco, Sept. 9.—The steamship Del Norte has arrived from Alaska with 16,812 seal skins, consigned to the North American Commercial Company. The seals were caught under license and the government nets a large royalty.

Dundee's Strike Spreads.

Dundee, Sept. 9.—The cotton and jute workers' strike here has assumed serious proportions. Ten mills have been closed and 16,000 mill workers are now idle.

FILIPINO CONGRESS MEETS.

Aguinaldo Appoints Two Natives to High Office.

Manila, Sept. 9.—A Filipino who has arrived here from Tarlac says an extraordinary session of the Revolutionary Congress took place at Tarlac on August 24.

Aguinaldo presided and chose Mabini as President of the Supreme Court and Gonzaga as Attorney-General. They both represent the most conservative and temperate element.

Mabini, who recently resigned the Foreign Secretaryship, is the ablest man connected with the revolution. Gonzaga was President of the last peace commission.

The proceedings of the Congress disproved the report that Aguinaldo had declared himself Dictator.

A decree has been issued by the Filipinos compelling the resignation of all foreigners in Filipino territory. The Chinese are considered foreigners, including those born in the Philippines.

This seems to be largely a scheme to tax Chinamen.

More Fever at Key West.

Jacksonville, Fla., Sept. 9.—Dr. Horsey, Assistant State Health Officer, now at Miami, has wired the State Board of Health that no new cases of yellow fever have developed there and that the first case is doing well; that there are fifteen new cases in Key West and three that should have been reported before; that one death occurred Friday. The patient's name was King.

Salmon Cannery Combine.

Vancouver, B. C., Sept. 9.—Negotiations are progressing by which New York capitalists will acquire every salmon cannery property in British Columbia. Cannery men here agree to sell for half cash and half stock of McGovern & Company, the firm which is now forming the big combination in New York. There are sixty-eight canneries all told, valued at about $40,000 each.

Say They Lost Heavily.

Brooklyn, N. Y. Sept. 9.—Officials of the Brooklyn Rapid Transit Company say that some of the new conductors have fleeced the company heavily recently. Wholesale discharges have followed the discovery. It is said that $50,000 represents the losses of the company. The plan of the conductors was the old one—that of pocketing fares not rung up.

Brought Frank Ives' Remains.

Jersey City, N. J., Sept. 9.—Among the passengers who arrived on the Ward Line steamer Seguranca, from Havana and Mexican ports, were Gen. Canton and staff, of the Mexican Army. The General is Governor of Yucatan. The Seguranca also brought the body of Frank C. Ives, the billiard exeprt, who died recently in Mexico.

Trusted Employe in the Toils.

Buffalo, N. Y., Sept. 9.—Charles V. Austin, cashier for the Milsome Rendering and Fertilizing Company, is in custody, and it is stated that he is short in his accounts to the extent of $20,000. Austin was a trusted employe of the company for many years. The concern has an immense plant near the East Buffalo stock yards.

Fortune For Ohioans.

Gallipolis, Ohio, Sept. 9.—Word has been received here that a fortune has been left the descendants of Gorge A Waugh, one of the first settlers of Gallia County, who died in 1875. The money was left by a rich relative of Mr. Waugh, who died in London, England. It amounts to several hundred thousand dollars.

Many Killed by Typhoon.

Port Townsend, Wash., Sept. 9.—Forty-four persons were killed and thousands injured in the destruction of their homes by a typhoon in Kagoshima, Japan, on August 15. This news is brought to port by the Oriental steamer Glenogle, which reports that forty-five ships were wrecked on the Japanese coast in the same storm.

Found His Lost Daughter.

South Bend, Ind., Sept. 9.—John W. Dyche, of near Wooster, Ohio, where he owns a large farm, found his fifteen-year-old daughter, from whom he has been separated for 11 years, at Kendallville, and she has rejoined him. The girl went away with her mother when 4 years old.

Eustis Seriously Ill.

Newport, Sept. 9.—It has been learned that James B. Eustis is seriously ill in his Newport villa, and there are some doubts expressed as to his recovery. He has pneumonia. Mr. Eustis is the former Ambassador to France and is well known in social and political circles.

Kills Baby and Herself.

New York, Sept. 9.—The bodies of Mrs. Rose Welsh and her one-year-old son Tommy were found on the Greenpoint meadows, on Greenpoint avenue, near Whale Creek, Williamsburg. The woman had given carbolic acid to the baby and then taken a deadly dose herself.

Zeigler Defeats Burns.

New York, Sept. 9.—Owen Zeigler, of Philadelphia, defeated Charley E. Burns, of Cincinnati, at the Broadway Athletic Club in the twelfth round of what was to have been a twenty-five round contest.

Mazetters Will Do More Probing.

New York, Sept. 9.—It has been definitely decided by Assemblyman Mazet and Frank Moss that the levying of assessments on the judiciary when they were candidates for office will be probed to the bottom.

ARCHBOLD ON THE STAND

He Gives Testimony Before the Industrial Commission at Washington.

DOESN'T LIKE CRITICISM.

Denies That Railraods Gave Standard Oil Company Special Benefits on Rebates.

Testifies That Senator Lee Made Untrue Statements—His Appearance on Witness Stand Creates Unusual Interest—Wanted to Answer Those Who Criticised Company.

Washington, Sept. 9.—Unusual interest in the hearings before the Industrial Commission was excited by the appearance as a witness of John D. Archbold, vice president of the Standard Oil Company of New Jersey. The examination of Mr. Archbold began immediately after the assembling of the commission.

Mr. Archbold said that he was vice president of the Standard Oil Company of New York, and had been connected with the company since 1875. He requested that he be permitted to answer a number of criticisms on the company before proceeding to the statement as to its methods. Permission being granted, Mr. Archbold proceeded to say that the first witness, James W. Lees, of Pennsylvania, president of the Pure Oil Company, acknowledged himself to be the head of the greatest trust and only trust in oil. At this point, it having been evident for several days that the trend of the testimony by Standard Oil witnesses would be to justify the course pursued by the company in attacking the Pure Oil Company, Chairman Philips, who is a large stockholder in the Pure Oil Company, a rival of the Standard, arose and said that he wished it understood that he was connected with that company, but he also wished to distinctly declare that he and his company were willing to submit to any legislation designated to protect the interests of all. His company, he said, was incorporated according to the law and was proceeding lawfully. He had no objection to this statement being entered as evidence.

Mr. Archbold then proceeded to attack the statements of Lee and of State Senator Emory, of Bradford, Pa., who had devoted his attention to proving that the railroads gave immense rebates to the Standard Oil Company, by deductions made from the testimony of President Cassatt of the Pennsylvania Railroad. Mr. Archbold did not hesitate to brand the statements of Lee and Emory as falsehoods. He took up the history of the rebate system and gave figures to show that the Standard Oil Company had always been a subject of persecution at the hands of the railroads, and whenever rebates were given to the Standard Oil Company similar rebates were given to other shippers.

"I give this as an answer and I trust a final one," he said, "to the lusty old lie about the $10,000,000 in rebates."

Will Not Oust Wakeman.

Washington, Sept. 9.—The Cabinet was in session for two hours, most of the time being occupied in a general discussion of the Philippines situation. The reports recently brought from the islands by Prof. Schurman and Senator Beveridge formed the basis of the discussion to a large extent. It could not be learned after the meeting that a change in military commanders in the Philippines was talked about, and there was an inclination on the part of Cabinet members not to go into details with reference to the conference.

Secretary Gage read to the Cabinet a statement which he had prepared, finally disposing of the recent investigation into the conduct of the appraisers at New York. Before the meeting it was announced that this statement would be made public, but after the Cabinet adjourned it was announced that the statement would be withheld. The Secretary of the Treasury will make some modifications in the statement, acting upon suggestions of the President and his fellow members, but it is believed that these modifications will not be radical. It is still established that Appraiser Wakeman will be allowed to retain his office.

May Have Been Done By Tramps.

Corry, Pa., Sept. 9.—The terrible wreck at Miller's Station is now believed to have been the work of train wreckers. Edward Miles, a brakeman on the freight train which was sidetracked, swears he saw the unfortunate flagman Scholz close and lock the switch after the freight cleared. Other train men say they are always troubled with tramps at Miller's. One tramp said recently: "We will ditch you some night." A pile of ties was discovered on the track at Millers a short time ago.

Kept His Daughter Chained Up.

Watertown, N. Y., Sept. 9.—Mabel Prindle's father is so fearful that some young man may court her that he has kept her chained like a dog, not permitting her to leave the house without is knowledge. He chained her in the front yard because she had slipped out to visit her aunt without permission. Neighbors assembled and made such an outcry that the father led her inside, still cained, but the police forced him to take the chain off.

Live Stock Dealers Swindled.

Kansas City, Mo., Sept. 9.—The Journal says that during the last few weeks about $90,000 has been taken from five live stock commission firms of Kansas City by a band of swindlers, seven men and two women, who have operated from various points in Nebraska, Iowa, Kansas and Missouri.

Wants His Name Changed.

Findlay, Ohio, Sept. 9.—John Gawrybowich has applied to the Common Pleas Court to change his name to John Veter as his own name was cumbrous and unwieldy.

Will Hobart Decline.

After everyone thought that it was settled once and for all that Vice-President Hobart would be a candidate for renomination at the hands of the National Republican convention, the New York Sun yesterday came out with a story that set aside such plans. According to the Sun tale it is the old question of Mr. Hobart's health interfering with the plans—if he wanted a renomination he could have it, but he doesn't want it because his health would not permit.

It is said that in the event of the retirement of Mr. Hobart President McKinley might consider it advisable to make a draft on the New York State Republicans and request the nomination of Governor Roosevelt for Vice-President. In that event, it is said, the wishes of the President would be taken into consideration, even though the Republican party in New York should find it difficult to nominate a candidate for Governor who approaches in political availability Theodore Roosevelt.

What an awful shock it must be to the serenity of mind possessed by the Prosecutor of Monmouth county to read the news about Bank Wrecker Valentine suing the propritor of a Long Branch club to recover $10,000 lost at gambling in his resort. A virtuous spasm came across the Prosecutor a short time ago and he caused the arrest of a man who owned a nickle-in-the-slot machine, but when his attention was called to the existence of the gambling hells of elaborate and fashionable form in Long Branch, where thousands are made and lost every day in the summer months, he seemed struck with astigmatism. Perhaps the action of Valentine may open the official eyes of the Monmouth Prosecutor.

The Trust Conference opens in Chicago next week. Both sides of the question will be represented there by able men. The promoters of the conference have addressed lists of questions to 20,000 manufacturers, contractors, bankers, lawyers, railroad men and officers of organizations engaged in industrial enterprises, requesting information concerning the practical working of the new system, and to these questions hundreds of answers have already been received, which will furnish the conference with ample material for consideration.

The salary of the Governor of Illinois, now the third largest State of the country in population, is only $6,000, whereas New York, Pennsylvania and New Jersey pay $10,000 a year, and Ohio pays $8,000. The Governor of Illinois, too, has more power and responsibility than devolves upon the Governor of Ohio, for he has a veto power, power, whereas the relation of the Governor of Ohio to the State legislation is advisory only.

The Somerset Messenger mentions that Matthew Suydam, who is a director of the National Bank of New Jersey, is a probable candidate for the nomination for Senator from Somerset county.

"Tom" Flynn, former Speaker of the Assembly, and one time starter at the Gloucester race track, has gone back to Passaic county to remain and renew his acquaintance and political influence.

WHAT THE SHEARS FIND

Editorial Comment From Other Papers of Interest in Plainfield.

The many friends of ex-Senator W. J. Keys of this county will greet with pleasure the fact of his being in the Senatorial race. Ex Senator Keys' candidacy, while not being persistently urged, is of such proportions as to make trouble for many aspiring for the honor. Should Mr. Keys finally decide to take a decided stand in the fight he will be a very dangerous candidate. As a compromise candidate the affable ex-Senator would be unanimously endorsed. His personal popularity and courteous, gentlemanly deportment place him in the forefront of our best known county statesmen.—Bound Brook State Centre.

PASSING COMMENT

Things that Are Not Exactly News but Just as Interesting.

At a recent meeting of Success Lodge, A. O. U. W., of Elizabethport there were present four Deputy Grand Master Workmen, among them being V. W. Nash of this city. These gentlemen were also the only visitors present at the lodge meeting that night. It is not probale that a similar coincidence will occur in a number of years.

"Daniel Boone," the famous "Scout and Trapper," will be seen in the play of that name at Music Hall Tuesday night. The play is a most interesting one, showing frontier life with all its attendant incidents, presented by a very efficient dramatic company, aided by a host of genuine Indians, cowboys and ponies. Special scenery accompanies the presentation and there will be a grand street parade Tuesday at noon of the cowboy and Indian department of this company.

PARTICULAR MENTION.

PERSONAL GOSSIP OF INTEREST TO CITY AND BOROUGH.

In Brief are Told the Daily Doings of Many Residents and Visitors Who Go and Come in a Social and Business Way

H. G. Runkle, of West Eighth street, has returned from Lake Champlain, N. Y.

Miss Blimm, of Somerset street, is visiting friends in Brooklyn and New York.

Mrs. A. E. Bushnell, of Newark, is visiting Mrs. Fred Bird, of East Front street.

Miss Huff, of the borough, is spending her vacation at Roycefield, Somerset county.

Fred Randolph, of Newark, who has been visiting in the borough, has returned home.

J. E. Townsend and wife, of the borough, have returned from a visit with relatives at Hudson, N. Y.

Mrs. Fred Bach, of Brooklyn, has returned home after a pleasant visit with relatives in the borough.

Miss Elizabeth Dunlap, of East Fifth street, has returned from Newark, where she has been visiting her sister.

The family of P. Ludwig Conde, of East Second street, have returned from the seashore. Mr. Conde will return next Wednesday.

Former Councilman Harry M. Stockton and family, of Central avenue, who have been spending the summer in the mountains, have returned home.

Mr. and Mrs. Higgins and family, of East Second street, have returned home from North Branch, where they enjoyed a very pleasant visit with Mr. Higgins' parents.

Bert Rogers, of this city, who has been working on the new public school building at New Brunswick, is now engaged to work on the new school building at Bound Brook.

Charles W. McCutchen and family, of Washington Park, will return the latter part of this month from the Adirondack Mountains, where they have been spending the summer.

Louis Feiring, of the Westinghouse, Church, Kerr, Co., whose home is in this city, is now spending a short time in town with his family and friends. Mr. Feiring expects to be called every day to go either south or to New York state to go to work on a large job secured by his employers.

Appeal to Street Commissioner.

To the Editor of The Daily Press—We would kindly ask our noble street commissioner who is entirely responsible for West Front street. Is the Trolley Company in any way reponsible for the care of the streets and so they aught to attend to their duty as they have a large traffic on this line. The road bed is scattered over with loose stones which are disastrous to bicycle tires and riders. We would be glad to have our street commissioner see that this locality receives the necessary attention. We have out here fine air, beautiful scenery, georgeous sun rise, the power of industry, lovely lawns, and now please make our roadway to correspond, so that our cyclists won't be tempted to use improper words as they ride along this beautiful highway.

GIVE THE CHILDREN A DRINK

called Grain-O. It is a delicious, appetizing, nourishing food drink to take the place of coffee. Sold by all grocers and liked by all who have used it because when properly prepared it tastes like the finest coffee but is free from all its injurious properties. Grain-O aids digestion and strengthens the nerves. It is not a stimulant but a health builder, and children, as well as adults, can drink it with great benefit. Costs about ¼ as much as coffee 15 and 25c.

SOMETHING ABOUT CARPETS.

The carpet season is here again, and as usual we are ready for it with what we claim is not only the largest, but the most carefully selected stock ever offered the people of this community. A marked reaction has taken place in the carpet business, viz: An increased demand for better grades. People have made the discovery that we made years ago, that good carpets are always cheapest. Our fall stock has been selected with this in view. We are showing a higher grade of carpets than ever before in the history of our business, and the readiness with which our customers are responding to same is most gratifying. We select the best patterns from the most reliable makers only and satisfaction is guaranteed in every particular.

Moquettes, Axminster, Saronneries in the latest designs, the richest colorings and most pleasing effects. Tapestries and velvets in beautiful patterns. All particularly good for parlor and dining room. An unusually good assortment of all-wool Ingrains, suitable for bedrooms, etc. Reversible, they will give splendid service. Our line of church carpets we consider superior to that of most N. Y. City stores. Cocoa mattings for public buildings. It comes in plain and striped patterns.

Ingrain Art Squares, Jute Smyrna art squares, all-wool Smyrna rugs, Royal Wilton rugs, Mouquette rugs, Cocoa mats, Rubber mats, etc., etc. Cocoa mats with rubber ends for piazzas made to order. Shades made to order and ready made. Contracts made for furnishing whole houses.

Lace curtains, Portierres, tapestries, furniture coverings, rug fringes, sash curtains, curtain poles and fixtures, brass rods, stair pads and everything else in curtain fixtures.

Our assortment of Linoleums and Oil Cloths, we feel safe in saying, is far above the average. We handle only goods we can recommend. We employ only the most experienced workmen, and all carpet laying, oil cloth fitting and shade hanging is done in the best possible manner.

THINGS THAT INTEREST SCOTCH PLAINS AND DUNELLEN.

Brief and Terse Observations Gathered by Alert Press Reporters to be Perused at the Supper Table at Your Leisure

DUNELLEN.

(Special Correspondence of The Daily Press.)

Dunellen, Sept. 9—At the Common Council meeting on Thursday evening a communication was received from the Watchung Water Company, offering to furnish water to the borough and supply forty-eight hydrants. The matter was referred to the Water committee. The question of half fares on the Brunswick Traction company for the school children was also brought up and caused much discussion. The trolley people have offered to furnish children's tickets at reduced rates and place them on sale at the postoffice. The matter has been referred to the Laws and Ordinance committee.

Several more tramps were captured late on Thursday afternoon by the railroad officers, who turned them over to Constable Munday who took them to New Brunswick jail. The tramps claimed to hail from Buffalo and had been riding on the coal trains of the Lehigh Valley Railroad.

Superintendent Morris is appatently the right man in the right place. The schools are being ably conducted and there is every reason to believe that Prof. Morris will give satisfaction.

Several of the residents of the borough have been laying flagging in front of their residences. Among those to make these is Wm. Wyckoff.

The test recently made of the new water works was highly satisfactory. It was possible to throw a good-sized stream over any of the buildings.

Miss Ethel Jamieson has been presented with a handsome zither by a friend in Brooklyn.

The street superintendent is improving Prospect street by putting on a layer of stone.

PLAINS AND FANWOOD.

(Special Correspondence of The Press.)

Scotch Plains, Sept. 9—It would be a good time now, while Westfield avenue is being torn up for the trolley extension, for the Town Committee to ask the property owners along the street to set their fences back so that the roadway will have the width called for on the map. When the roadway was laid out, 60 feet was the width taken, but all the property owners along the street when fencing in took from two to three feet from the original width. Now is the time it will be needed, for even with only the one track through the avenue the road is far too narrow to make driving a pleasure.

Rev. Mr. Shott, of the Baptist church, will preach tomorrow morning. His subject will be "The Seven Golden Candlesticks." In the evening there will be baptism of two candidates for church membership. The subject of Mr. Shott's discourse will be along this line.

Charles Scheelen, of Fanwood, has returned from a week's pleasant trip south, visiting Washington, Baltimore and several other places along the coast. Charley reports having had a delightful trip and returns much benefited thereby.

Announcement.

To accommodate those who are partial to the use of atomizers in applying liquids into the nasal passages for catarrhal troubles. The proprietors prepare Cream Balm in liquid form, which will be known as Ely's Lipuid Cream Balm. Price including the spraying tube is 75 cts. Druggists or by mail. The liquid form embodies the medicinal properties of the solid preparations. Cream Balm is quickly absorbed by the membrane and does not dry up the secretion but changes them to a natural and healthy character. Ely Brothers, 56 Warren St., N. Y.

Berlin. Die Zahl der elektrischen Unterstationen in Berlin erfährt eine schnelle Vermehrung. Nachdem die Berliner Elektrizitätswerke vor einigen Monaten beim Magistrat die Genehmigung zur Anlage einer Umformercentrale im Südosten und zur Ausdehnung des Leitungsnetzes über den ganzen Südosten bis über den Görlitzer Bahnhof hinaus nahe an die Grenzen von Rixdorf nachgesucht hatten, haben dieselben nunmehr auch die Pläne für eine weitere mehrere Tausende Pferdekräfte umfassende Unterstation im Osten der Stadt eingereicht, welche das Viertel östlich der Friedensstraße bis zum Centralviehhofe u. s. w. mit Strom versorgen soll. Weitere Projekte für die Anlage von Untercentralen im Norden und Nordosten sind bereits geplant; die Speisung der Unterstationen soll von den Werken an der Oberspree aus erfolgen. —Kommerzienrath Manheimer hat für die Einrichtung einer Kranken- und Unterstützungskasse für die Angestellten der Firma S. Manheimer die Summe von 10,000 Mark gestiftet.—Der Zoologe Karl Ruß jun., der sich speziell der Vogelkunde gewidmet hatte, ist gestorben.

Rathenow. Der „Naturmensch" Gustav Nagel, welcher bisher in den Wäldern des Kreises Westhavelland lebte und kürzlich seinen Einzug in Rathenow hielt, ist jetzt zwecks Untersuchung seines Geisteszustandes in's Krankenhaus gebracht worden. Er wollte hier einen öffentlichen Vortrag halten.

Spandau. Der langjährige Direktor der hiesigen königlichen Pulverfabrik, Oberstlieutenant Simon, tritt am 1. Oktober d. J. aus dem Militärdienst und wird Direktor der deutschen Metallpatronenfabrik in Karlsruhe.

Nakel. Durch einen Fliegenstich ist ein hiesiger Eigenthümer um's Leben gekommen. Der Bedauernswerthe wurde von einer Schmeißfliege derart in den Fuß gestochen, daß er Aufnahme im Krankenhaus suchen mußte. Hier wurde am Bein, das bereits stark angeschwollen war, zweimal eine Amputation vorgenommen; trotzdem starb der Aermste unter gräßlichen Schmerzen.

Swinemünde. Der Kapitän des norwegischen Schooners „Ida" war auf der Fahrt von Stettin nach hier mit dem an Bord befindlichen Lootsen in Streit gerathen und hatte sich hinreißen lassen, thätlich zu werden. Vom hiesigen Schifffahrtsamt wurde in Folge dieses Vorganges dem Kapitän der Seelootse verweigert. Der Norweger ließ nun neulich Abends sein Schiff mittelst Schleppdampfer aus dem Hafen bugsiren, doch die Flucht wurde rechtzeitig bemerkt. Die Lootsenbarkasse „Schwalbe" und der Lootsenschooner nahmen sofort die Verfolgung auf, und es gelang ihnen, die „Ida" im Schlepptau dem hiesigen Hafen wieder zuzuführen. Die amtliche Untersuchung des Vorganges ist sofort eingeleitet worden.

AUTUMN STYLES.

White Still Holds a Foremost Position in Favor.

White is so immensely fashionable that tailor made costumes of white pique will be worn much later in the season than would ordinarily be the case. A bolero of black or colored silk or cloth will afford extra protection when the air is chilly, but pique is in itself a substantial fabric and not specially cool. Revers of black velvet are the latest addition to white pique jackets or boleros, and black cords, pipings or braid often serves as a trimming.

For those who prefer a worsted fabric as fall approaches there are gowns of white mohair or of tones just off white. Pearl gray is also a favorite tint. With these gowns a vest of white silk is worn, but when the costume is darker the vest is usually of a contrasting color instead of white. The vest buttons are small and are of crystal, dead gold, turquoise, garnet or steel, and the vest itself is cut high, showing just the knot of the cravat.

The attractive bodice illustrated is of white satin, richly embroidered with pale green silk and gold spangles. It has a guimpe of puffed mousseline de soie over white satin, and the top of the sleeves is of the same material. The mousseline portion and the fronts are bordered with three little bands of velvet, and three green satin bows fasten the fronts. The sleeves are embroidered like the bodice and are finished with a mousseline frill and a green satin band and bow. The belt is also of green satin.

FALL FASHIONS.

Ideas For the Wardrobe of the Demi-season.

Dark costumes for women of mature years are enriched by a vest of Louis Quinze or Louis Seize brocade, which gives value and dignity to an otherwise plain gown.

Simple hats are often very effective. A straw shape, trimmed with a drapery of tulle and a knot of black velvet, is sometimes more elegant in aspect than a far more elaborate creation.

A novel idea is seen in straw hats in which the braid is stitched with heavy silk of a contrasting color.

Now that fabrics are tucked, embroidered and puffed in the piece and sold by the yard many odd ideas in decoration appear. The latest consists of narrow bands of oblique tucks, the bands being 1½ or 2 inches wide, a band of the stuff of the same width being left untucked between the bands of tucks. The untucked bands form puffs because of the fullness taken up by the tucks. Only very thin silks can be thus employed.

The cut illustrates a shirt waist of cream foulard, with a pointed pompadour design. It has lengthwise clusters of tucks and a full plastron, with a yoke of white surah trimmed with bands of lace. The collar is also of white surah, trimmed with tucks and lace. The sleeves are tucked horizontally at the top and are gathered into tucked cuffs. An embroidered collar and black satin stock are worn, and the belt is of white kid, with a gold buckle.

THE PATRIOTIC GIRL.

SHE NOW BEDECKS HERSELF WITH THE NATIONAL EMBLEMS.

She is in Entire Sympathy With the Stirring Times in Her Gowns and Other Apparel—Flag Ruffles on Petticoats is a Feature of Wartime Effervescence.

Whereas there is now war, if not immediately in this land itself, yet near at hand, an to be waged, in part at least, by men they know thoroughly and have danced and flirted with, the girls of New York have taken on a martial spirit. They talk battle and campaign, fort and cruiser, torpedo boat and big guns incessantly, and so eager are they that the very fashions and fads, the knicknacks and novelties of the moment all smack of the army and navy.

Hardly a girl of "the sets" is to be found who is not military or naval in some way. The "service" is to be noticed in her costume, in her bedroom and in the parlor of her house. She is seized with the enthusiasm of the hour, and she shows it outwardly.

THE PATRIOTIC GIRL.

War enthusiasm, indeed, has taken full possession of the swell New York girl. Some of the new "war fads" in the kingdom of girldom are queer, but they all point to the same thing—a universal patriotism and an influence that has huge weight among the men of "the sets."

Since war commenced luncheon and dinner parties have been at a decided discount. Girls are refusing invitations these days at an unprecedented rate, and, spurred on by their example, men are likewise sending regrets. A young New York woman planned a dinner of twelve for one evening week before last, and before she finally decided to give up the plan wrote notes to twenty-eight men, and received twenty-eight regrets. Entertaining of a formal sort has practically stopped among the very best people.

In articles of dress or adornment the newest thing the New York girls have set their seal of approval on is the American sailor shirt waist. Naturally, because of its brilliancy of color, this shirt waist is not seen on the street (though it may be when the war excitement grows tenser), but it is already to be noticed in scores of homes. It is "built"—all shirt waists are "built," not "made," these days—in true nautical fashion, with a low cut, rolling, true sailor's collar, and which is, patriotically, red, white and blue. It is the proper thing for every girl now to have a shirt waist of this sort in her wardrobe.

Even more curious fads of dress and decorations have sprung up. The new petticoats of girls are now ruffled with flags. The latter make dainty ruffles, and the girl that wears them lifts her skirt a trifle as she moves about. These are only for colored petticoats, of course, and the entire flag is not used indiscriminately. For a blue petticoat only the blue and white, the "field" and its stars, or, better still, the Union Jack, is ruffled. On a red petticoat the stripes of red and white are the thing; they make a most charming effect.

Out of the pocket of the jacket of the "smart" New York girl these days sticks an inch or so of red, white and blue—the patriotic pocket handkerchief. Another fashion is the wearing of a tiny silken flag on the breast, a flag not more than an inch long and half an inch wide, held in its place by a stickpin. At a fashionable dance a few nights ago every girl in the room was wearing a flag of this sort. Hardly less popular are flag stick pins, with the flag made of gayly painted metal.

Navy buttons on jackets are the very smartest thing out. Real nautical gold braid (not imitation, mind, but the genuine article) is fairly gloated over for trimming, and nothing is now thoroughly proper for belt clasps but the shining buckles of sword belts. Around the sailor hat, too, should go the cap band of some American war ship, and the more prominent the vessel the better.

These cap bands have yet other uses. They make the most timely, popular bedroom decoration the girl of to-day can possible have. Every energetic young woman who has an acquaintance in the Navy Department has been begging, borrowing and stealing these for several weeks past. To make a showing she needs fifty or more. Such a collection, to be in any way representative, should include the bands of all the chief line of battle ships and cruisers. Every famous name in the navy, as regards ship designation, should appear on these bands.

These bands are black and the names on them are gilt, all uniform in style and shape, as any one who keeps track of them naval matters knows. The "smart" girl, when she has secured enough, tacks them up on her bedroom wall with gilt headed nails. One favorite place is over the mantel, another is the centre of some side wall. It must be, at all events, where they will show out vividly, and where there will be a good light at night.

THE YOUNG JUGGLER

PRACTICE AND SPECIAL TOOLS NECESSARY FOR SUCCESS.

How to Spin a Handkerchief on the Point of a Stick—To Balance an Egg on a Straw—The Art of Spinning Plates.

Readers who may wish to shine as jugglers, but have not the necessary time nor patience to practice, even, need not despair, for, by folowing out the tips and instructions contained herein, they may to all appearance become jugglers with very little practice, and astonish their friends by the seeming dexterity they appear to possess.

I say dexterity, for a true juggling and balancing performance has little or no trickery connected with it. Often the professional juggler practices for many hours per day, for sometimes six months to perfect and master one trick or piece of apparatus until he is perfect with it. So to give a whole and proper public performance requires a long apprenticeship.

But such extensive practice and patience as this had better be left to the professional. The intention of this article is to show that a week's good practice, when you have the necessary paraphernalia, may make a juggler of the reader if he uses the apparatus I shall describe.

I will here take the opportunity to point out a mistake that is often made in mentioning or writing about a juggler—which is to confound him with conjuring tricks. In our days it is not so. A conjuror is devoted to legerdemain, and a juggler to feats of dexterity in the art of equipoise. They are distinct arts, juggling and conjuring.

It will be necessary to begin by balancing a stick upon your chin, or nose; but with determination and perseverance this should be soon accomplished; There is no trick in this, only the acquiring of the simple art of getting the centre of gravity, and this will be found useful in several tricks, besides giving them an air of reality.

[Spinning a Handkerchief.]

Fig. 1 shows the art of spinning a handkerchief or flag upon the point of a stick, which should be about two feet in length. The handkerchief is thrown up into the air, keeping it as flat and open as possible; it has then to be caught upon the point of the stick toward one of its corners, at the same moment giving it a twirling motion, by keeping the point of the stick in a circular motion, the hand moving round from the wrist. To do this satisfactorily with an ordinary stick would, before you succeeded, probably tire you out or even disgust you with the whole affairs, so have a trick stick. This stick is pointed at the top, into which is inserted a needle protruding about half an inch beyond the stick. This will hold the handkerchief in its place.

To balance an egg upon the end or point of a very thin stick, or even a straw, may seem a very delicate and risky bit of equipoise, but with a small cup, to which is attached a stem, as in Fig. 2, which is a side view, it will be found easy enough.

The cup may be made of tin, with a wire stem soldered to its under-part, and in the centre; or of thin cardboard, when a wooden stem should be glued to it. This cup should be as small as possible, so that just the end of the egg fits into it. It must be painted white, so that at a little distance from the spectator it will not be noticed; neither must it be seen by them, but concealed in the hand which is to pick up the egg. It will be found an easy matter to press the egg into the cup. Then take the egg or straw; but if the latter, be careful that it is a good stiff one, not liable to bend over; then, in pretending to carefully balance the egg upon it, slip the stem in, as seen in Fig. 4. If a stick is used, of course a small hole must be bored in it to receive the stem of the cup. Now balance the whole upon the hand or chin; and in taking the egg off carry the cup with it, and then conceal it in the most convenient place.

Plate spinning upon sticks has always a pretty and dexterious effect in the juggling performance. To accomplish this will be found easy if the right pttern of plate is used. It is of the soup-plate shape; but deeper than the original article; also the bottom of the plate is raised in the centre to a point, which point reaches almost up to the level of the rim. A pointed stick is placed underneath the bottom of the plate, which will find its resting place without any effort on the part of the performer, and the plate will rest balanced upon the stick. These plates can be made of brass, tin or cardboard. If made the same circumference as the ordinary dinner-plate, and about three inches in depth, they will be found a useful size.

[Spinning a Plate.]

Pussy's Burial.

The cemetery was beneath
A shaggy cedar tree;
The mourners were the Jersey cow
And pussy's child and me.

The tombstone was a piece of slate
And daisies were the shroud;
I cried a little to myself,
The kitten purred aloud.

To be always thinking about your manners is not the way to make them good; the very perfection of manners is not to think about yourself.

AN EXPEDIENT.

And it Caused the Young Man to Change His Mind.

There is a rich man living out Hoyn avenue way, and he has a promising son whose only weakness is an inability to get into the house in the even ing at an hour regarded as correct by the two heads of the family and who object to letting him set a fresh time of his own.

The rich man has had a good deal of trouble with that son, and at last he hit upon a rather odd expedient of sending him on a pleasure trip to Europe. He gave the boy all the money that would be needed for the journey, provided him with letters of introduction to men in and out of official life who might be useful to him, and told him to have a good time, but not to get gay; and then he sent him out of town on the night train.

(He Told His Mother Next Day That He Had Changed His Mind.)

And the rich young man had a boy friend who had always traveled with him, and had shared all the mischief which the rich boy had seen, and this boy No. 2 concluded he, too, would have a good time on the continent. For about three weeks he behaved himself in a manner to drive all his friends and relatives to the faith cure, and then his father asked him one night what he was trying to do.

"Oh, I'm playing for a trip to Europe," said the smart boy No. 2.

"So?" said the father. "Well, come down here in the basement till I talk it over with you."

And when they came up out of the lower regions the old gentleman was very much out of breath and boy No. 2 had a serious not to say convinced look on his face. He told his mother next day that he had changed his mind and was going to start into Sunday school; and he did.—Chicago Chronicle.

Pie Made Him Crazy.

Judge Goldfogle and Assistant District-Attorney Blumenthal of New York were in a restaurant in Philadelphia a few nights ago.

"Here," whispered Judge Goldfogle to the waiter. "I'm an officer from New York. This man (pointing to Mr. Blumenthal, who was reading a newspaper) is my prisoner. He's a lunatic. You would not think so. He is quite rational now, but for Heaven's sake don't give him pie or coffee. That sets him wild. There is no telling what he will do then."

"Very good, sir," replied the waiter, bowing very low and pocketing the $1 tip Judge Goldfogle had given him.

"Now, let us have pie and then a small cup of French coffee," said Mr. Blumenthal to the waiter.

"I will take the same," said Judge Goldfogle.

The waiter brought a portion for the Judge, but none for the Assistant-District-Attorney.

No coaxing could induce the waiter to serve Mr. Blumenthal. Then he became angry and told the manager that he must discharge the waiter.

"Why, that fellow's crazy!" said the waiter. "His keeper there told me so."

Mr. Blumenthal paid the bills. He is now trying to get even with the Judge.

LEARNING TO SPEAK

EXPERIMENTS IN TRYING TO EDUCATE A MONKEY.

Sambo Can Already Do Many Things His Trainer Has Taught Him But He Has Not Yet Learned to Talk —An Interesting Orang Outang.

As an appropriate climax to a series of experiments in educating a monkey Mr. J. L. Buck, now in Boston, will try to make the monkey talk. The animal is one of the greatest curiosities in the simian line ever seen. The point to which his education has been carried is wonderful. He rejoices in the name of Sambo, and is a Bornean of the orang-outang species.

Sambo eats at the table with as much complacency as a Christion, and behaves better at his meals than some Christians. In describing his method of teaching Sambo how he must use a spoon Mr. Buck explained that he placed the food in a very deep cup; Sambo's natural intelligence at once showed him the use of a spoon; but he at first made the mistake of bringing the provender from the depth of the cup by means of the spoon and then laying down on the table to be grabbed with his fingers.

Mr. Buck cured Sambo of this habit by placing a hungry monkey at the table beside him. When Sambo would lay it down the hungry one would snatch it away. After a while Sambo saw the point, and foiled the thief by carrying the food directly from the cup to his mouth by means of the spoon. The accomplishment acquired there was no more trouble.

Sambo was taught the value of clothing by being left for a time in a cold place and afterward taken in and warmly clothed. In this way the advantage of wearing clothes soon became apparent to his monkey mind.

What caused Mr. Buck most perplexity was how to get Sambo to wear a cap, for he seemed to have a rooted antipathy to any kind of headgear. The trainer was almost on the point of giving up, when one day he noticed that flies were annoying the monkey very much. When they were particularly persistent around his head Sambo would pull up his coat to protect his poll. Inspiration came to Mr. Buck. Daubing a little molasses on Sambo's head he left him for a time to be tormented by the flies, and then placed a cap over his head to show him the use of a covering. Sambo realized the utility of a cap at once and has worn it without protest ever since.

By these methods, and without the use of the whip that is considered so indispensable by most trainers of animals, Sambo's education was carried on.

He can dress himself without assistance, putting on his shoes and stockings as carefully as an orderly boy, at meal times carrying his chair to the table and sitting up like a regular recognized member of the family, eating his meals decorously and daintily, with his napkin tucked under his chin, and behaving, in short, with the best of table manners.

(Sambo.)

Although Sambo is hardly of an age to grasp the advantage of speech, his trainer considers that even a year of unavailing effort will not be time wasted, as he is confident that as Sambo grows older he will learn the language. At his present age, 2 years, Sambo is very nearly as far advanced as most babies, as he uses the words "Mamma" and "Come back." Mrs. Buck has petted Sambo to such an extent that if she leaves the room he will cry continually "Mamma," and on her reappearance will say distinctly, "Come back."

Score One For Boston.

A man with a pasteboard box labelled "Ladies' Vests" sat in the Reading Terminal in Philadelphia the other day, so wrapped up in a Boston newspaper that he let the train slip off without him. When he found that he would have to wait two more hours he seemed annoyed, but, notwithstanding his annoyance, he was kind enough to explain in a loud voice to a couple of uniformed officials how they ought to run things at the terminal. "You ought to do as we do in Boston," he said. "At the station there the names of the cities and towns all over the country that the trains run to are printed in big letters on the walls, and the seats for the waiting passengers are grouped around these names. Suppose I want to go to Washington, I run my eye over the walls, and when I find the name I'm after I sit down near it, in a Washington seat. Then, when a train is ready, the enunciator—as we call him in Boston; I don't know what you call him there—goes quietly to the people who are in that train's seats, touches them on the shoulder and murmurs in a polite way: 'Your train, sir.' 'Your train, madam. Gate 11.' Now that's the way to do it. No shouting, no confusion, no trains escaping without their passengers. That's how we manage things in Boston."

Called Devil's Horses.

The Sultan of Morrocco, by the advice of the gravest and wisest counselors, has recntly issued a decree prohibiting the use of the bicycle throughout the length and breadth of his empire, says Le Petit Bleu (Brussels). Nevertheless, in other parts of savage Africa the bicycle, if it has not superceded the "ship of the desert," has to some extent taken the place of money, and natives readily exchange ivory for "devil's horses;" and happy and proud the dusky aborigine may be seen gayly "biking" on the palava ground or the execution square.

A MONSTER RESERVOIR.

Wyoming Plans a Gigantic Scheme for Irrigation.

A GREAT ARTIFICIAL LAKE

Plans to Make the Arid Plains Blossom as the Rose With Fertility.

Hopes of Securing National Legislation to Help in the Enterprise—Senators and Representatives Will be Called Upon to Urge the Scheme in Congress.

Think of an artificial lake of water high up on the crest of the continent, 7,260 feet above the flight of seagulls, where is to be stored for irrigation purposes during the dry months 40,817,405,000 cubic feet of water—a lake ten miles in length, three miles in width, 180 feet in maximum depth, 60 feet in mean depth, and covering 13,651 acres of land with water deep enough to float an ocean steamer—a deep, wide and long enough to irrigate 450,000 acres of desert land and thus make homes of plenty, where 2,812 farmers may each dwell upon 160 acres of perpetually watered land and never give a single thought to rain. This is the big reservoir that the people of the West propose to build on the Laramie plains in Wyoming.

It is said to be the greatest irrigation project ever evolved, and the arid West is united upon it. Western Senators and Representatives have been advised by their constituents to assemble at the next Congress fortified with enough reasons to convince the Government that it is its duty to render substantial aid to the enterprise. The West will do its part in the way of State appropriations and private subscriptions.

In the building of this gigantic reservoir it is proposed to divert the surplus waters of the Big and Little Larmarie rivers, and store them away in a natural depression known as the Big Hollow, the northeast end of which is five miles west of Laramie City. The depression lies between the Big and Little Laramie rivers in the Laramie plains. The surrounding land slopes away from the rim of the basin in all directions, thus making it an admirable place in which to store water for irrigation purposes. The basin itself has been formed by erosion and has no outlet. Nature has walled it around with rocks and no leak has been found large enough to interfere with the storing of such an amount of water.

In the flood season when these mountain streams are debouching their mad waters upon the plains, thus dealing disaster to the hopes of the farmers and ranchmen, it is the intention to divert their entire surplus flow into the big basin and there confine it until the dry months. The ditch to supply the reservoir with the waters of the Big Laramie River wil be nearly twenty miles in length, but through an easy country for its construction. The ditch from the Little Laramie will be much shorter.

In the dry season it is proposed to draw the water from the reservoir through a tunnel at the northeast end of the basin and discharge it again into the Big Laramie River a short distance below Laramie City, thus keeping the river well filled with water during a season which has been usually almost dry. The outlet ditch is to be five miles long from the reservoir to the river. In its construction it will be necessary to construct three-quarters of a mile through solid rock. In driving this tunnel will be found the burden of expense in carrying out the project.

The Big Laramie flows into the North Platte River, and the waters thus turned into it would serve for irrigation not only in eastern Wyoming, but also into the western part of Nebraska.

While the reservoir at Laramie is the largest, it is by no means the only one that the West proposes to build. It is the purpose of the West to make the Laramie reservoir a trial proposition at Washington, and should national legislation be gained its in favor then will the Government be told that it has 1,300,000 square miles of land that might be similarly reclaimed and subdued.

The West at present has a number of great reservoirs either completed or in view for immediate completion. The following are among the most important sites:

Laramie site, capacity 400,000 acre feet.

Sweetwater site, Wyoming, capacity 326,965 acre feet.

Piney Creek system (consisting of three sites, Cloud Peak, Piney and Lake De Smet,), capacity 80,000 acre feet.

South Platte site, Colorado, capacity 41,320 acre feet.

Loveland site, Colorado (storing waters from Big Thompson and Cache la Poudre rivers), capacity 45,741 acre feet.

The function of reservoirs is primarily industrial, but great stress is laid upon the argument that the reservoir will serve as a possible amelioration of flood conditions. Many of the greater reservoir sites are along the headwaters of the Missouri River and its tributaries, and it is claimed that when these reservoirs are constructed they will hold the surplus water in times of annual floods and freshets and thus prevent flood devastations along the lower waters of the Mississippi River.

Rats at War.

"A white rat," said a man recently who is supposed to know, "is the mortal enemy of the common or brown rat. If three white rats are placed in a dwelling infested with the rodents they will drive the latter away within a week. A white rat will fight a brown rat and kill it almost as quickly as a ferret. In fact, I think white rats belong to the ferret family."—Baltimore (Md.) Herald.

A Helpful Friend.

"I am told that he is her fifth husband."

"Say, it must be awful to a man to feel that his wife looks upon him as a mere habit."—Indianapolis Journal.

GOLF.

One after another, the young men of the city and borough are falling victims to the fast nations of the royal and ancient game of golf. One of the latest is Elston M. French, assessor of North Plainfield. Golf and politics seem congenial sports and like Senator Reed, Assemblyman Roger Murray and Hon. James E. Martine. Mr. French shows a great aptitude to the game. He appears occasionally on the links of the Park Golf Club, where he has made an excellent showing for a beginner. At no far distant day, it is expected that Mr. French will be one of the crack players of the club. There will be the usual play for the McCutchen Cup this afternoon on the links of the Park Golf Club. A good turnout is expected. Now that Miss Saidee Mae Howell has returned after her summer outing, there will be some competitions for the Buttfield Cup. Miss Daisy Elsberg has a good lead, but Miss Howell still has a chance of winning the trophy. As a means of occupying their spare moments when at home in practicing their favorite sport, there are many members of both local clubs who have laid out putting greens on their own lawns where they are enabled to practice approach shots and putting.

Cranford is going to have one of the finest golf courses and club houses in New Jersey. An enthusiastic meeting was held in the township rooms Monday evening, which resulted in the appointment of a committee consisting of Messrs. L. L. Conderet, of Cranford; L. V. DeForest, Roselle; W. TenBroeck, Westfield; H. A. Humphreys, Kenyon Messick, H. S. Sanderson and E. B. Horton to make the arrangements. A permanent organization will be effected with a charter membership fee of $25. There will be about one hundred charter members, who will receive stock or bonds.

His Life Was Saved.

Mr. J. E. Lilly, a prominent citizen of Hannibal, Mo., lately had a wonderful deliverance from a frightful death. In telling of it he says: "I was taken with Typhoid Fever, that ran into Pneumonia. My lungs became hardened. I was so weak I couldn't even set up in bed. Nothing helped me. I expected to soon die of Consumption, when I heard of Dr. King's New Discovery. One bottle gave great relief. I continued to use it, and now am well and strong. I can't say too much in its praise." This marvelous medicine is the surest and quickest cure in the world for all Throat and Lung Trouble. Regular sizes 50 cents and $1.00. Trial bottles free at L. W. Randolph's Drug Store; every bottle guaranteed.

The International Telehhone and Switchboard Manufacturing Company filed articles of incorporation yesterday afternoon with the clerk of Union county. The company is capitalized at $1,000,000. The incorporators are L. B. Grant, of 164 Clinton street, Brooklyn; Thomas S. White, 113 West Ninety-third street, New York city and James C. Pope, of Plainfield. The company will manufacture telephone switchboards and exchanges, and also construct or operate telephone and telegraph lines. The company's New Jersey office is at 110 East Front street, Plainfield.

So far the company has made no plans. The company controls special patents of L. B. Clark for a switchboard, and will in time erect a factory for the manufacture of them.

NO TROUBLE IN SCHOOL.

False Report Circulated About Dunellen Pupils by the News.

The story published in yesterday's News to the effect that a disturbance had recently occurred in one of the Dunellen schools, is pronounced by a member of the Board of Education as being untrue and malicious. A Daily Press reporter, who talked with a number of pupils regarding the alleged trouble, was unable to find a single boy or girl who had even heard that there was the least particle of trouble in the department presided over by Miss Willgus. The school is being conducted in a satisfactory manner and the new superintendent is believed to be able to maintain perfect discipline.

THE ORENING SESSION.

High Schoool Will Commence at 9 a. m. Tuesday.

The opening session of the High School will be at 9 o'clock Tuesday morning. Thereafter the session will open as usual at 8:20 o'clock. At 9 o'clock Monday morning examinations will be conducted at the High School building for those who desire to enter the school as well as for those deficient in the studies of last year. There will be an opportunity for parents to consult with the teachers both morning and afternoon Monday.

A Bad Street to Travel.

Probably the worst street to travel in this city at the present time is South avenue, and it is made especially bad owing to the work of increasing the grade at the foot of the hill. The work is being done slowly and the condition in which the road is left certainly makes it rather unsafe to travel at night.

STATE NEWS IN BRIEF.

HAPPENINGS IN A FEW LINES FROM ALL OVER JERSEY.

More or Less Important Happenings and Events in Various Sections Served For a Quick Glance at

A new Republican daily newspaper will be started in Millville about September 15th.

Hundreds of men are at work on the Maurice River Cove oyster beds, and there is a ready market for all that can be gathered.

John Thompson, a poultry dealer in Union Hill, was surprised to find in a newly-hatched brood a lively chick with two heads, each on a separate neck, two sets of wings and four legs, all on one body. Thompson believes the curiosity is the product of a double yoked egg.

The Burlington County Board of Assessors met and decided to raise $260,000 by taxation for the current year, which will call for a tax rate of $1 16. This is considerably higher than the rate has ever been and is said to be largely due to the increased expenditure for stone roads.

Business operations in Millville are at a standstill for want of workmen. All the local bricklayers, masons and carpenters are engaged, but two or three score more could be secured. Buildings that were intended to be erected this fall have to lay over until spring owing to this dearth of workmen.

Arthur W. Bishop, president of the Passaic County branch of the Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Children, who returned to his office in Paterson after a short vacation in Pennsylvania, intimates that there will be a lively time at the next meeting of the State society, because of recent attacks made on him by B. P. Hutchinson, president of the Mercer county branch. Mr. Bishop will insist that the State officers pass on the controversy, which arose because of his activity against Mrs. Eyler and the State Industrial school trustees. He is confident they will confirm his stand.

WEIGHING THE MAILS.

Postmaster General Smith Changes the Method in Vogue—Mr. Bird Notified.

Postmaster E. H. Bird yesterday morning received an order from Postmaster-General Smith directing the weighing of the mails, which is to commence on October 3d, immediately after midnight, and to continue for 35 successive days, ending at midnight November 6th. The Government requires information regarding the weight of mail matter originating in the United States every 24 hours, together with the weight of the equipment necessary to transport the same, and the total weight of mail matter, equipment, supplies, etc., passing over steam railroads every 24 hours.

The weighing of the mails was heretofore done at the railroad stations by special weighers. The work will be done under the new order in the post-office and by the office attaches.

EARLY INTELLIGENCE.

—Call and see the line of new toys at Harper's, 411 Park avenue.

—Neuman Bros. will sell seventy-five baskets of fine white and yellow peaches this afternoon and evening.

—The Sunday-school of the Church of the Heavenly Rest will begin its fall session at 9:45 a. m. tomorrow. Morning prayer at 11 o'clock.

No Right to Ugliness.

The woman who is lovely in face, form and temper will always have friends, but one who would be attractive must keep her health. If she is weak, sickly and all run down, she will be nervous and irritable. If she has constipation or kidney trouble, her impure blood will cause pimples, blotches, skin eruptions and a wretched complexion. Electric Bitters is the best medicine in the world to regulate stomach, liver and kidneys and to purify the blood. It gives strong nerves, bright eyes, smooth, velvet skin, rich complexion. It will make a good-looking, charming woman of a run-down invalid. Only 50 cents at L. W. Randolph's Drug Store.

Dr. Stryker to Preach.

Rev. Peter Stryker, D. D., of Asbury Park, will again preach in Trinity Reformed church tomorrow morning and evening.

Collector George F. Brown needs a few days' rest from his business, and accompanied by his wife has gone to Lebanon, Hunterdon county, where they will enjoy farm life at the home of Moses Feimly.

KICKED BY A HORSE.

Now Mrs. Cramer Wants $200 Damages From the Owner of the Vicious Brute.

(Special to The Daily Press.)

Scotch Plains, Sept. 9—A horse belonging to one of the Italians living on Terrill road has been running loose most of the summer. It has frequently wandered up and down the public roads. This same horse, it is alleged, is a vicious creature.

About a month ago Mrs. Louisa Cramer, wife of Charles Cramer, of this place, was kicked by the animal and seriously injured. Mrs. Cramer has just instituted suit before Justice Clark for $200.

Nobody knows exactly what the Italian's name is, so he has been sued under the name of John Doe and his description. The suit is in tort, returnable Thursday afternoon at 2 o'clock.

Mrs Cramer was injured August 11th while walking on Midway avenue. The horse was free on the highway when Mrs. Cramer passed by. The horse kicked viciously as she passed and struck her in the side. She has been suffering ever since.

PRICE OF MEAT

Going Higher for Two Years In Proportion to Stock Shortage.

The rise in the wholesale price of meat has been gradual and due to causes over which the packer himself has had no control. It has been the commercial result of the gradual rise in the price of live stock; and this enhancing of the value of the herd has been brought about by the general shortage of live stock for slaughter purposes, and the increased cost of producing hand (stall fed) beef, because of the shortage of feed and the increased cost of getting it. If the past prices of meat were right the present prices are so, since they are calculated on the same basis. A comparison of the market for beef cattle on the hoof in Chicago and Kansas City for Aug. 10, 1897, 1898 and 1899, shows that the following top and average prices were paid by the packers at the stockyards in open competition for hand fed and choice Western beef cattle: Aug. 10, 1897, prime cattle, live weight, $4.80, average, 4.15, making the prime dead meat cost $7.90, or nearly 8 cents per pound to produce. The butcher paid less for it. Aug. 10, 1898, prime stock fetched $5.25; average good heifers brought 4.50. This made prime dressed beef cost 8.50, or 8½c. per pound landed. August 10, 1899, prime beef cattle sold for $6.20; average good, $5.25, making the carcass of prime cost, landed, $9.25(or 9¼c. per pound.

The price of cattle has been creeping up for two years in proportion to the shortage of stock and the expensive feed and weather conditions for producing marketable beef. We have warned the retail trade of these advancing conditions and from time to time advised them to meet the inevitable by putting up their shop prices. That they have lingered at the old prices for two years and are now forced to meet the state of trade in one jump is as unfortunate as it was unnecessary, but the wholesalers are not to blame, inasmuch as the stock grower draws first blood from the slaughter and for spot cash at that. If any one questions this statement let him bid at the stockyards with millions back of him and ask for credit.—National Provisioner.

SAYS CYCLE RACES ARE ALMOST NUDE

Rev. G. M. Shott Scores Races at Scotch Plains.

BLAMES HIS OWN CHURCH.

ALSO SAYS CONSTABLES DO NOT DO THEIR DUTY.

Declares That State Laws Are Being Violated and That Women Have to Turn Their Faces Away in Shame—Calls Upon His Church Members to Use Their Influence Against Such Events.

(Special to The Daily Press.)

Scotch Plains, Sept. 11—Rev. Gideon M. Shott, pastor of the Baptist church, who has been sermonizing for several months past on the sin and iniquity which he thinks exists in this town, yesterday made a violent attack on the practices that prevail in the running of the series of bicycle road races in this place Saturday afternoons. The races attract large crowds of people from Plainfield and neighboring towns. The subject of Rev. Mr. Shott's sermon yesterday morning was "The Seven Golden Candle Sticks." In part he said:

"Has this old church lost its lamp stand that it allows 300 or 400 people to come into our village, as was done Saturday, to watch three partly nude men struggle for the mastery in a bicycle race, when men and women stand by and applaud this show of brute strength. This was allowed in our streets yesterday and this old church stood by a witness to it but threw out no light. If the church lamps or candle sticks were kept lighted and the wicks trimmed and cared for we would have very little infidelity in the world."

"My attention was called to the partly nude racers not only by men but by women, some of whom turned their heads away from the sight. Do you know there is a law which says a person shall dress with common decency upon the street? It is unlawful for a bicycle to be propelled faster than ten miles an hour through the streets of the village. We have an ordinance which forbids it; still you allow it to go on, and by so doing some of our boys get the fever and enter the struggle."

"It is unlawful for a man to strike his fellow man, still our officers allowed about 200 struggling men and boys to fight and struggle after the race for nearly a block through the principal street in our village. And what did they do? Not an arrest! Such a sight for the peaceful residents of the village to witness!

"This triple alliance against the law of our State was allowed to go on in the heart of our beautiful village Saturday and we stood by and allowed it. Churches that lose their lamplight and fail to light the wanderer to Christ are merely lampposts in the Master's work. In these days men are busy shedding their light out into the world and not for the Master. May God help this old church to be like 'The Seven Golden Candle Sticks.'"

FRANCHISE ACCEPTED.

Westfield and Elizabeth Trolley Company Begins Work on Feul Park in Roselle.

(Special to The Daily Press.)

Roselle, Sept. 11—The Westfield and Elizabeth Trolley Company has accepted the franchise granted by the Roselle Borough Council, and has deposited the $20,000 bond for the faithful performance of the provisions of the ordinance, and $10,000 with the Fidelity Trust Company, which is to be used for the widening of Second avenue. Surveyor VanEmburgh has fixed the grade, and Colonel Riker, who was in town, gave direction for the work to begin at once.

STORM STOPPED STREET CARS.

Traffic on Somerset Street Stalled Because of Water on the Tracks.

The heavy storm between 12 and 1 o'clock this afternoon flooded the streets to a depth of several inches. In some places the trolley cars were stalled. Some difficulty was experienced on Somerset street near Jackson avenue. The water covered the tracks and the entire street was inundated. Pedestrians were compelled to use fences in order to cross certain street. Storm sewers are badly needed in the borough.

A Good Job.

The work of laying concrete sidewalks on Somerset street over the county bridge was completed Friday. The job is a good one and is appreciated by the traveling public.

EXPECT THE UNIFORMS.

Borough Firemen Have Received Assurances That Their New Suits Will be Here on Time.

David Bodine, secretary of the committee on uniforms from Warren Engine Company, has written a letter to The Daily Press in answer to the article published Saturday which was headed "Worried Over Suits," and takes occasion to inform the members of the company and the public in general that there is absolutely no cause for worriment in the report that the firm having the contract for the uniforms has failed. The firm to date has fulfilled every part of their contract with the members and the committee received a letter, dated Sept. 9th, from the firm making the uniforms, stating that they are nearly completed and will be sent the latter part of this week or the first of next.

THEIR CLOTHES AFLAME

DANGEROUS RESULTS FROM PLAYING WITH MATCHES.

Six year-old Child's Dress Was in Flames—Lawrence Green Heroically Extinguished the Fire, Burning His Hands Badly.

Little Mamie Cramer and Katie Green had a narrow escape from being burned to death last Saturday evening. The children were playing in the cellar at the home of of Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Green, of 515 West Third street, when in some manner the light dress worn by Mamie Crame suddenly burst into a flame. The child, who is but six years of age, ran screaming from the cellar and to the sidewalk.

The little one's cries attracted the attention of Mr. Green, who had just returned from work. Mr. Green ran to the child's assistance and in less time than it takes to tell it had torn the blazing garments from the little one, fortunately before the fire had seriously burned the girl. Mr. Green's hands were slightly burned in his heroic efforts to save the life of his little daughter's playmate. It is supposed that the children were playing with matches.

ITALIANS ON A STRIKE.

When Contractor Serrell Raised Their Demands They Quit Work on Trolley Road.

A gang of 125 Italians employed by Contractor L. W. Serrell, of this city, in grading the roadbed of the Elizabeth and Westfield Street Railway Company in the vicinity of Garwood, quit work at 8 o'clock this morning because their demand of an increase of twenty-five cents a day in wages was not granted. The Italians have been receiving $1.25 per day, but lately the gang quartered near Garwood have agitated the matter of demanding $1.50

Yesterday they decided to make the demand this morning. Several of the Italians acted as representatives for the others in making the demands. Mr. Serrell's representative refused to allow the increase. The men then went out on a strike. The gangs employed on other sections of the road are not affected. The strikers will be replaced by other Italians from Newark and New York.

THEATRE FOR BRUNSWICK.

Manager Maze Edwards, of This City, is Trying to Interest Capitalists in the Project.

Maze Edwards, manager of Stillman Music Hall in this city, is trying to interest New Brunswick capitalists in the project of building a theatre in that place, which, when completed, he agrees to take a lease of for ten years. Mr. Edwards visited New Brunswick Friday and interviewed a number of local capitalists and business men, and found that they were anxious to aid such an enterprise. He enlisted the support of Edward H. Radel, secretary of the Brunswick Traction Company. Phillip Weigel, Jr., was also seen, and he stated that he would offer a strip of land on Dennis street, a few doors from George, as a site for the theatre. The property is valued at $8,000, and he agreed to accept stock in the theatre company in payment for the land. If the building is put up it is calculated to make it cost about $35,000, exclusive of the site.

Policeman to Sue Lawyer.

William DeMeza, of this city, is the defendant in an action for damages brought by John Kirkman, an Elizabeth policeman, who claims to have been injured by DeMeza who drove into him some weeks ago while driving in that city, with a young man from this city. Efforts on the part of Mr. DeMeza's a lawyer to settle the case have proved futile. The city attorney of Elizabeth has been asked to press the charges.

PLAINFIELD RIDERS CAPTURE THE PRIZES.

Charles Hummer, of This City, Wins the Road Race.

ACCIDENTS WERE PLENTY.

ONE RIDER'S WHEEL IS SMASHED IN A COLLISION.

Several Others Have Narrow Escapes From Serious Injury—Curtiss and Sorenson Fall in a Heap at the First Turn—Crowd Pressed too Close—Next Race Will be Held on Saturday, Sept. 23d.

The features of the 16 mile road race held Saturday afternoon at Scotch Plains, under the auspices of W. S. Emery, were the numerous accidents to the participants. Though none of the riders were seriously injured, the spills marred the race and prevented as interesting a contest as had been expected.

However, the race was highly interesting and drew a big crowd, fully five hundred people being about the starting point when the men were sent away by Harry Lister, who acted as starter and timer, while Frank Schuck was clerk of the course.

Plainfield riders captured the first and third prizes and a Scotch Plains man won the second medal. The lucky man was Charles Hummer, of this city, who proved equal to his name and maintained the reputation he has gained among his admirers for being a "hummer" on a wheel. It is a question, however, whether the result would have been the same had no accidents occurred.

The men were sent on their long journey at exactly 4:22 o'clock in the following order:

Name.	Town.	Handicap.
Wm. Simpson.	Westfield.	4 minutes
John Lemaire.	Plainfield.	4 minutes
Fred. Marsh.	Scotch Plains.	4 minutes
Jeppe Sorenson.	Plainfield.	3 minutes
David Curtiss.	Westfield.	3 minutes
A. R. Greene.	Plainfield.	2 minutes
Charles Hummer.	Plainfield.	2 minutes
Charles LeMathy.	Westfield.	2 minutes
Louis Miller.	Westfield.	2 minutes
Arthur Chapin.	Scotch Plains.	1 minute
A. Neal Petersen.	Plainfield.	1 min to
John Townsend.	Cranford.	Scratch
Charles Embleton.	Westfield.	Scratch

The first accident in the race befell Townsend, who slipped from his wheel while endeavoring to make the turn into the Springfield road. Chapin, who was close up fell over Townsend and in a jiffy there was a mix up. Townsend's wheel was so badly used up that he was compelled to secure another. Embleton, following rapidly in the rear of Townsend and Chapin, narrowly escaped a collision by taking the sidewalk and going around the bunch. The accident to Townsend put him so far behind that he was hopelessly out of the race. Nevertheless, he mounted a borrowed wheel and pluckily continued the struggle. Chapin also continued but was disqualified for not making the last turn.

The first to finish the first eight miles were Marsh, LeMaire and Miller, who made the turn at the liberty pole in the order named, closely followed by Hummer. This quartette had scarcely straightened out on the final run when Curtiss came at breakneck speed. Unfortunately for this rider the crowd pressed too close, and, in making the turn in front of the hotel, Curtiss collided with a spectator and went down. Sorenson was following so closely that he was unable to avoid an accident and he and Curtiss fell in a heap. The accident put the men out of the race. It also caused some confusion and was the means of interfering with LeMathy, Simpson and Greene, though the latter continued over the course.

The race was finally finished in this order: Hummer, Marsh, LeMaire, Miller, Embleton, Greene, and Townsend. Hummer's time was 43:35 2-5. Hummer was awarded a gold medal and the silver cup, the latter prize being wrested from LeMathy, of Westfield, who won it at the first race. To retain the cup, however, Hummer will be compelled to win it twice more. Marsh and LeMaire were presented with silver and bronze medals respectively. The next race will be pulled off Saturday afternoon, September 23d.

MRS. COX NOT THERE.

She Wrote Her Husband to Meet Her in Scotch Plains, but She Failed to Appear.

Andrew Cox, of Watchung avenue, husband of Mrs. Cox, who left the city in the early part of last week, went to Scotch Plains Saturday evening, in company with Henry VanMiddlesworth, for the purpose of meeting Mrs. Cox, who through a letter to her husband stated that she would meet him there at 8 o'clock. After waiting for over an hour the two men returned home disappointed in not being able to meet the woman.

PARTNER HAS VANISHED.

AND WITH HIM WENT CONSIDERABLE PROPERTY.

The Parting is the Climax to Legal Problems Between the Two Men—Property Found in a Freight Car.

Joseph Munch was a partner with Angeld Verliny at Mr. Bethel in a general farming business. The latter claimed that his partner owed him $116 and recently Verling brought suit against Much.

Last Friday Verliny went to New York for a visit and he remained there until yesterday morning. When he returned he failed to find his partner and an investigation proved that there were many other things he could not find, including two horses, a cow, a spring wagon, a buggy, an incubator and the furniture in the house. They were all gone and there was a desolate appearance appearance about the place.

At first Verliny was dumfounded and bewildered. Then he began to feel indignant and he came to this city. He reached Plainfield yesterday forenoon and reported the matter to Patrolman Mattox, whom he happened to meet. An investigation followed with a partial success. The furniture was found stored in a freight car near the freight house, which was billed to New York.

An investigation was then made for the other things but as yet they have not been located. Word was sent to several nearby cities warning the police to be on the lookout for the missing partner.

Verliny allowed the furniture to leave Plainfield, and he has gone to New York, where he hopes to catch Munch when he calls there for the goods.

THREE HURT ON WHEELS

BRUISED AND CUT, BUT NONE WERE SERIOUSLY INJURED.

George Peterson's Way Blocked by Another Rider.—A. R. Greene Injured in Road Race—Wm. Young Hurt in Collision

George Peterson, one of the colored assistants at Rogers' bicycle store, was severely injured by a fall from his wheel Saturday afternoon. He was riding out East Front street bound for Scotch Plains to see the road race when another rider swerved suddenly in front of him, cutting him off. He was thrown over the handle bars and landed on his head. He received several scalp wounds and his face was cut. He was attended by Dr. Westcott.

A. R. Greene, of Verdon street, is barely able to get around this morning as the result of injuries received in the road race at Scotch Plains, Saturday. He was thrown from his wheel twice. His head was cut and his legs and arms badly bruised.

William Young, of 133 Liberty street, was run into by David Beach, colored, yesterday afternoon while riding his wheel on South avenue near Leland avenue. Young was badly cut on the forehead, where seven stitches were taken. His eye was nearly gouged out. A bone in his wrist was broken. He also received several other cuts and bruises.

TO MANUFACTURE PAINT.

A Company With $50,000 Capital Back of George D. Naylor

(Special to The Daily Press.)

Elizapeth, Sept. 10.—The Naylor Paint, Color and Varnish Company, having an authorizing capital of $50,000, filed its articles of incorporation with County Clerk Howard Friday afternoon. The company purposes to manufacture, sell and deal in paints, colors and varnish of all kinds. Its main office will be in Plainfield and John D. Runyon is named as resident agent. The incorporators are John D. Runyon, Charles L. Moffett and George B. Naylor, all of Plainfield.

A Handsome Monument.

One of the handsomest monuments to be seen in New York Bay Cemetery, Bayonne City, is that erected over the remains of the late Patrick Branley by his widow, Mrs. Abbie Branley, of Jersey City. Mr. Branley was at one time a resident of Plainfield and was well known here, and at the time of his death was in the employ of S. A. Ginna, of this city, at his place of business in New York.

Retires After Thirty Years.

Charles D. Tull, of Elizabeth, for the past thirty years chief clerk of the transportation department of the Central Railroad Company of New Jersey, has severed his connection with that company and started Saturday night to visit his brothers, sisters, and other near relatives, who reside at different points on the Pacific coast, and whom he has not seen for many years.

STREETS THAT NEED REPAIRS GONE OVER.

Councilman Barrows and Expressman Hoagland Together.

TRIP TAKEN THIS MORNING.

MR. BARROWS EXPLAINS PLANS OF STREET COMMITTEE.

Mr. Hoagland Pointed Out the Defects That Were Gone Over—The Last Street Committee Administration is Blamed for Much of the Present Poor Condition of City Thoroughfares

Councilman Elliott T. Barrows and Expressman A. E. Hoagland took a drive this morning as a result of the offer made by Mr. Hoagland in the columns of The Daily Press to give $1 to Mr. Barrows, chairman of the street committee, if he would ride over certain streets in the city within two blocks of the railroad and see their deplorable condition.

Mr. Hoagland wanted Mr. Barrows to go in the former's large truck so that he might fully appreciate the rough road, but Mr. Barrows preferred his own vehicle. Mr. Barrows did the driving and Mr. Hoagland occupied the front seat on the trap with him, while a Press reporter sat behind.

The party left the station at 8:10 o'clock and drove out East Third street. Mr. Hoagland pointed out the hummocks and projecting rocks that would fairly jolt the driver of one of the big trucks right out of his seat.

They turned at Richmond street and returned to the station by the way of East Second street and Watchung avenue. Mr. Hoagland told of the condition of West Second street from New street to Plainfield avenue, as there was not time to drive over it.

Mr. Barrows explained that the street committee had realized the necessity of repairing those same streets. He pointed out the heaps of crushed stone that had just been distributed on East Second street for the repair of that thoroughfare. The condition of the streets at present was the result of a poor policy in the past, he said, when Councils had built macadamized roads and expected them to take care of themselves for three or four years without any repairs. If the city streets were all put in good condition, Mr. Barrows said, the present appropriation would be sufficient to keep them in that condition by repairing them and rolling them with the steam roller every spring. As it was the present street committee was trying to keep the good streets as they were and gradually add to their number as often as the appropriation would allow. The leveling of Second and Third streets would take place as soon as the city gang could reach them.

When it was over, the two men found their ideas on the subject in question were identical, so they shook hands and the $1 was turned over to The Press reporter to go to the Baby Camp Fund.

AN "AUTO" SEEN HERE.

It is the Property of a Guest at the Hotel Hamilton—Attracted Much Attention.

An automobile attracted considerable attention on the city streets this morning. It looked like a huge tricycle and derived its power from a gasoline motor in the rear. It was the property of Oscar L. Richard, of 16 East Seventy-second street, New York city. Mr. Richard has been stopping up at the Hotel Hamilton for the past two weeks and goes over on the automobile every day over to the links of the Baltusrol Golf Club, of which he is a member. He returned to New York today to have some repairs made in the machine.

More Trolley Talk.

An adjourned meeting of the Common Council will be held this evening, when there will be a continuation of the trolley hearing for the proposed Arlington avenue route. It is also likely that the contracts for macadamizing West Third and West Fourth streets will be announced.

Couldn't Do Work of Two Men.

Albert Foster, who has been filling the position of foreman at the News office since last Tuesday, resigned his position Saturday. He preferred not to do the work of two men for the salary paid one man, which was small at that.

Assignee's Sale.

W. R. Codington, as assignee, will this week sell at assignee's sale the dry and fancy goods in the store of VanEmburgh & Son, Babcock building. Sale begins Wednesday and continues balance of the week.

—There will not be a dance at the Manhattan Hotel tomorrow night on account of death in the family.

ANOTHER NEW STORE.

Coons & Company to Open 5 and 10. Cent Business in the Jackson Building.

Coons & Company, dealers in general merchandise, will open a "5 and 10 cent" store in the Jackson building shortly after the 1st of October. A seven-year lease has been prepared through the real estate agency of Laing & Liefke, and will be signed by both parties today or tomorrow.

Coons & Company have a very high commercial standing. They already are conducting successful stores of that type in Oil City and Nanticoke, Pa., and Akron, O. They have never yet failed to build up a good business in any town where they have established a store.

The interior will be handsomely fitted up, and will be ready for occupancy before October 15th.

KUCKLO SENT TO JAIL.

BROUGHT FROM HOSPITAL AND ARRAIGNED BEFORE A JUSTICE.

Made No Statement in Court and is Held to Await the Action of the Grand Jury—He Will Probably Get Well.

John Kucklo, who attempted to kill his wife, by shooting her at their home on Clinton avenue, was brought down from the hospital this morning by Capt. Grant and arraigned before Justice Nash. The specific charge against Kucklo is assault and battery upon the person of his wife Elizabeth Kucklo by shooting her. The accused had nothing to say to the charge. The justice then committed him to the county jail at Elizabeth to await the action of the grand jury.

Kucklo said he felt better then he did last Saturday, and it is the opinion of the hospital physicians that he will recover from the effects of his attempt to kill himself by shooting.

IT WAS ALL A SURPRISE.

Councilman Robert Clark Little Expected That He Was to Entertain a Party of Friends.

When Borough Councilman Robert Clark, of Jackson avenue, returned home from business in Newark Saturday evening and his coachman detained him between the station and his home for an unseemly long time on one pretext or another, he little thought that there was, in the language of the stage, a motif for such conduct. But he realized his mistake when he arrived at his home and was ushered into the parlor, filled with a number of friends who had called to remind him that it was the anniversary of his birthday.

After recovering from his embarrassment at such an unexpected meeting, and when congratulations had been extended in honor of the event, he was taken into the library by Mrs. Clark and seated in a beautiful Morris chair, the gift of his wife. Then presents from other members of the family were brought forth, and Mr. Clark commenced to think that though the "shades of night were falling fast," the sunshine of the day was just beginning to fall on him.

Meanwhile the dinner table had been prepared and the host and guests adjourned to the dining room, where a fine dinner was in evidence. After the dinner a sociable time was enjoyed and the guests left later in the evening, wishing Mr. Clark many happy returns of the day.

Like a woman, Mr. Clark is as old as he looks, and he remarked that he thought he looked to be about twenty-six.

MUST STAY IN LOCKUP.

Fate of Drunkards Sentenced in Borough Recorder's Court is a Very Tough One.

Borough Recorder Long's time was occupied this morning for a time with several cases. Wm. Moore, of Grandview avenue, and Wm. Day, of Summit avenue, were found in an intoxicated condition on Greenbrook road yesterday afternoon, by Marshal Emmons. Moore was fined $3, which was paid. Day decided to take ten days as he could not pay a $5 fine.

Charles Brownton, colored, residence unknown, was picked up Saturday evening by Marshal Kliner, who found the man drunk and disorderly on Somerset street. He was given his choice between $3 or five days. He took the latter. Frazee Connett, of Dog Corner, was also found in the same condition and he decided to spend five days in jail in preference to paying $3.

Those who did not pay their fines will remain in the borough lockup, and will not go to Somerville. Mayor Smalley is convinced that by adopting this course it will have a tendency to lessen trouble among those who are inclined to break the law.

Miss Etta Pelzer, of Jersey City, is visiting Miss Mae Eoff, of Crescent avenue.

NEW COMER WINS HONORS FOR CUP.

George C. Worth Made Low Score Saturday Afternoon.

ON PARK GOLF CLUB LINKS.

LEADERS IN COMPETION FAILED TO SCORE ANY POINTS.

Townsend Brothers Won Second and Third Honors for the Day—Anderson Scored 96—Dryden Was Out of Form—Low Scores Were Made—Miss Daisy Elsberg in Lead for Buttfield Cup.

There were several surprises in the play for the McCutchen Cup on the links of the Park Golf Club Saturday afternoon. First honors for the day went to a comparative stranger in club competitions, George C. Worth, while the Townsend brothers captured the other points awarded for the afternoon's play. The cards handed in showed lower scores than usual, four of the net scores being below the 100. The leaders in the competition for the trophy were unable to score a point.

Worth, who made low net score for the day's play, has only recently developed into a golfer. He has practiced occasionally on the course but made his debut in competition on Labor Day, when he was second to William A. Townsend for the Labor Day Cup, a handicap competition. He received the limit in handicap, 3 strokes, and was only beaten by one stroke for the cup. Saturday, his first round was made in 61, and the second in 60, by careful, even playing. His driving was poor but his iron shots on the fair green were hard and long.

The Townsends, William A., and Morgan T., went round together. It was a close thing and both played in good form. Morgan made his eighteen holes in just one less than the even hundred. His gross score was 92. William, winner of the Labor Day Cup, did five better than on Labor Day and was only beaten by his brother by one stroke.

W. de la R. Anderson was on hand and played a fair game but met with considerable hard luck including sundry visitations of hazards. He made the two rounds in company with Charles E. Faber. Faber was way off his old form.

Meredith Dryden and Gifford W. Cooley were paired off. Dryden failed to do better than 120, while Cooley never handed in a card. Just as the latter drove from the first tee on his second round, a caddie stepped in the road and caught the ball on the shoulder. He was not hurt but the drive was spoiled.

As a result of Saturday afternoon's play, there was no change in the order of the leaders for the cup. Worth entered the competition and tied for tenth place with three others, including Morgan Townsend, who advanced from seventeenth to tenth place. Will Townsend advanced from eleventh to seventh place where he is tied with Douglass and Hibbard.

The scores handed in were:

	Gross.	Handicap.	Net.
George C. Worth	121	36	91
Morgan T. Townsend	99	7	92
Wm. A. Townsend	109	16	93
W. de la R. Anderson	96	0	96
Meredith Dryden	140	12	128
Charles E. Faber	141	24	117

Augustus VanDeventer	1
C. W. McCutchen	1
W. R. Faber	1

The official standing of the candidates for the cup follows:

W. de la R. Anderson	12½
Meredith Dryden	10½
Gifford W. Cooley	10
Charles E. Faber	7
C. W. Faber	6
Samuel Townsend	4½
Wm. A. Townsend	3½
E. T. Douglass	3½
H. D. Hibbard	3½
Morgan T. Townsend	3
Geo. T. Pogers	3
Arthur Peck	3
George C. Worth	3
Fred P. Taylor	2½
S. S. Squires	2
A. B. Rayne	2
Vooney P. Green	2
W. J. R. Thiers	2
Fred S. Overton	1½
Clarence S. Roome	1½

In the competition for the Buttfield Cup Miss Daisy Elsberg and Miss Saidee Mae Howell both took part and the former increased her lead for the trophy by making low score in the event. Miss Howell was evidently not playing up to her usual game, for her gross score was only five strokes behind Miss Elsberg's, while there is a difference of 14 between their handicaps.

Their scores were as follows:

	Gross.	Handicap.	Net.
Miss Daisy Elsberg	80	18	62
Miss Saidee Mae Howell	75	4	71

There has been no official announcement of the number of points yet scored for the Buttfield Cup, but an inspection of the past scores shows the following competitors and the points scored by them:

Miss Daisy Elsberg	23
Miss Saidee May Howell	12
Miss Adelaide G. Ball	3

REACHING FOR TRANSVAAL

England Evidently Intends to Regain Her South African Possessions.

IT MAKES EUROPE SMILE

Those Under British Rule Make Light of President Kruger's Threatened Opposition.

Declared That if War Comes it Will Be Waged Relentlessly—England Believes Johannesburg Can Be Taken in Six Months—The Boers Plan Purely Defensive.

London, Sept. 11.—Everybody is asking whether or not there will be war. The newspapers are filled with information relating to troops going to South Africa. Eight brigades have been mobilized in home districts, and are ready to start at any moment. The troops are bursting with enthusiasm. Volunteer regiments are pleading to be sent to the front.

Every Englishman knows that the Transvaal will either have to belong to England or else England will have to get out of South Africa. Mr. Gladstone gave the Transvaal away. Mr. Chamberlain is determined to get it back. England may not believe in Mr. Chamberlain, but the situation demands a strong man, and the strong man of the Cabinet is Chamberlain.

It is a little power against a big. The Englishmen recognize that Kruger has some rights that ought to be respected, but England also recognizes that in South Africa there is a bit of country filled with gold that she needs, and England has a way of getting what she wants.

It seems like a small affair, and all the nations of Europe smile at the idea of the Transvaal opposing England. But England knows better. She has learned by experience.

There may not be war, but nearly everybody thinks war is certain. Under any circumstances there cannot be war inside of two months. The Boers can put 30,000 troops in the field; the Orange Free State can put 20,000. Regiment after regiment is leaving England, and among people of experience it is recognized that Gread Britain will require at least 100,000 men to obtain a territory that once was hers.

The Commander in Chief, Field Marshal Lord Wolseley, Sir Evelyn Wood, Gen. Sir Redvers-Buller, and other Generals have been working strenuously on it for months. Many new features have been introduced, several of them being based on the lessons learned by the American troops in the war with Spain. Among the later is the extreme usefulness of mules in such a country as the Transvaal. The British officers who have been in the United States, Spain, and South America selecting these animals have now been ordered to close their purchases and ship the mules as quickly as possible to the scene of the probable hostilities.

All of these things, to say nothing of the splendid morale and reputation of the regiments selected for the Cape, indicate that if war comes it will be waged relentlessly and strongly and that there will be no abatement until South Africa is flooded with British troops to such numbers that organized resistence by the Boers will be impossible. Conservative opinion places six months as the outside for the capture of Johannesburg and Pretoria.

The Boer plan of mobilization is said to be purely defensive, embracing 45,000 men, who would occupy strategical points in their own country. But this is not likely to prevent a raid upon poorly defended Natal. The greatest dangers the British contemplate facing, apart from the Boer's steady hands and Mauser rifles, are climate, lack of forage, and the scarcity of ammunition owing to the difficulties of transportation. Precautions have already been taken to avoid the two last, but there is no doubt that if war comes many British lives will be sacrificed to enteric fever.

Ordered Miss Ray Reinstated.

Hudson, N. Y., Sept. 11.—Justice Fursman, at Troy, has directed the Superintendent of the House of Refuge for Women, at Husdon, to reinstate Miss Delia Gaul Ray as General Supervisor of that institution. The order also grants Miss Ray costs, and will entitle her to her full salary from the date of her removal. This is the first decision giving a construction to Rule 23 of the Civil Service Commission, which was approved by the Governor on July 29. Miss Keefe, who for even years has been an officer in the House of Refuge, was summarily removed without a hearing and without the presentation to her of any charges. Proceedings for her reinstatement will be instituted.

The Trust is a Reality.

Pittsburg, Penn., Sept. 11.—After repeated afforts the National Glass Company, the combination of glass table ware manufacturers, is at last a fact. It is to be capitalized at $4,000,000, and is expected to be in operation Oct. 1. Sixteen factories are included in the deal, and three more are almost assured. Each factory will continue to operate under its present management, and the business will be conducted on the lines laid down by the combine when it was originally proposed and the United States Glass Company was included.

Astor Declined Kipling's Poem.

London, Sept. 11.—Rudyard Kipling recently wrote a poem and offered it for publication to W. W. Astor. It was not printed, doubtless because it told of the defeat of the English by the Boers. Kipling's next poem was of quite a different character.

Wants the South American Market.

London, Sept. 11.—It is said that the Amalgamated Coats American Thread Company has absorbed a leading Belgian firm and intends taking others with a view to controlling the South American markets, now supplied by Belgium.

ALABAMA PIG IRON GOES UP.

Demand is Overwhelming and Furnaces Severely Taxed.

Birmingham, Ala., Sept. 11.—No. 1 foundry pig iron has gone up to $18 a ton, and it is thought that before January the price will have reached $20. The demand for the product is urgent. There is no iron going to the yards, and the movement out of the district is enormous. The export trade is not so large, though some foreign iron is moving.

The Sloss Sheffield Steel and Iron Company has orders at current prices which will be delivered as late as July; beyond that time orders have been refused. The Tennessee Coal, Iron and Railroad Company has taken orders deliverable through next year. The demand and prices for the product are unprecedented, and another advance is predicted within the next ten days.

The supply of raw material is being closely watched, and new mines and limestone quarries are being opened. Preparations are being made for building 600 coke ovens. The demand for finished iron is brisk, and an uppish price is being received. Before the end of another six months almost every furnace in Alabama will be in blast.

Maryland Sues For $300,000.

Baltimore, Md., Sept. 11.—Suits aggregating $300,000 have been filed by the State of Maryland in the City Court against I. Freeman Rasin and the estate of John T. Gray and James H. Vansandt. Messrs. Rasin, Gray, and Vansandt were clerks of the Court of Common Pleas, respectively, from 1883 to 1895. All licenses for the sale of merchandise, liquors, &c., are issued through the Clerk of this court, and the receipts were deposited in bank by the Clerk until covered into the State Treasury. It is alleged that the clerks were paid interest on such deposits, aggregating, in round numbers, $10,000 annually, and that this amount was never accounted for to the State officials. The bondsmen of the clerks are made parties defendant to the suits, which are in each case for $50,000.

Chinaman Came Without Bride.

Oshkosh, Wis., Sept. 11.—Charley Toy, a wealthy Chinaman of this city, finds himself in a peculiar position on account of the Exclusion act. Some months ago he went to China and was married. He forgot about the law but this was explained to him in detail when he tried to board the ship with his bride. His troubles were told to his friends in this city, who, by means of huge bunches of hieroglyphics and the services of Mayor Merrill, tried to solve the difficulty. This was some weeks ago, and in the meantime Toy has arrived in San Francisco alone. Mayor Merrill is still working on the case.

Dewey is Wanted at Princeton.

Princeton, N. J., Sept. 11.—A movement is on foot to obtain Admiral Dewey as the guest of honor for the celebration of the one hundred and fifty-third anniversary of the founding of the university, to be held on Oct. 22. It is believed an invitation has already been sent to Admiral Dewey. George Dewey, son of the famous naval commander, was graduated from the university in 1896, and Admiral Dewey received the degree of LL. D. from the university soon after the battle of Manila.

Ten Deaths at Key West.

Key West, Fla., Sept. 11.—The total number of yellow fever cases here to date is 154. Twenty-eight cases have been reported in the past twenty-four hours. Fred McDonald, Superintendent of the Union Bridge Company, which is erecting the Government coal sheds and pier, has died, making the total number of deaths to date ten.

Hurrying New Gun Carriage.

Peoria, Ill., Sept. 11.—Great haste is being made in the construction of the automobile gun carriage which is now building in this city for Major Davidson of the Highland Park Military Academy. The cause of this activity is to be found in the Major's wish to arrive in New York City after his trip overland upon his warlike vehicle in time for the Dewey celebration.

Can't Travel on State Funds.

Springfield, Ill., Sept. 11.—The National Guard of Illinois will not take part officially in the Dewey day celebration in New York. The Governor has directed Adjt. Gen. Reece to grant leave of absence to such organizations as shall desire to go at their own expense, but there is no appropriation from which State money can be drawn for that purpose.

Bicycle Record Lowered.

Brockton, Mass., Sept. 11.—At the bicycle races at the new track here John R. Dubois, in a five-mile, unpaced pursuit race, rode in world's record time, defeating Claude Hamilton of Lowell in four and a quarter miles. Dubois continued for a five-mile record, lowering the mark of 12.12, made by H. Clark, at Denver, by five seconds.

Webb Resting Comfortably.

Sing Sing, N. Y., Sept. 11.—At the residence of H. Walter Webb, third vice president of the New York Central, it is said that Mr. Webb, who is seriously ill with consumption, is resting comfortably. He arrived home from Lake Regia, and bore the journey well.

Griffith Nominated For Assembly.

Lyons, N. Y., Sept. 11.—At the Wayne County Republican Assembly Convention, in Palmyra, F. W. Griffith of Palmyra was nominated by acclamation. Resolutions were passed strongly indorsing both the National and State Administrations.

Boat Company's Plant Destroyed.

St. Joseph, Mich., Sept. 11.—Fire destroyed the plant of the Truscott Boat Company. The loss on building and machinery is $75,000. The plant was insured for $25,000.

NAVY TO BE USED MORE.

General Otis Receives More Instruction From the War Department.

NAVAL OFFICERS READY.

Warships Will Undertake to Capture Ports Now in Possession of the Filipino Forces.

Official Orders Soon to be Issued to the Naval Commanders—Two Negro Regiments Organized—Fully One-Third of Gen. MacArthur's Division Sick.

Washington, Sept. 11.—Gen. Otis has been instructed by the War Department in framing his plan of campaign for the dry season, to allow for the fullest participation of the naval forces now in the Philippines, and as soon as he has been heard from the necessary orders will go forward to the naval commanders to co-operate with the army to an extent not before contemplated. The naval officers have always been willing to do this, but they have been restrained in their operations by an indisposition to interfere in any manner with the plans of the military commander.

The ships will undertake to capture any of the ports now in Filipino possession that may be desired by the army, and also to hold them indefinitely, thus making it possible to open the railroad on Luzon from the northern extremity, while in Cavite Province, with the large force of marines now on hand, it is believed that the navy can undertake to relieve the soldiers stationed there and make available a considerable force for other operations.

Attacked Three Towns.

Manila, Sept. 11.—Over five hundred natives with one cannon, from which they fired four or five shots, have attacked Santa Rita. At the same time small bands of insurgents attacked Guagua and San Antonio. They were repulsed in each case without any loss on the American side.

Juan Casaneda, who was elected Mayor of Imus last July under the auspices of the American Commission, disappeared the other day. His friends and companions reported that he had been captured by the enemy. Capt. Grant was informed that Casaneda was a great friend of Aguinaldo, and that he had become a general in the Filipino army. He had been strongly suspected lately of being in communication with the enemy.

The censor has refused to allow the following despatch, the accuracy of which is unquestioned, to be telegraphed:

"The surgeons' reports in regard to the condition of eGn. MacArthur's division shows that 36 per cent. of the officers and 25½ per cent. of the enlisted men are sick. That includes the sick in quarters and those sent home. Eleven per cent. of the enlisted men in quarters are suffering mostly from dysentery and malarial fevers."

Colored Regiments to be Organized.

Washington, Sept. 11.—An order for the organization of two colored regiments has been issued from the War Department. All of the field officers of these two regiments are white men now in the regular army. All of the company officers are colored men who served in the war with Spain, either as regulars or as volunteers. The regiments will be designated the Forty-eighth and Forty-ninth Volunteer Infantry. The Forty-eighth will be organized at Fort Thomas, Ky., and the Forty-ninth at Jefferson Barracks, Mo.

Many MacArthur's Men Sick.

Manila, Sept. 5, (via Hong Kong, Sept. 11.—The censor has refused to allow the following dispatch, the accuracy of which is unquestioned, to be telegraphed:

"The Surgeons report in regard to the condition of Gen. MacArthur's division show that 36 per cent. of the officers and 25½ per cent. of the enlisted men are sick. This includes the sick in quarters and those sent home. Eleven per cent. of the enlisted men sick in quarters are suffering from dysentery and malarial fevers.

Skull Crushed With Baseball Bat.

Hempstead, L. I., Sept. 11.—Richard Ciphers, Jr., the nine-year-old son of Richard Ciphers, a painter of this place, was struck by a bat while he was watching a ball game here and fatally injured. The bat slipped from the hands of one of the players and struck the boy, who was standing near by, in the left temple. The lad received a compound fracture of the skull.

Not to Attend Commercial Congress

Berlin, Sept. 11.—The Government has resolved not to send a special representative to the Philadelphia Commercial Congress, but has delegated the German Consul at Philadelphia and the German Agricultural Attache at Washington to make a report. Prussia will not be represented.

Trades Unions Want Peace.

Plymouth, England, Sept. 11.—At the closing session of the Trades Union Congress, which has been in convention here, a resolution was passed urging the Government to use every possible effort to peacefully settle the Transvaal difficulty.

Fifteen Ice Houses Burned.

Crescent, N. Y., Sept. 11.—Fourteen ice houses owned by Shaughnessy & Bolton of Lansingburg, and one owned by a man named Kinney of Cohoes were burned to the ground. The houses were valued at $25,000.

African Explorers Massacred.

Bulawayo, Sept. 11.—An unconfirmed report is current that an exploring party which recently left here for Lake Tanganyika, in Central Africa, has, with only one exception, been murdered by the natives.

HIS WORK CUT SHORT.

Death of Mr. Eustis Ends an Elaborate Literary Work.

Newport, R. I. Sept. 11.—James Biddle Eustis, former Ambassador to France, died here of pneumonia, followed by heart failure.

Ever since his arrival in Newport early in the season he had worked incessantly on an elaborate article entitled, "Dreyfus and the Jewish Question in France," which he was preparing for a New York magazine.

Mr. Eustis believed in the innocence of Dreyfus, and hoped his article might be made such a presentation of the case as to forever dispel from the American mind at least any thought of Dreyfus's guilt.

He had collected a vast quantity of documents never before made public in this country and carried on an extensive correspondence with officials in France familiar wth the Dreyfus case.

James Biddle Eustis was born in New Orleans in 1834. His mother was a Louisianian, but his father came from New England. After being graduated from the Harvard Law School, in 1854, Mr. Eustis practiced law in New Orleans until the civil war, when he entered the Confederate army as Judge-Advocate.

In 1876 he was elected a United States Senator. He was re-elected in 1885, and in 1893 was appointed by President Cleveland as American Minister and later Ambassador to France, a position he held more than four years. On his return to this country, in 1897, he became associated with the law firm of Jones & Bovin, of this city, a connection which he retained until his death.

He Clubbed the Maniac.

New Rochelle, N. Y., Sept. 11.—Charles Lowden, who is in charge of the tower signal house of the New York, New Haven and Hartford Railroad, between Larchmont and Mamaroneck, had an exciting encounter with George Gallagher, a maniac, of Port Chester. While Lowden was attending to his signals Gallagher broke in the door of the house and seized him by the neck, and then a tussle ensued which lasted for several minutes.

Lowden finally seized a club and knocked Gallagher down. He then had to hold him there, and meanwhile trains were passing and depending on his signals. He managed in a few minutes to signal the milk train to stop. When the train hands came into the tower they took charge of Gallagher and handed him over to the police.

Hastings Couldn't Give Bail.

Bellefonte, Pa., Sept. 11.—Major H. Hastings, brother of ex-Governor Hastings, who was arrested on the charge of forgery and of obtaining $5,000 from the Third National Bank of Philadelphia under false pretense, was unable to give bail in the sum of $6,000 and in consequence was remanded to jail to await trial. The crime for which Major Hastings was arrested, was committed five years ago, since which time he has been a wanderer in Spain, France, Germany and Italy. He returned here last Friday. The prisoner's general actions together with his threats against his brother's life, indicate that his mind is unbalanced.

Don't Want Imported Officers.

Birmingham, Ala., Sept. 11.—An important conference of leading Alabama Republicans was held here. Among those present were Col. William Youngblood, P. D. Barker, Robert Barber, and Julian Bingham. The conference denounced the importation of outside material to fill officers and usurp direction of the party in Alabama. This denunciation was based on the action of Circuit Judge Shelby in appointing Charles J. Allison of Tennessee, cousin of President McKinley, Clerk of the Federal Court for North Alabama.

Two Hundred Vessels in Line.

Sault Ste. Marie, Mich., Sept. 11.—The embargo on Lake Superior navigation by the sinking of the steamer Douglas Houghton, in the "Soo" passage, on Tuesday, has been lifted. The largest fleet ever gathered on the lakes, if not in America, began to move soon after, and one vast naval procession headed down the lake while another started on its way to Lake Superior. In the two there were 200 of the largest craft under the American flag save the few ocean liners.

Peary and Party Are Well.

Brigus, N. F., Sept. 11.—She Peary-Harmsworth steamer Windward, Captain John Bartlett, from Etah, North Greenland, August 26, has arrived here reporting all well on board. She will be followed in a week by the Peary Arctic Club's steamer Diana, Captain Samuel W. Bartlett, aslo from Etah. The Windward reports that all on board the Diana were well at the time the vessels separated.

Waterspout Alarms Many People.

Atlantic City, N. J., Sept. 11.—Rising 300 feet above the ocean, a triple waterspout swept past this city, lashing the surf into fury, imperiling a fleet of fishing boats within three miles of the shore, and just avoiding an unknown coasting steamer and a tug and barges. So rapid was the speed of the waterspout, traveling to the south, that in forty-five minutes after first sighting it hd disappeared.

Shipwrecked Sailors Rescued.

Milwaukee, Sept. 11.—Captain Richard Freeman and Nelson Alguire, the sole survivors of the Canadian barge Lisgar, which went down in Lake Huron on September 3, have arrived in this city aboard the steamer Case. The two survivors were picked up by the Case twenty miles southeast of Thunder Bay Island Light.

Havana's Death Roll.

Havana, Sept. 11.—The health statistics for the month of August, which have just been issued, show that during the month there were eleven deaths form yellow fever.

Revolution is Spreading.

Caracas, Venezuela, Sept. 11.—The revolution, under the leadership of Gen. Castro, is gaining ground. The insurgents now occupy Nirgua, three days' march from Valencia.

A washerwoman living in South Bend, Ind., had for a long time suffered from dyspepsia, until one day she gave Ripans Tabules a trial. Her own statement of the result will be of interest to other dyspeptics: "From the very first day," she said, "I felt less misery in my stomach, and when the first supply was gone, I went to the druggist and got more, and have been using them ever since, and very thankful I am to know about them, for I had tried so many things and herbs and doctors without getting any better. I had about given up getting anything to help me, but to-day I can eat quite a large meal and feel no distress, but before, if I took two or three mouthfuls, I must wait two or three hours before eating more victuals, or suffer in agony."

A new style packet containing TEN RIPANS TABULES (in a paper carton without glass) is now for sale at some drug stores—FOR FIVE CENTS. This low-priced sort is intended for the poor and the economical. One dozen of the five-cent cartons (120 tabules) can be had by mail by sending forty-eight cents to the RIPANS CHEMICAL COMPANY, No. 10 Spruce Street, New York—or a single carton (TEN TABULES) will be sent for five cents.

MAY ELECT MATAAFA CHIEF

Samoans Likely to Stir up a Little Unpleasantness.

Vancouver, B. C., Sept. 11.—The Samoan Commission informed the Samoans before leaving, according to news by the steamer Warrimoo, that the Berlin treaty still is in existence, so is the office of Chief Justice. They had no power to alter or change these, and Chief Justice Chambers left of his own accord. The natives claim they have autonomy, and will proceed to elect a supreme chief, avoiding the title of King.

It is rumored that Mataafa's people are proceeding on that presumption and meetings are being held for that purpose. This is in contravention to the recommendation of the commission. These same people take exception to control being in the hands of a foreign governor and that the final appointments of different governors of the provinces lies with him. They also object to having foreign judges to adjudicate on matters concerning Samoans, although in provinces they are to have their own judges and magistrates.

TURNS A DEAF EAR.

A Young Girl Leaves a Luxurious Home for the Chorus.

Newburg, N. Y., Sept. 11.—George Newcomer, a wealthy brewer of Louisville, Ky., is in Fishkill Landing for his sister. He found her among the chorus girls of the "All Aboard" company, which showed at the Peattie Academy there. She is seventeen years old, has a luxurious home in Philadelphia and has been reared with every advantage.

The girl, whose stage name is Gretta Millard, appeared in the first act in tights. Her brother occupied a box in the theatre, and when he saw his sister on the stage with a dozen other girls he was angry. A stormy scene between him and Manager Becker of the company ensued.

After the performance Mr. Newcomer had an interview with his sister. A married sister, living in New York, whose husband is connected with one of the largest steamship companies, also arrived on a later train, and added her entreaties to those of the brother for the girl to return. She was deaf to their entreaties.

Then the brother invoked the aid of the law. A warrant was sworn out for the girl, but when an officer went to serve it he found that she was gone. Mr. Newcomer said he had spent $1,700 in finding his sister, and would bring her home if he spent every dollar he possessed.

As From the Dead.

Seattle, Wash., Sept. 11.—The steamer Seattle from Skagway brought down 100 pasengers from Dawson and nearly a million dollars worth of gold dust, one-half of it being consigned to the Government assay office by hte Bank of British North America. The passeengers left Dawson on Aug. 28, making the trip in eleven days. Among the passengers are George Bowman, of Bridgeport, Conn., and his partner, William Johnston. On Sept. 21, last year, the Associated Press sent out a story from Seattle on the strength of a report brought down by one J. C. Sachs, that Bowman had been murdered in cold blood by his partner, Johnton, near Dawson. It created no end of worry and scores of letters were hurried to the Klondike for further particulars. These men have been mining on Thistle Creek, one of the new diggings, and have done well. Dawson merchants have been providing against possible famine this year. The reports say they have enough merchandise to last the camp for five years. The prices because of this are comparatively low.

French Goods Are Boycotted.

Kansas City, Mo., Sept. 11.—The women of the Hebrew Relief Association, in which the leading Jewish families of Kansas City are represented, at a meeting adopted the following resolution: "We do hereby pledge ourselves not to visit the territory of the French Republic, buy or handle any merchandise or other thing manufactured or grown in any territory or possession of said republic until the truth of the innocence of Capt. Alfred Dreyfus shall be sworn to the world by a fair and impartial trial."

Gibson Establishes New Record.

Haverhill, Mass., Sept. 11.—The feature of the bicycle races at the local track was the twenty-five-mile race between Harry Gibson and E. A. McDuffee, which the former rider won. Although McDuffee's pacing machine broke down in the fifth mile, McDuffee kept on and attempted to catch Gibson's pace, but failed. Gibson, in the last mile, established a new mile track record of 1m. 45 1-5s.

Faith Cure is Legal in Illinois.

Springfield, Ill., Sept. 11.—Attorney General Akin has rendered an opinion that the Medical Practice act of 1899 does not prohibit the treatment of disease by mental or spiritual methods by Christian Scientists or others where no medicine is used, and that where a person dies during such treatment it is not an offense under the Criminal Code of Illinois.

New Peruvian Cabinet.

Lima, Peru, Sept. 11.—A new Cabinet has been formed, with Senor Galvez as Premier and Minister of Foreign Affairs, and Senor Belaunde as Minister of Finance and Commerce.

No More "Round-the-World" Letters.

"Though not so numerous as formerly, 'round-the-world' letters continue to crop up at intervals," says the September Ladies' Home Journal. "They also have a request to return to the writer after they have made the tour of the world, a list of the principal cities through which they are desired to pass being also given, coupled with a modest request to each postmaster to stamp carefully the date of arival at his office. Many years ago letters of this sort did occasionally make the circuit, and curious looking specimens they were, indeed, but postmasters in the United States are now prohibited from forwarding such matter."

THE VERDICT UNPOPULAR.

Decision of the Court-Martial in the Dreyfus Case Generally Denounced.

DECLARED TO BE UNJUST

Rabbi Silverman, of New York, Says the Conviction is a Crime Against Humanity.

Philadelphia, Chicago and Other American Cities Harshly Criticise the Court's Finding—A Committee to Be Organized to Intercede for Dreyfus' Pardon.

New York, Sept. 11.—Divergence of opinion almost as remarkable as the verdict itself greeted the news of the Dreyfus verdict in New York. In the French quarters—if that term may be used to designate a territory no longer homogeneous and distinctive—the opinion practically was unanimous that Captain Dreyfus had been convicted justly, that the judges before whom he was tried were men of probity and had played a heroic part in standing by their convictions, and that they had in their possession evidence of such an incriminating character, not revealed at the trial for state reasons, that a conclusion could have been reached after five minutes' deliberation.

This was the French view, by which is meant the view of the anti-Dreyfusites, principally on the ground of religious differences and prejudices. It represented the wish as well as the hopes and expectation of those who were against Dreyfus, not because the evidence showed guilt, but because the bitterness of hatred, directed solely against the accused officer's religion, obstructed all sense of fair play.

The American view was a protest against an astounding injustice; and against the bringing in of a verdict directly opposed to the evidence; a contempt for hidden proof that the judges did not dare make public. No affair entirely disconnected with American matters ever has aroused such interest in New York. It was the chief topic of discussion in the hotels, in the elevated railroad trains and on the surface cars, and it gave opportunity for vociferous expression of opinion in several theatres.

In Keith's where an impersonation of Dreyfus is a principal feature, the applause was tremendous at each appearance of the officer. In the Criterion, where "The Girl from Maxim's" is being played, the temper of the audience was shown when J. M. Francour, who takes the part of a French army officer, was hissed and hooted the moment he appeared on the stage. Every audience in every place of amusement was a Dryfus audience; every reference to the verdict brought forth a storm of condemnation; every suggestion of injustice a storm of applause.

And what was true of the theatres, where the barometer of popular opinion rarely is at fault, was true also of the hotels and other places of public meeting—with the possible exception of the Hotel Martin, the rendezvous of many native born Frenchmen. Most of them who dined there twirled their cigarettes and said they believed that the verdict was just and merited. Chief among these was Henry Fournier, who in 1894 told several regiments embraced within the department to which Captain Dreyfus's regiment belonged, to send a representative to witness the degradation of the convicted officer.

"I was a member of the bicycle squad," said M. Fournier, "and it was my duty to serve this notification on the commandants of the regiments, in accordance with French military law, to be present to witness the breaking of Captain Dreyfus's sword and the stripping of his insignia of rank from his shoulders. Do I believe him guilty? What else can I believe? He was tried by a court of honorable soldiers, a court that was sworn to see justice done, and pledged on its soldierly honor to find a true verdict."

"But did the evidence justify the verdict?"

"The judges did their duty. They did not make public all the proof they had in their possession. That would have been impolitic, and would have given to the enemies of France information that belonged to France alone. Yes, I believe Dreyfus to be guilty, but not the only guilty one. Colonel Henry—yes; Esterhazy—yes; Du Paty de Clam—impossible.

On the Dreyfus side there can be found no more fair and consistent champion than Rabbi Joseph Silverman of Temple Emanu-El, Fifth avenue and Forty-fourth street. Dr. Silverman always has been outspoken, and has not hesitated to offend his co-religionists if he was convinced that he was in the right.

"A calamity to France, a crime against humanity and a perversion of justice," is his summing up of the verdict. "The trial," he continued, "was a travesty of all court procedure. It was one of the greatest judicial blunders and crimes of the century. The voice of the world will yet declare Captain Dreyfus innocent and do justice to his honor."

Upon learning of the verdict Assistant District Attorney Blumenthal took preliminary steps at once for the organization of a committee of citizens, irrespective of religious belief, and including clergymen of different denominations, to start a movement for the holding of a mass meeting for the purpose of making public protest against the conviction of Dreyfus and his sentence of ten years by the court-martial.

Despatches received here from Philadelphia, Chicago and all the large cities in this country are to the effect that the verdict rendered against Captain Dreyfus and the sentence imposed is denounced as manifestly unjust and unwarranted by the evidence produced at the court-martial.

Notice of Appeal Signed.

Rennes, Sept. 11.—Captain Dreyfus has signed a notice of appeal in his case, and pending a hearing the execution of his sentence will be suspended, he retaining his present privileges.

Capt. Dreyfus bears up bravely but says the verdict is an infamy.

COMING EVENTS.

September 11—Regular meeting of Association Volunteer League of the Y. M. C. A.

A Republican View.

A Somerville political writer sums up the situation with reference to the rivalaries for Senatorial nominations in both parties in an article on the New Jersey page of the New York Tribune today. After declaring that the situation in the Republican party is one of hesitation, the correspondent says that "The bitter fight between the Reed and Thompson factions is at the ebb tide, and the chances are that it may not result in any harm to the party. Senator Reed has announced his intention of making no effort to get a renomination. He says that if a compromise candidate can be agree upon who will be satisfactory to the party he will be satisfied."

In the event of former Sheriff George A. Dilts becoming an out and out candidate for the Senatorial honor The Tribue writer thinks there will be a strong fight against him by the Reed faction because he has always been allied with the element that has opposed Mr. Reed.

In a modest way Joseph S. Frelinghuysen is suggested as a good compromise candidate. He has never held an office, which, indeed, is a strange thing for a Somerset county politician in these days. He declares that if he is nominated he will "go before the people without an alliance of any kind."

The Democratic situation in Somerset is viewed by The Tribune article, as might be expected, in a sorry way. It opines that James J. Bergen will secure the nomination for Senator.

Mr. Fowler's Chances.

The chances of Congressman Fowler being able to secure the chairmanship of the important committee on Banking and Currency in the next Congress are said to be excellent. The Congressman has been pulling the wires in that direction, and he feels confident that things are coming his way. Of course, the Jersey delegation in the House of Representatives is expected to be as a unit in demanding this position for the Representative from the Eighth district.

In what is undoubtedly an inspired article on the subject, the Tribune says this morning that "the custom of precedent, which more or less largely prevails in committee promotions, would seem in favor the appointment of Congressman Brosius, but in this instance the friends of Mr. Fowler are relying upon the notable services which he has rendered to the sound money cause. The fact that his last speech in the House on this subject, made on March 31, 1897, met with a popular approval almost unprecedented, and that it is still in great demand, is given as one reason why Mr. Fowler would meet the demand for the placing of a strong man at the head of the committee. It is a fact that Mr. Fowler's secretary in a single day received requests for eight thousand copies of this speech."

New Jersey's War Claims.

W. W. Brown, auditor for the War Department, has just received from Governor Voorhees additional war claims to the amount of $104,000, which makes the total the Governor claims in behalf of the State from the United States, for preparing troops for the war with Spain, $220,387.70.

This sum is represented by four installments which have been at the War Department since early in September, 1898. The auditor has thus far made but one actual allowance, that for $13,868.24, and this was credited to the first claim presented, which was for $93,875.54, leaving a balance of $80,067.30.

The auditor says that he has been unable to allow further credits because of the delay of New Jersey officials in supplying him with the papers to prove the correctness of the claims made. Had these papers been at hand, the auditor said, all of the claims excepting the last one presented, would have been disposed of long ago.

Col. Henry C. Page, editor and proprietor of the Bayonne Herald, contemplates starting a daily paper in connection with his present prosperous and influential weekly. Bayonne, with a population of 30,000, has no daily paper, and the Colonel believes that there is a good opening in the town for a first-class up-to-date newspaper published every day in the week. The Colonel was a pleasant caller at The Daily Press office Saturday. Though the Herald is a sterling Democratic organ he intends making the daily an independent journal.

PASSING COMMENT

Things that Are Not Exactly News but Just as Interesting.

The project to extend the trolley line to Washingtonville and eventually to Somerset Park is attracting some attention from outsiders. The writer was recently shown a letter from a resident of New York city who is anxious to establish a summer home in that locality if the trolley road is extended in that direction. The matter will probably come up at the next meeting of the Board of Trade.

* * * * * *

Last Saturday night a half-dozen cod fish society men of this city occupied the "bald-headed" row at Music Hall, and seemed possessed to have a little fun which was not of the legitimate order. During the performance when Mr. Wills and a member of his company were doing a "trick," including a song and dance, one of the "fresh" young men threw an apple on the stage. Mr. Wills being equal to the occasion, applied one verse of his song to the young men. The audience was quick to catch on and responded vociferously. This seemed hardly sufficient for the young men and the management was obliged to send Special Officer Edward Martin to the scene of the disturbance with a warning that if there was any further trouble the young men would be ejected from the house. Mr. Edwards is very proud of his gallery audiences and after his success in that part of the house, he is determined that there shall be no disturbance in the lower part of the hall. It is to be regretted that the disturbance of Saturday evening occurred, and especially so when the standing of the young men implicated is considered.

The Best Shooting.

The shooting in Iowa, Minnesota and South Dakota this year promises to be very good as the rainfall in all these states was abundant. The best localities for chicken and duck shooting are on and tributary to the lines of the Chicago, Milwaukee and St. Paul Railway. A copy of a recent publication issued by the passenger department of that road can be had on application to W. S. Howell, General Eastern Passenger Agent, 381 Broadway, New York, and enclosing three cents in stamps for postage. 9 11 2

THE AMUSEMENT WORLD

CURRENT ATTRACTIONS THAT PLAINFIELDERS MAY WITNESS.

Local and Metropolitan Performances That Will Please Those Who Delight in the Art of Thespis and Mimic World

The great western melodrama of "Daniel Boone," which will be at Music Hall tomorrow night, is said to be the best border play ever presented. It portrays scenes and incidents of historical character and is vastly entertaining. The large and proficient company of artists which has been engaged to portray this life-like picture of early western adventure and peril, will be found equal to the requirements of this exciting and realistic border drama. The management, therefore, feel warranted in asserting that the selection of their actors and the necessary appointments and costumes for the proper and effective rendition of the play will be fully recognized by the patrons of healthy and moral amusements everywhere. Don't fail to see the street parade tomorrow morning and hear the free band concert in front of Music Hall before the performance. See the real Indians, cowboys, rough riders and mustangs.

Leonard's "Two Jolly Rovers" which will appear at Music Hall, Friday night, will introduce those popular comedians, John F. Leonard and Sherman Wade, as "The Rovers," two funny and original characters. They appearing as two members of the Rubberneck Yacht Club. You don't want to miss the boat race on the Harlem river. See them trying to catch the lovely widow and her charming niece. Miss Alice Gilmore, who plays the charming widow, is considered one of the greatest coon song singers in this country, while her niece, Miss King, who plays "Dolly Tip-toe," is the greatest toe dancer living. Don't miss this show.

SOMETHING ABOUT CARPETS.

The carpet season is here again, and as usual we are ready for it with what we claim is not only the largest, but the most carefully selected stock ever offered the people of this community. A marked reaction has taken place in the carpet business, viz: An increased demand for better grades. People have made the discovery that we made years ago, that good carpets are always cheapest. Our fall stock has been selected with this in view. We are showing a higher grade of carpets than ever before in the history of our business, and the readiness with which our customers are responding to same is most gratifying. We select the best patterns from the most reliable makers only and satisfaction is guaranteed in every particular.

Ingrain Art Squares, Jute Smyrna art squares, all-wool Smyrna rugs, Royal Wilton rugs, Mouquette rugs, Cocoa mats, Rubber mats, etc., etc. Cocoa mats with rubber ends for piazzas made to order. Shades made to order and ready made. Contracts made for furnishing whole houses.

Moquettes, Axminster, Saronneries in the latest designs, the richest colorings and most pleasing effects. Tapestries and velvets in beautiful patterns. All particularly good for parlor and dining room. An unusually good assortment of all-wool Ingrains, suitable for bedrooms, etc, Reversible, they will give splendid service. Our line of church carpets we consider superior to that of most N. Y. City stores. Cocoa mattings for public buildings. It comes in plain and striped patterns.

Lace curtains, Portierres, tapestries, furniture coverings, rug fringes, sash curtains, curtain poles and fixtures, brass rods, stair pads and everything else in curtain fixtures.

PLAINS AND FANWOOD.

(Special Correspondence of The Press.)

Scotch Plains, Sept. 11.—The funeral service of the late John O. Wilson, who died at Asbury Park Wednesday, was held in the Baptist church Saturday morning at 11 o'clock. Dr. Parks, assisted by Rev. Mr. Schott, had charge of the service. Interment was made in the family plot adjoining the church. Owning to the lateness of the hour when the funeral arrangements were completed, a great many who would have liked to attend were unable to on account of their not knowing the exact hour for the service in the church.

Mr. and Mrs. George W. Marsh entertained about 30 of their friends Saturday night at a farewell sociable given in honor of their daughter, Miss Reighnett, who leaves Tuesday with the Misses Shott for a year's course of study at the Lauray College, Lauray, Va. The spacious piazza was very prettily decorated with Chinese lanterns while inside the parlors were beautifully trimmed with white and green. The evening was given up to music, vocal and instrumental games and social talk, after which refreshments were served, and at the departure of the many friends Miss Reighnette received the best wishes of all in her years work at Lauray College.

Funeral services of the late John G. McNair were held from his late home in Brooklyn yesterday afternoon. A number of the friends of the deceased in town attended the services. Mr. McNair, until a few years ago, was a resident of the village and an active worker in several of the organizations in town, being a member of Fanwood Council, R. A., Goodwill Lodge, K. of P. and Excelsior Hook and Ladder Company.

Lokal-Nachrichten aus der alten Heimath.

Provinz Westpreußen.

Elbing. Auch in diesem Jahre wird wieder an der hiesigen Fortbildungs- und Gewerkschule unter Leitung des Direktors Witt ein Zeichenkursus für Lehrer an Fortbildungsschulen abgehalten werden. Zur Theilnahme an diesem Kursus sind 29 Lehrer aus Westpreußen und 2 Lehrer aus Ostpreußen einberufen worden.

Thorn. Bei Haussuchungen wurden bei verschiedenen Arbeiterfamilien zu Abbau Podgorz 14 Blindgänger, sechs mit gefährlicher Explosionsmasse gefüllte Kammerhülsen, sowie verschiedene andere vom Artillerieschießplatz gestohlene Gegenstände gefunden. Neun Blindgänger waren im Stroh eines Bettgestelles versteckt, wo sie bereits seit mehreren Tagen lagerten. Da das Bettgestell zum Schlafen benutzt wurde, ist es geradezu ein Wunder, daß keine Explosion erfolgte.

Rheinprovinz.

Köln. Die Wittwen- und Waisenversorgungsanstalt der Kommunalbeamten der Rheinprovinz hatte in dem vergangenen Rechnungsjahre eine Einnahme von 201,114 Mark, wovon 175,229 Mark die Kommunalverbände beisteuerten. Die Ausgaben betrugen 42,931 Mark, so daß ein Zuwachs von 158,183 Mark stattgefunden hat, mit welchem der Reservefonds auf 832,555 Mark angewachsen ist.

Düren. Hier wurde kürzlich das von Kommerzienrath Philipp Schöller und seiner Frau gestiftete „Annaheim"-Asyl für erwerbsunfähige Blinde eröffnet. Das im gothischen Stile errichtete Monumentalgebäude wurde mit einem Kostenaufwande von 500,000 Mark hergestellt und hat Raum für 150 Blinde beiderlei Geschlechts.

Geilenkirchen. Das von deutschen Justizsubalternbeamten errichtete Grabdenkmal für den im Jahre 1845 verstorbenen Rheinliederdichter Nikolaus Becker ist auf dem hiesigen katholischen Kirchhof feierlich enthüllt worden. Mit der Feier war eine reichhaltige Ausstellung auf Beckers Leben bezüglicher Gegenstände verbunden.

Provinz Sachsen.

Erfurt. Die 19jährige Tochter des Landwirths Schmidt zu Utzberg verunglückte beim Kleeeinfahren auf schreckliche Weise. Während das Mädchen auf dem Kleefuder stand, zogen die Pferde plötzlich an, das Mädchen fiel auf die scharfe Sense und zog sich so gräßliche Verletzungen am Unterleibe zu, daß nach wenigen Stunden der Tod eintrat.

Naumburg. In der hiesigen Flur wurde bei Tiefbohrungen eine sehr starke Sohlquelle erschlossen.

Nordhausen. Der Einbrecher Wunderlich, dem der Einbruch bei dem Grafen Eulenburg in Berlin zur Last fällt und der von der Schweiz an Deutschland ausgeliefert wurde, ist auf dem Rücktransport hier entwichen. Es gelang ihm, aus der Zelle durch den Schornstein auf das Dach zu kommen und von dort das Freie zu erreichen.

Provinz Schlesien.

Liegnitz. Wegen versuchten Gattenmordes wurde die Frau des Rittergutsbesitzers Rittmeisters a. D. Berndt aus Nieder-Schützendorf nebst dem Mitschuldigen Gutsinspektor Karlwitz verhaftet. Die Frau soll ihrem Manne ein mit Strychnin vermengtes Mittagsbrod vorgesetzt haben.

Primkenau. Herzog Ernst Günther von Schleswig-Holstein auf Primkenau hat, mit Rücksicht auf die günstige Entwickelung seiner beiden Eisenhüttenwerke, „Henriettenhütte" und „Friedrich Christianhütte" Anweisung gegeben, den Hüttenbeamten für den Monat August das doppelte Gehalt, sämmtlichen Hüttenarbeitern aber und den auf den Hütten beschäftigten Frauen zehn vom Hundert des Monatsverdienstes am 9. September auszuzahlen.

Provinz Schleswig-Holstein.

Friedrichstadt. Unweit unserer Stadt stürzte ein Fuhrwerk die Chausseeböschung hinab. Ein Kaufmann Namens Busch und seine Schwiegermutter starben in Folge der Katastrophe, zwei andere Personen wurden schwer verletzt.

Kiel. Die von staatlicher Seite in's Werk gesetzte Versuchsfischerei im Kaiser Wilhelm-Kanal hat für das verflossene Jahr nicht nur eine Zunahme des Bestandes an Ostseefischen, sondern auch ein auffallendes Anpassungsvermögen der Süßwasserfische an die veränderten Lebensbedingungen konstatiren können. So wimmelte es an den warmen Tagen gegen Ende September und Anfang Oktober vor der Kanalmündung unter Holtenau und Bosbrook von Fischen aller Art. Von den Waden, welche hier in diesen Tagen fischten, wurden verschiedentlich 1200 bis 1500 Wall Sprotten (1 Wall gleich 80 Stück) pro Tag gefangen.

Provinz Westfalen.

Dortmund. Bei der Anwesenheit des Kaisers im alten, wiederhergestellten Rathhause war eine Anzahl der werthvollsten Urkunden aus der Geschichte der Stadt in einem besonderen Raume für den Kaiser zur Besichtigung ausgestellt. Von diesen Urkunden ist eine der wichtigsten entwendet worden, und zwar kurz nachher, nachdem der Kaiser das Rathhaus verlassen hatte. Es handelt sich um eine Urkunde aus dem Jahre 1332, in der Ludwig der Vierte der Stadt wichtige Privilegien verleiht.

WOMEN'S REALM

WHAT TO WEAR AND HOW TO MAKE IT

May Manton's Hints Regarding Seasonable Toilettes.

This dressy waist of fancy figured green taffeta, is stylishly combined with cream colored satin and mousseline-de-soie. The fronts roll back in pretty pointed lapels from the neck to waist-line, which are faced with the satin and edged with ruching of mousseline. The full front of mousseline is arranged over satin in evenly spaced rows of tucked shirring at the top and blouses prettily at the waist-line.

The collar is of cream satin shaped with stylish points under the ears.

The waist is supported by fitted linings that close in center front, the full front closing under the left rever.

The comfortable two-seamed sleeves have stylish fullness arranged in gathers at the top and at the wrists points of the white satin stand out fashionably.

This waist may be part of a costume or made separately to wear with different contrasting skirts.

Combinations of material and coloring may be artistically arranged and the waist can be made in silk, cotton or light woolen fabrics. Velvet made in this way with revers and front of satin, and decoration of point applique is especially handsome.

To make the waist for a medium size will require two yards of forty-four-inch material.

Ladies' Three Piece Skirt.

Prominent among the season's styles are the circular flounced skirts, nearly every new gown showing one of its many different varieties. The shaping here presented is extremely graceful and gives the half tablier effect that is very generally becoming. The skirt consists of a narrow front gore between wide circular portions that join in center back and are fitted smoothly over the hips by two darts at each side. The skirt may extend to the lower edge under the flounce or be cut off just below the line of perforations that indicate where the flounce is attached. The fullness at the back is arranged in backward turning plaits, but gathers may be substituted, as many ladies prefer that style of adjustment. The placket is made in center back and a small dress extender or improver may be worn underneath the fullness.

The skirt is represented in grey blue whipcord trimmed with wide fancy black silk galoon, but for useful separate skirts in this style black serge, cheviot, broad cloth, homespun and camels' hair are chosen, mohair and silk braid furnishing suitable decoration. Poplin, bengaline, faille and different weaves of corded silk, plain and fancy taffeta, all develop charming the mode with ruchings of Liber or satin ribbon in different widths for trimming.

To make this skirt for a lady of medium size will require five yards of material fifty-four inches wide.

Victoria's Servants.

Queen Victoria showed from the earliest part of her reign a determination to keep in her own hands the appointment of those serving in her households, and she has always devoted attention to the selection of these persons, with the result that she has been exceedingly well served. In condoling with the late Dean Stanley on the death of his valet, the Queen said: "I am one of those who think the loss of a faithful servant the loss of a friend, and one who can never be replaced." The Queen would never permit insolence to any servant, and she has often rebuked her little great-grandchildren for any childish want of civility to their attendants.

To Open Fruit Jars.

Fruit jars can be easily opened by a new device, consisting of a piece of spring wire bent into a double circle, with a handle on each end of the wire to contract the coils by gripping the handles together.

WOOD MANTELS.

They Have Driven Out Marble and Are Both Cheap and Handsome.

Mantels nowadays are almost exclusively made of wood. Marble is used occasionally, but only for the most costly of all mantels, costing perhaps thousands of dollars. The marble mantel of the kind so familiar years ago is no longer made, and sometimes marble mantels of fine quality that cost from $200 to $300 are taken out to be replaced with mantels of wood costing perhaps $100. Slate mantels, so widely and commonly used a few years ago, are now rarely set up. They also have given place to wood.

Wood mantels may easily be costly. They are made in hundreds of different styles and at all sorts of prices, from $1,000 down to a few dollars. Many of them are beautiful, not a few of them are of great beauty, and even the cheapest may be tasteful and graceful in design and finish. There never was a time when so much art and skill went into wood mantels as now.

The woods used include mahogany, curly birch, quartered oak, and other hard woods, whitewood and pine. Perhaps more are made of whitewood than of any other one material. The various woods are finished in great variety. The oaks, for instance, are stained in seventy or eighty different shades, to match, if it should be desired, any furniture. Many mantels are painted and enamelled. In the fireplace fittings of the more costly mantels it is not unusual to find marble or onyx matching the wood in color, with the result of producing a beautiful harmony in effect.

In styles wood mantels are made in colonial, Elizabethan, empire, classical, renaissance, and other styles, colonial being now most in demand. Some colonial mantels are copies of mantels in old and, perhaps, familiar houses. While mantels in hundreds of styles are to be found already designed, many are made to order from architects' designs for single houses. It is not unusual to make mantels to order to match furniture; it might be that a mantel would be made to match a bureau or dining room table. New styles of mantels are constantly being added to the great number regularly produced.

Chins of Fair Women.

In a recently published book a German writer warns wife-seekers against the round, soft, dimpled chin (first figure), which, he says, "indicates a feeble will and craving for pleasures and frivolities. It also shows love of music and dancing. It is a sign that its possessor is a bad manager, good natured, not altogether unpractical, but capricious and sulky."

CHINS OF FAIR WOMEN.

Of the small, mobile, daintily protruding chin (second figure) he says it "denotes a strong but capricious will. It shows more imagination than heart, a desire of taking a prominent part in the vanities of the world. It is a mixture of sentimentality and good sense. It is whimsical and jealous. It will make unhappy the lives of those with whom it has to live, but it will do well for an ambitious man's wife, as its owner will fascinate and make a good hostess."

Anti-Worry Pads.

Among sure preventives for gray hairs and crow's feet a certain busy woman sets down what she calls an anti-worry pad. She keeps an ordinary note-size writing pad on her dressing table, and on this she jots down a list of engagements, letters to be answered, business to be attended to, articles needed for house or for personal use, conveniences, charities and all the other interest that enter into a busy life, as they come to her mind. By this means she relieves herself of the worrying sense of something forgotten, which is apt to haunt the woman or man whose days are filled with a multiplicity of demands, and who has no secretary to keep him or her remembering details. For such, the anti-worry pad is recommended as a nerve and temper tonic.

Women as Bull Fighters.

The women who recently appeared in the bull ring in Spain are not the first of their kind. The records of tauromachy in Spain and Portugal yield the names of many women fighters who became comparatively eminent. The great woman fighter Teresa Bolsi, in her prime was a torera of high repute. Lisbon, too, had a famous torera forty years ago. Most of the gentler sex fight only with bulls that have their horns covered; a few, Teresa Bolsi among them, used to face animals fully armed.

Mrs. Tadema's Necklace.

It has been said that Mrs. Alma Tadema has the handsomest necklace in England, consisting of a series of exquisitely carved gems, not themselves so valuable, perhaps, but made so by the workmanship, which has raised them to the level of a work of art.

Post Office Women.

Women have an important place in the British Postal Department. Of the total of persons of all ranks of the service, permanent and occasional, employed by the Department throughout the United Kingdom nearly 21,000 are of the gentler sex.

HOUSE HOLD TALKS

A Three Cornered Stand.

Where one has to economize in space in the sleeping apartment, an arrangement like the above is found very convenient. A friend has one similar to this and has a shelf over it—a three cornered piece that makes a convenient place to stand a piece of bric-a-brac and a photograph or two that help to make the corner attractive as well as useful. Across the front is hung a drapery that harmonizes with carpet and furnishings, and the top, as well as sides, is supplied with hooks from which are suspended the garments that are most liable to wrinkle.

Hints for Housewives.

Never boil anything that can be cooked by steaming.

Never wash poultry or meat. Wipe them clean with a damp towel.

To remove all the grease from the top of soup after having skimmed it with a skimmer lay a piece of porous brown paper on top. It will absorb every particle of grease.

Boiling is the most abused branch of cookery; the average cook boils things that should be prepared otherwise, just through laziness. It is too much trouble to learn how to cook any other way. Never boil anything fast, and use as little water as possible.

Feather dusters are only for ornament. Never use them. Use soft, old cloths for dusters, and begin at the top of the piece of furniture and dust down. If the furniture will permit use a cloth slightly damp. A cloth with a little kerosene oil on it is good for all wood furniture.

So the Housekeeper Says:

That parsley eaten with vinegar will remove the unpleasant effects of eating onions.

That beeswax rubbed on rusty flatirons will make them smooth and clean.

That chalk of magnesia rubbed on silk ribbons that are spoiled with grease spots and held near the fire will restore them to their freshness.

That paste for hanging paper should be made thin and smooth; the addition of a little glue will improve it, and a little powdered alum will help it to dry.

That an excellent paste for all household purposes may be made of a teaspoonful of flour gradually mixed with half a pint of water, a small pinch each of powdered alum, and rosin and boiled five minutes; the addition of a little brown sugar and a few grains of corrosive sublimate will preserve it indefinitely.

To Iron Napkins.

The stiff napkin, which cannot be kept on the lap and which to the lips is like a board, is hardly more disagreeable than the damp, soft rag with which some tables are furnished. The French laundress avoids either extreme and "does up" table napkins after a fashion of her own. When she has washed and dried them and they are ready to iron, they are guiltless of starch. So, to give them gloss and "body," she dips them into boiling water and lightly wrings them out between two cloths, which have been starched. They are ironed rapidly with as hot an iron as can be used without scorching. They are then just right—neither stiff nor flabby.

Keep Salt Crisp.

It is well to remember that when salt is dried in the oven for table use it should be allowed to cool completely before it is placed in the saltcellars; otherwise it will harden into a lump. It is a test of good housekeeping that the salt in the cellars be dry, crisp and powdery.

Dishes Washed by Machine.

Dishes can be quickly washed and rinsed by a new apparatus which has racks to hold the dishes in a revolving pan, which has a perforated bottom to drain the water into a pump cylinder, when it is forced to the top of the cover and discharged against the dishes repeatedly.

PRAYING IN STREETS.

Impressive Mediæval Spectacle Witnessed in Vienna.

The annual processions of Corpus Christi, in which the Emperor takes part, are like the proverbial peas in a pod for family resemblance. But the pageantry of the court has a perennial attraction, and many English and Americans go to Vienna every year to witness it and to get a glimpse of that unique sight—an Emperor praying and kneeling in the streets. The monarch passes in state to the cathedral as early as 7 a. m. This year, as before, he drove in a state carriage drawn by eight white horses. The heir apparent drove with him. Behind him came the magnificently accoutered Hungarian and Austrian bodyguards.

The first service was held in the church. In the meantime the route which the foot procession takes was laid with boards, over which grass was strewn. Here and there were erected altars, and before them a canopy for the imperial worshipers. A fanfare of trumpets announced that the procession had formed. The band struck up "The Hymn to the Emperor" at the spot where its composer had dwelt as a choir boy of the ancient cathedral. The bells were rung, and the silvery tongues of little orphan boys, heading the procession, were heard singing a well-known hymn. Behind them came solemn-visaged priests and cowled monks reciting paternosters in sotto voice, with hands crossed on the breast. They looked sadly out of place in the bright sunlight—these the real rulers of clerical Austria. Next came the vicars of the various parishes displaying their distinctive bannerets, like temporal knights of old; then the civic corporation, then the officers of the household, the holders of the various Austrian orders, and the military staff. Lastly there appeared the magnificent palanquin of state, under which walked the cardinal bearing the host, before which the soldiers knelt and men reverently uncovered. Behind was the solitary figure of the Emperor. He was bareheaded, and, like the members of his court, bore a lighted candle. He seemed in splendid health, and at the altar in the garden walked with elastic step to the priedieu under the canopy. The archdukes took up their position behind him. His Majesty wore a full general's uniform—cocked hat with green plumes, red trousers and the distinctive tunic, with its pale lambent sheen of delicate green. A wonderful scheme of color, with its background ablaze with the uniform of the guards of the household, and representative of all the chivalry and nobility of the dual monarchy, says the Pall Mall Gazette.

There was certainly a strange incongruity in this mediaeval display amid its garish modern surroundings. The materially minded might have regarded it as nothing more or less than solemn mummery, but the sight of the monarch and his subjects worshiping under the canopy of heaven kept back the irreverent smile. The moment was deeply impressive when at a given signal, the whole of the court and soldiers knelt and the Kaiser devoutly crossed himself in a silence that was almost audible.

Few Climb Stairs Properly.

If one would avoid fatigue in climbing stairs, he must learn to do it properly. A physician of repute tells how this should be done. "Usually," he says, "a person will tread on the ball of the foot in taking each step. This is very tiresome and wearing on the muscles, and it throws the entire suspended weight of the body on the muscles of ing or climbing stairs seek for the most equal distribution of the body's weight possible. In walking upstairs your feet should be placed squarely down on the step, heel and all, and then the work should be performed slowly and deliberately. In this way there is no strain upon any particular muscle, but each one is doing its duty in a natural manner. The woman who goes upstairs with a spring is no philosopher, or at least she is not making a proper use of her reasoning faculties. The habit, too, of bending over half double when ascending a flight of stairs is exceedingly reprehensible. In any exertion of this kind, when the heart is naturally excited to a more rapid action, it is desirable that the lungs should have full play. The crouching position interferes with their action, the blood is imperfectly aerated, and there is trouble at once. Give the lungs a chance to do their work everywhere and at all times."

Is Asphalt Liquid or Solid?

Down in Trinidad, where most of the asphalt used in paving the streets is produced, opinion is divided as to whether the substance may be classed as a liquid or a solid. Upon this issue a recent trial in Trinidad turned. The stratum of pitch in that island is usually from four to seven feet below the surface, and when cut through, the pitch melts and oozes out. So if a man dug down near his neighbor's lot, he would be able to collect pitch coming from under his neighbor's land. The plan was described by one of the witnesses as "the plan adopted when you want to dig your neighbor's pitch." It "bulges out," he explained, "and you shave it off each morning." But suit was brought by one outraged neighbor whose pitch had thus been shaved off in adjoining land. The defense was that an underground stratum of pitch was like so much water, no man's property until appropriated. But the court held that pitch was a mineral, and that you had no more right to abstract it from a neighbor by the oozing process than you would have to tap his deposit of iron or silver.

May Be True.

The story is told that when General Ludlow was stationed at Detroit, in charge of the river and harbor work, a contractor visited him who wanted to do some government work. With his visiting card the contractor put on the table a fifty-dollar bill. General Ludlow drew forth two cigars and gave the contractor one of them. Then turning to the table, and not seeing a match, he took the fifty-dollar note, twisted it into a lighter, set it aflame at the open grate fire, and lit his cigar with it slowly and carefully. Then he handed the burning stump of the bill to the contractor.

He Didn't Tell.

He—Can you keep a secret?
She—Of course I can.
He—So can I.

CAGED BEAUTIES.

Exposed for Sale to the Passer-By in an Algerian Town.

Mr. William Shark describes in London Literature a visit, while in Algeria, to a street of caged women. It seems it is forbidden to Europeans after dark, but he wandered in, partly through incident, partly through curiosity. He writes:

"Some women were in barred rooms and some in cages, offered for sale.

"The woman in the first cage I passed was rather pretty, and, though her hair was dark, she had pale blue eyes. Her long, loose tresses were everywhere clasped with little blue brooches, and I noticed that her lips, the end of her ears and her finger tips were stained a dull red. She accosted me in Moorish-French, and asked me if I would not like to take her away from these jackals of Moors and Arabs. I said I was a stranger, a wayfarer, and if here today might be far to-morrow. She told me she was not an Arab ('Allah be praised!') and not a Moor, either, but a Koulourli—that is, the child of a Moorish woman by a Turkish father.

"One girl's face and manner impressed me greatly. She was not beautiful, hardly pretty, but she had a singularly winsome face, with large, fine gazelle-like eyes. She was a European, a Spaniard from one of the Baleric Isles. Strangely, she was very fair, with blonde hair full of a dusky gold sheen. She had been taken to Oran, at the extreme western end of Algeria, by a Spanish naval officer, and there in a few weeks been deserted. For some months she was a derelict in that old Hispano-Mauresque town. After her child was born she had gone inland, to hill-set Tlemcen, the old Moorish city that stands within sight of the frontier of Morocco. There a rich Moor had taken her to his harem. On his death, a few months later, she had been purchased by a Jew from Algiers, and straightway sold to a young Turk at Bona. The Turk, when tired of her, disposed of his property to an Arab Sheik, who had grown tired of her in turn and placed her in the street cage, an article for sale. For some minutes I stood talking to the poor, imprisoned creature, when a passing guard took notice of the incident and whispered to me in French to move away at once and return to the foreign quarter. He had passed on before I could see his face. The next moment I descried the evil countenance of a Jewish-looking Moor, behind the cage of the Oran woman. He was her owner, and had been listening to our conversation. When he discovered that he had not a purchaser to deal with he came forward brusquely.

"'Do you want her or not?' he demanded, sneeringly, in gutteral Algerian French. 'No?' Then be off with you, infidel dog, and by the way you came if you value your skin!"

Fly Casting.

In your angling notes, says a writer in the London Standard, you mention the capture of a swallow by a salmon fisher in the Esk, the bird being hooked foul, and remark that, though the story is true, the incredulous will find some difficulty in swallowing it. The following story is true, and still more remarkable. I was fishing on the Wily, on the Boyton Manor water, in Wiltshire, some years ago. In casting across I got "hung up" on a tree on the further bank, and in trying to disengage my line broke off the greater part of the cast and fly, which were left in a tangled condition, quite visible on the tree. While considering how to recover it, I noticed a swallow hovering close by in a curious way, and then saw that it has taken the fly, a quill gnat, and, after a few struggles, hung there suspended with beak open. I was not wading, and could not get over the river without going a long way round, so there I had to leave the poor bird.

But I was destined to have other experiences that afternoon. The swallows were flying in great numbers near the surface of the water, and in casting, as my line was at its full extent behind me, it hooked a swallow foul, and I found the last foot or two of the cast wrapped round and round its body. A few minutes later, just as I was casting forward, I felt a violent check, heard a snap, and found I had hooked another swallow some feet above the ground, and this time the shock had broken my top. I disengaged the bird, put on a spare top and fished on with some trepidation. But though the swallows were still numerous, the experience was not repeated. Of other queer catches I may mention that I have several times hooked bats foul when fishing late in the evening on the same stream, and very nasty customers they were to disentangle. I have also struck them with my rod when casting forward.

I will end with one more chapter. This time it was on the Gloucestershire Coln, at Fairford, some five years ago. I saw a water vole, swimming across and cast idly over him, when to my astonishment and consternation he dived, and my fly caught in his hind leg as he did so. He gave me a lot of sport—it was like playing a pound trout—and the fun was not all over when I got him to land, for before I could use the landing net he set off across the country, and had taken my line through two hedges before I could check him. On this occasion I had a friend with me who saw the whole thing. The other instances you must take my word for. They are absolutely true in every particular, and I have often meant to send them to the press, but never have done so until your remark to-day suggested it.

Embarrassment.

The ancient Egyptian custom of writing upon stone was the occasion of embarrassment, now and then.

For instance, it is said that a certain Pharaoh, whose name is withheld, was much disturbed once upon a time to see a man approaching with a bowlder in his hand.

"Who is he?" asked the King, in great anxiety.

"He is an assassin, who intends throwing yonder rock at your Majesty," answered a slave, affably.

"I thought possibly he was an autograph fiend!" exclaimed the Pharaoh, vastly relieved.

SILK HAT CAUSED A RIOT.

It Was the First of Its Kind Seen on the Streets of Nondon.

Jan. 15, 1797, was the date fixed by Mr. Hetherington for the first appearance in public with the new hat, the silk hat of to-day, says the Hatters' Gazette. He believed that in the natural course of events he would create a sensation, but he was not prepared for the commotion which followed. It was with no little trepidation that, about 11 o'clock in the forenoon, Mr. Hetherington emerged from his shop in the Strand. His family advised against it, but he was determined, and forth he sallied.

The Strand, as now, was one of the busy streets of London and Mr. Hetherington had not walked ten feet before merchants and others, attracted by the unusual sight, stopped and gazed in wonder. Mr. Hetherington, however, moved on, but men who had only stopped to look now followed after him and in less time than it takes to tell it the street was crowded was a howling mob. Those on the outskirts of the crowd did not know the nature of the trouble, if there was any, but they helped to swell the din. How Mr. Hetherington fared, however, is best told by the journal's of that date, whose pages have been searched by the tailors' and cutters' special commissioner. One Gazette gave this account of the remarkable event:

"John Hetherington, haberdasher of the Strand, was arraigned before the lord mayor yesterday on a charge of breach of the peace and inciting a riot and was required to give bond in the sum of £500. It was in evidence that Mr. Hetherington, who is well connected, appeared upon the public highway wearing upon his head what he called a silk hat (which was offered in evidence), a tall structure having a shining luster and calculated to frighten timid people. As a matter of fact the officers of the crown stated that several women fainted at the unusual sight, while children screamed, dogs yelped and a young son of Cordwainer Thomas who was returning from a chandler's shop, was thrown down by the crowd which had collected and had his right arm broken. For these reasons the defendant was seized by the guards and taken before the lord mayor. In extenuation of his crime defendant claimed that he had not violated any law of the kingdom, but was merely exercising a right to appear in a headdress of his own design—a right not denied by any Englishman."

Another paper of the same date (Jan. 16, 1797) in commenting upon Mr. Hetherington's appearance said:

"In these days of enlightenment it must be considered an advance in dress reform, and one which is bound sooner or later to stamu its character upon the entire community. The new hat is destined to work a revolution in headgear, and we think the officers of the crown erred in placing the defendant under arrest."

Peculiarities in Eyesight.

A Chicago oculist, who has made a close study of the visual organs of his patients, has come to the conclusion that most people are right or left-sighted, as they are right or left handed. He now regards it as an established fact that we all use one eye—the right or left—in preference when looking through a glass or taking an aim with a gun. If we do not perceive this ourselves oculists and opticians remark it. The ignorance of most people on this subject is illustrated by their buying glasses at the optician's without taking account of any difference between the eyes. Thus only one of the eyes is helped, while the other one, being less called into exercise, becomes less and less useful and loses its power, as a tool rusts when not in use.

Yet both our eyes are needed to see well. It becomes, therefore, highly important to observe how the child uses its eyes in order to correct those attitudes which tend to injury of the sight as well as the health. Children in writing rarely fail to give the head an inclination by which the eyes are placed at unequal distances from the paper. They are also apt to incline their head too far and acquire the habit of bringing it too near, as when they try to accommodate themselves to a feeble light. Not sufficient attention is given to these matters, especially when we consider the consequences of such habits in mature age.

A large proportion of our defects originate in want of proper care during childhood. We do wrong to such wonderful tools as our senses when we do not give them the education they need. It is not surprising that parents who are so particular about the way their children hold their spoon or fork pay so little attention to the way they use their eyes.

Fish That Sport Double Tails.

Two tails attached to a fish! Few people have ever seen such a freak of nature. Nearly every one has seen the pretty bushtail goldfish that have four or five, or sometimes more, long, wavy, filmy tails, but very few people know but that very few of them are born that way. When the little goldfish are very, very young their flesh is as clear as glass, so that one can see every bone in their tiny bodies. At this time the few that are born with two or more tails are put by themselves, and then a queer looking old Jap, with a great magnifying glass fastened in front of his eye, and wee sharp tools handy, reaches down under the water and cuts off the tails of the plain little fish, and then three or four of these tails are jointed on the back bone where the one was cut off and fastened there with tiny bandages until they grow fast.

The Japanese, who are very skilful in queer things of this kind, grow the finest goldfish in the world, and it is a very good business, for very fine fish of this kind often bring as much as $300 to $500, and one sold not long ago for $1,000.

Deacon Burrows Explains an Unfortunate Experience.

"I s'pose it's owin' to the fact thet I'm such a prominent church member thet people takes delight in slanderin me," remarked Deacon Barrows "Leastways I've noticed thet ev'ry chanst they gits they says things thet's calcerlated ter hurt my repertation. I do' know ez I orter take any notice o sech things, but it ain't so easy ter keep quiet when folks is a talkin' behind yer back. Lately somebody's been spreadin' the report thet I've been drinkin'. They ain't a mite o' truth in it, but of course that don't make no diff'rence to them people. The facts in the case is this: It was circus day. I didn't go to the circus, bein' a church member and a deacon, but I seen the menagerie. I was in town all day, but I didn't drink nuthin' but some hard cider and some stomach bitters. 'Long about six o'clock I started fer home, drivin' my bay mare. We was goin' along at a pretty good clip—they ain't many hosses can beat that mare, if you want to know—when jest ez we come to the corner of Jake Simmon's pasture lot the mare shied. I looked around to see what was wrong, an' right 'longside the road I seen a little green monkey. Thinkin' he might hev escaped from the managerie, I got out of the buggy to ketch him, first tyin' the mare to a saplin'. When I started fer the monkey he dodged me, an' he kep dodgin' back an' forth till he got between me an' the buggy. Then he made a quick jump an' landed on the mare's back. Course she got scairt an' made a big jump, breakin' her halter, an' then lit out fer home ez fast ez she could go. They wasn't no use o' me tryin' to ketch her, so I jest hoofed it. Wal, when I got home nobody hadn't seen nuthin' o' no mare ner no monkey, but about an hour later, Jake Simmon's boy come drivin' up with the mare. He said he'd found her tied to a saplin' by the corner o' their pasture lot. Of course I can't explain how it all happened, but I don't see why people should say I've been drinkin' jest 'cause I seen a green monkey."

A Lingual Affliction.

He was an angular man, with gray earwhiskers. He gave up his seat in the crowded cable car with an alacrity which spoke well for the cheerfulness of his disposition. The lady who took the proffered seat was stout and hearty. She slipped into the vacant place without a word. The angular man looked at her thoughtfully; then he stooped over and said:

"I had an uncle, ma'am, who had just the same affliction."

"Sir!" said the stout lady, with an insulted toss of her head.

"Yes," continued the angular man; "he couldn't pronounce any word beginning with 'th' to save his blessed neck. That's right. He'd stutter and stammer, and the best he could do would be to give it the sound of 's.' It was a dreadful affliction. His oldest son was named Theophilus, but he always called him 'Sophilus.' Had it long, ma'am?"

The stout lady was dark-red from vexation. "You are insulting," she snorted.

"Well, I don't wonder you hate to have anybody refer to it," said the angular man, with great cheerfulness. "But I couldn't help noticing it when you took my seat and weren't able to say 'Thank you.' I wouldn't have minded in the least if you'd said 'Sank you.' Oh, do you get off here? Good day, ma'am. Never mind the thanks."

The First Umbrella.

Explained.

"Hello!" exclaimed the shade as he wandered near the storied gate. "What causes the rush? Looks like a nursery around here. You must have made a special canvass for little boys."

"Nothing of the kind," replied the venerable and efficient St. Peter. "There has been a general observance of the Fourth of July in the United States."

Country Girl—Oh, yes; but some of them are awful green!—Puck.

AMONG SAVAGES.

Adventures of a Castaway That Are Stranger Than Fiction.

The adventures of Louis de Rougemont recently stirred England with a very considerable controversy, and it was pretty conclusive proof that this traveler could not have been cast away among the aborigines of Australia quite as he said. The result was a general belief that most such claimants were impostors. But there was one Frenchman who, it turns out, did have very much the adventures which M. de Rougemont claimed as his.

Narcisse Pierre Pelletier (or Peltier), the son of a shoemaker of St. Giles, near Ile d'Yeu, on the coast of France, sailed as cabin boy in the Saint Paul of Bordeaux, which was wrecked in 1858 on the reef in the Louisade Archipelago. In the endeavor of the crew to reach an English settlement in an open boat, the captain and others, after enduring the greatest hardships, finally reached the northeast coast of Australia.

Here Narcisse, half dead with hunger, thirst and exposure, was unable any longer to keep up with his companions, and consequently was left to his fate, and was ultimately discovered by the savages.

With these aborigines he remained seventeen years and was given up for dead by his family and friends. On April 11, 1875, he was discovered and rescued by the crew of the British schooner John Bell, a pearl ship, then lying at Night Island.

When found Pelletier was one with the savages. He was stark naked; his body was burnt by the sun to a rich red color and had a glazed appearance produced by some savage appliance.

His breast was adorned after the custom of the tribe among which his lot had been for so long cast, with raised lines of flesh to the thickness of an ordinary leadpencil, and the lobe of his right ear was ornamented with a piece of wood over an inch and a half in diameter and four inches long.

Says a paper of July 31, 1875:

"The sailors of the John Bell who brought him off are under the impression that he came willingly, and that the savages understood he was being ransomed with 'trade.' Narcisse states, however, that neither did the natives wish him to go, nor did he himself wish to leave them, but that they feared resistance would have caused the sailors to fire upon them.

"For the first few days after his return to civilization he was described as being restless and uneasy, and as having sat upon a rail like a bird, watching every one in a frightened manner. The most extraordinary feature of the case is that, although a mere boy when deserted, he has retained his knowledge of reading and writing, and can now count up with ease to 100, although on his first attempt to do so he failed when he reached eighty.

"His account of life among the savages is necessarily meagre, partly because he has still some difficulty in expressing his ideas in French, and partly from a natural reticent disposition. His life, like that of the men of his tribe, appears to have been principally passed in fishing and hunting, with an occasional brush with a hostile tribe."

Narcisse was taken to Brisbane and was there put into the hands of the French Consul, who sent him back to the land of his birth. Among his family and friends he quickly reacquired the knowledge and love of civilization, and lived as a fisherman with them until his death, years ago.

A Staong Child.

There is a physician in West Philadelphia who has a son one year old, and this boy is probably the strongest human being for its age and weight in the world. Its father will hold a cane in his two hands, and the baby, grasping it, will draw itself up to its chin three times. That is but one of its numerous feats of strength. The physician says that his boy's unusual muscular development is due to a daily massage treatment. Every morning he lays the little fellow, naked, on a blanket, and kneeds his muscles for thirty minutes. Once a month he weighs the baby and measures its calves, chest, arms, etc. The monthly increase of weight and girth are remarkable. The baby has never had shoes or stockings on its feet or a hat on its head, and in the summer it wears only a little sleeveless dress that comes to its knees. It gets a cold bath every morning. "If nothing goes wrong," the physician often declares, "this child will be one of the strongest men the world has ever seen. He will never get bald and he will never lose a tooth. As for his muscles, with massage and a course of exercise that I have laid out, they will be big and supple all over his body. All his flesh will be, when tense, as hard as steel, and when relaxed as soft as the flesh of a young girl."—Philadelphia Record.

Matrimonial.

In four hours recently a Paris court granted 294 divorces, a little over a divorce a minute. All of the parties received state assistance in their cases, so that their divorces cost them nothing. Now it seems that an effort has been made to balance matters, as in the little village of Plaugasel, the other day, thirty-two marriages were celebrated at one stroke by the priest of the parish church.

The Drink Evil.

In Denmark it is the law that all drunken persons shall be taken to their homes in carriages provided at the expense of the publican who sold them the last glass.

TAKING WATER.

How It Is Done While Engines Go At Full Speed.

On many of the railroads it is no longer necessary for a train to top to allow the engineer to replenish his boilers with water. All travelers have now become accustomed to seeing the narrow troughs, 1,200 to 1,400 feet long, at various dead level points along the road, and they know that the strip of water that it contains is scooped up by the engine as it speeds over the tracks. But people from foreign countries often ask questions about the water between the tracks and marvel when they hear the story about "drinking" the engine on the fly.

What seems a marvelous mechanic contrivance is an extremely simple thing. A pipe with a scope end is fastened to the tender. It is C-shaped, with the top end pointing into the water tank and the bottom curled under the body of the tender. By a series of levers this end may be dropped until it reaches the level of the ties.

When the engine reaches the trough the fireman drops the scoop end, which is 3½ inches high and 12 inches wide into the trough, into which it sinks a distance of about six inches or within an inch of the bottom. It may wabble slightly without doing any harm, because the trough is twenty-four inches wide.

Dropping the end is all that is done, for the motion of the engine does the rest. The water rushes into the pipe and thence into the tank with a rush and force that suggests to the uninitiated the use of powerful engines.

"The most remarkable thing about the water-taking scoop," said a railroad official, "is the fact that the speed of the train must be reduced when the water is taken on. It reaches the bend in the pipe with such force that if the train were allowed to go at its regular speed the metal would be seriously strained, so we reduce the speed to about thirty miles an hour and have the best results."

While the engine is passing over the trough at the rate of thirty miles an hour it takes up about 4,000 gallons of water—about as much as would be contained in 100 spirit barrels.

A THIEF CATCHER.

He Is a Person of Great Importance In the Tyrol.

The odd figure seen in this illustration is not an escaped patient from some lunatic asylum, in spite of his bizarre appearance. On the contrary he is a personage of great importance in his own country—the neighborhood of Meran, in the Tyrol. He is known as a Saltner, and it is his duty to guard from thieves the grapes and other fruit. These Saltners are generally fine, stalwart specimens of humanity, being chosen from among the young men who bear the best reputation. Their dress, as can be seen from our photo, is highly fanciful, and dates back many centuries. It consists of a three-cornered hat, adorned with a profusion of feathers, not to mention squirrel and foxes' tails; a leather jacket, covered with wild boars' teeth and metal chains, and short leather breeches, which leave the knees bare. The Saltner's armament is somewhat peculiar, consisting as it does of a mediaeval halbert and a modern six-shooter. The work is very hard, the men being on duty day and night all the year round. They are even debarred by the exigencies of their employment from attending church. Their dwellings—called "Saltner's huts"—are miserable affairs made of straw, these being their only shelter against the inclemencies of the weather. All night these grape guardians wander about, each man having his own district which he may not leave.

Just for Spite.

"One of the strangest incidents that I ever witnessed," replied Col. Lyle," occurred in Camden, S. C."

"How was that, Colonel," interposed a Gazette reporter, and the crowd drew their chairs nearer.

"It was this way," continued the Colonel. "Several years ago while I was in that city a gentleman arrived at the hotel there early one morning, and while making some requests of the landlord who rented the hotel received a short reply. Thereupon he inquired as to who owned the hotel. After receiving the information he went out and succeeded in finding the owner and actually paid $10,000 for the building, and in less than three hours returned to the hotel with the keys and a deed to the property and locked up the hotel, with the remark that 'If the hotel couldn't be run decent he'd just close it up.'"—Henderson Courier.

"Why are camp meetings always held in the warmest weather?"

"That's the time people are afraid of hot climates."

BRAIN WITH TWO OWNERS.

John Sterning at Twenty-Four Forgot His Past Completely.

HAD THE MIND OF A BABE

Then Was Educated From A B C to Riper Knowledge and Fell in Love With Former Sweetheart.

Finally Mind Number Two Ceased to Be Active and He Awoke to Memories and Life Exactly Where Mind Number One Had Previously Left Him.

Recently John Sterning, Jr., of New York, was found almost asphyxiated in his room.

The next day intelligence gradually left him. Eight days afterward he was taken to an asylum. The morning following he was quiet and sane. But mentally he was not John Sterning, Jr.

An attendant entered and addressed him. The young man looked perplexed. He had actually forgotten speech and the meaning of words.

His parents came to see him. The proffered caress of his mother was met coldly, and he took refuge behind a chair.

Miss Freda Nelson, to whom Sterning was engaged, was sent to him. It was hoped that the sight of his sweetheart would bring him to his senses. He looked at her inquiringly.

"Don't you remember me?" Miss Nelson cried. Sterning understood her words no more than a baby could have done.

DIAGRAM EXPLAINING DUAL PERSONALITY.

Some one handed him a newspaper. He held it upside down.

The work of developing Sterning's mind was begun with an A B C primer and kindergarten methods. Progress was very rapid, and soon the young man could converse with the fluency of a ten-year-old boy. Everything—marriage, filial relations, government, sun, moon, stars—had to be explained. The first sight of a piano amazed him.

John Sterning No. 1 had been a disgracefully bad billiard player. John Sterning No. 2 quickly learned to handle a cue like a professional. Before his mental mix-up he disliked mechanics. Now he had the muscle sense of an artist. He sang and played the piano and banjo.

Under his sweetheart's tuition he had become a devout Christian. The new Sterning was an Atheist.

Now comes a curious feature. Although he did not recognize Miss Nelson, his fiancee, yet, after her frequent visits to him in the asylum, he learned to love her again.

There was no reason why he should be confined, so he was given his liberty.

"It's strange," he said, three months later, "half my head feels numb and prickling just like a foot asleep."

Drowsier and drowsier he felt, and finally he had to be carried to bed. He refused to eat anything. About 11 o'clock he awoke. His father was in the room.

"Hello, father," he said. "What are you doing here? What time is it?"

"Eleven o'clock."

"Guess your watch is slow," said Sterning. "It was after 12 when I came home." Then he glanced around the room.

"What's the matter? The whole room's changed. This isn't my room, at all. This is queer. I go to bed in one room after midnight and wake up in another room an hour before I went to bed. How did it happen?"

A great hope filled the father's breast. He trembled as he put the question:

"What date is this?"

"Think it's the twentieth," was the doubting answer.

"Twentieth of what?" The old man could scarcely contain himself.

"November, of course," exclaimed the young man impatiently.

"What did you do last night?"

"Called on Freda, had supper at the club and came home. But what's the matter?"

The matter, of course, was that the original John Sterning had come to life again, while the second John Sterning was as dead as the first had recently been.

Dr. Dana gives the following explanation of the dual consciousness. (See illustration.) "The eye, seeing an object at A, sends a thrill along a nerve to the centre of vision. There the image is recorded in a brain cell. See that object again and a thrill is sent to the same cell, awakening memory (C'C" C'"). Interrupt that thrill and the brain can remember nothing. It can form new ideas and impressions, however, as d-d-d, and a new mentality is thereby formed."

Crow That Fathers Motherless Chicks

William Parsons of East Union, N. Y., has a crow that is a record-breaker as a chicken raiser. The crow was tamed by Parsons's boys, and when a hen with eight chicks deserted her brood, the crow, who was wandering about the yard, took charge of them. He would go about with the peepers and when he found a worm or choice tidbit would summon them with a peculiar call they soon learned to answer.

Recently a chicken hawk descended on the brook, but instead of flying for shelter, like an old hen, the crow gave battle with beak and talons, vanquishing his opponent. The entire eight chickens have been raised by the crow and a few days ago he was discovered sitting on a hen's nest that he had found in the grass, so he may soon have a family of his own.

A man named Nottabittiwiski is the owner of a ranch in Kansas, but there are stories to the effect that he does not live up to his name.

SUNDAY'S BASEBALL GAMES.

At Cincinnati. 1st game, Cincinnati, 10; Cleveland, 2. 2d game, Cincinnati, 3; Louisville, 6.

The Clinton avenue baseball nine met a picked nine on the former's grounds Saturday afternoon and defeated them by a score of 9 to 2. Morgan and Taylor were the battery for the Clinton avenues and Hollis and Moran for the picked combination.

GOLF.

While there was no special event at the Hillside Tennis and Golf Club grounds Saturday afternoon, one of the largest crowds of the season was in attendance and occupied the course during the afternoon. Some of the more enthusiastic members began early and continued until almost dark. Among them was Assemblyman R. F. Murray, who has become almost an expert.

CYCLING COMMENT.

"Jack" Townsend, the Bayonne wheelman, who was recently defeated by Peter Simmons, the colored rider of Plainfield, in a match fifteen mile road race at the latter place, and who won the time prize in the race held on the Westfield-Fanwood course Labor Day, has issued a challenge to Charles Embleton, of Westfield, for an unlimited pursuit race to be held at the Vailsburg board track or some other track mutually agreed upon for a suitable trophy. The race to take place within the next two weeks.

A Night of Terror.

"Awful anxiety was felt for the widow of the brave General Burnham of Machias, Me., when the doctors said she could not live till morning," writes Mrs. S. H. Lincoln, who attended her that fearful night. "All thought she must soon die from pneumonia, but she begged for Dr. King's New Discovery, saying it had more than once saved her life, and had cured her of consumption. After three small doses she slept easily all night, and its further use completely cured her." This marvelous medicine is guaranteed to cure all Throat Chest and Lung Diseases. Only 50c and $1.00. —The time to secure fine table and canning peaches is limited now. But Neuman Bros., the Watchung avenue grocers, have a splendid variety on hand, and housewives will find it advantageous to buy there.

—The dance that was set for tomorrow evening at the Manhattan Hotel has been postponed until Thursday evening, September 21st, on account of the death of Proprietor Graceley's grandmother, which occurred at her home in Brooklyn this morning.

Harness Broke and Started Horses on Run.

A spirited team of young horses attached to a light runabout, in which was seated two strangers in the city, caused some excitement Saturday afternoon on East Front street. The strap holding the pole in position broke and this started the horses on a dead run. One of the occupants jumped from the wagon and escaped injury. The other remained and through good horsemanship succeeded in bringing the horses to a standstill in front of Marshall's laundry. The wagon was upset, but the driver was not injured.

Borough Streets Submerged.

The heavy rainfall this noon caused the water to overflow the street and crosswalks corner Jackson avenue and Somerset street to a depth of several inches, and people were unable to get across that thoroughfare without getting their feet wet. The street commissioner or a person appointed by him should be on hand and relieve the water pipes, which were choked up with sticks and leaves, during a heavy rainfall like today.

Young Minister in the Pulpit.

A very interesting sermon was preached last evening at the First Baptist church by Rev. Ernest Crane, of this city. Mr. Crane will return this week to Crozier Theological Seminary, where he will complete his studies.

Dr. Yerkes in His Pulpit Again

Rev. Dr. D. J. Yerkes, who recently returned from his vacation, occupied his pulpit at the First Baptist church yesterday morning and evening and was greeted by large congregations. His sermons were powerful and interesting.

Adjourned Again

The trial of "Count" J. K. VanNest, which was adjourned last spring in the City Court until today, was again adjourned for a week. He was charged with using firearms in the city limits.

ARLINGTON AVENUE TROLLEY DELAYED.

Property Owners Not Agreed on Angle of the Tracks.

OFFICE OF CITY SURVEYOR.

THAT POSITION TO BE COMBINED WITH STREET COMMISSIONER.

It Will Give the City Better Service Without Extra Expense—Temporary Notes to be Issued to Provide for Sewage Bed Outlay—City to Lay Sidewalks Where Notices Were Ignored.

There was an adjourned meeting of the Common Council last evening, and it was expected that the ordinance granting the Plainfield Street Railway Company a franchise to locate a line through Arlington avenue would be introduced. It was not, however, owing to the fact that beyond Randolph road on Arlington avenue there is a difference of opinion among two or three property owners along the line as to the angle the trolley tracks should be laid. They are little matters, but must be settled before an ordinance is adopted and the work commenced. On a motion offered by Mr. Barrows the hearing was adjourned one week. Tha oppesition and supporters to the trolley were on hand in large numbers.

The regular order of business was then taken up. A communication was received from Walter Scott and others asking the Council to secure a proper grade on Richmond street so that the surface water would run off and not flood the street in the vicinity of Fifth street. The street is three inches higher than the gutters. This grade is the result of the laying of trolley tracks.

Mr. Mellick offered a motion, which was adopted, to reconsider two resolutions offered and adopted at the meeting of August 7th. One resolution provided for the acceptance of the city maps, and the other to the appointment of the street commissioner as custodian of the maps. This action was explained by Mr. Coriell who stated that after a consultation with Corporation Counsel Marsh it was deemed wise to consider the two matters. He said that in Elizabeth the city surveyor attends to the receiving and care of deeds at no expense to the city except his salary, and those having such business with him are not assessed as is now the case when a person from this city desires to send a deed to Elizabeth. If the deed is not stamped it is sent back and there is more or less waste of time and an expense attached to it, hence it was thought wise to consider the matter.

Mr VanHerden offered an ordinance providing for the issuance of temporary notes for sewer purposes, occasioned by the installation of two new sewer beds last year and repairs to the system this year. The ordinance provides for the issuance of notes for the sum of $7,654.70, to be renewed from time to time to cover a period of five years. They are to be divided as equally as practicable. The money will be secured at 4 per cent. It will be remembered that the Mayor and Council secured the enactment of a State law which give them the power to issue notes when desirable, instead of bonds. The amount being comparatively small it would not pay to issue bonds, but by issuing notes the city escapes the payment of fees for advertising, etc. The Council also secured the consent of the City National Bank to take the notes if no one else would. The ordinance, which was explained by Mr. Barrows, was adopted on its first and second readings.

Mr. Barrows offered an ordinance creating the office of city surveyor. The ordinance provides that hereafter no one shall be appointed to the office of street commissioner unless he be a qualified civil engineer, and that he shall be ex-officio city surveyor, without extra compensation. This shall apply to the present holder of the office, when the ordinance goes into effect. There are many advantages in this ordinance. It gives the city a qualified street commissioner and city surveyor at one salary and does away with too many officers. This ordinance was adopted on first and second readings.

Mr. Barrows offered a resolution authorizing the city to repair a sidewalk in front of the property of John J. H. Poillon, 701-715 Central avenue, where notice had been served on the owner and he had failed to comply with the ordinance. A similar resolution, embodied with the above, provided for the laying of sidewalks in front of the following properties, where the owners had failed to do so after being notified: Estate Morris

VINDICATION FOR DRAKE.

The Lincoln Mayor Cleared of the Accusations Made Against Him by a Labor Union Delegate.

At a recent meeting of the Essex Trades' Council, of Newark, the question of establishing a home for aged laboring men at Lincoln was brought up chiefly for the purpose of clearing Silas D. Drake from the imputations made against his character at the recent convention of the Federation of Labor and Trades' Unions of New Jersey, at which time it was stated that Mr. Drake was a "land-shark." Delegate Cory made a report concerning his trip to Lincoln. He was satisfied that Mr. Drake was unwarrantably impugned. The result of the meeting was in the nature of a vindication for Mr. Drake, although the discussion was of the most animated sort.

BOROUGH SCHOOLS OPEN

NOT ENOUGH ROOM BECAUSE OF INCREASE IN LOWER GRADES.

High School Opened With Special Exercises, Including Addresses By Prof. Wightman and A. V. D. Honeyman.

The borough public schools opened this morning and there was a large increase in enrollment in both schools, especially in the primary departments. There was such an increase in the lower grades that the accommodations are not sufficient for all.

At the High School the exercises were opened with an address of welcome by Superintendent W. J. Wightman, in which he urged the scholars to put forth their best effort during the year and to make the best of their time. This address was followed with devotional exercises, conducted by Rev. G. W. Gardner, pastor of Grace M. E. church, after which A. V. D. Honeyman, a member of the school board, made a short, but excellent address. His one thought imparted to the scholars was thoroughness, and he said that he could not impress too strongly the necessity of this. He urged all to learn their studies thoroughly and not to "skimp" in the slightest degree. His remarks were pointed and especially helpful to everyone.

There were present the Board of Education and a number of parents, and all were greatly interested in the opening of the school. At the Watchung School there is the same complaint regarding accommodations, especially in the lower grades. It is hoped that in a short time this inconvenience may be remedied.

BOSS CARPENTER GONE.

It Is Said That He Collected $600 Intended to Pay Men Working Under Him.

Several artisans, who have recently been employed on a house in course of erection at the west end of the city, are particular anxious as to the whereabouts of James P. Dawe, the boss carpenter, whose absence from the city has given rise to considerable talk. Dawe is said to have received $600 on account to pay the masons, carpenters, painters, etc., but up to the time of going to press he had not paid them. Dawe was last seen in Plainfield Friday.

UNABLE TO GET CABLE.

Work of Placing Electric Wires Underground is Temporarily Stopped.

Owing to difficulty in securing cable the Plainfield Electric Light Company is obliged to temporarily stop the work of placing their wires underground. This same difficulty is experienced by the New York and New Jersey Telephone Company and they have been obliged to stop their work. The latter company has about completed its work in the centre of the city, but when able to secure more cable they will continue the work in North Plainfield when the proper ordinance giving such rights is adopted.

ACCIDENTALLY SHOT

Bruce Mortimer Chilton Was Handling a Loaded Revolver—Bullet Went Through His Hand.

The only casualty that marked the strike of the Italians working on the trolley line at Cranford yesterday was the accidental shooting of Bruce Mortimer Chilton, of Putnam avenue. Chilton is in the employ of his brother-in-law, Lemuel W. Serrell, the contractor. He was at the scene of the trouble when one of the foremen named C. Harris asked him for a pistol, saying that he could keep the men at work if he had one. Chilton borrowed one at a neighboring hotel and gave it to Harris.

The revolver was not used and was returned to Shilton during the morning. With it were two cartridges. It was of 44 calibre. Chilton wes examining it when, without warning, the revolver fired and the bullet passed through Chilton's left hand.

He was taken at once to Dr. Allen at Cranford, who dressed the wound and found it necessary to take several stitches to close the opening. A hole was blown right through the hand. Chilton then returned to his home in this city where he is now under the care of Dr. Zeglio. The wound is a very painful one and will keep Chilton away from work for a time.

NOW AN ACTOR.

Christian Sorensen Doing a Sketch With a Vaudeville Company.

Christian Sorensen, of Webster place, stopped in Plainfield a few minutes this morning en route from Somerville to South Amboy. He is now trombone player with the Lincoln Brothers' Vaudeville Company and also takes part in a short sketch. Although not yet nineteen, young Sorensen has seen considerable of the world. He went to war with the Third New Jersey Volunteers and was one of the youngest soldiers in the regiment.

Gratified With His Success.

Bonn, the milliner, of West Front street, is highly gratified with the success he is having. This is one of Plainfield's best stores and it is thoroughly up-to-date. The goods are always fashionable, seasonable and the prices compare favorably with New York. Certainly Plainfielders should do all that they can to sustain such a store whose proprietor is so enterprising.

An Approaching Marriage.

Announcement is made of the approaching marriage of Miss Sara Keys, of Ashville, N. C, and William C. Baker, of Stelle avenue. The event will take place Wednesday, September 20th, at the home of the bride.

CITY PUBLIC SCHOOLS OPENED THIS MORNING

Large Attendance at All of the Schools.

SEVERAL NEW INSTRUCTORS

CHANGES MADE AT THE WHITTIER SCHOOL.

Miss Ellen K. Cumming a New Addition to High School—Improvements Made to Curriculum at High School—Twenty-Four in the Senior Class—Entering Class is the Largest on Record.

The public schools of Plainfield were opened this moning after the long vacation. As is usual on the first day of school, the time was mostly spent in getting the new children in the proper grades and organizing the classes ready for active work on the morrow. For the first day the attendance was large and the next week will probably bring in many additions. There were a few changes in the staff of teachers and in the schoolrooms as well.

The High School assembled at 9 o'clock with the usual morning exercises. The entering class is the largest that ever went into the High School. The Senior Class will probably number twenty-four this winter. There will be one change in the faculty of the High School. Miss Peckham resigned her position last spring and Miss Ellen K. Cumming, a graduate of Vassar College, has taken the place. Miss Cumming comes to Plainfield from the Saratoga Springs High School, where she was very popular and successful. Ira Winthrop Travell will continue as principal of the High School.

There will be several improvements in the curriculum of the High School. The highest class on the Grammar school, known as the ninth grade, has been gradually turned into a High School preparatory class. Last year, the pupils in that grade began the study of beginning Latin after the Christmas holidays. This year, they will begin at once so that their course in the High School can be more thorough in that branch. Allgebra is also to be started in the High School preprepartory class in the place of arithmetic. This will permit further study of mathematics in the High School and the addition of High School arithmetic there. For those who wish to go further into mathematics, plane geometry and trigonometry will follow in the senior year.

The commercial course has now been carried on very successfully for two years. This year commercial law and commercial arithmetic will be added. This department will continue under the efficient direction of George Weeks Sandford. There will be some advance in the science department, which has been developed to its present high standard through the efforts of Albert B. Meredith, the present instructor.

The upper floor of the Whittier School, used last year as the gymnasium of the Girls' Athletic Asociation of the High School, has been divided into four class rooms. Three of these were occupied this morning by the three divisions of the seventh grade which were removed there from the Irving, Bryant and Franklin buildings, to provide for new primary grades in those buildings, and to relieve the overcrowded condition of many of the primary class rooms. The other room will be devoted to the special drawing classes from the High School.

Miss Ada H. Clark, who graduated from the Plainfield High School in 1896, and afterwards from the Trenton Normal School, has taken the position in the Irving School left vacant by the departure of Miss Genevieve Lanning for Mt. Vernon, N. Y. Miss Clark has been teaching near Paterson.

Miss Susie Davies, who was teacher last year of the kindergarten at the Lincoln School, has taken the position of principal of the kindergarten at the Irving School, in the place of Miss Merchant, who was recently married. Miss Davies' place in the Lincoln School has been filled by Miss Angel, of this city.

Will to Be Contested.

J. P. D. Kirch, as counsel for Mrs. Anna Warnock, of North avenue, has filed a caveat in the Union County Surrogate's Court against the probating of the will of the late Mrs. Anna Campbell, of Westfield. The testatrix was the grandmother of Mrs. Warnock. Mrs. Warnock's mother's share of Mrs. Campbell's estate was willed to another party, and she will make the contest on the ground that she should have her mother's share.

HARD TO EVICT TENANT.

LAWYER CLARK AND A CONSTABLE MEET WITH RESISTANCE.

Theodore Fingerhus Refuses to Vacate Premises He Has Occupied For Some Months—Lively Time Making an Arrest.

Attorney Robert M. Clark and Constable Bartell had an exciting experience at Washingtonville yesterday afternoon in attempting to arrest Theodore Fingerhus. The charge against the accused was trespass. It appears that some time ago P. Roehricht, who is proprietor of Somerset Park, secured the services of Fingerhus to fill the position of landscape gardener. After a time it was found that the man was not giving satisfaction and he was discharged by Mr. Roehricht.

Since that time Fingerhus has continued to live in a house belonging to Mr. Roehricht, although repeatedly asked to vacate Fingerhus, however, declined to leave the house and it was decided to take legal measures to compel him to do so. The services of Lawyer Clark were secured. It was the opinion of the lawyer that the best way to evict Fingerhus was to cause his arrest on a charge of trespass.

Accordinly, a warrant was secured from Justice Mattison, of North Plainfield, and given to Constable Bartell to serve. The latter was accompanied by Lawyer Clark. Fingerhus refused to recognize the Constable's authority and vigorously resisted arrest. He locked himself in the house and refused to come out. William DeMeza, who acted as counsel for Fingerhus, agreed to have his client in court this afternoon at 3 o'clock, and the fellow was left in temporary possession of the premises.

WILL MAKE CITIZENS.

G. O. P. Prepares to Take Delegation To Secure Papers.

Only a little routine business came before the Republican city executive committee at a meeting held last night.

There was a good attendance and the business was dispatched quickly. There was very little talk about the political situation.

It was followed by a meeting of the sub-committee on naturalization of which William Newcorn is chairman. It was decided to take a number of the would-be citizens to Elizabeth Thursday evening on the 7:06 train to make application for the necessary papers.

In Honor of Her Young Guest.

Mrs. Max Yesner and her daughter, Marjorie Yesner, of Houston, Texas, has been visiting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Boice, of Manning avenue. In honor of Miss Yesner, Mrs. Boice arranged a few days ago to give her a party. A few friends were invited to spend the afternoon and have a good time. The young people indulged in all kinds of innocent fun and at 4 o'clock they sat down to a bountiful supper. The happy event continued until 6 o'clock. The young hostess received a number of very pretty gifts. Those present included Mabel and Sadie Hand, Jeanette and Margaret Neal, Hannah Higgins, the Misses Schenck, Hazel Boice, Ray Pugh, Herbert VanDoren, George Miller, Harold Storr and Mrs. Winfield Schomp.

Bid Them a Fond Adieu.

The Misses Shott, daughters of Rev. Gideon Shott, Miss Johnson and Miss Marsh, of Scotch Plains, left Plainfield this morning on the Royal Blue Line for Lauray, Va., where they will enter a college. A large number of their friends assembled at the North Avenue Station to give the young women a good send-off and wish them to God-speed in their journey and in their studies.

Taking Out Foreign Patents.

Charles C. Overbaugh, who recently secured a patent for a non-refilling bottle, is to take out patents in all foreign countries. A meeting of the company is to be held in this city this week, when an expert in non-refilling bottles is to experiment with the bottle with a view of demonstrating its practicability.

Not Enough Consents.

It is claimed that the Borough Board of Education has not secured a sufficient number of consents to permit them to build a private line between the two schools. There are two or three who will not consent to have poles or wires placed on their property.

Mrs. Denton to Open a Store.

Mrs. E. V. Denton, of Washington avenue, the florist, will open her new store in the Stillman building Thursday of this week. She is also planning to give a reception September 22d.

DINNER AT GOLF CLUB.

Mr. and Mrs. Josiah Browne Entertained a Select Party of Friends in a Pleasant Way.

Mr. and Mrs. Josiah Browne, of Watchung avenue, gave the first of a series of dinners at the club house of the Hillside Tennis and Golf Club Saturday evening. These dinners will continue through the months of September, October and November. Covers were laid for twenty. Among the guests were President and Mrs. Cobb, and Vice President and Mrs. Hill, of the American Tobacco Company of which Mr. Browne is secretary, and also Mr. and Mrs. Charles H. Lee, Councilman and Mrs. E. T. Barrows, Mr. and Mrs. E. R. Ackerman, Mr. and Mrs. H. O. Fleming, Mr. and Mrs. E. H. Ladd, Jr., and Councilman and Mrs. F. H. Andrews.

DIED SAME AS POOR MAN

CORNELIOUS IVANDERBILT, WORTH $200,000,000, IS GONE.

Passed Away This Morning From a Stroke of Paralysis—He Returned From His Summer Home at Newport Last Night.

(Special to The Daily Press.)

New York, Sept. 12—Cornelius Vanderbilt, the head of the Vanderbilt family, the man who carried the burden of his own enormous fortune and that of many of his lesser relatives on his shoulders, passed away at 5:15 a. m., today, after an illness of only five hours, the first warnings of which, however, were given some years ago. Death was due to paralysis.

The physicians in the Vanderbilt circle have long known that it would probably come to pass just as it has done; and the members of the immediate family knew that a death stroke was like to come at any moment.

The family reached here at 9 o'clock last night from Newport. Their season there was ended and they expected to take up their residence for the winter in the great palace where Fifth avenue broadens into the entrance to Central Park.

Mr. Vanderbilt was apparently in the best of health and in the best of spirits last night.

He was fifty-five years old, and worth $200,000,000.

New Macadamizing Started.

The work of macadamizing Watchung avenue between North avenue and East Second street was started today. The city is doing the work and the Plainfield Street Railway Company will pay for it. At the same time repairs will be made on East Second street and Street Commissioner Gavett will also install a catch basin on Second street to assist in carrying off surface water.

A Real Cuban Barber.

W. J. Pride, the Somerset street barber, has engaged a real Cuban barber to assist him at his place. The stranger is C. C. Roomcey, and he hails from Trinidad, Cuba, where he was born, and educated. Mr. Roomcey is a bright young man and talks English fluently. He left his home six months ago and is delighted with this part of the country.

Attended Watermelon Social.

A party of young people of the Christian Endeavor Society of the Seventh-Day Baptist church met at the home of Miss Ernestine Smith, of Madison avenue, Saturday night, and went by trolley to New Market where they attended a watermelon social given on the lawn of the Seventh-Day Baptist church in that place.

Entetained the Governor.

Governor Voorhees has been the guest of President of the Senate Charles A. Reed and family, at Belmar, for a short time. The Senator and his wife are delightful entertainers and the Governor could not help but feel the cordiality so pleasantly extended by the host and hostess.

Leal's School Open.

Mr. Leal's school on West Front street opened this morning after the summer vacation. There are seventy pupils registered this fall. Mr. Leal is assisted by four instructors. A number of graduates were present at the opening exercises. A short address was made by Mr. Leal.

Change on the Central.

Some changes have been made in the time table on the Central Railroad. On and after today the Long Branch trains will leave the North Avenue station at 8:13, 10:37, 12:44, 3:46, 5:54 and 6:21. The through train between this city and Newark has been discontinued.

To Arrange for Bowling.

The regular meeting of the Plainfield Catholic Club will be held this evening. Arrangements will probably be made for the bowling season which will begin shortly. A large attendance of members is requested.

TROLLEY CARS MAY RUN PAST SCHOOL HOUSES

Board of Education Gave Its Consent Last Night.

AVENUE MAY BE WIDENED.

RUNNING OF CARS WILL NOT INTERFERE WITH SCHOLARS.

The Vote in Favor of Giving Consent Was Unanimous, Although Dr. Probasco Explained That He Expected That the Street Would be Widened—The Matter Discussed Thoroughly.

The principal business transacted at last night's regular meeting of the Board of Education had to do with the proposed extension of the Plainfield Street Railway through Arlington avenue. The members of the Board present at the meeting were Messrs. Probasco, Lounsbury, Abbott and Richards. After the Board had passed upon a number of bills, Secretary Lounsbury read a communication from the trolley company asking for the Board's consent to allow the road to pass the school property between Fourth and Fifth streets.

This immediately brought about a discussion. The Hon. Roger F. Murray and H. C. Runyon were present and spoke in favor of the Board's granting the consent asked for.

Mr. Runyon said that he understood that one of the conditions upon which the Common Council was to grant the franchise was that the avenue between Fourth and Fifth streets was to be widened, even if it was necessary to have the land condemned to do so. He said the railroad company had already secured the consents of the owners of more than half of the property.

Mr. Lounsbury was strongly in favor of the Board giving the consent asked for as he considered it would be an improvement to the school property. The opinion of the corporation counsel, he said, was to the effect that the members of the Board had a right to sign the consent.

Dr. Probasco said he vigorously opposed giving the consent of the Board to having the cars run past the school on Arlington avenue unless the Board could be given some assurance that the street was to be widened. In its present narrow condition he considered it would be a menace to the lives of the children and besides he was of the opinion that the noise was detrimental to the interests of the school. He asked Superintendent Maxson if he considered that the noise of the trolley disturbed the exercises of the school. The Superintendent said he did not think it did to any great extent.

Mr. Lounsbury said it had been the intention of the Board to erect an iron fence in place of the high board fence at present in front of the Franklin School on the Arlington avenue side of the school building, and he thought that if that was done it would in a measure remove the element of danger, if any existed.

Mr. Abbott expressed the opinion that the Board should give its consent to have the trolley pass through the avenue, as he considered it for the best interests of the city.

Superintendent Maxson, when asked his opinion about the matter, said he failed to see where there could be any particular objection.

At this point in the discussion the question as to the width of the street was again raised. Mr. Runyon was asked to call up the Common Council, which was in session, and ask if it was the intention of the Common Council to have Arlington avenue, between Fourth and Fifth streets, widened in the event of the Board's granting the franchise to the trolley company to construct the road through that avenue.

Street Commissioner Gavett, who answered the 'phone, said that the width of the avenue was at least 22 feet and possibly 23 feet. He also said that the Common Council had caused to be inserted a clause in the franchise asked for by the trolley company that compelled the company to lower the speed of its cars when passing the school property.

While this information was being elicited from Mr. Gavett over the telephone, Messrs. Richards and Abbott, accompained by Prof. Maxson and Mr. Murray and Mr. Runyon went out and measured Arlington avenue at the corner of Fifth street. They found it to be a trifle over 22 feet in width.

When they returned, Dr. Probasco asked as to the width of a car. Mr. Runyon told him that a car was six feet and seven inches in width, which would leave a trifle over fifteen feet, or about seven and a half feet on either

OTIS' PLAN IS APPROVED

An Early Campaign in the Island of Luzon is to Be Cmmenced.

WILL BE HARD FIGHTING

Aggressive Movement Against th Filipinos to be Pushed With All Possible Energy.

Two Military Departments Will B Established—MacArthur and Law town in Command—The War Department Familiar With All the Proposed Plans.

Washington, Sept. 12.—War Department officers apparently regard it as certain that there will be a very early beginning to the aggressive movement against the Filipinos in the Island of Luzon. It is probable that the War Department is thoroughly familiar with Gen. Otis's plan of campaign, but the officers naturally decline to give any details of the matter, holding that it would be unwise to do so, as the natives would be likely to get hold of anything published. They do not deny, however, that some stirring news will probably come from Manila much earlier than expected.

Nobody can predict when the rainy season will come to an end, as that unhealthy season has always been very uncertain. Last year dry weather did not come until Dec. 1, but there is a belief that the rain will cease earlier this year. At any rate, the campaign will probably be begun before December, no matter what the condition of the weather.

Major-Gen. Otis informed the War Department some time ago that he wanted to divide the Philippines into military districts as soon as the rainy season was over. He submitted a plan for two military departments in Luzon, one consisting of the Visayas and another of the Sulus. The plan was approved by the Department. It is understood that one of the Luzon departments will consist of all territory in the island to the north of Manila and the other of all territory to the south of the capital. Should the plan be put into operation before the beginning of the coming campaign it will mean that on Lawton and MacArthur will depend the management of military matters in their respective districts.

The idea is, according to military men, to conduct the campaign as efforts to suppress Indian uprisings in this country are conducted. Whenever an Indian outbreak occurs the War Department odifies the commanding officer of the military department of which the trouble is, to send troops to the scene of the difficulty if necessary. To the commanding officer is usually left the selection and distribution of troops. The War Department acts only in a supervisory capacity, trusting much to the judgment of the commanding officer of the military department.

It is reported to be the desire of the War Department that this plan be followed in the Philippines, but no official verification can be obtained. If the plan is carried out General MacArthur will be the central figure of public interest in the islands. He will be in command of the department in which most of the heavy fighting will occur, and if the assumption of some army officers is correct, MacArthur will be left to make his own plans and to carry them on without interference from Manila or Washington.

Gen. Otis would, of course, under such a plan be the channel of transmission between MacArthur and Washington, and would, by virtue of his seniority in the Philippines, have supervisory power over everything that MacArthur did, but would leave him to conduct the campaign without interference. Lawton would have command of the territory south of Manila under the same conditions. It remains to be seen whether or not the belief of army officers in this connection are well founded. Certainly the idea is in accordance with the policy of governments in dealing with internal troubles not involving the safety of the entire nation.

Lawton Makes Denial.

Washington, Sept. 12.—General Corbin has received a cable message from General Schwan, who is with General Lawton in the Philippines. In this telegram General Schwan said:

"Lawton pronounces utterly foundationless newspaper reports of interview asserting that he commented on military situation or criticised conduct of operations here. Declares beforehand as false all future accounts of such interviews."

Revolution Still Goes On.

Havana, Sept. 12.—The captains of British ships arriving here from Venezuela confirm the news that there has been a revolution there during the last three weeks. They say there are two parties against the government, and that the latter is extremely suspicious. Any one wishing to land must satisfy the officials that he is not connected with either of the revolutionary parties.

Declared a Big Dividend.

Halifax, N. S., Sept. 12.—The Nova Scotia Steel Company, Limited, of New Glasgow, has declared a dividend of 24 per cent. This is the company from which the Dominion Iron and Steel Company recently purchased for $1,000,000 extensive iron deposits in Newfoundland.

Condition of National Banks.

Washington, Sept. 12.—The controller of the currency has issued a call for statements of the condition of all national banks at the close of business, Sept. 7.

Panther Back From Porto Rico.

Philadelphia, Sept. 12.—The United States transport Panther, which has been carrying supplies to Porto Rico from this city, has passed the Delaware Capes on her return trip.

PANTHER AT LARGE.

According to Report He Is a Fierce Beast.

Sing Sing, N. Y., Sept. 12.—It is said a panther which eats watch dogs for luncheon, breakfasts on fowls, dines on sheep and is rapidly acquiring an appetite for humans, is abroad in the woods near Yorktown, Westchester county, and occasionally the farmers get down their guns their fathers carried and go a-hunting him. There are all sorts of stories as to the size of the beast, but it is known that a stout watchdog is but a mouthful for him, and that he can eat up anything under a yearling in a jiffy. Mr. and Mrs. John Wilson, of Yorktown, out driving near the Croton dam, stopped to feed the horse, and come within an ace of feeding the panther instead, for he stole from a group of trees and was within three feet of Dobbin when they spied him. Mrs. Wilson fainted and Wilson reversed arms and beat the panther over the head with the butt end of his whip. The panther showed fight for a minute and then hunted cover. But as the Wilsons drove home in a hurry the beast ran across the road before them and howled as if in dire prophecy. The villagers armed next day and beat the woods. Once they saw the panther on a hilltop out of range. He disappeared. They continued the hunt without success, but they are going to keep after him.

Heirs to Twenty-seven Millions.

Philadelphia, Sept. 12.—Thirty-seven grand nephews and grand nieces of the old Quaker philanthropist, Isaiah V. Williamson, have been raised from positions of moderate circumstances in the past few days to possessors of nearly a quarter million each. The old Quaker died nearly ten years ago, leaving an estate now valued at $27,000,000. In his will Williamson, who was a bachelor, gave big sums to his brothers and sisters and $60,000 each to his nephews and nieces.

He directed that the residue of his estate should be invested for ten years after his death and then be distributed to all his grand nephews and grand nieces who should then be living.

This residue now amounts to over $6,000,000. During the ten years the parents of the present beneficiaries have drawn the big interest annually.

Nearly all the heirs live in or near Trenton, N. J. Of the thirty-seven grand-nephews and grand-nieces who are now coming in for the final distribution of the estate eight are the children of Charles Buckman, of Trenton, so that that family alone, with what has been paid to the father, will receive over $1,250,000.

A Will Contest.

New York, Sept. 12.—A remarkable will complication which will soon be fought out in the Philadelphia courts involves the disposition of an estate valued at $7,000,000. The disputed property is the estate of Wilson W. Waddingham, of New York, Philadelphia and New Mexico, who died here fuor months ago, leaving almost everything to his second wife. Waddingham's first wife, from whom he had been divorced, was not mentioned in the will and her children received only small bequests. The will was executed in 1892, but Kansas City lawyers have filed a revocation of the will which was dated in 1896, and makes no provision for the disposition of the estate. Before his death Mr. Waddingham said: "My relatives will get the money anyhow, and if the courts decide the matter there will be no one to bear me ill will."

Yachtsman Found Floating Body.

New London, Conn., Sept. 12.—Commodore David Banks, of New York, who is a member of the Pequot colony here, while out sailing in his yacht, the Waterwitch, saw the body of a drowned man in the vicinity of Plum Gut and immediately returned and reported the matter to the authorities. An effort made to recover the body was unsuccessful. The corpse was floating face downward and appeared to be that of a well-to-do person. The clothing seemingly was of fine texture and of fashionable cut.

Poisoned Her Children.

Port Perry, Pa., Sept. 12.—After poisoning her three children, Mrs. John Galloghly, wife of a steel worker employed by the Carnegie Company at the Bessemer furnaces, near here, poisoned herself, and with her three young victims lay down to die. She succeeded in killing herself and her four-months old child, but the other two children are still alive and will probably recover.

Queer Reason for Adjourning Court

London Depot, Ky., Sept. 12.—A unique reason for closing the Jackson County Court, at McKee, was that a day or two ago Senator Clark went out and fought a street duel with three of his enemies and was so badly shot that he could not attend court. As he represented the defence of every case on the calendar the court was accordingly adjourned.

Boston Lawyer Shoots Himself.

Boston, Sept. 12.—Julian J. Stevens, a lawyer, attempted to commit suicide by shooting himself at his room in Bowdoin Square. He fired a 38-caliber bullet into his left breast. His chances of recovery are slight. Despondency is believed to have caused his act. Mr. Stevens came here from Maine about a month ago.

John Adams married the daughter of a Presbyterian minister. Her father objected on account of John's being a lawyer—he had a bad opinion of the morals of the profession.

Milton married the daughter of a country 'squire. He was an austere recluse, while she was a rosy, romping country lass that could not endure the restraint imposed upon her; so they separated. Subsequently, however, she returned, and they lived tolerably happy together.

John Howard, the great philanthropist, married his nurse. She was altogether beneath him in social and intellectual capacity, and besides this was fifty-two years old, while he was twenty-five. He would not take "No" for an answer, and they were married and lived happily together until she died, which occurred two years afterward.

Mr. Robert Love of 44 Duer street, member of the firm of Love Brothers grocers, of 257 West Front street, says: "I suffered from kidney complaint for eight or nine years; pain across the back and a lameness over the kidneys. Colds always settled there and aggravated the pain and lameness. At last my back grew weaker and any heavy lifting or too much standing or sitting gave me additional pain. It the mornings my back bothered me greatly until I moved about and took some exercise, when it became better to a certain extent. I doctored and used different kinds of so-called kidney cures, but it was like throwing money away. Seeing Doan's Kidney Pills highly recommended in our paper, and being in bad shape at the time, I got a box from L. W. Randolph's drug store. Before taking half of it my condition was greatly improved, and continuing their use, all the pain left me. I consider Doan's Kidney Pills a grand medicine for kidney trouble and it gives me pleasure to recommend them whenever an opportunity presents itself."

MAY PARDON DREYFUS.

Prisoner's Brother is Called to Paris For an Important Conference.

WRONG MAY BE RIGHTED

The Family Advised by High Official Not to Appeal to the Court of Cassation.

Reported in Paris That Captain Dreyfus Will be Pardoned on Jan. 1st, 1900—Premier Waldeck Rousseau Tells Friends of the Prisoner What is Best to Do.

Paris, Sept. 12.—Mathieu Dreyfus brother of Captain Alfred Dreyfus, was called to Paris by Joseph Reinach, the journalist, for the purpose of holding an interview with Premier Waldeck-Rosseau, who is reported as advising the family not to appeal to the Court of Cassation, as the prisoner will be pardoned on Jan. 1.

The proceedings in Dreyfus's appeal for a military court of revision are: The appeal is first filed with the Rennes Tribunal. Then it goes to the Seine Tribunal. From there it is sent to the Military Governor of Paris who summons the Court. The Court then appoints a reporter to read over the proceedings. These formalities will occupy so much time that it is believed the appeal will not be heard for a month.

An article in the Figaro, signed "An Academician," says: "Who will ever be persuaded that two officers of the French army could have voted to acquit a traitor if the guilt of the accused had been proven? The five others, moreover, showed how deeply their minds were perturbed and how their consciences wavered."

Joseph Reinach, in the Siecle, says it is the Government's duty to act without delay, and redeem the honor of France. The means are not lacking; the Minister of Justice can lay before the Court of Cassation the verdict which was delivered in violation of its formal ruling, or the Government can take proceedings against the real guilty parties and false witnesses. Either of these courses would lead to further revision. If Dreyfus is pardoned, the step will be accepted as a transitional measure and as being a preface to his formal rehabilitaton, which is the noble duty of the nation.

M. Jaure, the Socialist leader, says in the Petite Republique that the decision at Rennes will have more effect than any demonstrations could in proving Dreyfus's innocence. The opposition to the verdict of two officers will awaken the slumbering conscienees of the army.

The Gaulois hopes the Dreyfusards will submit to the verdict. It says: "Let them keep quiet and we will forget."

The Petit Journal does not expect the council of Revision to give a decision for another month.

M. Pressense, in an article in L'Aurore, calls attention to the fact that the judges forgot to mention the period during which Dreyfus will be under police supervision and the conditions he will have to observe in regard to his place of residence after he has served his sentence. M. Pressense considers this omission sufficient to annul the verdict.

France Fears Boycott.

Paris, Sept. 12.—Public opinion is being sobered by reading the comments of the world at large and by the prospect, however remote, that the exposition will be boycotted, which would mean a loss of millions to the country.

Talk of arresting General Mercier is revived, but President Loubet is said to be against such an extreme course, and is inclined to go as far as pardonnig Dreyfus.

Court Recommends Mercy.

Renens, Sept. 12.—The Judges of the Dreyfus court-martial, by mutual agreement, have expressed to the President of the Republic, through Gen. Lucas, the Commander of the Army Corps at Rennes, their sincere desire that Dreyfus would not be submitted to a fresh degradation. The court martial signed the formal recommendation for mercy.

To Open a Refuge in Alaska.

San Francisco, Cal., Sept. 12.—A well-equipped refuge is to be opened in Anvil City, Alaska, on Thanksgiving Day. It is to be called the St. Bernard's League Station and is to be the largest and finest structure of Sitka. There are to be three departments in the station, a hospital, a free library and a church. The project is under the supervision of the Rev. Loyal L. E. Worth, the superintendent of the Congregational home missionary work in Alaska.

Government to Have New Transport

San Francisco, Cal., Sept. 12.—The steamship Rio de Janeiro, which has just arrived from China, will pass into the hands of the government for the transportation of troops as soon as her cargo has been discharged. The date of her sailing for Manila has been fixed for Sept. 25.

Brought Lots of Klondike Gold.

Seattle, Wash., Sept. 12.—A consignment of $1,000,000 worth of Klondike gold for the United States assay office here arrived on the steamship Cleveland from St. Michael. The consignors were the Canadian Bank of Commerce, $600,000, and the Bank of British North America, $500,000.

Says Four Were Killed.

Louisville, Ky., Sept. 12.—The evening Post has an unconfirmed report from Manchester, Ky., that four feudists were killed in a battle on Red Bird Creek, Clay County.

Big Tobacco Barn Burned.

Hopkinsville, Ky., Sept. 12.—The large tobacco barn of Edgar Radford, situated near Howell, was destroyed by fire, together with contents, consisting in part of 15 acres of fine tobacco.

FOUR HUNDRED ON STRIKE

Italians Want an Advance of Twenty-Five Cents a Day.

Elizabeth, N. J., Sept. 12.—About four hundred Italians employed in the construction of the Westfield and Elizabeth trolley road on its new extension between Roselle and Cranford, have struck for an advance in their pay from $1.25 to $1.50 a day. They appealed to the contractor, Mr. Conover in charge of the work, and were told that the advance would not be granted Two hundred men at the Roselle end have quit work. The road is controlled by the Riker syndicate.

John Sterling, a foreman on the work, and a brother-in-law of the contractor, while handling a revolver shot himself in the hand with it. He was taken to the hospital at Cranford, and the rumor gained ground that he had been shot by the Italians. The Italians are spending their money for drink and the police anticipate trouble before the matter is finally adjusted. The houses near the scene of the strike have been barricaded and the male portion of the population is armed.

Says Railroads Are Responsible.

Washington, Sept. 12.—State Senator Lewis Emery, Jr., of Pennsylvania, was before the industrial commission here. He spoke in opposition to the Standard Oil Company. He said that the railroads were responsible for the great growth of the Standard Oil Company, and that the contract made between the South Improvement Company and the railroads in 1872 was practically in effect to-day. Under this arrangement there had been discriminations on the part of the roads in favor of the Standard Company up to the present day.

Dunkard Preacher Murdered.

Anderson, Ind., Sept. 12.—Rev. James Aldridge, aged 65, a wealthy farmer residing just east of Anderson, was found dead in a meadow. His neck was broken and there was a gash in his head. He was struck down with a corn knife. His wife fell from a porch and broke her leg and her husband started to get aid. He did not return and she managed to call neighbors and they found him. The case is in the hands of officers. No motive for the murder can be imagined. Aldridge was a prominent Dunkard preacher.

Held on False Pretence Charge.

Wheeling, W. Va., Sept. 12.—C. J. Justin, of New York, an insurance agent, is held in the county jail here on a novel proceeding. Justin is charged by Dr. J. W. Storer, a dentist, with securing $90 worth of gold, which the doctor placed in Justin's mouth, by false pretence. The insurance man, when arrested, was charged with committing a misdemeanor. When he attempted to secure a habeas corpus, on the ground that he was too poor to pay the debt, he was charged with obtaining goods by false pretences.

Extra Session in Pennsylvania.

Harrisburg, Sept. 12.—The rumor that there will be an extra session of the Legislature after the November election has grown into an almost settled conviction here, where there have been some significant moves recently. This idea has been strengthened by the issuance of Lieut.-Gov. Gobin's writ for a special election to fill the vacancy in the Beaver-Washington Senatorial district, caused by the death of Col. A. L. Hawkins of the 10th Pennsylvania regiment. The election will be held on the date of the general election in November.

Shafter's Aids Promoted.

San Francisco, Sept. 12.—Two of the aides of Gen. Shafter—Capt. Robert H. Noble and Capt. Arthur C. Ducat—have been promoted, the first to rank as major and assistant adjutant of volunteers, and the second to rank as lieutenant colonel and assigned to duty with the Forty-ninth Volunteer Infantry, now in St. Louis. Capt. Ducat led the attack on San Juan Hill in the Cuban campaign, and received a severe wound which, it was supposed at the time, was fatal.

Seriously Injured By Trolley Car.

Findlay, Ohio, Sept. 12.—As Curt Elsea, a farmer, with his wife and two children were driving to the fair his horses became frightened and jumped directly in front of a rapidly moving trolley car. The buggy was knocked to splinters, Mrs. Elsea was badly injured internally, one of the children had his head crushed and Mr. Elsea broke his arm. The car was wrecked.

Salvation Army Girls Set Free.

Philadelphia, Sept. 12.—Judge McCarthy in the criminal court here quashed the indictments against Ida Koubeck and Adela Robins, two Salvation Army girls who were charged with misdemeanor in beating a bass drum on the streets. This for the time ends the effort of the police to prevent the Salvation Army members from parading.

Killed During a Fire.

Chicago, Sept. 12.—Warren L. Aborn, a well-known horseman, was suffocated during a fire in a stable at 13 Gross Terrace, in which five valuable horses also perished. The origin of the fire is a mystery, and the police are endeavoring to find some clew as to what started the flames.

May Save the Morgan City.

Kobe, Japan, Sept. 12.—The captain of the United States transport Morgan City, which was wrecked Sept. 1 by striking a reef eight miles from Ononuchi, says there are good prospects of saving the vessel and that divers have been engaged for the purpose of trying to float her.

Cramp's Men Not on Strike.

Philadelphia, Sept. 12.—The strike at the Cramp Ship and Engine Building Company's shipyard did not materialize. When work was resumed yesterday out of a total of 6,000 men employed not more than fifty absented themselves.

He Was Held Guiltless.

Leitchfield, Ky., Sept. 12.—The jury returned a verdict of not guilty in the case of Richard Meredith, charged with killing Tom Lile in 1897.

The following story of the well-known teller in the Fourth Street National Bank of Philadelphia argues well for Ripans Tabules:

"My position as paying teller," says he, "is a very arduous one (this being one of the largest banks in the Union). I must have accuracy and steadiness of both hand and brain. On Fridays and Saturdays especially, when checks are pouring in in almost unlimited numbers, I must be both quick and accurate. A clear brain is requisite. Many a Friday, after standing so long, counting out money all the time, I have gone home with a head-splitting pain and a dizziness that would unfit me for any more work, but I find that a Ripans Tabule taken after supper relieves me quickly, and after a refreshing sleep I get up the next day as strong as ever and ready for the duty that is before me. Although I have been a paying teller for over ten years I have made but few mistakes, and I attribute my habitual accuracy to the occasional use of Ripans Tabules. They are superb for the severest sort of headaches and I prize them above all nerve tonics. I heartily recommend Ripans Tabules to all suffering from headaches, nervous prostration and dizziness. A single one brings immediate benefit and ease."

A new style packet containing TEN RIPANS TABULES in a paper carton (without glass) is now for sale at some drug stores FOR FIVE CENTS. This low-priced sort is intended for the poor and the economical. One dozen of the five-cent cartons (TEN tabules) can be had by mail by sending forty-eight cents to the RIPANS CHEMICAL COMPANY, No. 10 Spruce Street, New York—or a single carton (TEN TABULES) will be sent for five cents.

THE EIGHT HOUR LAW.

Col. Partridge Does Not Think It Applies to Lock Tenders.

Albany, N. Y., Sept. 12.—Regarding the operation of the eight-hour law in connection with the work of lock tending on the state canals, Col. Partridge Superintendent of Public Works, said: "When the law first became operative I had some doubts as to its applying to all lock tenders. I refer to those lock tenders who are stationed where their work is not continuous, where they do not actually labor more than two or three hours of the twelve they are on duty, and where, in extreme cases, they do not actually see a boat during the twelve hours they are at work. To change from twelve to eight hour shifts would increase by 50 per cent the cost of lock tending, and the Legislature made no provision for meeting this added expenditure.

"To increase the running expenses by employing additional help sufficient to man all locks with eight hour tricks would mean a deficit, and in creating it I would be but violating another law passed at the last session of the Legislature, which forbids any official to create an obligation against the state in advance of an appropriation to meet such obligation. Only three other courses lay open to me. One was to increase the force of lock tenders and decrease the force of men necessary to a proper care and maintenance of the canals, in which case a disastrous break might occur at any time, and I would be in the position of having serious trouble on my hands and no organized force with which to meet it.

"I do not believe any dissatisfaction exists among the employes of the department because of the safe and conservative course I have adopted in this matter."

Another Fatal Wreck on the Erie

Corry, Pa., Sept. 12.—The second fatal wreck in less than a week has occurred on this division of the Erie Railroad. Charles Horn, the fireman, was killed. An extra freight bound west left half the train at Randolph, the engine taking the first half to Kennedy. In some way a car broke loose and remained standing on the main track, half way between the stations. The engine feturing light for the other part ran into the car with a fearful crash. Fireman Horn was caught between the tender and boiler and badly crushed. The engineer escaped with severe bruises.

Want Boycott on France.

Chicago, Ill., Sept. 12.—Methodists of this city have taken stringent means to show their disapproval of the verdict in the Dreyfus case. At a meeting yesterday afternoon they adopted a resolution opposing an appropriation for the Lafayette statue in the Paris Exposition of 1900. The leading ministers here declare they will press this matter before the next Congress.

Can Have Prize Fights in Colorado.

Denver, Col., Sept. 12.—Prize fights are no longer barred in this state and all kinds of inducements may be held out to stars in the fistic world. The courts here have finally decided that the prize fight law in unconstitutional. The sports are disappointed because the decision was not announced before the Sharkey-Fitzsimmons fight was taken by Coney Island's club.

They Raised $6,000.

Nyack, N. Y. Sept. 1.—The members of the Christian and Missionary League in Nyack are exultant, in view of the fact that at two meetings, though few in numbers, they raised $6,000 for its cause. They give due credit, however, to Rev. A. B. Simpson, head of the Alliance, whose magnetic solicitation was chiefly instrumental in effecting the fear.

Six Seamen Disabled.

St. Johns, N. F., Sept. 12.—The British steamer Garlands is here with six of her crew disabled. A huge wave swept over her off the Grand Banks several days ago and carried away her upper works. Several of the men have broken ribs and legs as a result. She is loaded with phosphate for London, and sailed from Port Royal on Aug. 31.

Walked in Front of a Train.

South Amboy, N. J., Sept. 12.—While on his way to his work on the new dock here, an employe of the Pennsylvania Road, named Symon Ksoser, thirty-eight years old, and single, stepped in front of the fast express on the Central New Jersey tracks, was struck and instantly killed.

Mayor Jones is Hopeful.

Findlay, O., Sept. 12.—Mayor Samuel Jones spoke at the fair grounds here. He spoke hopefully of his canvas for Governor, and said: "We will win, even though we lose, for we will be joined by many new soldiers to assist in the fight that is constantly going on against political slavery."

Rain Prevented the Fight.

New York, Sept. 12.—The prize fight that was to have taken place at Tuckahoe, on Monday, between "Pedlar" Palmer, of England, and Terry McGovern, of Brooklyn, was postponed on account of rain. The fight will come off on the first clear day—that is when ing pictures of the mill.

Unknown Man Cut in Two.

Tarrytown, N. Y., Sept. 12.—An unidentified man who was believed to have been under the influence of liquor, was killed by a train on the Putnam Division of the New York Central at Pocantico Hills. The body was cut in two. Nothing was found in the clothing to lead to the man's identification.

Farmer Becomes a Count.

St. Louis, Sept. 12.—Farmer Albert Aal is now a count by the death of his grandfather in Portugol, whose sole heir he is. A large fortune goes with the title. He will be known as Count Lara. Aal is prosperous and prominent.

Electric Light Company Assigns.

English, Ind., Sept. 12.—The English Electric Light and Manufacturing company, of English, has made an assignment to W. L. Tuckett and J. R. Duffin, trustees. Liabilities, $50,000; assets, about $30,000.

HE BLAMES CAPITALISTS

Trouble in Transvaal is Laid at the Door of Foreign Gold Grabbers.

BOERS WILL NOT YIELD

General Peit Joubert Commandant-General of the Boers Forces Declares Himself.

He Claims That England is Being Used as a Cat's Paw By Those Attracted to South Africa By Its Gold—Praying For Peace but Will Fight if Necessary.

Chicago, Sept 12.—A copyrighted despatch from Pretoria, Transvaal, to the Record quotes Gen. Piet Joubert, Commandant-General of the Boer forces, as follows:

"The swarms of capitalists and adventurers who have been attracted to the Transvaal by its gold are not content with trying by their cunning to swindle the Boers, but they would control the country absolutely.

"For this purpose England is used as a cat's-paw by these men. What could better serve their end than loudly to complain that the Boers are oppressing the Outlanders?

"Then the whole world will cry, 'Shame upon the Transvaal!'

"Next come Joseph Chamberlain's screams for the maintenance of suzerainty, and on top of that his quarrel with the Transvaal's franchise regulations. This reaches the ears of the whole world, and the Transvaal, deserted by all the civilized or 'great' powers, is unable to get either impartial investigation or arbitration.

"Thus, unaided by any, the Republic must bow the knee to Chamberlain, must concede his demands and lose its independence or else set all South Africa ablaze.

"This is our true position. We hope and pray for peace, but we shall not abandon the independence of the Republic so long as we have life, let the cost be what it may."

Transvaal Issues Warning.

Johannesburg, Sept. 12.—The officials of the Netherlands Railway Company have been notified to hold themselves in readiness to guard the line in the vent of war. The Italians in the Transvaal have decided to remain neutral should hostilities arise. The Transvaal Hollanders held a meeting, and adopted resolutions of sympathy with the Transvaal Government, pledging their support.

Continue to Leave Transvaal.

Cape Town, Sept. 12.—Four trains containing refugees from Johannesburg have arrived here. Four hundred refugees have also arrived at Durban.

During the past week the Relief Committee of Johannesburg assisted two thousand cases of distress reported throughout the Transvaal.

New Orleans is Quarantined.

Jackson, Miss., Sept. 12.—The State Board of Health has declared that the State of Mississippi is quarantined against New Orleans. The quarantine does not apply to freight and no fumigation of the mails is to be required. All passenger trains will carry inspectors under the supervision of the marine hospital service and will be delayed somewhat.

Will Not Join the Combine.

Westerly, R. I., Sept. 12.—C. B. Cottrell & Sons, manufacturers of printing presses, have declined to ally themselves with the proposed printing press combination. As the Westerly firm controls 90 per cent. of all the fast magazine presses made in the United States, its refusal is thought to mean the failure of the promoters' plans.

He Had Counterfeit Coins.

Greenup, Ky., Sept. 12.—Anderson E. Henderson was arrested and bound over to the United States Court on a charge of selling whisky without a license. He had a five-dollar and a ten-dollar gold counterfeit coin and several silver-dollar counterfeits on his person when arrested.

Minister Accidentally Killed.

Philadelphia, Pa., Sept. 12.—The Rev. James C. Caldwell, who was a well-known Presbyterian minister of this city, was killed instantly in a runaway accident in Germantown. Mr. Caldwell's horses shied at a trolley car and ran away, throwing him out of the carriage.

Wanted Competent Firemen.

Queenstown, Sept. 12.—The British steamship Damara, Capt. Williams, bound from Liverpool for Halifax, via St. Johns, N. F., touched at this port for the purpose of replacing incapable non-union firemen who had been shipped at Liverpool.

Rain Prevents a Famine.

Bombay, Sept. 12.—Rain has improved the crop outlook in Western India, and the fears of a famine have been removed. The weather conditions foreshadow more rain. The cotton crop has also been benefited.

Died While Preaching a Sermon.

Pierre, S. D., Sept. 12.—Rev. O. H. Sproul, Presiding Elder of the Methodist Church for the Aberdeen district, died suddenly at Northville while he was preaching. He was for years a pastor in this city.

Robbed the Recruiting Office.

Middlesboro, Ky., Sept. 12.—Forrest Pratt, who broke into the recruiting office, where he stole a pistol and some money, was fined $60 in the Police Court. Pratt claims to be from Richmond, Ky.

Barry Retires From the Ring.

Chicago, Ill., Sept. 12.—"Jimmy" Barry, who for several years was champion bantam weight pugilist of the world, has retired from the prize ring.

Comparative Tax Rates.

Councilman Barrows, chairman of the street committee, and leader of the majority in the common council, has had the following prepared and presented to The Daily Press as tending to show Plainfield's tax rate in comparison with other New Jersey towns in this vicinity:

"Referring to Plainfield's tax rate, $2.56, it is of interest to note those of our neighbors. From the "State Comptroller's Report" for 1898 we find Westfield, $2.25; Cranford, 2.48; Summit, 2.92; Rahway, 2.81; Elizabeth, 2.86; New Providence, 2.48.

"These comprise the principal cities and towns of Union County, and are on the same basis of assessment, excepting perhaps Elizabeth, which is slightly lower.

"In seeing how the money is spent, it is interesting to note that while Plainfield spent for police $14,500 and fire $16,183, (less $4,000 for hydrants) to fully protect her citizens, Summit spent for police $4,000; fire $1,000. Westfield, police, nothing; fire $672.72. Cranford, police, $623; fire, 465. Rahway, police, $3,600; fire, $750. New Providence, police, nothing; fire, nothing.

"In neighboring cities we fine Montclair, $3.08; Bloomfield, 3.03; Passaic, 2.78; New Brunswick, 2.60.

"Those who know the character and condition of municipal life in these cities will certify to the fact that Plainfield gets more for her money than any of the above."

What would be the sense of having a Dewey celebration without Dewey, and how many people will be able to see the hero of Manila if he is to remain on the reviewing stand? asks the Newark News, and then adds: The place for Dewey is at the head of the parade in an open carriage, so that he may be seen and cheered by every man, woman and child along the entire route. Dewey is the central figure of the whole affair. It is to do him honor that millions of people, coming from every part of the United States, will congregate in New York September 29th, and how can they do it if they don't get an opportunity to see him? The parade and the decorations and all the rest of the programme are only incidentals, the main object is to give the victorious Admiral a greeting which will show in a limited way the esteem in which he is held in the hearts of his countrymen. This cannot be done if he is put on a reviewing stand somewhere. The parade without Dewey in it will be ten times worse than "Hamlet" with the Prince left out.

CLOSING SCENES AT DREYFUS TRIAL.

No similar event has in modern times attracted the attention that the whole world has given to the trial of Captain Alfred Dreyfus, at Rennes, France. Even France, accustomed to frequent disturbances, crises and revolutions, has been unusually stirred up over the affair. The eyes of all Frenchmen have been turned towards Rennes for several weeks. In the trial chamber at the Lycee the tension has been continually strained to near the breaking point. The scene pictured is of the closing days of the trial. It shows the military judges at the left, Dreyfus and his guard near the center, with the lawyers for the defense, Labori speaking, behind the accused.

One of the most important changes in New Jersey journalism in some time is just announced in the sale of the Paterson Guardian and the retirement of its veteran editor, Carleton M. Herrick, from active newspaper work. The Guardian is eighty-three years old, and for years has been one of the chief exponents of Democracy in New Jersey, being particularly friendly to Bryan since his candidacy for the Presidency three years ago. In that campaign Mr. Herrick was a candidate for Presidential elector on the Silver ticket. The paper has been purchased by a syndicate of capitalists, and Albert O. Stevens, for a number of years editor of Bradstreet's, will be the new editor. The Guardian has always been an evening paper, but the new owners will also issue a morning edition as soon as arrangements can be perfected.

In the Presidential campaign of 1890 there were six party conventions, two Democratic, at Chicago and Indianapolis; two Prohibitionist at Pittsburgh; the Republican convention at St. Louis and the Populist convention at the same city. Next year the Prohibitionists will hold only one convention, the Democrats will hold one only, and the Republicans one as in 1896—three conventions instead of six. The Populists have already held, at Cincinnati, a national convention for 1900, having put in nomination Wharton Barker, of Pennsylvania, for President, and Ignatius Donnelly, of Minnesota, for vice-president.

Peace has been declared between Colonel Samuel D. Dickinson and Colonel John J. Toffey, and the latter has been elected to fill a vacancy in the Hudson County Republican Committee. The two leaders became estranged while Colonel Toffey was Sheriff, and were bitter enemies. Recently they were brought together and the hatchet was buried.

WHAT THE SHEARS FIND

Editorial Comment From Other Papers of Interest in Plainfield.

Senator Kean's prompt and businesslike response to the Board of Chosen Freeholders, when asked to pay the expenses thus far incurred in the Westfield avenue boulevard improvement, is an earnest of the good faith with which he undertook that splendid project. The county has been unable to make good the franchise from Elizabeth to Plainfield along this avenue, because some of the property owners could not be induced to permit the changes necessary to widening the avenue. Nevertheless Mr. Kean is willing to go as far as he can with his trolley road, and to pay the expenses thus far incurred by the Board. Now that the most magnificent and beneficial public project that has ever been planned for Union county seems to be indefinitely delayed if not actually defeated, it is said that many of the obstructive property owners are greatly disappointed. What some of them wanted was more money for their property and not the ultimate abandonment of the widening plan. There were some others who affected to believe that Senator Kean's offer was a kind of ruse, but these can now find abundant evidence that the offer of $250,000 was not only liberal but was made in good faith.—Elizabeth Journal.

PASSING COMMENT.

Things that Are Not Exactly News but Just as Interesting.

This notice was found in the office of a well-known Justice of the Peace:

LOVERS TAKE NOTICE:—On and after this date I will present an elegant chromo, a parlor lamp or a glass water-set to all bridal couples married by me. All marrying done in the most artistic way, either in private or public. Runaway couples married at any hour of the day or night, and pursuers thrown off the scent. Reduced rates to those I have married before. A red lantern hangs in front of my door at night. No dog kept. Night bell directly under the lantern.

PARTICULAR MENTION.

Mr and Mrs. John Groendyke, of West Front street, have returned after a vacation spent at Atlantic City.

Dr. Lowrie, of Park avenue, has been called to Washington, to the bedside of his mother, who is quite ill.

Mr. and Mrs. Cornelius Powlison, of Michigan, who have been visiting Mr. and Mrs. J. S. Powlison, of Fairview avenue, returned home yesterday.

Jesse L. Hurlbut, Jr., of New York, formerly of this city, who has been ill this summer at Chautauqua with typhoid fever, has fully recovered his health.

Night Operator Benson, of the Western Union office at the North Avenue station, is now filling Manager Schermerhorn's place as day man while the latter is off on a vacation.

David W. Rogers, of West Second street, who is spending a short time in Flemington for his health, is much better. Last Sunday he was visited by his son, George Rogers, and family, of this city.

The Best Shooting.

The shooting in Iowa, Minnesota and South Dakota this year promises to be very good as the rainfall in all these states was abundant. The best localities for chicken and duck shooting are on and tributary to the lines of the Chicago, Milwaukee and St. Paul Railway. A copy of a recent publication issued by the passenger department of that road can be had on application to W. S. Howell, General Eastern Passenger Agent, 381 Broadway, New York, and enclosing three cents in stamps for postage. 9 11 2

—Chas. H. Hand is remodeling his store, corner of Watchung avenue and Fourth street, for J. M. Smalley, who will soon open a meat market at that place.

—The season for peaches and pears is nearly ended. Neuman Brothers advise their patrons to purchase without delay.

—Commencing with next Sunday the Sunday-school of the First Baptist church will meet in the afternoon instead of the morning as during the summer months.

DRINK GRAIN-O

after you have concluded that you ought not to drink coffee. It is not a medicine but doctors order it, because it is healthful, invigorating and appetizing. It is made from pure grains and has that rich seal brown color and tastes like the finest grades of coffee and costs about ¼ as much. Children like it and thrive on it because it is a genuine food drink containing nothing but nourishment. Ask your grocer for Grain-O, the new food drink. 15 and 25c.

AMERICAN STEAM LAUNDRY,

122 East Front Street.

By our new process of ironing we are enabled to give you a perfect domestic finish, and to launder turn down collars without breaking them. Call and see how we do it; you are welcome to inspect our plant at all times; no mystery about our work.

Hand work on all shirt waists, cost a little more, but perfect satisfaction guaranteed.

SOMETHING ABOUT CARPETS.

The carpet season is here again, and as usual we are ready for it with what we claim is not only the largest, but the most carefully selected stock ever offered the people of this community. A marked reaction has taken place in the carpet business, viz: An increased demand for better grades. People have made the discovery that we made years ago, that good carpets are always cheapest. Our fall stock has been selected with this in view. We are showing a higher grade of carpets than ever before in the history of our business, and the readiness with which our customers are responding to same is most gratifying. We select the best patterns from the most reliable makers only and satisfaction is guaranteed in every particular.

NEWS OF THE SUBURBS.

THINGS THAT INTEREST SCOTCH PLAINS AND DUNELLEN.

Brief and Terse Observations Gathered by Alert Press Reporters to be Perused at the Supper Table at Your Leisure

DUNELLEN.

(Special Correspondence of The Daily Press.)

Dunellen, Sept. 12—The need of a waiting room at the terminus of the Plainfield street railroad is apparent to all who patronize the road. Harry Milligan, the proprietor of AvocaVilla, which was destroyed by fire some weeks ago, told a Daily Press reporter that he intended to rebuild the place. If that is Mr. Milligan's intentions the patrons of the trolley wish he would make haste. With the approach of the fall rains the place where the cars meet is by no means a pleasant place to have to wait for a car. Some shelter or protection from the elements is needed at once. If Mr. Milligan does not rebuild his cosy villa, the trolley companies should unite in building a small station. It would be a great accommodation to the public.

Rev. W. C. Stinson, of Chillicothe, O., a former pastor of the Presbyterian church of this place, accompanied by his family, is visiting friends in the borough and New Market. At present they are the guests of Mr. and Mrs. A. F. Sampson, on the New Market road.

Mrs. Nancy Thomas and family, who have been living at their cottage at Asbury Park during the summer, will return to the borough today and take up their residence at their old home.

Mr. and Mrs. Barron and family, who have been occupying the home of Mrs. Nancy Thomas for several months, will move back to New York today.

Mr. and Mrs. William H. Hamilton very pleasantly entertained the Crokinole Club at their home on Front street last Friday evening.

William VanMiddlesworth, an engineer on the Pennsylvania Railroad, is to move his family to Newark about the 1st of October.

Mr. and Mrs. William E. Terry were the guests Saturday and Sunday of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Archer, of New Rochelle.

Walter Clawson took a run to Pluckamin on his wheel Sunday and paid a visit to his sister, Mrs. George Wiegand.

The storm of yesterday played havoc with the trolley line. For nearly two hours the cars were at a standstill.

Mrs. Wilson Fredericks spent Saturday with her sister, Mrs. Clarence Oakley, at New Brunswick.

Mr. and Mrs. Augustus Runyon, of Plainfield, were guests Sunday of Mr. and Mrs. John Runyon.

Mrs. James McElvare has returned from a pleasant visit with her sister at Brooklyn.

John Fenner spent Sunday with his parents at Pluckamin.

PLAINS AND FANWOOD.

(Special Correspondence of The Press.)

Scotch Plains, Sept. 12.—The Exempt Firemen's Association met in their rooms last evening and elected the following officers for the ensuing year: President, John Robison; vice-president, T. J. Nichol; secretary, George Kyte; treasurer, Wm. H. Lake. A committee of one, George R. Nicholl, the oldest member of the association, was appointed to frame and present to the family of the late John G. McNair, a resolution of condolence from the society of which the deceased had been a member for a number of years.

Mr. and Mrs. S. B. Parker, workers in the North Baptist church of New York City have been the guests of Rev. and Mrs. G. M. Shott.

Prof. Maguire's trained horses are booked for a matinee and evening performance in Excelsior Hall Saturday of this week.

Miss Lena Bruchman led a very interesting meeting of the Epworth League in the Methodist church Sunday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. George E. Hall, and family, of Fanwood, have returned from a month's stay at Spring Lake, N. J.

Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Taynor have been entertaining Mr. Taynor's parents from Plainfield for a few days.

Mr. and Mrs. George Schick entertained a large party of New Brunswick friends at their home Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Warren, of Fanwood, are rejoicing over the arrival of a young daughter.

Wm. Gerr, who has been enjoying a two weeks' vacation with his sister in Delaware, has returned.

Miss Sadie Reger has returned from a pleasant visit with her sister in Westfield.

Irving Quereau, of New York, has been spending a few days with friends in town.

WESTFIELD.

(Special Correspondence to The Daily Press.)

Westfield, Sept. 12—R. M. Stickle, local editor of the Union County Standard, while cleaning his bicycle Sunday morning met with an accident which, although very painful, is not dangerous. He got the first finger of the left hand caught between the chain and sprocket wheel and the end of i was almost torn off. Dr. Sherman Cooper sewed the end back in place and now Mr. Stickle is able to be at his desk, but a little lonesided in his work.

Drying preparations simply develop dry catarrh; they dry up the secretions which adhere to the membrane and decompose, causing a far more serious trouble than the ordinary form of catarrh. Avoid all drying inhalants and use that which cleanses, soothes and heals. Ely's Cream Balm is such a remedy and will cure catarrh or cold in the head easily and pleasantly. All druggists sell it at 50 cents or it will be mailed by Ely Brother, 56 Warren St., N. Y.

Leipzig. Geheimer Hofrath Dr. Kehl, Professor der orientalischen Sprachen an der hiesigen Universität, trat nach über 25jähriger Thätigkeit als ordentlicher Professor am 1. September in den Ruhestand. Kehl hat namhafte Arbeiten über arabische Literatur, sowie über arabische und muhammedanische Religionsgeschichte veröffentlicht.—Auf dem Sportplatz fanden zum ersten Mal deutsch-nationale Wettkämpfe (athletische Spiele) zum Besten der Errichtung des Völkerschlacht-Denkmals statt. Die Wettkämpfe bestanden in Hundertmeterlaufen, Hochsprung, Fünfhundertmeterlaufen, Steinstoßen, Weitsprung, Dreitausendmeterlaufen, Schleuderball, Tauziehen, Vorgabelaufen und Stafettenlaufen.

Meißen. Ein origineller Strike ist in einem nahen Dorfe ausgebrochen. Auf einem dortigen Gute waren sieben polnische Mädchen bedienstet. Die eine hatte auf einem Nachbardorfe ihren Geliebten, welcher ihr des Abends Besuche machte. Trotz der angeschlagenen Warnung: „Unbefugten ist der Zutritt verboten," betrat der liebende Pole jederzeit das Gehöft. Als die Geduld des Besitzers zu Ende war, wies er dem Eindringling energisch die Thür. Am anderen Tage jedoch weigerten sich sämmtliche Polinnen, die Arbeit aufzunehmen und erklärten einstimmig: „Wenn er nicht mehr herein darf, gehen wir fort."

Strehlau. Das Erbbegräbniß der Familie v. Egidy in Kreinitz ist erbrochen worden. Einige Särge sind gewaltsam eröffnet und nach Kostbarkeiten durchsucht worden.

Zwickau. Ueber Zwickau entlud sich jüngst ein überaus schweres Gewitter, das durch Blitzstrahl mannigfachen Schaden verursachte. Mehr als 300 Fernsprechleitungen wurden zerstört, 15 Straßenbahnwagen, deren Motore durch Blitzschlag unbrauchbar geworden waren, mußten für kurze Zeit außer Verkehr gestellt werden. In Häuser der Stadt schlug der Blitz 16 Mal ein, ohne jedoch zu zünden. Auch die Umgebung Zwickaus wurde von diesem Gewitter theilweise hart betroffen.

Thüringische Staaten.

Kahla. Der Direktor Jecke und der Kassirer Hoffmann vom hiesigen Spar- und Vorschußverein sind unter Mitnahme von 180,000 Mark dem Verein gehörigen Geldern verschwunden. Die Passiven des Vereins betragen 197,000 Mark, welche die 317 Mitglieder zu decken haben.

Ruhla. Jüngsthin hielt der Thüringerwald-Verein hier seine jährliche Generalversammlung ab. An 73 Zweigvereine waren vertreten. Der genehmigte Kassenbericht schloß mit 12,216 Mark Einnahme und 9975 Mark Ausgabe ab. Für Herstellung eines neuen Plakats von Thüringen wurden 4800 Mark bewilligt. Als Ort für die nächstjährige Versammlung wurde Sonneberg bestimmt.

Weimar. Bezüglich der Einleitung eines Disziplinarverfahrens gegen mittelbare Staatsbeamte, die direkt oder indirekt die Sozialdemokratie (zum Beispiel bei Wahlen) unterstützen, hat die weimarische Regierung sich in Gegensatz zu dem Berliner Oberverwaltungsgericht gestellt, indem sie jedes Vorgehen ablehnte.

Hamburg. Der Frachtdampferdienst der Hamburg-Amerika-Linie und des Norddeutschen Lloyd nach Ostasien wird vom Oktober d. J. ab dahin erweitert, daß neben den 14tägigen Expeditionen ab Hamburg und den vierwöchigen Expeditionen ab Bremen die Expeditionen der Frachtdampfer alle vier Wochen von Rotterdam wie von Antwerpen stattfinden.—Die verstorbene Frau Harriet Goddeffroy, geb. Freiin v. Schröder, hat verschiedenen Wohlthätigkeitsanstalten 15,000 Mark testamentarisch hinterlassen.

Bremen. Hier ist durch den gemeinnützigen Verein für öffentliche Bäder ein Volksbad eröffnet worden, zu dessen etwa 250,000 Mark betragenden Kosten eine reiche Dame 150,000 Mark beigesteuert hatte.—Der Maler Ludwig Hohrmann aus Opperode wurde wegen Diebstahls eines Fahrrades vom Bremer Landgericht zu drei Jahren Zuchthaus und fünf Jahren Ehrverlust verurtheilt.

Lübeck. Ein gräßlicher Unglücksfall ereignete sich auf dem hiesigen Bahnhofe. Der Kofferträger Holst, der das Herannahen eines Zuges nicht gehört hatte, wurde von der Maschine erfaßt und unter die Räder des Zuges geworfen. Gräßlich verstümmelt wurde er als Leiche aufgehoben.

WOMAN'S SPHERE IN THE ORIENT

Eliza Archard Conner Finds Her Dusky Sisters Breaking Their Ancient Bonds.

The last place in which to look for progress on the question of feminine rights is in the orient, yet I found in the island of Ceylon a case of new woman that is in advance of anything we have in the same line in the western world.

In brief, Colombo, the capital and main seaport of Ceylon, has a woman for one of the medical inspectors of the port. Strange to say, too, this very innovation is the direct outcropping and result of the fogyish old woman notions of the orient.

MISS SCHOKMANN.
[Medical inspector of the port of Colombo, Ceylon.]

One of these inconvenient ancient notions is that in no case must a woman see or come in contact with any men except those of her own family. The idea of a man doctor attending a woman in illness is as abhorrent to the oriental mind as pork to a Mohammedan. In consequence poor little brown and yellow women suffer untold agonies because there are no more than two or three educated native women physicians in any country in Asia.

For this reason missionaries are hurrying to their aid with all possible dispatch lady medical graduates from England and America. Such women doctors are called medical missionaries, and if ever the new woman had a sphere cut out and waiting for her it is in Asia.

Noninfected Asiatic ports maintain a strict quarantine against cities in which the bubonic plague is known to exist. This involves a medical inspection of passengers arriving on ships from infected ports. Colombo as a British city with a clean bill of health rigidly enforces quarantine regulations.

Many passengers from plague stricken ports are native women. Whether these be steerage or first cabin travelers, to have them inspected by a masculine doctor would subvert social institutions, destroy the foundations of religion and, worst of all, might start a revolution against the British government.

The assistant port surgeon who inspects and passes women travelers at Colombo is Miss Schokmann. Great Britain provides liberally for education in the oriental colonies. At Colombo there is a government medical school open to both sexes. Its system of instruction is thorough.

To become a medical man or woman full fledged the student must take a six years' course of study. A four years' course entitles the undergraduate to practice as a medical assistant. He may not put out a shingle on his own account, but he may associate himself with a regularly graduated physician and cure or kill all the patients he can get. There is also connected with the institution a course in pharmacy.

It is to the credit of the native Indian and Cingalese women that they are bursting the iron bonds of oriental tradition and are bravely beginning to qualify themselves for physicians, druggists or nurses. Girls of half native and half European blood take advantage of opportunities for enlightenment oftener than the downtrodden native women.

A broad division of the inhabitants of Ceylon puts them into three classes as to race—whites, burghers and natives. The burghers are the mixed blood descendants of the Dutch, who held the island till they were made to give it up to the British in 1796. The burghers naturally constitute a solid and intelligent portion of the people of this fearfully mixed up island. Burgher girls are foremost among those who go in for industrial and professional training, and they are eminently successful in what they undertake. Their ancestral Dutch common sense and steadiness are notable.

Of burgher blood is Miss Schokmann, assistant medical inspector at Colombo. Her sturdy Dutch father, himself a medical man, is proud of his girl, and he has reason to be. It is her duty to board all ships from plague infected ports and examine the women passengers, white, black, yellow and brown, and, if the investigation is satisfactory, give them a permit to go ashore. Until she does this no women can leave the ship. She reports daily to her superior officer, the surgeon of the port.

When a ship from an infected city arrives in the harbor, Miss Schokmann springs into a rowboat and is propelled swiftly alongside by the oarsmen specially provided for her and other inspectors. The boatmen are neatly uniformed, and the little woman doctor is rowed out in state.

There is no babyish pretense of timidity as she springs from the bobbing boat and up the steps on board the ship. Long practice, natural courage and active muscles enable her to skip up a steamer's side like a man of the sea.

I had the pleasure of spending some hours with this thoroughly interesting young daughter of the orient. I could not help noting the respect and esteem in which she is held in Colombo. Hats come off and pleasant greetings are heard wherever she appears.

"If you can square Miss Schokmann, you'll be all right," said a high official to whom I made grumble over the difficulties thrown in the way of passengers going ashore from our steamer at Colombo. In British slang to "square" a person means the same as the American slang to "make yourself solid with."

In her dusky hair and brunette skin the young lady shows traces of her oriental mother race. But she has the brisk, businesslike movement, the self contained, self dependent, yet thoroughly modest and ladylike manner of the best type of western woman in professional or industrial life.

And the faster her type increases in the eastern hemisphere the better it will be for this great, sad, dark orient. A true civilization depends more on the strength, intelligence and nobility of women than on anything else.

ELIZA ARCHARD CONNER.

NOTES OF WOMAN'S WORK.

Some Activities of the Members of the Unquiet Sex.

A young woman in Buffalo has made a striking success as a drill mistress. She is Mrs. H. W. Palmer, and she has organized and drilled a number of young women in military tactics. The company is connected with a fraternal insurance order and appears at entertainments in various cities where there are branches of the order. Mrs. Palmer and her uniformed corps are greatly in demand, for most of the privates are as pretty as their captain.

CAPTAIN H. W. PALMER.

Miss Claire Helena Ferguson is known as "the girl sheriff of Utah." She recently prevented the escape of "Handsome Gray," a notorious criminal.

Mrs. Artie Goodwin Cullop, leader of the society set at Vincennes, Ind., who has been appointed honorary commissioner from Indiana to the Paris exposition, is peculiarly fitted to the requirements of the position. Mrs. Cullop was the unanimous choice of the federal bench of the state and was indorsed by many men of national prominence.

During the past year Mrs. C. A. White of Chicago has demonstrated the fact that it is not only feasible but an exceedingly profitable occupation for women to import blooded canines. She is the only woman in the world who has made the experiment, her specialty being Japanese pugs, which are the fashionable fad of the hour.

The queen of Roumania has presented to the ancient church of Curtea d'Argesch, said to be the oldest in the kingdom, a beautiful manuscript copy of the evangelism used in the eastern church, written and illuminated by herself on 80 sheets of parchment.

Three Chicago women are building a house. It isn't any shammy, summer cottage, either, but a brick house with stone foundation. The women—Mrs. Franz Liebegut and her two daughters, Marie, 18, and "Gustie," 16—are doing every bit of the work, from digging and cementing the cellar to making mortar and laying the bricks of the walls. It is such a departure from the way that Chicago women usually win notoriety that the whole northwest part of the city is talking about the house that women are building.

GLOVES AND SHOES.

THIS SHOULD BE BEGUN WITH THE FIRST TRYING ON.

To Get the Greatest Amount of Use and Beauty for the Least Money—The Proper Manner in Which to Clean Gloves—To Care for Shoes.

The care of kid gloves should begin with the first trying on, for as a new glove is put on so it will fit forevermore. The inside of each glove should be powdered, using the regular glove powder.

Then work each finger on gently, but firmly, and finally the thumb. Use a button-hook to prevent wearing out the ends of the thumb and first finger. Remove gloves by turning the lower part over the fingers and pulling them off gently; this brings them wrong side out, so turn them and smooth each finger into shape before laying them away.

Put a glove on and with a clean piece of flannel dipped into the naphtha rub every portion of it; sometimes a spot has to be rubbed more than once; then rub dry with a second piece of flannel and dust the powder over it. Finally shake well, remove from the hand, upon which the glove is kept until dry in order to retain the shape. The wooden stands sold for this purpose are very convenient when one has to clean many gloves. Keeping them in a box with a sachet of powder gives a dainty odor to the kid.

A third method of cleaning possesses the charm of not needing any rubbing, as the gloves are suspended in an air-tight preserved jar, on the bottom of which rests some lump ammonia. After exposing the gloves to these fumes for four or five days the soiled spots will be missing.

Next to her gloves a dainty woman wishes to be nicely shod and to keep her shoes in order, which is an easy task if a few minutes are devoted to this twice a week. When one's pocketbook can afford it have two pairs of street shoes and one or two pairs for the house, as experience teaches that changing them every day makes them last twice as long as when worn constantly. Besides this, nothing is more restful for tender or tired feet than a fresh pair of shoes during the day.

If shoes creak bore tiny holes through the outer sole and fill with oil. When a shoe pinches in one spot lay a cloth dipped in very hot water over the place, renewing the heat as the water cools, and this will shape the leather to the foot. Keep shoes in a ventilated box or drawer or in a shoe bag. Have an old pair to wear rubbers over, as putting these necessary articles on and off removes the polish. Fasten shoes firmly across the instep and ankle and loosely over the ball of the foot.

An occasional rubbing with cold cream on a bit of flannel before using any prepared dressing will keep any shoes soft and flexible.

When shoes have been wet and covered with mud they will dry in a stiff, uncomfortable manner, unless rubbed at once with flannel, removing the water and mud; then rub with kerosene oil, using the indispensable flannel, and let them partly dry, when a second rubbing with oil is given. Allow them to dry in a warm nook, and finally apply the liquid or paste dressing that gives the desired polish. If treated in this way, wet shoes retain their first freshness and never stiffen as kid and leather do when wet. All shoes should be occasionally aired by an open window.

Mothers.

A mother is the divinity of infancy.—English.

A mother's love is the best of all.—West Africa and Hindoo.

A mother's love will draw up from the depths of the sea.—Russian.

A simple kiss from my mother made me a painter.—Benjamin West.

A mother's love is the best love, God's love the highest love.—German.

A child must ask its mother whether it my be a wise man or a fool.—W. L. Weems.

A mother's tenderness and caresses are a milk of the heart.—Eugene de Guerin.

A mother's arms are made of tenderness, and children sleep soundly in them.—Victor Hugo.

A wife; a mother; two magical words comprising the sweetest source of man's felicity.—L. Aimee Martin.

A mother's prayers, silent and gentle, can never miss the road to the throne of all bounty.—Henry Ward Beecher.

A Kindergarten Thought.

The "Kindergarten News" says that motherhood is of two kinds, physical and spiritual, and that a spiritual mother is the one who can do the most good. "In order to foster this ele-element," the writer says, "you must put yourself into absolute sympathy with the children in everything they do; the expression of gratitude for favors and the sharing of their childish joys and sorrows have been but trifles in themselves, but served as chords to touch the childish heart, and the reflection seldom fails to awaken the mother element in the teacher."

An Able Woman.

The woman who can pack a picture hat in a steamer trunk in such a manner that, at its journey's end, it does not resemble a prairie cottage after a cyclone, should be given a position where finesse and generalship are appreciated.

Caramel Girl Vindicated.

Again the intuition of woman has been vindicated. For ages the caramel maiden has been a standing butt for the humorists. Now various civilized governments have adopted chocolate for their armies and navies for its nutritive properties.

THE ORACLE.

How a Wise News and Fact Dispenser Was Squelched.

He is one of the men who love to fortify themselves with the news in the morning paper and then unload their garnered information on the first listener they can find, says the Cleveland Plain Dealer.

This is the dialogue that he started on a Broadway car on a recent morning:

"I see they have a ship captain in quarantine."

"What's he done?"

"What's who done?"

"The fellow you mentioned."

"I'm talking about the ship captain. His ship is quarantined."

"Going to scrape her?"

"No, no. What do you think I mean?"

"Some kind of a foreign drydock, ain't it?"

"No, it ain't. You have to stay in quarantine until they can find out if you have any disease aboard. If you haven't, then you can come ashore."

"Somethin' like a pest house, eh?"

"No, it isn't like a pest house."

"Well, how big is it?"

"I don't know how big it is."

"Guess you ain't never seen one, have you?"

"Seen what?"

"One of them quarry tins that he's in."

No response.

"Say, couldn't he come ashore for a drink?"

"No, he couldn't."

"Why not?"

"'Cause he's got plenty aboard."

"Got a load, eh?"

Here the conductor interfered: "Public Square—all out."

Terrible Offense.

"What made de cop arrest ye?"

"I woke him up."

It is to Laugh.

"She's going to marry a liveryman."

"Well, I presume she is sure that he has a stable income."—Philadelphia Bulletin.

"Are the Spenlows rich?"

"Rich is hardly a strong enough word for it. They own a half interest in an automobile."—Chicago Times-Herald.

"Heaven will be a very lonesome place to a good many women," said the Cornfed Philosopher, "unless they can have a general house-cleaning once in a while."

She—A man called to-day, who said he had just got back from the Klondike.

He—What did he want—to buy the place or beg some old clothes?

"Did you notice? She has a white silk suit which she wears to the baseball game."

"Yes; she told me she thought it appropriate. It was made over from an old ball dress."—Philadelphia Bulletin.

"Where are you going, my pretty maid?"

"I am going a-golfing, sir," she said.

"May I go with you, my pretty maid?"

"I have sticks in plenty, sir," she said.

"People do not indulge in transports of innocent joy as they did when the world was younger," said the Pessimist Boarder.

"You should bear in mind that there were no other transportation facilities in those days," said the Cheerful Idiot.

"I dunno whether I shall ever take my wife to another ball game," said Mr. Ruhter.

"Bother you too much?"

"Oh, no; I have finally got her to a point where she understands the game pretty well, but when the umpire robbed us of a run she just laughed and said: 'Ain't that funny! '"—Indianapolis Journal.

Equally Great.

Two chance acquaintances on a railway train discovered that they had come originally from the same neighborhood, and fell to conversing about old times, says the Youth's Companion.

"By the way," said the passenger in the skullcap, "what ever became of Harrison McPelt?"

"He's a special writer for one of the New York papers," replied the passenger in the long linen duster, "at ten dollars a column. Has a good thing of it."

"And his brother, Alfred?"

"Alfred is a fat man in a dime museum. Weighs 487 pounds. Gets a good salary."

"Well, well!" mused the other. "Both of them, then, have achieved success in life as spacefillers."

The Cheerful Idiot.

"But how can you say," asked the Cheerful Idiot, "her face is her fortune no longer, when a comparison with her early photographs will show it is much longer?"

His Handicap.

Musington (meditatively)—With all the beauties of Eden about him, I wonder Adam was not a poet?

Teller—Well, you see, Adam wasn't born.—Puck

FOOLED MANDY.

Although He Was Taken In by Bunco Steerers.

He had all the earmarks of the average ruralist and some the average ruralist has not. As he wandered into the office of Chief of Detectives Miller at the city hall an afternoon or two ago to complain of being robbed, The Saunterer, who was present, could see tears glistening in his eyes.

"Is this the place where you come when you get robbed?" he asked.

The detective on duty told him that it was.

"Well," the ruralist continued, "them bunco sharps has got $200 of my money. It was this way. I saw an advertisement in a paper of a horse for sale. The advertisement said the animal was worth $600, but that it would be sold at a sacrifice for $200. So I draws the money out of the bank and gets ready to come to Philadelphy.

"'I don't think you'd better go,' Mandy, my wife, said just as I was about to start. 'You won't be in Philadelphia two hours before the bunco steerers will have your money.'

"I came, though, just the same, and now I wisht I hadn't. How'd they get the money from me? Blamed if I know, it was done so slick. What I came here to see about is if there is any chance of getting some of it back again."

The ruralist was told that the detectives would do the best they could for him, and after leaving a description of the men he started out. Half way to the door he stopped and turned around.

"But I fooled Mandy, though," he chuckled audibly. "She said they'd get it in two hours, an' it took 'em two days. Haw-haw-haw!"

And he wandered off down the city hall corridor laughing as if the joke on his wife was a big one.—Philadelphia Inquirer.

Humorous Paragraphs.

Off His Metal—"You're a silver man, of course?" said one of the delegates at the democratic conference, trying to remember where he had seen him before. "No," replied the policeman in citizen's clothes, yawning drearily, "I'm a copper."—Chicago Tribune.

He Wanted Some.

Customer—Howd' do? Have you any time to spare this morning?

Tradesman—Certainly; plenty of it.

Customer—Glad to hear of it. I'd like to have thirty days more on that little bill I owe you.

Was a Warrior Bold.

"Did your husband take an active part in the war against Spain, Mrs. Parvenu?"

"Did he? Well, rather. He run an army canteen single-handed from the beginnin' till the Spaniards laid down their arms."

Not Wanted There.

Mother—Bobby, this is the third time I've caught you stealing jam, and I'm getting tired of it.

Bobby—Well, why don't you quit hangin' 'round the pantry, then?

Too Late to Begin.

"Why did old Skinphlint insist that his wife should give away the bride when his daughter was married?"

"Oh, he said he'd never given away anything yet, and he was too old to begin."—Chicago Post.

In the Studio.

"Busy just now?"

"Well, I did a study in arms only yesterday."

"Is that so?"

"Yes; I walked all night with the baby."

Not So Bad.

Uncle inquired of little Bobby if he had been a good little boy.

Bobby—No, I haven't.

Uncle—Why, I hope you haven't been very bad.

Bobby—Oh, no; just comfortable.

Wanted to Know.

Uncle Haicede—I have lived in this here house over twenty year come next September.

Fresh Air Boy—Chee! How do youse git out o' payin' de rent?

NEW INSECT PEST.

The German Scale Now Established In American Orchards.

A new scale insect has established itself in the orchards of many parts of the United States.

It closely resembles the San Jose scale which recently threatened to destroy the entire fruit crop of the United States, and is capable of doing equally great damage.

Strange to say, the new scale is an importation from Germany, which once boycotted American fruit on acount of the San Jose scale. Thus the Fatherland is getting revenge for injuries which it never suffered, but which were loudly discussed in parliament and press.

It is found throughout Europe and in some parts of Asia and Africa. It would be impossible to estimate the damage that this insect has done to foreign fruit-growing interests.

It was first discovered in the San Jose Valley, California, in August, 1880. Within ten years from that date it had spread over the whole Pacific slope. In 1890 the Los Angeles Horticultural Commission reported that if the pest was not speedily destroyed it would utterly ruin the deciduous fruit interests of the Paific coast.

The State authorities and fruit growers generally instituted a vigorous crusade against the pest.

The San Jose scale was imported into the East through the instrumentality of two New Jersey nurseries, and by them were unwittingly spread throughout the entire East.

It is partly on account of the way in which European pests thrive on American soil that the new scale insect is so much to be dreaded. Under favorable conditions a single female of the San Jose scale can in one season become the progenitor of no less than 3,216,080,400 male and female offspring. The European scale breeds with the same rapidity and follows the same methods of disseminating itself throughout an orchard.

His Last Night's Run.

A few blocks south of the Midway Plaissance on Cottage Grove avenue stands an ancient owl car, passing its dotage as a "pop and soda parlor." Beneath its eaves is still legible the phrase of its old-time route, "Wentworth avenue and Clark street," but crowding it from sight are the legends of its present station in life. ""Visit the Owl Car for Ice-Cold Pop and Soda," and others of a similar nature. Within are chairs and tables for thirsty souls for the summer beverage. The car itself is a dilipidated specimen of the first street cars used in Chicago. Its wheels have been removed, but, as the "barker" for the resort remarked: "That don't faze the old girl; she's traveling most as fast now as the ordinary owl car."

A gripman on the Cottage Grove avenue line gazed thoughtfully at the old car as he sped past.

"He's sure an old-timer," he remarked. "He made his last trip nigh on ten years ago. They took him off when the 'lectric line was extended. Reckon that fellow bought him for a song."

"Why do you call the car 'he?'" asked a passenger.

"Most fellers don't. They call 'em 'she,' but 'tain't proper. You see the owl cars ain't respectable; they're out all night cavorting round with gents with skates on, an' 'tain't decent to call 'em 'she.'"

The gripman turned from a musing gaze full of reflection on the innocuous desuetude into which the car had fallen. Once in its days of dignity it had been of the world of real intoxicants; now it was degraded to the plane of "soft drin's."—Chicago Tribune.

A Good Shark Story.

Capt. McVane, of Long Island, Portland Harbor, can tell a pretty good story himself. He tells the Courier that while out after mackerel the other night suddenly, without the slightest warning, his dory began to move uneasily just as it would if it had been moving over some partially submerged floating object, and slowly but steadily it rose into the air, and turning over threw McVane a couple of somersaults and landed him upon the back of a big shark. He clutched the dorsal fin and held on. The shark was probably the more frightened of the two, and the moment McVane struck him he started off on the surface at a 2:40 clip, heading about south by east, on a course that would take him to Half-Way Rock. He kept to the surface for about two miles and then diving left McVane floundering about in the water, not 300 yards from the Half-Way Rock lighthouse. This he easily swam to and after getting into dry clothes was set ashore at Long Island.—Portland Courier.

At the Poles.

It has been shown that, while Nansen's observations prove that the north polar region is a great ocean cavity, nearly two miles deep, the south polar region, on the contrary, is, apparently, a vast solid mass of land, surrounded by a belt of water about two miles in depth. The area of the south polar continent is estimated to be about 4,000,000 square miles, 1,000,000 more than that of the United States, excluding Alaska.

When we assert that our establishment is the most perfect of its kind in this part of the country. Our machinery is all of the most practical and newest invention. Over a hundred skilled hands are busy to carefully handle the laundry entrusted to us.

Not we, ourselves, but the legions of our customers who received full satisfaction during the many past years, give us full credit. And this our patrons who, before coming to us, tried the different establishments without getting satisfaction, say that the most reliable establishment is

A CASE IN POINT.

Dissertation on the Virtue of Telling the Unvarnished Truth.

"The hypocrisies in which women indulge are very fatiguing," remarked Mr. Blykins, with that lofty and irritating air which he adopts when he feels like lecturing, according to the Washington Star. "These social shams are as foolish as they are unnecessary."

"Do you think they are confined to feminine existence?" inquired his wife, gently.

"Of course they are. A man goes straight to the point. He doesn't descend to petty falsehood in an idle attempt to conceal his real motives and feelings. He doesn't send word that he isn't in when somebody whom he wishes to avoid calls. He doesn't gush and coo over somebody and then talk about him behind his back. He says what he has to say straight from the shoulder and never takes any of it back."

"Don't you think that there are little conventional fictions which it is just as well to employ, if only for the sake of one's own self-respect?"

"Never! This world would get on twice as smoothly if nobody said anything he didn't absolutely mean."

"By the way," she exclaimed, abruptly changing the subject, "did you write to Mr. Squidly to-day as you said you were going to?"

"Yes. And there's a case in point. I didn't mince words with him. I put it all down in black and white. I told him exactly what I think he is and then looked in a book of synonyms for more words. It won't do any good, of course, but it was some satisfaction to call his attention to himself and let him know that there is somebody who isn't to be fooled by his hypocritical mask."

"How did you sign the letter?"

"With my own name, of course. I wouldn't send anything anonymously."

"What did you put before your name?"

"Why, I wrote the usual line 'Yours very respectfully'——"

And then Mr. Blykins relapsed into silence.

Bamboo Curtains.

An amusing story, illustrative of the difference between eyes and no eyes, is told by the New Orleans Times-Democrat.

"I noticed such a sweet decorative idea on this street yesterday," said a lady visitor to a New Orleans friend, while taking a trolley ride near the French market. "It was a house," she continued, "hung at all the second and third story windows with pale yellow bamboo curtains. They were perfectly plain and all of the same shade, but you have no idea how they set off the old place. Why, they simply glorified it."

"Hu-m-m," mused her friend, "I don't recall the house. Just point it out as we go by, will you?"

Presently the visitor uttered an exclamation. "There it is!" she cried. "The house of the bamboo curtains! I'm sure a colony of artists must live there!"

"A colony of Italians,' said her friend, grimly. "That's not bamboo. It's a spaghetti factory. They hang the stuff out there to dry."

Society Note.

The beautiful Miss O'Hoolehan was seen on Fifth avenue yesterday in her horseless dogcart. It is rumored that Miss O'Hoolehan is heiress to at least 30 cents.

The Worm's Sting.

"What is there in this story about the girl Gubbins is engaged to being a millionaire?"

"Not a millionaire; a milliner."

"Oh, well, that is not so bad."—Indianapolis Journal.

Not Quite Sure.

"Do you think bachelors ought to be taxed?" some one asked.

"I'm not quite sure," she answered dreamily. "Give me another week and may be I'll be able to land him without any outside help."—Chicago Post.

A Difficult Assignment.

Editor—What's all this stuff?

Reporter—That, sir, is a report of the proceedings of the Woman Suffrage meeting last night.

Editor—But I can't make head or tail of it.

Reporter—Neither could I. They were all talking at once.

DUE TO THE NAME.

It Caused the Parson to Forget Himself and Swear.

Speaking of Geoghegan, who died a few years ago, reminds me that I first met him at Tacoma in 1880. He was an Irishman, bright, witty, entertaining and whole-souled. He was in the first legislature and the speakership contest was between him and the late Colonel Feighan of Spokane. Geoghegan served through the war, and was a prisoner at Andersonville. He was full of anecdotes relating to prison life. He was very ill during the latter part of the detention, and expected to be carted out any day with the rest of those whom death was releasing of their misery. A young Methodist clergyman went through the prison one day, giving consolation to those in distress, and ran across Geoghegan, who was prostrate with weakness and disease.

"What is your name, my good man?" he asked.

"Geoghegan," was the response, almost in a whisper.

"How do you spell it?"

"G-e-o-g-h-e-g-a-n," quickly and in tones scarcely audible.

"I did not catch it; once more."

The sufferer spelled the name again huskily.

"Let me see," quoth the divine; "G—G—G—G—Geerusalem, what a hell of a name that is!"

Quite So.

Lawyer—I would have been home sooner, my dear, but I had an absorbing case on hand.

"The absorbing case."

A Few Funnyisms.

"So your engagement is broken?"

"Yes; we couldn't agree. I like watermelon cut in round slices, and she always cuts watermelon in long slices."

"Do you find your wife's high temper a great trial?"

"I should say not; the groceryman never sends us poor vegetables or bad fruit."

"Joe Jimp is getting old."

"Why do you say that?"

"Because when he got back from fishing he said he hadn't caught anything worth bragging about."

"We want a clergyman who can see a joke."

"I can see a joke all right, but I don't want any humorous arrangements about my salary."

"Kitty almost got drowned at the seashore."

"I suppose the notoriety of it made her quite a belle."

"Indeed it didn't; none of the mothers will let their sons go near her."

"The medicine the doctor ordered me to take costs 80 cents, and the stuff to keep it from tasting bad was 35 cents."

"Well?"

"I am taking only the stuff to keep it from tasting bad."

A Summer Girl.

I seek her presence, for she is
The very coolest girl I know.
She does not hint of soda-fizz,
Nor for ice-cream show signs of woe.

For fluffy frocks she has no care—
She brings me calm which seems to last;
Her beauty is beyond compare—
She's Venus—in a plaster-cast.

A Western Solon.

Prosecuting Attorney (Frozen Dog)—Your honor, the sheriff's bull pup has gone and chawed up the court Bible.

Judge—Well, make the witness kiss the bull pup, then. We can't adjourn court for a week jest to hunt up a new Bible.—Puck.

Making Home Happy

He—It is said that people who laugh live longest.

His Fourth Wife—That may account for the fact that you have been a widower so often if the poor things who preceded me had no more chances to laugh than I have.—Chicago Times-Herald.

Cause and Effect.

"How did you catch that cold?" asked Bowens.

"Running after an iceman," replied Tambeau.

And the orchestra, with a beautiful appreciation of the everlasting unfitness of things, played "There'll Be a Hot Time," etc.—Chicago Tribune.

Force of Habit.

Hamlet—I wonder where Horatio acquired that peculiar mincing walk?

Laertes—He came home over the P., D. and Q railroad. The ties are very close together on that road.—New York Journal.

side of the track.

Mr. Lounsbury suggested that the curbing in front of the school property might be set back a few inches, which the railroad would be perfectly willing to pay for.

The discussion was finally brought to a close by Mr. Lounsbury moving that the board give the consent asked for. All the members voted in the affirmative except Dr. Probasco, who said that he did not think he could conscientiously vote to give the board's consent unless the street was to be widened.

The board then went into executive session.

A Change of Position.

Charles M. Dolliver, of Fairview avenue, has resigned his position with the New Jersey Southern Railroad at Lakehurst, and accepted a position in the office of Supervisor Scott at Somerville. He will take this week for a vacation and enter his duties next Monday.

Unavoidably Detained.

Councilman Walter Hetfield was unavoidably detained from the Council meeting last evening. It was the wish of the majority that all members be present when the trolley matter is considered.

A Night of Terror.

"Awful anxiety was felt for the widow of the brave General Burnham of Machias, Me., when the doctors said she could not live till morning," writes Mrs. S. H. Lincoln, who attended her that fearful night. "All thought she must soon die from pneumonia, but she begged for Dr. King's New Discovery, saying it had more, than once saved her life, and had cured her of consumption. After three small doses she slept easily all night, and its further use completely cured her." This marvelous medicine is guaranteed to cure all Throat Chest and Lung Diseases. Only 50c and $1.00. Trial bottles free at L. W. Randolph's drug store.

CURRENT ATTRACTIONS THAT PLAINFIELDERS MAY WITNESS.

Local and Metropolitan Performances That Will Please Those Who Delight in the Art of Thespis and Mimic World

A splendid dramatic performance will be given at Music Hall tonight in the presentation of the play entitled "Daniel Boone," which deals in incidents of the celebrated trapper and scout of that name, and scenes of frontier life before the advance of civilization. The play will be given with new and special scenery—with horses, cowboys and Indians, which will make the play realistic and interesting, in addition to the acting of the several roles sustained by a competent cast of able artists. A splendid orchestra and an excellent brass band are features of the organization, and a grand free concert will be given in front of the theatre tonight before the hour of performance.

A good show always draws a good house, and Leonard's "Two Jolly Rovers," which comes to Music Hall Friday night, is just the thing. A first-class comedy, with beautiful scenery, handsome young girls, funny comedians, good singing, excellent dancing, and above all a good, strong cast. No cheap talent. Each one an artist. Seeing is believing. See this show and feel contented that you saw a good, funny comedy, with a good cast of characters.

The Broadway Theatre, New York, will begin its regular season with the first presentation in America of "The Ghetto" Friday evening next. The play is by Herman Hyermans, a noted Dutch writer, and has to its credit a run of over 300 nights in Amsterdam, Holland. The English adaption is by Chester Bailey Fernald and the version to be presented at the Broadway Friday evening is the same as the one now being played in London at the Comedy Theatre by Mrs. James Brown Potter and Kyrle Bellew. "The Ghetto" is said to be a dignified, serious drama, dealing in an intelligent way with the conflict between the Christian and the Jew at an early period in the present century. The scene is laid in the Jewish quarter of Amsterdam, Holland. Appropriate scenery has been prepared by artist Young, of the Broadway Theatre, and the cast engaged by Manager Jacob Litt includes Joseph Haworth, Sidney Herbert, Emmett Corrigan, Grace Filkins, Mrs. McKee Rankin, Bijou Fernandez, Robert McWade, Samuel Edwards, Robert Paton Gibbs, W. H. Pascoe and others. Owing to the improvements that have been under way at the Broadway during the summer months, it was not expected that the house would be ready to open before October, but matters have progressed so rapidly with the decorators that an earlier opening date was decided upon by the management. The Broadway will be practically a new playhouse when it opens. Manager Jacob Litt has spent $20,000 in redecorating and improving the theatre, and has added the latest and most complete electrical plant and made numberless other improvements both in the auditorium and back of the footlights.

It was expected that the contract for macadamizing West Third and Fourth streets would be given out, but Mr. Barrows stated that Corporation Counsel Marsh had been unable to draw the necessary papers to complete the preliminary work. He announced that C. M. Meeker was the lowest man and would get the contract. It appears that under the present condition of affairs the city cannot authorize work unless they know where the money is coming from to do the same, and the money for macadamizing the two streets is not in hand at present. There is some little hitch regarding the several amounts to be paid by property-owners along the street to be macadamized. The matter will be attended to at an early date.

There being no further business Council adjourned for one week.

AN ORDINANCE

to provide for the issuing of temporary notes for sewerage expenses pursuant to Chapter 33, P. L., 1899.

WHEREAS, The Common Council has ascertained and determined, and does hereby ascertain and determine that the expense incurred for the sewerage purposes specified in Chapter 33, P. L., 1899, in full to date, amounts to the sum of $7,654.70, and that it is expedient to provide for such expense by issuing temporary notes or obligations of the City, the same to be renewed from time to time in such manner as to make an equal amount thereof, as nearly as practicable, payable each year during five years from the date on which they shall be authorized:

The inhabitants of the City of Plainfield, by their Common Council, do enact as follows:

Section 1.—That to provide for the expense aforesaid, temporary notes or obligations of said City be issued as follows: One note for one-fifth of said amount payable one year from date of issue; one note for one-fifth of said amount drawn for one year from said date, but subject to renewal for one year thereafter; one note for one-fifth of said amount drawn for one year from said date, but subject to renewal for two successive years thereafter; one note for one-fifth of said amount drawn for one year from said date, but subject to renewal for three successive years thereafter, and one note for one-fifth of said amount drawn for one year from said date, but subject to renewal for four successive years thereafter; all of said notes to bear interest at the rate of 4 per centum per annum.

Section 2.—That the Mayor and City Treasurer be, and are hereby authorized to make and execute the said notes, and apply the same for the purpose aforesaid.

MAD WOMAN TENANT SHOT LANDLORD DEAD.

Terrible Tragedy Enacted at Somerset Park Yesterday Afternoon By a Woman.

PAUL ROEHRICHT KILLED ALMOST INSTANTLY.

THREATENED WITH EVICTION FINGERHUTH HAD GIVEN HIS WIFE A REVOLVER.

When He Left in the Morning He Told Her to Shoot Anyone Who Tried to Disturb the House They Occupied —Force of Men Appeared in the Afternoon—Forced Door Open and Then Followed the Shooting—Coroner's Inquest.

With calm deliberation, Mrs. Theodore Fingerhuth shot and almost instantly killed Paul Roehricht, the proprietor of Somerset Park, in front of one of his own houses in the Park, yesterday afternoon at 3:30 o'clock. The fatality resulted from the attempt by Mr. Roehricht to forcibly eject the Fingerhuths from the house which they refused to vacate. Robert M. Clark, of 59 Jackson avenue, general manager and attorney for Mr. Roehricht, escaped a similiar fate through the failure of one of the cartridges to explode. Mr. Roehricht was a prominent New York business man, besides his interests at Somerset Park, and had a large jewelry story at 2,155 Seventh avenue, New York

A year ago Roehricht purchased the William Spencer farm which lies just north of Washingtonville. He also bought several smaller properties adjoing with the intention of making a great suburban resort for New York business men. This spring he began active operations toward opening up Somerset Park to the public. He wanted a landscape gardener and employed Theodore Fingerhuth who came here from Long Island early in the spring. He was to be paid a salary and have the use of the old Aaron Allen homestead on the valley road, free of charge. The Allen homestead is a mile to the north-east of Washingtonville and on the edge of the Park. Fingerhuth brought with him his wife and son, a young man of twenty years, and settled in the Allen homestead.

It is alleged that Fingerhuth's work was very unsatisfactory. He was instructed to plant 150 maple trees along Empire avenue, one of the new thoroughfares cut through the Park. He made a mistake and put in hickory-nut trees instead. Finally Roehricht became very much dissatisfied and discharged Fingerhuth. He ordered the gardener to move away from the house, but Fingerhuth refused, claiming that he had a contract with Roehricht for a year. That happened three months ago and every effort was made after that to persuade them to leave, but without avail.

Roehricht and his general manager, Lawyer Clark, whose law offices are located at 109 East Front street, brought every possible influence to bear but without avail. Then, on Clark's advice, a warrant was sworn out before Justice Mattison, in the borough, for Fingerhuth's arrest on the charge of trespass.

Monday morning Constable Francis Bartell, of Washingtonville, and Lawyer Clark went to Fingerhuth's place to serve the warrant and demand possession of the premises. Fingerhuth, it is alleged, threatened Clark and the constable with a revolver, and defied the law.

He finally agreed to send for his lawyer, William G. DeMeza, of this city, and take his advice. DeMeza went up to the scene of the trouble and promised Clark that Fingerhuth and his son would appear before Justice Mattison next day at 3 o'clock. It had been Clark's aim to get the father and son away from the house by some strategy. So he went back to Justice Mattison with the warrant which Constable Bartell had not served and withdrew the complaint against Fingerhuth and his son. He afterwards swore out another warrant against Fingerhuth on the charge of assault, which he instructed Constable Bartell to serve on father and son as they returned to Washingtonville late in the afternoon.

Early in the afternoon Fingerhuth left his home and started for town. It is rumored that he instructed his wife to shoot any intruder who tried to obtain entrance during his absence. It is alleged that on his way down town he stopped a few minutes at William Demler's store at Washingtonville, and told Mr. Demler that he had left her well prepared and that she would shoot Roehricht or anyone else who should attempt to eject her.

Fingerhuth and his son then came to North Plainfield and appeared in Justice Mattison's court at 3 o'clock with their lawyer. There they learned that the charge of trespass against them had been withdrawn. Young Fingerhuth returned to Washington ville, where he was arrested and locked up in the borough jail, while the father remained for some time in the borough saloons drinking freely. He was arrested just as he started for home and also lodged in the borough jail.

Lawyer Clark decided to make another attempt yesterday afternoon to secure possession of the house. He sent his brother, Edward O. Clark, who is studying law at his office and at the University of New York, to demand poeession from Mrs. Fingerhuth. While it was recognized that Fingerhuth was a dangerous man, Clark did not believe that Mrs. Fingerhuth would offer any active resistance. The younger Clark was accompanied by Thomas Quinn, Lawyer Clark's clerk, Emil Dembowski, foreman for Roehricht, and Harry Ryan, Clark's coachman, who drove them to the old Allen residence.

Edward Clark told Mrs. Fingerhuth that she must give up the house or else he would be compelled to take possession forcibly. She refused to accede to the demand and flourished a revolver threatening to shoot the young man if he attempted to cross the threshold. Clark then sent Ryan back to the superintendent's office where Lawyer Clark and Roehricht were, to tell them that they could do nothing with the woman. Young Clark and his companions then withdrew a short distance from the house and waited until the carriage returned. Roehricht, Clark and William Titus, of Washingtonville, came back in it.

Mrs. Clemens, who lives on the old Bullman farm on the valley road, had been in to see Mrs. Fingerhuth but left the house before the party arrived. She was a witness of the fatality that followed.

As soon as Roehricht arrived on the scene, he hastened to the kitchen door. It is a long frame house, consisting of a one story and attic main part with a one story addition at one end which is used as a kitchen. There are two doors in the main part of the house. Both were bolted. Mrs. Fingerhuth guarded the kitchen door.

Roehricht attempted to reason with the woman.

"I want nothing to do with you," she kept saying. "Wait until my husband comes back."

Seeing that the effort was useless, Roehricht turned to the others and said, "Go ahead, boys,"

Then Lawyer Clark sprang forward and ran up to the kitchen door. Mrs. Fingerhuth was on the other side. His weight pushed the door inward. Suddenly she stepped aside and allowed it to open. She pointed the revolver at Clark's breast which was barely two feet away. She pulled the trigger but there was only a click. For some reason the cartridge failed to explode. Clark jumped back. She then closed the door.

The snapping of the revolver led the party to believe that the threat to shoot was a bluff and that the revolver was not loaded. Clark called to his brother to hold the door and not let Mrs. Fingerhuth out while he forced a way in at one of the other doors. Ed Clark responded and grasped the handle of the kitchen door. Meanwhile Lawyer Clark had nearly succeeded in gaining an entrance.

Suddenly Mrs. Fingerhuth gave the door a sudden jerk from within and pulled the door knob out of the grasp of the younger Clark. She stepped to the door and pointed the revolver at Roehricht who stood some five feet away. Clark sprang back as the revolver was stretched out over his shoulder and fell backward from the piazza into a narrow space between the house and fence.

The revolver was pointed at Roehricht and the trigger was pulled without a word. There was a flash, and a bang and a cloud of smoke.

"I guess I'm not shot!" exclaimed Roehricht as he unbuttoned his vest and felt in the direction of his heart. "I guess not. I guess not."

He was examining his shirt, on which a tiny spot of blood appeared. Suddenly he straightened up. "My God, I am shot." Those were his last words, and he fell backwards into the arms of Harry Ryan. He died five minutes afterwards. Mrs. Clemens went into the house and obtained a pillow from Mrs. Fingerhuth, on which the dying man's head was rested. Mrs. Fingerhuth withdrew into the house as soon as the fatal shot was fired and closed the door.

There was great excitement. Edward Clark drove to North Plainfield after medical aid. He took Dr. Zeglio and Dr. Pittis to the scene. They arrived ten minutes after the man had died. The ambulance was also summoned and was used after the arrival of Coroner DeMott to carry the remains back to DeMott's undertaking establishment on Somerset street, where it awaited the action of the coroner's jury.

The news of the shooting spread with great rapidity. Constables Geo. Stewart and Francis Bartell, of Washingtonville, Constable Will Emmons from North Plainfield, and Constable John Gjettlesen from Plainfield, gathered and went to the house to arrest Mrs. Fingerhuth. She made no resistance and opened the door to them. She showed no signs of emotion and was perfectly self-composed when she climbed into a carriage with the constables and was driven to the borough jail. Her son was arrested on his way home and Theodore Fingerhuth was locked up later in the afternoon when the officers found him in North Plainfield.

It was arranged by Coroner Henry DeMott that an inquest should be held last evening at 10 o'clock, but it was not until 9:30 o'clock, when County Physician Wagoner and Assistant Prosecutor Reger, of Somerville, appeared at the morgue, and informed him of the wrong course he was pursuing. He was told that it was his duty to notify the county physician at once and he would give the coroner proper authority to go ahead with the inquest.

Dr. Wagoner and Mr. Reger viewed the remains, after which the former drew up the necessary official paper giving the coroner the proper authority. Constable Wm. N. Pangborn was then found and he was instructed to draw a jury for the inquest.

An adjournment was then made to the Manhattan Hotel, where the coroner held the preliminary session. Constable Pangborn called the following jurors: Andrew Love, Sr., foreman; Albert Runyon, Wm. J. Conroy, Philip H. Currin, John T. Case, Theodore Zeller, Wm. H. Angleman, Michael Koller, Andrew Lutkins, Geo. Watts, Joseph A. Blatz and George Egel. Wm. Demler was called but asked to excused, owing to certain knowledge he has of the affair.

After the jury was called the constable took them to the morgue where they were sworn over the body of the dead man, as prescribed by law. They then returned to the Mahattan Hotel, where more trouble followed.

It seemed to be the opinion of the coroner that it was for the jury to decide whether they would like a post mortem, and he put the question to them. To this Councilman Hetfield, counsel for Mrs. Fingerhuth, the accused, objected. The objection was received, but the coroner insisted upon knowing whether a post mortem was necessary as to the care of the body.

Dr. Wagoner stated clearly that when the proceedings of the jury went before the Grand Jury that body would want to know every detail and he thought it very unusual to omit a post mortem. After wasting a lot of time for Mr. Reger, who had gone to the Fingerhuth residence to look over the ground where the shooting occurred, the coroner thought that an adjournment would be in order and he so decided. He then instructed the jurors to be present at 10 o'clock this morning when a post mortem would be held.

As soon as the body of the murdered man and the Fingerhuths had been brought to North Plainfield Lawyer Robert M. Clark took the train for New York to tell Mrs. Roehricht of her husband's sudden death. It had been Clark's intention to leave for Washington last evening to push forward the project for a postoffice at Washingtonville in the interest of Mr. Roehricht. Mrs. Roehricht, who was well acquainted with her husband's plans, knew that Clark was going there.

The Roehrichts live in a flat above Roericht's jewelry store at 2155 Seventh avenue, New York. When Clark arrived there Mrs. Roehricht was sitting in the parlor with some friends.

"Why, Mr. Clark, what are you doing here?" exclaimed the surprised wife. He had come to tell her, he explained, that her husband would not be home that night. The company departed and Mrs Roehricht wanted to know the reason for her husband's absence. There had been a little trouble out at Somerset Park, Clark explained, and her husband had been hurt. He was in good hands, however, the lawyer hastened to add.

"Was it with Fingerhuth?" demanded Mrs. Roehricht, who had always feared that the trouble with the erstwhile employe would end seriously. Clark said yes. Gradually he admitted that Mr. Roehricht's injures were more and more serious until, after three-quarters of an hour's talk, he told her all.

Mrs. Roehricht became hysterical and was greatly affected by the news. Leaving her in the hands of friends Clark returned reaching this city at 1 o'clock this morning. The train on which he arrived carried the Fingerhuths to Somerville to spend the night in the county jail there.

Paul Roehricht, the murdered man, was of medium height, rather stout. He was born in Germany fifty-three years ago and has been in this country most of his life. For the past three years he was interested in the tract of land called Somerset Park. He had a long beard and moustache of black curly hair.

Mrs. Fingerhuth, who fired the fatal shot, is an ignorant German woman. She was short and stout, apparently fifty years old, and had a very determined expression. Her face was of the German type.

The post mortem ordered last evening by Coroner DeMott took place this morning and was conducted by Dr. Wagoner, county physician, assisted by Dr. J. Hervey Buchanan, and the course of the bullet was traced through the heart near the spine.

At 10:30 o'clock Coroner DeMott called the inquest at the Manhattan Hotel, at which time the jurors and Prosecutor Dungan, of Somerville, were present. Lawyer Hetfield and Lawyer Wm. DeMeza were also present in the interest of the defendants.

Prosecutor Dungan called the first witness, Attorney Robert M. Clark, manager for the late Rochricht. His testimony given regarding the shooting and the trouble between the proprietor and the Fingerhuth family is substantially the same as printed in the story today. There was one point brought out in the examination of this witness, and that was that the party who went to the premises to eject the family, went there without the proper official authority. Mr. Clark stated on the stand that he advised Mr. Roehricht to begin action for ejectment, and the latter said he would think it over. He did so, and finally told Mr. Clark "Let's put them out today, (yesterday,) and don't be a damn coward." To this Mr. Clark replied "All right we will."

Mr. Clark also stated that on several occasions Mrs. Fingerhuth threatened to shoot when he, and others in company with him, went to the house. Mr. Clark did not actually see her shoot Mr. Roehricht, but saw the revolver in her hand. His testimony gave in every detail the trouble between the parties concerned.

The prosecution called Harry Dreier to the stand, hoping to prove that the revolver used to do the shooting was purchased at his store on West Front street. Mr. Dreier stated that he sold an ordinary American bulldog, double-action, 32-calibre, together with fifteen cartridges. He could not tell who made the purchase other than it was a young man.

Emil Dembowski was sworn and told his story. He heard the shot fired but did not see Mrs. Fingerhuth do it.

Mrs. Augustine Element gave her testimony in French and it was interpeted by Mrs. Wm. Demarest. She did not see the shot fired but saw Roehricht fall. Edward O. Clark, Thomas Quinn and William Titus also told their versions of the affair, after which the inquest was adjourned until tomorrow.

WILL PREACH FIRST SERMON AT YALE.

Special Honor for Rev. Dr. W. R. Richards.

HIS SON ENTERS COLLEGE.

DR. RICHARDS WAS COLLEGE CHUM OF PRESIDENT HADLEY.

His Name Was Suggested by New York Independent for the Presidency of Yale Then Vacant—President Hadley Has Invited Him to Preach Opening Sermon to Freshman Class in Which Son Will be.

Although it was not generally known in Plainfield at the time, it is nevertheless a fact that Rev. Dr. W. R. Richards, pastor of the Crescent Avenue Presbyterian church of this city, was mentioned as a possibility for the then vacant presidency of the faculty of Yale University and his name was considered by the board of trustees of that institution. The suggestion was first made by the New York Independent.

Dr. Richards and the man who was finally chosen to be president of Yale, Rev. Dr. Hadley, were old chums in college together. They both attended Yale where Dr. Richards was one class ahead of the present president of the faculty. Although in different classes, they participated in many of the college larks together.

In remembrance of those days as well as in regard for his eminent position as a leading Presbyterian divine of New Jersey, President Hadley has invited Rev. Dr. Richards to preach the first sermon of the year to the Freshman class at Yale. The honor is considered a great one. Besides having the pleasure and honor of preaching the first sermon under the administration of his old chum, Dr. Richards will have the opportunity of speaking to his own son who graduated from Leal's School last June and enters the Freshman class at Yale this fall. The sermon will be preached the first of October.

TOOK FORBIDDEN FRUIT.

Wife of a Well-Known West End Resident Stole Apples Several Bushels at a Time.

The most stupendous and daring case of apple stealing which has recently developed in this city, where the robbing of orchards is of almost daily occurrence, was committed on the morning of Labor Day. The orchard to suffer was on the estate of S. Q. Lawson at Grant avenue and Seventh street. The Press has it upon excellent authority that the trespassers are none other than the wife of a well-known resident of the West End, who was seen to drive to the orchard with her hired man and a boy and deliberately proceed to help herself to the products of the orchard. The woman was seen to carry away in her buggy several bushels of the apples and take them to her barn.

The place is in charge of Officer Lunger, who has been given authority to arrest any persons caught trespassing upon the premises. The matter has been placed in the hands of a well-known attorney of this city. Efforts are being made by the woman to effect a settlement. Her husband is a well-known manufacturer, whose place of business is not in Plainfield. Some startling developments may be made in a day or two.

JEWELED SWORD FOR SAMPSON.

New Jersey's Gift to the Admiral Finished by Philadelphia Firm.

(Special to The Daily Press.)

Trenton, Sept. 13—Simon Brothers & Co., of Philadelphia, have finished the jeweled sword which the State of New Jersey will present to Admiral Sampson, and will deliver the same Tuesday next to the committee of the Legislature that had in charge the securing of the sword and the arranging for the presentation of the same to Admiral Sampson.

No definite time has yet been fixed for the presentation.

Should Receive Attention

The petition presented to the Council last Monday evening by Walter Scott and others, asking that Richmond street, near Fifth street, be so fixed that surface water will properly run off, is one that should engaged the early attention of the Councilman. The point mentioned is an important one and there is much travel that should not be obstructed.

Mr. Edwards' Son an Actor.

Roland Edwards, son of Manager Maze Edwards, of Music Hall, has been visiting his father for a short time. Mr. Edwards has entered the profession, and will appear this year in "The Sporting Duchess," which opens with an engagement of three weeks in New York city very soon.

TO IMPROVE CEMETERY.

WILL RAISE NECESSARY FUNDS BY SALE OF PART OF PROPERTY.

Have Grouped All Vacant Lots on Seventh Street Side by Exchanging for Others—Advertising for Missing LotOwers

A strong effort is being made by the the trustees of the First M. E. church to improve the condition of the Methodist cemetery on Plainfield avenue, which has long been in such a delapidated state that many believed that the city would soon take steps to close it. The improvements contemplated include a new fence and a keeper's lodge which, the trustees hope, may give permanency and safety to the cemetery.

To meet this expense, a number of occupied lots in the cemetery are to be exchanged for unoccupied ones of equal or greater value, the church paying all the expenses of removal of remains and monuments. This arrangement will gather all the unoccupied lots on the Seventh street side of the cemetery and make room for several building lots, from the sale of which the necessary funds will be raised to make the desired improvements.

All owners of these lots who have been found have consented to the arrangement. Former Assemblyman W. R. Codington, as attorney for the trustees, made application before the Court of Common Pleas at Elizabeth this morning to have the court act for those owners who cannot be found after due advertising. This movement has the active support of the various lot owners who wish to make the cemetery permanent.

SPEEDWAY IS ASSURED

INTERESTED ONES DECIDE TO CONSUMMATE THE PROJECT.

A Meeting Held This Morning—Row of Shade Trees to Divide Speedway and Boulevard—Civil Engineer Engaged.

A meeting of the property owners interested in the Woodland boulevard and speedway project, which contemplates the widening of the present Woodlawn avenue from sixty to 110 feet, was held this morning and steps taken to consummate the idea. The plan is to have two driveways, leaving the present row of shade trees on the western side of the avenue in the middle of the widened street. Then on one side would be constructed a macadamized boulevard and on the other a speedway.

It is proposed to carry this width from Prospect avenue on the north to the Hillside Golf links on the south. It would make the most beautiful driveway in this section, affording a fine view of the surrounding country for miles around.

A committee was appointed to secure engineers to begin the work at once. They have employed Frank J. Hubbard to do this work.

FORMER PLAINFELDER DEAD.

John E. Christiani Unable to Survive an Operation for Cancer.

John E. Christiani, a former resident of Plainfield, died at the New York Polyclinic Hosiptal, yesterday, as a result of an operation. He was suffering from a cancer which was removed. Mr. Christiani lived for many years in the house on the corner of East Fifth and Sycamore streets, now occupied by Dr. J. F. Berg. He moved to Philadelphia ten years ago, and has since resided in New York. He leaves a wife and one daughter. He was a cousin to Mrs. A. J Gavett, of West Fifth street, and Mrs. J. W. Gavett, of Third place.

AND NOW A WIFE TURNS UP FOR HERMIT GOULD

More Complications in Trying to Find His Fortune.

SHE HAS THE STRONG BOX.

IT IS SAID THE WOMAN TREATED THE OLD MAN BADLY.

Important Letters Received by Lawyer Harry C. Runyon, Who is Working for the Heirs in the Case—The Couple Were Married Near Barnegat Bay—The Wife Is Said to be Dissipated.

Further developments regarding the death of William Gould, the eccentric hermit, who formerly lived at Scotch Plains, have elicited the fact that the old man was married about two years before he died to a woman at Bayville, this State. It is believed that this woman has some knowledge of the old fellow's money, which his heirs have been unable to locate. Lawyer H. C. Runyon, who is looking into the affairs of the deceased at the request of A. H. Martin, of Chicago, a nephew, has in his possession a number of letters which have been forwarded to him by Mr. Martin. These letters convey the information that Mr. Gould was twice married. His first marriage took place in Delaware county, where he at one time lived near DeLancey. But that was long before he came to this section to live. His first wife died about thirteen years ago. It appears that after Mr. Gould sold his place at Scotch Plains he went down to Barnegat with a view of benefitting his health. The climate appeared to agree with him and he leased a house at Bayville, a small settlement on Barnegat Bay. This was in 1891. While there he became acquainted with a woman who had formerly been employed as housekeeper for one of the oyster men.

One day the oysterman died and the woman, who was known as Sarah, went to keep house for Gould. Being aware that the old man had considerable cash the woman induced Gould to marry her. The marriage was performed by a local justice of the peace.

From what can be learned of Gould's married life by reading the numerous letters in Mr. Runyon's possession, it appears that the old man was badly treated. His wife was very dissipated and is alleged to have treated him shamefully. She ruled the old man with an iron hand and even refused to allow him to communicate with his sisters. It was always necessary for him to have a neighbor who lived about two miles away write his letters.

These letters told of his ill treatment and of the drinking habits of his wife.

Gould died in 1897 and was buried in Dover Chapel Cemetery at Toms River.

What ever became of his money cannot be learned. It is believed that the woman whom Gould married knows more about it than she has developed. The strong box in which Gould is known to have kept his private papers is in the possession of his wife. There is a belief in Bayville that the woman in the case had a husband living at the time she married Gould. Efforts are being made to find this man and also to obtain possession of the strong box.

Both Mr. Martin, the nephew, of Chicago, and Miss Mahala Gould, William Gould's maiden sister, who lives in Monson, Me., have requested Mr. Runyon to use every effort to clear up the mystery about the old man's marriage and the disposition of the large amount of money he was supposed to have at the time of his death. The full name of the woman whom Gould married at Bayville has not yet been ascertained.

William Gould's age at the time of his death was 87. The woman he married was about 45 years old. It is the opinion of many people living at Bayville that the woman inviegled Gould into marrying her that she might gain possession of his money.

The search for the missing money will be vigorously prosecuted by Attorney Runyon.

GRIEF IN VANDERBILT HOME

Death of the Multi-Millionaire Brings Sadness to Fifth Avenue Mansion.

HIS FRIENDS SHOCKED.

Those Who Were Associated With Him in His Lifetime Speak Kindly of Deceased.

He Was a Victim of Paralysis—Story of a Noble Life—His Business, Social and Religious Career—His Immense Fortune—Annals of an Active and Useful Life.

New York, Sept. 13.—Cornelius Vanderbilt, Sr., the multi-millionaire and railroad magnate, who died suddenly at the beautiful family home at Fifth avenue and Fifty-seventh street, from an attack of paralysis, last sought health abroad in the spring of the present year, returning on June 24, accompanied by Mrs. Vanderbilt and Gladys Vanderbilt. The party went to Newport the same day for an intended stay of two months, and it was there that he gained strength rapidly and enjoyed what was for him very good health. His health was fairly good when he returned to his Fifth avenue home here from Newport, and on this account the shock of his sudden death was the more severe to his immediate friends, relatives and business associates.

Senator Chauncey M. Depew, for many years a business associate and warm personal friend of Mr. Vanderbilt, was the first to arrive at the house of death. He reached the house accompanied by young Reginald Vanderbilt. He seemed to be deeply shocked at his friend's death, and walked rapidly into the house past the group of persons who had gathered in front of the residence upon hearing of Mr. Vanderbilt's death.

William K. Vanderbilt came soon after and was weeping as he entered the house. He said that the news of his brother's death had been a great surprise and shock to him. Following Mr. Depew and Mr. Vanderbilt many friends and former business associates of Mr. Vanderbilt called at the house to pay their respects and express their sympathy.

Harry Clarke Duval, private secretary to Dr. Chauncey M. Depew, when told of Mr. Vanderbilt's death, was greatly shocked, and said that he did not even know that Mr. Vanderbilt was ill.

"In the death of Mr. Vanderbilt," said Mr. Duval, "the world loses one of the best men that ever drew the breath of life. He was charitable and liberal in his dealings with all and his many good qualities of heart are too numerous to mention. His son Alfred, who is now making a tour of the world, may be summoned home as soon as he can be reached by cable. He was last heard of at Vancouver, British Columbia."

William K. Vanderbilt, the new head of the family, said: "My brother died of heart failure, produced by acute paralysis. He returned from Newport accompanied by his daughter Gladys and his son Reginald. I called to see him and found him apparently in better health than he had enjoyed for a long time. I was called later, but was not with him at the tme of his death."

Cornelius Vanderbilt, a son of William H., the first, was born in New Dorp, Staten Island, on November 27, 1843. His grandfather was Cornelius the founder of the family. The young Cornelius went through the common schools and entered a bank, not as President, or ornamental director, but as a plain clerk, at a plain clerk's salary; in the Shoe and Leather Bank Cornelius second began his life work.

At twenty-three Cornelius Vanderbilt married. His wife was Alice Gwynne, the daughter of a Cincinnati lawyer. He was already a member of the Episcopal Church, a leader in Sunday-schools and a member of the Young Men's Christian Association. Children came to his home at intervals of two years, until they numbered five—one girl, Gertrude, whose marriage to Mr. Whitney was lately announced, and four boys. The eldest, William H., died at Yale; the others survive, and Cornelius, Jr., married Miss Wilson.

When William H. Vanderbilt withdrew from the Presidency and created the Board of Control of the reorganized system, young Cornelius was made Chairman of the Board of Control of the New York Central, Lake Shore and Michigan Central roads. This means that he was the virtual ruler of these properties.

At his grandfather's death Cornelius reaped the first fruits of his high favor with the old man. While the other sons of Willam H. received $2,000,000 each, he got $5,000,000. Besides, it is said, he had speculated both wisely and well, and men in the street said that the favorite grandson of "Commodore" Vanderbilt was worth $10,000,000.

Increase of fortune brought no corresponding increase of expenditure. This young man simply moved over from Park avenue to Fifth avenue and took a house at Thirty-third street while he started a house at the Fifty-seventh street site, upon which now stands his palace.

He was a consistent churchman, noble in his aspirations, charitable, the patron of arts, the friend of his family. He has been compared to his father, but they had very little in common.

The merest review of Cornelius Vanbilt's life would find him immersed beyond the common depth in many activities. First, set down the all consuming business to which he paid tribute in blood and strength from the days of his youth. For more than thirty years he wrought nine or ten hours daily with short and infrequent vacations, at the work that came to him as a heritage. Measured by the responsibilities it entailed to himself, his family and to the more than 100,000 men who served him, his work was to him a religion.

Mr. Vanderbilt's church and charitable work forms no inconsiderate chapter in itself. An old saying is, If you want something done go to a busy man. Mr. Vanderbilt's giant load of business did not prevent him from belonging to more church societies and serving as director in more charitable institutions than any other man in New York.

To all of these institutions Mr. Vanderbilt gave his attention unostentatiously and cheerfully from a sense of public duty.

Mr. Vanderbilt was never in politics. He was a Republican of the Union League Club school, but his public service never extended beyond casting his vote. He had no share of the fondness for public affairs, which is said to be one of the suppressed passions of his brother, William K.

A man without fads or hobbies, unless his farm near Newport could be called a hobby, Mr. Vanderbilt had something of a passion for the fine arts.

Of his fortune it would be hard to make an accurate estimate. It has been said that he doubled the fortune his grandfather left him. He inherited about $55,000,000 from his father. He probably increased his fortune by as much again in investments. It cannot be less, and is probably more, than $100,000,000.

Lake Traffic Delayed Again.

Detroit, Mich., Sept. 13.—Big lake steamers, which were on Sunday released from their long blockade in St. Marys River, are held up in Detroit River by another obstruction. A brisk steady westerly wind has so lowered the water in the west end of Lake Erie that there is but seventeen and a half feet depth over the Limeklin Crossing, near the mouth of Detroit River. All arriving boats drawing that much or more water are tied up before reaching the crossing.

McGovern Defeats Palmer.

Westchester, N. Y., Sept. 13.—Ten thousand sports paid admission to the Westchester Athletic Club to see Terry McGovern, of Brooklyn, knock out Pedlar Palmer, of England in one round. The fight was for the bantam weight championship of the world, and McGovern won it with a left swing on the jaw which put the Englishman to sleep. Very few bets were made on the contest and what were made were at odds of $100 to $80 in favor of the Brooklyn boy. Palmer was thoroughly outclassed.

She Wants Heavy Damages.

Muncie, Ind., Sept. 13.—Mrs. Rebecca Baker has sued William H. Phillips for $5,025 damages. Phillips is a wealthy farmer, and is charged with harboring a natural gas well near the public highway, the rumbling of which frightened passing horses. A horse driven by Mrs. Baker ran away, broke her arm and leg, for which she asks $5,000 and $25 additional for the damage to her clothes.

Want More Money for Milk.

Brewster, N. Y., Sept. 13.—Two hundred milk producers in this section of the state have refused to sign the usual six months' contract with the Borden Condensed Milk Company of New York. The producers demanded an advance of 10 cents per hundred pounds over last winter's rate. The refusal of the Borden Company to grant the advance caused the action of the producers.

News of Massacre Not Confirmed.

Cape Town, Sept. 13.—The Cape Town Times says the news of the reported massacre of the members of the French Foureau-Lamy expedition near Lake Tanganyika has not been confirmed. An officer of the mounted police who arrived at Bulawayo from Secene says he heard nothing of the expedition, and believes it to be safe.

Carnegie's Offer Accepted.

Oakland, Cal., Sept. 13.—The City Council at a special meeting has accepted the offer of Andrew Carnegie to give $50,000 for a public building, providing that at least $4,000 a year is guaranteed for its support, and has taken measures to provide the necessary amount by a slight increase of the tax rate.

To Consider Quarantine Question.

New Orleans, Sept. 13.—The State Board of Health will meet and consider the quarantine question, as several Louisiana towns have announced embargoes. Several cases of fever are under consideration here, but not one has been identified positively as yellow fever.

Gould Wants Membership.

Chicago, Sept. 13.—Edwin Gould has applied for membership in the Chicago stock exchange. As a director of the Diamond Match Company he has large interests in Chicago financial institutions.

ATTACKS COURT-MARTIAL.

Zola Comes Out With a Most Bitter Denouncement of Dreyfus Verdict.

ACCUSES ARMY CHIEFS.

Declares That a Full Account of Proceedings Furnishes a Decidedly Shameful Document.

Knew Positively in January Last That Esterhazy Was the Real Traitor—Extraordinary Attempt Against Justice—Dreyfus Crushed to Save Others.

Paris, Sept. 13.—M. Emile Zola has a sensational article in the Aurore.

He says he had thought the Rennes court-martial would be the fifth act or the last of the Dreyfus drama.

"But the unexpected verdict prolongs it. What will the fifth act be?

"It is impossible," he says, "for one court-martial to undo what another court-martial has done. It is contrary to discipline."

Further along M. Zola says:—

The full account of the Rennes court-martial furnishes the most shameful document ever published in history.

M. Zola entitles his article "The Fifth Act." After describing his horror of hearing the verdict which he regards as "a moral Sedan," he accuses the army chiefs of having crushed Dreyfus in order to save themselves from prison, and makes an appeal to the government which, he says, will return to France the honor she has lost by the Rennes verdict—a verdict that he describes as a "most extraordinary attempt against truth and justice."

He asserts that he knew positively in January of last year that Esterhazy was the real traitor, the latter having furnished Col. Schwartzkoppen with numerous documents, many in his own handwriting, and a complete collection of which is now in Berlin.

"Since then," says M. Zola, "I have lived in terror lest Germany should strike us with the proofs in her possession, thus dishonoring our army in the face of Europe, in order to vanquish it easily afterwards."

M. Zola's letter concludes as follows:

"The Ministry which its agents have betrayed, the Ministry which had the weakness to leave big children with muddled minds to play with matches and knives, the Ministry which has forgotten that to govern is to foresee, has only to hasten to act if it does not wish to abandon to the good pleasure of Germany the fifth act of the drama, the document before which every Frenchman should tremble.

"It is for the government to play this act as soon as possible in order to prevent its coming to us from abroad. The government can procure the documents. Diplomacy has settled greater difficulties than this. Whenever it ventures to ask for the documents enumerated in the bordereau they will be given, and that will be the 'falt nouveau' which will necessitate a second revision before the Court of Cassation, which will be this time, I hope, fully informed and would quash the verdict 'sans renvoi' in the plentitude of its sovereign majesty.

"But if the government were to recoil again, the defenders of justice and truth will do what is necessary. Not one of us will desert his post. We shall finally end by obtaining invincible proof.

"On November 23 we shall be at Versailles. My trial will recommence, inasmuch as it is to recommence in all its fulness. If, meanwhile, justice is not done, we will again have to do it. My beloved, my valiant Labori, whose honor has but increased, will, therefore, pronounce at Versailles the address which he was unable to pronounce at Rennes, and, it is very simple, nothing will be lost.

"As for me, I shall not be silent. He will merely have to utter the truth, without fear of injuring me, for I am ready to pay for it with my liberty and my blood. Before the Seine Assize Court I swore to the innocence of Dreyfus. I swear to it before the entire world which now proclaims it with me; and I repeat, truth is on the march. Nothing will stop it. At Rennes it has just made a giant's stride.

"I no longer have any fear except that I may see it arrive in a thunderclap of the avenging Nemesis, devastating the fatherland, unless we hasten ourselves to make it shine forth under our clear sun of France."

Life Imprisonment For a Poisoner.

Dallas, Texas, Sept. 13.—The jury brought in a verdict of guilty, with a life sentence, against C. A. Rupe, of Dallas, for the murder of Prof. Randall, an old schoolteacher from Lexington, Ky. Rupe kept a saloon in a vicious section of Dallas, and is convicted of putting poison in Prof. Randall's drinks, in December last, in order to rob him. Rupe was convicted several months ago and given a life sentence, but was granted a new trial.

Grave Fears for the Waikato.

Cape Town, Sept. 13.—The gravest fears are entertained for the safety of the British steamship Waikato, which sailed from London May 4 for Lyttleton, and for which the British cruiser Melpomene recently made an unsuccessful search.

Plague is of Mild Form.

Oporto, Sept. 13.—There has been one more death from the plague, but the situation is unchanged. Dr. Irving, an American, pronounces the plague to be of a mild form.

Tramps Killed in Wreck.

Red Bud, Ill., Sept. 13.—A freight train on the Mobile and Ohio was wrecked at Brydon, south of here. Several unknown tramps were killed.

More Rain in India.

Simla, British India, Sept. 13.—There has been a good rainfall over Madras, Bombay and the Deccan. The situation elsewhere is unchanged.

HAD GLADYS WITH HIM.

Mr. Perot Arrives in Halifax With His Grand-Daughter.

Halifax, N. S., Sept. 13.—The Furness liner London City, which has arrived from London, brought among the saloon passengers a man and a little girl, who, it is asserted, are William T. Perot, a wealthy resident of Baltimore, Md., and his granddaughter, Gladys Perot, who was recently recovered in extradition proceedings in Liverpool.

Mr. Perot booked on the steamer under the name of "Mr. Jackson," and kept to himself on the voyage, refusing to allow Gladys to mingle with the other passengers. He told the officers he had recently been engaged in legal proceedings in England, which would give him undesired publicty in America. His identity became known, however, before the voyage was over.

When the London City docked, Mr. Perot was met by three friends, who now reside in Halifax, but formerly met him in Bermuda. They went aboard the steamer and took off his hand baggage to submit it for customs examination. After these formalities were completed Mr. Perot and Gladys came ashore, hurried into a cab and were driven away. They will probably leave by rail for Yarmouth, where they will take a steamer for Boston.

May Still be Alive.

Chillicothe, Ohio, Sept. 13.—The relatives here of Corporal James Cronin, who was reported to have been killed in the Philippines a short time ago, are hoping that the report is untrue. As soon as the report reached here his relatives communicated with the War Department and were informed that the records of the office show that Corporal James J. Cronin, Company D, Seventeenth United States Infantry, was present for duty with the company at San Fernando, June 30, the latest report received, and that the full list of casualties to September 2 do not include his name.

Captured Hatfield Leaders.

Williamson, W. Va., Sept. 13.—Sheriff Henderson, of Logan County, and a posse of fifteen men went to the Hatfield fort in the mountains, thirty miles from here, and, without bloodshed, captured "Devil Anse" Hatfield, his son Rob and John Dingess, a relative of the Hatfields by marriage. The prisoners will be taken to Pike County and tried on charges of murder, growing out of the Hatfield-McCoy feud. "Cap" Hatfield, the only prominent member of the faction now at liberty, is being hunted by a posse.

Paid Tribute to Ingersoll.

Peoria, Ill., Sept. 13.—Members of the Peoria Bar Association, of which he was a member, paid tributes to the memory of Col. Robert G. Ingersoll, at the opening of the September term of the Circuit Court here. Addresses were delivered by Judge Worthington and others. The committee on resolutions appointed some time ago reported and their resolutions were placed on the records.

Mining Property Sold.

Indianapolis, Sept. 13.—Col. Ohan Perry, of this city, has telegraphed from Denver, Col., that he has sold the Big Five Mining Company's holdings in Boulder County to a British syndicate for $2,500,000 cash. There are 3,000 stockholders in the Big Five Mining Company, scattered through twenty States. They have expended $500,000 in developing the property.

Mining Deal in Mexico.

City of Mexico, Sept. 13.—Alexander Sheppard, of Washington, D. C., has sold his mining properties in Batopila to an English syndicate for $5,000,000. Mr. Sheppard has six months in which to make the delivery, when he will return to Wasington and take up his residence there.

Three Die of Yellow Fever.

Washington, Sept. 13.—The following death report from Havana has been received at the War Department:

"Death report, Sept. 10th, Havana—Private F. E. Williams, B. 2d Artillery; J. H. Keegan, civilian employe; Henry Lunsford, civilian employe. All died Sept. 9th, yellow fever.

Former Slaves Hold Reunion.

Chattanooga, Sept. 13.—The re-union of former slaves arranged by a committee of local negroes was held at the Auditorium here. Among the speakers were J. Vance Lewis, of Indianapolis, the Rev. D. D. McNairy, of Washington, D. C., and Prof. I. H. Dickerson, of Nashville. After the speaking there was a cake walk.

To Reopen Glass Factories.

Anderson, Ind., Sept. 13.—Work is to be resumed in a number of window glass factories in this city next Friday, and by the end of the month all factories are to be reopened. The supply of window glass on the market is limited, and it is thought prices will be advanced.

Chicago Trust Conference.

Chicago, Sept. 13.—The conference called by the Civic Federation of Chicago, to discuss trusts and combinations, was called to order in Central Music Hall to-day by Franklin N. Head, president of the Federation. Nearly 400 delegates are expected.

Politics Causes Fatal Quarrel.

Leitchfield, Ky., Sept. 13.—J. B. Rudert, Agent of the Illinois Central Railroad, was held in $15,000 bail for shooting a lumberman named Hardiston. The trouble started through a political argument. Hardiston is not expected to live.

Armor for the Wisconsin.

San Francisco, Cal., Sept. 13.—The armor for the battle ship Wisconsin, in course of construction at the Union Iron Works, is now arriving, but the vessel will not be turned over to the government until next spring.

Not to Send Money to Jiminez.

Paris, Sept. 13.—It is authoritatively denied that the Credit Lyonnais has offered to lend Jiminez, the aspirant to the Presidency of Santo Domingo, the sum of $2,000,000. The story is said to be entirely without foundation.

Social obligations lead to the keeping of late hours. Dining is done at a time when the stomach should be at rest, and the food and drink are of a character so rich that digestive disorders are sure to follow. A brilliant and fashionable society woman of St. Louis recently said: "In consequence of late hours and late suppers I would often be possessed next day of that 'tired feeling' I have read so much about. Because I would not arise until late, my regular exercise was neglected, and I ate irregularly at home also. Eventually I developed a large sized case of indigestion, and, aside from the suffering it caused me, it rendered me, with my nervous temperament, exceedingly irritable. It was at my sister's suggestion that I tried Ripans Tabules, but they accomplished all I could have wished; and now, whenever I am feeling badly or have been irregular about my meals, I always take a Ripans and, as a result, I constantly enjoy the best of health."

[illegible] TEN RIPANS TABULES in a paper carton (without glass) is now for sale at some drug stores throughout the United States, or a dozen cartons can be had by remitting forty-eight cents to the RIPANS CHEMICAL COMPANY, No. 10 Spruce Street, New York—or a single carton (TEN TABULES) will be sent for five cents.

THE MOLINEUX CASE.

Latest Developments of New York's Murder Mystery.

New York, Sept. 13.—If Roland Burnham Molineux is convicted of the murder of Mrs. Kate J. Adams it will kill his mother. Around this little refined woman centres all of the pathos of this most celebrated case. From the hour that it was at first announced that Molineux was the suspected murderer the mother's heart has been torn by all the harrowing and conflicting emotions that a mother can endure.

She is now broken in health, nervous to the degree of a collapse, distrustful and doubting, fearful lest the child of her should be proven guilty. But without there is a ray of hope for her, born of the belief that her son is innocent and will be able to clear himself.

Few who attended the coroner's inquest know that Mrs. Molineux was the petite, veiled figure which sat shrouded in black beside the accused man's wife while she was testifying.

The strain of that ordeal told on the mother, and she has never been the same since. She is now a very ill woman.

There are certain ends of the case against Molineux which promise to cause a sensation when it is tried in December. In the first place General Benjamin F. Tracy will be associated in the defence of Molineux. Second, Bartow S. Weeks has been personally gathering up Cornish's reputation. He has visited Boston, Philadelphia, Pittsburg and Chicago, and he has testimony which, he declares, will discredit Cornish. The next new fact in the case is that Assistant District Attorney Osborne believes that he has at last found a motive for the crime.

When Cornish was on the stand before the Coroner he swore under oath that he did not know Mrs. Molineux, formerly Blanche Chesebrough. Molineux declared that Cornish knew his wife well. Mrs. Roland Molineux also contradicted Cornish. Herein, it is asserted, lies the suggestion of motive for which the Molineux defence has been searching. It will be held that Cornish swore as he did it to save the woman.

Another feature of the case, as it now stands, is that Assistant District Attorney Osborne wants a special jury panel to draw upon for the trial of the case.

His Spite Wall.

Madison, N. J., Sept. 13.—It is believed that H. M K. Twombley has gone into the "spite" business. He has had erected a long and high brick wall along the Morristown pike in front of the residence of ex-Congressman Enos Wilder. Mr. Twombley once had a real estate deal with Mr. Wilder and got the worst of it, so they say, and the fence is due to that. It shuts off a fine view across the Twombley estates and has depreciated the Wilder estate in value. The wall is a veritable prison barricade. Residents of the town are indignant, but they are powerless.

Provisions for Porto Rico.

Washington, Sept. 13.—The Commissary Department of the army will ship 1,000 tons of provisions to Porto Rico. If contributions do not make up this amount the department will authorize the purchase of enough stores to cover the deficiency. For the next shipment there have been contributed nearly 350 tons of provisions.

Dreyfus Is Very Ill

Paris, Sept. 13.—The Figaro prints a statement that Dr. Pozzi, Dreyfus's physician, reports that the prisoner is so ill that he may not live many weeks. According to the report milk is now the only nourishment he is able to take. The Figaro says that the particulars regarding Dreyfus's poor health have been communicated to the Government.

London, Sept. 13.—The activity in the War and Admiralty offices continues. It is said that orders have been sent to America for light iron girders and bridge sections for probable use in South Africa. Transports are moving to the docks preparatory to embarking troops.

There is Unrest in Spain.

Barcelona, Sept. 13.—The discontent over the new taxes continues. Carlist plots have been discovered in the neighboring villages and the surrounding heights have been invested by the Civil Guards.

NEW YORK MARKETS.

New York, Sept. 13.

In view of the rather unsettled condition of yesterday's stock market, it was to have been expected that the announcement of the sudden death of Mr. Cornelius Vanderbilt would have exerted some further disturbed effect upon speculative sentiment. However, the declines were very little more extensive than those that appeard in the same period of the trading yesterday. New York Central, the stock which theoritically should have been the most seriously affected by Mr. Vanderbilt's death, was very steady, but there were declines all through the list.

Byron married Miss Maybank to get money to pay his debts. It turned out a bad shift.

Robert Burns married a farm girl, with whom he fell in love when they worked together in the plowfield.

Peter the Great of Russia married a peasant girl. She made an excellent wife and a sagacious Empress.

Queen Victoria and Prince Albert were cousins, and about the only examples in the long life of English monarchs wherein sincere affection existed.

Edward Lytton Bulwer, the English statesman and novelist, married a girl much his inferior in position and got a shrew for a wife. Of course, he was unhappy.

Washington married a woman with two children. It was enough to say that she was worthy of him, and they lived as married folks should—in perfect harmony.

BOERS WILL SEIZE MINES

President Kruger Has Received England's Reply in the Transvaal Dispute.

PRICES ARE ADVANCING

All of the Necessaries of Life Held at Almost Unpurchasable Figures at Cape Town.

Officially Announced That the Law Confiscating Mines Owned By Persons Accused of Treason Will Be Again Enforced—Pretoria in State of Great Excitement.

Pretoria, Sept. 13.—The despatch from Colonial Secretary Chamberlain regarding England's position on the Transvaal question, which was formulated and sent from London after last Friday's meeting of the British Cabinet, has been handed to President Kruger.

It is officially announced that the law confiscating mines owned by persons accused of high treason will be again enforced. The Transvaal Government will take charge of such mines and work them after they have been closed for a certain length of time.

The note sent by the British Cabinet is as follows:

"It proposes a five years' franchise, a quarter representation for the gold fields in the Volksraad, equality for the British and Dutch in the Volksraad, and equality for the old and new burghers in regard to presidential and other elections.

"If these conditions are accepted a conference between representatives of the two governments shall follow, for the purpose of drafting the necessary measures and of avoiding the introduction of unnecessary conditions by the Transvaal Government or the possibility of the passage of any new bills calculated to defeat the reforms.

" 'In view of the fact,' the note goes on to say, 'that the present state of affairs in South Africa cannot be prolonged, the definite acceptance of this proposal is demanded without delay. Otherwise Her Majesty's Government will immediately take the whole situation under reconsideration and will act so as to bring about a settlement."

Prices Are Advancing.

London, Sept. 13.—The Pall Mall Gazette's despatch from Cape Town says that prices for foodstuffs and other necessaries of life are going up at an alarming rate on the Raad. Famine threatens persons remaining at Pretoria and Johannesburg. The feeling of disgust caused by the flight of the Outlander leaders is becoming more pronounced.

Brought Guns and Ammunition.

Lorenzo Marquez, Sept. 13.—The Union Line Steamship Greek, which sailed from Southampton on Aug. 5, has arrived here with 539 cases of ammunition.

The steamship Dunolly Castle, which sailed from London on Aug. 3 and Madeira on Aug. 9 for Natal and Mauritius, has landed eight cases of ammunition and five cases of rifles.

Cow Dies of Hydrophobia.

Orange, N. J., Sept. 13.—A cow belonging to James O'Day of West Orange, has died from hydrophobia. The cow was bitten on August 26 by the dog which also attacked the three children of Adam Dieffenbach. The children are being treated in the Pasteur Institute, in New York. The two boys practically are out of danger, and their treatment will end on Sunday. The little girl is not progressing so well, however.

New Works for Switch Company.

Chicago, Sept. 13.—The American Switch Company contemplates in the near future the erection of a new $1,000,000 plant in Chicago. The company already has taken in several Chicago companies, and two or three more will be abolished within the next few weeks.

Fire Causes Stampede.

Chicago, Sept. 13.—The Cody and Austin apartment buildings in the suburb of Austin were destroyed by fire. Eighteen families occupied the flats on the upper floors and most of the occupants were forced to leave the blazing structure without even taking time to dress.

Must Pay Their Own Expenses.

Charleston, W. Va., Sept. 13.—The Governor's and the brigade staff of the National Guard will have to pay their own expenses to the Dewey reception in New York. The Governor declines to use his contingent fund for the purpose.

On Their Way to Manila.

Chicago, Sept. 13.—Six special trains, carrying the 26th United States Volunteer Infantry, recruited at Plattsburg, N. Y., passed through here on the way to San Francisco. The regiment will sail for Manila on Sept. 20.

Child Eats Strychnine Tablets.

Rochester, N. Y., Sept. 13.—The two-year-old daughter of Fred B. Keeney of Angelica, ate sevral strychnine tablets which she found on a shelf, and died a few hours later.

For Mayor of New Orleans.

New Orleans, Sept. 13.—Paul Capedeville has been nominated by the Democrats for Mayor of New Orleans.

Arc lamps are preferable to the incandescent burners in electric illumination for certain crowded rooms and damp, ill-smelling basements and cellars, according to an authority in hygiene. The arc lamp has a strong deodorizing action, either by virtue of the light, the ozone or the emission of vapors. In many cases it has been found that the lighting of an arc lamp in an offensive basement soon dissipates the objectionable odors.

Somerset Park Murder.

Somerset county is confronted with another murder, a tragical climax that is out of all proportion to the trivial affair in which the passion, obstinancy and ignorance of a woman ran rough shod over the rights of law and life. The officials of Somerset have had to deal in recent years with several murders, but none more terrible than the one enacted at Somerset Park yesterday afternoon.

That the crime should have been committed by a woman, following the implied instructions of an irate husband who little thought of the fatality that his reckless words would involve, makes it worse than any other murder which has been committed in this vicinity in years.

For crimes in which there was no more aggravation than in this one men have paid the penalty by expiating their lives on the gallows in Somerset county within three years. This was the result of the stern view of the value of life taken by the sturdy inhabitants of that bailiwick, who, by meting out the severest penalty that the law permits, sought to hold out an awful fate to others who might be impelled to do likewise.

But what will be the woman's fate?

The Elizabeth Journal takes a very pleasant view of our esteemed townsman, Senator Charles A. Reed, and avers that anything in the Republican party in Somerset county is his for the asking. The Journal declares that if he wants to go back to the State Senate, he can go with a hurrah; or, if he wants to go to Washington as a Congressman, Somerset G. O. P. followers will be redhot for him in that capacity. Our Elizabeth contemporary says that "it is generally conceded that no one in the county can secure as many Republican votes as Senator Reed, no matter what office he runs for." We wonder what the Hon. Mr. Thompson has to say to this latter observation.

QUADRIGA OF DEWEY ARCH.

The beautiful piece to surmount the Dewey triumphal arch in New York is the work of J. Q. A. Ward, one of America's foremost sculptors. It is a huge quadriga, representing Victory drawn by four sea horses. It is 40 feet wide and 30 feet high. The arch, when completed, will be 75 feet wide and 95 feet high. The illustration also shows the famous sculptor at work upon the model of the quadriga in his New York studio.

From what can be learned almost every obstacle has been removed from the path of the proposed ordinance granting a franchise to the Plainfield Street Railway to operate a trolley on Arlington avenue. It has been the desire of the Mayor and Council as well as the Corporation Counsel and the trolley company to install this road without a single good and reasonable objection. It was for this reason, mainly, that the ordinance was not introduced last Monday night. It is now believed that almost all of the important legal objections have been removed and that little, if any trouble, will be experienced in building the road.

Editor Runyon, of the News, takes his discharge as correspondent for the New York Herald too much to heart. Brace up, old man, and try to live it down. We know that when the Herald gave you the G. B. it was an awful calamity, but we presume the dear public, in which you profess so much interest, will try to get along in the same old way. Meanwhile try to outgrow your swaddling clothes.

PASSING COMMENT

Things that Are Not Exactly News but Just as Interesting.

E. C. Woodruff and former Alderman Halsey, of Elizabeth, are making arrangements to fly by kites the largest flag ever raised in Elizabeth when Admiral Dewey returns home. Had it not been for the destruction by the tornado of the First Presbyterian church steeple in Elizabeth, the flag would probably have been flung to the breeze from the top of that historic revolutionary edifice; but now it will float much higher, if the necessary arrangements can be perfected, and of this the projectors have no doubt, if the weather is at all favorable.

THEATRICAL.

Current Dramatic Attractions That Plainfielders Can Witness.

The "Two Jolly Rovers," Leonard's new musical comedy, will make their first appearance here at Music Hall Friday night. Mr. Leonard has associated himself with Sherman Wade, and between these two versatile comedians there should be a happy blend as far as funny sayings and comical situations are concerned. Miss Mazie King is also one of the company. This young lady is without doubt one of the greatest, if not the greatest, tip-toe dancers in the world. Miss King dances figures with much more ease than an ordinary dancer does in the natural way. Beautiful women, gorgeous costumes, magnificent scenery and a strong company of comedians, constitute the "Two Jolly Rovers" Company, and the public have the assurance that at every performance there will be a treat for the musical ear, a delightful hour for the lover of fun, and a most enjoyable evening for every admirer of fresh, crisp and novel farce.

* * * * *

If we know a thing is artificial, even if put upon the stage for our pleasure, we take more or less delight in it, but ever with the consciousness that it is artificial; but "Way Down East" brings tears naturally, and stirs up every natural and noble emotion without strain, and one feels his better-nature made purer, sweeter and better for witnessing this healthful and truthful portrayal of life. "Way Down East" will be presented for the first time in this city at the Stillman Music Hall, Tuesday, Sept. 19th.

Sally Must Keep the Peace.

Sally Staples, of South Plainfield, was committed to the Middlesex county jail Saturday by Justice A. L. Storms to keep the peace The complaint was made by Rosa Purnell. Sally couldn't give bonds and had to go to jail. Yesterday she was discharged by order of the Justice.

SOMETHING ABOUT CARPETS.

The carpet season is here again, and as usual we are ready for it with what we claim is not only the largest, but the most carefully selected stock ever offered the people of this community. A marked reaction has taken place in the carpet business, viz: An increased demand for better grades. People have made the discovery that we made years ago, that good carpets are always cheapest. Our fall stock has been selected with this in view. We are showing a higher grade of carpets than ever before in the history of our business, and the readiness with which our customers are responding to same is most gratifying. We select the best patterns from the most reliable makers only and satisfaction is guaranteed in every particular.

Moquettes, Axminster, Saronneries in the latest designs, the richest colorings and most pleasing effects. Tapestries and velvets in beautiful patterns. All particularly good for parlor and dining room. An unusually good assortment of all-wool Ingrains, suitable for bedrooms, etc. Reversible, they will give splendid service. Our line of church carpets we consider superior to that of most N. Y. City stores. Cocoa mattings for public buildings. It comes in plain and striped patterns.

Ingrain Art Squares, Jute Smyrna art squares, all-wool Smyrna rugs, Royal Wilton rugs, Mouquette rugs, Cocoa mats, Rubber mats, etc., etc. Cocoa mats with rubber ends for piazzas made to order. Shades made to order and ready made. Contracts made for furnishing whole houses.

Lace curtains, Portierres, tapestries, furniture coverings, rug fringes, sash curtains, curtain poles and fixtures, brass rods, stair pads and everything else in curtain fixtures.

Our assortment of Linoleums and Oil Cloths, we feel safe in saying, is far above the average. We handle only goods we can recommend. We employ only the most experienced workmen, and all carpet laying, oil cloth fitting and shade hanging is done in the best possible manner.

About Furniture.

If all the young people who have been getting married lately or who expect to be married in the near future will call on us we will agree to save them a snug sum on Furniture. We are in a position to sell Furniture cheap. Same is true of Bedding, Crockery and housefurnishings in general.

THINGS THAT INTEREST SCOTCH PLAINS AND DUNELLEN.

Brief and Terse Observations Gathered by Alert Press Reporters to be Perused at the Supper Table at Your Leisure

DUNELLEN.

(Special Correspondence of The Daily Press.)

Dunellen, Sept. 13.—Letters for the following persons are advertised at the postoffice: Mrs. E. Somerby, Lizzie Lane, John Vandervoort.

Job DeCamp, of Newark, is a guest at Taylor's Hotel. Mr. DeCamp is a great sufferer from rheumatism and he comes to Dunellen for treatment. He is accompanied by Mrs. Harry DeCamp, his daughter-in-law.

Abe Smalley and family will move to town soon and occupy the residence of Augustus Todd on Front street, which was recently vacated by the family of Mr. Hollingshead, of the steel works.

Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Taylor and Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Winges, who have been enjoying a drive through the eastern portion of Pennsylvania for ten days, have returned home.

Miss Minnie VanMiddlesworth and Miss Emma Smalley spent Tuesday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. William Dunham, "Shady Dell," New Market.

Contractor William Fairrer has a car load of flag stone here and is prepared to lay a number of stone sidewalks about town.

Miss May Taylor has returned from Boonton, where she has been visiting her aunt, Mrs. Thomas Parker.

Fred Warden went gunning for squirrels Monday and succeeded in shooting fourteen.

Mr. and Mrs. James McElvare and family are visiting friends at Roycefield.

The Central Dunellen band will meet this evening for practice in Apgar Hall.

Lud Frazee is painting H. L. Terry's new house.

Albert Giddes is enjoying his annual vacation.

'PLAINS AND FAIRWOOD.

(Special Correspondence of The Press.)

Scotch Plains, Sept. 13—Miss Sadie Reger entertained a number of her friends at a social evening gathering at her home on Front street last evening. The evening was passed very pleasantly playing games and in social talk, after which refreshments were served. Those present thoroughly enjoyed the evening spent together, and it will remain a pleasent memory to all. Those present beside Miss Reger's associates in the school were a number of her Westfield friends, who drove over.

Charles Embleton, of Westfield, who has been a contestant in the two races held in town, is fast gaining a universal reputation as a mean rider. In the race of last Saturday he deliberately attempted to throw Chapin who had tacked on to his rear wheel and refused to be shook. Chapin was too quick to be caught and escaped a bad fall, but Embleton said he would throw him before the race was over. This is not the sport people want to see and Embleton will gain no friends by this method.

Some complaints are heard about the condition of some of the side streets through the town. Tin cans, bottles and old rubbish in general are thrown into the streets by the residents. Something should be done to abate this nuisance.

Fanwood Council, No. 744, R. A., held an important meeting in their rooms last evening. One candidate was initiated into the mysteries of the order.

Mrs. Cass Acheson, of Hazlet, this State, has returned to her home after a pleasant visit with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Clark.

Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Jimerson, of Westfield, were the guests of their daughter, Mrs. George W. Marsh, last evening.

Mrs. Albert Darby, of Plainfield, was the guest of her mother, Mrs. John R. Marsh, yesterday.

Mr. and Mrs. William Maguire have been entertaining relatives from New York for a week.

Mrs. William Bacon, of Plainfield, spent Tuesday with her father, Robert Walpole.

Mrs. John Ford spent Tuesday with friends in Plainfield.

THE STORY OF A WOOING

How a Rich Russian Prince Won the Heart of U. S. Grant's Favorite Granddaughter.

BY ETHEL DE VERE.

The marriage of Miss Julia Dent Grant to Prince Michael Cantacuzene, which is to take place in Newport on Sept. 25, will be the most brilliant wedding from a social standpoint that has taken place in this country for many years. Perhaps there will be no such lavish display as marked the Castellane-Gould nuptials, but the ceremony at the Beaulieu cottage will be attended by a gathering of such scores of distinguished people—still gazing at the spectacle from a society vantage point—as even the greatest of American watering places has never seen.

Miss Grant is the eldest daughter of General Fred Grant, who comes back from the Philippines to attend the ceremony. She is the granddaughter of General U. S. Grant. She was born in the White House and when a young girl was often referred to as "The Daughter of the Republic."

Her affianced husband is a rich Russian noble who is not only a prince, but a count and the head of one of the oldest and wealthiest families within all the wide realm of "the Great White Czar."

Just how it has come about that a plain American girl, who is not even a great heiress, is to become a Russian princess, is an interesting and fascinating story. If told by Mrs. Potter Palmer, who is Miss Grant's aunt, and who knows more about the details of this international courtship than any one else except Miss Grant and her prince, it would take on the dignity of a romance. But even the bare outlines of the story are such as to hold the interest.

But first you must know that Julia Dent Grant can hardly be reckoned as a plain American. She has had advantages such as few American girls ever dream of. One of these is that she has been for years the special protegee of an aunt who is recognized to be the most powerful and skillful social diplomat in all America and a great match maker in the bargain.

Miss Grant is tall and of stately figure. She has dark eyes, which a poetic admirer likened to brown pansies. Her hair the same admirer compared with the tresses of the night. Her complexion is olive. Her smile is a delight. She is not as vivacious as the average American girl, but she has unusual grace and dignity, acquired chiefly when her father was minister to Austria and his 17-year-old daughter was known in the fashionable court life of Vienna. She attended many official receptions and was presented at court. It was between the ages of 14 and 18 years that Miss Grant lived at Vienna.

She is a fine linguist. She speaks French and German with fluency. She has much of the charm of manner that distingnishes one of her aunts, Mrs. Potter Palmer, and much of the loveableness of another, Mrs. Nellie Grant Sartoris.

"Little Miss Sunshine," as she was called by her grandfather in the days when he used to trot her on his knee, is 23 years old now. She has had three winters in New York society, three summers at Newport and one summer at Bar Harbor. At odd times she has been a favorite in Washington's cosmopolitan society since her debut.

She has had many admirers. Bob Gerry, the son of Elbridge T. Gerry, was one of the most conspicuous in the American list. But there were two kinglings in her train. One was big blond, Teutonic Prince Albert of Belgium, who will one day be ruler of the Belgians.

His attentions were very marked. But the Newport season of which Mrs. Potter Palmer was the bright particular star because of the attentions of the Belgian prince to her niece passed without the expected announcement of an engagement. The gossips declared that General Grant's granddaughter had thrown away the chance to be a queen.

Then came the Count of Turin, Prince Victor Emmanuel, nephew of King Humbert of Italy. It will be remembered that shortly after the Count of Turin arrived in New York he went to Washington. Miss Grant was then visiting the Hengelmullers of the Austrian legation. Herr Hengelmuller presented the count to Miss Grant. The Italian was most attentive. He appeared at Newport soon after Miss Grant joined her aunt there. He declared himself bored by all entertainments except those given by Mrs. Palmer or others at which he met Mrs. Palmer's lovely niece. When Miss Grant came to New York, he came too. But by and by he went away, disappointed and dejected, to continue his trip around the world.

So you see that when Mrs. Potter Palmer went to Rome last January the beautiful young woman who accompanied her and who called her "auntie" was not so ingenuous and inexperienced in affairs of the heart as she seemed.

On Feb. 1 they were driving through the Eternal City when they met the Russian embassador going in state to the Quirinal. Among the military attaches there rode a tall, handsome young man of imperial bearing. He wore the uniform of a lieutenant of the Imperial guards. He looked with respectful admiration at the younger of the women in the carriage.

The next evening he asked his host to be sure to present him to every American woman at the ball. He met them—fair, dark, stout, thin, short, tall—and still there was a look of disappointment in his eyes. The last lady to whom he was presented proved to be the object of his anxious quest.

"Miss Grant," murmured the host, "his highness Prince Cantacuzene Comte Speransky desires to be presented."

The prince called every day for a week. Then Mrs. Palmer decided to go to Cannes. It was a great disappointment to the prince. But he was a resourceful young man and proved equal to the emergency. He is a skilled diplomat, although only 25 years old, and diplomats were ever successful lovers.

Prince Michael Cantacuzene applied for a special leave of absence from his duties as military attache of the Russian embassy at Rome. It is a fashion common to young diplomats. He excused himself on the plea that he wished to join the party of the Grand Duke Sergius, with whom he wanted to discuss some minor matter of state.

The Grand Duke Sergius happened to be at Cannes. Accordingly Prince Cantacuzene appeared in Cannes the day after the "unexpected pleasure" and "imperative orders from St. Petersburg to join the grand duke." Notwithstanding the "imperative orders from St. Petersburg," the Grand Duke Sergius saw little of Prince Cantacuzene. Had he been a sensitive gentleman he might have felt the slight, but everybody knows the grand duke isn't. He only pulled his long mustache and smiled.

Mrs. Potter decided to leave Cannes as suddenly as she had left Rome. This time the grand duke was not available, and the prince followed them to Paris. His excuse this time was not diplomacy, but love.

All through the spring the courtship continued, and at last, one May morning, the prince sent a very important cablegram to General Fred D. Grant in Chicago. He had cabled a request for the hand of "Little Sunshine." The answer was favorable.

The engagement was simultaneously announced in Chicago and Paris. "There is really very little to say about the engagement," said Fred Grant. "I received a cablegram from Paris asking me to give my consent to the engagement between Prince Cantacuzene and my daughter, and I replied that there was no objection to it so far as I knew. I have known Prince Cantacuzene's family for 20 years."

Mrs. Potter Palmer, who is responsible for Miss Grant's career in society, has no daughter of her own, and since the bringing out of her niece four years ago she has put her forward in society as though she were her own child. Miss Grant's mother is the sister of Mrs. Palmer, who was before her marriage to the western millionaire in 1871 Miss Bertha Honore.

There has been a great deal of gossip about the dower which Miss Grant will receive at her marriage. Her father, Brigadier General Frederick Dent Grant, is far from being a rich man. He has only his officer's pay to live upon and the income from certain small holdings. His only son, Ulysses III, is now at West Point.

It is whispered that the dower which goes with Miss Grant will be bestowed by Potter Palmer and that the sum will be the interest upon $100,000. Of course a settlement is absolutely necessary when a foreign marriage is arranged, and it is only natural that the Palmers should settle a considerable amount upon the young woman whose past they have so carefully guided.

POINTS ON CALLING.

RULES OF ETIQUETTE THAT ENGLISH WOMEN FOLLOW.

The Complicated System of Exchanging Visits Produced by the Formal British Civilization—Society in Its Highest State of Development.

One of the points in question is whether, after having been present at a wedding reception, or even having received an invitation to one, it is necessary to call upon the parents of the bride from whom it was received. As a rule it is so, and cards should be left as after any other entertainment. Calls are not expected from comparative strangers, and those coming under this head should merely leave cards within the week, unless the reception was held at a hotel, in which case cards should be left on the following day if convenient, that they may be received previous to departure.

Again, a very generous inquiry is—on the part of young brides—how bridal calls should be returned. It seems almost superfluous to say the rules that apply to ordinary calling are equally in force on these occasions, and the bride should follow them as any other married lady would do. It is quite an obsolete idea to suppose that a bride must remain at home day after day to receive those who may happen to call. On the contrary, the up-to-date bride allows her acquaintances to take their chance of finding her at home or not, and returns the calls she has received in due course as quickly as may be. She takes up the life she intends leading from the moment of her return, and does not give herself the penance of an enforced stay within doors during each afternoon of week following week until all possible callers have been duly received. She does not wish to show her wedding presents as the majority of her friends have already seen them; she does not intend offering wedding cake to callers, as it is not the fashion to do so; and she prefers to make engagements for herself for each day.

Change of address occasions no little uncertainly in the matter of calling upon those to whom calls are not due and from whom they are expected. In this case it is usual to leave cards merely, without asking if those called upon are at home, and to pencil the words, "Change of address," at the top of the cards. It is a useful plan as it draws attention to the new address printed upon the cards, or the new address, through which a pencil mark is drawn. When those to whom calls are due are "at home" the change of address should be mentioned in the course of conversation, and the husband's cards should also bear it.

It should be an understood thing that calls of inquiry made during illness require the recognition of return cards of thanks being duly left—this as regards acquaintances rather than intimate friends—and after convalescence, until cards have been received or calls paid, further calls should be deferred. Also, it may be mentioned that cards of inquiry and sympathy when a death in a family has taken place should not be left until after the funeral

The usual length of an ordinary call should not exceed twenty minutes. Intimate friends naturally remain longer, from half to three-quarters of an hour or more, but even in this case one intimate friend of the hostess should not outstay another, if that other is a later arrival, with whom the hostess has much in common, and with whom she might desire a little private conversation. There are eccentric people who will remain for three hours, oblivious of the fact that they are outstaying their welcome by two hours and a half. These exceptional callers require a little judicious reminding of the fact, and it rests with the host or hostess to do this effectually with some good natured and appropriate remark. The late Lord——, an elderly gentleman, well known in society, frequently tried the patience of his friends by extending the afternoon call far into the evening beyond the dinner hour, following his host into the dining room, not to dine, only to talk; he was impervious to any hints, and remained until it pleased him to take his leave. There are, however, but few people desirous of emulating such notoriety.

Blow at Petticoats.

Our English cousins may take the credit of giving the long-reverenced petticoat its first blow when they instituted riding trousers. The trousers gave birth to knickers and tights, the former in silk, satin and woollen fabric, the latter in silk, cotton and wool, for day wear. French and American women never gave up their loyalty to petticoats until the bicycling craze made knickers indispensable; but since they discovered the grace and comfort of clothing themselves in such a simple, sensible garment, and realized how much it conduced to beauty of figure lines, knickers have grown tremendously popular. Ultra smart women are ordering exquisitely colored lining-satin and foulard knickers, to wear with long, clinging house-gown skirts, which have frills both inside and out, in order to ripple and trail the ground with grace.

Women and Disarmament.

On the principle that the hand that rocks the cradle rules the world, a French paper has lent its columns in support of a woman's movement for the disarmament of the armies of the earth. The scheme is to bring up children to hate everything military.

WITH THE FILIPINOS

A CORRESPONDENT'S IMPRESSIONS OF SOCIETY THERE.

A Swell Ball—The First Supper—No Formal Presentation—Dancing Not Lively—The Second Supper and the Finale—Nightmare and Indigestion

Senor R——, a tall and distinguished looking Mestizo of fifty years or so to whom I had been introduced during one of the intermissions at my first bullfights, had courteously extended an invitation to me to make one of the English-speaking guests at a "balle," which would take place at his "casa" the following evening. Senor R—— was rich and influential, a "captain" of a pueblo, well educated and a power in the community, and I was told that the invitation was something of an honor, as his acquaintance was a thing to cultivate. On the strength of his position and dignity, he adopted the European form of dress; that is, he tucked his shirt inside his trousers and wore a jacket and necktie.

Upon entering the "sala" we were greeted by our genial host, who extended a box of "Imperial" cigars with his left hand, while he shook hands with his right. He assured me that the house, grounds and all contained therein were mine and at my disposal hence forth and forever; a privileged possession which it was very evident I was to share with each and every guest who arrived. At his side stood a bamboo table, heaped with dainty little Chinese fans, one of which each comer was supposed to take, use during the evening, and retain as a memento of the occasion.

I supposed the next thing to do was to hunt up my hostess, the Senora R——, and pay my respects, but my English friends assured me that it was not expected just then. "She's somewhere in the crowd," they said, "any time will do. The dining-room is the next thing. Old R—— would be hurt if we didn't take something to begin with."

So we filed into the dining-room. A huge table stood in the middle, covered with heaping dishes of cake, candy, slabs of crumbly sugar from China, pickles of every conceivable kind, and bottles of wine and liquor, including a generous supply of Scotch and American whisky.

The room was filled with male guests of variegated shades of complexion and arrayed in any kind of costume, from black jackets to the simple shirt with tails flapping outside white trousers. All were eating, drinking (very moderately, considering the supply), smoking and greeting each other with gleaming teeth and hearty handclasps. Our entry was the signal for a burst of cordiality, and all hands moved up to the table and joined the "Ingleses" in "taking something." The idea of eating at this stage of the proceedings struck me as being odd, to say the least, but I had become so used to finding the natural order of things reversed in the Far East that I ate without comment.

I had been told that to come in a regulation dress-suit would be a marked solecism; so, not caring to go in the ordinary white linen of business, I fished up and wore a black cutaway and pique waistcoat, with gray trousers, and the result was that I nearly had heat-apoplexy, though it was a fairly cool evening.

(Filipino Shield, Sword and Battle Axe)

Most of my English friends scattered in search of partners, advising me to do the same, with the information that formal presentation was unnecessary; rather bad form, in fact.

"Just say 'Quiere usted bailar?' (Does your grace wish to dance?) and she will be as pleased as Punch to dance with an 'Americano,'"

I was still exercised in spirit over my neglected duty to my hostess, so, just to set my mind at rest, one of the fellows took me up to her. She was a very brown lady, rather tall and slender for a Filipno, and dressed in the native costume—brilliant plaid skirt, black silk overskirt, white waist and stiffly starched, beautifully embroidered mantilio of the famous pina lace, made in the convents—but she bowed and smiled with the air of a duchess, said a few words in Spanish, which I did not understand, and then waved me with a much-bejewelled hand and arm toward a group of damsels, chattering in liquid Tegalan. My knowledge of Spanish was limited at that time, but I summoned my wits, approached the girl nearest me, and, after making my best Papanti bow, said what must have sounded like "Kerry oostay bily?" She understood, however, and jumped up directly, beaming all over. The musicians were playing a waltz, and in a moment more I found myself "threading the mazes" with the best dancer I had ever met in my life, at home or abroad. The ease with which she adapted herself to my none too graceful steps and the lightness with which she herself danced were revelations to me, but I afterward discovered that all the girls danced fully as well as she, the wonderful musical ear which is a characteristic of all Philippine natives, and the fact that they were unhampered by tight dresses, easily accounting for the phenomenon.

The waltz being over, I found myself somewhat at a loss for conversation. The only Spanish phrases I could recall were those to the effect that "The cat chases the rat," "The father eats the bread of the baker," and other particularly idotic platitudes derived from my Spanish grammar. Not wishing to create an impression of feeble-mindedness, I abstained from making any of the above remarks; but after much brain effort I ventured upon one which seemed to me to possess at least the merit of conventionality, and succeeded in saying that it had been a splendid day. It occurred to me afterward that, in view of the fact that there had not been a cloud in the sky since the October monsoon had set in, and probably wouldn't be until February this observation might have seemed to be lacking in that wit and brilliancy calculated to make a favorable impression.

At any rate, my companion, after a moment's hesitation, replied "Si senor," and then as the music for another dance struck up she said something about an "otro senor," and unceremoniously detached herself and walked off. She probably told her girl friends afterward that it was perfectly true that Americans and Englishmen were all lunatics—a popular theory in the Far East.

About midnight the music ceased and all hands marched out into the garden. I then realized that the supper which had gone before was a mere appetizer to what was to come. Two very long tables were set out on the lawn, under a sort of tent arrangement covered with every imaginable kind of food which the islands or their neighbors could produce; a whole course dinner, in fact; soup, fish, entrees roasts, game, pastry, ice cream, mountains of fruit, regiments of bottles, and confectionery al lib. It was a case of first come, first served. Each guest secured a seat, ate his or her fill, and then rose to give place to the next comer. They have a troublesome habit out there of serving the fish last, after the sweets, and as the Philippine fish are particularly delicious it is most provoking to have one offered you after you have succeeded in stuffing yourself to repletion.

Everybody was satisfied at last, and then there was a general handshaking and bidding of "buenas noches" mingled with more offers of cigars from Senor R——, and repeated assurances to each guest that the house and everything connected with it was his or hers, and his or hers only, forever and a day. Then I drove home and had nightmare and indigestion for a week.

IN HAWAII.

A Volcano at Work and the Joys of a Cottage Life.

The following are parts of a letter received recently by a lady from a bachelor girl in Honolulu.

"Since writing you last, I have visited the volcano, which I suppose you already know broke out on July 4, whether to celebrate the first Fourth in Hawaii befittingly or whether Mme. Pele chose to display her wrath at the change of government in this manner is a much disputed question, and the solution depends upon the fact of whether you are annexationist or anti-annexationist in your sentiments. As I happened to have a week's vacation at the time, I seized the opportunity and rushed off with the rest of the sheep to Hilo. The little island steamer was more than crowded, and the decks were covered with sleepers for whom stateroom accommodations could not be had. When we landed at Hilo the next night we found the hotel crowded and people sleeping four in a room. At the Volcano House there were accommodations for sixty guests and 150 arrivals. It was like a political convention in a country town, and I rather enjoyed the novelty of the thing.

There was little to see here, as we could not descend into the pit, which from the edge looked like a big round hole with an asphalt floor. We got home in time for dinner, and very soon after dinner were called outside to see the eruption. It looked like a bonfire on the mountain top thirty miles away. I had to confess to lively disappointment after all the fantastic stories I had heard in regard to its beauties, and some friends whom I met there tried to raise a certain pitch of enthusiasm in me by saying, "But think what it is." Thinking what it was didn't make it much different from what it looked, and no thrill of awe possessed my unpoetical, irreverent soul until I looked through a telescope and discovered that the flames of my "bonfire" were great fiery fountains in a basin of boiling lava, which rolled over one side, but fortunately not the side near us, so that all we could see of the flow was as it rolled over the side of the cone it had made for itself, to pursue its way down the other side of the mountain, while a warm glow on the sky assured us that it was doing this in good faith and was not shirking. One teeny-weeny glimpse was all that was allowed me, as there were a lot of others waiting for their peeks, but that little insight into the workings of this great force served to clothe it with new garments, so that the "bonfire" passed out of my sight entirely, and when I looked again it was still the magnificent fountain I saw through the telescope.

"I was very much disappointed that I couldn't join a party and go up to the flow, but there were no ladies going, and I couldn't wait over until such a party could be arranged.

"Four other girls and I are enjoying all the delights of a cottage on the beach at Waikiki, hired for a month. It reminds me of Fredie's place at Clairmont, inasmuch as it is rundown country home and we have to put up with all sorts of inconveniences in the midst of past splendors. It is great fun, however, being bachelor maids with no one to remark on our coming-in or going-out, and we have daily dips in grand ocean 'when no one else is using it,' as the Boston girl say. We have all kinds of trouble with cooks, as it is out of town, the kitchen poorly equipped, and a stove that rivals the one which didn't do duty at Clairmont. Each girl takes a week at ordering, and I am happy to say that my week is past without serious damage to either our purses or our health. We expect to come in town next week, where we have already leased a very nice cottage on the majestic slope of Punchbowl, an extinct crater lying north of the town, where we will be at home any time you choose to drop in."

The fecundity of microbes is prodigious, so much so that if fifteen drops of water polluted with bacteria are allowed to fall into a cup of broth the germ population would have increased in twenty-four hours to 80,000,000.

IN THE TRENCHES.

How Those of the Spaniards Differed From the Americans.

The genral run of Spanish trenches differed from the American, in being narrower and deeper. The trenches on San Juan Hill, when the Americans captured it, were about shoulder high, and hardly room enough for a man to turn around. These were evidently made to stand up in only; certainly not to sit in nor to sleep in. For long distance firing and not too long watches they answered the purpose admirably. A Spaniard could lean against the rear wall of his trench and fire from that easy position with right shoulder supported against the bank and his left foot well braced against the forward wall; or for closer work, he could lean forward on the front bank and fire with ease and comfort.

When the Americans took possession of these trenches they generally widened them. Besides this, they put bags of earth on the banks near Santiago to add to their defensive strength.

The American trenches were generally wide but not deep. A lying-down position was the idea in the minds of the Americans. Trenches were therefore dug so as to afford room to stretch at full length, with head to the enemy. As a man was not supposed to stand up, but to fire lying or kneeling down, the Americans dug trenches somewhat shallow, just wide enough to allow a man to sit down, back to the Santiago wall and have his head protected. The earth floor sloped slightly. Gunnybags filled with earth and placed on the front embankment they found a great additional protection. The men poked their rifles through the crevices between the bags and fired with much greater deliberation because head and shoulders were better protected than before. A Mauser bullet would go through twelve inches of hard wood and kill a man on the other side and get lost in one of these bags of earth. The loose dirt would catch it and deflect it and utterly kill its rifling motion, so that it soon came to a rest. No case is on record where a bullet went through a bag or bank of earth, and hurt anybody. The Spanish trenches nearest the city were more like the American, being wide and not deep. This, however, was probably not so much owing to Spanish ideas as to the local conditions. The Spaniards simply took things as they found them, such as reads already in existence.

The long trenches occupied by the Second and Twentieth Infantry and the Ninth Massachusetts Volunteers on the left flank of the line, was a natural gully, once the bed of a tributary of the San Juan River. There were thick bushes in front of the greater length of it. The work there was comparatively light. They had only to shovel in earth for cross embankments and slightly level up the floor to be well fixed. Some of the regulars dug special deep crosscuts for their own particular selves, making them still safer.

Up to the blockhouse on the right of San Juan Hill the Twenty-fifth Infantry (colored) spent days toiling in the hot sun, making over the old Spanish trenches. They widened them and completely covered the front crest with with bags of earth three feet high. When they got through they had the safest trenches in the whole line and the most comfortable.. Here the could cook, eat and sleep with but small danger even under a heavy fire. Indeed, when the Americans had completed their trench work on the hills before Santiago they could have held their position against an immense force. The decisive way in which they repulsed the night attack on July 2, showed what they could do with only partially completed breastworks. Some companies were exceedingly ingenious in application of their ideas of defence. Several bomb-proof roofs were noted over parts of the American line. Presumably the men retired under these when things were coming their way too fast and they could do no good outside. Bamboo poles filled with earth were used to strengthen the line at other places.

The Army Pack Train.

The army mule is the most essential feature of the campaigning, but there are several varieties, and the pack mule is, without doubt, the most unique and intelligent. There are about sixty animals in a full train, and these are led by the patient "bellmare," a steady, well-broken horse that leads the way, and around whose neck a bell is suspended. The sound of this bell is the guide the mules follow, no matter where it leads. They follow blindly, without any other guide, except the urging from the packers who ride other mules along in the train. The animals wear no bridles except, perhaps a halter, and yet they trot along and never stray from the trail. As long as they are with the train they show remarkable intelligence, but once take them away from the rest and they are hopelessly lost. Horses were very scarce during the Santiago campaign, and so a few of the pack animals were impressed into service under the saddle. I was fortunate enough to have one nd he was not the least of my troubles. He was branded wtih a huge "13," and in every one of his adventures he upheld the tradition of that time-honored symbol of bad luck. It was most amusing to see him on the road, as he always imagined that the pack train was just ahead, and at every bend he would crane his neck to see if the rest of the mules were ahead. If he had ever heard a bell that sounded like the one he had been following he would make for it, and no power could stop him. While riding near the front I lived in deadly fear lest some one in the enemy's line should sound a bell. If I ever heard a pack train coming in the opposite direction I had to climb down and anchor him to a tree or he would join them.

A HALLOWED GRAVE

Kind Sir, a Horse Is Dead and Buried.

In the garden of a house at Riccarton, New Zealand, there lies a tombstone, sacred to the memory of Kind Sir, and visible to passengers on the road. It is white and the lettering is carved into the stone, while among the racing stables that have sprung up in the neighborhood within the last few years the resting place of Kind Sir is a hallowed sanctuary.

There is an element of tragedy in the romance which is connected with the spot, but the years have dimmed it, leaving only as the visible sign this white marble, "Sacred to the memory of Kind Sir." It has been so long there that an inn on the other side of the Riccarton road is designated the Cornerstone, and from an iron bar, swung in the northwest wind, which sweeps the white dust of the road in sheets before it, is suspended a painting of the stone and its inscription.

The story is the story of a man's love for a woman, a dainty Lucy with fair hair and pale-blue eyes, and an even greater love for his horse. It was in the early days, and a settler had given his horse to the woman who had given him her love. The man's affection for the horse is still local history, and the dumb faithfulness of Kind Sir is told with tear-dimmed eyes by the grooms and horsemen who go to gaze upon the stone. There is nothing which touches the heart of a horseman so readily as his horse, and the love of this animal and this man was passionate and human. The man owned a section of land beyond the province, and used to ride to Riccarton to meet his betrothed. He was working to clear the place, preparatory to starting a farm, a small holding upon such as in the early days wedded folks were proud to start.

One day the Maoris swept the settlement, and the lover escaped with Kind Sir to the township. Ruined and homeless his two possessions were his horse and his love for the woman at Riccarton. Buoyed up by the love with which a woman's love can inspire a man, he started out again, striking north to the gullies in the mountains in the search for gold, while, as an earnest of his love, he gave his horse, an animal which he loved as largely as he loved the woman, into her keeping. For a time no one saw him; then, in the passage of a year or two, he came back, having crossed the ranges to the West Coast in the search for gold. What he had found was ample for his future needs, and his success created the gold rush to the West Coast. What he met upon his return killed everything. The woman was married, and the horse, proving an encumbrance, was shot. Of the tragedy that followed there are two versions. The one is that the man, finding his horse dead, killed himself; the other that he murdered the woman and shot himself. Whichever is correct, the stone exists in the garden of the house upon the Riccarton road. It lies upon a mound, buried among the silt which the winds have swept from the surface of the road. The township is now a colonial city, but to strangers who visit it the resting place of Kind Sir is always shown, the connecting link between old-time tragedy and the present which has no sign of life. The action of the woman is condemned by those who now tell the story. The horse served her as faithfully as he had served his master, and should have received more gracious treatment. The woman is a shrew in local fame, the horse is a saint; and the grim fierceness which the story arouses against her memory has pathos for those who ride and love their horses.

Carving Set Fit for Giants.

The gigantic carving knife and fork here shown were made by a cutlery concern in New York and will be exhibited by it at the Pan-American Exposition at Buffalo in 1901.

The knife is 9 feet 11 inches long and weighs over 800 pounds. The blade is made of the finest steel and

UNDER FIRE.

Long a Target Gen. MacArthur Has Had Some Wonderful Escapes.

Previous to the assault on Manila, the Astor Battery was stationed behind an old ruined convent, which was subsequently used as an emergency hospital. At 8:05 o'clock Gen. MacArthur arrived at this convent, having traversed a narrow mud road for a distance of half a mile or more, while the road was swept by the fire from the Spanish infantry. In personally transmitting his orders to the battery commander, Gen. MacArthur stood by the roadside in earnest conversation, apparently oblivious to the fact that the bullets were flying all around him, chipping the leaves from the trees and breaking the bamboo stalks which lined both sides of the road. The General's face was calm and as tranquil in expression as though he was passing the time of day instead of ordering a battery into action.

"Capt. March, do you understand those orders?" 'said the General.

"I do, sir."

"Well, go ahead; but you must not lose your guns," was the parting order of Gen. MacArthur, as he turned and mounted his little brown and white pony and rode to the firing line a hundred yards ahead.

When the advance was made on the right of the line the troops were compelled to pass burning Spanish blockhouse 13, and the exploding ammunition was filling the air with whistling shells, which resembled greatly the ping-swiz of a Mauser. As the troops approached the zone covered by the flight of these whistling shells their first impression was that a force of the enemy must have been concealed beyond the blockhouse, and it is an actual fact that one company of infantry dropped into the ditch beside the road and fired two volleys into the burning blockhouse. A number of stragglers at each side of the road were hugging the bushes as closely as possible, believing, no doubt, that they were being fired upon by the Spanih infantry. It was at this stage that Gen. MacArthur came up the road, sitting perfectly upright on his mud-bespattered pony and seemingly unmindful of the shells which filled the air on all sides. Turning to the men huddled by the roadside, he said, "Come on, boys, they'll need you at the front," and that was more than sufficient to start the men past the burning ruins. Through the mud the little pony floundered on, catching the head of the column just before reaching the church at El Paco.

When the Astor Battery reached the crossroads in front of El Paco Church two shots were fired from their 13-inch guns, and then Gen. MacArthur rode out and sat on his horse in the open roadway in front of the guns. Three hundred feet ahead a breastwork was thrown across the road, and on the left side of the road a blockhouse was swarming with infantry on the first and second floors. Through the woods on the right the sharpshooters in the trees were pouring spiteful little chunks of lead, which splashed the mud all around and went ricocheting through the jungle to the left and rear. The American infantry had marched by the right and left flanks and were safely ensconsed beind the church and stone wall, against which the Mausers were tattooing with a disagreeable pang. During all this time Gen. MacArthur sat like a statue in the centre of the crossroads directing the movements of the troops toward the right and left flank. Finally he moved toward the road leading westward in the direction of the bay, and, as he did so, two more 3-inch shells flew down the road toward the fringe of flame which marked the position of the Spanish breatsworks. Again, riding in front of the guns, in a voice as calm as though ordering a change of movement at an exhibition, the General said:

"Cease firing, Captain; I am going to storm these works!"

Turning and measuring the distance with his eye from his position to the line of trenches ahead, he drew his horse to the left of the road and in a clear, firm tone said, "What officer will lead a charge down this road?"

It was to these words, spoken without a tremor, when the bullets fairly flew by in clouds, that a response was given by the Astor Battery in a pistol charge. When the General was exposed in the centre of the crossroads the men, forgetting discipline and their own danger, were shouting at the General, "Look out! you'll be killed!" "Get off the horse!" and similar solicitous expresions, all of which made as little impression upon the General as the Spanish bullets which sung around him like a thousand hornets and failed to touch the mark so bravely exposed to them.

There can be no doubt of this miraculous escape from seeming certain death, as a hundred pair of eyes saw him then and a number of times afterward seated on the back of that brown and white pony, facing almost certain death, with an expression as calm and collected as though it was only a sham battle with lots of noise and no danger.—An Astor Battery Man, in the New York Sun.

A Historic Ring.

A ring with a history has just been handed over to the Numismatic Museum of Paris by a Polish gentleman who purchased it for a small sum recently in Warsaw. Shortly after he formed the acquaintance of the lady who was afterward Marquise de Pompadour, Louis XV presented her with an intaglio ring representing his own apotheosis. It was pronounced at the time to be a marvelous work of art, equalling anything of the sort produced in ancient Greece or Rome. Round the edge was an elaborate inscription. One day Mme. de Pompadour, to her distress, lost this ring, which has now reappeared after nearly a hundred and fifty years' peregrination. If rings could speak this one doubtless could tell a curious tale.

Curious Customs.

In New Guinea tight lacing is in vogue among the fashionable young young men, who wear a belt about eight inches wide made of a stiff bark. Among the same people a girl announces her betrothal by appearing shining with an ointment of red ochre and oil, which covers her head, shoulders and bosom.

A BARGAIN IN GOWNS.

So at Heart She Tried Hard to Make It Seem.

"It came."

"What came?"

"The gown."

"What gown?"

"My gown."

"Your gown! This is the first I knew about it."

"Why Jack! How can you? Dont you remember?"

"No.; nor you."

"It was two weeks ago, at dinner. I said I must have another gown, and you said all right."

"You said you must have another gown, and I said all right. Ha! I'm a good thing."

"But you did!"

"While you were speaking of gowns, why didn't you mention a diamond cluster, a pair of cobs, a house and lot, yacht, and listen while I said all right?"

"Now Jack!"

"How much was it?"

"That's all you think about—money. You know if I didn't dress well you—"

"Yes, I know. I'd neglect you. I've heard that before. How much was it?"

"Guess."

"Two hundred."

"How absurd! As if I would do such a thing!"

"Then one hundred."

"Now Jack, you know I couldn't get a gown like this for any such price."

"How much?"

"It was—let me show it to you. Here it is. Isn't it lovely?"

"Yes. How much did you say?"

"Oh you really don't want to know."

"Don't I? Come now, my dear, tell me at once now how much did that gown cost. I won't have any more nonsence."

"Well, dear, it was just one hundred and ninety—with the trimmings."—Life.

What a Baby Did in One Hour.

He was the good natured bachelor of the family, and, being the child's uncle was left in charge of the baby one day while every one else was out, and out of curiosity he made a list of what the baby did in one hour. Here it is.

1. Yelled fifteen minutes without taking breath. (The bachelor timekeeper declares solemnly that this is a true statement.)

2. Pulled enough hair from his uncles head and whiskers to stuff a sofa pillow.

3. Further decorated the wall paper as high as he could reach with the poker.

4. Broke a glass vase by sitting down on it.

5. Swallowed six buttons and a good part of a skein of thread.

6. Emptied the contents of his mother's workbasket into the fireplace.

7. Tried to squeeze the head of the cat into a cup and was scratched badly in the attempt.

8. Knocked the head off a fine wax doll belonging to his elder sister by trying to drive a tack into a toy wagon with it.

9. Fell off the edge of the sofa and brought down with him two costly vases, which were ruined.

10. Broke two panes of window glass with a cane which uncle let him have.

11. Fell into the coal scuttle and spoiled his new white dress.

12. Set fire to the carpet while uncle was out of the room hunting up something to amuse him.

13. Crawled under the sofa and refused to come out unless uncle would give him the jam pot.

14. Got twisted amongst the legs of a chair, which had to be broken to get him out.

15. Poured a jug of milk into his mother's slippers.

16. Finally, when he saw his mother coming, he ran to the door and tumbled off the steps, making his nose bleed and tearing a hole a foot square in his dress.

And still the youngster's uncle thinks that boy will make something yet.

Not So Stupid as He Seemed.

It was in a Duluth court, and the witness was a Swede who was, perhaps, not so stupid as he seemed to be.

The cross-examining attorney was a smart young man, whose object was to disconcert the witness and discredit his testimony.

"What did you say your name was?" was the first question.

"Yahn"—very deliberately—"Peterssen."

"John Peterson, eh? Old man Peter's son, I suppose. Well, John, where do you live?"

"Where Ah live? In Dulut'."

"Now, Peterson, answer this question carefully. Are you a married man?"

"Ah tank so. Ah was married."

"So you think because you got married you think you are a married man, do you? That's funny. Now, tell the gentlemen of this exceptionally intelligent jury who you married."

"Who, Ah married? Ah married a woman."

"See here, sir! Don't you know any better than to trifle with this court? What do you mean, sir? You married a woman? Of course you married a woman. Did you ever hear of anyone marrying a man?"

"Yas. Mah sister did.'—Life.

Crusty.

"I think," said the dear girl, "that it is a good rule to think twice before speaking once."

"Yes," said the savage bachelor, "I've had a dozen married men tell me that same thing."—Cincinnati Enquirer.

The Beginning of a Fortune.

"No," said her father, "you are not the man I want for a son-in-law. Why I'll bet you never earned a dollar in your life by your own efforts."

"Ah," exclaimed the young man, brightening up, "there's where you have underestimated me. She bet me a dollar that I wouldn't dare to come here and ask you for her, and, as you know, I have won out."—Chicago News.

Advantages of the System.

Customer (at shirt counter)—Here's a shirt I bought of you the other day. It's too small for me. I tore it trying to put it on.

Salesman—That's too bad, but you've spoiled it so we can't take it back. I'll tell you what you can do, though. Go over to the drug department, and you can get a small bottle of anti-fat for 10 cents.—Chicago Tribune.

TO CLEAN MATTING.

To make soiled matting look fresh and bright prepare a pailful of warm water with a handful of salt and four tablespoonfuls of Ivory Soap shavings dissolved in it. With a clean cloth squeezed out of the mixture, wipe every breadth of the matting, rubbing soiled spots until they disappear.

A WORD OF WARNING.—There are many white soaps, each represented to be "just as good as the 'Ivory';" they ARE NOT, but like all counterfeits, lack the peculiar and remarkable qualities of the genuine. Ask for "Ivory" Soap and insist upon getting it.

AMONG THE STEPPERS.

Robert A. Fairbairn, the wealthy New York broker, who recently purchased the Dr. Leveridge farm of fifty-five acres, has a gang of men at work staking out a half-mile race-track on the property. In an interview with The Press reporter, Mr. Fairbairn stated that he intended to have the track completed by next season, and that he would hold a meeting the latter part of the season, and that it was his intention to offer such purses that would bring together horses like "Star Pointer," "Joe Gentry" and "Joe Patchen." Carpenters are already at work remodeling the large barn on the place, and other stables will be built as soon as the ground can be put in shape. A grand stand, holding 2,000 people, will be erected, and there will be judges' stand and a band stand. The property lies midway between the stations at Garwood and Westfield, and will be in the direct line of the proposed trolley road from Westfield to Springfield. It is thought that this track is the reason the Westfield and Elizabeth Street Railroad Company gave up so readily the route by the way of Mountainside. Fast horses are a hobby with Mr. Fairbairn, who owns the stallion "Red Sovereign," with a record of 2:16, "Farris," the colt, which got a four-year-old record of 2:12½ at the Empire City track Thursday, and a long string of others. Yesterday he added "Orderly," a noted stallion, to his stable.

WHIST

The first game of the season for the New Jersey Whist Club trophy, which was presented to the State Association last spring, will be played Monday evening, September 18th, between team A, of the New Jersey Whist Club, and team A, of the Roseville Athletic Association. The order of challenges for this cup are as follows: September 25th, Ridgewood Club; October 2d, Jersey City Club; October 9th, Elizabeth Chess and Whist Club; October 16th, Park Club, of Plainfield; October 23d, New Jersey Athletic Club; October 30th, Essex Whist Club.

ON THE GRIDIRON.

Although the football season is close at hand, there is apparently no more show of a big eleven for Plainfield than there was a month ago. It seems quite certain now that no team, representative of Plainfield's best talent, will appear on the gridiron this season. It is too late to start now for such a team although a less important team still has time enough to do the necessary advertising and practice before the time comes to play matches. The small boys are out, of course, but as yet, none of the minor teams of reputation have announced their plans

GOLF.

Next Saturday there will be two events on the course of the Hillside Tennis and Golf Club. There will be a match game between the home team and one from the Morristown Field Club, and there will be play for the Reinhart Cup. These events should attract a very large number of people to the ground.

VARICUS SPORTS.

Great preparations are being made for a monster athletic meet, to be held at the ball field, Perth Amboy, Saturday, September 16th. A number of prominent athletes from out of town are being communicated with, and no doubt it will prove the biggest attraction in the history of Perth Amboy.

ROD AND GUN.

Gunners who have made trips through the South Jersey woods find many young rabbits, and predict good shooting when the season opens.

A Night of Terror.

"Awful anxiety was felt for the widow of the brave General Burnham of Machias, Me., when the doctors said she could not live till morning," writes Mrs. S. H. Lincoln, who attended her that fearful night. "All thought she must soon die from pneumonia, but she begged for Dr. King's New Discovery, saying it had more, than once saved her life, and had cured her of consumption. After three small doses she slept easily all night, and its further use completely cured her." This marvelous medicine is guaranteed to cure all Throat Chest and Lung Diseases. Only 50c and $1.00. Died in California.

Mrs. Tacey Crevling, Mrs. J. P. Laire's brother's wife, died at San Diego, California, yesterday afternoon at 3 o'clock, after an operation for the removal of a tumor in the hospital at her home. Mr. Laire received a telegram this morning notifying him of the sad event and asking him to make all arrangements for interring the remains in the family plot of the Riverside Cemetery at Clinton, Hunterdon county, on its arrival about the 21st of this month.

REVENGE ON THE WIND

A Western Artist Invents a Cannon to Kill Cyclones.

Chicago has turned out another freak, in the shape of an artist who has invented a cannon which is intended to lure poor, innocent cyclones to their death. Mr. E. D. Betts, who has determined to cease drawing pictures and instead draw the winds of heaven to their untimely destruction, has spent much time on his invention, and has at length completed a trap which, he is confident, will puncture the most virulent cyclone that ever dodged around the saloons to hit a church. He has offered the results of his work to the Government, and expects great returns, inasmuch as it will, if successful, settle the question of the location of real estate in Western States like Kentucky, and enable people in those localities to invite friends to dinner with some likelihood of being there to receive them.

It consists of a cannon with a weather vane and an air trigger. The gun rests on a vertical pivot, and when the innocent cyclone approaches the vane turns the muzzle of the weapon directly toward the unprotected bosom of the wind storm. The cyclone catches its toe in the air trigger. Bang! goes the charge, and the cyclone, with a bullet in its heart, forgets all about knocking down a town and goes off among the clouds to die of a hemorrhage of rain.

This may seem cruel and unsympathetic to people in the East, but Westerners consider the scheme an excellent one and will adopt it.

Stopping a Runaway Horse.

There was a mild hullabaloo on Superior street, and people who ran to see the cause noticed a black horse attached to a two-seated carriage scampering down the street on a dead run. As he dashed along several men made ineffectual attempts to scare him into a standstill by heading him off as far as they dared, and waving their arms and shouting, but he dashed by them all. Then it seemed a certainty that he would whirl the light vehicle against a cable car, but a man ran out from Wood street and frightened him from the track, and then seizing the carriage as it passed clutched at something and climbed in. As the distracted horse swerved aside, another man ran out and caught him by the head, and the excitement came to a sudden end.

"The way to stop a runaway horse," said a well-known lawyer who saw the finish of the affair, "is to run with the horse a step or two and then throw yourself on the nearest thill. Dont' try to head him, you are pretty certain to get hurt if you do. Put your whole weight on the thill and jump with the horse. Grab a rein if you can reach it, and then haul him around. Anyway, bear down on the thill. No horse can carry your weight very long. You are sure to tire him out, and he can't do any serious jumping as long as you cling to the thill. I've stopped a number of horses in just that way. Yes, it was some time ago. Now? No, thank you."—Toledo Bee.

POLITICS BEGINNING TO GET TO FINE POINT.

The Situation in Union County is Summed Up.

SHERIFF PUZZLES G. O. P.

THE STATE DEPENDS LARGELY ON HOW HOUSTON FARES.

A Tribune Correspondent Views the Situation From a Republican Standpoint—Kirk is Regarded as a Strong Aspirant for County Clerkship—There are Five Democrats Who Would be Sheriff.

Politics in Union county are now begining to show signs of considerable activity, says an Elizabeth writer in the New York Tribune. The contest in the county on the Republican side will be over the offices of County Clerk and Sheriff. So far as the Senatorship is concerned, Senator Cross has now no opposition, and his friends, being assured of this, are disposed to keep their hands off the contest for the other places on the county ticket. The Republican aspirants for County Clerk are William Howard, of Rahway; Assemblyman George A. Squire, of Elizabeth; Sheriff William T. Kirk, of Plainfield, and ex-Alderman Charles H. K. Halsey, of Elizabeth, teller in the National State Bank. The struggle is a lively between these four, with Howard apparently just now having a trifle the best of it. He will come to the convention with the united support of Rahway, and he has promises of support in Elizabeth and the township.

Both Elizabeth's candidates for County Clerk are heavily handicapped by the candidacy of Assemblyman Robert G. Houston, of Elizabeth, for Sheriff. Elizabeth cannot expect to get Senator, Sheriff and County Clerk, so that the only chance for Halsey or Squire is by sidetracking the Houston boom, and this the latter's friends say they will not be able now to do. Halsey and Kirk are really looked upon as dark horses, whose strength just now is an unknown quantity, and their chances in the convention will largely depend on a protracted struggle over the Clerkship.

B. Frank Coriell, of Plainfield, is a candidate for Sheriff, if the County Clerkship goes to Elizabeth; Mr. Dorval, of Westfield, is likewise an aspirant for Sheriff in that contingency. Houston, however, is tipped by the "knowing ones" to win, with Howard or Kirk for County Clerk. The Squire Halsey men just now appear to be playing a still hunt.

As to the Democratic outlook, it is anything except rosy. The party is demoralized and all at sea for a nominee for State Senator, the only name so far mentioned being that of Freeholder Mulford Scudder, former postmaster of Westfield. None of the old party war horses can be persuaded to have their names mentioned in connection with this office, and who will really be the candidate is a conundrum. Ex-County clerk John L. Crowell, it is said, would be willing to take another nomination, and there does not seem to be any disposition so far to deprive him of the chance to run.

When it comes to sheriff, however, there seems to be a feeling among the Democracy that if any candidate on their ticket has a remote show of being elected it will be the nominee for sheriff, hence there is a stir among the faithful over that office, although how they can figure that they can win the shrievalty is hard to conjecture. Nevertheless, there are five candidates in the field, with probably more to hear from. Those prominently mentioned are Jacob Glaser, former Alderman Sheppard, School Commissioner Wickliffe B. Sayre, of the Elizabeth Board of Education, Justice Edward B. Kelley and Freeholder Swain, of Summit. Glaser's boom is the loudest, but Sayre may surprise the others at the convention.

The Assembly candidates spoken of on the Republican side are C. Addison Swift and Isaac W. Little, of Elizabeth, and Roger F. Murray, of Plainfield, while if Mr. Squire does not win in the clerkship fight he may be persuaded to run again for the Assembly, with a prospect of being made Speaker. There are no candidates as yet spoken of for Assembly on the Democratic side, that party having its hands full at present trying to get a Senate candidate. The call for the county convention will not be issued before the end of this month or the beginning of October.

VAN ARSDALE FINED $50.

HE WAS ACCUSED BY MOREY & LA RUE OF EMBEZZLEMENT.

The Firm Had Been Reimbursed for Their Loss, and on Account of This a Plea Was Made for a Light Sentence.
(Special to The Daily Press.)

Elizabeth, September 14.—In the Court of Common Pleas yesterday Jay VanArsdale, of Plainfield, was arraigned on the charge of embezzlement, preferred by his former employers, Morey & LaRue, the laundry firm, for whom he drove a delivery wagon. His offense consisted in keeping money that he had collected from customers on his route.

Lawyer John P. D. Kirch, of Plainfield, was present in the young man's behalf and pleaded earnestly with the court for clemency. The young man's accusers had been reimbursed for their loss, having been paid the sum embezzled. He intimated that the crime of which the young man stood charged had at least been lessened by the act of restitution, and thought that a suspension of sentence or a small fine, taken into consideration with the punishment already received, would be sufficient.

Judge Vail, replying, said in substance that notwithstanding the fact that the money had been made good, yet nevertheless that did not blot out the fact that a crime had been committed. He didn't want the crimanal court to be made a collecting agency, as the law provided punishment for offences committed. VanArsdale was sentenced to pay a fine of $50 without costs.

KIRKMAN WILL NOT SUE.

He Frees from Blame the Plainfield Men Who Ran Into Him in Elizabeth.

Policeman Kirkman, of Elizabeth, who was injured the night of August 7th in attempting to stop a team, does not blame the Plainfield men, occupants of the carriage, and will not bring suit. He has authorized the following:

"In justice to Wm. DeMeza and Chas. Hillman, of Plainfield, I deem it my duty to correct any erroneous impression the public may have formed concerning the incident, which occurred on the night of August 7th. Since that time I have spoken with Mr. DeMeza, and am assured that he and his companion did not realize I was a police officer until too late. The statements which have appeared in the papers to the effect that I anticipate bringing suit against these gentlemen I wish to correct, as I do not intend to take any proceedings against them in this matter."

FORMER PLAINFIELD WOMAN DEAD.

Mrs. Wilber F. Barrell Passes Away at Her Home in Brooklyn.

The many friends in this city of Mrs. Mollie, the estimable wife of Wilber F. Barrell, will be pained to learn of her death, which occurred at her late residence, 437 Halsey street, Brooklyn, on Wednesday.

Mrs. Barrell formerly lived in this city, where she was beloved by a large circle of friends. For some months Mrs. Barrell had been an invalid, and she recently underwent an operation for the removal of a cancerous growth. The deceased was a sister of T. A. McCarthy, Patrolman Florence McCarthy and Mrs. Wilber Sherwood. The funeral will be held at 10 o'clock tomorrow morning from St. Mary's Roman Catholic church, where a requiem mass will be said. The body will arrive in Plainfield on the 9:40 train, and be taken immediately to the church.

Claims His Term Has Not Expired.

Joseph Hayter, of New Brunswick, for many years Court Interpreter in Middlesex county, and who was removed recently, Edward Sell, of Perth Amboy, being appointed in his place, is reporting for duty at every session of the court. He claims he could not be removed before the expiration of his term without cause. At the opening of court yesterday his counsel, ex-Senator Robert Adrain, made a formal verbal protest, and Mr. Hayter filed a written protest, requesting that it be spread upon the court minutes. This was done by order of Judge Strong. Mr. Hayter will bring suit to compel his reinstatement.

Judge McCormick's Estate.

Judge Vail, in the Union County Court of Common Pleas at Elizabeth yesterday ordered the estate of Judge McCormick to be sold for the benefit of the creditors, and appointed Mary McCormick, the widow, as executrix. Judge McCormick committed suicide a year ago in St. Mary's cemetery in Elizabeth.

JURY SAYS IT'S MURDER

Mrs. Fingerhuth Accused Of The Crime.

INQUEST WAS COMPLETED

OSCAR FINGERHUTH, (THE SON), HELD AS ACCESSORY.

Last Session of Inquest Held Last Evening—Constable Pangborn Told Of Conversation With Young Man—Councilman Hetfield Files Two Exceptions To The Inquest.

The fact that Mrs. Henrietta Fingerhuth believed that she was defending her home from unlawful invaders when she shot and killed Paul Roehricht Tuesday afternoon, did not lessen the seriousness of the act in the eyes of the coroner's jury. Last night the inquest was completed, and a verdict was brought in that Roehricht had been murdered by Mrs. Henrietta Fingerhuth and that her son, Oscar, was an accessory to the crime. Mother and son are now prisoners in the county jail, at Somerville, awaiting the action of the Grand Jury, while the husband is held as a witness.

Now that Mrs. Fingerhuth has been in jail for several days, she has begun to realize the seriousness of the trouble in which she is now placed. She has lost the calm, self-possessed air of the day of the shooting and is greatly agitated. The Fingerhuths have been placed in separate cells and have not been allowed to talk over the circumstances of the shooting. The officials have little fear of suicide on the part of any of that family but a strict watch is nevertheless kept. Only the lawyers have been allowed to converse with the prisoners. Scores of visitors have been to the county jail since the Fingerhuths were brought there but all have been refused a peep at the prisoners.

Councilman Walter L. Hetfield, who is going to defend Mrs. Fingerhuth, has filed two exceptions to the inquest. According to the law of this State, he says, the coroner must be a freeholder in the county where he resides in order to be eligible to the office. Coroner DeMott, Mr. Hetfield claims, was not a freeholder when he was elected and is not a freeholder now. The law states, Mr. Hetfield claims, that the jury in the inquest shall consist of six men. There were twelve men on the jury that looked into the causes of the death of Roehricht.

The concluding session of the coroner's inquest was held in the dance hall of the Manhattan Hotel last evening, and opened at 7:15 o'clock. After the coroner was sure that the jury was all there Edward O. Clark was sworn and took the stand to give his version of the trouble at the Allen farm. Clark is a law student in the office of his brother, Lawyer Robert M. Clark. He told of his visit to the Allen homestead before the shooting. He knocked at all the doors, but met with no response. Then Mrs. Clemenz came running up and called to Mrs. Fingerhuth that Clark meant no harm. So Mrs. Fingerhuth opened the door. Clark told her that he had been sent to forcibly eject her if she would not go peaceably. She refused to talk to Clark, saying that she would have nothing to do with him, but wanted to see Mr. Roehricht. She produced a revolver and declared her intention of shooting him if he laid one finger on the house or door. Clark was accompanied by Thomas Quinn, Emil Debowski, Harry Ryan, the coachman, and a colored man named James Harris.

Young Clark agreed to withdraw for a time and sent Ryan for his brother. Mrs. Fingerhuth was very sarcastic in her remarks about Roehricht and said:

"Take my complements to Mr. Roehricht and tell him to come like a man and not be a coward."

Prosecutor Dungan decided that it was not necessary for Clark to repeat the story of the shooting as he had only seen what the others had, and it would be mere repetition.

County Physician Henry G. Wagoner, of Somerville, started to tell of the irregular proceedings of Coroner DeMott in starting to hold an inquest on his own authority, but Prosecutor Dungan said it wasn't necessary..

Then Dr. Wagoner went on to tell of the autopsy performed by Dr. Buchanan and himself. Roehricht was six feet in height, and weighed approximately 200 pounds. The only sign of violence was a perforating wound on the left side of the chest. The bullet had passed through the heart and the lower part of the right lung. It then passed out between the tenth and eleventh ribs, slightly fracturing the latter, and was found embedded in the flesh under the right shoulder blade, an inch below the skin. The doctor produced the bullet which was passed to the jury. It was perfect in shape. In his opinion Roehricht's death was caused by shock and an internal hemorrhage brought about by the passage of the bullet.

The next witness was Constable William H. Pangborn. His connection with the case was that he empaneled the jury and assisted in removing Mr. and Mrs. Fingerhuth and their son, Oscar, to the county jail on the 12:43 train Tuesday night. Pangborn escorted Oscar and had a conversation with his prisoner at the Plainfield station. Young Fingerhuth told him that he had purchased the revolver that morning from Harry Dreier to give to his mother. He also told the constable, according to the latter's testimony, that he had given it to his mother and told her to shoot anyone who attempted to enter the premises. Pangborn said he had written the statement in a notebook and Oscar had read it over twice and declared it correct. This book, Pangborn explained, he had handed to Mayor Smalley who now had it in his possession. After making that statement, the officer said, Oscar refused to tell any more, declaring that he had talked too much already.

Constable George N. Steward, of Washingtonville, who arrested Mrs. Fingerhuth, testified that he had heard of the shooting and hastened to the scene as fast as possible. After a little conversation with the coroner, he said he endeavored to arrest Mrs. Fingerhuth and her son. After their arrest he asked Mrs. Fingerhuth what she did with the revolver and she said she threw it out of the back window. Leaving her in charge of another officer, he went outside but failed to find it. Returning to her, he asked her to show him where she threw it. She went to the east window and said that she had merely dropped it out of the window. Steward said he looked again but was not successful in finding it.

Fingerhuth, he said, was arrested by Marshal Campbell late in the afternoon. Fingerhuth can talk but little English, he explained, and the officer's conversation with him did not amount to much. Fingerhuth had said that he has had "lots of troubles, troubles a Monday, troubles a Tuesday, troubles this morning, troubles this afternoon."

Lawyer Clark was recalled to the stand and Prosecutor Dungan asked him if he had waited at the Allen place at the time of the tragedy until the arrival of the ambulance. He said that he did. Dr. Pittis came with the ambulance. Roehricht's body was placed inside and Coroner DeMott and Dr. Zeiglo rode inside while the driver, Dr. Pittis and Clark remained on the front seat. The body was then taken to DeMott's morgue. The door of the morgue was locked when Clark left.

Prosecutor Dungan then spoke a few words explaining who were the accessories to a crime according to law. Anyone assisting, aiding, abbetting or advising was an accessory.

Coroner DeMott charged the jury in the regular legal form, and at 8:45 o'clock the crowd was requested to vacate the dance hall and allow the jurors to consider the case.

During the progress of the inquest the hall was crowded with men and boys who remained interested listening to the testimony given. In a prominent place in front were two other sons of the Fingerhuths from New York where they have been living. They had been up to the old Allen homestead in Washington Valley during the afternoon and had looked after and fed the chickens and livestock that belonged to the Fingerhuths. They were both well dressed. They listened carefully to everything that was said and occasionally exchanged a remark. The only people they spoke to while waiting for the jury to find a verdict was to their mother's attorneys, Walter L. Hetfield and William G. DeMeza. The resemblance between the two sons present and Oscar, the son now in the county jail, was striking.

At 9:15 o'clock the coroner, lawyers and the constable were called into the room occupied by the jury. Five minutes later the doors were opened and it was announced that the jury had reached a verdict. After all was quiet Prosecutor Dungan read the formal statement of the findings of the jury.

It declared that "Henrietta Finger-

CASE WAS TO HAVE BEEN TRIED IN THE SUPREME COURT.

Keenan Was a Passenger on the Train in the Collision at West Dunellen Last January—Confined in the Muhlenbergh Hospital in This City for Several Weeks as Result of Injury.

Martin Keenen, of Locust Gap, Pa., who was one of the passengers in the collision on the Lehigh Valley Railroad at West Dunellen January 9th last, and was confined in the Muhlenberg Hospital in this city for several weeks thereafter, has made a very favorable settlement with the railroad company. Keenen never fully recovered from the injuries he received.

He was unable to make a satisfactory private settlement with the railroad company for the injuries he received, and sometime ago retained Craig A. Marsh, of this city, to bring suit against the company for damages. Suit was instituted and the case was down for trial in the Supreme Court next month in Elizabeth. Suit will not be necessary, however, for yesterday the railroad company settled the case. Mr. Marsh declines to state what the amount of the settlement was, but from outside sources it is understood that Keenen received over $7,000 as damages.

BIG REAL ESTATE DEAL.

J. F McIntyre's Farm at South Somerville Exchanged For Carlton Avenue Residence.

E. C. Mulford & Son, the well-known real estate and insurance brokers of North avenue, have just completed one of the largest exchanges of properties noted this fall. J. C. Dyer has taken J. F. McIntyre's farm property at South Somerville, and Mr. McIntyre takes in exchange a very fine residence on Carlton avenue and another one at Westfield. Following are some of the new-comers to this city: Mrs. C. W. Tennant and two very interesting daughters, of Albany, N. Y., have taken Wm. Bohl's new house on Kensington avenue. R. R. Forman, manager of the Traders Insurance Company, of New York, has taken Alfred Cock's fine residence 716 Woodland avenue. Mrs. Anne McFall has rented Michael Powers' house on Watchung avenue near Fifth street. E. D. Woods, of Newark, has taken Mr. Moore's house 227 East Sixth street. F. O. Keefe, of Hawthorne, N. J., has taken J. F. McIntyre's house 439 Carlton avenue, and Bridget Nolan has purchased P. Cottrell's cottage 634 East Third street.

J. S. Chambers, of Elizabeth, associated with the Central Railroad Company, has leased the house at 933 Watchung avenue, and Allen H. Craft, assistant secretary of the United States Fire Insurance Company, has leased the house at 14 Norwood avenue.

N. C. King, of Newport, R. I., has rented Wm. H. Bohl's new house on Kensington avenue.

Hospital for Contagious Diseases.
(Special to The Daily Press.)

Elizabeth, Sept. 14.—The Board of Health of this city is consiging the need of erecting a hospital for contagious diseases, such as scarlet fever and diphtheria, and at the Board meeting Monday night steps were taken looking toward the establishment of such an institution, similar in design to the Minturn Hospital in New York. A committee, consisting, of Drs. Mraviag, Stern and Wilson, was appointed by President Whelan to report at the next meeting on the feasibility and the cost of erecting a hospital of this character.

"New Fletcher Method."

What is the "New Fletcher Method?" as taught by Mrs. William Henry Miller, of 60 Sandford avenue. It is a method by which the whole system of teaching music to children has been completely revolutionized. In this method a series of songs, games and a variety of musical blocks are used, by means of which children may gain in the happiest and most impressive way a thorough knowledge of the elementary principles of music.

Delay Costs Orange $10,000.

The advance in iron will cost the city of Orange $10,000 more than was anticipated to make improvements to the Orange reservoir. Bids were submitted for pipe laying and machinery for a pumping plant six months ago, but owing to delay on the part of the Common Council the contracts were awarded only two weeks ago.

MAY GO OVER THE TERM.

PROBABLE DELAY IN BRINGING WILLIAM DARLING TO TRIAL.

Prosecutor Will be Busy With Small Cases, and There Will be Great Difficulty in Securing the Witnesses.

The New Brunswick Fredonian says that from present indications the trial of Wm. Darling is very likely to be delayed for some weeks at least. A legal hitch has arisen and it is not probable that the case will come up for hearing before the December term of court. At the earliest it will not occur until the latter part of the present term.

The date originally set for the Darling, trial was September 12th, but complications arose which made it impossible to have the case go on at that time. It may come up towards the end of the month, but indications are that it will be laid over until the next term.

W. S. Angleman, counsel for Darling, is very busy on the case and so is Prosecutor Voorhees. There will be great difficulty in reaching the witnesses needed and as many of them will have to come from a long distance it is unlikely that Prosecutor Voorhees will move for trial until he is sure the case can go on and not be delayed in the least.

Darling is the most quiet prisoner in the county jail. He pays no attention to the other prisoners and spends most of his time lying on his cot reading. He will have nothing to say in regard to his case excepting to his father and counsel.

"GREEKS BEARING GIFTS."

The Cranford Township Committee Counted the Teeth in This Wooden Gift-Horse.

At a popular meeting of the Cranford Township Committee a contract was received from the New York & New Jersey Telephone Company, agreeing to place a telephone in the town rooms free of charge.

When the contract was read it brought the Committee's attention to the fact that the franchise of the telephone company had expired in March. Now the telephone company must seek a new franchise and the establishment of the exchange may be delayed for a short time. It was the company's intention to have the exchange in working order this month.

KUCKLO PLEADED GUILTY.

Arraigned in Court of Special Sessions Yesterday—To be Sentenced Next Week.

John Kucklo, of this city, who shot his wife at their home on Clinton avenue, several weeks ago and attempted to kill himself, was arraigned in the court of special sessions at Elizabeth yesterday. Judge Vail allowed Kucklo to plead guilty to the charge of assault. The court suspended sentence for one week.

Having a Fine Time.

The Old Time Telegraphers' Association and the United States Military Telegraph Corps, which convened in Boston Tuesday last and will conclude this evening, has been one of the most successful conventions ever held. There are nearly two hundred members, friends, wives and daughters, and the programme planned is one of the greatest interest. Mr. and Mrs. Charles Schermerhorn, of this city, are among those present. Judging from an account published in the Boston Herald, and sent by Mr. Schermerhorn, everyone is enjoying themselves fully. The convention will conclude this evening with a banquet.

Bill for Pensions for Teachers.

The Hoboken Board of Commissioners of Public Instruction contemplates bringing a bill before the next Legislature for the pensioning of school teachers. Counselor William S. Stuhr has been requested to draft the bill. The Commissioners say this is the way to get the best teachers.

Killed While Going Home.

Mrs. Ann Jackson, a resident of Linden, was killed on the Pennsylvania Railroad late Tuesday evening near Rahway. Mrs. Jackson had been visiting friends, and, missing the train, started to walk to her home at Linden. Her body was found about midnight by the trackwalker.

License Application Laid Over.

Judge Strong, of New Brunswick, has reserved his decision regarding the applications of Morris Higgins and Frank A. Poling, of South Plainfield, for one week. Both men want licenses to sell liquor. No remonstrances have been filed against either one.

All but One Paid Their Fines.

Frazee Connett, of Dog Corners, is the only prisoner in the borough lockup who has not paid his fine. He will remain for several days. The other violators arrested Saturday and Sunday have paid their fine and have been released.

WOMAN KILLED WHILE RIDING A BICYCLE.

Collided With Westfield Farmer's Wagon Near Newark.

POLE STRUCK HER HEAD.

FARMER DROVE OFF WITHOUT WAITING TO SEE RESULTS.

The Victim was Mrs. T. Dayton Martin, of Newark, and was Killed Almost Instantly—County Physician Westcott Notified of the Fatality After a Good Deal of Delay and Trouble.

Mrs. T. Dayton Martin, of 108 McWhorter street, Newark, was killed yesterday morning while riding her bicycle on Springfield avenue near the Seven Bridges, just west of the South Orange township line. She started out in the morning with Mrs. Ida Shipman, of 87 Arlington street, Newark, to go to Millburn.

They passed through Irvington to Springfield avenue and while riding along that thoroughfare heard the rumble of a wagon behind them. Mrs. Martin was some distance ahead of her companion. The team, which was being driven by Charles McMurray, a farm laborer living in Westfield, was going at a lively pace as it reached Mrs. Martin. Whether she was confused by the nearness of the wagon or whether the horses shied is not known, but Mrs. Shipman heard a scream, and looking up saw Mrs. Martin fall under the horses' feet. When the wagon had passed she lay in the road motionless.

Death was almost instaneous. The pole of the wagon struck Mrs. Martin between the eyes and gashed her forehead terribly. The driver by hauling his horses to one side just avoided running over her with the heavy wagon.

Mrs. Shipman was terror stricken, and she stood aghast, while McMurray picked up Mrs. Martin and carried her to one side of the road. He then got on his wagon and started to drive away.

"Come back here!" shouted Mrs. Shipman "don't leave me alone," but McMurray drove off. Theodore Voorhis, of Orange, was riding his wheel along the avenue and Mrs. Shipman saw him. She called to him to aid her, and he jumped off his wheel. Mr. Voorhis, as soon as he was told of the affair by Mrs. Shipman, rode after McMurray and, catching up with him, told him that he would have to stay and await the action of the authorities. McMurray said he had to go home.

"Well, then," said Mr. Voorhis, "give me your name and address and one of your blankets to throw over the woman."

Mr. Voorhis took the man's name and placed a blanket over the dead woman's body. No one in Millburn was willing to take charge of the body, nor did any one know who the County Physician of Union county was. After telephoning to Elizabeth and Fanwood, Mr. Voorhis found County Physician F. W. Westcott and informed him of the accident.

The man who ran into the dead woman is a brother of City Clerk J. T. MacMurray, of this city, and is well-known to many Plainfielders.

Newark Train Taken Off.

After putting on the through train between Plainfield and Newark at the earnest request of the Newark Board of Trade early last summer, the Central Railroad of New Jersey has withdrawn it, claiming that it never paid them from the day it was started. The train left Plainfield at 12:44 p. m. and arrived in Newark at 1:30, and it was designed particularly for the use of shoppers. But this class of passengers failed to appear in sufficient numbers to warrant the railroad company in continuing the service.

Going to North Plainfield.
(Special to The Daily Press.)

Westfield, Sept. 14.—Empire Engine Company No. 2 of this place will take part in the firemen's parade at North Plainfield in October. The company will take its apparatus with them. The members of the company and the Westfield fire chief and his assistants will be the guests of Warren Engine Company, at Plainfield, on that day.

Bought Land From Railroad.

The Port Reading Railroad Company has sold to Lewis D. Walker a strip of land along their tracks in Piscataway township. The consideration is one dollar and the deed is on file at the Middlesex County Clerk's office.

FEELING OF UNCERTAINTY.

The Situation of Affairs in the Transvaal is Somewhat of a Puzzler.

CONFLICTING REPORTS.

Asserted That Matters Are Now Rapidly Verging Toward the End of the Crisis.

The Question of England's Time Limit Variously Interpreted Both in London and at Cape Town—Raad Irishmen Form a Corps to Help Kruger.

London, Sept. 14.—Both here and at Cape Town the greatest uncertainty prevails regarding the exact situation of affairs in the Transvaal.

This is owing to the rather conflicting reports on the subject of the terms of the British despatch delivered to the Volksraad.

If the time limit of forty-eight hours for a reply is correct, it would appear that matters are at last verging toward the end of the crisis.

But the British officials refuse to deny or affirm the correctness of the latest Pretoria despatches saying the British terms are as outlined in the special despatch from Pretoria, namely a five years' franchise, a quarter representation for the gold fields in the Volksraad, equality for the British and Dutch in the Volksraad and equality for the old and new burghers in regard to Presidential and other elections.

The question of the time limit is variously interpreted here and at the Cape, some people regarding it as an ultimatum which is not likely to be complied with, while others look upon it as a pacific offer which opens the way to further negotiations.

A special despatch to the Pall Mall Gazette from Cape Town says the British reply is regarded as equivalent to an ultimatum, and the correspondent's advices from Pretoria indicate that war is inevitable.

A Pretoria special to the Cape Times says the Transvaal has notified the miners of Italy that it will give them a safe conduct and protection in case they wish to remain in the Transvaal.

The report that the Raad Irishmen have formed a corps to help President Kruger is confirmed, and it is said at Cape Town that a cablegram has been received there from New York saying ten thousand Irishmen there are ready to help the Transvaal.

The Orange Free State burghers are reported to be bitterly divided over the merits of the controversy and their probable course in case of war.

A newspaper representative here has learned that the British message to the Transvaal does not demand a reply in forty-eight hours, the exact wording being a request for "an immediate reply."

It is not an ultimatum in the generally accepted sense of the word. It expresses the hope that President Kruger will accept the proposition to "relieve the present tension."

The only part which is at all aggressive is the reiterated declination of the British government to discuss the matter of sovereignty in any shape or form.

Waiting For Decision.

Pretoria, Sept. 14.—President Kruger and the Executive Council assembled here to consider the reply to be made to the British Secretary of State for the Colonies. They are still conferring by telegraph with the Orange Free State. The decision is anxiously awaited by crowds outside the Executive building.

Freight Car's Wild Rush.

Williamsport, Pa., Sept. 14.—Starting at the summit of the Leetonia Railway, a freight car ran away down the mountain, dashing through a group of track men, but miraculously missing all of them. Reaching the end of the switchback the car crashed into a ravine and was demolished.

May Run an Independent Ticket.

Stroudsburg, Pa., Sept. 14.—The regular Democrats of Monroe county are somewhat concerned over the movement to place in the field an Independent Democratic ticket this fall. Prominent Republicans favor the new movement, claiming that it will strengthen their party in Monroe.

Heavy Floods in Austria.

Lintz, Upper Austria, Sept. 14.—The rapid rise of the rivers Salzach, Sims and Traum has flooded the country, interrupting road and railway communications. At Ischl and Ebensee several bridges have been destroyed, and many families have been driven from their houses. Rain continues falling everywhere.

More Furnaces Lighted.

Norristown, Pa., Sept. 14.—Five puddling furnaces at the Hoover mills have been lighted. At present only five puddling furnaces will be operated. They will employ about fifty men. It is expected that 200 puddlers will be employed later on.

House Painters on Strike.

Philadelphia, Pa., Sept. 14.—Fifteen hundred members of the Amalgamated Journeymen House Painters' Association have gone on strike because of the failure of the master painters to sign the agreement presented them by the association.

Lord Hamilton Buys Gold Lands.

Vancouver, B. C., Sept. 14.—Lord Ernest Hamilton, son of the Duke of Aberdeen, has, with other English people, bought for $500,000 all "Sailor Bill" Partridge's Atlin holdings. Lord Ernest is here en route to Atlin.

President Invited to Sioux City.

Sioux City, Ia., Sept. 14.—Sioux City has extended an invitation to President McKinley to visit the city during his proposed western tour.

REPLY OF THE FILIPINOS.

Why the Native Congress Refused to Accept Autonomy.

Manila, Sept. 14.—A correspondent here has obtained a copy of the reply adopted by the Filipino congress to the American offer of autonomous government. The author of the reply was Ambrosio Rianzares, who was offered a position in the Supreme Court, but who failed to appear and was supposed to be detained by the Filipinos. The document repeats the arguments contained in the recent appeal to the powers for recognition and the Filipinos' assertions that the Americans were the aggressors in the war, and concludes:

"Notwithstanding the foregoing, we could have accepted your sovereignty and autonomy if we had not seen by the behavior of the Americans in the beginning that they were strongly opposed to us, through race prejudice, and the high-handed methods of dealing with us made us fear for the future in your hands. Finally, we thank you for your offers of autonomy under sovereignty."

Klondikers Charged With Theft.

Vancouver, B. C., Sept. 14.—A Scotland Yard detective has made an important arrest at Donald. W. G., O. Crick and H. Christie arrived there some time ago to fit out for the Tete Jeune Cache gold field. They spent money lavishly. Soon after their departure a detective arrived, and on their return he arrested Christie, but Crick escaped to the Pacific coast. It is alleged that Crick stole from a firm of English brokers $57,000 worth of bonds, and that they were negotiated by Christie for $40,000.

Son Kills His Parents.
